Rubbermaid-Cortland, Inc., Cortland, New York; Notice of Negative Determination on Reconsideration

On August 25, 1998, the Department issued an Affirmative Determination Regarding Application for Reconsideration for the workers and former workers of the subject firm. The notice was published in the Federal Register on September 4, 1998 (63 FR 47327).

The Department initially denied TAA to workers of Rubbermaid-Cortland because the "contributed importantly" group eligibility requirement of section 222(3) of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended, was not met. Production and sales at the Cortland, New York plant increased during the relevant time period. Furthermore, in early 1998, the production of molded plastic household products was shifted from Cortland to other domestic Rubbermaid production facilities. The workers at the subject firm were engaged in employment related to the production of molded plastic household products.

The petitioners asserted that the subject firm shifted production of toolboxes to Canada and Europe and imported into the U.S. and further, that imports of toolboxes and other household products from other countries impacted on the subject firm's market share.

On reconsideration, the Department requested that the Rubbermaid, Incorporated provide additional information about foreign toolbox production, other foreign production of household products, and information concerning overall sales and production for the Household Products Division.

Additional information provided by the company indicates that production equaling less than 10 percent of the former production of toolboxes at Cortland was transferred to another country for three months then transferred back to another domestic facility of the company. The investigation also revealed that the subject firm is not importing like or directly competitive articles into the U.S. from recently acquired facilities in Europe. Further, the investigation revealed that the sales by Rubbermaid's

Household Products Division is relatively unchanged.

Conclusion

After reconsideration, I affirm the original notice of negative determination of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance for workers and former workers of Rubbermaid-Cortland, Incorporated, Cortland, New York.

Signed at Washington, DC, this 21st day of October 1998.

Grant D. Beale,

Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance.
