

by the Department of Commerce to be subsidized by the Government of Venezuela and sold in the United States at less than fair value (LTFV).

The Commission's determinations in the reconsideration proceedings render the changed circumstances investigations that relate to the original determinations moot. Accordingly, the United States International Trade Commission hereby terminates investigations Nos. 751-TA-21-27 concerning ferrosilicon from Brazil, China, Kazakhstan, Russia, Ukraine, and Venezuela.

Background

On April 24, 1998, the Commission received a request to review its affirmative determination as it applied to imports of ferrosilicon from Brazil (the request)² in light of changed circumstances, pursuant to section 751(b) of the Act. The request was filed by counsel on behalf of Associação Brasileira dos Produtores de Ferroligas e de Silício Metálico (ABRAFE), Companhia Brasileira Carbureto de Calcio (CBCC), Companhia de Ferroligas de Bahia (FERBASA), Nova Era Silicon S/A, Italmagnesio S/A-Industria e Comercio, Rima Industrial S/A, and Companhia Ferroligas Minas Gerais (Minasligas).

Pursuant to section 207.45(b) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure,³ the Commission published a notice in the Federal Register on May 20, 1998,⁴ requesting comments as to whether the alleged changed circumstances warranted the institution of review investigations. The Commission received comments in support of the request from C.V.G. Venezolana de Ferrosilicio C.A. (Fesilven), a Venezuelan producer of ferrosilicon; General Motors Corp., a purchaser of ferrosilicon; and the Governments of Brazil and Kazakhstan. Comments in opposition to the request were received from counsel on behalf of AIMCOR, American Alloys, Inc., Elkem Metals Co., and SKW Metals & Alloys, Inc., U.S. producers of ferrosilicon. After reviewing these comments, the Commission determined on July 28, 1998, that certain of the alleged changed circumstances were sufficient to warrant review investigations.⁵ Among the issues that were briefed by the parties to the investigations was the fact that, between 1995 and 1997, two members of the domestic industry pleaded guilty to conspiring to fix prices of commodity ferrosilicon products during the periods of the Commission's original investigations, and a third member, and an officer of that member, were convicted of conspiring to fix prices of commodity ferrosilicon products during the periods of the Commission's original investigations.

On May 21, 1999, the Commission suspended investigations Nos. 751-TA-21-27, and instituted proceedings to reconsider its determinations in countervailing duty investigation No. 303-TA-23 (Final) concerning ferrosilicon from Venezuela and antidumping investigations Nos. 731-TA-566-570 and 731-TA-641 (Final) concerning ferrosilicon from Brazil, China, Kazakhstan, Russia, Ukraine, and Venezuela.⁶

The Commission transmitted its determination in these investigations to the Secretary of Commerce on August 24, 1999. The views of the Commission are contained in USITC Publication 3218 (August 1999), entitled Ferrosilicon from Brazil, China, Kazakhstan, Russia, Ukraine, and Venezuela: Investigations Nos. 303-TA-23, 731-TA-566-570, and 731-TA-641 (Reconsideration).

By order of the Commission.

On the basis of the record¹ developed in the subject investigations, the United States International Trade Commission determines, pursuant to section 703(a) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1671b(a)), that there is a reasonable indication that an industry in the United States is threatened with material injury by reason of imports from Korea of certain structural steel beams,² provided for in subheadings 7216.32.00, 7216.33.00, 7216.50.00, 7216.61.00, 7216.69.00, 7216.91.00, 7216.99.00, 7228.70.30, and 7228.70.60 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States, that are alleged to be subsidized by the Government of Korea.

The Commission further determines, pursuant to section 733(a) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1673b(a)), that there is a reasonable indication that an industry in the United States is threatened with material injury by reason of imports from Japan and Korea of certain structural steel beams,³ provided for in subheadings 7216.32.00, 7216.33.00, 7216.50.00, 7216.61.00, 7216.69.00, 7216.91.00, 7216.99.00, 7228.70.30, and 7228.70.60 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States, that are alleged to be sold in the United States at less than fair value (LTFV).

The Commission further determines, pursuant to section 733(a) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1673b(a)), that there is no reasonable indication that an industry in the United States is materially injured or threatened with material injury, or that the establishment of an industry in the United States is materially retarded, by reason of imports from Germany and Spain of certain structural steel beams,⁴ provided for in subheadings 7216.32.00, 7216.33.00, 7216.50.00, 7216.61.00, 7216.69.00, 7216.91.00, 7216.99.00, 7228.70.30, and 7228.70.60 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States, that are alleged to be sold in the United States at LTFV.
