

for an amended type certificate to modify the Model DA 40 that incorporates novel or unusual design feature, the special conditions would apply under the provisions of § 21.101(a)(1).

Conclusion

This action affects only certain novel or unusual design features on one model of airplane. It is not a rule of general applicability and affects only the applicant who applied to the FAA for approval of these features on the airplane.

The substance of these special conditions has been subjected to the notice and comment period in several prior instances and has been derived without substantive change from those previously issued. It is unlikely that prior public comment would result in a significant change from the substance contained herein. For this reason, and because a delay would significantly affect the certification of the airplane, which is imminent, the FAA has determined that prior public notice and comment are unnecessary and impracticable, and good cause exists for adopting these special conditions upon issuance. The FAA is requesting comments to allow interested persons to submit views that may not have been submitted in response to the prior opportunities for comment described above.

Citation

The authority citation for these special conditions is as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 106(g), 40113 and 44701; 14 CFR 21.16 and 21.17; and 14 CFR 11.19 and 11.38.

The Special Conditions

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, the following special conditions are issued as part of the type certification basis for Diamond Model DA 40 airplane.

1. Protection of Electrical and Electronic Systems from High Intensity Radiated Fields (HIRF). Each system that performs critical functions must be designed and installed to ensure that the operations, and operational capabilities of these systems to perform critical functions, are not adversely affected when the airplane is exposed to high intensity radiated electromagnetic fields external to the airplane.

2. For the purpose of these special conditions, the following definition applies: Critical Functions: Functions whose failure would contribute to, or cause, a failure condition that would prevent the continued safe flight and landing of the airplane.

Issued in Kansas City, Missouri, on May 23, 2001.

Manager, Small Airplane Directorate, Aircraft Certification Service.

Atlantic Highly Migratory Species (HMS); NOAA Information Collection Requirements; Regulatory Adjustments

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Final rule; technical amendment.

SUMMARY: NMFS announces approval by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) of a collection-of-information requirement contained in the final consolidated regulations governing the Atlantic HMS fisheries. Accordingly, NMFS amends the regulations and makes effective the requirement that vessels taking paying customers to fish for Atlantic tunas, swordfish, sharks, and billfish obtain an Atlantic HMS Charter/Headboat permit. This final rule, technical amendment, also updates the OMB table to add this OMB approval, to remove expired control numbers, and to correct control numbers to the appropriate CFR part or section. The intent of this final rule is to inform the public of the effective date of the Atlantic HMS Charter/Headboat permit requirement and to adjust the regulations accordingly.

DATES: Effective July 1, 2001.

ADDRESSES: Any comments regarding burden-hour estimates for collection-of-information requirements contained in this final rule should be sent to Christopher Rogers, Acting Chief, Highly Migratory Species Management Division, Office of Sustainable Fisheries (F/SF1), NMFS, 1315 East-West Highway, Silver Spring, MD 20910-3282, and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, DC 20503 (ATTN: NOAA Desk Officer).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Brad McHale or Pat Scida, 978-281-9260.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On May 28, 1999, NMFS published a final rule (64 FR 29090) to implement the Fishery Management Plan for Atlantic Tunas, Swordfish and Sharks (HMS FMP) and Amendment One to the Fishery Management Plan for Atlantic Billfish (Billfish FMP Amendment). One of the measures in the FMPs and the implementing rule required vessels that take paying customers fishing for Atlantic tunas, swordfish, sharks, and billfish to obtain an Atlantic HMS Charter/Headboat permit (50 CFR 635.46(b)). The final rule was published prior to OMB's approval of the information collection requirement for the charter/headboat permit. Therefore, the effective date of this information collection requirement was deferred pending OMB approval. On August 9, 2000, OMB approved the information collection associated with the Atlantic HMS Charter/Headboat permit requirement. As the OMB approval was issued during the midst of the 2000 fishing year, NMFS did not immediately make the regulation effective so as to avoid confusion among charter/headboat operators who had already been issued Atlantic Tunas permits for the 2000 fishing year, and to provide the Agency time to modify the automated permit system to issue the new type of permits.

NOAA codifies its OMB control numbers for information collection at 15 CFR part 902. This final rule/technical amendment notifies the public of the OMB approval of this information collection, codifies OMB control number 0648-0327 for 50 CFR 635.4(b) in the table at 15 CFR 902.1(b), and updates the table at 15 CFR 902.1(b) to remove expired control numbers and to correct control numbers that were not associated with the appropriate CFR part or section.

This final rule/technical amendment makes the regulations requiring the Atlantic HMS Charter/Headboat permit effective July 1, 2001. The fishing year for sharks is based on a calendar year. It also amends the regulations to reflect this new requirement by removing or replacing obsolete regulatory text that pertains to the Atlantic Tunas Charter/Headboat permit category.

Classification

This rule has been determined to be not significant for the purposes of Executive Order 12866.

Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, no person is required to respond to, nor shall any person be subject to a penalty for failure to comply with, a collection of information subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA), unless that collection of information displays a currently valid OMB control number.

This rule contains a collection-of-information requirement subject to the PRA that has been approved by OMB under 0648-0327. The public reporting burden for the information collection for an initial permit is estimated to average 30 minutes per response, and the public reporting burden for renewal by telephone or via the internet is estimated to average six minutes per response. The estimated response time includes the time needed for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding these reporting burden estimates or any other aspect of the collection-of-information, including suggestions for reducing the burden, to NMFS and OMB (see ADDRESSES).
