

understood to mean the maximum cold inflation pressure to which the tire may be inflated and that the term "COLD" carried the same meaning, that the noncompliance was inconsequential with regards to motor vehicle safety. Like Cooper Tire & Rubber Company's mislabeled tires, MBUSA's convex passenger side view mirror warnings the word "Are" is not clearly printed or visible. The two warning statements, however, have the same meaning. Consequently, if the word "Are" is not clearly printed or visible, it has no impact to the meaning of the warning and should be deemed an inconsequential noncompliance.

As provided above, MBUSA has identified the cause of the original error in the etched warning on convex passenger side view mirrors to a defective stencil used in the laser printer which etched the affected mirrors. MBUSA has since addressed this issue by ensuring that the complete and visible warning statement on all vehicles meets the requirements of FMVSS 111 S5.4.3 and is properly etched onto the mirror. MBUSA does not believe that the noncompliance described above has any appreciable impact on motor vehicle safety. The warning provided in noncompliant vehicles, although grammatically incorrect, still conveys the exact same meaning as the warning required by FMVSS 111. In fact, only one word was not clearly printed or visible in the required warning. This omission of the word did not change the meaning of the warning itself. MBUSA requests this application be granted so that an unnecessary and costly consumer recall action may be avoided. MBUSA expects a particularly low owner response to such a recall, if it were undertaken, because the basic message of the warning is adequately conveyed despite the error in format. In addition, since convex passenger side view mirrors with warnings have been in widespread use since 1982, MBUSA does not believe that the driving public will even note the error since the warning, if even noticed, will only serve as a reminder to what drivers have long become accustomed to.

We invite you to comment in writing on MBUSA's application. Comments should refer to the docket number and be submitted in two copies to: U.S. Department of Transportation, Docket Management, Room PL-401, 400 Seventh Street, SW, Washington, DC, 20590.

We will consider comments received before the close of business on the closing date indicated below. We will file the application and supporting materials. We will consider, to the extent possible, all comments received after the closing date. When we grant or deny the application, we will publish the notice in the Federal Register.

Comment closing date: October 8, 1999.
