

and all acute MOE values greatly exceed 100. Chronic and acute dietary risk to children from bispyribac-sodium should not be of concern. Further, bispyribac-sodium has only agricultural uses and no other uses, such as indoor pest control, homeowner or turf, that could lead to unique, enhanced exposures to vulnerable sub-groups of the population. It can be concluded that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result to the U.S. population or to any sub-group of the U.S. population, including infants and children, from aggregate chronic or aggregate acute exposures to bispyribac-sodium residues resulting from pending uses.

F. International Tolerances

There are presently no Codex maximum residue limits (MRL) established for bispyribac-sodium. The compound is presently registered for use on rice in several countries in Asia, Southeast Asia, Japan, South and Central America, the Dominican Republic, and Turkey. The use pattern is very similar to that proposed for the United States. Two countries have established tolerances: Japan a minimum MRL of 0.1 ppm and Brazil a MRL of 0.01 ppm both bispyribac-sodium in/on brown rice.
