

safety and effectiveness of the device. This draft guidance document serves as the special control to support the reclassification from class III to class II of the automated blood cell separator device operating on a centrifugal separation principle intended for the routine collection of blood and blood components; and, serves as the special control for the filtration-based device with the same intended use reclassified as class II in the Federal Register of February 28, 2003 (68 FR 9530).

For currently marketed products not approved under the premarket approval (PMA) process, the manufacturer should file with FDA for 3 consecutive years an annual report on the anniversary date of the device reclassification from Class III to Class II or, on the anniversary date of the 510(k) clearance. Any subsequent change to the device requiring the submission of a premarket notification in accordance with section 510(k) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (the act) (21 U.S.C. 360) should be included in the annual report. Also, a manufacturer of a device determined to be substantially equivalent to the centrifugal or filtration-based automated blood cell separator device intended for the routine collection of blood and blood components, should comply with the same general and special controls.

The annual report should include, at a minimum, a summary of anticipated and unanticipated donor adverse device events that have occurred, such as those required under (§ 606.160(b)(1)(iii))¹ 21 CFR 606.160(b)(1)(iii)¹ to be recorded and maintained by the facility using the device to collect blood and blood components, and that might not be reported by manufacturers under Medical Device Reporting (MDR). Also, equipment failures, including software, hardware, and disposable item failures² should be reported. The reporting of adverse device events summarized in an annual report will alert FDA to trends or clusters of events that might be a safety issue otherwise unreported under the MDR regulation.

Reclassification of this device from class III to class II for the intended use of routine collection of blood and blood components will relieve manufacturers of the burden of complying with the premarket approval requirements of section 515 of the act (21 U.S.C. 360e), and may permit small potential competitors to enter the marketplace by reducing the burden. Although the special control guidance document recommends that manufacturers of these devices file with FDA an annual report for three consecutive years, this would be less burdensome than the current postapproval requirements under part 814, subpart E (21 CFR part 814, subpart E), including the submission of periodic reports under § 814.84.

Collecting or transfusing facilities, and manufacturers have certain responsibilities under the CFR. Among others, collecting or transfusing facilities are required to maintain records of any reports of complaints of adverse reactions (§ 606.170), while the manufacturer is responsible for conducting an investigation of each event that is reasonably known to the manufacturer and evaluating the cause of the event § 803.50(b)(2) (21 CFR 803.50(b)(2)). In the draft guidance document, we recommend that manufacturers include in their three annual reports a summary of adverse reactions maintained by the collecting or transfusing facility or similar reports of adverse events collected in addition to those required under the MDR regulation.

FDA estimates the burden of this collection of information as follows:

TABLE 1.—ESTIMATED ANNUAL REPORTING BURDEN¹

	Number of Respondents	Annual Frequency per Response	Total Annual Responses	Hours per Response	Total Hours
Annual Report	4	1	4	5	20

¹There are no capital costs or operating and maintenance costs associated with this collection of information.

Based on FDA records, there are approximately four manufacturers of automated blood cell separator devices. We estimate that the manufacturers will spend approximately 5 hours preparing and submitting the annual report. The total annual burden of this collection of information is estimated at approximately 20 hours.

Other burden hours required for proposed 21 CFR 864.9245 are already reported and approved under OMB control number 0910-0120 (premarket notification submission 510(k), 21 CFR part 807, subpart E), and OMB control number 0910-0437 (MDR). Currently, manufacturers of medical devices are required to submit to FDA individual adverse event reports of death, serious injury, and malfunctions (§§ 803.50 and 803.53). The manufacturer is responsible for conducting an investigation of each event and evaluating the cause of the event (§ 803.50(b)(2)).

The reporting recommended in the special control guidance document broadens the information to be reported by manufacturers to FDA. Although the manufacturer's reporting burden is increased, the collection burden remains unchanged. We are recommending that the manufacturer submit annually, for 3 consecutive years, a summary of all adverse events, including those reported under part 803. The Mandatory MedWatch Reporting Form 3500A: Codes Manual, contains a comprehensive list of adverse events associated with device use, including most of those events that we recommend summarizing in the annual report.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Office of Inspector General

Program Exclusions: February 2005

AGENCY: Office of Inspector General, HHS.

ACTION: Notice of program exclusions.

During the month of February 2005, the HHS Office of Inspector General imposed exclusions in the cases set forth below. When an exclusions is reaction complaints and reports, including results of all investigations and followup."

imposed, no program payment is made to anyone for any items or services (other than an emergency item or service not provided in a hospital emergency room) furnished, ordered or prescribed by an excluded party under the Medicare, Medicaid, and all Federal Health Care programs. In addition, no program payment is made to any business or facility, e.g., a hospital, that submits bills for payment for items or services provided by an excluded party. Program beneficiaries remain free to decide for themselves whether they will continue to use the services of an excluded party even though no program payments will be made for items and services provided by that excluded party. The exclusions have national effect and also apply to all Executive Branch procurement and non-procurement programs and activities.
