AGENCY: Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), DOT.

SUMMARY: On Thursday, June 24, 1999, the FHWA published a final rule which adopted as final, with changes, the interim rule concerning national standards for traffic control devices, metric conversion, published on Tuesday, June 11, 1996. This document corrects the effective date of the June 24, 1999 rule to be consistent with the Congressional Review Act (CRA), enacted as part of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, 5 U.S.C. 801, 808. The incorporation by reference approval date is also corrected to conform to the effective date.

Background

The CRA, as added by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States.

The effective date of the final rule on National Standards for Traffic Control Devices; Metric Conversion, published at 64 FR 33751, is corrected from June 24, 1999 to July 16, 1999 in order to comply with the CRA. The incorporation by reference approval date is also corrected to conform to the effective date.

Administrative Procedure Act

The Administrative Procedure Act provides that an agency may dispense with prior notice and opportunity for comment when the agency for good cause finds that such procedures are impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest. 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(3)(B). The FHWA has determined that prior notice and comment are unnecessary, because the FHWA is merely correcting the effective date of the promulgated rule to be consistent with the congressional review requirements of the Congressional Review Act as a matter of law and has no discretion in this matter. Thus, notice and public procedure are unnecessary. The Agency finds that this constitutes good cause under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(3)(B).
