[Program Announcement 02122]

Cooperative Agreement for the Domestic Violence Prevention Enhancement and Leadership Through Alliances (DELTA) Program; Notice of Availability of Funds

A. Purpose

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) announces the availability of fiscal year (FY) 2002 funds for a cooperative agreement program for Domestic Violence Prevention Enhancement and Leadership Through Alliances (DELTA) Program. This program addresses the "Healthy People 2010" focus area of Injury and Violence Prevention.

The purpose of the program is to stimulate the development and implementation of activities to prevent domestic violence that can be integrated into coordinated community responses (CCRs) or similar community-based collaborations at the state and local level. Specifically, the DELTA program seeks to add a significant prevention focus to the existing CCR model by funding state domestic violence coalitions who will act as intermediary organizations in providing prevention-focused technical assistance, training, and funding to local communities. For the purposes of this announcement, activities to prevent domestic violence are defined as population-based and/or environmental/system level services, policies and actions that prevent domestic violence from initially occurring and require a community level process to identify and implement. These activities to prevent domestic violence will be referred to as 'prevention enhancements' throughout the remainder of this announcement.

Measurable outcomes of the program will be in alignment with the following performance goal for the National Center for Injury Prevention and Control (NCIPC): Reduce violence against women.

B. Authority and Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance Number

This program is authorized under sections 301(a), 317(k)(2), 318 and 391-394 of the Public Health Service Act, (42 U.S.C. 241(a), 247b(k)(2), and 280b-280b-2), as amended. The Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance number is 93.136.

C. Eligible Applicants

Assistance will be provided only to state domestic violence coalitions (as designated by the Administration on Children and Families of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services) that qualify as private nonprofit organizations. Competition is being limited to state domestic violence coalitions that qualify as private nonprofit organizations due to the legislative language. Where appropriate, state domestic violence coalitions are encouraged to partner with other state-level organizations (i.e. state level advisory councils) that also have significant responsibility for the domestic violence prevention and intervention services or policy at the state level. Only one application per state will be awarded.

Public Law 104-65 states that an organization described in section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 which engages in lobbying activities shall not be eligible for the receipt of Federal funds constituting an award, grant, contract, loan, or any other form.

D. Availability of Funds

Approximately $2.6 million is available in FY 2002 to fund approximately ten awards. There will be approximately three awards for states with populations of more than ten million as determined by the 2000 Census. These three awards are expected to average $400,000, ranging from $350,000 to $500,000. There will be approximately seven awards for states with populations less than ten million people as determined by the 2000 Census. These seven awards are expected to average $200,000, ranging from $150,000 to $300,000. Applicants can access the web address <http://quickfacts.census.gov>, to determine if their state has a population of more than or less than ten million people. It is expected that the awards will begin on or about September 30, 2002, and will be made for a 12-month budget period within a project period of up to three years. Funding estimates may change.

Matching funds are not required for this program.

Continuation awards within an approved project period will be made on the basis of satisfactory progress as evidenced by required reports and the availability of funds.

1. Use of Funds

Throughout the project period (Years one, two, & three), recipients may annually retain up to 25 percent of the DELTA program award for staff and administrative expenses required to support cooperative agreement tasks including the purchase of computer hardware and software. Applicants may enter into contractual agreements to purchase goods and services, or to support cooperative agreement activities, but the applicant must retain proper stewardship over funds and responsibility for tasks associated with the project. DELTA Program cooperative agreement funds may not be used to supplant current applicant expenditures. Budgets for the first year should include travel costs for two cooperative agreement staff to attend one two-day and two three-day planning meetings in Atlanta with CDC staff, other cooperative agreement recipients, and the evaluation contractor. The first planning meeting will take place within 45 days of the award and will focus on the development of core components for the needs assessment, inventory, and sub-award application. The second meeting will take place approximately six months after the award and will focus on reports from state domestic violence coalitions regarding the results of the completed needs assessment, inventory, and sub-award process and development of the cross-site evaluation. Therefore, it will be extremely important that the state domestic violence coalitions who are awarded funding from this cooperative agreement are able to complete these tasks in the allotted time frame. The third planning meeting will take place in the 12th month of the award. Planning meetings will also provide an opportunity for state domestic violence coalitions to share their expertise, for CDC to provide technical support, and for collaboration on the cross-site evaluation of the DELTA Program.

The remaining 75 percent of annual DELTA Program funds should be awarded to private non-profit organizations working to develop or maintain coordinated community responses to domestic violence in local communities. These local community recipients may use DELTA Program funds to establish prevention enhancements to the CCR model in their local communities. In granting sub-awards, strong consideration should be given by cooperative agreement recipients to geographical (rural vs.

urban) diversity within the state, ethnic diversity within the state, and diversity of developmental stages of the local CCRs.

The use of DELTA program funds for the development and production of new educational materials, media campaigns or curricula is prohibited without explicit approval. If requested, approvals will be contingent upon a demonstration of specific community need, identification of the intended community impact and a demonstration of an exhaustive exploration of the available national, state, and local materials and resources.

The first budget period (Year one) will serve as a planning period during which the state domestic violence coalitions will collaborate with the CDC staff from both NCIPC and the Office of Program Planning and Evaluation (OPPE), as well as the CDC-selected evaluation contractor on conducting an environmental scan of coordinated community responses in each state, the development of the DELTA Program's prevention enhancements, the cross-site evaluation of the DELTA Program, and the schedule of activities for the remaining DELTA Program project period.

Development and implementation of the prevention enhancements are expected to be primary activities throughout the project period. Planning and coordination of activities with other DELTA Program cooperative agreement recipients and the CDC is expected throughout the three-year project period.

2. Funding Preferences

The authorizing statute, 42 U.S.C. 10418, requires that funding shall be awarded to organizations that are geographically dispersed throughout the country. Therefore, an important consideration for funding under this announcement is a national geographic balance among the awards.

E. Program Requirements

In conducting activities to achieve the purpose of this program, the recipient will be responsible for the activities under 1. Recipient Activities, and CDC will be responsible for the activities listed under 2. CDC Activities. Applicants are encouraged to consult the Program Guidance greater clarification of these activities.
