Interest Rates

The Small Business Administration publishes an interest rate called the optional "peg" rate (13 CFR 120.214) on a quarterly basis. This rate is a weighted average cost of money to the government for maturities similar to the average SBA direct loan. This rate may be used as a base rate for guaranteed fluctuating interest rate SBA loans. This rate will be 5 percent for the April-June quarter of FY 99.

SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Social Security Ruling, SSR 99-1p. Title II: Termination of Entitlement Based on Presumed Death

AGENCY: Social Security Administration.

ACTION: Notice of Social Security Ruling.

SUMMARY: In accordance with 20 CFR 402.35(b)(1), the Commissioner of Social Security gives notice of Social Security Ruling, SSR 99-1p. This Ruling explains that the Social Security Administration (SSA) will terminate entitlement for those beneficiaries whose benefits have remained in suspension for at least 7 years because the beneficiary's whereabouts are unknown. Presumption of death is widely accepted in State and Federal courts and is codified in SSA's regulations. SSA uses this regulatory presumption to establish the fact of death for entitlement purposes and will use it to determine that entitlement ends. Publication of this Ruling will prevent benefits from remaining in suspension indefinitely, thereby reducing the possibility of fraudulent payment of suspended benefits and assuring the continued integrity of SSA's records.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 14, 1999.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Jeanne O'Connor, Office of Program Benefits, Social Security Administration, 6401 Security Boulevard, Baltimore, MD 21235-6401, (410) 965-7963.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Although we are not required to do so pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(a)(1) and (a)(2), we are publishing this Social Security Ruling in accordance with 20 CFR 402.35(b)(1).

Social Security Rulings make available to the public precedential decisions relating to the Federal old-age, survivors, disability, supplemental security income, and black lung benefits programs. Social Security Rulings may be based on case decisions made at all administrative levels of adjudication, Federal court decisions, Commissioner's decisions, opinions of the Office of the General Counsel, and policy interpretations of the law and regulations.

Although Social Security Rulings do not have the same force and effect as the statute or regulations, they are binding on all components of the Social Security Administration, in accordance with 20 CFR 402.35(b)(1), and are to be relied upon as precedents in adjudicating cases.

If this Social Security Ruling is later superseded, modified, or rescinded, we will publish a notice in the Federal Register to that effect.

Commissioner of Social Security.

Policy Interpretation Ruling; Title II: Termination of Entitlement Based on Presumed Death

Purpose

This Policy Interpretation Ruling explains the Social Security Administration's (SSA) planned use of an established policy for presuming a person dead, after the person has been absent from his or her residence and has not been heard from for a period of 7 years, to terminate entitlement for such individuals. The presumption of death, founded on common law, is widely accepted in State and Federal courts to determine entitlement to property and is codified in our regulations. We use this regulatory presumption to establish the fact of death for entitlement purposes, and will also use it to determine that entitlement ends.

Pertinent History

Currently, SSA suspends benefits to beneficiaries reported missing when notified by a first party reporter, that is, a relative, representative or another beneficiary on the record who establishes that he/she is an acceptable reporter.

In addition, benefits can be suspended if mail is returned because it
