An electronic version of the public docket is available through EPA's electronic public docket and comment system, EPA Dockets. You may use EPA Dockets at <http://www.epa.gov/edocket/> to submit or view public comments, access the index listing of the contents of the official public docket, and to access those documents in the public docket that are available electronically. Once in the system, select "search," then key in the appropriate docket identification number.

It is important to note that EPA's policy is that public comments, whether submitted electronically or in paper, will be made available for public viewing in EPA's electronic public docket as EPA receives them and without change, unless the comment contains copyrighted material, CBI, or other information whose disclosure is restricted by statute. Information claimed as CBI and other information whose disclosure is restricted by statute is not included in the official public docket or in EPA's electronic public docket. EPA's policy is that copyrighted material, including copyrighted material contained in a public comment, will not be placed in EPA's electronic public docket but will be available only in printed, paper form in the official public docket. Although not all docket materials may be available electronically, you may still access any of the publicly available docket materials through the EPA Docket Center.

B. How and to Whom Do I Submit Comments?

You may submit comments as provided in the ADDRESSES section. Please ensure that your comments are submitted within the specified comment period. Comments received after the close of the comment period will be marked "late." EPA is not required to consider these late comments.

If you submit an electronic comment, EPA recommends that you include your name, mailing address, and an e-mail address or other contact information in the body of your comment and with any disk or CD-ROM you submit. This ensures that you can be identified as the submitter of the comment and allows EPA to contact you in case EPA cannot read your comment due to technical difficulties or needs further information on the substance of your comment. Any identifying or contact information provided in the body of a comment will be included as part of the comment that is placed in the official public docket, and made available in EPA's electronic public docket. If EPA cannot read your comment due to technical difficulties and cannot contact you for clarification, EPA may not be able to consider your comment.

Your use of EPA's electronic public docket to submit comments to EPA electronically is EPA's preferred method for receiving comments. The electronic public docket system is an "anonymous access" system, which means EPA will not know your identity, e-mail address, or other contact information unless you provide it in the body of your comment. In contrast to EPA's electronic public docket, EPA's electronic mail (e-mail) system is not an "anonymous access" system. If you send an e-mail comment directly to the Docket without going through EPA's electronic public docket, your e-mail address is automatically captured and included as part of the comment that is placed in the official public docket, and made available in EPA's electronic public docket.

D. How Should I Submit CBI to the Agency?

Do not submit information that you consider to be CBI electronically through EPA's electronic public docket or by e-mail. You may claim information that you submit to EPA as CBI by marking any part or all of that information as CBI (if you submit CBI on disk or CD ROM, mark the outside of the disk or CD ROM as CBI and then identify electronically within the disk or CD ROM the specific information that is CBI). Information so marked will not be disclosed except in accordance with procedures set forth in 40 CFR part 2.

In addition to one complete version of the comment that includes any information claimed as CBI, a copy of the comment that does not contain the information claimed as CBI must be submitted for inclusion in the public docket and EPA's electronic public docket. If you submit the copy that does not contain CBI on disk or CD ROM, mark the outside of the disk or CD ROM clearly that it does not contain CBI. Information not marked as CBI will be included in the public docket and EPA's electronic public docket without prior notice. If you have any questions about CBI or the procedures for claiming CBI, please consult the person listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT.

E. What Should I Consider as I Prepare My Comments for EPA?

You may find the following suggestions helpful for preparing your comments:

1. Explain your views as clearly as possible.
2. Describe any assumptions that you used.
3. Provide copies of any technical information and/or data you used that support your views.
4. If you estimate potential burden or costs, explain how you arrived at the estimate that you provide.
5. Provide specific examples to illustrate your concerns.
6. Make sure to submit your comments by the deadline in this notice.
7. To ensure proper receipt by EPA, be sure to identify the docket ID number assigned to this action in the subject line on the first page of your response. You may also provide the name, date, and Federal Register citation.

II. What Action is the Agency Taking?

EPA has received a pesticide petition as follows proposing the establishment and/or amendment of regulations for residues of a certain pesticide chemical in or on various food commodities under section 408 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFDCA), 21 U.S.C. 346a. EPA has determined that this petition contains data or information regarding the elements set forth in FFDCA section 408(d)(2); however, EPA has not fully evaluated the sufficiency of the submitted data at this time or whether the data support granting of the petition. Additional data may be needed before EPA rules on the petition.

List of Subjects

Dated: November 4, 2004.

Lois Rossi,

Director, Registration Division, Office of Pesticide Programs.

Summary of Petition

The petitioner summary of the pesticide petition is printed below as required by FFDCA section 408(d)(3). The summary of the petition was prepared by the petitioner and represents the view of the petitioner. The petition summary announces the availability of a description of the analytical methods available to EPA for the detection and measurement of the pesticide chemical residues or an explanation of why no such method is needed.

Colarome Inc.

PP 4E6851

EPA has received a pesticide petition (4E6851) from Colarome Inc., 5132 Bombardier Street, St. Hubert (Quebec), Canada J3Z1H1 proposing, pursuant to section 408(d) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFDCA), 21 U.S.C. 346a(d), to amend 40 CFR part 180, to establish an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance for Red Cabbage Color when used as an inert ingredient (visual pH indicator) in pesticide formulations applied to growing crops or raw agricultural commodities after harvest (§ 180.910), animals (§ 180.930) and, antimicrobial formulations (food-contact surface sanitizing solutions; § 180.940a). EPA has determined that the petition contains data or information regarding the elements set forth in section 408(d)(2) of the FFDCA; however, EPA has not fully evaluated the sufficiency of the submitted data at this time or whether the data supports granting of the petition. Additional data may be needed before EPA rules on the petition.

Colarome believes that the information described below is adequate to ascertain the toxicology and characterize the risk associated with the use of red cabbage color as an inert ingredient in pesticide formulations applied to growing crops and raw agricultural commodities after harvest, animals and antimicrobial formulations (food-contact surface sanitizing solutions).

1. Intended use of the red cabbage color concentrate: The red cabbage color will be used as an inert ingredient (visual pH indicator) in pesticide formulations applied to growing crops and raw agricultural commodities after harvest. It is manufactured as a concentrate with a minimal color value of 1,600 absorbency units (determined by spectrophotometry at 535 nm after the appropriate dilution in McIlvaine buffer at pH 3.0). The recommended usage level of the red cabbage color concentrate is less than 1%, i.e., less than 16 absorbency units. The red cabbage color concentrate contains diluents to ensure stability of the color principles and to prevent microbial spoilage. All formulations contain 2% citric acid and 18% of propylene glycol or glycerine or ethyl alcohol depending on user preference.

2. Technical background information:

The coloring principles of red cabbage heads belong to a class of plant pigments called anthocyanins. Anthocyanins are almost ubiquitous in the plant kingdom, being responsible for most of the red, blue and purple colors of fruits, flowers and vegetables. It is a very diverse class of molecules with over 300 structures having been identified to date. The anthocyanin molecule consists of two or three portions: a flavilium nucleus (the chromophore), a group of sugars and, sometimes, a group of acyl acids. In red cabbage heads, the flavilium nucleus of anthocyanins is cyanidin. Most contain two sugar moieties, i.e., glucose or sophorose in position 3 of cyanidin and glucose in position 5 of cyanidin. A substantial proportion of red cabbage anthocyanins possess a sugar moiety in position 3 which is acylated with one or two acyl radicals. The large proportion of mono- and di-acylated anthocyanins of red cabbage is responsible for the exceptionally-high shelf stability and for providing a wide array of hues depending on the pH from pinkish red at acidic pH to blue at neutral pH. More information on red cabbage color is publicly available at www.colarome.com. Owing to their unique properties, red cabbage anthocyanins can serve as a visual pH indicator of natural origin for various plant-applied products.

3. Safety: Cabbage (Brassica oleracea L.) is a common vegetable which is eaten safely as fresh, cooked, marinated in vinegar (cole slaw) or fermented (sauerkraut). The red cabbage color concentrate to be utilized as a visual pH indicator, is obtained from fresh, edible heads and is manufactured under conditions which minimize the alteration of cabbage components and which prevent microbial spoilage. The stability of the red cabbage color concentrate has been demonstrated for periods of more than 2 years in a cold room.

Results of microbiological analysis are:

- Total aerobic count / grams (g): < 50 Colony Forming Units (CFU)

- Yeasts / g: < 10 CFU
- Molds / g: < 10 CFU
- Coliforms / g most probable number (MPN): < 3 CFU
 - E. coli / g (MPN): < 3 CFU
 - Staphylococcus aureus / 10 g: < 10 CFU
- Salmonella / 25 g: absent

The recommended usage level of the red cabbage color as a visual pH indicator is less than 1%. The color value of a 1% solution of the red cabbage color is 16 absorbency units (determined by spectrophotometry at 535 nm after dilution in McIlvaine buffer at pH 3.0). Here, the color principles (and other red cabbage components) are less than those which are typically contained in an unprocessed red cabbage juice.

At a 1% usage level of the red cabbage color concentrate, the level of solvents and citric acid that are contained in the color concentrate are in line with current good manufacturing practice (cGMP) for foods. In particular, propylene glycol is at a level of 0.18%, i.e., more than 10-fold lower than the level set by cGMP for foods other than alcoholic beverages, confectionery and frostings, seasoning and flavouring, nuts and nut products for which higher levels are permitted.
