

all 1996 model year and later light-duty vehicles and light-duty trucks, rated up to 8,500 pounds Gross Vehicle Weight Rating.

Today's vehicles use computers to direct engine control systems such as fuel and ignition. Sensors and actuators sense the operation of specific components (oxygen sensor) and actuate others (fuel injector) to maintain optimal engine performance. An on-board computer, known as a "powertrain control module" or an "engine control unit," controls these systems. Using proper diagnostic software, the on-board computer can also monitor the operation of the sensors and actuators. The sensors, actuators, and diagnostic software comprise the OBD system. With the above equipment, the on-board computer can detect an engine malfunction or deterioration of the various sensors and actuators well before the driver notices poor vehicle performance.

OBD systems can detect problems which may not be noticeable by a visual inspection, because many component failures impacting a vehicle's emissions may be electrical. By detecting these emission equipment related failures and alerting the driver, vehicles can be repaired and returned to their proper emissions performance.

When the OBD system detects a problem, it stores a "Diagnostic Trouble Code" in the computer's memory. The computer then illuminates a dashboard light indicating "Check Engine." Once alerted, the vehicle owner should take the vehicle to a repair shop. A service technician can quickly retrieve the stored diagnostic trouble code from the vehicle's computer memory. The diagnostic trouble code specifically identifies the problem, allowing the technician to quickly perform repairs. Vehicle OBD systems allow for early diagnosis of emission control malfunction.

In this action, we are proposing to approve Utah's SIP revision to Rule R307-110-31, Section X, Vehicle Inspection and Maintenance Program, Part A, General Requirements and Applicability, which commits the State of Utah to implement testing of vehicle OBD systems by January 1, 2002. Utah's SIP revision merely incorporates our Federal rule change of April 5, 2001, that postponed implementation of OBD inspections until January 1, 2002 (see 66 FR 18156). As a convenience to vehicle owners, Davis, Utah, and Weber Counties are already implementing this program. Salt Lake County will begin implementing the program on January 1, 2002.

IV. Request for Public Comment

We are soliciting public comment on all aspects of this proposed SIP rulemaking action. Please send your comments in duplicate to the address listed above in the front of this proposed action. We'll consider your comments in deciding our final action if your letter is received before April 1, 2002.

V. Administrative Requirements

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), this proposed action is not a "significant regulatory action" and therefore is not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget. For this reason, this action is also not subject to Executive Order 13211, "Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use" (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001). This proposed action merely proposes to approve state law as meeting Federal requirements and imposes no additional requirements beyond those imposed by state law. Accordingly, the Administrator certifies that this proposed rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). Because this rule proposes to approve pre-existing requirements under state law and does not impose any additional enforceable duty beyond that required by state law, it does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-4).

This proposed rule also does not have tribal implications because it will not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000). This action also does not have Federalism implications because it does not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999). This action merely proposes to approve a state rule implementing a Federal standard, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power and responsibilities established in the Clean Air Act. This proposed rule also is not subject to Executive Order 13045

"Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks" (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), because it is not economically significant.

In reviewing SIP submissions, EPA's role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the Clean Air Act. In this context, in the absence of a prior existing requirement for the State to use voluntary consensus standards (VCS), EPA has no authority to disapprove a SIP submission for failure to use VCS. It would thus be inconsistent with applicable law for EPA, when it reviews a SIP submission, to use VCS in place of a SIP submission that otherwise satisfies the provisions of the Clean Air Act. Thus, the requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) do not apply. This proposed rule does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).
