If no timely comments are received in response to this document, the Bureau will terminate its OPEB investigation in CC Docket No. 94-65, and CC Docket No. 93-193 without further action. Finally, the Bureau directs Verizon Communications to submit its direct case to demonstrate that OPEB related costs incurred prior to January 1, 1993 are eligible for exogenous treatment.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This is a summary of the Commission's Order, Notice, and Erratum; CC Docket Nos. 93-193 and 94-157; adopted and released February 25, 2003. In December 1990, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) adopted SFAS-106. For companies that follow generally accepted accounting principles, SFAS-106 established new financial accounting and reporting requirements for accounting periods beginning after December 15, 1992, for any employer offering postretirement benefits other than pensions to its employees. This category of benefits, OPEBs, typically consists of health and dental care benefits and life insurance.

On May 4, 1992, the Bureau released Responsible Accounting Officer Letter No. 20 (RAO 20) (7 FCC Rcd 2872) to provide carriers with accounting and ratemaking instructions for OPEBs in a manner consistent with SFAS-106. RAO 20 directed the LECs to exclude accrued OPEB liabilities recorded in USOA Account 4310 from their interstate rate base and to include prepaid OPEB benefits recorded in USOA Account 1410 in their interstate rate base.

After the Bureau required AT&T and the LECs to conform their regulatory accounting practices to SFAS-106, several LECs subject to price cap regulation filed tariff transmittals in 1992 that sought exogenous treatment for the change in OPEB costs. The Bureau suspended the 1992 transmittals for five months and set them for investigation. (See 7 FCC Rcd 2724 (1992)) The Bureau made all price cap regulated LECs subject to this investigation. On January 22, 1993, in its OPEB Order (8 FCC Rcd 1024 (1993)), the Commission terminated the investigation and denied the LECs' requests for exogenous treatment of OPEBs.

On July 12, 1994, the U.S. Court of Appeals for District of Columbia Circuit reversed and remanded the OPEB Order, concluding that changes in LEC OPEB costs caused by the implementation of SFAS-106 were eligible for exogenous treatment under the Commission's then existing rules. (See Southwestern Bell Telephone Company v. FCC, 28 F.3d 165 (D.C. Cir. 1994)). Because the carriers had withdrawn the tariffs that were the subject of the OPEB Order, and no tariffs remained pending in the remanded CC Docket No. 92-101, the Commission vacated the OPEB Order and terminated the CC Docket No. 92-101 proceeding. (See 10 FCC Rcd 11821 (1995)). The SFAS-106 created two categories of OPEB expenses, "ongoing amounts" and the "transitional benefit obligation" (TBO). The "ongoing amount" represents the yearly expense that a firm recognizes as its current employees earn benefits that will be paid after they retire. SFAS-106 also requires companies to recognize on their financial records the amount of their unfunded obligation for OPEBs to
