

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTUREAgricultural Marketing Service*7 CFR Part 1216

[FV-98-702-FR]

Peanut Promotion, Research, and Information Order

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule establishes a Peanut Promotion, Research, and Consumer Information Order (Order) under the Commodity Promotion, Research, and Information Act of 1996. Under the order, producers will pay an assessment of 1 percent of the price of farmers stock peanuts sold to first handlers. First handlers and marketing associations will remit the assessments to the National Peanut Board (Board). The Board will use the funds collected to conduct a generic program of promotion, research, consumer information, and industry information to maintain and expand markets for peanuts. The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA or the Department) conducted a referendum among eligible peanut producers to determine whether they favor the implementation of the Order. The order was approved by a majority of those voting in the referendum.

DATES: July 30, 1999.

Executive Order 12988

This rule has been reviewed under Executive Order 12988, Civil Justice Reform. It is not intended to have retroactive effect. Section 524 of the Act provides that the Act shall not affect or preempt any other Federal or state law authorizing promotion or research relating to an agricultural commodity.

Under Section 519 of the Act, a person subject to the Order may file a petition with the Secretary stating that the Order, any provision of the Order, or any obligation imposed in connection with the Order, is not established in accordance with the law, and requesting a modification of the Order or an exemption from the Order. Any petition filed challenging the Order, any provision of the Order, or any obligation imposed in connection with the Order, shall be filed within two years after the effective date of the Order, provision, or obligation subject to challenge in the petition. The petitioner will have the opportunity for a hearing on the petition. Thereafter, the Secretary of Agriculture (Secretary) will issue a ruling on a petition. The Act provides that the district court of the United States for any district in which the petitioner resides or conducts business shall have the jurisdiction to review a final ruling on the petition, if the petitioner files a complaint for that purpose not later than 20 days after the date of the entry of the Secretary's final ruling.

Executive Order 12866

This rule has been determined not significant for purposes of Executive Order 12866 and therefore has not been reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

Regulatory Flexibility Act

In accordance with the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), the Agency has examined the impact of the rule on small entities. The purpose of the RFA is to fit regulatory actions to the scale of businesses subject to such actions so that small businesses will not be disproportionately burdened.

The Act authorizes generic programs of promotion, research, and information for agricultural commodities. Congress found that it is in the national public interest and vital to the welfare of the agricultural economy of the United States to maintain and expand existing markets and develop new markets and uses for agricultural commodities through industry-funded, government-supervised, generic commodity promotion programs.

This program is intended to develop and finance an effective and coordinated program of promotion, research, and consumer information to maintain and expand the markets for peanuts. A proposal was submitted by the American Farm Bureau Federation (proponent), working in cooperation with 20 state and regional peanut grower organizations representing the nine primary peanut-producing states and other states. The proponent proposed that peanut producers approve the program in a referendum in advance of its implementation and that producer members would serve on the 10-member National Peanut Board (Board) that would administer the program under USDA's supervision. In addition, any person subject to the program may file with the Secretary a petition stating that the program or any provision under it is not in accordance with law and requesting a modification of the Order or an exemption from the Order.

While the Order will impose certain recordkeeping requirements on first handlers, information required under the Order can be compiled from records currently maintained. First handlers and area marketing associations—for peanuts placed under loan with the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) in the price support program administered for CCC by USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA)—will collect and remit all assessments to the Board. Their responsibilities will include accurate recordkeeping and accounting of all peanuts purchased or contracted for, including the number of pounds handled, price paid to the producer, and when peanuts are purchased. The forms require the minimum information necessary to effectively carry out the requirements of the program, and their use is necessary to fulfill the intent of the Order and the Act. Such records shall be retained for at least two years. These requirements are either already being conducted as a normal business practice or are required by other USDA peanut regulations. The added burden to first handlers and area marketing associations for a peanut promotion, research, and information program is therefore expected to be minimal.

There is also a minimal burden on producers. The burden relates to those producers who seek nomination to serve on the Board and those who vote in referenda. In addition, the Order requires producers to keep records and to provide information to the Board or the Secretary when requested. However, it is not anticipated that producers will be required to submit forms to the Board. Most likely, the information will be obtained through an audit of a producer's records to confirm information provided by a first handler or if a first handler did not file the required reports as part of the Board's compliance operation.

The estimated annual cost of providing the information to the Board by an estimated 98 respondents (21 producers, 57 first handlers, and 20 producer organizations) is $4,059.85 or $5.00 per producer, $66.05 per first handler, and $9.50 per producer organization.

The Department will oversee program operations and will conduct a referendum: (1) Every five years to determine whether peanut producers support continuation of the program, as requested by the proponent, (2) at the request of the Board established under the Order, or (3) at the request of 10 percent or more of the number of persons eligible to vote in referenda. Additionally, the Secretary may conduct a referendum at any time to determine whether the continuation, suspension, or termination of the Order or a provision of the Order is favored by those eligible to vote in referenda.

There are approximately 25,000 producers and 57 first handlers of peanuts that will be subject to the program. Most of the producers would be classified as small businesses under the criteria established by the Small Business Administration (SBA) (13 CFR 121.601). Most first handlers would not be classified as small businesses. The SBA defines small agricultural handlers as those whose annual receipts are less than $5 million, and small agricultural producers are defined as those having annual receipts of not more than $500,000 annually.

According to USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS), the nine major peanut-producing states in the United States account for 99 percent of the peanuts grown in this country. The combined production from these states totaled 3.5 billion pounds in 1997. The farm value of peanuts in 1997 reached $932 million. NASS reports that Georgia was the largest producer (38 percent of the total), followed by Texas (23 percent), Alabama (11 percent), North Carolina (9 percent), Florida (6 percent), Virginia (5 percent), Oklahoma (5 percent), New Mexico (1 percent), and South Carolina (1 percent). According to 1992 Census of Agriculture (Census) data, small amounts of peanuts were also grown in seven other states.

According to the proponent, based on Census data for these nine states, 36 percent of the peanut-producing counties in the United States acquired 35 percent or more of their total crop income from peanuts. Twenty-four percent of the counties had 50 percent or more of their crop income from peanuts. From a state perspective, 70 percent of the crop income in Alabama's peanut-producing counties is generated from peanuts. For Virginia, the percentage is 48 percent. In addition, 16,194 farms harvested peanuts in 1992. Of these, 15,914 were located in the nine primary peanut-producing states.

Three main types of peanuts are grown in the United States: Florrunners, Virginia, and Spanish. The southeast growing region grows mostly the medium-kernel Runner peanuts. The southwest growing region once grew two-thirds Spanish and one-third Runner peanuts, but now more Runners than Spanish are grown. Virtually all of the Spanish peanut production is in Oklahoma and Texas. In the Virginia-Carolina region, mainly large-kernel Virginia peanuts are grown. New Mexico grows a fourth type of peanut, the Valencia.

Peanut manufacturers produce three principal peanut products: peanut butter, packaged nuts (including salted, unsalted, flavored, and honey-roasted nuts), and peanut candies. In most years, half of all peanuts produced in the United States for edible purposes are used to manufacture peanut butter. Packaged nuts account for almost one-third of all processed peanuts. Some of these (commonly referred to as "ballpark" peanuts) are roasted in the shell, while a much larger quantity is used as shelled peanuts packed as dry-roasted peanuts, salted peanuts, and salted mixed nuts. Some peanuts are ground to produce peanut granules and flour. Other peanuts are crushed to produce oil.

According to USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service, U.S. exports of peanuts (including peanut meal, oil, and peanut butter) totaled 880 million in-shell equivalent pounds in 1997, with a value of $285 million (U.S. point of departure for the foreign country). Of the total quantity, 60 percent was shelled peanuts used as nuts, 11 percent was blanched or otherwise prepared or preserved peanuts, 10 percent was in-shell peanuts, 7 percent was peanut butter, 4 percent was shelled oil stock peanuts, 4 percent was crude peanut oil, and 3 percent was refined peanut oil.

The major destinations for domestic shelled peanuts for use as nuts are Canada, Mexico, the United Kingdom, and the Netherlands. Blanched or otherwise prepared peanuts are sent mainly to Western Europe, especially the Netherlands, France, and Spain. In-shell peanuts are mainly exported to Canada and various countries in Western Europe. Peanut butter is sent to many countries, with the largest amounts going to Canada and Saudi Arabia. Peanut oil and oil stock peanuts are exported world-wide, but major destinations can vary from year to year.

Approximately 250 million in-shell equivalent pounds of peanuts and processed peanuts (including oil and peanut butter) were imported in 1997 with a combined value (f.o.b. country of origin) of $73 million. Most of the imports (45 percent) were shelled peanuts for use as nuts. The major U.S. supplier is Argentina, but several other countries export shelled peanuts to the United States, including Mexico, Nicaragua, and South Africa.

Peanut butter imports are also significant and accounted for about 32 percent of the total quantity of nuts (in-shell basis) imported in 1997. Most peanut butter imports come from Canada and Argentina. The other major import category—crude and refined peanut oil—is shipped mainly from Argentina and Nicaragua and account for approximately 18 percent of total imports (in-shell equivalent basis). In-shell peanuts, primarily from Mexico, accounted for nearly 3 percent of total imports in 1997. About 3 percent of total imports consisted of blanched or other processed peanuts, mainly from China. Imports of oil stock shelled peanuts were negligible.

Most peanuts produced in other countries are crushed for oil and protein meal. The United States is the main producer of peanuts used in such edible products as peanut butter, roasted peanuts, and peanut candies. Peanuts are one of the world's principal oilseeds, ranking fourth behind soybeans, cottonseed, and rapeseed. India and China usually account for half of the world's peanut production.

According to the "Agricultural Statistics Report" published by USDA, during the 1995-96 season, the average annual production per U.S. producer was 144,228 pounds of peanuts. Peanuts produced during this growing season provided average annual gross sales of $42,222 per peanut producer. The value of the 1995-96 crop was approximately $1.013 billion. During the same period, per capita consumption in the United States was 5.7 pounds of peanuts.

The Order establishes a fixed assessment paid by producers (to be collected by first handlers) at a rate of 1 percent of the price paid for all farmers stock peanuts, regardless of whether the peanuts are sold commercially or placed under loan with CCC in the price support program administered for CCC by FSA.

Section 516(a)(1) of the Act provides authority to the Secretary to exempt from the Order any de minimis quantity of an agricultural commodity otherwise covered by the Order. At the recommendation of the proponent, this program does not include a de minimis exemption.

At the assessment rate of 1 percent of farm value, the Board is expected to collect approximately $10 million annually, assuming 1 billion pounds of peanuts are produced. It is anticipated that the 1 percent rate of assessment will represent approximately 1 percent of producers' average return. During the 1995-96 crop year, the average price for peanuts was $0.293 per pound.

Each primary producing state will have one member on the Board, and the minor peanut-producing states will be represented collectively by one member on the Board. Each member will have an alternate. Therefore, the Board will have 10 members and 10 alternates.

Primary peanut-producing states are defined in the Order as Alabama, Florida, Georgia, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Texas, and Virginia, provided that these states maintain 3-year average production of at least 10,000 tons of peanuts each. Minor peanut-producing states are defined in the Order as all peanut-producing states other than the primary peanut-producing states. Currently, the following states are considered minor states: Arizona, California, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Tennessee.

Peanut producers or producer organizations will nominate producers to serve as members on the Board. USDA will ensure that the nominees represent the peanut industry in accordance with the Order and the Act.

After the Board is appointed by the Secretary, the Board will recommend programs and projects, a budget, and any rules and regulations that might be necessary for the administration of the program.

The recordkeeping and reporting requirements for the Order are designed to minimize the burden on first handlers. They are designed to collect as much of the necessary information as possible from forms already submitted to another USDA agency. In addition, any information collection that cannot occur through forms already in use will pose a minimal additional burden.

The estimated annual cost of providing the information to the Board by an estimated 98 respondents (21 producers, 57 first handlers, and 20 producer organizations) is $4,059.85, which represents $5.00 per producer, $66.05 per first handler, and $9.50 per producer organization.

With regard to alternatives to this rule, the Act itself provides authority to tailor a program according to the individual needs of an industry. Provision is made for permissive terms in an Order in Section 516 of the Act, and other sections provide for alternatives. For example, Section 514 of the Act provides for programs applicable to: (1) Producers; (2) first handlers and other persons in the marketing chain as appropriate; and (3) importers (if imports are subject to assessment). Section 516 authorizes a program to provide for: the exemption of de minimis quantities of an agricultural commodity; different payment and reporting schedules; types of research, promotion, and information activities in both domestic and foreign markets; reserve funds; credits for generic and branded activities; and the assessment of imports. In addition, Section 518 of the Act provides for referenda to ascertain approval of program to be conducted either prior to its going into effect or within three years after assessments first begin under the program. A program also may provide for its approval in a referendum to be based upon: (1) A majority of those persons voting; (2) persons voting for approval who represent a majority of the volume of the agricultural commodity; or (3) a majority of those persons voting for approval who also represent a majority of the volume of the agricultural commodity. Section 515 of the Act provides for the establishment of a board from among producers, first handlers and others in the marketing chain as appropriate, and importers, if importers are subject to assessment.

The proponent's proposal included provisions for both domestic and foreign market expansion and improvement; reserve funds; and an initial referendum to be conducted prior to the Order going into effect, with approval based upon a majority of those persons voting in a referendum.

In order to conduct the Regulatory Flexibility Analysis regarding the impact of the Order on small entities, the November 1998 proposed rule invited comments concerning the potential effects of the Order. One comment was received concerning the paperwork burden on first handlers. As a result of the comment, changes were made in the order, as discussed in the April 1999 proposed rule.

Paperwork Reduction Act

In accordance with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) regulation (5 CFR part 1320) which implements the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. Chapter 35), the information collection and recordkeeping requirements that are imposed by this Order were submitted to OMB for approval and were approved under OMB control number 0581-0093.

Title: National Research, Promotion, and Consumer Information Programs.

OMB No. for background form (number 1 below): 0505-0001.

Expiration date of approval: November 30, 1999.

OMB No. for other information collections: 0581-0093.

Expiration date of approval: November 30, 2000.

Type of request: Revision of currently approved information collections for advisory committees and boards and for research and promotion programs.

Abstract: The information collection requirements in the request are essential to carry out the intent of the Order and the Act.

In addition, there will be the additional burden on the producers who vote in referenda. The referendum ballot, which represents the information collection requirement relating to referenda, was addressed in the final rule on referendum procedures.

Under this program, first handlers are required to collect assessments from producers and file reports with and submit assessments to the Board. While the Order imposes certain recordkeeping requirements on first handlers, information required under the Order can be compiled from records currently maintained. Such records shall be retained for at least two years beyond the marketing year of their applicability. The estimated annual cost of providing the information to the Board by an estimated 98 respondents (21 producers, 57 first handlers, and 20 producer organizations) is $4,059.85, which represents $5.00 per producer, $66.05 per first handler, and $9.50 per producer organization.

The Order's provisions have been carefully reviewed, and every effort has been made to minimize any unnecessary recordkeeping costs or requirements, including efforts to utilize information already submitted under other peanut programs administered by the Department.

Most of the forms require the minimum information necessary to effectively carry out the requirements of the program, and their use is necessary to fulfill the intent of the Order and the Act. Much information can be supplied from the FSA Form 1007 without data processing equipment or outside technical expertise. FSA Form 1007 Inspection Certificate and Sales Memorandum is a standard form used within the peanut industry to collect peanut crop characteristics and value of the load from the producer to the first handler. This form contains the information that is needed in order to complete the first handlers form for the Board. In addition, there are no additional training requirements for individuals filling out reports and remitting assessments to the Board. The forms will be simple, easy to understand, and place as small a burden as possible on the person required to file the information.

Collecting information monthly coincides with normal industry business practices. Reporting other than monthly will impose an additional and unnecessary recordkeeping burden on first handlers. The timing and frequency of collecting information is intended to meet the needs of the industry while minimizing the amount of work necessary to fill out the required reports.

As discussed in the RFA section of this rule and in the April 1999 proposed rule, the paperwork burdens on first handlers were modified as a result of a comment received in response to the November 1998 proposed rule.

Information collection requirements that are included in this rule include:

Background

The Act authorizes the Secretary, under a generic authority, to establish agricultural commodity research and promotion programs. Section 516 of the Act provides permissive terms for programs, and other sections provide alternatives. For example, Section 514 of the Act provides for orders applicable to: (1) Producers, (2) first handlers and others in the marketing chain as appropriate; and (3) importers (if importers are subject to assessment). Section 516 authorizes an order to provide for: the exemption of de minimis quantities of an agricultural commodity; different payment and reporting schedules; different types of research, promotion, and information activities in domestic and foreign markets; reserve funds; credits for generic and branded activities; and the assessment of imports. In addition, Section 518 of the Act provides for referenda to ascertain approval of a program to be conducted either prior to its going into effect or within three years after assessments first begin under the program. A program also may provide for its approval in a referendum based upon different voting patterns. Section 515 provides for establishment of a board from among producers, first handlers and others in the marketing chain as appropriate, and importers, if imports are subject to assessment.

On June 15, 1998, the proponent, working in cooperation with 20 state and regional peanut industry organizations representing the nine primary peanut-producing states, submitted a proposal for a national peanut promotion, research, and information Order pursuant to the Act.

The Department published the proponent's proposal, with modifications, for public comment in the November 1998 proposed rule. Fourteen comments were received by the January 5, 1999, deadline. These comments, and related changes to the Order, were discussed in the April 1999 proposed rule, which included a Referendum Order.

The Order is summarized as follows: Sections 1216.01 through 1216.29 of the Order define certain terms, such as peanuts, minor peanut-producing states, primary peanut-producing states, producer, and quota peanuts, which are used in the Order.

Sections 1216.40 through 1216.49 include provisions relating to the Board establishment and membership, nominations, selections and acceptance, term of office, vacancies, alternate members, and compensation and reimbursement; procedures for conducting Board business; and powers and duties of the Board, which is the governing body authorized to administer the Order through the implementation of programs, plans, projects, budgets, and contracts to promote and disseminate information about peanuts, subject to oversight by the Secretary. These sections also include maintenance of books and records by the Board and prohibited activities of the Board, its employees, and agents.

In order to ensure support throughout the production area for all Board votes, § 1216.46 (b) provides that all Board members' votes will be weighted by the value of production represented by each member. The votes of members from primary peanut-producing states will represent their respective states' three-year running average of total gross farm income derived from all peanut sales. The votes of the at-large Board member will equal the collective value of production from all minor peanut-producing states' three-year running average of total gross farm income from all peanut sales. Any Board action will require the concurring votes of members collectively representing more than 50 percent of the total U.S. gross farm income derived from all peanut sales plus an additional two votes from other Board members, provided a minimum of five members concur. Therefore, regardless of the volume voted by the members, no Board action will be approved unless at least five members vote in favor of it. Similarly, if five members vote in favor of a motion and those five members do not represent more than 50 percent of the total U.S. gross farm income derived from all peanut sales, the motion will not be approved.

Sections 1216.50 through 1216.55 cover budget review and approval; authorize the collection of assessments; use of assessments, including reimbursement of necessary expenses incurred by the Board for the performance of its duties, including expenses incurred for the Department's oversight responsibilities; specify who pays the assessment and how; authorize the imposition of a late-payment charge on past-due assessments; address programs, plans, and projects; require the Board to conduct periodically an independent review of its overall program; specify a program operating reserve; and cover the investment of assessment funds.

There will be an assessment rate of 1 percent of the price paid for all farmers stock peanuts sold. Peanut producers may sell their peanuts commercially or put them in a government loan program. For peanuts sold commercially, the first handler will remit the assessment to the Board. The assessment will be 1 percent of the price paid for the peanuts. Under a loan program administered by FSA, a peanut producer also has the option of delivering the peanuts to an area marketing association and receiving payment for the peanuts from CCC. The area association will deduct 1 percent of the payment from the producer's proceeds and remit that amount to the Board as the producer's initial assessment payment on the peanuts. After the association sells the peanuts, the area association reimburses CCC the amount of the payment to the producer and deducts its expenses from the selling price. If there is any profit from the sale of the peanuts, the association will deduct 1 percent of the profit, remit that amount to the Board to pay the producer's assessment, and pay the balance to the producer.

The Board may raise or lower the rate of assessment with the approval of the Secretary and a producer referendum.

The federal debt collection procedures referenced in § 1216.51 (g) include those set forth in 7 CFR 3.1 through 3.36 for all research and promotion programs administered by AMS (60 FR 12533, March 7, 1995).

Sections 1216.60 through 1206.62 concern reporting and recordkeeping requirements for persons subject to the Order and protect the confidentiality of information from such books, records, or reports.

Section 1216.70 describes the certification requirements for peanut-producer organizations to be eligible to nominate Board members and submit requests for funds from the Board.

Sections 1216.80 through 1216.88 describe the rights of the Secretary; authorize the Secretary to suspend or terminate the Order when deemed appropriate; prescribe proceedings after suspension or termination; address personal liability, separability, and amendments; and address patents, copyrights, trademarks, information, publications, and product formulations developed through the use of assessment funds.

In preparing this rule, AMS made editorial changes to three sections. First, AMS revised the definitions of "suspend" (§ 1216.27) and "terminate" (§ 1216.29) to cover any part of the Order, in addition to the entire Order. This is consistent with other national programs. The third section which was modified slightly was § 1216.70(e)(2), in keeping with the government's policy of plain language in regulations. The phrase "proportion of total such active membership accounted for by producers" was changed to "proportion of the organization's active membership accounted for by producers." In addition, in the same section, the word "such" was removed.

General Findings

The Department conducted a referendum among peanut producers from May 14 through July 2, 1999, to determine whether the Order would become effective. The representative period for establishing voter eligibility was from August 1, 1997, through July 31, 1998 (1997 crop year). All peanut producers who produced peanuts during the 1997 crop year and at the time of the referendum (1998 crop year) were eligible to vote.

It is determined that a majority of the eligible peanut producers voting favored implementation of the Order. After consideration of all relevant material presented, including the initial proposal, comments received, and the referendum results, it is found that the Order is consistent with and effectuate the declared policy and purpose of the Act.

Pursuant to the provisions in 5 U.S.C. 553, it is found and determined that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this action until 30 days after publication in the Federal Register because: (1) This action implements a program requested by the nation's peanut producers to begin with the 1999 crop year; (2) interested parties were allowed 60 days to comment on the program and a referendum was held among peanut producers—who will bear the cost of this program; (3) in the referendum a majority of the eligible peanut producers who voted favored implementation of the program; (4) the 1999 crop year begins on August 1, 1999; (5) domestic peanuts are marketed mainly between August 1 and December 31 of each year; (6) it is important that the 1999 crop be covered by the program; and (3) no useful purpose would be served by a delay of the effective date.

(f) The Secretary's determination as to eligibility or certification of an organization shall be final.

All fiscal matters, programs, plans, or projects, rules or regulations, reports, or other substantive actions proposed and prepared by the Board shall be submitted to the Secretary for approval.

§ 1216.81 Implementation of the Order.

The Order shall not become effective unless:

(a) The Secretary determines that the Order is consistent with and will effectuate the purposes of the Act; and

(b) The Order is approved by a simple majority of the peanut producers as defined in § 1216.21 voting in a referendum who, during a representative period determined by the Secretary, have been engaged in the production of peanuts.

§ 1216.82 Suspension and termination.

(a) The Secretary shall suspend or terminate this subpart or a provision thereof if the Secretary finds that this subpart or a provision thereof obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the purposes of the Act, or if the Secretary determines that this subpart or a provision thereof is not favored by persons voting in a referendum conducted pursuant to the Act.

(b) Every five years, the Secretary shall hold a referendum to determine whether peanut producers favor the continuation of the Order. The Secretary will also conduct a referendum if 10 percent or more of all eligible peanut producers request the Secretary to hold a referendum. In addition, the Secretary may hold a referendum at any time.

(c) The Secretary shall suspend or terminate this subpart at the end of the marketing year whenever the Secretary determines that its suspension or termination is approved or favored by a simple majority of the producers voting in a referendum who, during a representative period determined by the Secretary, have been engaged in the production of peanuts.

(d) If, as a result of the referendum conducted under paragraph (b) of this section, the Secretary determines that this subpart is not approved, the Secretary shall:

§ 1216.83 Proceedings after termination.

Such persons, upon designation by the Secretary, shall become trustees of all the funds and property then in the possession or under control of the Board, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered, or any other claim existing at the time of such termination.

(b) The said trustees shall:

(1) Continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary;

(2) Carry out the obligations of the Board under any contracts or agreements entered into pursuant to the Order;

(3) From time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the Board and the trustees, to such person or persons as the Secretary may direct; and

(4) Upon request of the Secretary execute such assignments or other instruments necessary and appropriate to vest in such persons title and right to all funds, property and claims vested in the Board or the trustees pursuant to the Order.

(c) Any person to whom funds, property or claims have been transferred or delivered pursuant to the Order shall be subject to the same obligations imposed upon the Board and upon the trustees.

Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination of this subpart or of any regulation issued pursuant thereto, or the issuance of any amendment to either thereof, shall not:

(b) Release or extinguish any violation of this subpart or any regulation issued thereunder; or

(c) Affect or impair any rights or remedies of the United States, or of the Secretary or of any other persons, with respect to any such violation.

No member or alternate member of the Board shall be held personally responsible, either individually or jointly with others, in any way whatsoever, to any person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member or alternate, except for acts of dishonesty or willful misconduct.

§ 1216.86 Separability.

If any provision of this subpart is declared invalid or the applicability thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this subpart or the applicability thereof to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

§ 1216.87 Amendments.

Amendments to this subpart may be proposed, from time to time, by the Board or by any interested person affected by the provisions of the Act, including the Secretary.
