II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, Nasdaq included statements concerning the purpose of, and basis for, the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. Nasdaq has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

On May 2, 2001, the Commission approved the Nasdaq ResourceSM Service,³ which is designed to assist NASD members in complying with certain of their obligations pursuant to Rule 11Ac1-5⁴ (the "Rule") under the ³ Securities Exchange Act Release No. 44246 (May 2, 2001), 66 FR 23289.

⁴ 17 CFR 240.11Ac1-5.

⁵ The Rule defines "covered order" as any market order or any limit order (including immediate-or-cancel orders) received by a market center during regular trading hours at a time when a consolidated best bid and offer is being disseminated, and, if executed, is executed during regular trading hours. Excluded from the definition of "covered order" is any order for which the customer requests special handling for execution, including, but not limited to, orders to be executed at a market opening or closing price, orders submitted with stop prices, orders to be executed only at their full size, orders Act. Generally, the Rule seeks to improve the ability of public investors to evaluate how their orders are handled after being submitted to a broker-dealer for execution. The Rule requires "market centers" that trade national market system securities to prepare and make publicly available standardized, monthly reports containing statistical information concerning the handling and execution of their "covered orders."⁵ A "market center" under the Rule is defined as "any exchange market maker, OTC market maker, alternative trading system, national securities exchange, or national securities association."⁶ To facilitate cross-market comparisons, the Rule establishes and defines uniform measures of execution quality, including effective spread, rate of price improvement and disimprovement, fill rate, and execution speed.

Nasdaq's new voluntary service—Nasdaq ReSourceSM—assists NASD member market centers in meeting their reporting obligations under Rule 11Ac1-5. For members that subscribe to the Service, Nasdaq will collect, compile, and web-host the reports required by the Rule. These reports will be referred to as Execution Quality Reports ("XQ Reports"SM) and will be available on a free, publicly accessible web site. Through certain existing systems, Nasdaq already can capture a portion of the data required to complete XQ Reports. In order to ensure complete XQ Reports, however, firms will be required to submit to Nasdaq additional data for certain categories of orders. Member firms will be required to provide an electronic file containing execution and cancellation information for orders routed to Nasdaq execution systems, orders routed to ECNs, orders routed to non-NASD members, and certain orders executed as riskless principal, depending upon which method the subscriber chooses to report riskless principal transactions.⁷

Generally, Nasdaq proposes a tiered fee structure for the ReSourceSM Service that is based on a subscriber's average monthly trading volume reported to the tape, over a certain specified number of months, in Nasdaq National Market securities for which the subscriber is registered as a market maker. Firms that generate higher trading volume will be charged a proportionately higher fee to account for the greater computer system and Nasdaq staff resources needed to provide the Service to these firms. The seven different fee levels, or tiers, will be based on monthly trading volume averaged over a six-month period. The six-month period is designed to account for seasonal fluctuations in trading volume and significant business changes. The proposed tier structure is as follows:

Tier	Average monthly trade volume
1	500,000 or greater.
2	100,000–499,999
3	10,000–99,999
4	5,000–9,999
5	1,000–4,999
6	500–999
7	0–499

For the first year that Nasdaq offers the ReSourceSM Service (i.e., August 2000⁸ through July 2002), Nasdaq will assign subscribers to one of the above tiers based on their average monthly trading volume reported to the tape, for the period from September 1, 2000, through February 28, 2001, in Nasdaq National Market securities for which they are registered as market makers. For members that subscribe other than at the beginning of a Subscription Year, as that term is defined in the fee schedule and described below, Nasdaq will place the subscriber in the appropriate tier based on the subscriber's average monthly trading volume during the six month period preceding the subscription date. Beginning with the first anniversary of the Service in July of 2002, and on an annual basis thereafter, Nasdaq will conduct a review of each subscriber's average monthly trading volume during the preceding six-month period, and will assign the applicant to the appropriate corresponding tier.

Fees for the ReSourceSM Service will include an initial, one-time setup fee ("Activation Fee") and an Annual Subscription Fee, both of which generally will vary depending upon the firm's trading volume and corresponding tier classification. The Activation Fee is related to the costs associated with assisting member firms in establishing the proper hardware and software configuration necessary to submit data to Nasdaq, establishing the necessary data feeds, and testing with Nasdaq. The Activation Fee will be billed upon receipt of an executed Addendum to Nasdaq Workstation II Subscriber Agreement for Nasdaq ReSourceSM ("Agreement").

The Annual Subscription Fee is related to the on-going costs associated with compiling, calculating, and web-hosting the statistical data required by Rule 11Ac1-5. Member firms will be billed for the Annual Subscription Fee after submitting the executed Agreement, and thereafter at the beginning of each Subscription Year (i.e., the 12-month period from August 1st to July 31st). The Annual Subscription Fee will be pro-rated on a monthly basis for those firms that subscribe to the Service other than at the beginning of a Subscription Year. Nasdaq will offer no refunds of the Annual Subscription Fee.

The proposed Activation Fees and Annual Subscription Fees are as follows:

Tier	Activation fee	Annual subscription fee
1	$3,000	$35,000
2	3,000	30,000
3	2,000	20,000
4	1,000	10,000
5	1,000	7,500
6	1,000	5,000
7	1,000	2,500

2. Statutory Basis

Nasdaq believes that the proposed rule changes are consistent with Section 15A(b)(5) of the Act,⁹ which requires that the rules of the NASD provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees, and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility or system which the NASD operates or controls. Nasdaq represents that the proposed fee schedule complies with this statutory standard because Nasdaq will charge every member in a particular category or tier an amount that is related to the resources expended to provide the ReSourceSM Service to such member. For instance, the computer system and staff resources required to provide the Service to a market center member with relatively high average monthly trading

Excluded from the definition of "covered order" is any order for which the customer requests special handling for execution, including, but not limited to, orders to be executed at a market opening or closing price, orders submitted with stop prices, orders to be executed only at their full size, orders to be executed on a particular type of tick or bid, orders submitted on a "not held" basis, orders for other than regular settlement, and orders to be executed at prices unrelated to the market price at the time of execution. 17 CFR 240.11Ac1-5(a)(8).

volume is greater than that required for a member with relatively low average monthly trading volume.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action
