

Clarification" issued by the Commission in Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, 82 FERC ¶61,298 (1998) (Natural). The Commission found that Natural must file all discounts which contain material deviations from the pro forma service agreements in Natural's tariff. Natural, 82 FERC at 62,179-80. Discount agreements containing variations from the pro forma service agreement (other than those specified in Order No. 582) must be on file and approved by the Commission—either by being reflected in the pro forma agreement in the tariff or by being filed individually as non-conforming service agreements. Id. at 62,180.

Eastern Shore states that it proposes to revise three (3) of its pro forma service agreements. Eastern Shore has specified a list of options which would allow Eastern Shore and its customers to agree upon specific types of volume-related discounts pursuant to the pro forma service agreement, without the filing of individual non-conforming service agreements. This language in the pro forma service agreement allows the parties to tailor the discount to specific market and business conditions by defining discounts which apply only to specific volumes, to volumes during specific periods, of time, to volumes at specific delivery point areas, zones or geographical area, or in relation to volumes actually transported. These revisions provide Eastern Shore and its customers the ability to agree upon discounted rates which reflect conditions in specific markets. Eastern Shore believes this approach provides commercial benefits to Eastern Shore's customers and is more administratively flexible and efficient for both Eastern Shore and its customers.

Finally, Eastern Shore states that copies have been mailed to all customers and interested state commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a motion to intervene or a protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 888 First Street, N.E., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with Sections 385.214 or 385.211 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations. All such motions or protests must be filed in accordance with Section 154.210 of the Commission's Regulations. Any person wishing to become a party must file a motion to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the
