

AFCARS reporting period would significantly disrupt other priorities.

Changing the NCANDS Reporting Period to a Federal Fiscal Year

To address the above concerns, we are considering changing the NCANDS reporting period to coincide with the Federal fiscal year (October 1 through September 30). This change will make future NCANDS data inconsistent with previous years' data. However, statistical procedures can be used to make appropriate adjustments for analytic purposes, thus diminishing this disadvantage. The proposed changes for submitting NCANDS data are delineated in the table below.

Data year	CB requests data	States submit data	CB finalizes data	CB completes draft annual report
CY 2000 .....	March 2001 .....	June 15, 2001 .....	October 2001 .....	March 2002.
CY 2001 .....	March 2002 .....	June 15, 2002 .....	October 2002 .....	March 2003.
FFY 2002 (Oct. 2001–Sept. 2002) .....	December 2002 .....	March 15, 2003 .....	July 2003 .....	December 2003.
FFY 2003 (Oct. 2002–September 2003) .....	December 2003 .....	March 15, 2004 .....	July 2004 .....	December 2004.

Bold-faced text=past or current data collection schedules. Note FFY 2002 would collect October 2001–December 2001 again from the States. The March 2003 report would be considered the Annual report for 2001; the December 2003 report would be the report for 2002, etc.

ACF is interested in public comment on this issue. In particular, we invite comments regarding:

- The advantages or disadvantages of calendar year versus Federal fiscal year reporting for NCANDS data for States, particularly in interpreting child welfare outcome data
- The advantages or disadvantages of calendar year versus Federal fiscal year reporting of NCANDS data for researchers and other interested parties
- The fiscal and administrative impact on States of changing NCANDS to Federal fiscal year reporting (i.e., costs to Statewide child welfare information systems, burden of proposed submission dates, etc.)
- Other suggestions for addressing the concerns noted regarding the data reporting periods.
