POLICY JUSTIFICATIONKuwait - TOW-2B Anti-Armor Guided Missiles

The Government of Kuwait has requested a possible sale of 728 TOW-2B anti-armor guided missiles, 11 lot acceptance missiles, publications, test equipment and other related elements of logistics support. The estimated cost is $80 million.

This proposed sale will contribute to the foreign policy and national security of the United States by helping to improve the security of a friendly country which has been and continues to be an important force for political stability and economic progress in the Middle East.

Kuwait will augment their land forces with these TOW-2B anti-armor guided missiles. This weapon sale will greatly enhance the coalition efforts within the region. Kuwait, which already has TOW-2B missiles in its inventory, will have no difficulty absorbing these additional missiles.

The proposed sale of this equipment and support will not affect the basic military balance in the region.

The prime contractor will be the Raytheon Corporation, Mesa, Arizona. There are no offset agreements proposed in connection with this potential sale.

Implementation of this proposed sale will not require the assignment of any additional U.S. Government or contractor representatives to Kuwait.

There will be no adverse impact on U.S. defense readiness as a result of this proposed sale.

Transmittal No. 99-33

Notice of Proposed Issuance of Letter of Offer
Pursuant to Section 36(b)(1)
of the Arms Export Control Act

Annex
Item No. vi

(vi) Sensitivity of Technology:

1. The TOW-2B anti-armor guided missile is a top attack anti-tank missiles. The warhead contains two each tantalum explosively formed penetrators (EFPs). The EFPs provide a much greater amount of behind armor debris than the standard copper shaped charge warheads of the TOW and TOW 2A. The combination of the EFPs characteristics and softer impact points via top attack, result in increased missile lethality.

2. The weapon system detects targets using two sensors, optical and magnetic. The optical sensor contains specific software information which analyzes a target based on known parameters. These parameters must be met before the weapons system will arm. Working in coordination with the optical system is a magnetic sensor which senses the magnetic signature of a target also based on known parameters.

3. The system hardware provided with the sale is Unclassified. However, sensitive technology is contained within the missile system software programs, especially the embedded software in the profilometers and those which instruct the system how to operate in the presence of countermeasures. Sale of the system implies the release of classified Secret information in the area of operating performance of the TOW 2B missile.

4. A determination has been made that Kuwait can provide substantially the same degree of protection for the sensitive technology being released as the U.S. Government. This sale is necessary in furtherance of the U.S. foreign policy and national security objectives outlined in the Policy Justification.
