UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY

Program Title The FREEDOM Support Act/Future Leaders Exchange (FSA/FLEX) Program; Inbound, NIS Secondary School Initiative

NOTICE: Request for proposals.

SUMMARY: The Youth Programs Division/Office of Citizen Exchanges of the United States Information Agency's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs announces an open competition for the FREEDOM Support Act Future Leaders Exchange Program. Public and private non-profit organizations meeting the provisions described in IRS regulation 26 CFR 1.501 may submit proposals to recruit and select host families of high school students between the ages of 15 and 17 from the New Independent States (NIS) of the former Soviet Union. In addition to screening, selecting, and orienting host families and enrolling students in American high schools, organizations will be responsible for: Orienting students at the local level; providing support services for students; arranging enhancement activities; monitoring students during their stay in the U.S.; providing reentry training; and assessing student performance and progress. The award of grants and the number of students who will participate is subject to the availability of funding in fiscal year 1999.

Program Information

Background

Academic year 1999/00 will be the seventh year of the FSA/FLEX program, which now includes over 6000 alumni. This component of the NIS Secondary School Initiative was originally authorized under the FREEDOM Support Act of 1992 and is funded by annual allocations from the Foreign Operations and USIA appropriations. The goals of the program are to promote mutual understanding and foster a relationship between the people of the NIS and the U.S.; assist the successor generation of the NIS to develop the qualities it will need to lead in the transformation of those countries in the 21st Century; and to promote democratic values and civic responsibility by giving NIS youth the opportunity to live in American society for an academic year.

Objectives

To place approximately 930 pre-selected high school students from the NIS in qualified, well-motivated host families and welcoming schools. To expose program participants to American culture and democracy through homestay experiences and enhancement activities that will enable them to attain a broad view of the society and culture of the U.S. To encourage FSA/FLEX program participants to share their culture, lifestyle, and traditions with U.S. citizens.

Other Components

Two organizations have been awarded grants to perform the following functions: Recruitment and selection of students; targeted recruitment for students with disabilities; assistance in documentation and preparation of IAP-66 forms; preparation of cross-cultural materials; pre-departure orientation; international travel from home to host community and return; facilitate ongoing communication between the natural parents and placement organizations, as needed; maintenance of a student database and provision of data to USIA; and ongoing follow-up with alumni following their return to the NIS. Additionally, a separate grant may be awarded for a one-week mid-year civic education program in Washington, DC, for a select number of students who successfully compete for the Washington program. Students who require additional English language training before entering their host communities will attend an English upgrade and cultural orientation program, which is conducted under a grant exclusively for that purpose. The announcements of the competitions for these grants are being published separately.

Guidelines

Organizations chosen under this competition are responsible for the following: Recruitment, screening, selection, and orientation of host families; school enrollment; local orientation; placement of a small number of students with disabilities; specialized training of local staff and volunteers to work with NIS students; preparation and dissemination of materials to students pertaining to the placement organization; program enhancement activities; supervision and monitoring of students; trouble shooting and periodic reporting on their progress; when appropriate, communication with the organizations conducting other program components; evaluation of the students' performance; evaluation of the organization's success in achieving program goals; and re-entry training to prepare students for readjustment to their native culture.

Applicants may request a grant for the placement of at least 20 students. There is no ceiling on the number of students who may be placed by one organization. It is anticipated that 10 to 15 grants will be awarded for this component of the FLEX program. Placements will be spread all across the U.S. Students may be clustered in one or more regions or dispersed. If dispersed, applicants should demonstrate that local staffing and training of local staff is adequate to ensure their competence in supervising and counseling students from the NIS. Please refer to the Solicitation Package, available on request from the address listed below, for details on essential program elements, permissible costs, and criteria used to select students.

Grants should begin at the point that the complete applications on selected finalists are delivered to the placement organizations, approximately on April 1, 1999. Participants arrive in their host communities in the month of August and remain for 10 or 11 months until their departure during the period mid-June to early July 2000. Some students will depart at the end of May to complete university exams in their home countries.

Administration of the program must be in compliance with reporting and withholding regulations for federal, state, and local taxes as applicable. Recipient organizations should demonstrate tax regulation adherence in the proposal narrative and budget.

Applicants should submit the health and accident insurance plans they intend to use for students on this program. USIA will compare the plan with the Agency plan and make a determination of which will be applicable.

Participants will travel on J-1 visas issued by USIA using a government program number. Organizations must comply with J-1 visa regulations in carrying out their responsibilities under the FLEX program. Please refer to Solicitation Package for further information

Budget Guidelines

Grants awarded to eligible organizations with less than four years of experience in conducting international exchange programs will be limited to $60,000.

Applicants must submit a comprehensive budget for the entire program. There must be a summary budget as well as breakdowns reflecting both administrative and program costs. Applicants may provide separate sub-budgets for each program component, phase, location, or activity to provide clarification.

Allowable costs for the program include the following:

- (1) Monthly and incidentals allowances for participants, as established by USIA.
- (2) Costs associated with student enhancements and orientations.
- (3) Administrative costs associated with host family recruiting, staff training, monitoring, and other functions.

Diversity, Freedom and Democracy Guidelines

Pursuant to the Bureau's authorizing legislation, programs must maintain a non-political character and should be balanced and representative of the diversity of American political, social, and cultural life. "Diversity" should be interpreted in the broadest sense and encompass differences including, but not limited to ethnicity, race, gender, religion, geographic location, socio-economic status, and physical challenges. Applicants are strongly encouraged to adhere to the advancement of this principle both in program administration and in program content. Please refer to the review criteria under the "Support for Diversity" section for specific suggestions on incorporating diversity into the total proposal. "Pub. L. 104-319 provides that "in carrying out programs of educational and cultural exchange in countries whose people do not fully enjoy freedom and democracy," USIA "shall take appropriate steps to provide opportunities for participation in such programs to human rights and democracy leaders of such countries." Proposals should reflect advancement of this goal in their program contents, to the full extent deemed feasible.

Review Process

USIA will acknowledge receipt of all proposals and will review them for technical eligibility. Proposals will be deemed ineligible if they do not fully adhere to the guidelines stated herein and in the Solicitation Package. All eligible proposals will be reviewed by the program office, as well as by USIA's East European and NIS Area Office and the USIA post(s) overseas, where appropriate. Eligible proposals will be forwarded to panels the USIA officers for advisory review. Proposals may also be reviewed by the Office of the General Counsel or by other Agency elements. Final funding decisions are at the discretion of USIA's Associate Director for Educational and Cultural Affairs. Final technical authority for assistance awards (grants or cooperative agreements) resides with the USIA Grants Officer.

7. Institution's Record/Ability: Proposals should demonstrate an institutional record of successful exchange programs, including responsible fiscal management and full compliance with all reporting requirements for past Agency grants as determined by USIA's Office of Contracts. The Agency will consider the past performance of prior grant recipients and the demonstrated potential of new applicants.

A draft survey questionnaire or other technique plus description of a methodology to use to link outcomes to the stated objectives is recommended. Successful applicants will be expected to submit quarterly reports.
