

opportunity for interested parties to express their views.

C. Question on Which Briefs Are Solicited

The parties in the instant case have been directed to address the question set forth below. Additionally, the Authority believes that this issue is likely to be of concern to the federal sector labor-management relations community in general. Accordingly, the Authority invites interested persons to address the following and any other policy-related matters deemed relevant to balancing the pros and cons of union-initiated midterm bargaining.

In the context of resolving this case, what policy considerations and empirical data should the Authority balance in determining whether, when, and where union-initiated midterm bargaining is required?

Dated: June 16, 1999.

For the Authority.

Peter Constantine,

Director of Case Control.
