

Bankruptcy Code. Under the Plan, PG&E will separate and restructure its businesses and divide its operations and assets among different operating companies. As to PG&E's FPA Part I jurisdictional facilities, the Plan proposes that PG&E's 26 licensed hydroelectric projects and related licenses be transferred to 26 separate California limited liability company subsidiaries (LLC Subs) of a new generation company (Electric Generation LLC), which will operate and maintain the projects for the LLC Subs under leases with them, and that PG&E's 11 transmission-line-only projects and related licenses be transferred to a new transmission company (ETrans LLC). The names of the LLC Subs mirror the name of the project of which they are to become the new licensee. For example, for the Potter Valley Project No. 77, the name of the LLC Sub that will become the new licensee of the project is Potter Valley Project LLC. After the consummation of the Plan, PG&E, as a reorganized company, will operate as a stand alone local electric and gas distribution business. PG&E intends to retain property rights in certain project facilities that involve energy distribution functions in Project Nos. 77, 96, 137, 175, 233, 619, 803, 1333, 1354, 1403, 2130, 2310, and 2467.

The transfer applications were filed within five years of the expiration of the licenses for Project Nos. 233, 1354, 2107, 2661, and 2687, which are subject of pending relicense applications. In Hydroelectric Relicensing Regulations Under the Federal Power Act (54 F.R. 23,756; FERC Stats. and Regs., Regs. Preambles 1986-1990 30,854 at p. 31,437), the Commission declined to forbid all license transfers during the last five years of an existing license, and instead indicated that it would scrutinize all such transfer requests to determine if the transfer's primary purpose was to give the transferee an advantage in relicensing (id. at p. 31,438 n. 318).

Several of the transfer applications also contain separate requests for approval of the substitution of the transferee for the transferor as the applicant in the pending relicensing applications filed by PG&E in Project Nos. 233-081, 1354-005, 2107-010, 2661-012, and 2687-014.
