

Department to reconsider its decision not to combine certain production costs for MAN Roland and its affiliate MAN Plamag Druckmaschinen AG (MAN Plamag), and granted the Department's request to recalculate MAN Roland's selling, general and administrative (SG&A) expenses using an appropriate cost allocation ratio. In its final remand determination on September 17, 1998, the Department declined to compute a single, weighted-average cost for MAN Roland and Man Plamag because the companies failed to satisfy the fundamental condition for averaging costs—that the products manufactured at their facilities be sufficiently similar in physical characteristics, such that they could be considered identical for product comparison purposes. However, the Department recalculated MAN Roland's SG&A expenses using an appropriate allocation ratio. See September 17, 1998, Final Results of Redetermination Pursuant to Court Remand (Redetermination 1) at 9–10, 13–14. As a result of our recalculations pursuant to Court remand, the antidumping margin for MAN Roland changed from 30.72 to 39.60 percent.

In a later decision on March 16, 1999, Koenig & Bauer-Albert AG, et al., v. United States, 44 F. Supp. 2d 280, 287–288 (CIT 1999), Slip Op. 99–25 at 16–18, the CIT affirmed the Department's recalculation of MAN Roland's SG&A expenses, but did not affirm the Department's final remand results pertaining to the issue of combining certain production costs of MAN Roland and its affiliate. The CIT held that the Department did not address the threshold question of whether MAN Roland and MAN Plamag should be collapsed in order to properly determine whether their production costs should be averaged, and remanded the issue to the Department again for reconsideration and explanation consistent with its opinion. Upon remand, on August 10, 1999, the Department found that MAN Roland and MAN Plamag should have been collapsed as a single entity in performing its antidumping analysis in accordance with 19 CFR 351.401(f). Moreover, the Department determined that treating these affiliated producers as a single entity necessitated that the inputs transferred between them be valued at the cost of producing the input, and adjusted its CV calculations accordingly. Furthermore, in light of the identical merchandise requirement for production cost averaging purposes, the Department maintained its previous remand determination not to weight-average the production costs of the two affiliated companies. In addition, because MAN Plamag made no sales of subject merchandise to the United States during the period of investigation, the Department's decision to collapse MAN Roland and MAN Plamag did not require any changes to the sales side of the Department's original final margin analysis. However, in contrast to its original final determination, the Department applied the same margin, as amended based on the above-described cost adjustments, to both MAN Roland and MAN Plamag. See August 10, 1998, Final Results of Redetermination Pursuant to Court Remand (Redetermination 2) at 5–8. As a result of the adjustments made in Redetermination 2, the revised antidumping margin for both MAN Roland and MAN Plamag changed from 39.60 percent (margin calculated based on Redetermination 1) to 39.53 percent.

In sum, as a result of the two remands in this case, the final dumping rate for MAN Roland and its affiliate MAN Plamag has increased from 30.72 percent (the original final LTFV margin for MAN Roland) to 39.53 percent ad valorem. The rate for All Others changes accordingly.

Suspension of Liquidation

In its decision in Timken Co. v. United States, 893 F.2d 337 (Fed. Cir. 1990) (Timken), the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (CAFC) held that the Department must publish notice of a decision of the CIT or the CAFC which is not in harmony with the Department's determination. Publication of this notice fulfills this obligation. The CAFC also held that the Department must suspend liquidation of the subject merchandise until there is a "final and conclusive" decision on the case. Therefore, pursuant to Timken, the Department must suspend liquidation of the subject merchandise pending the expiration of the period to appeal the CIT's March 8, 2000 ruling, or if that ruling is appealed, pending a final decision by the CAFC. However, because entries of the subject merchandise already are being suspended pursuant to the antidumping duty order in effect, the Department need not order the Customs Service to suspend liquidation. Further, consistent with Timken, the Department will order the Customs Service to change the relevant cash deposit rates in the event that the CIT's ruling is not appealed or the CAFC issues a final decision affirming the CIT's ruling.

This order has a February anniversary month. On March 27, 2000, pursuant to the Department's request, Atlas submitted supplemental information regarding the required documentation pursuant to section 351.214(a)(2) of the Department's regulations. Accordingly, we are initiating a new shipper review for Atlas as requested. The period of review is February 1, 1998 through January 31, 1999.

Initiation of Review

In accordance with 19 CFR 351.214(b)(2), Atlas provided certification that it did not export subject merchandise to the United States during the period of investigation; certification that, since the investigation was initiated, it has never been affiliated with any exporter or producer who exported the subject merchandise to the United States during the period of investigation, including those not individually examined during the investigation; documentation establishing: (i) The date on which its stainless steel bar was first entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, or if the exporter or producer could not establish the date of first entry, the date on which it first shipped the subject merchandise for export to the United States; (ii) the volume of that and subsequent shipments; and (iii) the date of the first sale to an unaffiliated customer in the United States. Notice of Preliminary Results of Antidumping Duty Administrative Review, Partial Rescission of Antidumping Duty Administrative Review and Intent To Revoke Antidumping Duty Order in Part: Steel Wire Rope From the Republic of Korea

AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: In response to a request by the petitioner, the Committee of Domestic Steel Wire Rope & Specialty Cable Manufacturers, the Department of Commerce (the Department) is conducting an administrative review of the antidumping duty order on steel wire rope from Korea. The review covers 14 manufacturers/exporters of the subject merchandise. The period of review is March 1, 1998, through February 28, 1999.

We have preliminarily found that, for certain producers/exporters, sales of subject merchandise have been made below normal value (NV). If these preliminary results are adopted in our final results of this administrative review, we will instruct the Customs Service to assess antidumping duties based on the difference between the export price (EP) and the NV. Also, if these preliminary results are adopted in our final results of this administrative review, we intend to revoke the antidumping duty order with respect to Kumho Wire Rope Manufacturing Company (Kumho), based on three years of sales at not less than NV. See Intent to Revoke section of this notice.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 7, 2000.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Applicable Statute and Regulations

Unless otherwise indicated, all citations to the statute are references to the provisions effective January 1, 1995, the effective date of the amendments made to the Tariff Act of 1930 (the Act) by the Uruguay Round Agreements Act. In addition, unless otherwise indicated, all citations to the Department's regulations are to the regulations codified at 19 CFR part 351 (1999).

Case History

On March 9, 1999, the Department published a notice providing an opportunity to request an administrative review of this antidumping duty order for the period March 1, 1998, through February 28, 1999 (POR). See 64 FR 11439. On March 31, 1999, the petitioner requested an administrative review of Boo Kook Corporation (Boo Kook), Dae Heung Industrial Company (Dae Heung), Dae Kyung Metal (Dae Kyung), Dong Il Steel Manufacturing Company (Dong Il), Dong Young, Hanboo Wire Rope Inc. (Hanboo), Jinyang Wire Rope Inc. (Jinyang), Korea Sangsa Company (Korea Sangsa), Kumho, Kwangshin Rope, Myung Jin Company, Seo Hae Industrial (Seo Hae), Sungsan Special Steel Processing (Sungsan) and Yeonsin Metal (Yeonsin). On March 31, 1999, Kumho requested a review and revocation of the order with respect to its sales of subject merchandise. On April 22, 1999, we initiated an administrative review of all 14 companies. See 64 FR 23269.

In early May 1999, in response to our inquiry, the Department was advised by the U.S. Embassy in Seoul that Boo Kook, Hanboo, Kwangshin Rope, and Seo Hae were out of business. We determined, based on data obtained from the Customs Service, that these companies had not exported subject merchandise during the POR. Accordingly, we did not issue antidumping questionnaires to these companies. We issued antidumping questionnaires to the remaining ten respondents. See Partial Rescission section of this notice.

On June 11, 1999, we received a letter from Dae Kyung stating that it had not exported subject merchandise to the United States during the POR. However, Customs Service data indicated that the company had shipments of subject merchandise during the POR. See Facts Available section of this notice.

On June 21, 1999, we received a letter from Dae Heung stating that it did not export subject merchandise to the United States during the POR. See Partial Rescission section of this notice.

On June 23, 1999, the Department received a response to the antidumping questionnaire from Kumho. This was the only response filed within the original deadline for the questionnaire. However, on September 8, 1999, Jinyang requested permission to submit a response to the questionnaire. While acknowledging that the deadline for submission of a response had elapsed, Jinyang cited extenuating factors, namely that it had moved its offices and did not receive the questionnaire until
