

The original survey questionnaire was developed by a national advisory group of scholars and practitioners and addressed the following issues:

Who volunteers? Who gives? To whom? How much?

When did teenagers begin to volunteer and give?

What skills have teens learned from their community service?

To what degree do schools encourage volunteering? Do they offer courses requiring community service or require community service for graduation?

What are determinants of giving and volunteering behavior?

What is the motivation for giving and volunteering to various types of charitable causes?

What level of confidence do teenagers have in the institutions of our society?

This survey is unique because it contains information about both teenagers who give or volunteer and those that do neither. The findings have been of interest to policymakers, the media, researchers, and school principals and teachers, as well as leaders of voluntary organizations.

For the national sample, we will select a sample of households from expired Current Population Survey (CPS) rotations. If individual state samples are requested, we will utilize either the CPS or the decennial census to obtain a sample. We plan to pretest the questionnaire content. We will obtain parental consent prior to interviewing the teenage respondents.
