United States v. Cargill, Incorporated and Continental Grain Company; Proposed Final Judgment and Competitive Impact Statement

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Antitrust Procedures and Penalties Act, 15 U.S.C. Section 16(b) through (h), that a proposed Final Judgment, Stipulation, and Competitive Impact Statement have been filed with the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in United States of America v. Cargill, Inc. and Continental Grain Company, Civil Action No. 99-1875. The Complaint in this case alleged that the proposed acquisition of Continental Grain Company's (Continental) worldwide commodity marketing business by Cargill, Inc. (Cargill) would substantially lessen competition for grain purchasing services to farmers and other suppliers in many areas in the United States, and would increase the concentration of authorized delivery capacity for settlement of Chicago Board of Trade corn and soybean futures contracts, in violation of Section 7 of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. § 18. The Complaint further alleged that the Covenant Not To Compete in the Purchase Agreement between the two companies is an unreasonable agreement in restraint of trade in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1.

The proposed Final Judgment requires Cargill to divest all of its property rights in its port elevator in Seattle, Washington and its river elevators in East Dubuque and Morris, Illinois. The proposed Final Judgment further requires Continental to divest all of its property rights in its river elevators at Lockport, Illinois and Caruthersville, Missouri, its rail elevators at Salina, Kansas and Troy, Ohio; and its port elevators at Beaumont, Texas, Stockton, California, and Chicago, Illinois. Cargill is also required to enter into a "throughput agreement" to make one-third of the loading capacity at its Havana, Illinois river elevator available to an independent grain company. Cargill is prohibited from acquiring any interest in the facilities being divested by Continental, or in the river elevator at Birds Point, Missouri in which Continental previously held a minority interest. The proposed Final Judgment also makes Cargill subject to various restrictions if it seeks to enter into an throughput agreement with the acquirer of the Seattle port facility.
