

Abstract: Banks, bank holding companies, and trust companies subject to the Federal Reserve's supervision that are low-volume transfer agents voluntarily file the FR 4013 notice on occasion with Federal Reserve Board. Transfer agents are institutions that provide securities transfer, registration, monitoring, and other specified services on behalf of securities issuers. The purpose of the notice, which is effective until the agent withdraws it, is to claim exemption from certain rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). The Federal Reserve uses the notices for supervisory purposes because the SEC has assigned to the Federal Reserve responsibility for collecting the notices and verifying their accuracy through examinations of the respondents. The notice is made by letter; there is no reporting form.

General description of report: This information collection is voluntary (12 U.S.C. 248 (a)(2) and 3105(a)(2)) and is given confidential treatment (5 U.S.C. 552(b)(4)).

Abstract: The FR 2416 is a detailed, 46-item balance sheet that covers domestic offices of large U.S.-chartered commercial banks. The FR 2644 collects 17 items covering investments and loans plus total assets and three memorandum items, two that disaggregate total borrowings between bank and nonbank sources and one for mortgage-backed securities. The FR 2069 is a detailed, 28-item balance sheet that covers large U.S. branches and agencies of foreign banks. These reports are collected as of each Wednesday.

These three voluntary reports are mainstays of the Federal Reserve's reporting system from which data for analysis of current banking developments are derived. The FR 2416 is used on a stand-alone basis as the "large domestic bank series." The other two reports are samples for estimating outstandings for the universe, using data for benchmarks from the quarterly commercial bank Consolidated Reports of Condition and Income (FFIEC 031/041; OMB No. 7100-0036) and the Report of Assets and Liabilities of U.S. Branches and Agencies of Foreign Banks (FFIEC 002; OMB No. 7100-0032) (Call Reports). Data from all three reports, together with data from other sources, are used for constructing weekly estimates of bank credit, of sources and uses of bank funds, and of a balance sheet for the banking system as a whole. These estimates are used in constructing the bank credit component of the domestic nonfinancial debt aggregate.

The Federal Reserve publishes the data in aggregate form in a statistical release that is followed closely by other government agencies, the banking industry, the financial press, and other users. This weekly H.8 statistical release, "Assets and Liabilities of Commercial Banks in the United States," provides a balance sheet for the banking industry as a whole and disaggregated by its large domestic, small domestic, and foreign related components.

Current Actions: The Federal Reserve has approved the proposed changes to these three reports to conform with the March 31, 2001, and June 30, 2001, changes to the Call Reports. In addition to these revisions, on the FR 2416, the Federal Reserve approved a minor redefinition of "Commercial real estate loans" to include loans secured by farmland. The Federal Reserve determined that real estate loans secured by farmland, currently reported in "All other loans secured by real estate," are used primarily for the financing of land for production (a commercial purpose), rather than for financing the improvements on the land, such as farmhouses. Thus, the bulk of farm real estate loans have a commercial, rather than a residential, character.

These proposed changes to the FR 2416, FR 2644, and FR 2069 will be effective with the reports for July 4, 2001.
