

are designed to promote and encourage certain behaviors.<sup>22</sup> In the case of the Regular ETP 3-Seat Fee, this fee is being made available as an alternative to the Regular ETP Fee to member organizations that are contributing to the value of Exchange memberships. The Exchange, in its business judgment, believes that to a certain degree the value of Exchange memberships is important to the well-being of the Exchange as a whole. The Exchange believes that the Regular ETP 3-Seat Fee is reasonably designed to further those interests and is available to any ETP organization by changing the manner in which it secures trading rights on the Exchange and the number of memberships it maintains.

2. Other Fees

With respect to the applicability and inapplicability of the existing fees to ETP holders and ETP organizations, the Exchange represents that the proposal is reasonable and equitable because the Exchange believes that the proposal generally treats ETP holders/organizations the same as other members/member organizations doing business on the Exchange in terms of fees assessed on the basis of transactions or the use of particular Exchange facilities or services. For instance, ETP holders executing transactions on the equity floor will be subject to equity transaction fees such as the equity transaction value charge. Similarly, ETP holders who utilize post space will be subject to post fees. By extending the applicability of fees currently applicable to existing members and member organizations (except as provided herein) to ETP holders and ETP organizations, the Exchange believes that ETP holders and ETP organizations be treated equally with members and member organizations doing business on the Exchange in terms of fees assessed on the basis of transactions or the use of particular Exchange facilities or services.

The Exchange believes that the one-time $1,000.00 ETP Organization Initiation Fee is fair and equitable. By assessing a one-time $1,000.00 ETP Organization Initiation Fee for new ETP organizations (and by not assessing the $1,500.00 Initiation Fee for new ETP holders) the Exchange states that it is affording ETP organizations new to the Exchange an initial comparative fee advantage relative to new members associated with member organizations. The Exchange believes this advantage is reasonable, however, in that it is designed to result in an optimal mix of ETPs and memberships as determined by the Exchange in the exercise of its reasonable business judgment. This comparative initial advantage is also reflective of the fact that ETP holders will not have voting privileges and that ETPs will not be transferable, except intra-firm to the extent permitted by Exchange Rule 23.

The Exchange proposes a $500.00 ETP Intra-Firm Transfer Fee be charged in the context of ETP transfers, which do not involve the transfer of legal or equitable title. ETP transfers are permitted on an intra-firm basis to the extent provided in Exchange Rule 23. The Exchange believes that this transfer fee is reasonable and equitable because the Exchange would devote administrative resources to ETP transfers as it currently does with transfers of legal and equitable title to memberships.

3. Credit-Eligibility

With respect to the credit eligibility of ETP Monthly Fees, the Exchange believes that this aspect of the proposal is reasonable and equitable, because ETP Monthly Fees will be "credit-eligible" across-the-board, such that any member organization which incurs them may apply any available member credits to them. By making the ETP Monthly Fees "credit-eligible" the Exchange intends to enhance the attractiveness of ETPs, which the Exchange believes is an appropriate, nondiscriminatory business strategy.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any inappropriate burden on competition.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

No written comments were either solicited or received.

section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii) of the Act<sup>23</sup> and Rule 19b-4(f)(2) hereunder.<sup>24</sup> At any time within 60 days of the filing of such proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purpose of the Act.
