merchandise exports to Mexico increased by 90 percent, with imports from Mexico increasing by 137 percent. As is to be expected from such a large trading relationship, the United States does continue to have concerns about Mexico’s trade practices in some areas. The most important of these concern Mexico’s enforcement of its intellectual property laws, telecommunications policy, and market access for high fructose corn syrup.

Mexico has committed to implement and enforce advanced levels of intellectual property protection, and has just enacted new legislation to this effect. However, as noted in USTR’s Special 301 Report issued today, piracy and counterfeiting remain major problems, with current enforcement action inadequate to deter piracy. Mexico has been added to the Special 301 Watch List.

Regarding telecommunications, the United States is concerned that ongoing regulatory processes are non-transparent and protective. USTR’s Section 1377 Report, released on March 30, expressed doubts about Mexico’s implementation of its commitments under the WTO agreement with respect to international services and interconnection rates. The Mexican government has said it will review its international service and interconnection/universal service regulations in 1999. USTR will conduct an out-of-cycle examination by July 30 regarding the progress of Mexico’s ongoing regulatory process, and expects that Mexico will respond favorably to the requests from all the new entrants to permit International Simple Resale (ISR) immediately. At that time USTR will take appropriate action including, if warranted, the initiative of WTO dispute settlement proceedings, to assure that new competitors in the market are treated fairly.

The United States continues to raise its concerns regarding the Mexican Government’s application of antidumping measures on U.S. exports of high fructose corn syrup (HFCS). A dispute settlement panel was established by the World Trade Organization in November 1998 and hearings were held in April 1999. A decision is expected late this year. U.S. exporters are also challenging Mexico’s measure under the Chapter 19 provisions of the NAFTA and last year filed a Section 301 petition with USTR, alleging that the policies and practices of the Government of Mexico are unreasonable and deny fair and equitable treatment and opportunities for U.S. exporters. USTR accepted the petition for review on May 15, 1998.

9. Middle East

Building upon our Free Trade Agreement with Israel, the United States has inaugurated a program that aims to bolster the peace process, while advancing American interests. Starting with a framework of bilateral trade and investment consultations in the region and a newly inaugurated industrial zones program, the United States will help the Middle Eastern countries work toward a shared goal of increased intra-regional trade. Most recently, the USTR expanded the first Jordan-Israel Qualifying Industrial Zone, designated another, and completed a Trade and Investment Framework Agreement with Jordan.

10. Western Hemisphere

The Miami and Santiago Summits of the Americas called on us to complete work on a Free Trade Area of the Americas no later than the year 2005. This year, also in accordance with Summit directions, the United States intends to achieve concrete progress toward the FTAA in the work of our nine Negotiating Groups (market access, agriculture, services, investment, government procurement, intellectual property, anti-dumping and countervailing duties, competition policy, and dispute settlement) and through business facilitation measures. In addition, the FTAA has initiated a private sector-public sector experts group on electronic commerce to advise the ministers on how electronic commerce can benefit the countries of this hemisphere, especially in the context of the FTAA negotiations. The ministers also have established a government committee on the participation of civil society, which has solicited the views of the different sectors of society concerning the FTAA and will analyze them for the consideration by the ministers at the next FTAA ministerial in Toronto in November 1999.

At the same time, the Clinton Administration will seek approval from Congress for an expanded and improved Caribbean Basin Initiative with duty-free treatment for products currently excluded from the program. The Administration seeks to use the program to promote the adoption by beneficiary countries of sound trade and investment policy reforms that will prepare them for the obligations and responsibilities of the FTAA.

Demetrios J. Marantis, Assistant General Counsel, Section 301 Committee.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The FAA solicits comments on any of the current collections of information in order to evaluate the necessity of the collection, the accuracy of the agency’s estimate of the burden, the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected, and possible ways to minimize the burden of the collection.

Following are short synopses of the 7 currently approved public information collection activities, which will be submitted to OMB for review and renewal:

1. 2120–0008, Certification and Operations: Air Carriers and Operations of Large Aircraft—FAR 121. The respondents are an estimated 140 air carriers and commercial operators certificated under FAR 121. The estimated total annual burden is 850,000 hours annually. Abstract: Each operation which seeks to obtain, or is in possession of an air carrier operating certificate must comply with the requirements of FAR Part 121 in order to maintain data which is used to determine if the air carrier is operating in accordance with minimum safety standards.

2. 2120–505, Indirect Air Carrier Security, 14 CFR Part 109. The respondents are an estimated 2500 indirect air carriers with security programs. The estimated total annual burden is 650 hours. Abstract: part 109 sets forth procedures to be used by indirect air carriers in carrying out their responsibilities involving the protection of persons and property against acts of criminal violence, aircraft piracy, and terrorist activities in the forwarding of package cargo by passenger aircraft.

3. 2120–0536, Security Programs for Foreign Air Carriers. The respondents are an estimated 170 foreign air carriers/governments. The estimated total annual burden is 28,000 hours. Abstract: Each foreign air carrier landing or taking off in the United States is to submit a security program for the Administrator’s acceptance to ensure adequate security measures are being implemented by those foreign air carriers.

The respondents are an estimated 3000 experienced pilots who would otherwise qualify as flight instructors or check airmen, but who are not medically eligible to hold the requisite medical certificate or perform flight instructor or check airmen functions in a simulator. The estimated annual burden is 15 hours. Abstract: This rule established separate requirements for check airmen who check only in flight simulators and flight instructors who instruct only in flight simulators. This information will be used by the FAA to determine and assure check airmen and instructors maintain the high qualification standards required to perform their safety functions.
