Subsistence Management Regulations for Public Lands in Alaska, Subparts A, B, C, and D, Redefinition to Include Waters Subject to Subsistence Priority

AGENCY: Forest Service, Agriculture; and Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule amends the scope and applicability of the Federal Subsistence Management Program in Alaska to include subsistence activities occurring on inland navigable waters in which the United States has a reserved water right and to identify specific Federal land units where reserved water rights exist. The amendments also extend the Federal Subsistence Board's management to all Federal lands selected under the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act and the Alaska Statehood Act and situated within the boundaries of a Conservation System Unit, National Recreation Area, National Conservation Area, or any new national forest or forest addition, until conveyed to the State of Alaska or an Alaska Native Corporation, as required by the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA). In addition, the amendments specify that the Secretaries are retaining the authority to determine when hunting, fishing or trapping activities taking place in Alaska off the public lands interfere with the subsistence priority on the public lands to such an extent as to result in a failure to provide the subsistence priority and to take action to restrict or eliminate the interference. The Departments also provide the Federal Subsistence Board with authority to investigate and make recommendations to the Secretaries regarding the possible existence of additional Federal reservations, Federal reserved water rights or other Federal interests, including those which attach to lands in which the United States has less than fee ownership. The regulatory amendments conform the Federal subsistence management regulations to the court decree issued in State of Alaska v. Babbitt, 72 F.3d 698 (9th Cir. 1995) cert denied 517 U.S. 1187 (1996).

The rule includes updated Customary and Traditional Use Determinations and annual seasons and harvest limits for fisheries. This rulemaking also responds to the Petitions for Rulemaking submitted by the Northwest Arctic Regional Council al. on April 12, 1994, and the Mentasta Village Council, al. on July 15, 1993.

DATES: Sections ____ .1 through ____ .24 are effective October 1, 1999. Sections ____ .26 and ____ .27 are effective October 1, 1999 through February 29, 2001.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Background

The Federal Subsistence Board assumed subsistence management responsibility for public lands in Alaska in 1990, after the Alaska Supreme Court ruled in McDowell v. State of Alaska, 785 P.2d 1 (Alaska, 1989), reh'g denied (Alaska 1990), that the rural preference contained in the State's subsistence statute violated the Alaska Constitution. This ruling put the State's subsistence program out of compliance with Title VIII of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA) and resulted in the Secretaries assuming subsistence management on the public lands in Alaska. The "Temporary Subsistence Management Regulations for Public Lands in Alaska, Final Temporary Rule" was published in the Federal Register (55 FR 27114-27170) on June 29, 1990. The "Subsistence Management Regulations for Public Lands in Alaska; Final Rule" was published in the Federal Register (57 FR 22940-22964) on May 29, 1992.

In both cases, the rule "generally excludes navigable waters" from Federal subsistence management, 55 FR 27114, 27115 (1990); 57 FR 22940, 22942 (1992). In a lawsuit consolidated with Alaska v. Babbitt, plaintiff Katie John challenged these rules, arguing that navigable waters are properly included within the definition of "public lands" set out in ANILCA. At oral argument before the United States District Court for Alaska, the United States took the position that Federal reserved water rights which encompass the subsistence purpose are public lands for purposes of ANILCA. The United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit subsequently held: "[T]he definition of public lands includes those navigable waters in which the United States has an interest by virtue of the reserved water rights doctrine." Alaska v. Babbitt, 72 F.3d at 703-704. In the course of its decision, the Ninth Circuit also directed: "[T]he federal agencies that administer the subsistence priority are responsible for identifying those waters." Id. at 704.

These amendments conform the Federal subsistence management regulations to the Ninth Circuit's ruling in Alaska v. Babbitt. As the Ninth Circuit directed, this document identifies Federal land units in which reserved water rights exist. These are "public lands" under the Ninth Circuit's decision in Alaska v. Babbitt and thus are subject to the Federal subsistence priority in Title VIII of ANILCA. The amendments also provide the Federal Subsistence Board with clear authority to administer the subsistence priority in these waters.

This Final Rule is not effective until October 1, 1999, in accordance with language contained in the Omnibus Appropriations Bill for FY99, which prohibits the implementation and enforcement of regulations related to expanded jurisdiction for subsistence management until October 1, but does allow publication of this rule. However, should the Secretary of the Interior certify before October 1, 1999, that the Alaska State Legislature has passed a bill or resolution to amend the Constitution of the State of Alaska, that, if approved by the electorate, would enable the implementation of State laws consistent with and which provide for the definition, preference, and participation described in Sections 803, 804, and 805 of ANILCA, then these regulations will be held in abeyance until December 1, 2000, and a timely document will be published in the Federal Register delaying the effective date.

On July 15, 1993, the Mentasta Village Council, Native Village of Quinhagak, Native Village of Goodnews Bay, Alaska Federation of Natives, Alaska Inter-tribal Council, RurAL CAP, Katie John, Doris Charles, Louie Smith and Annie Cleveland filed a "Petition for Rulemaking by the Secretaries of Interior and Agriculture that Navigable Waters and Federal Reserved Waters are 'Public Lands' Subject to Title VIII of ANILCA's Subsistence Priority." On April 12, 1994, the Northwest Arctic Regional Council, Stevens Village Council, Kawerak, Inc., Copper River Native Association, Alaska Federation of Natives, Alaska Inter-tribal Council, RurAL CAP and Dinyee Corporation filed a "Petition for Rule-Making by the Secretaries of Interior and Agriculture that Selected But Not Conveyed Lands Are To Be Treated as Public Lands for the Purposes of the Subsistence Priority in Title VIII of ANILCA and that Uses on Non-Public Lands in Alaska May Be Restricted to Protect Subsistence Uses on Public Lands in Alaska." A Request for Comments on this Petition was published at 60 FR 6466 (1995). This rule also responds to both petitions for rulemaking.

Federal Subsistence Regional Advisory Councils

Alaska has been divided into ten subsistence resource regions, each of which is represented by a Federal Subsistence Regional Advisory Council. The Regional Councils provide a forum for rural residents with personal knowledge of local conditions and resource requirements to have a meaningful role in the subsistence management of fish and wildlife on Alaska public lands. The Regional Council members represent geographical, cultural, and user diversity within each region.

The Regional Councils have had a substantial role in reviewing the proposed rule and making recommendations for the final rule.

Public Review and Comment

The Secretaries published an Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (ANPR) (61 FR 15014) on April 4, 1996, and during May and June held eleven public hearings around Alaska to solicit comments on the Advance Notice. On December 17, 1997, the Secretaries published a Proposed Rule (62 FR 66216) and held 31 public hearings around the State, as well as soliciting input from the ten Federal Regional Subsistence Advisory Councils. The Proposed Rule was also available for review through the Office of Subsistence Management's home page at <http://www.r7.fws.gov/asm/home.html>.

In addition to the oral testimony received at the public hearings and Regional Council meetings, we received an additional 74 written comments. The comments received both in writing and during the hearings provided the agencies with a sense of how the public viewed the general jurisdictional concepts and practical implementation aspects of the rule.

Analysis of Federal Subsistence Regional Advisory Councils' Comments

The ten Regional Councils were given an opportunity to comment on a draft of the Proposed Rule during their regular meetings in the fall of 1997, and then again on the Proposed Rule itself during their winter 1998 meetings. This section summarizes the comments received from the Councils and our analysis of those comments.

Southeast Regional Council—Some Council members expressed a need to include under Federal jurisdiction all lands and waters originally included in the proclamation establishing the Tongass National Forest, including the marine waters. This issue is the subject of pending litigation, Peratrovich v. United States, A92-734 (D-AK); therefore, the Final Rule will not be modified to include the marine waters within the original proclamation area.

Southcentral Regional Council—The Regional Council asked a number of questions but had no recommendations.

Kodiak/Aleutians Regional Council—The Regional Council expressed concern regarding the loss over time of subsistence marine resources. It did not make any formal recommendation on the Proposed Rule. The regulations clearly identify which marine waters are under Federal jurisdiction by referring to the original Federal Register publications delineating boundaries of the listed Federal land units. The issue of expanding the Federal jurisdiction to other marine waters outside the listed Federal land units is beyond the scope of this rule.

Bristol Bay Regional Council—The Council expressed concern that customary and traditional use determination findings for some communities need to be revised and that wording on the take of rainbow trout and steelhead should be revised. Additional concern was expressed about how to deal with the definition of customary trade and implementing regulations. Changes to the customary and traditional use determinations and taking regulations on rainbow trout would be more appropriately handled as proposals. This suggestion should be submitted to the Federal Subsistence Board for consideration as a proposal during a standard regulatory cycle for fish proposals. We did modify the customary trade regulations slightly to clarify them, but have not included a definition of "significant commercial enterprise" or placed any dollar limits on an allowable level of customary trade. The regulations in this rule clearly limit the sale of subsistence-caught fish to customary and traditional practices. We agree with the commentors who said that specific decisions on customary trade should be made at the local level. We anticipate working closely with Regional Advisory Councils to identify where specific limits should be implemented. These limits may vary in different regions of the State.

Yukon-Kuskokwim Delta Regional Council—The Regional Council suggested more publicity clarifying the program, particularly in smaller, coastal villages and a publicity effort to let people know what is going to happen before it actually does. After publication, a condensed easy-to-read booklet with the regulations will be prepared and distributed to the public. The field offices of the Federal agencies that are a part of the Federal Subsistence Board will make this regulation, and information about the Federal program, available to villages within their areas.

Western Interior Regional Council—The Council expressed concern regarding the regulations addressing customary trade and the necessity to provide for ongoing practices; also the necessity to prevent wanton waste. We have added language prohibiting wanton waste of subsistence-taken fish and shellfish. We did modify the customary trade regulations slightly to clarify them, but have not included a definition of "significant commercial enterprise" or placed any dollar limits on an allowable level of customary trade. The regulations in this rule clearly limit the sale of subsistence-caught fish to customary and traditional practices. We agree with the commentors who said that specific decisions on customary trade should be made at the local level. We anticipate working closely with Regional Advisory Councils to identify where specific limits should be implemented. These limits may vary in different regions of the State.

Seward Peninsula Regional Council—The Regional Council asked a number of questions but had no recommendations.

Northwest Arctic Regional Council—The Regional Council had one recommendation: to eliminate a subsistence fishing closure where no similar sport closure currently exists. Recommendations for specific closures would be more appropriately handled as proposals. This suggestion should be submitted to the Federal Subsistence Board for consideration as a proposal during a standard regulatory cycle for fish proposals.

Eastern Interior Regional Council—The Council expressed concern regarding restrictions on customary trade. They asked that sections be rewritten to allow subsistence harvest by commercial license holders, and also recommended that agreements be made for local harvest data collection, and recommended that the "two basket" restriction for fishwheels not apply to the Yukon, Kuskokwim, Tanana, and Copper Rivers. The existing regulations already authorize the Board to enter into cooperative agreements for harvest data collection. The recommendation related to the "two basket" restriction for fishwheels would be more appropriately handled as a proposal. This suggestion should be submitted to the Federal Subsistence Board for consideration as a proposal during a standard regulatory cycle for fish proposals. We did modify the customary trade regulations slightly to clarify them, but have not included a definition of "significant commercial enterprise" or placed any dollar limits on an allowable level of customary trade. The regulations in this rule clearly limit the sale of subsistence-caught fish to customary and traditional practices. We agree with the commentors who said that specific decisions on customary trade should be made at the local level. We anticipate working closely with Regional Advisory Councils to identify where specific limits should be implemented. These limits may vary in different regions of the State.

North Slope Regional Council—The Regional Council comments centered around not creating any more restrictions on the Inupiaq way of life. The Council recommended that the C & T restriction for Unit 26(B) be stated more clearly as "except for those living in Prudhoe Bay and other oil industry complexes." Changes to the customary and traditional use determinations would be more appropriately handled as proposals. This suggestion should be submitted to the Federal Subsistence Board for consideration as a proposal during a standard regulatory cycle for fish proposals.

Analysis of Public Comments

General Comments

Several commentors questioned the adequacy of the Environmental Assessment, and suggested that it significantly understated the economic impacts of the Proposed Rule, particularly because of "customary trade" provisions of the rule. One commentor said that there should be an economic cost-benefit analysis done, and another said that the Proposed Rule was in violation of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, because no regulatory flexibility analysis was performed. The Final Rule is not expected to have a significant impact on either the physical environment or the socio-economic activities generated by Alaska's fisheries. For the most part, this rule continues pre-existing subsistence harvest activities at a level already occurring under State management. If there is any additional reallocation of fish or wildlife resources to subsistence users adopted in future annual regulations, it will likely be a relatively minor additional percentage of the fish harvested annually for other purposes in Alaska. ANILCA Title VIII does not require a cost-benefit analysis, nor does NEPA require such an analysis in the Environmental Assessment. Federal subsistence management under Title VIII of ANILCA will be designed to protect existing customary and traditional subsistence uses, including ongoing customary trade which may not be sanctioned by existing State regulations. It is not the intent of these regulations to encourage new subsistence fisheries. Because of this, the Departments certify that the proposed action represented by this final rulemaking will not have a significant effect on small entities and a flexibility analysis under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, Public Law 96-354, is not required.

One commentor said that the Proposed Rule violated Executive Order 12612, stating that it requires Federal agencies to examine the authority supporting any Federal action to limit the policy-making discretion of the states. The Final Rule clearly complies with Executive Order 12612, since it is implementing the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals decision in State of Alaska v. Babbitt, 72 F.3d 698 (9th Cir. 1995) cert denied 517 U.S. 1187 (1996).

One commentor said that the Proposed Rule violated Executive Order 12866, stating that it requires Federal agencies to seek special involvement of those expected to be burdened by any regulation, specifically State officials, and stated that such involvement has not occurred. This rule does not impose any new requirements on the State of Alaska. The Board has worked closely with the State of Alaska since the inception of Federal subsistence management in 1990 and has continued to do so throughout the development of this rule. Cooperative agreements and cooperative management efforts with the State are beneficial to both parties and are ongoing.

The same commentor suggested the proposed rule also violated Executive Order 12988, stating that it requires regulations be written to minimize litigation and to provide a clear legal standard for affected conduct. Several provisions of the proposed rule have been modified in this final rule to clarify the legal standard for conduct. However, other provisions are unchanged in order to create a regulatory framework that will implement the subsistence priority mandates of ANILCA Title VIII, minimize socio-economic impacts, and ensure that resource conservation standards in ANILCA are met.

One commentor said that these regulations should comply with the Clean Water and Antidegradation Acts. These regulations are consistent with the Clean Water Act and all other Federal laws.

One commentor recommended that the Federal Subsistence Board adopt an expedited process so that recommendations for regulatory changes could be adopted for the 1999 fishing season. The Board can not do this, because of the existence of Congressional limitations on implementation. Legislation enacted in October 1998 restricts implementation of these regulations until October 1, 1999.

One commentor recommended that the government should hire locally to manage the fisheries. The Federal agencies that are members of the Federal Subsistence Board will utilize the local hire authority of ANILCA to the maximum extent possible when hiring personnel to work in the Federal program.

One commentor suggested that the regulations needed to be written in plainer language and that the Federal Subsistence Board should send representatives to villages to explain them before the regulations go into effect. The regulations have been significantly re-written to put them in to plain language. After publication a condensed easy to read booklet with the regulations will be prepared and distributed to the public. The Board has made considerable effort to provide information about the expanded Federal fishery management program through numerous public hearings, regional advisory council meetings, press releases, and wide dissemination of information to an extensive mailing list. This final regulation will be mailed to over 2700 individuals and organizations in Alaska. The field offices of the Federal agencies that are a part of the Federal Subsistence Board will make this regulation, and information about the Federal program, available to villages within their areas.

One commentor said that there was no Alaska Native organization listed as being involved in the drafting of the proposed rule. Native organizations throughout the State have had an opportunity to provide input on this rule a number of times—after the issuance of the Advanced Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (April 4, 1996), during Regional Advisory Council meetings held throughout the State in the fall of 1997, during a 120-day public comment period after the publication of the proposed rule on December 17, 1997, and during 31 public hearings and 10 Regional Advisory Council meetings held around the State during that public comment period. In addition, as a member of the Federal Subsistence Board, the Bureau of Indian Affairs has been directly involved in the drafting of the Proposed Rule and this Final Rule.

Subpart A—General Provisions

____.2 Authority.

One commentor asked how the Pacific Salmon Treaty with Canada fit in with these regulations. These regulations are consistent with all existing treaties.

____.3 Applicability and scope.

The suggestion was made to include navigable waters on BLM lands. BLM lands set aside for specific purposes, such as Steese and White Mountains Conservation Areas, have Federal reserved water rights and are included within the scope of these regulations. Other BLM lands are general public domain lands without specific purposes and do not have reserved water rights.

Several commentors suggested that waters with Federal subsistence jurisdiction should be delineated the same for Forest Service lands as they are for Department of the Interior lands, and that Federal jurisdiction should be extended to include the marine waters identified in the 1907 Tongass National Forest Proclamation. The Final Rule has been modified from the Proposed Rule so that the definition of inland waters covered under this rule is consistent for Forest Service and DOI waters. The Federal subsistence jurisdiction asserted in the Final Rule applies to waters where the Federal government holds a reserved water right or holds title to the waters or submerged lands. A Federal water right exists in inland waters within or adjacent to Federal conservation system units and national forests. The question of Federal jurisdiction over marine waters included in the Tongass Proclamation is the subject of pending litigation in Peratrovich v. United States, A92-734 (D. AK), and therefore those marine waters are not included in this rule.

Five commentors suggested that the scope of the Federal fishery management should be extended to include waters on Native corporation lands or to include all navigable waters within the state of Alaska. To do so would improperly extend the scope of Title VIII of ANILCA or the direction of the Ninth Circuit Court in the Katie

John decision. In Title VIII Congress mandated the implementation of a subsistence priority on Federal public lands. Native corporation and other non-Federal lands and waters located beyond the boundaries of the conservation system units and other areas specified in § _____.3 do not fall within the scope of Title VIII. In the Katie John decision, the Ninth Circuit Court ruled that the Federal program should include those waters where the Federal government retains a reserved water right. Those waters are identified in § _____.3 of this rule.

Two commentors questioned the inclusion of inland waters adjacent to conservation system unit boundaries within the scope of Federal subsistence jurisdiction, and also questioned the inclusion of waters on inholdings within those unit boundaries. We have determined that a Federal reserved water right exists in those waters and that their inclusion is necessary for effective management of subsistence fisheries. Therefore, they are included.

One commentor said that waters flowing through or adjacent to Native allotments should be subject to the Federal subsistence jurisdiction. Many Native allotments are within the boundaries of the Federal lands identified in § _____.3 of this rule, and therefore waters flowing through or adjacent to those allotments are subject to a Federal reserved water right and Federal subsistence jurisdiction. However, Native allotments falling outside of the lands and waters identified in § _____.3 are not included. Whether there are Federal reserved water rights associated with any of these small, scattered parcels would have to be determined on a case-by-case basis. These regulations contain a process for the Board to make recommendations to the Secretaries for additions, if necessary.

One commentor said that the proposed regulations did not address problems with sport fishing lodges in the Togiak drainage, or with other issues related to sport and commercial fishing or pollution of spawning grounds. This rule provides an opportunity for, and regulates, subsistence hunting, trapping, and fishing only. As such, the regulations do not contain specific provisions for sport or commercial fishing. However, the impacts of all fishery allocations and harvests were considered in the preparation of this Final Rule, and will be considered in the annual review of Subpart D regulations.

One commentor said that lakes should be included within the Federal program, and specifically mentioned Teshekpuk

Lake. One commentor recommended that the Delta River, all of the Gulkana River, Tielok River and Little Tonsina River should be included in the Federal program. All inland waters (including lakes and rivers) within and adjacent to the areas identified in § _____.3 of this rule are included in the Federal subsistence jurisdiction. Teshekpuk Lake is included. Those portions of the above-named rivers that are included within or adjacent to the boundaries of the units identified in § _____.3 of these regulations are included within the Federal subsistence jurisdiction; any waters falling outside of the units identified are not included.

Two commentors said that Glacier Bay National Park should be included in these regulations. When Congress passed ANILCA, it stated (in Sections 203 and 1314(c)) that subsistence uses are permitted only in those national park or national monument areas where specifically authorized by the Act. Subsistence uses in Glacier Bay National Park were not specifically permitted by the Act, and can therefore not be authorized by these regulations.

One commentor noted that this rule would not protect subsistence opportunities on Native corporation lands. This is correct, since Native corporation lands (which have been conveyed or interim conveyed to corporations) are no longer Federal lands and thus not within the scope of the subsistence priority of ANILCA. However, any inland waters located within or adjacent to the external boundaries of the units identified in § _____.3 will fall within Federal subsistence jurisdiction.

Numerous commentors said that the proposed rule did not clearly identify where the proposed rule would apply, particularly with regards to marine waters. The same commentors also said that there were specific regulations regarding the taking of fish and shellfish in §§ _____.26 and 27 of this rule that related to fisheries where there did not appear to be any Federal waters or reserved water rights. The Final Rule lists the Federal land units where the rule will apply in § _____.3. Pursuant to Section 103 of ANILCA, maps and detailed legal descriptions of the boundaries of those National Park Service and Fish and Wildlife Service units were published in the Federal Register, including descriptions of the boundaries of units of the National Wildlife Refuge System which include marine waters. See 48 FR 7890 (February 24, 1983) (Boundaries of National Wildlife Refuges in Alaska); 57 FR 45166 (September 30, 1992) (Boundaries of National Park System Units in Alaska). These legal descriptions and maps specifically identify the marine areas where the rule will apply. We also reviewed all the specific regulations found in §§ _____.26 and 27 and removed any regulations that did not apply to lands or waters identified in § _____.3.

One commentator said that halibut and seagull eggs should be included in the Federal subsistence program. While these regulations only apply to relatively few marine waters (see the list of marine waters in § _____.3), fish within those waters are subject to the subsistence priority and regulations for the subsistence harvest of halibut and other fish will be included for those waters. As for seagull eggs, the harvest of migratory birds (including seagull eggs) is not included within the Federal subsistence management program. Harvest of migratory birds falls under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act and its implementing regulations.

_____.4 Definitions.

One commentator said that the definition of "conservation of healthy populations of fish and wildlife" appears to contradict Section 815 of ANILCA. The definition was not amended in these regulations. Section 815 states, in part, that nothing in Title VIII permits a level of subsistence uses of fish and wildlife in a conservation system unit to be inconsistent with the conservation of healthy populations (or inconsistent with natural and healthy populations within a national park or monument). The existing definition in this section simply defines the phrase found in Section 815, but does not contradict or supersede it.

One commentator said that the existing definition of the word "family" would permit sharing of subsistence resources outside the household, and thereby expand subsistence uses. Section 803 of ANILCA specifically includes "sharing for personal or family consumption" within the definition of "subsistence uses". Permitting the sharing of subsistence resources outside the household will not expand current levels of subsistence harvest, since such sharing has always been a customary and traditional practice. The definition was not amended by these regulations.

Two commentators said that the Federal subsistence jurisdiction should be extended to Federal lands which have been selected, but not yet conveyed, to Native corporations or the State of Alaska, including those lands classified as over-selections. Two other commentators objected to the inclusion of selected lands within the program. While selected lands do not fall within the definition of "public lands" found in ANILCA, section 906(o)(2) states that "Until conveyed, all Federal lands within the boundaries of a conservation system unit, National Recreation Area, National Conservation Area, new national forest or forest addition, shall be administered in accordance with the laws applicable to such unit." (emphasis added). Since selected lands do fall within the definition of "Federal lands" in ANILCA and Title VIII of ANILCA is a law applicable to such units, the subsistence priority of Title VIII must be extended to those lands, pursuant to section 906(o)(2). The definition of "public lands or public land" found in _____.4 of these regulations clarifies that selected lands will be treated as public lands until they are conveyed.

One commentator asked how the adoption of a fisheries regulatory year different from the wildlife regulatory year would affect regional advisory council and Federal Subsistence Board schedules. Another commentator said that the proposed fishery regulatory year would create conflicts with State regulations because of conflicting seasons and harvest reporting periods, and would complicate comparison of State and Federal information. The adoption of a different fisheries regulatory year is intended to provide a regulatory schedule that is the most efficient in managing an annual cycle of fishing regulations, and which has the least impact on subsistence users. Schedules for regular meetings of the Regional Advisory Councils and Federal Subsistence Board dealing with fishery issues will be adjusted to coincide with the fisheries regulatory year. The Federal Subsistence Board will work with the Alaska Department of Fish and Game and the State Board of Fisheries to minimize any conflicts created by this action.

_____.6 Licenses, permits, harvest tickets, tags, and reports

One commentator recommended that subsistence users should be required to possess a valid Alaska resident fishing license. This section of the regulations was rewritten to conform with plain language requirements; no substantive changes were made. Subsistence users wishing to take fish and wildlife on public lands for subsistence uses are required to possess the pertinent valid Alaska resident hunting and trapping license. At the current time, the State of Alaska does not require a license for subsistence fishing, therefore no license is required for subsistence users under the Final Rule.

It was suggested that State licenses and permits not be used. We have attempted to avoid confusion and unnecessary duplication wherever possible when establishing this new program. The retention of State permits and licenses is one area where it is possible to avoid unnecessary duplication. Federal permits and licenses may be issued in certain situations as warranted.

One commentator said that the existing State harvest reporting system should be used for any harvest reporting required under these regulations. This will be done to the maximum extent possible.

One commentator pointed out that the proposed rule and the existing Federal subsistence regulations state in § _____.6(d) that "Community harvests are reviewed annually under the regulations in subpart D of this part.", and questioned whether those annual reviews have been conducted in the past. Such review is incorporated into the annual review of all subpart D regulations, which are subject to modification by proposals from Regional Advisory Councils, subsistence users, and any other interested organizations or individuals.

_____.8 Penalties

One commentator suggested that enforcement of these regulations should be by the Federal Subsistence Management Program through cooperative agreements and that there should be no State enforcement of these regulations by the State of Alaska. The existing regulations provide that enforcement of these regulations will be retained by the individual land management agencies that are a part of the Federal Subsistence Board. This provision has not been amended. The State of Alaska will not generally be enforcing these regulations, unless authorized to do so through some special arrangement or mutual assistance agreement. However, the State of Alaska will continue to enforce on Federal lands other applicable State laws and regulations which are not inconsistent with these regulations or other Federal laws.

One commentator said that there was no information in the regulations about penalties. One commentator said that the Proposed Rule had no provision for enforcement, particularly in regards to the issue of customary trade. Enforcement of these regulations is accomplished in accordance with the penalty provisions applicable to the public land where the violation occurred. Each of the Federal land management agencies that are a part of the Federal Subsistence Board (Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Indian Affairs, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Park Service, and U.S. Forest Service) have separate penalty provisions for offenses occurring on lands they manage. More detailed information can be obtained from each agency.

____.9 Information collection requirements

One commentor said that data collection to manage the Federal subsistence program is prohibited unless approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). While OMB approval is not required for all data collection, it is required where Federal officials request information from more than ten persons. As stated elsewhere in this preamble (Paperwork Reduction Act), OMB has already approved the initial information collection requirements of these regulations and additional approvals will be sought whenever required.

____.10 Federal Subsistence Board

Several commentors disagreed with the language of § ____ .10(a) of the Proposed Rule which stated that the Secretaries retain their existing authority to restrict or eliminate hunting, fishing, or trapping activities which occur on lands or waters other than the lands identified in the applicability and scope section of the regulation. We did not modify this section. The authority of the Secretaries to restrict or eliminate activities off Federal public lands has been confirmed in cases as Kleppe v. New Mexico (426 U.S. 529) and Minnesota v. Block (660 F.2d 817). This regulation does not expand or diminish the Secretaries' authority, it only states that it exists. This authority has rarely been exercised and is not exercised in this Final Rule.

One commentor recommended that the Secretaries should delegate to the Federal Subsistence Board authority to extend jurisdiction beyond Federal lands. Extension of Federal jurisdiction is a significant policy decision, only applied in very rare circumstances, and the Secretaries have chosen not to delegate that authority to the Board. They have delegated overall management of the subsistence program to the Board. By adoption of these regulations, the Board will assume the responsibility for management of an expanded fishery program on all lands identified in § ____ .3 of this rule.

One commentor said that the Federal agencies do not have sufficient expertise to assure compliance with ANILCA, and recommended that management authority be vested in the National Marine Fisheries Service and that the regulations provide clear guidelines for cooperation with the Alaska Department of Fish and Game. The Federal Subsistence Board, and its member agencies, understand the complexity of the issues associated with the implementation of these regulations. The Board will obtain whatever expertise is needed to implement these regulations in order to assure that the subsistence opportunity is protected consistent with the conservation of healthy populations of fishery resources.

One commentor recommended that a tribal liaison appointed by the Federally-recognized tribes should be included as one of the official liaisons to the Federal Subsistence Board. Any tribe or group of tribes (or any other organization) can designate at any time a person to act in a liaison role to the Board. At this time, the Board believes that tribes have sufficient opportunity to provide input to the Board through the existing Regional Advisory Council structure, or through direct presentation of information to the Board without the designation of a formal liaison position.

One commentor recommended that the Chairs of the ten Regional Advisory Councils be included as voting members of the Federal Subsistence Board. Separate from this rulemaking, the Federal Subsistence Board just recently completed an internal examination the Board structure and considered one option of including Regional Council chairs on the Board. That option was rejected, in part because ANILCA stipulates that the Regional Councils are to provide recommendations to the government. A conflict would occur if those chairs sat on a board that would deliberate and make decisions on recommendations made by the Councils on which those chairs sit.

Five commentors recommended that use of compacts, contracts, and co-management or other agreements should be included within this rule. We clarified the wording of this section without changing its scope by changing the phrase "Native corporations" to "Native organizations." Section 10(d)(4)(xv) of this regulation now states that the Federal Subsistence Board may "Enter into cooperative agreements or otherwise cooperate with Federal agencies, the State, Native organizations, local governmental entities, and other persons and organizations, including international entities to effectuate the purposes and policies of the Federal subsistence management program". This regulatory language derives from section 809 of ANILCA, and permits a wide range of cooperative mechanisms to carry out the purposes of the title, including, where appropriate, the cooperative mechanisms suggested above. The subsistence priority of Title VIII is not solely a priority for Alaska Natives, but is a priority for all rural residents, Native or otherwise.

One commentor objected to § ____ .10(d)(4)(xviii) of the Proposed Rule which states that the Board can investigate and make recommendations to the Secretaries identifying additional Federal reservations, Federal reserved water rights or other Federal interests in lands or waters to which the Title VIII subsistence priority would be extended. This commentor said that section constituted a granting authority beyond the scope of ANILCA. We did not revise this section in this final rule. If additional waters or Federal interests are proposed for inclusion, the Board would need to investigate and provide a recommendation based on their findings to the Secretaries. This section only authorizes the Board to do so. The addition of any other waters or interests to this rule will involve a further rulemaking, with public notice and comment.

Two commentors questioned the regulation dealing with delegation of certain actions by the Board to agency field officials (§ ____ .10(d)(6)). One said that the regulatory language was not clear as to what type of actions might be delegated and the other said that field officials might abuse such delegation resulting in harm to the resource. As written, such delegation will be limited to setting harvest limits, defining harvest areas, and opening or closing specific fish or wildlife harvests. In all cases such delegation will specifically define "frameworks established by the Board" as specified in the regulation. Thus, field officials will always be constrained by the framework of any delegation, and the Board will not lose its oversight of actions by agency officials.

One commentor recommended that the authority to open or close fish or wildlife harvest seasons should be community-based, and not in the hands of an agency field official. Implementation and enforcement of Federal regulations is the responsibility of the Departments. Field managers will work with local communities and local biologists to assure that community interests are addressed in any actions.

____.11 Regional advisory councils

Four organizations or individuals commented on the make up of the Regional Advisory Councils. Two recommended that the Council membership include fish and game biologists or individuals familiar with non-subsistence uses in the region. One suggested that the Councils need more representation from other user groups. The fourth recommended that there should be tribal recognition and tribal recommendations for appointments to the Councils. The Regional Advisory Councils were established pursuant to section 805(a) of ANILCA and § _____.11 of these regulations, and are charged with providing recommendations to the Board relating to subsistence uses within each region. The Board considers the recommendations of the Councils, along with technical information gathered by Federal staff, and testimony presented to the Board by other organizations and individuals. The input of other fish and game biologists and organizations or individuals knowledgeable about non-subsistence uses is considered by the Board before taking action on Council recommendations. Tribal recommendations, as well as recommendations by other organizations or individuals, are considered in the selection of Council membership. No changes were made in this section of these regulations.

One commentator recommended that Regional Council members should be elected, but did not specify by whom. This recommendation was not adopted, because ANILCA requires that persons serving as members of these Councils must be appointed by the Secretaries.

_____.12 Local Advisory Committees.

There were several comments in regards to the role of local advisory committees in the Federal process, especially on the Yukon River. Local fish and game advisory committees have the opportunity to be involved in Federal subsistence management program by submitting recommendations to the Federal Subsistence Board and Regional Advisory Councils. The Federal Subsistence Board will seek guidance and expertise from all user groups. Two commentators requested a committee for their area or village. The creation of local fish and game advisory committees is a function of the Alaska Department of Fish and Game. The request should be made to them. One commentator suggested that existing State advisory committees should be used as opposed to creating a separate system. Local advisory committees may be used in addition to Regional Advisory Councils; a separate system will not be created. The Federal Subsistence Board will seek the best information available for regulation development. Local advisory committee input is always welcome under current and proposed rules.

_____.14 Relationships to State Provisions and Regulations.

One commentator said that the Proposed Rule and Environmental Assessment did not adequately explore mechanisms for cooperation or outline the Secretaries' expectations of the Federal agencies for cooperation. There will be ample opportunities for cooperation with the State under the Final Rule. A question arose concerning timely reassertion of State authority over subsistence and suggested imposing a time limit once the petition to reassert is filed. This section was not amended and no time limit was included in this Final Rule. The Secretaries will act expeditiously when a petition for reassumption is filed. One commentator requested a transition period from Federal to State management authority for specific regulations. The Secretary will not certify a State subsistence management program unless the State enacts and implements laws of general applicability which are consistent with, and which provide for the definition, preference and participation specified in sections 803, 804, and 805 of ANILCA.

One commentator said that the proposed regulations did not support State conservation efforts, since the State has already implemented many changes to its regulations through fishery management plans since the Proposed Rule was published. To the extent possible, these final regulations incorporate changes to make them consistent with existing State regulations. The Board intends to utilize, to the extent possible, the existing State fishery management plans, but all those plans must be reviewed to ensure that the fishery allocation determinations in the plans are consistent with the subsistence priority of ANILCA.

One commentator suggested that the Federal subsistence regulations should adopt State regulations to the maximum extent possible, and that the Federal regulations should only include those regulations that differ from existing State regulations. As already stated, it has always been the intent of the Board with the adoption of these regulations to be consistent with existing State regulations except where specifically noted. However, we believe that to include in the Federal regulations only those areas where the Federal regulations differ from State regulations would be more confusing to subsistence users who would then have to refer to two sets of regulations while hunting or fishing on Federal lands.

_____.16 The Customary and Traditional Use Determination Process.

One commentator suggested that the Federal Subsistence Board abandon the Customary and Traditional use determination process and make determinations on a geographical basis. The Customary and Traditional use determination process is currently being evaluated. The Federal Subsistence Board accepts proposals for changes annually, but no changes were made in this section in the Final Rule.

_____.19 Closures and Other Special Actions.

Several commentators stated the closure provisions are too cumbersome, bureaucratic, and do not accurately define the circumstances under which the Federal Subsistence Board may take action to ensure resource conservation. The Secretaries understand this concern; this Final Rule grants to the Board specific authority to “* * * delegate to agency field officials the authority to set harvest limits, define harvest areas, and open or close specific fish or wildlife harvest seasons within frameworks established by the Board.” (§ _____.10(d)(6)). Implementation of this regulation will provide for less cumbersome management actions, while retaining Board oversight of those actions.

Subpart C—Board Determinations

_____.22 Subsistence Resource Regions.

Two commentators urged the formation of a Yukon River Regional Council while one suggested two Councils for the Southeast Region; one for game and another for fish. The Federal Subsistence Board will not make these changes at this time but will continue to evaluate the efficiency of the current structure and make future adjustments as needed.

_____.23 Rural Determinations.

Two commentators questioned the basis for and outcomes of the rural determinations. The procedure for making rural/non-rural determinations was developed previously with public input through a rulemaking process as were the existing rural/non-rural determinations. Those determinations will be reviewed after the year 2000 census results are available.

____.24 Customary and Traditional Use Determinations.

One commentor suggested that the Federal Subsistence Board should make customary and traditional use determinations by geographic area rather than species. Another objected to making customary and traditional use determinations that have not been subjected to public review and suggested that C&T determinations be accompanied by a determination of the amount of fish and wildlife reasonably necessary to provide for subsistence on public lands. The Federal Subsistence Board has established a task force to evaluate the existing C&T process and will seek Regional Advisory Council input on various alternatives before making changes, if any, to the current regulations.

One commentor said that the rule should be modified to require a positive affirmation of customary and traditional use in order for subsistence regulations to apply. We did not make this change. To require a positive affirmation of use puts the burden on the subsistence user to ensure that his or her use is authorized in regulation. The current Federal subsistence regulations state in part that: "If no determination has been made for a species in a Unit, all rural Alaska residents are eligible to harvest fish or wildlife under this part." , § _____.24(a). This regulation already covers customary and traditional use determinations for fish, and does not need to be modified.

Several other commentors said that the customary and traditional use determinations in the proposed rule were incomplete. We have revised the determinations for fish and shellfish in this section to incorporate both the last Alaska Board of Fish customary and traditional use determinations that were in compliance with Title VIII (January 1990) and the determinations that the Board of Fish has made since 1990 where they might apply on Federal waters. For those determinations made by the Board of Fish since 1990, we have made a determination that eligibility for those fisheries should be limited to the residents of the area identified. These determinations are subject to revision through the annual consideration of proposed changes to Subpart C.

Subpart D—Subsistence Taking of Fish

____.26 Subsistence taking of fish

Numerous comments regarding customary and traditional use determinations and the taking of fish were received. Proposed changes to the existing subpart C and subpart D regulations will not be considered until the 2000–2001 regulations cycle. The commentors have been notified that their suggestions should be submitted to the Federal Subsistence Board for consideration as a proposal during a standard regulatory cycle.

A large number of comments dealt with the issue of customary trade. Many of the commentors felt that the sections dealing with customary trade in the Proposed Rule (§§ _____.26(c)(11) and (12)) were not specific enough, and would permit an expansion of subsistence fishing beyond current levels. Several suggested that this rule should define the term "significant commercial enterprise", including a specific dollar limit. Some said that no sale of subsistence-caught fish should be permitted, while others said that customary trade practices should be protected and that customary trade should include sales up to $70,000 per year. Several commentors suggested that decisions on customary trade should be made on a local level. We did modify the customary trade regulations slightly to clarify them, but have not included a definition of "significant commercial enterprise" or placed any dollar limits on an allowable level of customary trade. The regulations in this rule clearly limit the sale of subsistence-caught fish to customary and traditional practices. We agree with the commentors who said that specific proposals on customary trade should be made at the local level. We anticipate working closely with Regional Advisory Councils to identify where specific limits should be implemented. These limits may vary in different regions of the State.

Numerous commentors also said that the proposed rule did not always rely on the State's reporting areas, and were not always consistent with current State regulations. The majority of these comments came from the State of Alaska. When the proposed rule was published in December of 1997, it was structured to reflect all the State subsistence fishery regulations which were current at that time. Since then, the State Board of Fish has made changes to State regulations which resulted in the comments noted above. In order to address these concerns, we reviewed Subparts C and D with respect to fisheries and shellfish (particularly §§ _____.26 and 27). Changes were made in this Final Rule to make it consistent with current State regulations. There are a few specific regulations where this rule is not consistent with State regulations. These are areas where the courts have ruled or the Board has previously dealt with a fishery issue and made decisions which are not consistent with State regulations. These areas include: (1) the use of rod and reel for subsistence as a method of harvest, (2) the extension of salmon fisheries on Kodiak Island to 24 hours per day, (3) customary and traditional use determinations for rainbow trout in Southwest Alaska, and (4) regulations relating to the take of king crab around Kodiak Island.

Another commentor suggested the rule should clarify how the Federal subsistence management program will manage halibut, since the International Pacific Halibut Commission has halibut management responsibilities. Although most marine waters are excluded from these regulations, halibut and other marine resources in those marine waters identified in § _____.3 will be included within these regulations.

Many comments were received in regards to joint management whereby the Federal agencies determine the number of fish necessary to meet subsistence needs and monitor the take, while the State manages to meet these needs. While the Final Rule provides for management of fisheries in a manner consistent with the current Federal program, it does not preclude the adoption of other management scenarios. Sections _____.10 and .14 give the Board broad authorities to cooperate with the State and other organizations in the implementation of the Federal Subsistence Management Program. Other commentors asked about the status of personal use fisheries in the Federal plan. Personal use fisheries are not provided for under ANILCA's Title VIII and are not addressed in these regulations. The State of Alaska manages personal use fisheries and comments or recommendations concerning those fisheries should be directed to the State. There were several comments in regards to the use of different types of equipment for subsistence use. Although the use of rod and reel is not permitted under State subsistence regulations, it is permitted under these regulations, since the Board has previously determined that rod and reel should be considered a traditional means of harvest. There are no requirements to purchase commercial equipment. One commentor wanted some provision made for the use of fish as bait in sport and commercial fisheries. Provisions regarding sport and commercial fisheries should be referred to the State which has management authority over these fisheries. Comments in regards to changing wording from "unless permitted" to "unless prohibited" for steelhead and rainbow trout were suggested. The “unless permitted” wording is consistent with State regulations. One commentor suggested dropping bag limits for rod and reel. Bag limits are reasonable regulations for conservation of fish stocks and are authorized and consistent with ANILCA, Section 814.

One commentor said in that Southeast Alaska the harvest of subsistence fish should be permitted at any time. Another commentor said that there should be no requirement for permits, seasons or bag limits for subsistence harvest, since ANILCA did not specifically mention any of those items. The subsistence priority of ANILCA is a priority over other consumptive uses, but that opportunity does not mean that subsistence harvest should be free from all regulation. ANILCA stipulates that subsistence harvest should not threaten the conservation of healthy populations of fish or wildlife. Regulations such as permits, seasons and bag limits, are considered a necessary and reasonable restriction of subsistence harvest.

One commentor said that genetic studies should be completed in the Area M fishery and associated destination drainages before there is a serious problem. Area M is not within the area of Federal jurisdiction. However, the Federal Subsistence Board will work closely with the State of Alaska, Native organizations, fishing groups and others to assure that necessary biological and harvest information is obtained.

A number of comments dealt with permit possession and record keeping. Current regulations require on-person possession of permits. In addition, permits and daily records will be required when important for collection of specific data to ensure adequate management and to provide biological data for emergency management decisions. One commentor noted that subsection (f) allows Federally qualified users to remove fish from their commercial catch for subsistence purposes which conflicts with State commercial fishing regulations. This provision is consistent with State regulations and will be retained. Another commentor noted that the proposed regulations do not contain measures to conserve chum salmon in times of shortage as provided in State regulations and will hinder efforts to conserve chum salmon in times of shortage. All fisheries will be managed for healthy populations as provided for in ANILCA Section 802(1). The request for fish habitat enhancement for the Yukon Flats area should be directed to the local land manager who has responsibility for these activities.

____.27 Subsistence Taking of Shellfish

One commentor requested that the Federal program also cover sea cucumbers, abalone, and sea urchins. Management of these species can occur under current regulations and the Federal program may include them where it has marine jurisdiction.

One commentor opposed having to purchase a license to dig clams. Licenses are not required although permits may be required in some areas for resource management purposes. Another commentor stated that State and Federal requirements for king crab pots differ. This difference occurs only in the Kodiak Island area and results from the Federal Subsistence Board instituting regulations a number of years ago to protect king crab populations in that area.

Summary of Changes

Based on our analysis of comments, we have made the following revisions from the Proposed Rule:

Throughout the document, we have made editing and wording changes to comply with the Executive Memorandum on Plain Language in Government Writing.

§ ____ .3(b)—Jurisdiction over inland waters on Forest Service lands has been modified to be consistent with the jurisdictional approach used on Department of the Interior lands. We have also more clearly identified the waters in which the Federal government will manage subsistence fisheries.

§ ____ .24(a)(2)—We have revised the determinations for fish and shellfish in this section to incorporate both the past Alaska Board of Fish customary and traditional use determinations that were in compliance with Title VIII (January 1990) and the determinations that the Board of Fish has made since 1990 where they apply on Federal waters and are consistent with Title VIII of ANILCA.

§§ ____ .26 and .27—We have made minor wording changes to the regulations on customary trade (§ ____ .26(c)(11–12)), but have retained the intent found in the Proposed Rule to provide for ongoing customary trade practices. We have made numerous revisions to assure consistency with the current State subsistence fisheries and shellfish regulations. In order to reduce confusion, we have also eliminated regulations covering areas where there is no Federal jurisdiction.

We must emphasize that these regulations ONLY APPLY TO FEDERAL LANDS AND WATERS where there is a Federal interest. Individuals who do not meet the requirements under these regulations may still harvest fish and wildlife on Federal lands and waters in accordance with other State fishing and hunting regulations, except in those instances where Federal lands or waters have been specifically closed to non-Federally qualified subsistence users.

Nothing in this Final Rule is intended to change the underlying rural priority which is set out in Title VIII of ANILCA or otherwise amend the statutory basis of the Federal Subsistence Management Program. Although many sections of these regulations are not being amended other than to make them conform to requirements for plain language, for the purpose of clarity and ease of understanding, the entire text of the rule for subparts A, B, and C, and sections ____ .26, and ____ .27 of subpart D is being printed. The unpublished section (Section ____ .25) relates to wildlife regulations that are revised annually. Because this rule relates to public lands managed by an agency or agencies in both the Departments of Agriculture and the Interior, identical text is incorporated into 36 CFR Part 242 and 50 CFR Part 100.

Conformance With Statutory and Regulatory Authorities

National Environmental Policy Act Compliance

A Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) that described four alternatives for developing a Federal Subsistence Management Program was distributed for public comment on October 7, 1991. That document described the major issues associated with Federal subsistence management as identified through public meetings, written comments and staff analysis and examined the environmental consequences of the four alternatives. Proposed regulations (Subparts A, B, and C) that would implement the preferred alternative were included in the DEIS as an appendix. The DEIS and the proposed administrative regulations presented a framework for an annual regulatory cycle regarding subsistence hunting and fishing regulations (Subpart D). The Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) was published on February 28, 1992.

Based on the public comment received, the analysis contained in the FEIS, and the recommendations of the Federal Subsistence Board and the Department of the Interior's Subsistence Policy Group, it was the decision of the Secretary of the Interior, with the concurrence of the Secretary of Agriculture, through the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Forest Service, to implement Alternative IV as identified in the DEIS and FEIS (Record of Decision on Subsistence Management for Federal Public Lands in Alaska (ROD), signed April 6, 1992). The DEIS and the selected alternative in the FEIS defined the administrative framework of an annual regulatory cycle for subsistence hunting and fishing regulations. The final rule for Subsistence Management Regulations for Public Lands in Alaska, Subparts A, B, and C (57 FR 22940-22964, published May 29, 1992) implemented the Federal Subsistence Management Program and included a framework for an annual cycle for subsistence hunting and fishing regulations.

An environmental assessment has been prepared on the expansion of Federal jurisdiction over fisheries and is available by contacting the office listed under "For Further Information Contact." The Secretary of the Interior with the concurrence of the Secretary of Agriculture has determined that the expansion of Federal jurisdiction does not constitute a major Federal action, significantly effecting the human environment and has, therefore, signed a Finding of No Significant Impact.

Compliance With Section 810 of ANILCA

A Section 810 analysis was completed as part of the FEIS process on the Federal Subsistence Management Program. The intent of all Federal subsistence regulations is to accord subsistence uses of fish and wildlife on public lands a priority over the taking of fish and wildlife on such lands for other purposes, unless restriction is necessary to conserve healthy fish and wildlife populations. The final Section 810 analysis determination appeared in the April 6, 1992, ROD which concluded that the Federal Subsistence Management Program, under Alternative IV with an annual process for setting hunting and fishing regulations, may have some local impacts on subsistence uses, but it does not appear that the program may significantly restrict subsistence uses.

During the environmental assessment process, an evaluation of the effects of this rule was also conducted in accordance with Section 810. This evaluation supports the Secretaries' determination that the Final Rule will not reach the "may significantly restrict" threshold for notice and hearings under ANILCA Section 810(a) for any subsistence resources or uses.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This rule contains information collection requirements subject to Office of Management and Budget (OMB) approval under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. It applies to the use of public lands in Alaska. The information collection requirements are a revision of the collection requirements already approved by OMB under 44 U.S.C. 3501 and have been assigned clearance number 1018-0075, which expires 5/31/2000. This revision was submitted to OMB for approval. A comment period was open on OMB collection requirements and no comments were received.

Currently, information is being collected by the use of a Federal Subsistence Registration Permit and Designated Hunter Application. The information collected on these two permits establishes whether an applicant qualifies to participate in a Federal subsistence hunt on public land in Alaska and provides a report of harvest and the location of harvest. The collected information is necessary to determine harvest success, harvest location, and population health in order to make management decisions relative to the conservation of healthy wildlife populations. Additional harvest information is obtained from harvest reports submitted to the State of Alaska. The recordkeeping burden for this aspect of the program is negligible (one hour or less). This information is accessed via computer data base. The current overall annual burden of reporting and recordkeeping is estimated to average 0.25 hours per response, including time for reviewing instructions, gathering and maintaining data, and completing and reviewing the form. The estimated number of likely respondents under the existing rule is less than 5,000, yielding a total annual reporting and recordkeeping burden of 1,250 hours or less.

The collection of information under this Final Rule will be achieved through the use of a Federal Subsistence Registration Permit Application, which would be the same form as currently approved and used for the hunting program. This information will establish whether the applicant qualifies to participate in a Federal subsistence fishery on public land in Alaska and will provide a report of harvest and location of harvest.

The likely respondents to this collection of information are rural Alaska residents who wish to participate in specific subsistence fisheries on Federal land. The collected information is necessary to determine harvest success and harvest location in order to make management decisions relative to the conservation of healthy fish populations. The annual burden of reporting and recordkeeping is estimated to average 0.50 hours per response, including time for reviewing instructions, gathering and maintaining data, and completing and reviewing the form. The estimated number of likely respondents under this rule is less than 10,000, yielding a total annual reporting and recordkeeping burden of 5,000 hours or less.

You may direct comments on the burden estimate or any other aspect of this form to: Information Collection Officer, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 1849 C Street, NW, MS 224 ARLSQ, Washington, DC 20240; and the Office of Management and Budget, Paperwork Reduction Project (Subsistence), Washington, DC 20503.

Additional information collection requirements may be imposed if local advisory committees subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act are established under subpart B. Such requirements will be submitted to OMB for approval prior to their implementation.

Clarity of the Rule

Executive Order 12866 requires each agency to write regulations that are easy to understand. We invite your comments on how to make this rule easier to understand, including answers to questions such as the following: (1) Are the requirements in the rule clearly stated? (2) Does the rule contain technical language or jargon that interferes with its clarity? (3) Does the format of the rule (grouping and order of sections, use of headings, paragraphing, etc.) aid or reduce its clarity? (4) Would the rule be easier to understand if it were divided into more (but shorter) sections? (A "section" appears in bold type and is preceded by the symbol "§" and a numbered heading; for example, § _____.24 Customary and traditional determinations.) (5) Is the description of the rule in the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION section of the preamble helpful in understanding the rule? What else could we do to make the rule easier to understand? Send a copy of any comments that concern how we could make this rule easier to understand to: Office of Regulatory Affairs, Department of the Interior, Room 7229, 1849 C Street, NW, Washington, DC 20240. You may also e-mail the comments to this address: Exsec@ios.doi.gov.

Economic Effects

This rule was not subject to OMB review under Executive Order 12866.

This rulemaking will impose no significant costs on small entities; this Final Rule does not restrict any existing sport or commercial fishery on the public lands and subsistence fisheries will continue at essentially the same levels as they presently occur. The exact number of businesses and the amount of trade that will result from this Federal land-related activity is unknown. The aggregate effect is an insignificant positive economic effect on a number of small entities, such as ammunition, snowmachine, fishing tackle, and gasoline dealers. The number of small entities affected is unknown; but, the fact that the positive effects will be seasonal in nature and will, in most cases, merely continue preexisting uses of public lands indicates that they will not be significant.

In general, the resources to be harvested under this rule are already being harvested and consumed by the local harvester and do not result in an additional dollar benefit to the economy. However, it is estimated that 24 million pounds of fish (including 8.3 million pounds of salmon) are harvested by subsistence users annually and, if given an estimated dollar value of $3.00 per pound for salmon and $0.58 per pound for other fish, would equate to about $34 million in food value state-wide.

The Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) requires preparation of flexibility analyses for rules that will have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities, which include small businesses, organizations or governmental jurisdictions. The Departments have determined based on the above figures that this rulemaking will not have a significant economic effect on a substantial number of small entities within the meaning of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

The Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Act (5 U.S.C. 801 et seq.) requires that before a rule can take effect, copies of the rule and other documents must be sent to the U.S. House and U.S. Senate and establishes a means for Congress to disapprove the rulemaking. The Departments have determined that this rulemaking is not a major rule under the Act, and thus the effective date of the rule is not additionally delayed unless Congress takes additional action.

Title VIII of ANILCA requires the Secretaries to administer a subsistence priority on public lands. The scope of this program is limited by definition to certain public lands. Likewise, these regulations have no potential takings of private property implications as defined by Executive Order 12630.

The Secretaries have determined and certify pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or state governments or private entities. The implementation of this rule is by Federal agencies and there is no cost imposed on any state or local entities or tribal governments.

The Secretaries have determined that these final regulations meet the applicable standards provided in Sections 3(a) and 3(b)(2) of Executive Order 12988.

In accordance with Executive Order 12612, the rule does not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment. Title VIII of ANILCA precludes the State from exercising subsistence management authority over fish and wildlife resources on Federal lands unless it meets certain requirements.

Drafting Information—These regulations were drafted by William Knauer, Bob Gerhard, and Victor Starostka under the guidance of Thomas H. Boyd, of the Office of Subsistence Management, Alaska Regional Office, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Anchorage, Alaska. Additional guidance was provided by Curt Wilson, Alaska State Office, Bureau of Land Management; Sandy Rabinowitch, Alaska Regional Office, National Park Service; Ida Hildebrand, Alaska Area Office, Bureau of Indian Affairs; and Ken Thompson, USDA-Forest Service.

§ ____.5 Eligibility for subsistence use.

(a) You may take fish and wildlife on public lands for subsistence uses only if you are an Alaska resident of a rural area or rural community. The regulations in this part may further limit your qualifications to harvest fish or wildlife resources for subsistence uses. If you are not an Alaska resident or are a resident of a non-rural area or community listed in § ____.23, you may not take fish or wildlife on public lands for subsistence uses under the regulations in this part.

(b) Where the Board has made a customary and traditional use determination regarding subsistence use of a specific fish stock or wildlife population, in accordance with, and as listed in, § ____.24, only those Alaskans who are residents of rural areas or communities designated by the Board are eligible for subsistence taking of that population or stock on public lands for subsistence uses under the regulations in this part. If you do not live in one of those areas or communities, you may not take fish or wildlife from that population or stock, on public lands under the regulations in this part.

(c) Where customary and traditional use determinations for a fish stock or wildlife population within a specific area have not yet been made by the Board (e.g. "no determination"), all Alaskans who are residents of rural areas or communities may harvest for subsistence from that stock or population under the regulations in this part.

(d) The National Park Service may regulate further the eligibility of those individuals qualified to engage in subsistence uses on National Park Service lands in accordance with specific authority in ANILCA, and National Park Service regulations at 36 CFR Part 13.

§ ____.6 Licenses, permits, harvest tickets, tags, and reports.

(a) If you wish to take fish and wildlife on public lands for subsistence uses, you must be a rural Alaska resident and:

(1) Possess the pertinent valid Alaska resident hunting and trapping licenses (no license required to take fish or shellfish) unless Federal licenses are required or unless otherwise provided for in subpart D of this part;

(2) Possess and comply with the provisions of any pertinent Federal permits (Federal Subsistence Registration Permit or Federal Designated Harvester Permit) required by subpart D of this part; and

(b) If you have been awarded a permit to take fish and wildlife, you must have that permit in your possession during the taking and must comply with all requirements of the permit and the regulations in this section pertaining to validation and reporting and to regulations in subpart D of this part pertaining to methods and means, possession and transportation, and utilization. Upon the request of a State or Federal law enforcement agent, you must also produce any licenses, permits, harvest tickets, tags or other documents required by this section. If you are engaged in taking fish and wildlife under these regulations, you must allow State or Federal law enforcement agents to inspect any apparatus designed to be used, or capable of being used to take fish or wildlife, or any fish or wildlife in your possession.

(c) You must validate the harvest tickets, tags, permits, or other required documents before removing your kill from the harvest site. You must also comply with all reporting provisions as set forth in subpart D of this part.

(d) If you take fish and wildlife under a community harvest system, you must report the harvest activity in accordance with regulations specified for that community in subpart D of this part, and as required by any applicable permit conditions. Individuals may be responsible for particular reporting requirements in the conditions permitting a specific community's harvest. Failure to comply with these conditions is a violation of these regulations. Community harvests are reviewed annually under the regulations in subpart D of this part.

(e) You may not make a fraudulent application for Federal or State licenses, permits, harvest tickets or tags or intentionally file an incorrect harvest report.

§ _____.7 Restriction on use.

(a) You may not trade or sell fish and wildlife, taken pursuant to the regulations in this part, except as provided for in §§ _____.25, _____.26, and _____.27.

(b) You may not use, sell, or trade fish and wildlife, taken pursuant to the regulations in this part, in any significant commercial enterprise.

§ _____.8 Penalties.

If you are convicted of violating any provision of 50 CFR Part 100 or 36 CFR Part 242, you may be punished by a fine or by imprisonment in accordance with the penalty provisions applicable to the public land where the violation occurred.

§ _____.9 Information collection requirements.

(a) The rules in this part contain information collection requirements subject to Office of Management and Budget (OMB) approval under 44 U.S.C. 3501–3520. They apply to fish and wildlife harvest activities on public lands in Alaska. Subsistence users will not be required to respond to an information collection request unless a valid OMB number is displayed on the information collection form.

(1) Section _____.6, Licenses, permits, harvest tickets, tags, and reports. The information collection requirements contained in § _____.6 (Federal Subsistence Registration Permit or Federal Designated Hunter Permit forms) provide for permit-specific subsistence activities not authorized through the general adoption of State regulations. Identity and location of residence are required to determine if you are eligible for a permit and a report of success is required after a harvest attempt. These requirements are not duplicative with the requirements of paragraph (a)(3) of this section. The regulations in § _____.6 require this information before a rural Alaska resident may engage in subsistence uses on public lands. The Department estimates that the average time necessary to obtain and comply with this permit information collection requirement is 0.25 hours.

(2) Section _____.20, Request for reconsideration. The information collection requirements contained in § _____.20 provide a standardized process to allow individuals the opportunity to appeal decisions of the Board. Submission of a request for reconsideration is voluntary but required to receive a final review by the Board. We estimate that a request for reconsideration will take 4 hours to prepare and submit.

(3) The remaining information collection requirements contained in this part imposed upon subsistence users are those adopted from State regulations. These collection requirements would exist in the absence of Federal subsistence regulations and are not subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act. The burden in this situation is negligible and information gained from these reports are systematically available to Federal managers by routine computer access requiring less than one hour.

(b) You may direct comments on the burden estimate or any other aspect of the burden estimate to: Information Collection Officer, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 1849 C Street, N.W., MS 224 ARLSQ, Washington, D.C. 20240; and the Desk Officer for the Interior Department, Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D.C. 20503. Additional information requirements may be imposed if Local Advisory Committees or additional Regional Councils, subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA), are established under subpart B of this part. Such requirements will be submitted to OMB for approval prior to their implementation.

Subpart B—Program Structure

§ _____.10 Federal Subsistence Board.

(a) The Secretary of the Interior and Secretary of Agriculture hereby establish a Federal Subsistence Board, and assign them responsibility for, administering the subsistence taking and uses of fish and wildlife on public lands, and the related promulgation and signature authority for regulations of subparts C and D of this part. The Secretaries, however, retain their existing authority to restrict or eliminate hunting, fishing, or trapping activities which occur on lands or waters in Alaska other than public lands when such activities interfere with subsistence hunting, fishing, or trapping on the public lands to such an extent as to result in a failure to provide the subsistence priority.

(i) Issue regulations for the management of subsistence taking and uses of fish and wildlife on public lands;

(ii) Determine which communities or areas of the State are rural or non-rural;

(iii) Determine which rural Alaska areas or communities have customary and traditional subsistence uses of specific fish and wildlife populations;

(iv) Allocate subsistence uses of fish and wildlife populations on public lands;

(v) Ensure that the taking on public lands of fish and wildlife for nonwasteful subsistence uses shall be accorded priority over the taking on such lands of fish and wildlife for other purposes;

(vi) Close public lands to the non-subsistence taking of fish and wildlife;

(vii) Establish priorities for the subsistence taking of fish and wildlife on public lands among rural Alaska residents;

(viii) Restrict or eliminate taking of fish and wildlife on public lands;

subsistence uses constitute allowable customary trade;

(x) Authorize the Regional Councils to convene;

(xi) Establish a Regional Council in each subsistence resource region and recommend to the Secretaries, appointees to the Regional Councils, pursuant to the FACA;

(xii) Establish Federal Advisory Committees within the subsistence resource regions, if necessary and recommend to the Secretaries that members of the Federal Advisory Committees be appointed from the group of individuals nominated by rural Alaska residents;

(xvi) Develop alternative permitting processes relating to the subsistence taking of fish and wildlife to ensure continued opportunities for subsistence;

(xvii) Evaluate whether hunting, fishing, or trapping activities which occur on lands or waters in Alaska other than public lands interfere with subsistence hunting, fishing, or trapping on the public lands to such an extent as to result in a failure to provide the subsistence priority, and after appropriate consultation with the State of Alaska, the Regional Councils, and other Federal agencies, make a recommendation to the Secretaries for their action;

(xviii) Identify, in appropriate specific instances, whether there exists additional Federal reservations, Federal reserved water rights or other Federal interests in lands or waters, including those in which the United States holds less than a fee ownership, to which the Federal subsistence priority attaches, and make appropriate recommendation to the Secretaries for inclusion of those interests within the Federal Subsistence Management Program; and

(xix) Take other actions authorized by the Secretaries to implement Title VIII of ANILCA.

(5) The Board may implement one or more of the following harvest and harvest reporting or permit systems:

(i) The fish and wildlife is taken by an individual who is required to obtain and possess pertinent State harvest permits, tickets, or tags, or Federal permit (Federal Subsistence Registration Permit);

(ii) A qualified subsistence user may designate another qualified subsistence user (by using the Federal Designated Harvester Permit) to take fish and wildlife on his or her behalf;

(iii) The fish and wildlife is taken by individuals or community representatives permitted (via a Federal Subsistence Registration Permit) a one-time or annual harvest for special purposes including ceremonies and potlatches; or

(9) The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service shall provide appropriate administrative support for the Board.

(10) The Board shall authorize at least two meetings per year for each Regional Council.

(e) Relationship to Regional Councils.

(1) The Board shall consider the reports and recommendations of the Regional Councils concerning the taking of fish and wildlife on public lands within their respective regions for subsistence uses. The Board may choose not to follow any Regional Council recommendation which it determines is not supported by substantial evidence, violates recognized principles of fish and wildlife conservation, would be detrimental to the satisfaction of subsistence needs, or in closure situations, for reasons of public safety or administration or to assure the continued viability of a particular fish or wildlife population. If a recommendation is not adopted, the Board shall set forth the factual basis and the reasons for the decision, in writing, in a timely fashion.

(2) The Board shall provide available and appropriate technical assistance to the Regional Councils.

§ ____ .11 Regional advisory councils.

(a) The Board shall establish a Regional Council for each subsistence resource region to participate in the Federal subsistence management program. The Regional Councils shall be established, and conduct their activities, in accordance with the FACA. The Regional Councils shall provide a regional forum for the collection and expression of opinions and recommendations on matters related to subsistence taking and uses of fish and wildlife resources on public lands. The Regional Councils shall provide for public participation in the Federal regulatory process.

(b) Establishment of Regional Councils; membership. (1) The number of members for each Regional Council shall be established by the Board, and shall be an odd number. A Regional Council member must be a resident of the region in which he or she is appointed and be knowledgeable about the region and subsistence uses of the public lands therein. The Board shall accept nominations and recommend to the Secretaries that representatives on the Regional Councils be appointed from those nominated by subsistence users. Appointments to the Regional Councils shall be made by the Secretaries.

(2) Regional Council members shall serve 3 year terms and may be reappointed. Initial members shall be appointed with staggered terms up to three years.

(ii) Perform other duties specified by the Board.

§ __.12 Local advisory committees.

(a) The Board shall establish such local Federal Advisory Committees within each region as necessary at such time that it is determined, after notice and hearing and consultation with the State, that the existing State fish and game advisory committees do not adequately provide advice to, and assist, the particular Regional Council in carrying out its function as set forth in § __.11.

(b) Local Federal Advisory Committees, if established by the Board, shall operate in conformance with the provisions of the FACA, and comply with rules of operation established by the Board.

§ __.13 Board/agency relationships.

(a) General. (1) The Board, in making decisions or recommendations, shall consider and ensure compliance with specific statutory requirements regarding the management of resources on public lands, recognizing that the management policies applicable to some public lands may entail methods of resource and habitat management and protection different from methods appropriate for other public lands.

(2) The Board shall issue regulations for subsistence taking of fish and wildlife on public lands. The Board is the final administrative authority on the promulgation of subpart C and D regulations relating to the subsistence taking of fish and wildlife on public lands.

(3) Nothing in the regulations in this part shall enlarge or diminish the authority of any agency to issue regulations necessary for the proper management of public lands under their jurisdiction in accordance with ANILCA and other existing laws.

(b) Section 808 of ANILCA establishes National Park and Park Monument Subsistence Resource Commissions. Nothing in the regulations in this part affects the duties or authorities of these commissions.

§ __.14 Relationship to State procedures and regulations.

(b) The Board may close public lands to hunting and fishing, or take actions to restrict the taking of fish and wildlife despite any State authorization for taking fish and wildlife on public lands. The Board may review and adopt State openings, closures, or restrictions which serve to achieve the objectives of the regulations in this part.

(c) The Board may enter into agreements with the State in order to coordinate respective management responsibilities.

(d) Petition for repeal of subsistence rules and regulations. (1) The State of Alaska may petition the Secretaries for repeal of the subsistence rules and regulations in this part when the State has enacted and implemented subsistence management and use laws which:

(i) Are consistent with sections 803, 804, and 805 of ANILCA; and

(ii) Provide for the subsistence definition, preference, and participation specified in sections 803, 804, and 805 of ANILCA.

(2) The State's petition shall:

(i) Be submitted to the Secretary of the Interior, U.S. Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240, and the Secretary of Agriculture, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20240;

If the Secretaries find that the State's petition does not contain adequate justification, the petition will be denied by letter or other notice, with a statement of the ground for denial.

§ __.15 Rural determination process.

(a) The Board shall determine if an area or community in Alaska is rural. In determining whether a specific area of Alaska is rural, the Board shall use the following guidelines:

(1) A community or area with a population of 2500 or less shall be deemed to be rural unless such a community or area possesses significant characteristics of a non-rural nature, or is considered to be socially and economically a part of an urbanized area.

(2) Communities or areas with populations above 2500 but not more than 7000 will be determined to be rural or non-rural.

(3) A community with a population of more than 7000 shall be presumed non-rural, unless such a community or area possesses significant characteristics of a rural nature.

(4) Population data from the most recent census conducted by the United States Bureau of Census as updated by the Alaska Department of Labor shall be utilized in this process.

(5) Community or area characteristics shall be considered in evaluating a community's rural or non-rural status. The characteristics may include, but are not limited to:

(i) Use of fish and wildlife;

(ii) Development and diversity of the economy;

(iii) Community infrastructure;

(iv) Transportation; and

(v) Educational institutions.

(6) Communities or areas which are economically, socially and communally integrated shall be considered in the aggregate.

(b) The Board shall periodically review rural determinations. Rural determinations shall be reviewed on a ten year cycle, commencing with the publication of the year 2000 U.S. census. Rural determinations may be reviewed out-of-cycle in special circumstances. Once the Board makes a determination that a community has changed from rural to non-rural, a waiting period of five years shall be required before the non-rural determination becomes effective.

(c) Current determinations are listed at § _____.23.

§ _____.16 Customary and traditional use determination process.

(a) The Board shall determine which fish stocks and wildlife populations have been customarily and traditionally used for subsistence. These determinations shall identify the specific community's or area's use of specific fish stocks and wildlife populations. For areas managed by the National Park Service, where subsistence uses are allowed, the determinations may be made on an individual basis.

(b) A community or area shall generally exhibit the following factors, which exemplify customary and traditional use. The Board shall make customary and traditional use determinations based on application of the following factors:

(1) A long-term consistent pattern of use, excluding interruptions beyond the control of the community or area;

(2) A pattern of use recurring in specific seasons for many years;

(3) A pattern of use consisting of methods and means of harvest which are characterized by efficiency and economy of effort and cost, conditioned by local characteristics;

(4) The consistent harvest and use of fish or wildlife as related to past methods and means of taking; near, or reasonably accessible from the community or area;

(5) A means of handling, preparing, preserving, and storing fish or wildlife which has been traditionally used by past generations, including consideration of alteration of past practices due to recent technological advances, where appropriate;

(6) A pattern of use which includes the handing down of knowledge of fishing and hunting skills, values and lore from generation to generation;

(7) A pattern of use in which the harvest is shared or distributed within a definable community of persons; and

(8) A pattern of use which relates to reliance upon a wide diversity of fish and wildlife resources of the area and which provides substantial cultural, economic, social, and nutritional elements to the community or area.

(c) The Board shall take into consideration the reports and recommendations of any appropriate Regional Council regarding customary and traditional uses of subsistence resources.

(d) Current determinations are listed in § _____.24.

§ _____.17 Determining priorities for subsistence uses among rural Alaska residents.

(a) Whenever it is necessary to restrict the subsistence taking of fish and wildlife on public lands in order to protect the continued viability of such populations, or to continue subsistence uses, the Board shall establish a priority among the rural Alaska residents after considering any recommendation submitted by an appropriate Regional Council.

(b) The priority shall be implemented through appropriate limitations based on the application of the following criteria to each area, community, or individual determined to have customary and traditional use, as necessary:

(1) Customary and direct dependence upon the populations as the mainstay of livelihood;

(2) Local residency; and

(3) The availability of alternative resources.

(c) If allocation on an area or community basis is not achievable, then the Board shall allocate subsistence opportunity on an individual basis through application of the criteria in paragraphs (b) (1) through (3) of this section.

(d) In addressing a situation where prioritized allocation becomes necessary, the Board shall solicit recommendations from the Regional Council in the area affected.

§ _____.18 Regulation adoption process.

(a) Proposals for changes to the Federal subsistence regulations in subpart D of this part shall be accepted by the Board according to a published schedule. The Board may establish a rotating schedule for accepting proposals on various parts of subpart D regulations over a period of years. The Board shall develop and publish proposed regulations in the Federal Register and publish notice in local newspapers. Comments on the proposed regulations in the form of proposals shall be distributed for public review.

(1) Proposals shall be made available for at least a thirty (30) day review by the Regional Councils. Regional Councils shall forward their recommendations on proposals to the Board. Such proposals with recommendations may be submitted in the time period as specified by the Board or as a part of the Regional Council's annual report described in § _____.11, whichever is earlier.

(2) The Board shall publish notice throughout Alaska of the availability of proposals received.

The Board may choose not to follow any recommendation which the Board determines is not supported by substantial evidence, violates recognized principles of fish and wildlife conservation, or would be detrimental to the satisfaction of subsistence needs. If a recommendation approved by a Regional Council is not adopted by the Board, the Board shall set forth the factual basis and the reasons for its decision in writing to the Regional Council.

(5) Following consideration of the proposals the Board shall publish final regulations pertaining to subpart D of this part in the Federal Register.

(b) Proposals for changes to subpart C of this part shall be accepted by the Board according to a published schedule. The Board shall develop and publish proposed regulations in the Federal Register and publish notice in local newspapers. If a recommendation approved by a Regional Council is not adopted by the Board, the Board shall set forth the factual basis and the reasons for their decision in writing to the Regional Council.

(5) Following consideration of the proposals the Board shall publish final regulations pertaining to subpart C of this part in the Federal Register. (d) Proposals for changes to subparts A and B of this part shall be accepted by the Secretary of the Interior in accordance with 43 CFR Part 14.

§ _____.19 Closures and other special actions.

(a) The Board may make or direct restriction, closure, or opening for the taking of fish and wildlife for non-subsistence uses on public lands when necessary to assure the continued viability of particular fish or wildlife population, to continue subsistence uses of a fish or wildlife population, or for reasons of public safety or administration.

(b) After consulting with the State of Alaska, providing adequate notice to the public, and holding at least one public hearing in the vicinity of the affected communities, the Board may make or direct temporary openings or closures to subsistence uses of a particular fish or wildlife population on public lands to assure the continued viability of a fish or wildlife population, or for reasons of public safety or administration. A temporary opening or closure will not extend beyond the regulatory year for which it is promulgated.

(c) In an emergency situation, the Board may direct immediate openings or closures related to subsistence or non-subsistence uses of fish and wildlife on public lands, if necessary to assure the continued viability of a fish or wildlife population, to continue subsistence uses of fish or wildlife, or for public safety reasons. The Board shall publish notice and reasons justifying the emergency closure in the Federal Register and in newspapers of any area affected. The emergency closure shall be effective when directed by the Board, may not exceed 60 days, and may not be extended unless it is determined by the Board, after notice and hearing, that such closure should be extended.

(d) The Board may make or direct a temporary change to open or adjust the seasons or to increase the bag limits for subsistence uses of fish and wildlife populations on public lands. An affected rural resident, community, Regional Council, or administrative agency may request a temporary change in seasons or bag limits. Prior to implementing a temporary change, the Board shall consult with the State, shall comply with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 551-559 (Administrative Procedure Act or APA), and shall provide adequate notice and opportunity to comment. The length of any temporary change shall be confined to the minimum time period or bag limit determined by the Board to be necessary to satisfy subsistence uses. In addition, a temporary change may be made only after the Board determines that the proposed temporary change will not interfere with the conservation of healthy fish and wildlife populations. The decision of the Board shall be the final administrative action.

(e) Regulations authorizing any individual agency to direct temporary or emergency closures on public lands managed by the agency remain unaffected by the regulations in this part, which authorize the Board to make or direct restrictions, closures, or temporary changes for subsistence uses on public lands.

(f) You may not take fish and wildlife in violation of a restriction, closure, opening, or temporary change authorized by the Board.

(e) Upon receipt of a request for reconsideration, the Board shall transmit a copy of such request to any appropriate Regional Council for review and recommendation. The Board shall consider any Regional Council recommendations in making a final decision.

(f) If the request is justified, the Board shall implement a final decision on a request for reconsideration after compliance with 5 U.S.C. 551-559 (APA).

(g) If the request is denied, the decision of the Board represents the final administrative action.
