

both in the context of making regulatory decisions on specific pesticides and more broadly. OPP's ongoing process of public participation in individual pesticide tolerance reassessment decisions affords ample opportunity for interested stakeholders to comment on these issues as they may affect individual chemicals, classes of chemicals, and the transfer of risks and benefits. In addition, OPP intends to seek public input on broader methodological aspects of these issues through its existing federal advisory committee, the Committee to Advise on Reassessment and Transition, and/or through other avenues that give the public an opportunity to comment. OPP intends to make publicly available the comments received, and to use an open and participatory process to discuss the analysis, methods, and scientific considerations the Agency may use when characterizing changes in net risk, and effects of any transfer of risk and benefits associated with mitigation options.

IV. Policies Not Rules

The policy document discussed in this notice is intended to provide guidance to EPA personnel and decision-makers, and to the public. As a guidance document and not a rule, the policy in this guidance is not binding on either EPA or any outside parties.

Although this guidance provides a starting point for EPA risk assessments, EPA will depart from its policy where the facts or circumstances warrant. In such cases, EPA will explain why a different course was taken. Similarly, outside parties remain free to assert that a policy is not appropriate for a specific pesticide or that the circumstances surrounding a specific risk assessment demonstrate that a policy should not be applied.
