

Location

Located within the Refuge, the Cullinan Ranch is bordered by the South and Dutchman Sloughs to the north and State Route 37 to the south. California Department of Fish and Game Pond 1 borders Cullinan Ranch to the west. Guadalcanal Village Wetlands (Guadalcanal), which is owned by the State of California and is currently being restored to tidal marsh, borders Cullinan Ranch to the east.

Project Components

Specific components of Cullinan Ranch tidal marsh restoration follow.

1. Blocking drainage ditches with earthen fill to promote redevelopment of the historical sloughs on the project site.

2. Reinforcing two Pacific Gas & Electric transmission tower footings to protect them from possible damage from tidal flows when the levee is breached.

3. Constructing and reinforcing an existing levee adjacent to State Route 37 and California Department of Fish and Game (CDFG) Pond 1, to protect these areas from flooding and erosion during high water conditions.

4. Breaching the northern levee adjacent to South and Dutchman sloughs to introduce historic tidal flow to the site.

5. Long-term monitoring of wildlife, plants, hydrology, and geomorphology.

Public Meetings

With the publication of this notice, the public is encouraged to attend public meetings and submit written comments for consideration in developing design alternatives for restoration at Cullinan Ranch. Format for the public meeting will be a presentation on proposed design alternatives followed by a workshop to gather public comments. Comments received shall be used to identify issues and draft preliminary alternatives.
