

of production-based normal value. In addition, we discovered during our analysis of Primera Harvest's September 17, 2004, ministerial error allegation that we inadvertently did not include in Primera Harvest's verification report a correction noted with respect to the respondent's reported can and lid weights. (See page 1 of verification exhibit 6A of Primera Harvest's verification report entitled Verification of the Response of Primera Harvest (Xiangfan) Co., Ltd. in the Sixth Antidumping Duty New Shipper Review of Certain Preserved Mushrooms from the People's Republic of China.) Furthermore, we failed to account for this correction in our final margin program for Primera Harvest. Because this additional clerical error was not raised by the parties during the ministerial error comment period, on September 28, 2004, we provided parties with an opportunity to comment on it. No parties submitted comments on the additional clerical error noted above. For a detailed discussion of the ministerial errors, as well as the Department's analysis, see the memorandum to Louis Apple from the Team, dated September 28, 2004.

Therefore, in accordance with section 751(h) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.224(e), we are amending the final results of the 2002–2003 antidumping duty new shipper review of the order on certain preserved mushrooms from the PRC. The revised dumping margin is as follows:

Exporter/manufacturer	Original final margin percentage	Revised final margin percentage
Primera Harvest (Xiangfan) Co., Ltd	82.22	67.79

We will notify U.S. Customs and Border Protection ("CBP") of the revised cash deposit rate for Primera Harvest.

Scope of the Order

The products covered by the order are certain preserved mushrooms whether imported whole, sliced, diced, or as stems and pieces. The preserved mushrooms covered under the order are the species Agaricus bisporus and Agaricus bitorquis. "Preserved mushrooms" refer to mushrooms that have been prepared or preserved by cleaning, blanching, and sometimes slicing or cutting. These mushrooms are then packed and heated in containers including but not limited to cans or glass jars in a suitable liquid medium, including but not limited to water, brine, butter or butter sauce. Preserved mushrooms may be imported whole, sliced, diced, or as stems and pieces. Included within the scope of the order are "brined" mushrooms, which are presalted and packed in a heavy salt solution to provisionally preserve them for further processing.

Excluded from the scope of the order are the following: (1) All other species of mushroom, including straw mushrooms; (2) all fresh and chilled mushrooms, including "refrigerated" or "quick blanched mushrooms"; (3) dried mushrooms; (4) frozen mushrooms; and (5) "marinated," "acidified" or "pickled" mushrooms, which are prepared or preserved by means of vinegar or acetic acid, but may contain oil or other additives.²

² On June 19, 2000, the Department affirmed that "marinated," "acidified," or "pickled" mushrooms containing less than 0.5 percent acetic acid are within the scope of the antidumping duty order. See "Recommendation Memorandum—Final Ruling of Request by Tak Fat, et al. for Exclusion of Certain Marinated, Acidified Mushrooms from the Scope of the Antidumping Duty Order on Certain Preserved

The merchandise subject to the order is currently classifiable under subheadings 2003.10.0027, 2003.10.0031, 2003.10.0037, 2003.10.0043, 2003.10.0047, 2003.10.0053, and 0711.90.4000 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS). Although the HTSUS subheadings are provided for convenience and customs purposes, the written description of the scope of the order is dispositive.

These amended final results of this new shipper review and notice are in accordance with sections 751(h) and 777(i) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.224(e).

Dated: October 19, 2004.

Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Instrument

Pursuant to section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Pub. L. 89–651; 80 Stat. 897; 15 CFR part 301), we invite comments on the question of whether an instrument of equivalent scientific value, for the purposes for which the instrument shown below is intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States.

Comments must comply with 15 CFR 301.5(a)(3) and (4) of the regulations and be filed within 20 days with the Statutory Import Programs Staff, U.S.

Mushrooms from the People's Republic of China," dated June 19, 2000.

Department of Commerce, Washington, DC 20230. Applications may be examined between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. in Suite 4100W, U.S. Department of Commerce, Franklin Court Building, 1099 14th Street, NW., Washington, DC.

Docket Number: 04–019. Applicant: Texas A & M Research Foundation, 3578 TAMU—Dulie Bell Bldg., College Station, TX 77843–3578. Instrument: Scanning Hall Probe Microscope. Manufacturer: NanoMagnetics Instruments Ltd., United Kingdom.

Intended Use: The instrument is intended to be used to investigate:

1. The magnetic field properties of mesoscopically patterned thin films and nanostructured clusters of single magnet molecules for use as dense magnetic memories and in quantum computing.
2. The influence of periodic or randomly varying magnetic fields on the properties of thin films of superconductors, ordinary conductors, semiconductors and other magnetic materials at temperatures as low as 2 K.
3. The development of magnetic microstructures for diamagnetic levitation and manipulation of small particles and droplets.

The Instrument will also be used in courses on microscale magnetic field properties. Application accepted by Commissioner of Customs: October 7, 2004.
