SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The National Science Foundation, as directed by the Antarctic Conservation Act of 1978 (Public Law 95-541), has developed regulations that implement the "Agreed Measures for the Conservation of Antarctic Fauna and Flora" for all United States citizens. The Agreed Measures, developed by the Antarctic Treaty Consultative Parties, recommended establishment of a permit system for various activities in Antarctica and designation of certain animals and certain geographic areas as requiring special protection. The regulations establish such a permit system to designate Specially Protected Areas and Sites of Special Scientific Interest.

Description of Permit Modification Requested:

1. The Foundation issued a permit (99-010) to Dr. Rennie S. Holt on September 25, 1998. The issued permit allows for the censuring, capture, handling and release of up to 80 adult and 1500 Antarctic fur seal (Arctocephalus gazella) pups. In addition, up to 40 female/pup pairs would be captured for measurements of energy expenditure, foot intake, dive depth, duration, time of day and dive frequency, swim speed and foraging location, as well as attendance-related factors of pup growth using milk extraction and gastric lavage. The permit holder requests to modify his permit to include teeth extractions for age determinations, involving up to 100 adults per annum. To minimize the number of takes, effort will be made such that the majority of tooth extractions will be from animals already captured for other permitted procedures. Also, specimens may be collected opportunistically; animals will not be killed for any collection purposes (i.e.: samples may be collected from dead animals found on the beach or washed ashore). A further modification request is for import of samples collected opportunistically from cetacean species found dead. All specimens will be imported to the United States and inventoried with the Antarctic Marine Living Resources Program in La Jolla, CA.
