SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Secretarial Business Development Mission to Mexico

June 17–20, 2002.

Mission Statement*I. Description of the Mission*

Secretary of Commerce Donald L. Evans will lead a senior-level business development mission to Mexico City and Monterrey, Mexico.

The focus of the mission will be to help U.S. companies explore business opportunities in Mexico. The delegation will include approximately 15 U.S.-based senior executives of small, medium and large U.S. firms representing, but not limited to, technology, equipment, and services in the following key growth sectors: energy and energy efficiency, environmental and water resources, information technology, telecommunications, transportation, medical, and manufacturing. These key sectors reflect Mexico's infrastructure needs, the growth of a consumer society, and the boom in manufacturing created by NAFTA and proximity to the U.S. market.

II. Commercial Setting for the Mission

Mexico is the second largest export market for the United States after Canada. U.S. exports to Mexico totaled $102 billion in 2001, with substantial sales in virtually every product sector in which the United States is globally competitive. U.S. exports to Mexico have registered annual growth of more than ten percent in five of the last six years, peaking in 2000 with a 28 percent increase. Although the Mexican economy cooled in tandem with the United States economy during 2001, prospects are favorable for a renewal in growth in the latter half of 2002.

Mexico recently obtained "investment grade" status for its public debt from both Moody's and Standard and Poor's, a reflection of the country's sound economic fundamentals and stable macroeconomic policy.

III. Goals for the Mission

The mission aims to further both U.S. commercial policy objectives and advance specific business interests. It is intended to:

- Assist individual U.S. companies to pursue export and other new business opportunities in Mexico, by introducing them to key host government decision-making officials and to potential business partners;
 - Assist new-to-market firms to evaluate the market potential for their products and gain an understanding of how to operate successfully in Mexico's commercial environment; and
 - Enhance the dialogue between government and industry on issues affecting the development of U.S.-Mexican commercial relations.
- Emphasize the benefits of international trade for improving the standard of living and quality of life for all mankind.
- Highlight examples of the corporate citizenship and active involvement by U.S. businesses in the communities where they operate in the United States and abroad.

IV. Scenario for the Mission

The Business Development Mission will provide participants with exposure to high-level business and government contacts, and an understanding of market trends and the commercial environment. American Embassy officials will provide a detailed briefing on the economic, commercial, and political climate, and participants will receive individual counseling on their specific interests from U.S. Commercial Service industry specialists. Meetings will be arranged as appropriate with senior government officials and potential business partners. Representational events will also be organized to provide mission participants with opportunities to meet Mexico's business and government representatives, as well as U.S. business people living and working in Mexico.

The tentative trip itinerary will be as follows:

June 17th—Arrive Mexico City

June 18th—One-on-One Business

Meetings in Mexico City

June 19th—Travel to Monterrey, One-on-One Business Meetings in Monterrey

June 20th—One-on-One Business

June 21st—Optional spin-off trips to Guadalajara or Tijuana for further business meetings, at additional expense.
