Rules and Regulations

Federal Register

Vol. 70, No. 126

Friday, July 1, 2005

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains regulatory documents having general applicability and legal effect, most of which are keyed to and codified in the Code of Federal Regulations, which is published under 50 titles pursuant to 44 U.S.C. 1510.

The Code of Federal Regulations is sold by the Superintendent of Documents. Prices of new books are listed in the first FEDERAL REGISTER issue of each week.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

RIN 3150-AH44

Export and Import of Radioactive Materials: Security Policies

AGENCY: Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) is amending its regulations pertaining to the export and import of radioactive materials. The amendments implement recent changes to the nuclear and radioactive material security policies of both the Commission and the Executive Branch. The final rule takes into account provisions in the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) Code of Conduct on the Safety and Security of Radioactive Sources (Code of Conduct) concerning the import and export of radioactive sources, and the supplemental IAEA Guidance on the Import and Export of Radioactive Sources (Guidance document) on internationally harmonized guidance for the import and export of radioactive sources. The amendments provide for enhanced tracking of certain exports and imports of radioactive sealed sources and bulk material for certain radionuclides. The amended regulation includes new specific export and import license requirements, advance notification procedures prior to shipment, verification of the recipient facility's licensing status, and review of the adequacy of the receiving country's controls on radioactive sources. The amendments apply to a small number of radioactive materials when exported or imported in amounts exceeding clearly defined International System (SI) limits. The amended regulation provides the Commission with flexibility to treat each export and import license application on a case-by-case basis, with the ability to accommodate the still evolving domestic and international security measures for radioactive material.

DATES: This final rule becomes effective on December 28, 2005, to allow a period of six months for exporters and importers to apply for and receive required specific export and import licenses.

ADDRESSES: Copies of the final rule, the regulatory analysis, public comments received and related documents may be examined on public computers and copied for a fee at the NRC's Public Document Room (PDR), located at One White Flint North, 11555 Rockville Pike, Public File Area O1F21, Rockville, Maryland. These documents are also available electronically at the NRC's Public Electronic Reading Room on the Internet at <http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/adams.html>. From this site, the public can gain entry into the NRC's Agencywide Document Access and Management System (ADAMS), which provides text and image files of NRC's public documents. For further information contact the PDR reference staff at 1 (800) 387-4209, (301) 415-4737 or by e-mail to pdr@nrc.gov. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background and Summary

On September 16, 2004, the NRC published in the Federal Register a proposed rule that would amend 10 CFR part 110 pertaining to the export and import of nuclear material and equipment (69 FR 55785). The NRC is now issuing a final rule based on the comments received on the proposed rule. This final rule takes into account the results of the NRC's comprehensive review of nuclear and radioactive material security requirements in the post-September 11, 2001 environment and the resulting Orders issued to domestic licensees of the NRC and Agreement States under the Commission's authority under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (AEA), to assure the common defense and security. The Orders are separate from this rulemaking and remain in effect for domestic shipments. The final rule codifies provisions in the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) Code of Conduct on the Safety and Security of Radioactive Sources (Code of Conduct) for the import and export of radioactive material, and the supplemental IAEA Guidance on the Import and Export of Radioactive Sources (Guidance document). Paragraphs 23-29 of the Code of Conduct are intended to guide countries in the development and harmonization of policies and laws on certain exports and imports of radioactive sources, which if handled improperly, may pose a significant risk to individuals, society and the environment, to ensure that such sources are only exported to authorized end-users in countries with adequate regulatory controls, and that they are not diverted for illicit use. The U.S. and many other countries have politically committed to follow the Guidance contained in the Code of Conduct and Guidance document, which were each approved by the IAEA Board of Governors in 2003 and endorsed by the IAEA General Conference in 2004. The final rule also goes beyond the Code of Conduct and its Guidance document in the area of bulk material to reflect the post September 11, 2001 security policies of the Commission and the Executive Branch. Material in "bulk" or "loose" form raises security concerns that equal or exceed those for material in sealed sources.

The specific radioactive material and quantities that will be covered by this final rule are listed in Table 1 of the new Appendix P to part 110. Table 1 is essentially identical to the list of radioactive materials in Categories 1 and 2 in Annex 1, Table 1, of the Code of Conduct. The amendments to part 110 require NRC authorization of certain exports and imports by specific license of radioactive material at the Category 2 level and above of the IAEA Code of Conduct and the Guidance document which may pose a significant risk to individuals, society and the environment if handled improperly. Exports and imports of these radioactive materials will take place with prior notification to the NRC and the importing country authority. Exports of Category 1 quantities of such material will require the consent of the government of the importing country prior to shipment.¹ While prior notification of the importing government authority may originate from either the exporting licensee or exporting government authority, consent to the import of Category 1 material is to be provided on a government to government basis. The NRC will not issue a license for Category 1 exports prior to receiving consent from the importing government. In cases where the recipient does not have an authorization to possess the radioactive material and/or the importing country does not have the technical and administrative capability, resources, and regulatory structure needed to ensure that the radioactive source will be managed in a manner consistent with the provisions of the Code of Conduct, the NRC may, at its discretion, authorize an export of Category 1 and 2 radioactive material in cases of exceptional circumstances, as defined in § 110.2. Category 1 and 2 exports will not be permitted under exceptional circumstances unless the government of the importing state provides its consent to the United States Government for the import.

Although the provision for "exceptional circumstances" in the Guidance document applies to both imports and exports, this final rule will only address such circumstances as they apply to exports. This is because the U.S. has the technical and administrative capability, resources and regulatory structure needed to ensure that radioactive sources will be managed in the United States in a manner consistent with the provisions of the Code of Conduct, and to ensure that the domestic recipient is authorized to receive and possess the source under U.S. national law.

With the exception of plutonium, the radioactive materials listed in Appendix P, Table 1, are categorized as byproduct material as defined in the AEA. Although radium-226 is encompassed by the Code of Conduct, it is not listed in Appendix P, Table 1, or covered by the scope of this final rule because, as a naturally occurring radioactive material, under the AEA, it is not under the jurisdiction of the NRC. The Department of Commerce regulates the export of radium-226. The NRC is seeking legislation from Congress that will confer upon it licensing jurisdiction over discrete sources of radium-226. Should that legislation be enacted, the NRC will amend its export and import regulations in a manner consistent with the Code.

It should be noted that yttrium-90 has been added to Appendix P, Table 1, as a decay product of strontium-90, consistent with Annex 1, Table 1 of the Code of Conduct. Also, the final rule makes clear that the threshold amounts in Table 1 are specified by terabequerels (TBq). Curie values are provided by NRC for informational purposes only, since the values have been rounded after conversion. Any conversion to the curie must still meet the TBq limit. Appendix P also prescribes the methodology, "sum of fractions," to be used for calculating the shipment of bulk material and/or multiple radionuclides. This methodology is used in 10 CFR part 71, Appendix A, for calculating the transport of multiple radionuclides. The requirements described in this final rule apply to all identified licensees, both NRC and Agreement State.

Consistent with the scope of part 110, this rule does not apply to the Departments of Defense and Energy for activities authorized by sections 54, 64, 82 and 91 of the AEA, except when the Department of Energy seeks an export license under section 111 of the AEA (see § 110.1(b)(1)). In addition, paragraph F.5 of the Guidance document notes that "States should construe this non-legally binding Guidance in accordance with activities furthering non-proliferation, nuclear security, and the avoidance of malicious acts using radioactive sources."

Exports. Under the AEA and 10 CFR part 110, the principal criterion for approving exports of the materials listed in Appendix P is a finding that the export is not inimical to the common defense and security of the United States. The non-inimicality finding is relevant to both the nuclear proliferation significance of exports and the related security concerns about radioactive material falling into the hands of non-country organizations, including terrorist groups. In making its inimicality determination, the Commission will, under the rule and consistent with the Guidance document, and in consultation with the Executive Branch, consider whether the importing country has the technical and administrative capability and the resources and regulatory structure to manage the radioactive material in a safe and secure manner, and has authorized the recipient to receive and possess this material. For proposed exports of Category 1 amounts of radioactive material listed in Appendix P, the Commission will also assess whether the government of the importing country has provided its consent to the import. For both Category 1 and Category 2 exports, the Commission will require the applicant for the export license to provide the NRC with pertinent documentation demonstrating that the recipient of the radioactive material has the necessary authorization under the laws and regulations of the importing country to receive and possess the material.

The Code of Conduct and the Guidance document provide for exports and imports in situations where a potential recipient lacks the necessary authorization to receive and possess the radioactive material, or where a receiving country is lacking in technical and administrative capability, resources, or regulatory structure, under "exceptional circumstances." The Commission has considered that guidance in preparation of this final rule, and therefore will consider as part of its overall inimicality determination whether the export qualifies as an "exceptional circumstance." In such a case, the Commission will also consider whether the government of the importing country has provided its consent to the import of Category 1 or Category 2 amounts of radioactive material.

In examining these and other factors that may be pertinent to assessing whether the proposed export will be inimical to the U.S. common defense and security, the Commission will, as appropriate, seek the advice of the Executive Branch and will take into account information it receives as part of regular interactions with its foreign regulatory counterparts, the IAEA, and the Executive Branch. If, after considering the above information, the Commission authorizes the export, then export licensees will be required to provide prior notification of individual shipments to the importing country authority and to the NRC.

Imports. For imports, the licensing criteria are non-inimicality to the U.S. common defense and security and a finding that the import does not constitute an unreasonable risk to the public health and safety. The final rule incorporates the Guidance document's criteria for making these determinations. Since all recipients in the U.S. must be properly authorized by the NRC, an Agreement State, or the Department of Energy to receive and possess such radioactive material, import licenses under NRC's licensing authority of radioactive material will simply require that the recipient licensee provide (1) a copy of its authorization to the exporter or exporting country authority (or alternatively that the NRC confirm to the exporting country's authority that the U.S. recipient is authorized to receive and possess the radioactive material), (2) prior notification to the NRC of individual shipments, and (3) pertinent documentation to the NRC that each recipient of the radioactive material has the necessary authorization to possess this material. For proposed imports into the U.S. of Category 1 amounts of radioactive material, specified in Appendix P to Part 110, the Commission will be responsible for providing the necessary formal U.S. Government consent to the export authority of the exporting country.

Flexibility. The Commission will evaluate each license application on a case-by-case basis, but may exercise some discretion on whether a license may cover multiple shipments. For example, the Commission may wish to limit exports made to new recipients or to a country/destination with limited experience with its regulatory infrastructure to single shipments of radioactive material. On the other hand, for countries with mature regulatory infrastructures with known and competent recipients, the Commission intends to use the provisions of § 110.31(e) to issue broad specific export and import licenses for multiple radionuclides, shipments, and destinations and with authorizations valid for multiple years. The duration of the import or export authorization will be consistent with the expiration date of the recipient's authorization to receive and possess the radioactive material. In all cases, each shipment will require prior notification as discussed previously.

II. Comments on the Proposed Rule

On October 19, 2004, the staff held a public meeting at NRC to answer questions and address concerns about the proposed rule and how it would be implemented. A summary of the October 2004 public meeting and a list of questions and answers prepared by the NRC staff for discussion at the public meeting, are available on the NRC's rulemaking Web site at <http://ruleforum.llnl.gov> (ADAMS accession nos. ML043020582 and ML042930012, respectively). Another public meeting was held on February 16, 2005.

Written comments on the proposed rule were due to the NRC by November 30, 2004. The Commission received eighteen letters from the public commenting on the proposed rule. In general, the comments received related either to the scope of the rule or the effect of its implementation on licensees, from the potential for disruption of supply to the cost of fees required to obtain the new licenses that would be required.

Comment: With regard to comments on the scope of the proposed rule, several private individuals indicated that it is not broad enough because it does not address radiological safety or fully address security concerns due to the basic international decision to limit government imposed controls to exports and imports of Category 1 and 2 material, leaving Category 3 material uncontrolled.

For Category 3 material, comments suggested that the Commission should do three things: (1) Modify the current general export license by requiring the exporter to notify the NRC in advance of each shipment, (2) require that all exports under the general license be to specific end-users whose bona fides have been verified, and (3) differentiate among Category 3 exports by establishing subcategories of specific concern and authorizing exports under the general license to a limited number of countries.

Commenters also indicated that the final rule should require shipments of radioactive sources, and the devices containing them, to comply with standards for radiation safety and when applicable, for patient safety, prior to export. It should also require date and confirmation of receipt by the intended recipients of the radioactive sources scheduled for export, in order to complete the security linkage governing transfers.

NRC Response: While it is conceivable that additional security measures for Category 3 material are possible in the future, an attempt to achieve such enhanced controls would extensively delay the implementation of the final rule. At this time, there is no international export/import guidance relating to Category 3 sources. This issue was discussed at length during the meetings sponsored by the IAEA which led to the adoption of the Code of Conduct and the Guidance document. Balancing security and the need to provide a reliable and commercially viable radioactive source industry, the involved countries decided to limit internationally harmonized export/import controls to Category 1 and 2 sources. In so doing, the involved countries recognized the need for proper security for Category 3 sources, but concluded that such security measures could be adequately addressed by a combination of domestic safety/security regulatory oversight and by recognizing the overall competence of the radioactive source industry. Providing additional government authority over such material, without clear indications of wider government and industry support for such measures, would likely be counterproductive and harm the larger public interest by impeding international commerce in the use of Category 3 sources.

Confirmation of receipt by the intended recipients of the radioactive sources scheduled for export, in order to complete the security linkage governing transfers, is required in the recipient's certification to the licensee.

Comment: Several comments from industry indicated that the scope of the proposed rule should be relaxed for certain exports and imports being placed under specific license requirements to avoid potential supply disruptions. One commenter requested that exports of smoke detectors containing less than one microcurie of americium-241 be exempted from Part 110 licensing, and if this is not possible that it be exempted from specific license and the reporting requirements as listed in § 110.23(b). Several commenters requested that instead of requiring a specific license, that the following be allowed under general license: exports and imports of americium-241 and AmBe contained in industrial process control equipment or petroleum exploration equipment, to any country not listed in § 110.28 (embargoed destinations); the return or import of used sources to the U.S. exporter; the use of end-user statements instead of specific licenses; and the use by exporters/shippers of local quality assurance procedures to validate the legitimacy of the end user using standard business practices in accordance with already existing Customs requirements. Commenters suggested that, for Category 2 shipments, the regulations should allow e-mail notifications to NRC at the time of shipment, currently done under the Commission's Orders; and for Category 2 exports, the owner or licensee should be able to determine if the foreign recipient is properly authorized to receive material which is authorized by the Code of Conduct Guidance. Finally, it was suggested that the IAEA standard should be used for verifying suitability of an importing country instead of redundant assessments by multiple countries. In connection with this, the NRC should provide a list of countries which meet the suitability requirements.

NRC Response: While NRC is not excluding such byproduct material from Part 110 coverage, essentially all such exports are covered by the general licenses in § 110.23(a). Also, the reporting requirement for americium-241 in § 110.23(b) must remain due to a commitment among the U.S. Government and the governments of the United Kingdom, France, the Russian Federation and Japan to exchange annual reports of americium-241 and neptunium-237 as alternate nuclear materials.”

With regard to comments that favored the control of Category 2 shipments under the general license in § 110.23(a), the Commission has determined that its security policy for the export and import of Appendix P radioactive material will require specific export and import licenses, including Category 2 shipments.

In response to the Commission’s requirement of export and import licenses, and the public’s view that they will cause supply disruptions, NRC will employ a series of steps to prevent this scenario from developing. First, the NRC will issue specific licenses that are carefully crafted and contain appropriate conditions. Second, licenses can be issued for broad periods of time to multiple destinations. Third, staff resources in the Office of International Programs that were used in the development of this rule will be devoted to implementing it and reviewing the export and import license applications so that licenses can be issued on a timely basis. Fourth, to the extent possible, the NRC and Executive Branch will consider information from the importing countries, the IAEA, and other sources when deciding on whether to license an export to an importing country. Because there is no single set of criteria to determine whether an importing country has adequate regulatory controls, this assessment in most cases will rely on multiple sources of information. In that regard, the Commission plans to (1) initiate contacts with NRC’s foreign regulatory counterparts in key countries in an effort to obtain information on their capabilities in handling Appendix P radioactive material, and (2) obtain any publicly available information from the IAEA. Fifth, during the early stages of rule implementation, the Commission will rely on its authority to issue specific export licenses under the “exceptional circumstances” clause (as reflected in § 110.42(e)(3)), where appropriate, in order to avoid serious supply disruptions while at the same time being mindful of security concerns.

Comment: Several commenters indicated that the scope of the NRC proposed rule does not conform to the Code of Conduct because (1) it includes bulk material; (2) the threshold value or regulatory standard needs to be in metric units, or U.S. shipments will exceed international standards; (3) it requires a specific license instead of an authorization; and (4) the notification requirement is 10 days instead of 7. Other commenters were concerned as to the conformance of the export/import rule with domestic transportation regulations.

NRC Response: The Commission believes that shipments of bulk material need to be within the scope of this rule in the new security environment. While international guidance does not as yet cover such exports or imports, NRC does not anticipate any difficulty in the timely processing of such export or import requests since they are less frequent (compared to radioactive source exports and imports) and each request can be handled on a case-by-case basis with appropriate interaction between NRC, the importing country and the importing facility owner or licensee.

With regard to the regulatory standard, the final rule makes it clear that the threshold amounts in Table 1 of Appendix P are specified in the International System (SI) of weights and measures of TBq. Any conversion to curies must meet the SI or TBq limit. Therefore, curies cannot be rounded up if they violate that limit. Also, the 10-day prior notification period in the proposed rule in § 110.50(b)(4), is being changed to 7 days in the final rule, in conformance with the Guidance document. With regard to possible conflicts in the domestic transport of radioactive materials, NRC is closely monitoring requirements in the transportation area to ensure that there is no conflict. Conversely, any security-related enhancements in the domestic area may impact the Commission’s export/import regulations, not only as they pertain to Appendix P material, but also with respect to the NRC’s standard provisions for handling other exports (such as source and special nuclear material). The NRC is working with other agencies and the international community to address the issue of possible discrepancies between this rule and any future transportation standards.

Comment: Several comments concerned the potential cost of the many export and import licenses that would be required, and the cost of disrupting supply and commerce. Several commenters indicated that the NRC license fees are high and will drive some small companies out of business, because the fee and/or amendment request could prove more expensive than the source itself. They noted the lack of relief for small business entities. Additionally, commenters expressed concern that it would be necessary to apply for many NRC specific licenses for each foreign end user. A globally harmonized approach is needed to ensure a level playing field for commerce. Commenters argued that for radiography and oil well logging, particularly for producers and shippers of americium-241, AmBe, and iridium-192, a delay in receiving the source can jeopardize the project or critical safety inspections.

A number of comments pointed to the specific license requirements in the proposed rule, suggesting these would adversely affect commerce in the following ways. First, the commenters noted the estimated burden of 15 minutes per advance notification is inaccurate, and is expected to take 30 minutes or more. Second, the commenters noted the requirement to list all foreign end users on each export license application, if required for each new foreign customer, would exceed NRC’s domestic licensing regulations. Third, the commenters noted that new rule will require a potentially large number of licenses that will be required by the proposed rule, e.g., if a new license is required for each foreign end-user. Fourth, the commenters noted that there is a possible three- to four-month time period required to process each application which already exists with current part 110 procedures. Fifth, the commenters noted that there is uncertainty over whether a U.S. company doing business in another country will require a specific license that has been issued by the other country. Sixth, some countries issue import permits for each shipment, which could complicate the process of issuing the related NRC export license. Seventh, some countries may not be able to receive shipments from the U.S. because in that country the material is not regulated or there is no regulatory authority to implement the Code of Conduct.

NRC Response: To alleviate some of the concerns about the costs of this rule, the Commission intends to issue broad specific licenses which will allow spreading the licensing fees over several shipments. With regard to the burden estimate for submitting advance notifications to the NRC prior to shipment, comments received from industry during the Public Meeting of October 19, 2004, indicated that the estimated 15 minutes per advance notification will take closer to 30 minutes each. Therefore, in the final rule, the estimated burden for each advance notification to the NRC by the licensee is being changed to 30 minutes. In § 110.50 paragraph (b)(4) of the proposed rule, advance notifications were due to the NRC at least 24 hours in advance of each shipment, and to the extent practical, 10 days in advance of each shipment, consistent with comments received by the Commission in the development of the Commission Additional Security Measures (ASMs). In the final rule, “to the extent practical” has been adjusted downward to 7 days for consistency with the Guidance document. Hence, although the final rule requires at least 24-hours advance notification prior to shipment, such notifications under § 110.50(b)(4) are expected within 7 days, “to the extent practical.” Further, the U.S. is actively encouraging other countries to follow the Code of Conduct and Guidance document to harmonize import and export procedures. The NRC has the discretion to consider exceptional circumstances, defined in § 110.2, if a country does not have the regulatory structure needed to ensure that radioactive sources will be managed in a manner consistent with the Code of Conduct.

Comment: Several individuals indicated that the six-month implementation period is not long enough to provide adequate time for the U.S. and other governments to ensure that all end users are properly qualified and licensed to receive and possess the material. The commenters also pointed out that part 110 does not indicate what penalties are to be used to punish those countries which choose to violate NRC’s regulations.

NRC Response: NRC expects that the majority of new licenses required by the rule will be issued within the six-month period following its publication in the Federal Register, particularly to those entities in countries with known, competent nuclear regulatory systems. To address the issue of countries and/or end users that may have difficulty in meeting all the new requirements, the Commission can rely on certain “exceptional circumstances,” where present, as the basis for issuing export licenses.

The penalties to be applied for violating NRC’s export/import regulations are addressed in part 110, subpart F. The U.S. is actively encouraging other countries to follow the guidance in the Code of Conduct and Guidance document. It is to the advantage of all suppliers that the export and import procedures be applied in a harmonized manner to avoid undercutting and to help ensure a level playing field.

III. Section by Section Analysis of the Final Rule

Section 110.2. A definition of “exceptional circumstances” consistent with the Code of Conduct and Guidance document is being added to the final rule. Also, the definition of “specific activity” is being revised in the final rule to reflect the TBq SI unit as the regulatory standard. This will make part 110 consistent with the Commission’s 1996 metrication policy. Any conversion to curies must not exceed the TBq limit. New sources to be exported or imported under the general license will have to conform to the TBq limits by the time the final rule is implemented.

Subpart C—Licenses. The final rule requires specific licenses for all exports and imports of radioactive material listed in Table 1 of the new Appendix P to part 110, if the shipment amounts meet or exceed those listed.

Section 110.21. In paragraph (a)(4), the curie value is replaced by the SI unit of TBq to make § 110.21 consistent with the SI units used in Appendix P.

Section 110.22. In paragraph (a)(3), the curie value is replaced by the SI unit of TBq to make § 110.22 consistent with the SI units used in Appendix P.

Section 110.23. In paragraphs (a)(2), (3), (5), and (6) of this section, the curie and gram values are replaced by TBq to make these paragraphs consistent with the SI units used in Appendix P. In paragraph (a)(2), a sentence is added to indicate that individual shipments must be less than the TBq values specified in Category 2 of Appendix P to this part. In paragraph (a)(3), a sentence is added to require that individual shipments be less than the TBq values specified in Category 2 of Appendix P to this part. Paragraphs (a)(3) and (7) of the proposed rule are not being adopted. Proposed paragraph (a)(3) contained a drafting error which conflicts with the Nuclear Suppliers Group (NSG) Part 2 controls for certain alpha-emitting radionuclides. Proposed paragraph (a)(7) is no longer necessary because the sentences being added to paragraphs (a)(2) and (3) contain the relevant information.

Section 110.27. Paragraph (a) is revised to include a reference to the new paragraph (f) in this section. A new paragraph (f) is inserted that requires that individual import shipments of radioactive material listed in the new Appendix P to part 110 and conducted under the general license provisions of § 110.27(a) be below the amounts for Category 2.

Section 110.32. In paragraph (f)(1), the curie value is replaced with TBq to make this paragraph consistent with the SI units used in Appendix P. A new paragraph (g) describing the documentation that must accompany an import application for radioactive material listed in the new Appendix P is added. Also, a new paragraph (h) describing the documentation that must accompany an export license application for radioactive material listed in the new Appendix P is added.

Subpart D—Review of License Applications. Licensing criteria for radioactive material exports and imports, listed in Appendix P, are being added to this subpart.

Section 110.40. In paragraph (b)(6)(iv), the curie value is replaced with TBq to make this paragraph consistent with the SI units used in Appendix P.

Section 110.41. In paragraph (a)(3), the curie value is replaced with TBq to make this paragraph consistent with the SI units used in Appendix P.

Section 110.42. New paragraph (e) is added to specify the licensing criteria for the export of Category 1 and 2 shipments of radioactive material listed in the new Appendix P.

Section 110.43. New paragraphs (e) and (f) specify the licensing criteria for the import of radioactive material listed in the new Appendix P in amounts indicated for Categories 1 and 2.

Section 110.45. A new paragraph (b)(5) describes the requirements for issuing import licenses for the radioactive material listed in the new Appendix P in amounts specified in Categories 1 and 2. Also, the final rule rennumbers paragraphs (c) and (d) as paragraphs (d) and (e) and adds a new paragraph (c) that describes the appropriate steps that the U.S. Government will take to inform the exporting country that the recipient is authorized to receive and possess the source or sources to be exported.

Subpart E—License Terms and Related Provisions

Section 110.50. In accordance with the proposed rule, existing paragraph (a)(3) had the word “transport” added after the word “use.” Existing paragraphs (b)(4) and (b)(5) are redesignated as paragraphs (b)(5) and (b)(6) and a new paragraph (b)(4) is added to specify the advance notification requirements for the licensee exporting or importing material listed in Appendix P. Paragraph (b)(4) in the final rule differs from the proposed rule language in the following respects: (1) It is revised to indicate that a list of points of contact in the importing countries will be made available on the NRC Office of International Programs external Web site <http://www.nrc.gov>; (2) it is revised to indicate that the point of contact for receiving advance notifications for all export and import shipments is the NRC Operations Center and that relevant contact information will be provided on each export and import license; and (3) the requirement for advance notification of shipment within 10 days "to the extent practical" is changed to require notification within 7 days "to the extent practical," to conform with the Guidance document. Paragraph (a)(3) is revised to make it clear that transport within the United States of radioactive material is not authorized by a general or specific export or import license issued under part 110. Redesignated paragraph (b)(5) is revised to clarify that part 110 licensees must comply with the NRC's domestic regulations covering transportation in 10 CFR part 71. Also, a new paragraph (b)(7) is added to indicate that advance notifications containing information on shipment dates for the quantities of the radionuclides in Appendix P should be controlled as sensitive, unclassified information.

Appendix P to Part 110. The new Appendix P lists the radioactive material and the quantities requiring specific licenses. A new footnote added to Table 1 of Appendix P in the final rule states that the threshold values are specified in TBq, the regulatory standard consistent with the Code of Conduct. The curie value is given in parentheses only for information purposes and has been rounded after conversion from the TBq value. This change is necessary for two reasons. First, it will ensure the consistency of these regulations with the Code of Conduct and will facilitate advance shipment notifications to other competent government regulatory authorities which use the SI unit of TBq, not curies. Second, as was noted by a licensee during the Public Meeting of October 19, 2004, purchasers of sealed sources are, in some cases, already ordering the sources to be sized at just under the perceived Category 2 limit. For example, ordering a sealed source containing 19.75 curies of Am-241, just under the "20 curie" limit will result in a violation of the SI limit because a precise conversion of the 0.6 TBq Category 2 limit for Am-241 equates to a 16.2 curie limit. Therefore, a lack of clarity in the regulatory standard would impede licensees' planning to coordinate their operational and investment plans with these regulations.

In order to minimize the potential for conversion mistakes, the final rule differs from the proposed rule and the Code of Conduct in that the curie values in Appendix P have been rounded to two significant figures instead of one.

In the final rule, Appendix P, Table 1, also includes Y-90, a decay product of the radionuclide, Sr-90, to maintain consistency with the Code of Conduct. A new footnote has been added to prescribe the methodology "sum of the fractions" for calculating effective quantities for combinations of radionuclides being transported together. The proposed rule did not contain any provisions on threshold limits for import and export shipments of multiple sealed sources or bulk material of the same radionuclide or multiple radionuclides. A "sum of fractions" methodology, already used by the NRC in 10 CFR part 71, Appendix A, when evaluating the transportation limits of combination shipments of radionuclides, is included in Appendix P and is to be used for calculating shipments of bulk material and multiple sources and/or radionuclides.

Agreement State Compatibility

Regulatory authority over the export and import of sources of concern is reserved to NRC under the AEA. Therefore, under the "Policy Statement on Adequacy and Compatibility of Agreement State Programs," approved by the Commission on June 30, 1997, and published September 3, 1997 (62 FR 46517), the rules being adopted are classified as compatibility Category "NRC." Agreement States should not adopt equivalent rules.

Voluntary Consensus Standards

The National Technology Transfer Act of 1995, Pub. L. 104-113, requires that Federal agencies use technical standards that are developed or adopted by voluntary consensus standards bodies unless the use of such a standard is inconsistent with applicable law or otherwise impractical. There are no voluntary consensus standards addressing this subject matter.

Environmental Impact: Categorical Exclusion

The NRC has determined that this final rule is the type of action described in categorical exclusion 10 CFR 51.22 (c)(1). Therefore, neither an environmental impact statement nor an environmental assessment has been prepared for this rule.

Paperwork Reduction Act Statement

This final rule amends information collection requirements that are subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.). These requirements were approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), approval numbers 3150-0036 and 3150-0027.

The burden to the public for these information collections is estimated to average 2.4 hours per application, 30 minutes per licensee advance notification to the NRC, and 15 minutes per recipient's certification to the licensee, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the information collection. Send comments on any aspect of these proposed information collections, including suggestions for reducing the burden, to the Records and FOIA/Privacy Services Branch (T-5 F52), U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555-0001, or by Internet electronic mail to INFOCOLLECTS@nrc.gov; and to the Desk Officer, Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, NEOB-10202 (3150-0036 and 3150-0027), Office of Management and Budget, Washington, DC 20503.

Public Protection Notification

If a means used to impose an information collection does not display a currently valid OMB control number, the NRC may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, the information collection.

Regulatory Analysis

The Commission has prepared a regulatory analysis for this final rule. The analysis examines the cost and benefits of the alternatives considered by the Commission. The regulatory analysis is available in ADAMS (Accession No. ML051430150) and on the NRC's rulemaking Web site at <http://ruleforum.llnl.gov>. This rule is necessary to reflect the nuclear and radioactive material security policies of the Executive Branch and to comply with international agreements and guidance to which the U.S. Government subscribes. On the basis of information available to the Commission, the final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Backfit Analysis

The NRC has determined that a backfit analysis is not required for this rule because these amendments do not involve any provisions that would impose backfits as defined in 10 CFR chapter I.

Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act

In accordance with the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, the NRC has determined that this action is not a major rule and has verified this determination with the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs of OMB.

Calculation of Shipments Containing Multiple Sources or Radionuclides

The “sum of fractions” methodology for evaluating combinations of radionuclides being transported, is to be used when import or export shipments contain multiple sources or multiple radionuclides. The threshold limit values used in a sum of the fractions calculation must be the metric values (i.e., TBq).

I. If multiple sources and/or multiple radionuclides are present in an import or export shipment, the sum of the fractions of the activity of each radionuclides must be determined to verify the shipment is less than the Category 1 or 2 limits of Table 1, as appropriate. If the calculated sum of the fractions ratio, using the following equation, is greater than or equal to 1.0, then the import or export shipment exceeds the threshold limits of Table 1 and the applicable security provisions of this part apply.

II. Use the equation below to calculate the sum of the fractions ratio by inserting the actual activity of the applicable radionuclides or of the individual sources (of the same radionuclides) in the numerator of the equation and the corresponding threshold activity limit from the Table 1 in the denominator of the equation. Ensure the numerator and denominator values are in the same units and all calculations must be performed using the TBq (i.e., metric) values of Table 1.

R_N = activity for radionuclides or source number n

AR_2 = activity limit for radionuclides or source number 2

AR_N = activity limit for radionuclides or source number n

$$\sum_{i=1}^n \left[\frac{R_1}{AR_1} + \frac{R_2}{AR_2} + \frac{R_n}{AR_n} \right] \geq 1$$

[Docket No. CE223, Special Conditions No. 23-163-SC]

Special Conditions: AMSAFE, Incorporated; Cirrus Design Corporation SR20 and SR22; Inflatable Four-Point Restraint Safety Belt with an Integrated Airbag Device

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final special conditions; request for comments.

SUMMARY: These special conditions are issued for the installation of an AMSAFE, Inc., Inflatable Four-Point Restraint Safety Belt with an Integrated Airbag Device on Cirrus Models SR20 and SR22. These airplanes, as modified by the installation of this Inflatable Safety Belt, will have novel and unusual design features associated with the upper-torso restraint portions of the four-point safety belt, which contains an integrated airbag device. The applicable airworthiness regulations do not contain adequate or appropriate safety standards for this design feature. These special conditions contain the additional safety standards that the Administrator considers necessary to establish a level of safety equivalent to that established by the existing airworthiness standards.

DATES: The effective date of these special conditions is June 23, 2005. Comments must be received on or before August 1, 2005.

ADDRESSES: Comments on these special conditions may be mailed in duplicate to: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), Regional Counsel, ACE-7, Attention: Rules Docket, Docket No. CE223, 901 Locust, Room 506, Kansas City, Missouri 64106, or delivered in duplicate to the Regional Counsel at the above address. Comments must be marked: CE223. Comments may be inspected in the Rules Docket weekdays, except Federal holidays, between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Mark James, Federal Aviation Administration, Aircraft Certification Service, Small Airplane Directorate, ACE-111, 901 Locust, Kansas City, Missouri, 816-329-4137, fax 816-329-4090, e-mail mark.james@faa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The FAA has determined that notice and opportunity for prior public comment is impractical because these procedures would significantly delay issuance of approval and thus delivery of the affected aircraft. In addition, the substance of these special conditions has been subject to the public comment process in several prior instances with no substantive comments received. The FAA, therefore, finds that good cause exists for making these special conditions effective upon issuance.

Comments Invited

Interested persons are invited to submit such written data, views or arguments, as they may desire. Communications should identify the regulatory docket or special condition number and be submitted in duplicate to the address specified above. All communications received on or before the closing date for comments will be considered by the Administrator. The special conditions may be changed in light of the comments received. All comments received will be available in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons, both before and after the closing date for comments. A report summarizing each substantive public contact with FAA personnel concerning this rulemaking will be filed in the docket. Commenters wishing the FAA to acknowledge receipt of their comments submitted in response to this notice must include a self-addressed, stamped postcard on which the following statement is made: "Comments to CE223." The postcard will be date stamped and returned to the commenter.

Background

On September 24, 2004, Cirrus Design Corporation requested a Type Design Project, for the installation of an AMSAFE four-point safety belt restraint system incorporating an inflatable airbag for the pilot and co-pilot seats of the Cirrus Design Corporation model SR20 and SR22 airplanes. The Cirrus models SR20 and SR22 are single engine, four-place airplanes.

The inflatable restraint system is four-point safety belt restraint system consisting of a lap belt and dual shoulder harnesses. An inflatable airbag is attached to one of the shoulder harnesses, and the other shoulder harness is of conventional construction. The inflatable portion of the restraint system will rely on sensors to electronically activate the inflator for deployment. The inflatable restraint system will be installed on both the pilot and co-pilot seats.

In the event of an emergency landing, the airbag will inflate and provide a protective cushion between the occupant's head and structure within the airplane. This will reduce the potential for head and torso injury. The inflatable restraint behaves in a manner that is similar to an automotive airbag, but in this case, the airbag is integrated into one of the shoulder harnesses. While airbags and inflatable restraints are standard in the automotive industry, the use of an inflatable four-point restraint system is novel for general aviation operations.

The FAA has determined that this project will be accomplished on the basis of providing the same current level of safety of the Cirrus Design Corporation Models SR20 and SR22 occupant restraint systems. The FAA has two primary safety concerns with the installation of airbags or inflatable restraints:

- That they perform properly under foreseeable operating conditions; and
- That they do not perform in a manner or at such times as to impede the pilot's ability to maintain control of the airplane or constitute a hazard to the airplane or occupants.

The latter point has the potential to be the more rigorous of the requirements. An unexpected deployment while conducting the takeoff or landing phases of flight may result in an unsafe condition. The unexpected deployment may either startle the pilot, or generate a force sufficient to cause a sudden movement of the control yoke. Either action could result in a loss of control of the airplane, the consequences of which are magnified due to the low operating altitudes during these phases of flight. The FAA has considered this when establishing these special conditions.

The inflatable restraint system relies on sensors to electronically activate the inflator for deployment. These sensors could be susceptible to inadvertent activation, causing deployment in a potentially unsafe manner. The consequences of an inadvertent deployment must be considered in establishing the reliability of the system. Cirrus Design Corporation must show that the effects of an inadvertent deployment in flight are not a hazard to the airplane or that an inadvertent deployment is extremely improbable. In addition, general aviation aircraft are susceptible to a large amount of cumulative wear and tear on a restraint system. It is likely that the potential for inadvertent deployment increases as a result of this cumulative damage. Therefore, the impact of wear and tear on inadvertent deployment must be considered. Due to the effects of this cumulative damage, a life limit must be established for the appropriate system components in the restraint system design.

There are additional factors to be considered to minimize the chances of inadvertent deployment. General aviation airplanes are exposed to a unique operating environment, since the same airplane may be used by both experienced and student pilots. The effect of this environment on inadvertent deployment must be understood. Therefore, qualification testing of the firing hardware/software must consider the following:

- The airplane vibration levels appropriate for a general aviation airplane; and
- The inertial loads that result from typical flight or ground maneuvers, including gusts and hard landings.

Any tendency for the firing mechanism to activate as a result of these loads or acceleration levels is unacceptable.

Other influences on inadvertent deployment include high intensity electromagnetic fields (HIRF) and lightning. Since the sensors that trigger deployment are electronic, they must be protected from the effects of these threats. To comply with HIRF and lightning requirements, the AMSAFE, Inc., inflatable restraint system is considered a critical system, since its inadvertent deployment could have a hazardous effect on the airplane.

Given the level of safety of the current Cirrus Design Corporation SR20 and SR22 occupant restraints, the inflatable restraint system must show that it will offer an equivalent level of protection in the event of an emergency landing. In the event of an inadvertent deployment, the restraint must still be at least as strong as a Technical Standard Order approved belt and shoulder harnesses. There is no requirement for the inflatable portion of the restraint to offer protection during multiple impacts, where more than one impact would require protection.

The inflatable restraint system must deploy and provide protection for each occupant under a crash condition. The seats of the models SR20 and SR22 are certificated to the structural requirements of § 23.562. Therefore, the test crash pulses identified in § 23.562 must be used to satisfy this requirement.

It is possible a wide range of occupants will use the inflatable restraint. Thus, the protection offered by this restraint should be effective for occupants that range from the fifth percentile female to the ninety-fifth percentile male. Energy absorption must be performed in a consistent manner for this occupant range.

In support of this operational capability, there must be a means to verify the integrity of this system before each flight. As an option, AMSAFE, Inc., can establish inspection intervals where they have demonstrated the system to be reliable between these intervals.

It is possible that an inflatable restraint will be "armed" even though no occupant is using the seat. While there will be means to verify the integrity of the system before flight, it is also prudent to require that unoccupied seats with active restraints not constitute a hazard to any occupant. This will protect any individual performing maintenance inside the cockpit while the aircraft is on the ground. The restraint must also provide suitable visual warnings that would alert rescue personnel to the presence of an inflatable restraint system.

In addition, the design must prevent the inflatable seatbelt from being incorrectly buckled and/or installed such that the airbag would not properly deploy. As an alternative, Cirrus Design Corporation may show that such deployment is not hazardous to the occupant and will still provide the required protection.

The cabins of the Cirrus model airplanes identified in these special conditions are confined areas, and the FAA is concerned that noxious gasses may accumulate in the event of airbag deployment. When deployment does occur, either by design or inadvertently, there must not be a release of hazardous quantities of gas or particulate matter into the cockpit.

An inflatable restraint should not increase the risk already associated with fire. Therefore, the inflatable restraint should be protected from the effects of fire, so that an additional hazard is not created by, for example, a rupture of the inflator.

Finally, the airbag is likely to have a large volume displacement, and possibly impede the egress of an occupant. Since the bag deflates to absorb energy, it is likely that the inflatable restraint would be deflated at the time an occupant would attempt egress. However, it is appropriate to specify a time interval after which the inflatable restraint may not impede rapid egress. Ten seconds has been chosen as reasonable time. This time limit will offer a level of protection throughout the impact event.

Type Certification Basis

Under the provisions of § 21.101, Cirrus Design Corporation, must show that the Cirrus models SR20 and SR22, as changed, continue to meet the applicable provisions of the regulations incorporated by reference in Type Certificate No. A00009CH or the applicable regulations in effect on the date of application for the change. The regulations incorporated by reference in the type certificate are commonly referred to as the "original type certification basis." The regulations incorporated by reference are as follows:

Cirrus SR20: Part 23 of the Federal Aviation Regulations dated February 1, 1965, as amended by 23-1 through 23-47 except as follows: FAR 23.573, 23.575, 23.611, 23.657, 23.673 through Amendment 23-48. FAR 23.783, 23.785, 23.867, 23.1303, 23.1307, 23.1309, 23.1311, 23.1321, 23.1323, 23.1329, 23.1361, 23.1383, 23.1401, 23.1431, 23.1435 through Amendment 23-49. FAR 23.3, 23.25, 23.143, 23.145, 23.155, 23.1325, 23.1521, 23.1543, 23.1555, 23.1559, 23.1567, 23.1583, 23.1585, 23.1589 through Amendment 23-50. FAR 23.777, 23.779, 23.901, 23.907, 23.955, 23.959, 23.963, 23.965, 23.973, 23.975, 23.1041, 23.1091, 23.1093, 23.1107, 23.1121, 23.1141, 23.1143, 23.1181, 23.1191, 23.1337 through Amendment 23–51. FAR 23.1305 through Amendment 23–52. FAR 36 dated December 1, 1969, as amended by current amendment as of the date of Type Certification.

Cirrus SR22: Part 23 of the Federal Aviation Regulations dated February 1, 1965, as amended by 23–1 through 23–53 except as follows: FAR 23.301 through Amendment 47. FAR 23.855, 23.1326, 23.1359, not applicable. FAR 36 dated December 1, 1969, as amended by current amendment as of the date of Type Certification.

For all the models listed above, the certification basis also includes all exemptions, if any; equivalent level of safety findings, if any; and special conditions not relevant to the special conditions adopted by this rulemaking action.

The Administrator has determined that the applicable airworthiness regulations (i.e., part 23 as amended) do not contain adequate or appropriate safety standards for the AMSAFE, Inc., inflatable restraint as installed on these Cirrus Design Corporation models because of a novel or unusual design feature. Therefore, special conditions are prescribed under the provisions of § 21.16.

Special conditions, as appropriate, as defined in § 11.19, are issued in accordance with § 11.38, and become part of the type certification basis in accordance with § 21.101.

Special conditions are initially applicable to the model for which they are issued. Should the applicant apply for a supplemental type certificate to modify any other model included on the same type certificate to incorporate the same novel or unusual design feature, the special conditions would also apply to that model under the provisions of § 21.101.

Novel or Unusual Design Features

The Cirrus Design Corporation models SR20 and SR22 will incorporate the following novel or unusual design feature:

The AMSAFE, Inc., Four-Point Safety Belt Restraint System incorporating an inflatable airbag for the pilot and co-pilot seats. The purpose of the airbag is to reduce the potential for injury in the event of an accident. In a severe impact, an airbag will deploy from one shoulder harness, in a manner similar to an automotive airbag. The airbag will deploy between the head of the occupant and airplane interior structure. Therefore, this will provide some protection to the head of the occupant. The restraint will rely on sensors to electronically activate the inflator for deployment.

The Code of Federal Regulations state performance criteria for seats and restraints in an objective manner. However, none of these criteria are adequate to address the specific issues raised concerning inflatable restraints. Therefore, the FAA has determined that, in addition to the requirements of part 21 and part 23, special conditions are needed to address the installation of this inflatable restraint.

Accordingly, these special conditions are adopted for the Cirrus Design Corporation models equipped with the AMSAFE, Inc., four-point inflatable restraint. Other conditions may be developed, as needed, based on further FAA review and discussions with the manufacturer and civil aviation authorities.

Applicability

As discussed above, these special conditions are applicable to the Cirrus Design Corporation models SR20 and SR22 equipped with the AMSAFE, Inc., four-point inflatable restraint system. Should Cirrus Design Corporation, at a later date, request to modify any other model on the Type Certificate identified in these special conditions to incorporate the same novel or unusual design feature, the special conditions would apply to that model as well under the provisions of § 21.101.

Conclusion

This action affects only certain novel or unusual design features on the previously identified Cirrus models. It is not a rule of general applicability, and it affects only the applicant who applied to the FAA for approval of these features on the airplane.

Under standard practice, the effective date of final special conditions would be 30 days after the date of publication in the Federal Register; however, the substance of these special conditions has been subjected to the notice and comment period in several prior instances and has been derived without substantive change from those previously issued. It is unlikely that prior public comment would result in a significant change from the substance contained herein. For this reason, and because a delay would significantly affect the certification of the airplane, which is imminent, the FAA has determined that prior public notice and comment are unnecessary and impracticable, and good cause exists for adopting these special conditions upon issuance. The FAA is requesting comments to allow interested persons to submit views that may not have been submitted in response to the prior opportunities for comment described above.

■ The authority citation for these special conditions is as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 106(g), 40113 and 44701; 14 CFR 21.16 and 21.101; and 14 CFR 11.38 and 11.19.

The Special Conditions

■ The FAA has determined that this project will be accomplished on the basis of not lowering the current level of safety of the Cirrus Design Corporation models SR20 and SR22 occupant restraint system. Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, the following special conditions are issued as part of the type certification basis for these models, as modified by AMSAFE, Incorporated.

Inflatable Four-Point Restraint Safety Belt with an Integrated Airbag Device on the Pilot and Copilot Seats of the Cirrus Design Corporation Models SR20 and SR22.

1. It must be shown that the inflatable restraint will deploy and provide protection under crash conditions. Compliance will be demonstrated using the dynamic test condition specified in 14 CFR part 23, § 23.562(b)(2). It is not necessary to account for floor warpage, as required by § 23.562(b)(3). The means of protection must take into consideration a range of stature from a 5th percentile female to a 95th percentile male. The inflatable restraint must provide a consistent approach to energy absorption throughout that range.

2. The inflatable restraint must provide adequate protection for each occupant. In addition, unoccupied seats that have an active restraint must not constitute a hazard to any occupant.

3. The design must prevent the inflatable restraint from being incorrectly buckled and/or incorrectly installed such that the airbag would not properly deploy. Alternatively, it must be shown that such deployment is not hazardous to the occupant and will provide the required protection.

4. It must be shown that the inflatable restraint system is not susceptible to inadvertent deployment as a result of wear and tear or the inertial loads resulting from in-flight or ground maneuvers (including gusts and hard landings) that are likely to be experienced in service.

5. It must be extremely improbable for an inadvertent deployment of the restraint system to occur, or an inadvertent deployment must not impede the pilot's ability to maintain control of the airplane or cause an unsafe condition (or hazard to the airplane). In addition, a deployed inflatable restraint must be at least as strong as a Technical Standard Order (C114) four-point harness.

6. It must be shown that deployment of the inflatable restraint system is not hazardous to the occupant or result in injuries that could impede rapid egress. This assessment should include occupants whose restraint is loosely fastened.

7. It must be shown that an inadvertent deployment that could cause injury to a standing or sitting person is improbable. In addition, the restraint must also provide suitable visual warnings that would alert rescue personnel to the presence of an inflatable restraint system.

8. It must be shown that the inflatable restraint will not impede rapid egress of the occupants 10 seconds after its deployment.

9. For the purposes of complying with HIRF and lightning requirements, the inflatable restraint system is considered a critical system since its deployment could have a hazardous effect on the airplane.

10. It must be shown that the inflatable restraints will not release hazardous quantities of gas or particulate matter into the cabin.

11. The inflatable restraint system installation must be protected from the effects of fire such that no hazard to occupants will result.

12. There must be a means to verify the integrity of the inflatable restraint activation system before each flight or it must be demonstrated to reliably operate between inspection intervals.

13. A life limit must be established for appropriate system components.

14. Qualification testing of the internal firing mechanism must be performed at vibration levels appropriate for a general aviation airplane.

Modification of Class E Airspace; Muskegon, MI

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This action modifies Class E airspace at Muskegon, MI. Standard Instrument Approach Procedures have been developed for Grand Haven Memorial Airpark. Controlled airspace extending upward from 700 feet or more above the surface of the earth is needed to contain aircraft executing these approaches. This action increases the area of existing controlled airspace for Grand Haven Memorial Airpark.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

History

On Thursday, March 10, 2005, the FAA proposed to amend 14 CFR part 71 to modify Class E airspace at Muskegon, MI (70 FR 11886). The proposal was to modify controlled airspace extending upward from 700 feet or more above the surface of the earth to contain Instrument Flight Rules operations in controlled airspace during portions of the terminal operation and while transiting between the enroute and terminal environments.

Interested parties were invited to participate in this rulemaking proceeding by submitting written comments on the proposal to the FAA.

No comments objecting to the proposal were received. Class E airspace designations for airspace areas extending upward from 700 feet or more above the surface of the earth are published in paragraph 6005 of FAA Order 7400.9M dated August 30, 2004, and effective September 16, 2004, which is incorporated by reference in 14 CFR 71.1. The Class E airspace designation listed in this document will be published subsequently in the Order.

The Rule

This amendment to 14 CFR part 71 modifies Class E airspace at Muskegon, MI, to accommodate aircraft executing instrument flight procedures into and out of Grand Haven Memorial Airpark. The area will be depicted on appropriate aeronautical charts.

The FAA has determined that this regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. Therefore, this regulation—(1) is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a “significant rule” under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a Regulatory Evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background on Viticultural Areas

TTB Authority

Section 105(e) of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (the FAA Act, 27 U.S.C. 201 et seq.) requires that alcohol beverage labels provide the consumer with adequate information regarding a product's identity and prohibits the use of misleading information on such labels. The FAA Act also authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue regulations to carry out its provisions. The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) administers these regulations.

Part 4 of the TTB regulations (27 CFR part 4) allows the establishment of definitive viticultural areas and the use of their names as appellations of origin on wine labels and in wine advertisements. Part 9 of the TTB regulations (27 CFR part 9) contains the list of approved viticultural areas.

Definition

Section 4.25(e)(1)(i) of the TTB regulations (27 CFR 4.25(e)(1)(i)) defines a viticultural area for American wine as a delimited grape-growing region distinguishable by geographical features, the boundaries of which have been recognized and defined in part 9 of the regulations. These designations allow vintners and consumers to attribute a given quality, reputation, or other characteristic of a wine made from grapes grown in an area to its geographic origin. The establishment of viticultural areas allows vintners to describe more accurately the origin of their wines to consumers and helps consumers to identify wines they may purchase. Establishment of a viticultural area is neither an approval nor an endorsement by TTB of the wine produced in that area.

Requirements

Section 4.25(e)(2) of the TTB regulations outlines the procedure for proposing an American viticultural area and provides that any interested party may petition TTB to establish a grape-growing region as a viticultural area. Section 9.3(b) of the TTB regulations requires the petition to include—

- Evidence that the proposed viticultural area is locally and/or nationally known by the name specified in the petition;

- Historical or current evidence that supports setting the boundary of the proposed viticultural area as the petition specifies;
- Evidence relating to the geographical features, such as climate, soils, elevation, and physical features, that distinguish the proposed viticultural area from surrounding areas;
- A description of the specific boundary of the proposed viticultural area, based on features found on United States Geological Survey (USGS) maps; and
- A copy of the appropriate USGS map(s) with the proposed viticultural area's boundary prominently marked.

High Valley Petition and Rulemaking

General Background

TTB received a petition from Kevin Robinson of the Brassfield Estate Winery proposing a new viticultural area to be called "High Valley" in Lake County, California. Located above the eastern shore of Clear Lake near the village of Clearlake Oaks, about 85 miles north of San Francisco, the proposed 14,000-acre viticultural area has approximately 1,000 acres planted to vines.

The proposed High Valley viticultural area boundary encompasses the largely enclosed, elongated bowl-shaped High Valley basin and the surrounding mountain ridges. The area measures about 8.5 miles east-to-west and 3 miles north-to-south, with elevations between 1,600 and about 3,000 feet. Early viticultural efforts in the High Valley area ceased with Prohibition, and walnuts, prunes, green beans, and other crops became the area's popular agricultural commodities. Approximately 25 very old "centennial vines" (possibly zinfandel) still exist on the southeast ridge above the valley floor.

Below, we summarize the evidence presented in the petition.

Name Evidence

"High Valley" is the officially recognized name of the elongated bowl-shaped valley encompassed by the proposed High Valley viticultural area, as shown on the Clearlake Oaks, California, USGS Quadrangle map and on the California State Automobile Association's "Mendocino and Sonoma Coast Region" map of February 1999. Both maps also show High Valley Ridge and High Valley Road within the proposed viticultural area's boundary. The petition states that "High Valley" is the popularly and historically recognized name for the valley. In addition, the 2002 SBC Pacific Bell Directory lists three local businesses that incorporate "High Valley" into their name, and "High Valley Memories," a 1960 manuscript by Tom Butler describing the valley's history, is on file at the Lake County Historical Courthouse Museum.

Boundary Evidence

High Valley is enclosed by surrounding mountain ridges, which topographically isolate High Valley from the surrounding region and form the valley's natural boundary. The proposed High Valley viticultural area boundary largely follows these surrounding ridges. The ridges surrounding High Valley create a mountainside grape-growing environment not found beyond the boundaries of the viticultural area. The majority of the High Valley area's vineyards are planted on these highland slopes, with the remainder on the western valley floor.

The floor of High Valley has a minimum elevation of 1,600 feet, which is higher than other nearby valleys and flats. Based on the relevant USGS maps, the table below shows the lower elevations found in the valleys and flats nearest to the proposed High Valley viticultural area.

Geographic region	Direction from High Valley boundary	Elevation in feet on USGS map
Clear Lake	West	1,326
Long Valley	North	1,200
North Fork of Cache Creek.	East	1,100
Clearlake Oaks Township.	South	1,400

Distinguishing Features

Topography

High Valley is an elongated, bowl-shaped basin, which is largely enclosed and topographically isolated from surrounding regions by high surrounding mountain ridges. As shown on USGS maps, the valley floor is generally between 1,700 and 1,800 feet in elevation, while, to the north, High Valley Ridge rises to over 3,000 feet. To the east, south, and west, the surrounding ridges average between 2,200 and 2,400 in elevation. The lowest elevation within the High Valley viticultural area is at the 1,600-foot contour line, which forms part of the area's southern boundary.

The only drainage outlet from High Valley is Schindler Creek, which flows south through a gap in the mountain ridge between the valley and Clear Lake on the viticultural area's southern side. In addition to its topographic isolation, High Valley has an east and west orientation, which is rarely found in the northern California Coastal Ranges. This orientation contributes to some of the distinctive climatic features of the High Valley area.

Climate

The proposed High Valley viticultural area's climate is cooler than the surrounding viticultural areas of Lake County, according to weather station data collected from several locations within the High Valley viticultural area, including vineyards on the area's southeastern and western mountain ridges, and on the eastern and western portions of the valley floor. The Winkler degree-day heat summation method of climate classification classifies High Valley as a Region 3 climate and occasionally as a cooler Region 2, depending upon the year and a vineyard's location within the area. (Each degree of a day's mean temperature that is above 50 degrees F, which is the minimum temperature required for grapevine growth, is counted as one degree day; see "General Viticulture," Albert J. Winkler, University of California Press, 1975.) Amber Knolls, a grape-growing region approximately 5 miles west of High Valley's boundary line, has consistently warmer growing season temperatures, and is frequently a Region 4 climate in the degree-day classification system.

High Valley's cool growing climate results from the valley's east-west orientation, the surrounding ridge topography, and the perpetual "wind machine" generated from the Clear Lake basin. The high east-west ridges above the valley trap the cooling afternoon breezes as they blow in from the Clear Lake basin. Also, the cooling mountain-valley winds from the higher northern elevations of the Mendocino National Forest drift down the ridges to the valley floor. The High Valley area is one of the coolest grape-growing regions in Lake County, with a frost season that frequently extends into June. The grape varieties planted in the High Valley area reflect this cooler and shorter growing season.

The petition noted the wide variation in annual precipitation in High Valley between the years 2000 and May 2003, and did not provide extensive rainfall data to show it as a distinguishing viticultural factor. The High Valley area received 18 inches of precipitation in both 2000 and 2001, 29 inches in 2002, and 35 inches from January through May 2003. In recent years, other Lake County grape-growing regions received more precipitation than the High Valley viticultural area, and the petition listed the following average precipitation amounts: Red Hills, 24 to 40 inches; Kelseyville, 46 inches; and the Putah Creek basin, 47 inches.

Geology

Originally a small east-west trending fault basin with drainage to the east, volcanic activity altered High Valley's shape and created a series of high ridges along its eastern side, forming the valley's largely enclosed basin and redirecting the valley's drainage southward into Clear Lake. This volcanic activity also created Tule Lake, a small lake on the valley's central floor, as well as Round Mountain, once an active volcanic cinder cone rising 400 feet above the northern valley floor.

The dominant rock types in the proposed High Valley viticultural area are Jurassic sedimentary rocks of the Franciscan Complex, basalt flows, and Quaternary volcanic deposits. The Franciscan Complex forms the base material and most of the exposed rock in the southern ridges and western portions of High Valley, while the Quaternary volcanics overlay the basalts found throughout the valley's eastern half. Round Mountain is a prominent High Valley feature of the Quaternary volcanics.

Soils

The two primary soil types of High Valley are weathered volcanic residue and Franciscan Complex weathered sandstone, shale, or phyllitic rocks. The east side of the area contains soils derived primarily from volcanics, while the west side contains soils from Jurassic to Cretaceous sedimentary and phyllitic source material.

The four basic soil formations within the proposed High Valley viticultural area include: (1) The Franciscan Hills along the area's southern and western boundaries, (2) the alluvial basin of High Valley, (3) the alluvial terrace along the southeast boundary, and (4) the volcanic ridges along the area's northeastern boundary near Round Mountain.

Wolfcreek loam soil, a very deep well-drained clay to sandy loam with moderately slow permeability, covers most of the High Valley floor. The eastern half of the proposed High Valley viticultural area contains Konocti variants, Konocti, Hambright, Benridge, and Sodabay Series soils. The Maymen, Hopland, and Mayacama Series soils dominate the southeast region of the High Valley area. The western hills and ridges contain primarily Millsholm, Bressa, Hopland, Estel, and Maymen Series soils.

While the High Valley soils are permeable in mild and moderately-warm to warm temperatures, soils in the nearby Big Valley allow only moderately-warm to warm temperature permeation. The soils of High Valley's slopes and ridges permit excellent drainage, unlike Big Valley's less favorable soil drainage characteristics. Further, the vine-planted slopes of the High Valley area incline about 30 percent, comparatively steeper than the 0 to 2 percent incline of Big Valley vineyards.

Water Resources

The High Valley area contains aquifers and natural springs to meet its irrigation needs. The limited capability of Schindler Creek to take runoff out of High Valley contributes to the valley's unusually high water table. The springs of the valley's western and eastern mountain slopes and canyons flow down to the valley floor, which also contains springs and numerous ponds.

Overlapping Boundaries

The proposed High Valley viticultural area lies almost entirely within the established Clear Lake viticultural area (27 CFR 9.99), which surrounds the large lake of that name in Lake County, California. In turn, the Clear Lake viticultural area is entirely within the larger, multi-county North Coast viticultural area (27 CFR 9.30). To encompass the mountain ridges surrounding High Valley, a small east-northeast portion of the proposed High Valley viticultural area extends beyond the common eastern boundary of the two larger areas. The following table shows the overlapping relationships by acreage amount and percentage:

Viticultural area name	Acreage of area within High Valley area	Percentage of High Valley area in this area
North Coast	11,651	81.6
Clear Lake	11,520	80.7
Outside any viticultural area	2,622	18.4

The North Coast and Clear Lake viticultural areas share a portion of their east boundary line, which runs diagonally northwest to southeast through the eastern portion of the proposed High Valley viticultural area. This common boundary line extends straight northwest from the northwest corner of section 1, T13N, R7W, on the Benmore Canyon map, which is outside the High Valley southeastern boundary line, to Round Mountain in section 21, T14N, R7W, on the Clearlake Oaks map.

At the peak of Round Mountain, this shared boundary line divides. The North Coast viticultural area boundary line runs straight north-northwest, while the Clear Lake viticultural area extends straight northwest. TTB has determined that the difference in overlapping acreage between the two viticultural areas, above Round Mountain, is less than 1 percent when overlaid with the proposed High Valley viticultural area boundary lines.

To the east of the North Coast and Clear Lake viticultural areas' common boundary line, the High Valley viticultural area's east and northeast sections extend beyond any established viticultural area. This 2,622-acre, predominantly mountainous region includes the eastern ridges that surround High Valley, according to the USGS maps. The east side of Round Mountain and a small portion of the valley floor also lie outside the North Coast and Clear Lake viticultural areas.

This High Valley eastern area, beyond the North Coast and Clear Lake boundary line overlap, possesses distinguishing geographical features similar to the High Valley's western region. The portion of the High Valley area outside the established Clear Lake and North Coast viticultural areas contains the mountainous terrain and high ridges that make High Valley an enclosed basin with distinct watershed boundaries. The valley floor to the east of Round Mountain is the natural extension of the valley, with similar elevations and topography, as noted on the USGS maps. Soils derived primarily from basalts occur throughout the High Valley area from Schindler's Creek east to the boundary line.

Boundary Description

See the narrative boundary description of the viticultural area in the regulatory text published at the end of this notice.

Maps

The petitioner(s) provided the required maps, and we list them below in the regulatory text.

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

TTB published a notice of proposed rulemaking regarding the establishment of the High Valley viticultural area in the Federal Register as Notice No. 28 on January 24, 2005 (70 FR 3328). In that notice, TTB requested comments by March 25, 2005, from all interested persons. TTB received no comments regarding the proposed High Valley viticultural area in response to Notice No. 28.

TTB Finding

After careful review, TTB finds that the evidence submitted with the petition supports the establishment of the proposed viticultural area. Therefore, under the authority of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and part 4 of our regulations, we establish the "High Valley" viticultural area in Lake County, California, effective 60-days from this document's publication date.

Impact on Current Wine Labels

Part 4 of the TTB regulations prohibits any label reference on a wine that indicates or implies an origin other than the wine's true place of origin. With the establishment of this viticultural area and its inclusion in part 9 of the TTB regulations, its name, "High Valley," is recognized as a name of viticultural significance. Consequently, wine bottlers using "High Valley" in a brand name, including a trademark, or in another label reference as to the origin of the wine, must ensure that the product is eligible to use the viticultural area's name as an appellation of origin.

For a wine to be eligible to use as an appellation of origin the name of a viticultural area specified in part 9 of the TTB regulations, at least 85 percent of the grapes used to make the wine must have been grown within the area represented by that name, and the wine must meet the other conditions listed in 27 CFR 4.25(e)(3). If the wine is not eligible to use the viticultural area name as an appellation of origin and that name appears in the brand name, then the label is not in compliance and the bottler must change the brand name and obtain approval of a new label. Similarly, if the viticultural area name appears in another reference on the label in a misleading manner, the bottler would have to obtain approval of a new label.

Different rules apply if a wine has a brand name containing a viticultural area name that was used as a brand name on a label approved before July 7, 1986. See 27 CFR 4.39(i)(2) for details.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

We certify that this regulation will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This regulation imposes no new reporting, recordkeeping, or other administrative requirement. Any benefit derived from the use of a viticultural area name is the result of a proprietor's efforts and consumer acceptance of wines from that area. Therefore, no regulatory flexibility analysis is required.

Executive Order 12866

This rule is not a significant regulatory action as defined by Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735). Therefore, it requires no regulatory assessment.

SUMMARY: This Treasury decision establishes the Alexandria Lakes viticultural area in Douglas County, Minnesota. We designate viticultural areas to allow vintners to better describe the origin of their wines and to allow consumers to better identify wines they may purchase.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Background on Viticultural AreasTTB Authority*

Section 105(e) of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (the FAA Act, 27 U.S.C. 201 et seq.) requires that alcohol beverage labels provide the consumer with adequate information regarding product identity and prohibits the use of misleading information on those labels. The FAA Act also authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue regulations to carry out its provisions. The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) administers these regulations.

Part 4 of the TTB regulations (27 CFR part 4) allows the establishment of definitive viticultural areas and the use of their names as appellations of origin on wine labels and in wine advertisements. Part 9 of the TTB regulations (27 CFR part 9) contains the list of approved viticultural areas.

Definition

Section 4.25(e)(1)(i) of the TTB regulations (27 CFR 4.25(e)(1)(i)) defines a viticultural area for American wine as a delimited grape-growing region distinguishable by geographical features, the boundaries of which have been recognized and defined in part 9 of the regulations. These designations allow vintners and consumers to attribute a given quality, reputation, or other characteristic of a wine made from grapes grown in an area to its geographic origin. The establishment of viticultural areas allows vintners to describe more accurately the origin of their wines to consumers and helps consumers to identify wines they may purchase. Establishment of a viticultural area is neither an approval nor an endorsement by TTB of the wine produced in that area.

Requirements

Section 4.25(e)(2) of the TTB regulations outlines the procedure for proposing an American viticultural area and provides that any interested party may petition TTB to establish a grape-growing region as a viticultural area. Section 9.3(b) of the TTB regulations requires the petition to include—

- Evidence that the proposed viticultural area is locally and/or nationally known by the name specified in the petition;
- Historical or current evidence that supports setting the boundary of the proposed viticultural area as the petition specifies;
- Evidence relating to the geographical features, such as climate, soils, elevation, and physical features that distinguish the proposed viticultural area from surrounding areas;
- A description of the specific boundary of the proposed viticultural area, based on features found on United States Geological Survey (USGS) maps; and
- A copy of the appropriate USGS map(s) with the proposed viticultural area's boundary prominently marked.

Alexandria Lakes Petition and Rulemaking

Robert G. Johnson, on behalf of Carlos Creek Winery, filed a petition proposing the establishment of Alexandria Lakes as an American viticultural area. The proposed viticultural area is located in Douglas County, Minnesota, and encompasses approximately 17 square miles. Six freshwater lakes surround the area.

Below, we summarize the evidence presented in the petition.

Name Evidence

The petitioner submitted the following items as evidence that the area is locally and nationally known as Alexandria Lakes.

- The “2002 Official Visitors Guide” for the Alexandria Lakes area, which the Alexandria Lakes Area Chamber of Commerce published. This Guide refers to the area as the “Alexandria Lakes Area.”

- Several brochures that refer to the area as the “Alexandria Lakes Area.”
- A letter from the Alexandria Lake Area Sanitary District referring to the area as the “Alexandria Lake Area.”

Boundary Evidence

The boundaries of the Alexandria Lakes viticultural area, located in Douglas County, Minnesota, do not encompass the entire land mass known by that name. According to the petitioner, current viticulture and a unique microclimate limit the boundaries to those he proposed. The petitioner also indicates that certain geographical features help define the viticultural area's borders. We discuss these features further below.

Geologic Features

The petitioner states that glacial activity, which occurred 10,000 years ago at the end of the last ice age, formed the proposed Alexandria Lakes viticultural area. The soil is unique, because the glacial activity gouged it from the surrounding areas. The steep glacial erosion produced a geographically isolated area that the region's deepest glacial lakes surround. These lakes are not only the deepest, but also, by volume, the largest in the region.

The petitioner states that the most abundant soils within in the proposed Alexandria Lakes viticultural area are of the Nebish-Beltrami association. This association is unique in that it makes up only 5 percent of the soils in Douglas County. The U.S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service (USDASCS) defines this soil as deep and well to moderately well drained. The petitioner states that vegetation in the area survives on poorer soils and has broader root systems than vegetation in surrounding regions. As evidence of this, the petitioner refers to the high concentration of hardwood trees in the proposed Alexandria Lakes viticultural area.

By contrast, the USDASCS defines the opposing lakeshores' soil, just west and north of the viticultural area, as belonging to the Waukon-Flom association, which they describe as poorly drained. The petitioner indicates that these are alluvial wash plains containing heavy loess soils and low wetlands.

The USDASCS defines the soil associations on the opposing shores just south and east of the proposed Alexandria Lakes viticultural area as belonging to the Arvilla-Sverdrup association. These soils formed in sand or sand and gravel outwash material and are described as excessively drained.

Geographical Features

According to the petitioner, the proposed Alexandria Lakes viticultural area's geographical features further distinguish it from surrounding regions. Six freshwater lakes almost completely surround the area. Lake Miliona, which is the largest lake in Douglas County, lies to the north. Lake Carlos, the largest lake in the Alexandria Lakes chain, according to the Alexandria Lakes Area Chamber of Commerce, lies to the east. Two small lakes, Lakes Louise and Alvin, and a medium-size lake, Lake Darling, are just south of the viticultural area boundary. Lake Ida, one of the largest lakes in the area, lies to the west.

Climate

The petitioner provided climate data for the years 1992 through 2001 from the University of Minnesota Meteorological Department's Web site. The data indicate that the Alexandria Lakes viticultural area averages less precipitation than the surrounding regions. The area's average precipitation is approximately 23.65 inches per year. By contrast, Osakis, Wadena, and Ashby Counties, which are located east, north, and west of the area, respectively, all received between 1 to 3 more inches of precipitation per year. The petitioner states that the difference results from the seasonal southern winds that blow through the area and produce moisture updrafts that result in the formation of rain clouds generally north and east of the area.

The proposed Alexandria Lakes viticultural area receives less annual snowfall than the surrounding regions, according to the petitioner. The area's average snowfall is 47.67 inches per year. By contrast, Osakis, Wadena, and Ashby all receive between 4 to 8 more inches of snowfall per year.

According to the petitioner, "the drier climate and lighter snow cover makes for lowered water tables, but watershed flowing [sic] from areas to the north and east replenish the water and maintain constant lake water levels."

In addition, the petitioner states that the Alexandria Lakes viticultural area has temperature averages that are generally warmer in the winter and cooler in the summer than those of adjacent areas.

Boundary Description

See the narrative boundary description of the petitioned-for viticultural area in the regulatory text published at the end of this notice.

Maps

The petitioner provided the required maps, and we list them below in the regulatory text.

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

In response to the petition, our predecessor Agency, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF), published Notice No. 967 regarding the proposed Alexandria Lakes viticultural area in the Federal Register on January 23, 2003 (68 FR 3199). ATF received comments from representatives of two Minnesota vineyards that opposed the establishment of the Alexandria Lakes viticultural area. These two commenters provided no substantive support for their opposition to the petition.

TTB Finding

After careful review of the petition and the comments received, TTB finds that the evidence submitted supports the establishment of the proposed viticultural area. Therefore, under the authority of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and part 4 of our regulations, we establish the "Alexandria Lakes" viticultural area as described in this final rule.

Impact on Current Wine Labels

Part 4 of the TTB regulations prohibits any label reference on a wine that indicates or implies an origin other than the wine's true place of origin. With the establishment of this viticultural area and its inclusion in part 9 of the TTB regulations, its name, "Alexandria Lakes," is recognized as a name of viticultural significance. Consequently, wine bottlers using "Alexandria Lakes" in a brand name, including a trademark, or in another label reference as to the origin of the wine, must ensure that the product is eligible to use the viticultural area's name as an appellation of origin.

For a wine to be eligible to use as an appellation of origin the name of a viticultural area specified in part 9 of the TTB regulations, at least 85 percent of the grapes used to make the wine must have been grown within the area represented by that name, and the wine must meet the other conditions listed in 27 CFR 4.25(e)(3). If the wine is not eligible to use the viticultural area name as an appellation of origin and that name appears in the brand name, then the label is not in compliance and the bottler must change the brand name and obtain approval of a new label. Similarly, if the viticultural area name appears in another reference on the label in a misleading manner, the bottler would have to obtain approval of a new label.

Different rules apply if a wine has a brand name containing a viticultural area name that was used as a brand name on a label approved before July 7, 1986. See 27 CFR 4.39(i)(2) for details.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

We certify that this final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This final rule imposes no new reporting, recordkeeping, or other administrative requirement. Any benefit derived from the use of a viticultural area name would be the result of a proprietor's efforts and consumer acceptance of wines from that area. Therefore, no regulatory flexibility analysis is required.

Executive Order 12866

This final rule is not a significant regulatory action as defined by Executive Order 12866, 58 FR 51735. Therefore, it requires no regulatory assessment.

Horse Heaven Hills Petition and Rulemaking

Background

TTB received a petition proposing the establishment of the Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area in south-central Washington State from Paul D. Lucas, who filed the petition on behalf of wine grape growers within the area. Located in the portions of Klickitat, Yakima, and Benton counties north and west of the Columbia River and south of the Yakima Valley, the proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area is about 115 miles east of Vancouver, Washington. At about 60 miles long and 22 miles wide, the Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area covers some 570,000 acres, of which about 6,040 acres are planted to grapes.

The large, existing Columbia Valley viticultural area (27 CFR 9.74) encompasses the proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area, as well as the existing Yakima Valley (27 CFR 9.69), the Walla Walla Valley (27 CFR 9.91), and the Red Mountain (27 CFR 9.167) viticultural areas. The Horse Heaven Hills area lies southeast of the Yakima Valley area, south of Red Mountain area, and about 30 miles west of the Walla Walla Valley area, which is on the east, or opposite, side of the Columbia River.

The proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area consists predominantly of open, dry plains and hills. The viticultural area includes a series of south-facing slopes and has dozens of drainages running in a spoke pattern from north to south and into the Columbia River. The strong winds that blow through the Columbia River Valley are the unique and distinctive feature of the Horse Heaven Hills area and directly affect the area's viticulture.

Below, we summarize the evidence presented in the petition.

Name Evidence

The range of hills in south-central Washington State in which the proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area is located has been referred to by that name since 1857. The books "Benton County Place Names" and "Prosser—The Home County," explain that cattleman James Kinney named the hills that year while camping near Kiona, Washington. Kinney awoke to find that his animals had wandered up a mountainside and into an upland plain where they were dining on succulent bunch grass. According to the books, he commented to himself, "Surely this is Horse Heaven."

The first official use of the name Horse Heaven in conjunction with this area dates to 1884 with the founding of the Horse Heaven School, according to an untitled history of the region. This history also notes that the Horse Heaven Cemetery started in the garden of William Dennis, a local resident killed in an 1892 harvest accident. Local newspapers, such as the Prosser Falls American (circa 1893), often referenced the Horse Heaven Hills name, as did books written about the area such as "Against Odds, A Personal Narrative of Life in Horse Heaven" (K. Elizabeth Sihler, Concordia Publishing House, St. Louis, Missouri, 1917). More recently, the Yakima-Herald published an online wine article in 2001 that mentions the Horse Heaven Ranch.

Today, the hills are still officially and popularly called the "Horse Heaven Hills" and have survived attempts to change the region's name to Benton Slope or Columbia Plains. For example, the United States Geological Survey (USGS) maps, as well as official State maps and atlases, consistently label this region as the "Horse Heaven Hills." The American Automobile Association map for the States of Oregon and Washington, published February 2003, also identifies the region in which the proposed viticultural area lies as the "Horse Heaven Hills."

Viticultural History

Growers have raised grapes in the Horse Heaven Hills region since 1972, when Don Mercer planted a 5-acre parcel of Cabernet Sauvignon at Phinny Hill, Washington. Between 1978 and 1981, Stimson Lane planted 2,000 acres in Paterson, Washington, including Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon, Gewurztraminer, Riesling, Sauvignon Blanc, and Grenache grapes. By the mid 1980s, commercial wine production included the Mercer Ranch Vineyards' Cabernet Sauvignon, and St. Michelle's Gewurztraminer, Grenache Rose, and Cabernet Sauvignon.

Plantings continued from the mid 1980s through the early 1990s in the Horse Heaven Hills region, and greatly accelerated after the vineyards in the Horse Heaven Hills survived the hard freeze of 1996, which destroyed much of Washington State's grape crop. As of 2002, there are at least 20 vineyards, with over 6,040 acres planted, plus four commercial wineries within the region.

Boundary Evidence

The proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area boundary is generally based on the hills' geographic extent and topography, and on a combination of their climate, terrain, and soils. These factors differentiate the Horse Heaven Hills from the surrounding geographic regions, as well as from the nearby, established viticultural areas of Yakima Valley, Walla Walla Valley, and Red Mountain and the larger, surrounding Columbia Valley area.

The Columbia River marks the natural eastern and southern boundary of the Horse Heaven Hills and thus serves as the proposed viticultural area's eastern and southern boundary. To the west in Klickitat County, the Horse Heaven Hills give way to more extreme terrain. Here, Pine Creek and the 1,700-foot contour line are used to mark the viticultural area's western boundary. In the north, the slopes of the Horse Heaven Hills gradually rise to the crest of the ridge that separates the hills from the much lower Yakima Valley. This ridge, the Yakima Valley side of which is generally very steep, marks the northern limit of the proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area as well.

Distinguishing Features

The proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area is a unique grape-growing region distinguished from the nearby viticultural areas of Yakima Valley, Red Mountain, Walla Walla Valley, and from the larger, surrounding Columbia Valley viticultural area. The primary distinguishing factors of the Horse Heaven Hills area include its topography, wind, annual heat unit accumulation, and precipitation.

Topography

The proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area is located in south-central Washington State, east of the Cascade Mountain Range and north and west of the Columbia River, which bisects eastern Washington State. The terrain within the viticultural area's 570,000 acres consists largely of south-sloping, open and dry plains, which have the geographical characteristics of a watershed, with dozens of drainages running north to south through the area in a wheel spoke pattern. Elevations range from 1,800 feet at the area's northern boundary to 200 feet at its southern boundary along the Columbia River, which forms the area's southern and eastern boundary.

To the north, the Yakima Valley borders the proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area. The steep slope and cliffs of the Yakima Valley and the crest of the Horse Heaven Hills form a natural boundary between the two viticultural regions. Only three Washington State Department of Transportation-maintained road passes exist between the Horse Heaven Hills and the Yakima Valley. In the west, Pine Creek, which flows south to the Columbia River, and the 1,700-foot contour line mark the boundary between the south-facing slopes of the Horse Heaven Hills and the more extreme terrain found to the west.

Wind

A significant distinguishing feature of the proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area is the heavy amount of strong wind the area receives. Based on the area's proximity to the Columbia River, and because the Columbia Gorge acts as a funnel, the Horse Heaven Hills area receives significantly more wind than surrounding areas.

In an article titled "The Columbia Gorge Wind Funnel" in the July 2003 issue of Weatherwise magazine (pages 104 through 107), Howard E. Graham of the National Weather Service's Portland, Oregon, office explains that the Columbia Gorge wind patterns are a function of the pressure differences between the west and east ends of this 120-mile long river canyon. The Gorge surrounds the Columbia River between Bridal Veil to the west, and Arlington to the east. The article emphasizes that the winds, rarely calm, always flow along the axis of the Gorge. The Pacific winds from the west bring moderating, mild maritime air into the Gorge. Conversely, the continental high winds from the east bring in dry air that is seasonably hot or cold. The heat of the Columbia Basin draws these intense winds north over Horse Heaven Hills after they exit the Columbia Gorge.

Wind through the Columbia Gorge is determined by Wind Run Miles (WRMs), a unit of measure for the force and speed of wind in one hour. The Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area records an average of 30 percent more WRM than the Walla Walla Valley viticultural area to the east and the Yakima Valley viticultural area to the north, and 20 percent more than the Red Mountain viticultural area to the immediate north. The three surrounding viticultural areas, unlike the Horse Heaven Hills region, are not in the direct wind funnel path of the Columbia Gorge.

Viticultural area	Annual wind run miles
Horse Heaven Hills	46,200
Red Mountain	36,700
Walla Walla Valley	32,800
Yakima Valley	32,800

The wind's effect on viticulture is especially noted during the grapevine bud-break to fruit-set period, according to a 1982 article, "Influence of Windbreaks and Climatic Region on Diurnal Fluctuation of Leaf Water Potential, Stomatal Conductance, and Leaf Temperature of Grapevines," by Freeman, Kliever, and Stern in the American Journal of Enological Viticulture, vol. 33:233-236. The most-often observed consequences of the higher winds within the proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area include a reduction in canopy size and density of grapes on the vines. Also, vines are less prone to disease, based on the wind's drying of wet plant surfaces on which fungal spores or bacteria can land. The volume of wind is also a key factor in determining the amount of irrigation needed for optimum vine growth.

Temperature

The proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area has a relatively warm growing season within the Columbia Valley region of Washington State. This growing season warmth has a dramatic impact on harvest dates and fruit quality. The harvest time in the Horse Heaven Hills may start up to two weeks before the harvest in the Yakima Valley, 40 miles to the northwest. The Horse Heaven Hills growing season allows growers to ensure full maturity in mid- to late-season grape varieties while receiving the benefit of extended time on the vine. The length of the growing season produces unique fruit characteristics, resulting in many "single vineyard" designated wines. It also decreases the risk of fall frost and harvest time disease.

The Annual Heat Units index calculates the sum of the average daily temperatures above a threshold of 50 degrees Fahrenheit during the growing season. This method determines and compares the heat growing conditions of viticultural areas.

Viticultural areas	Annual heat units (ten year average)
Red Mountain	3,016
Walla Walla Valley	2,821
Horse Heaven Hills	2,801
Yakima Valley	2,568

Rainfall

Central and eastern Washington State receives most of its annual rainfall in the winter months when grapevines are dormant. As a result, all grape-growing areas in this region require supplemental irrigation. However, the low amount of precipitation received during the growing season reduces the risk of harmful diseases that may occur in the vineyard. The low amount of water that grapevines in the Horse Heaven Hills receive prevents excessive vine canopy growth, which may lead to grapes with vegetative flavors, excessive acidity, reduced color, and large berry size.

The proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area receives about 9 inches of rain annually. This is 45 percent less rainfall than the 19.7 inches in the Walla Walla Valley area to the east, 30 percent less than Chelan, Washington, at 13.2 inches rainfall, to the north, and 13 percent more than the Yakima Valley, at 7.8 inches, to the immediate north.

Soils

Three dominant parent materials form the soils found within the proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area, according to Alan Busacca of the Department of Crop and Soil Sciences, Washington State University: (1) Eolian sand and silt (wind blown dunes and loess); (2) sediments from giant glacial outburst floods, including gravelly alluvium and stratified fine sands and silts (slackwater sediments); and (3) hill slope rubble from the Columbia River Basalt bedrock. The soils of each Washington State viticultural area are distinct, with variations in the proportion and distribution of the three parent materials noted above, according to Larry Meinert, a professor of Geology at Washington State University. The westerly wind transport predominant in the proposed Horse Heaven Hills area and the direction of glacial floods create a differing grain size distribution of the soils in the region as compared to the surrounding viticultural areas.

The proposed Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area's low annual precipitation and its hot summers act to weather the parent materials and soils. The soils are mainly classified as Aridisols (desert soils) and Mollisols (prairie soils), which are formed from various combinations of the three parent materials, according to the Soil Survey Staff in "Soil Taxonomy, A Basic System of Soil Classification for Making and Interpreting Soil Surveys," (Second Edition, 1999, USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service).

Boundary Description

See the narrative boundary description of the petitioned-for viticultural area in the proposed regulatory text published at the end of this notice.

Maps

The petitioner provided the required maps, and we list them below in the regulatory text.

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

TTB published a notice of proposed rulemaking regarding the establishment of the Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area in the Federal Register as Notice No. 27 on January 24, 2005 (70 FR 3322). In that notice, TTB requested comments by March 25, 2005, from all interested persons. TTB received six comments in response to the notice. All comments supported the establishment of the Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area based on its distinguishing viticultural features and the "Horse Heaven Hills" name, which accurately identifies this geographical region.

In this final rule, we altered the location of the Horse Heaven Hill viticultural area's proposed northern boundary between Webber and Badger Canyons in Benton County in order to simplify the boundary's description. The area's northern boundary remains the same as proposed up to the 1,745-foot peak on the western side of Webber Canyon. From that peak, rather than following a more complex series of contour and section lines between the two canyons, the finalized boundary continues southeasterly along a straight line to the 1,757-foot peak on the western side of Badger Canyon. From that peak the boundary proceeds due south to Smith Road, where it continues as proposed in Notice No. 27. This change makes this boundary section more consistent with the remainder of the viticultural area's northern boundary, which generally follows a series of straight lines drawn through peaks in the ridge separating the Horse Heaven Hills from the Yakima Valley. This boundary change increases the size of the Horse Heaven Hills area by less than 1,000 acres.

In addition, we altered the wording of several other boundary description paragraphs for clarity, but we did not change the location of the viticultural area's boundary except as noted above.

TTB Finding

After careful review of the Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area petition and the comments received, TTB finds that the evidence submitted supports the establishment of the proposed viticultural area. Therefore, under the authority of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and part 4 of our regulations, we establish the "Horse Heaven Hills" viticultural area, located along the Columbia River in portions of Klickitat, Yakima, and Benton counties in south-central Washington State, effective 30-days from the publication date of this final rule.

Impact on Current Wine Labels

Part 4 of the TTB regulations prohibits any label reference on a wine that indicates or implies an origin other than the wine's true place of origin. With the establishment of this viticultural area and its inclusion in part 9 of the TTB regulations, its name, "Horse Heaven Hills," is recognized as a name of viticultural significance. In addition, the name "Horse Heaven" standing alone is considered a term of viticultural significance since the names "Horse Heaven Hills" and "Horse Heaven" are often used interchangeably, and the name "Horse Heaven" applies to places within the boundary of the Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area. Consumers and vintners could, therefore, reasonably attribute the quality, reputation, or other characteristic of wine made from grapes grown in the Horse Heaven Hills viticultural area to the name Horse Heaven itself. Consequently, wine bottlers using "Horse Heaven Hills" or "Horse Heaven" in a brand name, including a trademark, or in another label reference as to the origin of the wine, must ensure that the product is eligible to use the viticultural area's name as an appellation of origin.

For a wine to be eligible to use as an appellation of origin the name of a viticultural area specified in part 9 of the TTB regulations, at least 85 percent of the grapes used to make the wine must have been grown within the area represented by that name, and the wine must meet the other conditions listed in 27 CFR 4.25(e)(3). If the wine is not eligible to use the viticultural area name as an appellation of origin and that name appears in the brand name, then the label is not in compliance and the bottler must change the brand name and obtain approval of a new label. Similarly, if the viticultural area name appears in another reference on the label in a misleading manner, the bottler would have to obtain approval of a new label.

Different rules apply if a wine has a brand name containing a viticultural area name that was used as a brand name on a label approved before July 7, 1986. See 27 CFR 4.39(i)(2) for details.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

We certify that this regulation will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This regulation imposes no new reporting, recordkeeping, or other administrative requirement. Any benefit derived from the use of a viticultural area name is the result of a proprietor's efforts and consumer acceptance of wines from that area. Therefore, no regulatory flexibility analysis is required.

Executive Order 12866

This rule is not a significant regulatory action as defined by Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735).

Therefore, it requires no regulatory assessment.

Disclosure of the source's identity not only will result in the Department breaching the promise of confidentiality made to the source but it will impair the Department's future ability to compile investigatory material for the purpose of determining suitability, eligibility, or qualifications for Federal civilian employment, Federal contracts, or access to classified information. Unless sources can be assured that a promise of confidentiality will be honored, they will be less likely to provide information considered essential to the Department in making the required determinations.

(ii) From subsection (e)(1) because in the collection of information for investigatory purpose, it is not always possible to determine the relevance and necessity of particular information in the early stages of the investigation. It is only after the information is evaluated in light of other information that its relevance and necessity becomes clear. Such information permits more informed decision-making by the Department when making required suitability, eligibility, and qualification determinations.

RIN 1625-AA08

Special Local Regulations for Marine Events; Humboldt Bay, San Francisco Bay, Monterey Bay, and Lake Tahoe

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DHS.

ACTION: Temporary final rule.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard is establishing special local regulations for the loading, transport, and launching of fireworks used during twenty two separate Fourth of July fireworks displays to be held in various locations in Northern California and Western Nevada. These special local regulations are intended to prohibit vessels and people from entering into or remaining within the regulated areas to ensure the safety of participants, spectators, and mariners transiting the event areas.

DATES: This rule is effective from 10 a.m. on July 2, 2005, to 11 p.m. on July 4, 2005.

ADDRESSES: Documents indicated in this preamble as being available in the docket are part of the docket CGD 11-05-010 and are available for inspection or copying at Coast Guard Marine Safety Office San Francisco Bay, Coast Guard Island, Alameda, California, 94501, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Lieutenant Doug Ebberts, U.S. Coast Guard Marine Safety Office San Francisco Bay, at (510) 437-2770.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Regulatory Information

We did not publish a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) for this regulation. Under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B), the Coast Guard finds that good cause exists for not publishing an NPRM. Logistical details surrounding the events were not finalized and presented to the Coast Guard in time to draft and publish an NPRM. As such, the events would occur before the rulemaking process was complete. Because of the dangers posed by the pyrotechnics used in the fireworks displays, special local regulations are necessary to provide for the safety of event participants, spectator craft, and other vessels transiting the event areas. For the safety concerns noted, it is in the public's interest to have these regulations in effect during the events.

Under 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3), the Coast Guard finds that good cause exists for making this rule effective less than 30 days after publication in the Federal Register. Any delay in the effective date of this rule would expose mariners to the dangers posed by the pyrotechnics used in the fireworks displays.

Background and Purpose

Various public and private agencies are sponsoring short fireworks displays between July 3, 2005, and July 5, 2005, throughout the Captain of the Port, San Francisco Bay Zone. The fireworks displays are meant for entertainment purposes in celebration of the Fourth of July Holiday. These special local regulations are being issued to establish temporary regulated areas around fireworks launch barges during the loading of pyrotechnics, during the transit of the barges to the display locations, and during the fireworks displays. For those displays launching fireworks from shore, temporary regulated areas are being established in the waters surrounding the shore-based launch locations. These regulated areas around the fireworks launch barges and launch locations are necessary to protect participants, spectators, and mariners transiting the event areas from the hazards associated with the pyrotechnics being used. The Coast Guard has granted marine event permits for each of the fireworks displays listed in this regulation.

Discussion of Rule

The Coast Guard is establishing temporary special local regulations on specified waters of the Captain of the Port, San Francisco Bay Zone. For each of the fireworks displays involving barges, the special local regulations apply to the navigable waters around and under the fireworks barge(s) within a radius of 100 feet during the loading of pyrotechnics onto the barge(s), the towing of the barge(s) to the display location, and until the start of the fireworks display. During the fireworks display, the area to which these special local regulations apply will increase in size to encompass the navigable waters around and under the fireworks barge(s) within a radius of 1,000 feet. For shore-fired fireworks displays, the special local regulations apply to the navigable waters surrounding the launch location within a radius of 1,000 feet during the fireworks display.

For barge-fired displays, the effect of the temporary special local regulations will be to restrict general navigation in the vicinity of fireworks barges during the loading of pyrotechnics, during the transit of the fireworks barges, and until the conclusion of the scheduled display. For shore-fired displays, the effect of the temporary special local regulations will be to restrict general navigation in the vicinity of the launch location during the fireworks display. Except for persons or vessels authorized by the Coast Guard Patrol Commander, no persons or vessels may enter or remain in the regulated areas. These regulations are needed to keep spectators and vessels a safe distance away to ensure the safety of participants, spectators, and transiting vessels.

Pursuant to 33 U.S.C. 1236, persons violating these special local regulations may be liable as follows: Suspension or revocation of the license of a licensed officer for incompetence or misconduct; civil penalty of $6,500 for any person in charge of the navigation of a vessel other than a licensed officer; civil penalty of $6,500 for the owner of a vessel (including any corporate officer of a corporation owning the vessel) who is actually on board; and $2,750 for any other person.

Regulatory Evaluation

This rule is not a "significant regulatory action" under section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review, and does not require an assessment of potential costs and benefits under section 6(a)(3) of that Order. The Office of Management and Budget has not reviewed it under that Order. It is not "significant" under the regulatory policies and procedures of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

Although these regulations prevent traffic from transiting portions of the San Francisco Bay zone, the effect of these regulations will not be significant due to the small size and limited duration of the regulated areas. The entities most likely affected are pleasure craft engaged in recreational activities and sightseeing.

Small Entities

Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601–612), we have considered whether this rule would have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The term “small entities” comprises small businesses, not-for-profit organizations that are independently owned and operated and are not dominant in their fields, and governmental jurisdictions with populations of less than 50,000.

The Coast Guard certifies under 5 U.S.C. 605(b) that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This rule may effect owners and operators of pleasure craft engaged in recreational activities and sightseeing, and small commercial sightseeing vessels. This rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities for several reasons: (i) Vessel traffic can pass safely around the regulated areas, (ii) vessels engaged in recreational activities and sightseeing have ample space outside of the regulated areas to engage in these activities, (iii) this rule will encompass small portions of the waterways for a limited period of time, and (iv) the maritime public will be advised in advance of these special local regulations via public notice to mariners.

Assistance for Small Entities

Under section 213(a) of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996 (Pub. L. 104–121), we offered to assist small entities in understanding the rule so that they could better evaluate its effects on them and participate in the rulemaking process. If the rule will affect your small business, organization, or government jurisdiction and you have questions concerning its provisions, options for compliance, or assistance in understanding this rule, please contact Lieutenant Doug Ebberts, U.S. Coast Guard Marine Safety Office San Francisco Bay, at (510) 437–5873.

Small businesses may send comments on the actions of Federal employees who enforce, or otherwise determine compliance with, Federal regulations to the Small Business and Agriculture Regulatory Enforcement Ombudsman and the Regional Small Business Regulatory Fairness Boards. The Ombudsman evaluates these actions annually and rates each agency’s responsiveness to small business. If you wish to comment on actions by employees of the Coast Guard, call 1–888–REG–FAIR (1–888–734–3247).

This rule calls for no new collection of information under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520).

Federalism

A rule has implications for federalism under Executive Order 13132, Federalism, if it has a substantial direct effect on State or local governments and would either preempt State law or impose a substantial direct cost of compliance on them. We have analyzed this rule under that Order and have determined that it does not have implications for federalism.

Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

The Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1531–1538) requires Federal agencies to assess the effects of their discretionary regulatory actions. In particular, the Act addresses actions that may result in the expenditure by a State, local, or tribal government, in the aggregate, or by the private sector of $100,000,000 or more in any one year. Though this rule will not result in such expenditure, we do discuss the effects of this rule elsewhere in this preamble.

Taking of Private Property

This rule will not effect a taking of private property or otherwise have taking implications under Executive Order 12630, Governmental Actions and Interference with Constitutionally Protected Property Rights.

Civil Justice Reform

This rule meets applicable standards in sections 3(a) and 3(b)(2) of Executive Order 12988, Civil Justice Reform, to minimize litigation, eliminate ambiguity, and reduce burden.

Protection of Children

We have analyzed this rule under Executive Order 13045, Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks. This rule is not an economically significant rule and does not create an environmental risk to health or risk to safety that may disproportionately affect children.

Indian Tribal Governments

This rule does not have tribal implications under Executive Order 13175, Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments, because it does not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes.

Energy Effects

We have analyzed this rule under Executive Order 13211, Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use. We have determined that it is not a “significant energy action” under that order because it is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866 and is not likely to have a significant adverse effect on the supply, distribution, or use of energy. The Administrator of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs has not designated it as a significant energy action. Therefore, it does not require a Statement of Energy Effects under Executive Order 13211.

Technical Standards

The National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act (NTTAA) (15 U.S.C. 272 note) directs agencies to use voluntary consensus standards in their regulatory activities unless the agency provides Congress, through the Office of Management and Budget, with an explanation of why using these standards would be inconsistent with applicable law or otherwise impractical. Voluntary consensus standards are technical standards (e.g., specifications of materials, performance, design, or operation; test methods; sampling procedures; and related management systems practices) that are developed or adopted by voluntary consensus standards bodies.

This rule does not use technical standards. Therefore, we did not consider the use of voluntary consensus standards.

Environment

We have analyzed this rule under Commandant Instruction M16475.ID, which guides the Coast Guard in complying with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA)(42 U.S.C. 4321–4370f), and have concluded that there are no factors in this case that would limit the use of a categorical exclusion under section 2.B.2 of the Instruction. Therefore, this rule is categorically excluded, under figure 2–1, paragraph (34)(h), of the Instruction, from further environmental documentation. Special local regulations issued in conjunction with a regatta or marine parade permit are specifically excluded from further analysis and documentation under those sections.

Under figure 2–1, paragraph (34)(h), of the Instruction, an “Environmental Analysis Check List” and a “Categorical Exclusion Determination” are not required for this rule.

RIN 1625-AA00

Safety Zone: Independence Day Celebration Fireworks—Ipswich, MA

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DHS.

ACTION: Temporary final rule.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard is establishing a temporary safety zone for the Independence Day Fireworks on July 3, 2005 on Ipswich Bay in Ipswich, Massachusetts. The safety zone will prohibit entry into or movement within a portion of Ipswich Bay during the closure period. The safety zone is necessary to protect the life and property of the maritime public from the potential hazards posed by a fireworks display.

DATES: This rule is effective from 8:30 p.m. e.d.t. on July 3, 2005 to 10:30 p.m. e.d.t. on July 3, 2005.

ADDRESSES: Documents indicated in this preamble as being available in the docket are part of docket CGD01-05-053 and are available for inspection or copying at Sector Boston, 427 Commercial Street, Boston, MA, between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Chief Petty Officer Paul English, Sector Boston, Waterways Safety and Response Division, at (617) 223-5750.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Regulatory Information

We did not publish a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) for this regulation. Under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B), the Coast Guard finds that good cause exists for not publishing an NPRM. An NPRM was not published for this regulation because the logistics for the fireworks presentation were not determined with sufficient time to draft and publish an NPRM. Any delay encountered in this regulation's effective date would be contrary to the public interest since the safety zone is needed to prevent traffic from transiting a portion of Ipswich Bay during the fireworks display and to provide for the safety of life on navigable waters.

Under 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3), the Coast Guard finds that good cause exists for making this rule effective less than 30 days after publication in the Federal Register. Any delay encountered in this regulation's effective date would be contrary to the public interest since the safety zone is needed to prevent traffic from transiting a portion of Ipswich Bay during the fireworks event thus ensuring that the maritime public is protected from any potential harm associated with such an event. Additionally, the zone should have a negligible impact on vessel transits due to the fact that vessels will be limited from the area for only 2 hours, and vessels can still transit in the majority of Ipswich Bay during the event.

Background and Purpose

This temporary rule establishes a safety zone in Ipswich Bay within a four hundred (400)-yard radius of the fireworks launch site located at approximate position 42°41'5" N, 070°46'55" W. The safety zone will in effect from 8:30 p.m. e.d.t. until 10:30 p.m. e.d.t. on July 3, 2005.

The zone will restrict movement within this portion of Ipswich Bay and is needed to protect the maritime public from the dangers posed by a fireworks display. Marine traffic may transit safely outside of the safety zone during the effective period. The Captain of the Port does not anticipate any negative impact on vessel traffic due to this event. Public notifications will be made prior to the effective period via safety marine information broadcasts and local notice to mariners.

Discussion of Rule

The safety zone is in effect from 8:30 p.m. e.d.t. until 10:30 p.m. e.d.t. July 3, 2005. Marine traffic may transit safely outside of the safety zone in the majority of Ipswich Bay during the event. Because of the limited time-frame of the effective period and because the zone leaves the majority of Ipswich Bay open for navigation, the Captain of the Port anticipates minimal negative impact on vessel traffic due to this event. Public notifications will be made prior to the effective period via Local Notice to Mariners and marine information broadcasts.

Regulatory Evaluation

This rule is not a "significant regulatory action" under section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review, and does not require an assessment of potential costs and benefits under section 6(a)(3) of that Order. The Office of Management and Budget has not reviewed it under that Order. It is not "significant" under the regulatory policies and procedures of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

The Coast Guard expects the economic impact of this rule to be so minimal that a full Regulatory Evaluation of the regulatory policies and procedures of DHS is unnecessary. Although this rule will prevent traffic from transiting a portion of Ipswich Bay during the effective periods, the effects of this rule will not be significant for several reasons: Vessels will be excluded from the area of the safety zone for only 2 hours, vessels will be able to operate in the majority of Ipswich Bay during the effective period, and advance notifications will be made to the local maritime community by marine information broadcasts and Local Notice to Mariners.

Small Entities

Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601-612), we have considered whether this rule would have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The term "small entities" comprises small businesses, not-for-profit organizations that are independently owned and operated and are not dominant in their fields, and governmental jurisdictions with populations of less than 50,000.

The Coast Guard certifies under 5 U.S.C. 605(b) that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

This rule will affect the following entities, some of which may be small entities: the owners or operators of vessels intending to transit or anchor in a portion of Ipswich Bay from 8:30 p.m. e.d.t. to 10:30 p.m. e.d.t. on July 3, 2005.

This safety zone will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities for the following reasons: this rule will be in effect for only 2 hours, vessel traffic can safely pass around the safety zone, and advance notifications will be made to the local maritime community by marine information broadcasts and Local Notice to Mariners.

Assistance for Small Entities

Under section 213(a) of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996 (Pub. L. 104–121), we offered to assist small entities in understanding the rule so that they could better evaluate its effects on them and participate in the rulemaking process. Small businesses may send comments on the actions of Federal employees who enforce, or otherwise determine compliance with, Federal regulations to the Small Business and Agriculture Regulatory Enforcement Ombudsman and the Regional Small Business Regulatory Fairness Boards. The Ombudsman evaluates these actions annually and rates each agency's responsiveness to small business. If you wish to comment on actions by employees of the Coast Guard, call 1–888–REG–FAIR (1–888–734–3247).

This rule calls for no new collection of information under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520).

Federalism

A rule has implications for federalism under Executive Order 13132, Federalism, if it has a substantial direct effect on State or local governments and would either preempt State law or impose a substantial direct cost of compliance on them. We have analyzed this rule under that Order and have determined that it does not have implications for federalism.

Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

The Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1531–1538) requires Federal agencies to assess the effects of their discretionary regulatory actions. In particular, the Act addresses actions that may result in the expenditure by a State, local, or tribal government, in the aggregate, or by the private sector of $100,000,000 or more in any one year. Though this rule will not result in such an expenditure, we do discuss the effects of this rule elsewhere in this preamble.

Taking of Private Property

This rule will not effect a taking of private property or otherwise have taking implications under Executive Order 12630, Governmental Actions and Interference with Constitutionally Protected Property Rights.

Civil Justice Reform

This rule meets applicable standards in sections 3(a) and 3(b)(2) of Executive Order 12988, Civil Justice Reform, to minimize litigation, eliminate ambiguity, and reduce burden.

Protection of Children

We have analyzed this rule under Executive Order 13045, Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks. This rule is not an economically significant rule and does not create an environmental risk to health or risk to safety that may disproportionately affect children.

Indian Tribal Governments

This rule does not have tribal implications under Executive Order 13175, Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments, because it does not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes.

Energy Effects

We have analyzed this rule under Executive Order 13211, Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use. We have determined that it is not a "significant energy action" under that order because it is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866 and is not likely to have a significant adverse effect on the supply, distribution, or use of energy. The Administrator of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs has not designated it as a significant energy action. Therefore, it does not require a Statement of Energy Effects under Executive Order 13211.

Technical Standards

The National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act (NTTAA) (15 U.S.C. 272 note) directs agencies to use voluntary consensus standards in their regulatory activities unless the agency provides Congress, through the Office of Management and Budget, with an explanation of why using these standards would be inconsistent with applicable law or otherwise impractical. Voluntary consensus standards are technical standards (e.g., specifications of materials, performance, design, or operation; test methods; sampling procedures; and related management systems practices) that are developed or adopted by voluntary consensus standards bodies. This rule does not use technical standards. Therefore, we did not consider the use of voluntary consensus standards.

Environment

We have analyzed this rule under Commandant Instruction M16475.ID, which guides the Coast Guard in complying with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA) (42 U.S.C. 4321–4370f), and have concluded that there are no factors in this case that would limit the use of a categorical exclusion under section 2.B.2 of the Instruction. Therefore, this rule is categorically excluded, under figure 2–1, paragraph (34)(g) of the Instruction, from further environmental documentation. This rule fits the category selected from paragraph (34)(g), as it would establish a safety zone.

A final "Environmental Analysis Check List" and a final "Categorical Exclusion Determination" will be available in the docket where indicated under ADDRESSES.

[CGD09–05–027]

RIN 1625–AA87

Security Zone; Cleveland Harbor, Cleveland, Ohio

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DHS

ACTION: Temporary final rule.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard is establishing a temporary security zone in Cleveland's inner harbor for the visit of the HMCS Toronto. The security zone is necessary to ensure the security of this vessel and dignitaries visiting Cleveland, Ohio. Entry into this security zone is prohibited without permission of the Captain of the Port Cleveland.

DATES: This rule is effective from midnight (local) July 14, 2005, until midnight, July 17, 2005.

ADDRESSES: Documents indicated in this preamble as being available in the docket, are part of docket (CGD09–05–027) and are available for inspection or copying at the U.S. Coast Guard Marine Safety Office Cleveland, 1055 East Ninth Street, Cleveland, Ohio 44114, between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal Holidays.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: LT Allen Turner, U.S. Coast Guard Marine Safety Office Cleveland, at (216) 937–0128.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Regulatory Information

We did not publish a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) for this regulation. Under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B), the Coast Guard finds that good cause exists for not publishing an NPRM. The exact date of the event was not known in sufficient time to allow for the publication of an NPRM followed by publication of an effective date before the event. And delaying this rule would be contrary to the public interest of ensuring the safety of dignitaries and vessels during this event, and immediate action is necessary to prevent possible loss of life or property.

For these same reasons, under 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3), the Coast Guard finds that good cause exists for making this rule effective less than 30 days after publication in the Federal Register.

Background and Purpose

This security zone is necessary ensure the safety of the vessel and dignitaries visiting Cleveland from any potential hazards or threats associated with foreign warships and dignitary visits.

The combination of large numbers of inexperienced recreational boaters, congested waterways, and crossing commercially transited waterways could result in an unnecessary security risk to any visiting dignitaries.

Establishing security zones gives the Coast Guard and Law Enforcement agencies an opportunity to secure an area before a dignitary arrives.

Discussion of the Rule

The Coast Guard is establishing a security zone at Cleveland's inner harbor in Cleveland, OH. The security zone includes all waters from Cleveland Port Authority (CPA) Dock 20 along the shoreline east to CPA dock 24. Then from dock 24 extends north to the break wall just east of buoy 14. The security zone follows the break wall west to the "Lake Approach Channel" Structure 3 (flashing green 4s), then south to CPA dock 20 as marked by structure 5 (flashing green 2.5s).

Entry into, transit through, or anchoring within this security zone is prohibited unless authorized by the Captain of the Port Cleveland or his designated on-scene representative. The designated on-scene representative will be the Coast Guard Patrol Commander. The Coast Guard Patrol Commander may be contacted via VHF Channel 16. The Coast Guard will notify the public in advance by way of Ninth Coast Guard District Local Notice to Mariners, marine information broadcasts, and for those who request it from marine Safety Office Cleveland, by facsimile.

Regulatory Evaluation

This rule is not a "significant regulatory action" under section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review, and does not require an assessment of potential costs and benefits under section 6(a)(3) of that Order. The Office of Management and Budget has not reviewed this rule under that Order. It is not "significant" under the regulatory policies and procedures of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

We expect the economic impact of this rule to be so minimal that a full Regulatory Evaluation under the regulatory policies and procedures of DHS is unnecessary.

This determination is based on the size and location of the security zone within the water. The security zone will hinder commercial vessels, as they will not be able to transit within the breakwater during the period this zone is in effect. Recreational vessels will not be allowed to transit through the designated security zone during the specified times.

Small Entities

Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601–612), we have considered whether this rule would have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities. The term "small entities" comprises small businesses, not-for-profit organizations that are independently owned and operated and are not dominant in their fields, and governmental jurisdictions with populations of less than 50,000.

The Coast Guard certifies under 5 U.S.C. 605(b) that this rule would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

This rule would affect the following entities, some of which might be small entities: The owners or operators of commercial vessels intending to transit a portion of the activated security zone.

This security zone would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities for the following reasons: The proposed zone is only in effect while the HMCS Toronto is in port. Before the activation of the security zone, the Coast Guard notify mariners through the Ninth District Coast Guard Local Notice to Mariners, Marine Information Broadcasts and when requested by facsimile.

If you think that your business, organization, or governmental jurisdiction qualifies as a small entity and that this rule would have a significant economic impact on it, please submit a comment (see ADDRESSES) explaining why you think it qualifies and how and to what degree this rule would economically affect it.

Assistance for Small Entities

Under section 213(a) of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996 (Pub. L. 104–121), we offered to assist small entities in understanding this rule so that they can better evaluate its effects and participate in the rulemaking process. If the rule would affect your small business, organization, or governmental jurisdiction and you have questions concerning its provisions or options for compliance, please contact Lieutenant Allen Turner, U.S. Coast Guard Marine Safety Office Cleveland, 1055 East 9th Street, Cleveland, OH 44114. The Coast Guard will not retaliate against small entities that question or complain about this rule or any policy or action of the Coast Guard.

This rule would call for no new collection of information under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520).

Federalism

A rule has implications for federalism under Executive Order 13132, Federalism, if it has a substantial direct effect on State or local governments and would either preempt State law or impose a substantial cost of compliance on them. We have analyzed this rule under that Order and have determined that it does not have implications for federalism.

Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

The Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1531–1538) requires Federal agencies to assess the effects of their discretionary regulatory actions. In particular, the Act addresses actions that may result in the expenditure by a State, local, or tribal government, in the aggregate, or by the private sector of $100,000,000 or more in any one year. Though this proposed rule would not result in such an expenditure, we do discuss the effects of this rule elsewhere in this preamble.

Taking of Private Property

This rule would not affect a taking of private property or otherwise have taking implications under Executive Order 12630, Governmental Actions and Interference with Constitutionally Protected Property Rights.

Civil Justice Reform

This rule meets applicable standards in sections 3(a) and 3(b)(2) of Executive Order 12988, Civil Justice Reform, to minimize litigation, eliminate ambiguity, and reduce burden.

Protection of Children

The Coast Guard has analyzed this rule under Executive Order 13045, Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks. This rule is not an economically significant rule and does not concern an environmental risk to health or risk to safety that may disproportionately affect children.

Indian Tribal Governments

This proposed rule does not have tribal implications under Executive Order 13175, Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments, because it would not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes. We invite your comments on how this proposed rule might impact tribal government, even if that impact may not constitute a “tribal implication” under that Order.

Energy Effects

We have analyzed this rule under Executive Order 13211, Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use. We have determined that it is not a “significant energy action” under that order because it is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866 and is not likely to have a significant adverse effect on the supply, distribution, or use of energy. The Administrator of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs has not designated it as a significant energy action. Therefore, it does not require a Statement of Energy Effects under Executive Order 13211.

Technical Standards

The National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act (NTTAA) (15 U.S.C. 272 note) directs agencies to use voluntary consensus standards in their regulatory activities unless the agency provides Congress, through the Office of Management and Budget, with an explanation of why using these standards would be inconsistent with applicable law or otherwise impractical. Voluntary consensus standards are technical standards (e.g., specifications of materials, performance, design, or operation; test methods; sampling procedure; and related management system practices) that are developed or adopted by voluntary consensus standards bodies.

This rule does not use technical standards. Therefore, we did not consider the use of voluntary consensus standards.

Environment

We have analyzed this proposed rule under Commandant Instruction M16475.ID, which guides the Coast Guard in complying with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA)(42 U.S.C. 4321–4370f), and have made a preliminary determination that there are no factors in this case that would limit the use of a categorical exclusion under section 2.B.2 of the Instruction. Therefore, we believe that this rule should be categorically excluded, under figure 2–1, paragraph (34)(g), of the Instruction, from further environmental documentation.

While not required, a preliminary “Environmental Analysis Check List” is available in the docket where indicated under ADDRESSES for your review.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

34 CFR Part 230

RIN 1855-AA04

Innovation for Teacher Quality

AGENCY: Office of Innovation and Improvement, Department of Education.

ACTION: Final regulations.

SUMMARY: The Secretary issues regulations prescribing criteria to be used in selecting eligible members of the Armed Forces to participate in the Troops-to-Teachers program and receive financial assistance. These regulations implement section 2303(c) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended (Act). The regulations also define the terms “high-need local educational agency” (high-need LEA) and “public charter school” in which a participant must agree to be employed under section 2304(a)(1)(B) of the Act. In addition, the regulations define the term “children from families with income below the poverty line” which is used in the definition of high-need LEA.

DATES: These regulations are effective September 15, 2005.

Individuals with disabilities may obtain this document in an alternative format (e.g., Braille, large print, audiotape, or computer diskette) on request to the contact person listed FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: These regulations implement section 2303(c) of Title II, Part C, Subpart 1, Chapter A of the Act, as amended by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 (NCLB) (Pub. L. 107-110), enacted January 8, 2002. Subpart 1, Transitions to Teaching, of Chapter A authorizes the Troops-to-Teachers program. This program provides assistance, including stipends of up to $5,000, to eligible members of the Armed Forces so that they can obtain certification or licensing as elementary school teachers, secondary school teachers, or vocational/technical teachers and become highly qualified teachers. In addition, the program helps participants find employment in high-need LEAs or public charter schools.

With respect to participation agreements under section 2304(a)(1)(B) of the Act signed on or after September 15, 2005, only full-time employment in a “high-need LEA” or “public charter school” as defined in 34 CFR 230.2 will satisfy the Act’s service requirement. Participation agreements signed prior to September 15, 2005 are not subject to the new definitions.

On January 14, 2005 the Secretary published a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) for this program in the Federal Register (70 FR 2582). The NPRM proposed regulations implementing section 2303(c)(1) of the Act, which directs the Secretary to prescribe criteria to be used to select eligible members of the Armed Forces to participate in the program. The NPRM also proposed regulations to resolve an ambiguity in the Act regarding the definitions of a “high-need local educational agency” and “public charter school.”

Analysis of Comments and Changes

In response to the Secretary’s invitation in the NPRM, approximately 100 parties submitted comments on the proposed regulations. An analysis of the comments and of the changes in the regulations since publication of the NPRM follows.

We discuss substantive issues under the sections of the regulations to which they pertain. Generally, we do not address technical and other minor changes—and suggested changes the law does not authorize the Secretary to make.

Section 230.1

Comment: One commenter stated that § 230.1, which is simply a brief general description of the Troops-to-Teachers program, does not provide an accurate context for the proposed regulations that follow it because, according to the commenter, that section inaccurately stated that bonuses may be paid to teachers agreeing to serve in “high-poverty schools” when in fact the Act specifies teachers in a “high-need school”. According to this comment, the Department’s alleged failure to recognize the distinction between low income and high poverty established an inaccurate context for all of the proposed regulations that followed the brief program description.

Discussion: The legal standard for schools in which service will satisfy the service requirement for bonuses is set forth unambiguously in section 2304(d)(3) of the Act. “High-need school,” which is defined by the Act, is a distinct term unrelated to the term high-need LEA, which is not defined in the Act. In the proposed regulations, “high-poverty schools” was used as a shorthand description of one technical provision of the Act in the general description of the Troops-to-Teachers program in § 230.1. By its nature, such a brief description is not intended to substitute for the Act, address every aspect of the Act, or provide a detailed discussion of each of the Act’s technical provisions. However, the Secretary has concluded that the regulation can be improved by adhering closely to the statutory language on bonuses, and the regulation has been changed accordingly.

Change: Section 230.1 has been amended to specify in the last sentence that, in lieu of a stipend, the Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) may pay a bonus of $10,000 to a participant who agrees to teach in a high-need school.

Comments: Virtually every commenter opposed the proposed definition of high-need LEA in § 230.2. Many commenters asserted that the proposed definition would seriously injure the Troops-to-Teachers program, the schools and students it serves, and service members who have sacrificed greatly to serve their country. Several commenters stated that the effect of the proposed definition would be to remove strong teacher candidates from the classrooms that need them most. Commenters presented examples of instances where they believed that the most needy schools would be disqualified under the proposal. For example, one commenter asserted that the Texas LEAs serving Fort Hood would not be high-need LEAs under the proposed definition, but have been commended for making that military installation one of the few locations where service personnel can obtain the full range of special educational services for their families.

One commenter urged the Secretary to establish the policy that three years of service as a full-time classroom teacher in any public or charter school classroom satisfies the service commitment under the Act.

Many commenters asserted that the number of eligible LEAs in their State would be severely and inappropriately restricted under the proposed definition. For example, according to one commenter, whereas 80 percent of Colorado's LEAs are currently classified as high-need LEAs, under the proposal the number would shrink to six (1.6 percent). According to another commenter, there would be a 67 percent reduction in the number of high-need LEAs in North Carolina. Numerous other commenters presented similar statistics for their States.

According to a comment filed by a representative of DANTES, which administers the program under a memorandum of agreement with the Department, on a national basis about 39 percent of LEAs would qualify under the proposed definition (compared with 70 percent under the standard DANTES currently uses).

One commenter stated that, unlike other educational career transition programs, the Troops-to-Teachers program has as its primary emphasis assistance to retiring members of the military. In addition, according to this comment, the Congress has historically recognized that this program's participants are located throughout the world in locations that do not permit them to anticipate with any certainty where they will be seeking employment as teachers at the conclusion of their military careers. The comment urges the Secretary to recognize this unique aspect of the program in defining high-need LEAs in which participants can satisfy their service obligation.

Several commenters asserted that the proposed definition conflicts with the basic purpose of the Troops-to-Teachers program, which they asserted is to facilitate the employment of former service members in LEAs that receive grants under Part A of Title I of the Act. One commenter stated that "high-need LEA" should be defined in terms of low-income students in the same manner as Part A of Title I, rather than using the criteria in the proposed definition. Numerous commenters argued that the current definition of high-need LEA, which is based on free and reduced price lunch (FRPL) eligibility, is consistent with section 2302(b)(2)(a)(i) of the Act, which states that the program is authorized to facilitate the employment of service members in LEAs or public charter schools receiving grants under part A of Title I as the result of having concentrations of children from low-income families. According to these comments, the phrase "concentrations of children from low-income families" has been operationally defined by DANTES to mean LEAs with 20 percent or more of their students eligible for a free or reduced price lunch.

Several commenters questioned the use of census poverty data for determining whether an LEA has enough children from families with incomes below the poverty line to be considered a high-need LEA, because of concerns about the reliability of those data. Another commenter suggested that FRPL data available from the Food and Nutrition Service in the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) may be a more accurate measure of poverty and should be used for determining whether an LEA has enough children from low-income families to be considered a high-need school district.

Under the proposed regulation, the term "high-need local educational agency" would have meant an LEA: (1) That serves not fewer than 10,000 children from families with incomes below the poverty line; (2) for which not less than 20 percent of the children served by the agency are from families below the poverty line; or (3) for which not less than 15 nor more than 19 percent of the children served by the agency are from families below the poverty line and that assigns all teachers funded by the Troops-to-Teachers Program to high-need schools.

Several commenters suggested alternative definitions of high-need LEA. Several suggested that the definition of high-need LEA be changed to be identical to the statutory definition for high-need school in section 2304(d)(3) of the Act. Under section 2304(d) of the Act, a Troops-to-Teachers program participant must agree to teach in a high-need school in a high-need LEA in order to qualify for a bonus in lieu of a stipend. Another commenter suggested that the proposed definition be changed slightly so that the first tier of the definition applies to an LEA with 7,500 rather than 10,000 children from families with incomes below the poverty line and that the range for qualification for the third tier of LEAs be amended to between 10 and 19 percent rather than between 15 and 19 percent while retaining the proviso that all Troops-to-Teachers program participants in that tier of LEAs be assigned to high-need schools.

Finally, one commenter questioned whether the intent of the proposed definition is to reduce the cost of the program by reducing the number of participants who can gain employment in a high-need LEA.

Discussion: The suggestion that the Secretary establish the policy that service in any LEA or public charter school will meet the service obligation under the Act is contrary to the evident intent of the Act. While the Act failed to define the terms "high-need LEA" and "public charter school," the Act does make a distinction between them and other LEAs, and this distinction must be given effect. The Act's requirement in section 2304(a)(1)(B) that participants agree to serve in those entities rather than in LEAs generally (if they are to receive financial assistance) makes it clear that not every LEA can provide employment that will satisfy the Act. Therefore, the Secretary rejects this suggestion.

As noted in the NPRM, the proposed definition was not motivated by a desire to realize cost savings for the program. To the contrary, the Administration, through its budget policy, has been very supportive of Troops-to-Teachers. The definition was intended to balance the need to provide program participants with reasonable opportunities to satisfy their teaching commitments under the program with the need to target recruitment assistance to LEAs with the greatest need for that assistance.

The Secretary acknowledges that the nature of military service introduces uncertainty for program participants, particularly for those stationed overseas upon enrollment in the program. These participants may be unable to anticipate where they ultimately will be seeking employment as teachers. The Secretary notes that the Troops-to-Teachers program has its historical antecedents under prior statutes that placed primary emphasis on the placement of retiring service members and comparatively little emphasis on ensuring that resources were targeted to high-need LEAs. Not surprisingly, these statutes did not require service in a "high-need LEA." In contrast, the Act now requires such service, signifying that, unlike under prior law, some greater degree of targeting of resources is required. Moreover, the Act as a whole, of which the Troops-to-Teachers statute is a part, evidences Congressional intent to target resources to LEAs in need. Specifically, by more precisely directing funds, under programs like Title I grants to LEAs, Teacher Quality State grants, and Educational Technology State grants to LEAs with high concentrations of child poverty, Congress not only made NCLB a vehicle for holding LEAs accountable for teaching all children to high standards, but also targeted funding through the Act to those LEAs with the greater need for assistance in achieving that objective. The amendments made to the Troops-to-Teachers program by NCLB were consistent with that more general thrust of the Act.

While the Secretary is not free to ignore the imperative that resources be targeted, with the benefit of the public comments in response to the NPRM, the Secretary has concluded that some adjustment of the definition of "high-need LEA" is necessary to balance the objectives of placing retiring service members in the teaching profession and serving needy LEAs. In this final regulation, the Secretary amends the third tier of the definition of "high-need LEA," as suggested by a commenter, so that that it applies to LEAs with 10 percent or more but less than 20 percent of their children from families below the poverty line. The provision that all Troops-to-Teachers program participants in the third tier must be assigned to high-need schools is unchanged.

The same commenter's other suggestion, that the threshold for the first tier of the definition, LEAs serving 10,000 or more students from families below the poverty line, be expanded to apply to LEAs with 7,500 or more such students has not been adopted. In considering this second suggestion, the Secretary found that once the change in percentage in the third tier is made, this additional change in the first tier would not significantly increase the number of LEAs that would be considered high-need.

The Secretary rejects the suggestion by several commenters that "high-need LEA" be defined identically to the statutory definition for "high-need school" in section 2304(d)(3) of the Act because that suggestion is not consistent with the Act. The Act makes a distinction between high-need LEAs and high-need schools that the suggestion would negate. Any participant who receives any financial support, whether stipend or bonus, must agree to teach in a high-need LEA or public charter school. There is yet a further threshold for those who wish to receive a bonus in lieu of a stipend. Those participants must also agree to teach in a high-need school within a high-need LEA or in a public charter school. Eliminating the distinction between a high-need LEA and a high-need school would eliminate currently eligible LEAs from the program since not all of those LEAs have high-need schools. Moreover, if all participants were assigned to high-need schools, they would all be eligible for bonuses; the statutory provisions for stipend would become superfluous.

As revised, the definition of high-need LEA has been expanded and should provide an adequate universe of LEAs in which participants can satisfy their teaching obligations. Approximately 22 percent of the LEAs in the country serve communities in which 20 percent or more of school-aged children are from families with incomes below the poverty line. An additional approximately 36 percent of LEAs in the country serve communities in which 10 percent or more but less than 20 percent of school-aged children are from families with incomes below the poverty line. Participants who teach in this class of LEAs can satisfy their obligations if they teach in high-need schools.

With potentially 58 percent of the LEAs in the country eligible as high-need LEAs, the Secretary rejects the contentions that the effect of the definition is to remove strong teacher candidates from the classrooms that need them most or that the most needy schools will be disqualified under the final regulation. If anything, the definition errs on the side of being over-inclusive rather than under-inclusive. Potentially, most of the LEAs in the country, serving approximately 65 percent of the Nation's K-12 population, are eligible under the revised definition.

As noted previously, with regard to the contention that the more narrow proposed definition excluded the most needy LEAs, one commenter alleged that the schools surrounding Fort Hood would be eliminated from eligibility under the proposed rule. However, according to data obtained from DANTES, even under the more narrow proposed definition, a number of LEAs within a 25-mile radius of Fort Hood would be considered high-need LEAs. Under the more expansive revised definition, most of those LEAs could potentially be high-need LEAs.

Similarly, the comments—that the proposed definition would have drastically reduced the number of eligible LEAs in particular States—have been largely addressed by the expansion of the definition of high-need LEA. As a result, the Secretary believes that in each State there should be a sufficient number of high-need LEAs with a geographical distribution adequate to provide an appropriate range of options to program participants while remaining faithful to the intent of the Act to target resources. For example, Colorado and North Carolina were two of the States in which commenters asserted that there would be a drastic reduction in eligible LEAs under the more narrow proposed rule; there will potentially be 121 of 180 Colorado LEAs eligible and 110 of 120 North Carolina LEAs eligible under the final regulation.

The Secretary disagrees with the commenters who opposed the use of Census Bureau data in the application of the definition of "high-need LEA." U.S. Census Bureau's development of model-based census estimates for LEA poverty rates grew out of the 1994 reauthorization of the Act. In the 1994 amendments to the Act, Congress mandated that the Department use census data that are updated every two years to calculate Title I LEA allocations. The NCLB amendments to Act in 2002 reaffirmed the policy to use updated census data developed through the Census Bureau's model to determine Title I allocations and further required that LEA poverty estimates be updated every year rather than every two years. The decision made by Congress to continue using updated LEA census estimates was based on an evaluation by the National Academy of Sciences (NAS) of the methodology used by the Census Bureau in developing these model-based estimates. In its 1999 "Interim Report 3: Evaluation of 1995 County and School District Estimates for Title I allocations," NAS concluded " * * * that the Census Bureau's * * * [updated] estimates are generally as good as—and, in some instances, better than—estimates that are currently being used." Thus, NAS "recommends to the Secretaries of Education and Commerce that the Census Bureau's * * * school district estimates of poor school-age children be used to make direct Title I allocations to school districts for the 1999–2000 school year." After consulting with NAS and the Census Bureau, the Department of Education and the Department of Commerce jointly decided to follow NAS' recommendation and allocate fiscal year 1999 Title I funds to LEAs using updated Census Bureau school district estimates. The Department has continued to rely on updated LEA Census model-based estimates because it strongly believes that these estimates, while not perfect, represent the best data available on the number and location of children from low-income families in LEAs across the country. The Department is currently using 2002 Census estimates to allocate more than $12.7 billion in fiscal year (FY) 2005 Title I, Part A funds to LEAs and will use updated 2003 Census estimates to allocate funds made available in the FY 2006 appropriation.

While there are other LEA-level data, such as FRPL, that measure poverty, the Secretary believes that the Census estimates provide a better measure of the extent of poverty nationally for several reasons. First, the family income threshold needed to qualify for the FRPL program is 185 percent of the poverty level used by the Census Bureau. Hence, many more children qualify for the FRPL program than are considered poor under the census definition, which makes FRPL eligibility too expansive a measure of poverty.

Second, FRPL data tend to undercount children in middle and high schools, because children in the upper grades tend to participate in the school lunch program in significantly lower numbers. Therefore, the number of poor children in high school districts are typically not accurately represented by FRPL counts.

Third, FRPL data are self-reported data. The number of children included in the FRPL count depends on how many families apply for the program. The extent to which school districts and schools reach out and recruit families to apply for the program will affect the number. Because of this factor, the USDA, which administers the school meals programs, has raised concerns about the accuracy of these data. Several data sources, including the eligibility verifications performed by school districts, indicate that a significant number of ineligible children appear to have been certified for free and reduced meals and, therefore, that these data may not be an adequate measure for poverty for other program uses. USDA believes that the authority for school officials to use counts of children eligible for free and reduced-price meals in determining Title I within-district allocations may provide an incentive for those officials to inflate those counts.

Finally, because FRPL are self-reported data, the relationship between census poverty and FRPL is not consistent across geographic areas. Nationally, for example, the number of children eligible for the FRPL in school year 2000–01 among the States ranges from 1.5 to 41 times the number of children who meet the census criteria for poverty.

In conclusion, under the revised and expanded final definition, potentially 58 percent of the LEAs in the country will be considered high-need LEAs. While this percentage of LEAs is not as extensive as the percentage currently considered “high-need LEAs” (approximately 70 percent) under the FRPL standard, it is considerably more than would have qualified under the NPRM (potentially 38 percent).

Consequently, the Secretary does not believe that by realigning the definition of high-need LEA with the current statute and thereby providing a reasonable range of choice under this expanded final definition, serious candidates will be dissuaded from a career change to teaching or that the Troops-to-Teachers program will be negatively affected by this final regulation.

Change: The third tier of the definition of “high-need local educational agency” has been expanded so as to apply to an LEA in which 10 percent or more but less than 20 percent of the children served by the agency are from families with incomes below the poverty line and that assigns all teachers receiving financial assistance through the Troops-to-Teachers program to high-need schools. In all other respects, the definition of “high-need LEA” is unchanged; however, a new definition of the term “children from families with incomes below the poverty line” has been added to § 230.2 as the result of interdepartmental review to clarify what data the Secretary uses in applying the “high-need” LEA definition. That new definition is based on the data used by the Department in allocating funds under Title I, Part A of the Act. Thus, the term “children from families with incomes below the poverty line” means the updated Department of Commerce data on the number of children ages 5 through 17 from families with incomes below the poverty line used to allocate funds under Title I, Part A of the Act.

Comment: One commenter stated that § 230.3 should be clarified to specify that a participant can satisfy his or her three-year teaching obligation if he or she teaches in any of the priority categories specified in the regulation.

Discussion: Section 2304 of the Act specifies that service in any high-need LEA or public charter school satisfies a service member’s teaching obligation regardless of the priority given to that service member in his or her selection to the program. Which priority is used to select a participant for the program is distinct from how a selected participant satisfies the teaching obligation one assumes upon selection to the program. Service members who teach for three years in a high-need LEA or public charter school (and in a high-need school in the case of bonus recipients) will satisfy their obligation regardless of what priority they were given under § 230.3 in their selection for the program.

Change: None.

Comment: One commenter questioned whether participants will be required to have four-year college degrees including teacher-training classes and questioned the absence of certification requirements in the regulations.

Discussion: Section 2303(c)(2) of the Act provides generally that program participants must have received a baccalaureate or advanced degree except in the case of vocational or technical teachers, who may qualify on the basis of one year of college and six or more years of military experience in a vocational or technical field or otherwise meet State certification or licensing requirements to be a vocational or technical teacher. Generally, teacher certification and licensing is a matter of State law. It would therefore not be appropriate to address that subject in these regulations.

Change: None.

Comment: One commenter suggested that the Secretary establish a policy providing for partial or full repayment where a participant makes a good-faith effort to satisfy his or her commitment but is unable to obtain appropriate employment.

Discussion: It is unnecessary to establish the suggested policy because the Act already contains, in section 2304(f) of the Act, provisions governing the repayment of a stipend or bonus, including partial repayment in appropriate cases, where a participant does not meet his or her obligation. Section 2304(a)(2) of the Act also authorizes the Secretary to waive the three-year service obligation and section 2304(f)(4) of the Act excuses repayment in the event of permanent total disability.

Change: None.

Executive Order 12866

We have reviewed these final regulations in accordance with Executive Order 12866. Under the terms of the order we have assessed the potential costs and benefits of this regulatory action.

The potential costs associated with the final regulations are those resulting from statutory requirements and those we have determined to be necessary for administering this program effectively and efficiently.

In assessing the potential costs and benefits—both quantitative and qualitative—of these final regulations, we have determined that the benefits of the regulations justify the costs.

We have also determined that this regulatory action does not unduly interfere with State, local, and tribal governments in the exercise of their governmental functions.

We summarized the potential costs and benefits of these final regulations in the preamble to the NPRM (70 FR 2584). We include additional discussion of potential costs and benefits in the section of this preamble titled Analysis of Comments and Changes.

Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

These regulations do not contain any information collection requirements.

Intergovernmental Review

This program is subject to the requirements of Executive Order 12372 and the regulations in 34 CFR part 79. The objective of the Executive order is to foster an intergovernmental partnership and a strengthened federalism by relying on processes developed by State and local governments for coordination and review of proposed Federal financial assistance.

In accordance with the order, we intend this document to provide early notification of the Department's specific plans and actions for this program.

Assessment of Educational Impact

In the NPRM, we requested comments on whether the proposed regulations would require transmission of information that any other agency or authority of the United States gathers or makes available.

Based on the response to the NPRM and on our review, we have determined that these final regulations do not require transmission of information that any other agency or authority of the United States gathers or makes available.

■ For the reasons discussed in the preamble, the Secretary amends title 34 of the Code of Federal Regulations by adding part 230 to read as follows:

PART 230—Innovation for Teacher Quality

Subpart A—Troops-to-Teachers Program

Sec.

230.1 What is the Troops-to-Teachers program?

230.2 What definitions apply to the Troops-to-Teacher program?

230.3 What criteria does the Secretary use to select eligible participants in the Troops-to-Teachers program?

Subpart B—[Reserved]

Authority: 20 U.S.C. 1221e-3, 3474, and 6671-6684, unless otherwise noted.

Subpart A—Troops-to-Teachers Program

§ 230.1 What is the Troops-to-Teacher program?

Under the Troops-to-Teachers program, the Secretary of Education transfers funds to the Department of Defense for the Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) to provide assistance, including a stipend of up to $5,000, to an eligible member of the Armed Forces so that he or she can obtain certification or licensing as an elementary school teacher, secondary school teacher, or vocational/technical teacher and become a highly qualified teacher by demonstrating competency in each of the subjects he or she teaches. In addition, the program helps the individual find employment in a high-need local educational agency or public charter school. In lieu of a stipend, DANTES may pay a bonus of $10,000 to a participant who agrees to teach in a high-need school.

§ 230.2 What definitions apply to the Troops-to-Teacher program?

As used in this subpart—

Act means the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended.

Children from families with incomes below the poverty line means the updated data on the number of children ages 5 through 17 from families with incomes below the poverty line provided by the Department of Commerce that the Secretary uses to allocate funds in a given year to local educational agencies under Title I, Part A of the Act.

High-Need Local Educational Agency as used in section 2304(a) of the Act means a local educational agency—

(1) That serves not fewer than 10,000 children from families with incomes below the poverty line;

(2) For which not less than 20 percent of the children served by the agency are from families with incomes below the poverty line; or

(3) For which 10 percent or more but less than 20 percent of the children served by the agency are from families with incomes below the poverty line and that assigns all teachers funded by the Troops-to-Teachers program to a high-need school as defined in section 2304(d)(3) of the Act for the duration of their service commitment under the Act.

Public Charter School means a charter school as defined in section 5210(1) of the Act.

§ 230.3 What criteria does the Secretary use to select eligible participants in the Troops-to-Teacher program?

(a) The Secretary establishes the following criteria for the selection of eligible participants in the Troops-to-Teachers program in the following order:

(1) First priority is given to eligible service members who are not employed as an elementary or secondary school teacher at the time that they enter into a participation agreement with the Secretary under section 2304(a) of the Act, which requires participants to teach in a high-need local educational agency or public charter school for at least three years, who will be selected in the following order:

(i) Those who agree to obtain certification to teach science, mathematics, or special education and who agree to teach in a "high-need school” as defined in section 2304(d)(3) of the Act.

(ii) Those who agree to obtain certification to teach another subject or subjects and who agree to teach in a “high-need school” as defined in section 2304(d)(3) of the Act.

(iii) Those who agree to obtain certification to teach science, mathematics, or special education or obtain certification to teach at the elementary school level.

(iv) All other eligible applicants.

(2) After all eligible first-priority participants are selected, second priority is given to eligible service members who are employed as an elementary or secondary school teacher at the time that they enter into a new participation agreement with the Secretary under section 2304(a) of the Act, which requires participants to teach in a high-need local educational agency or public charter school for at least three years, who will be selected in the following order:

(i) Those who agree to obtain certification to teach science, mathematics or special education rather than the subjects they currently teach and who agree to teach in a “high-need school” as defined in section 2304(d)(3) of the Act.

(ii) Those who agree to obtain certification to teach another subject or subjects and who agree to teach in a “high-need school” as defined in section 2304(d)(3) of the Act.

(iv) All others seeking assistance necessary to be deemed “highly qualified” by their State within the meaning of section 9101(23) of the Act.

[Docket No. RM 2005–7 CARP]

Filing of Claims for Cable, Satellite and DART Royalties

AGENCY: Copyright Office, Library of Congress.

ACTION: Technical amendment.

SUMMARY: The Copyright Office of the Library of Congress is removing its regulations governing the filing of claims to cable, satellite, and DART royalty funds. These claims now are to be filed with the Copyright Royalty Judges pursuant to the Copyright Royalty and Distribution Reform Act of 2004, which became effective on May 31, 2005.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2005.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: David O. Carson, General Counsel, or Gina Giuffreda, Attorney-Advisor, Copyright Arbitration Royalty Panel (CARP), P.O. Box 70977, Southwest Station, Washington, DC 20024. Telephone: (202) 707–8380. Telefax: (202) 252–3423.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On November 30, 2004, the President signed into law the Copyright Royalty and Distribution Reform Act of 2004 (“CRDRA”), Pub. L. No. 108–419, 118 Stat. 2341. This Act, which became effective on May 31, 2005, amends the Copyright Act, title 17 of the United States Code, by phasing out the Copyright Royalty Arbitration Panel (“CARP”) system and replacing it with three permanent Copyright Royalty Judges (“CRJs”). Consequently, the CRJs will carry out functions heretofore performed by the CARPs—namely, conducting proceedings to adjust rates paid under certain statutory licenses and to distribute royalties collected under sections 111, 119, and chapter 10, as well as taking in and processing claims to those royalty fees. 17 U.S.C. 801.

On May 31, 2005, the Copyright Royalty Board (“CRB”), the institutional entity within the Library of Congress that houses the CRJs, published procedural regulations which govern, in pertinent part, the filing of claims. See 70 FR 30901 (May 31, 2005). Therefore, since jurisdiction over the claims to royalty fees collected under sections 111, 119, and chapter 10, now lies with the CRJs, the corresponding CARP regulations are no longer needed and therefore are being removed.

Authority

In consideration of the foregoing and pursuant to 17 U.S.C. 702, the Copyright Office amends chapter II of title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations by removing parts 252, 257, and 259.

Correction to the California State Implementation Plan, South Coast Air Quality Management District

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Direct final rule.

SUMMARY: EPA is taking direct final action to delete a provision from the California State Implementation Plan (SIP) that was approved into the SIP in error. This provision is part of a rule concerning emissions of volatile organic compounds (VOC) from solvent cleaning operations. EPA has determined that the continued presence of this provision in the SIP is potentially confusing and thus harmful to affected sources, local agencies and to EPA. The intended effect of this action is to delete this provision and make the federally enforceable SIP consistent with the SIP as adopted and submitted by the State of California.

DATES: This rule is effective on August 30, 2005 without further notice, unless EPA receives adverse comments by August 1, 2005. If we receive such comments, we will publish a timely withdrawal in the Federal Register to notify the public that this direct final rule will not take effect.

ADDRESSES: Submit comments, identified by docket number [DOCKET NUMBER], by one of the following methods:

1. Agency Web site: <http://docket.epa.gov/rmepub/>. EPA prefers receiving comments through this electronic public docket and comment system. Follow the on-line instructions to submit comments.

I. Why Is EPA Correcting the SIP?

On August 13, 1999, EPA approved South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD or District) Rule 1171, Solvent Cleaning Operations, as a revision to the South Coast portion of the California SIP. See 64 FR 44134 (August 13, 1999). On October 8, 1999, SCAQMD adopted revisions to Rule 1171. In adopting the revisions to Rule 1171 on October 8, 1999, SCAQMD intended the revised rule, excluding the July 1, 2005 VOC limits specified in subsection (c)(1) of the rule, to be submitted by the California Air Resources Board (CARB) to EPA for approval as a SIP revision, and SCAQMD also committed to submitting a future SIP revision containing the July 1, 2005 VOC limits after the District has reviewed the Technology Assessments pursuant to section (d) of the rule unless SCAQMD by majority vote schedules a hearing to consider amending such limits.

On January 21, 2000, CARB submitted the revised SCAQMD Rule 1171, as adopted by SCAQMD on October 8, 1999, to EPA for approval as a revision to the South Coast portion of the California SIP. This submittal specified that the entire revised Rule 1171 was to be included in the SIP, except for the July 1, 2005 VOC limits specified in subsection (c)(1) of the rule. EPA did not take action on this submittal and considered the January 21, 2000 submittal of Rule 1171 superseded when EPA acted on subsequent submittals of further revised versions of the rule.

When SCAQMD subsequently revised Rule 1171 on August 2, 2002 and November 7, 2003, the District again intended that the 2005 limits not be included into the federally enforceable SIP. However, the corresponding submissions of these revisions from CARB on December 23, 2002 and January 15, 2004, respectively, did not clearly repeat the stipulation that the July 1, 2005 VOC limits were not to be included in the SIP. Therefore, when EPA approved these versions of Rule 1171 into the SIP, the 2005 limits were inadvertently approved into the SIP as well. See 68 FR 33005 (June 3, 2003) and 69 FR 44599 (July 27, 2004).

Earlier this year, SCAQMD brought this error to the attention of CARB and EPA, and SCAQMD submitted a letter dated May 6, 2005 to CARB requesting that CARB request corrective action by EPA to resolve this issue. By letter dated May 24, 2005, CARB submitted a letter to EPA withdrawing the July 1, 2005 VOC limits in SCAQMD Rule 1171 from the California SIP consistent with the District's intent on adopting revisions to the rule on October 8, 1999, August 2, 2002, and November 7, 2003.

SCAQMD's May 6, 2005 letter and CARB's May 24, 2005 letter are included in the docket for this rulemaking. We agree with SCAQMD and CARB that a SIP correction action is warranted under these circumstances.

II. What Provision Is Being Deleted?

Section 110(k)(6) of the Clean Air Act (CAA or Act) provides, "Whenever the Administrator determines that the Administrator's action approving, disapproving, or promulgating any plan or plan revision (or part thereof), area designation, redesignation, classification, or reclassification was in error, the Administrator may in the same manner as the approval, disapproval, or promulgation revise such action as appropriate without requiring any further submission from the State."

For the reasons described above, EPA has determined that the provision listed in the table below was previously approved into the SIP in error. The table below also provides the dates on which the relevant versions of Rule 1171 were submitted by the State and then approved by EPA. We are deleting the specified provision from the SCAQMD's portion of the California SIP under CAA section 110(k)(6).

SOUTH COAST AIR QUALITY MANAGEMENT DISTRICT

Rule	Title	Submittal date	Approval date
1171	Solvent Cleaning Operations—July 1, 2005 limits in Section (c)(1)	12/23/02 01/15/04	06/03/03 07/27/04

III. Final Action

EPA has reviewed the SIP submittal materials related to the provision listed in the table above and determined that it was previously approved into the applicable California SIP in error. Therefore, EPA is taking action to delete this provision under section 110(k)(6) of the Act, which provides EPA authority to remove this provision without additional State submission. All of the other provisions in SCAQMD Rule 1171, i.e., other than the July 1, 2005 VOC limits in subsection (c)(1), remain federally enforceable as of the effective dates of EPA's final rules published on August 13, 1999, June 3, 2003, and July 27, 2004 and are unaffected by this correction action.

We do not think anyone will object to this deletion, so we are finalizing it without proposing it in advance. However, in the Proposed Rules section of this Federal Register, we are simultaneously proposing deletion of this same provision. If we receive adverse comments by August 1, 2005, we will publish a timely withdrawal in the Federal Register to notify the public that the direct final approval will not take effect and we will address the comments in a subsequent final action based on the proposal. If we do not receive timely adverse comments, the direct final approval will be effective without further notice on August 30, 2005. This will incorporate this correction into the federally enforceable SIP.

IV. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), this action is not a "significant regulatory action" and therefore is not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget. For this reason, this action is also not subject to Executive Order 13211, "Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use" (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001). This action merely deletes a provision that had been approved by EPA in error and imposes no additional requirements. Accordingly, the Administrator certifies that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). Because this rule deletes a provision that had been approved by EPA in error and does not impose any additional enforceable duty, it does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-4).

This rule also does not have tribal implications because it will not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000). This action also does not have federalism implications because it does not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the National Government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999). This action merely deletes a provision that had been approved by EPA in error, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power and responsibilities established in the Clean Air Act. This rule also is not subject to Executive Order 13045 "Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks" (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), because it is not economically significant as defined in Executive Order 12866, and because the Agency does not have reason to believe the environmental health or safety risks addressed by this rule present a disproportionate risk to children.

This rule does not involve establishment of technical standards, and thus, the requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) do not apply. This rule does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

The Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. 801 et seq., as added by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States. EPA will submit a report containing this rule and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the rule in the Federal Register. A major rule cannot take effect until 60 days after it is published in the Federal Register. This action is not a "major rule" as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).

Under section 307(b)(1) of the Clean Air Act, petitions for judicial review of this action must be filed in the United States Court of Appeals for the appropriate circuit by August 30, 2005. Filing a petition for reconsideration by the Administrator of this final rule does not affect the finality of this rule for the purposes of judicial review nor does it extend the time within which a petition for judicial review may be filed, and shall not postpone the effectiveness of such rule or action. This action may not be challenged later in proceedings to enforce its requirements. (See section 307(b)(2).)

Approval and Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; Minnesota

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Direct final rule.

SUMMARY: The EPA is approving State Implementation Plan (SIP) revisions to the sulfur dioxide (SO₂) requirements for Flint Hills Resources, L.P. (Flint Hills) of Dakota County, Minnesota. Flint Hills operates a Rosemont, Minnesota petroleum refinery. The requested revisions will allow the refinery to produce ultra low sulfur diesel fuel. This expansion will add five sources and create an increase in sulfur dioxide emissions. An analysis of the additional sources was conducted. The results show that the air quality of Dakota County will remain in compliance of the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for sulfur dioxide.

DATES: This rule is effective on August 30, 2005 unless EPA receives adverse written comments by August 1, 2005. If adverse comment is received, EPA will publish a timely withdrawal of the rule in the Federal Register and inform the public that the rule will not take effect.

I. General Information

A. Does This Action Apply to Me?

This action applies to a single source, Flint Hills Resources, L.P., whose facility is located in Dakota County, Minnesota.

B. How Can I Get Copies of This Document and Other Related Information?

1. The Regional Office has established an electronic public rulemaking file available for inspection at RME under ID No. R05-OAR-2005-MN-0002, and a hard copy file which is available for inspection at the Regional Office. The official public file consists of the documents specifically referenced in this action, any public comments received, and other information related to this action. For public commenters, it is important to note that EPA’s policy is that public comments, whether submitted electronically or in paper, will be made available for public viewing at the EPA Regional Office, as EPA receives them and without change, unless the comment contains copyrighted material, CBI, or other information whose disclosure is restricted by statute. When EPA identifies a comment containing copyrighted material, EPA will provide a reference to that material in the version of the comment that is placed in the official public rulemaking file. The entire printed comment, including the copyrighted material, will be available at the Regional Office for public inspection.

C. How and to Whom Do I Submit Comments?

You may submit comments electronically, by mail, or through hand delivery/courier. To ensure proper receipt by EPA, identify the appropriate rulemaking identification number by including the text “Public comment on proposed rulemaking Region 5 Air Docket R05-OAR-2005-MN-0002” in the subject line on the first page of your comment. Please ensure that your comments are submitted within the specified comment period. Comments received after the close of the comment period will be marked “late.” EPA is not required to consider these late comments.

For detailed instructions on submitting public comments and on what to consider as you prepare your comments see the ADDRESSES section and the section I General Information of the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION section of the related proposed rule which is published in the Proposed Rules section of this Federal Register.

II. What is EPA Approving?

EPA is approving revisions to the Minnesota sulfur dioxide SIP for the Flint Hills refinery. Flint Hills is installing equipment to begin producing ultra low sulfur diesel fuel. It is adding a Hydrocracker Charge Heater (unit 29H-1), a Hydrocracker Fractionator Heater (29H-2), a charge heater for the #4 Hydrogen Plant (30H-1), an emergency diesel generator (EE-29-401), and an emergency diesel powered cooling water pump (81P 450) to its refinery.

III. What are the Changes From the Current Rule?

The new sources at the refinery are for the production of ultra low sulfur diesel fuel. Operation of the five additional sources could increase the SO₂ emissions by 125.7 tons per year (TPY).

IV. What is EPA’s Analysis of the Supporting Materials?

Flint Hills conducted air dispersion modeling to assess the effect of its proposed new equipment and operating plan on ambient air quality. The modelers used the ISCST3 dispersion model in the regulatory default mode, with five years of meteorological data from the Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport. The SO₂ emissions from other nearby companies were included. When the modeling was performed, Flint Hills had not finalized the locations of the new boilers and heaters. It modeled the new sources concurrently at three potential locations, with each source at its full emission rate. The modeled results are more conservative because of this multiple counting. Flint Hills’ proposed revisions include an option of reducing the firing duty of some existing heaters and boilers. To conservatively account for this possibility, the modeling included those boilers and heaters at their current SO₂ emission rates, but at reduced stack exit velocities representative of their new usage scenario. This rulemaking action concerns only the new sources for producing ultra-low sulfur diesel. The modeling also includes the impacts from portable diesel equipment. The sulfur dioxide emissions from these sources were combined and modeled as from an representative average engine located near the facility fence line, where previous modeling analyses had shown high ambient impacts to occur. This also should produce a conservative result. The final results of the Flint Hills modeling, including background SO₂ concentrations, were below the 3-hour, 24-hour, and annual SO₂ NAAQS. The maximum predicted SO₂ concentrations, the modeled plus background concentrations, are 242 µg/m³ compared to the 365 µg/m³ 24-hour standard and 45 µg/m³ compared to the 80 µg/m³ annual standard. The maximum predicted 3-hour SO₂ concentration of 688 µg/m³ is below the secondary standard of 1300 µg/m³.

V. What are the Environmental Effects of These Actions?

Sulfur dioxide causes breathing difficulties and aggravation of existing cardiovascular disease. It is also a precursor of acid rain and fine particulate matter formation. Sulfate particles are a major cause of visibility impairment in America. Acid rain damages lakes and streams impairing aquatic life and causes damage to buildings, sculptures, statues, and monuments. Sulfur dioxide also causes the loss of chloroform leading to vegetation damage.

The addition of the new sources causes this revision to result in a higher sulfur dioxide emissions. The effects of the increased emissions were analyzed. Analysis showed that the maximum predicted SO₂ concentrations are below the primary and secondary air quality standards. This indicates that public health and welfare in Dakota County, Minnesota should be protected.

VI. What Rulemaking Action is EPA Taking?

EPA is approving, through direct final rulemaking, revisions to sulfur dioxide emissions regulations for Flint Hills Resources, L.P. of Dakota County, Minnesota.

We are publishing this action without prior proposal because we view this as a noncontroversial amendment and anticipate no adverse comments. However, in the proposed rules section of this Federal Register publication, we are publishing a separate document that will serve as the proposal to approve the state plan if relevant adverse written comments are filed. This rule will be effective August 30, 2005 without further notice unless we receive relevant adverse written comments by August 1, 2005. If we receive such comments, we will withdraw this action before the effective date by publishing a subsequent document that will withdraw the final action. All public comments received will then be addressed in a subsequent final rule based on the proposed action. The EPA will not institute a second comment period. Any parties interested in commenting on this action should do so at this time. If we do not receive any comments, this action will be effective August 30, 2005.

VII. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

Executive Order 12866; Regulatory Planning and Review

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), this action is not a "significant regulatory action" and therefore is not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget.

Executive Order 13211: Actions That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use

Because it is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866 or a "significant energy action," this action is also not subject to Executive Order 13211, "Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use" (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001).

Regulatory Flexibility Act

This action merely approves state law as meeting Federal requirements and imposes no additional requirements beyond those imposed by state law. Accordingly, the Administrator certifies that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.).

Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

Because this rule approves pre-existing requirements under state law and does not impose any additional enforceable duty beyond that required by state law, it does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-4).

Executive Order 13175 Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments

This rule also does not have tribal implications because it will not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (59 FR 22951, November 9, 2000).

Executive Order 13132 Federalism

This action also does not have Federalism implications because it does not have substantial direct effects on the states, on the relationship between the national government and the states, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999). This action merely approves a state rule implementing a Federal standard, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power and responsibilities established in the Clean Air Act.

Executive Order 13045 Protection of Children From Environmental Health and Safety Risks

This rule also is not subject to Executive Order 13045 "Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks" (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), because it is not economically significant.

National Technology Transfer Advancement Act

In reviewing SIP submissions, EPA's role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the Clean Air Act. In this context, in the absence of a prior existing requirement for the state to use voluntary consensus standards (VCS), EPA has no authority to disapprove a SIP submission for failure to use VCS. It would thus be inconsistent with applicable law for EPA, when it reviews a SIP submission, to use VCS in place of a SIP submission that otherwise satisfies the provisions of the Clean Air Act. Thus, the requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) do not apply.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This rule does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Congressional Review Act

The Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. 801 et seq., as added by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States. EPA will submit a report containing this rule and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the rule in the Federal Register. A major rule cannot take effect until 60 days after it is published in the Federal Register. This action is not a "major rule" as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).

Under section 307(b)(1) of the Clean Air Act, petitions for judicial review of this action must be filed in the United States Court of Appeals for the appropriate circuit by August 30, 2005.

Filing a petition for reconsideration by the Administrator of this final rule does not affect the finality of this rule for the purposes of judicial review nor does it extend the time within which a petition for judicial review may be filed, and shall not postpone the effectiveness of such rule or action. This action may not be challenged later in proceedings to enforce its requirements. (See section 307(b)(2).)

Approval and Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; State of Colorado; State Implementation Plan Correction

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Final rule; technical correction.

SUMMARY: When EPA approved Colorado’s Carbon Monoxide Redesignation to Attainment and Related Revisions for Fort Collins on July 22, 2003, we inadvertently submitted extraneous pages from Regulation No. 13, “Oxygenated Fuels Program” for incorporation by reference into the State Implementation Plan (SIP). EPA is correcting these errors with this document. This action is being taken under section 110(k)(6) of the Clean Air Act.

DATES: This rule is effective on August 1, 2005.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Throughout this document, wherever “we” or “our” is used it means the EPA.

Section 553 of the Administrative Procedures Act, 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B), provides that, when an agency for good cause finds that notice and public procedures are impracticable, unnecessary or contrary to the public interest, the agency may issue a rule without providing notice and an opportunity for public comment. We have determined that there is good cause for making today’s rule final without prior proposal and opportunity for comment because we are merely correcting erroneous text in previous rulemakings. Thus notice and public procedure are unnecessary. We find that this constitutes good cause under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B).

I. Correction to Federal Register Document Published on July 22, 2003 (68 FR 43316)

On July 22, 2003 (68 FR 43316), we approved the Fort Collins Carbon Monoxide Redesignation to Attainment and Related Revisions submitted by the Governor of Colorado on August 9, 2002. In this action, we also approved revisions to Regulation No. 13, “Oxygenated Fuels Program.” We inadvertently submitted a sentence and a paragraph from Regulation No. 13 for incorporation by reference into the SIP. Therefore, we are correcting this error by resubmitting the incorporation by reference material in 40 CFR 52.320(c)(99)(i)(B) to the Air and Radiation Docket and Information Center and the Office of the Federal Register. We also inadvertently included the sentence and paragraph in the regulatory text at 40 CFR 52.320(c)(99)(i)(B). We are correcting the regulatory text to indicate that the sentence and paragraph are not in the SIP. Regulation No. 13 includes a sentence and a paragraph that are State only regulations, and should not be included in the SIP. Therefore, the last sentence in Section II.C.1.c.v. of Regulation No. 13: “This Section II.C.1.c.v. is repealed effective February 1, 2019 and is replaced by the requirements in Section II.C.1.c.vi. below beginning November 1, 2019,” and Section II.C.1.c.vi. of Regulation No. 13: “Effective November 1, 2019, the minimum oxygen content by weight shall be at least 2.7% from November 1 through the end of the Oxygenated Gasoline Control Period as defined in Section II.B. The average oxygen content by weight shall be at least 3.1% from November 1 through February 7. This Section II.C.1.c.vi. shall be a state only regulation, and shall not be included in the State Implementation Plan.” are being removed from the SIP.

II. Statutory and Executive Order Review

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), this action is not a “significant regulatory action” and is therefore not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget. This rule is not subject to Executive Order 13211, “Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use” (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001) because it is not a significant regulatory action under Executive Order 12866. Because the agency has made a “good cause” finding that this action is not subject to notice-and-comment requirements under the Administrative Procedure Act or any other statute as indicated in the Supplementary Information section above, it is not subject to the regulatory flexibility provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C 601 et seq.), or to sections 202 and 205 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (UMRA) (Pub. L. 104–4, 109 Stat. 48 (1995)). In addition, this action does not significantly or uniquely affect small governments or impose a significant intergovernmental mandate, as described in sections 203 and 204 of UMRA. This rule also does not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal government and Indian tribes, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000), nor will it have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999). This rule also is not subject to Executive Order 13045 (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), because it is not economically significant.

This technical correction action does not involve technical standards; thus the requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) do not apply. The rule also does not involve special consideration of environmental justice related issues as required by Executive Order 12898 (59 FR 7629, February 16, 1994). In issuing this rule, EPA has taken the necessary steps to eliminate drafting errors and ambiguity, minimize potential litigation, and provide a clear legal standard for affected conduct, as required by section 3 of Executive Order 12988 (61 FR 4729, February 7, 1996). EPA has complied with Executive Order 12630 (53 FR 8859, March 15, 1998) by examining the takings implications of the rule in accordance with the “Attorney General’s Supplemental Guidelines for the Evaluation of Risk and Avoidance of Unanticipated Takings” issued under the Executive Order. This rule does not impose an information collection burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.). EPA’s compliance with these statutes and Executive Orders for the underlying rules are discussed in the July 22, 2003 rule approving Colorado’s Carbon Monoxide Redesignation Request and Related Revisions for Fort Collins.

The Congressional Review Act (CRA) (5 U.S.C. 801 et seq.), as added by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States. Section 808 allows the issuing agency to make a rule effective sooner than otherwise provided by the CRA if the agency makes a good cause finding that notice and public procedure is impracticable, unnecessary or contrary to the public interest. This determination must be supported by a brief statement. 5 U.S.C. 808(2). As stated previously, EPA has made such a good cause finding, including the reasons therefore, and established an effective date of August 1, 2005. Approval and Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; Spokane PM10 Nonattainment Area Limited Maintenance Plan and Redesignation Request

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Direct final rule.

SUMMARY: EPA is taking direct final action to approve the Limited Maintenance Plan for the Spokane nonattainment area (NAA) in Washington and grant the request by the State to redesignate the area from nonattainment to attainment for PM10. On November 30, 2004, the State of Washington submitted a Limited Maintenance Plan (LMP) for the Spokane nonattainment area (NAA) for approval and concurrently requested that EPA redesignate the Spokane NAA to attainment for the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for particulate matter with an aerodynamic diameter less than or equal to a nominal 10 micrometers (PM10). In 1997, EPA approved Washington’s moderate area plan for the Spokane NAA for all PM10 sources except windblown dust. In this direct final action, EPA is also approving the remaining elements of the Spokane NAA moderate area plan for windblown dust sources.

DATES: This direct final rule will be effective August 30, 2005, without further notice, unless EPA receives adverse comments by August 1, 2005. If adverse comments are received, EPA will publish a timely withdrawal of the direct final rule in the Federal Register informing the public that the rule will not take effect.

VI. Direct Final Action

VII. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

I. This Action

EPA is taking direct final action to approve the Limited Maintenance Plan (LMP) for the Spokane nonattainment area (Spokane NAA) and concurrently redesignate the Spokane NAA to attainment for the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for particulate matter with an aerodynamic diameter less than or equal to a nominal 10 micrometers (PM10). Also in this action, EPA is approving the remaining portions of the moderate area State Implementation Plan (SIP) for windblown dust sources that were deferred in EPA's approval of the Spokane PM10 NAA moderate area plan in 1997. See 62 FR 3800. (January 27, 1997). See also 66 FR 27055. (May 16, 2001). Spokane attained the PM10 NAAQS in 1994 and there have been no violations of the PM10 NAAQS in Spokane since 1993. Also in this action, EPA is approving revisions to the Spokane County Air Pollution Control Authority (SCAPCA) Regulatory Orders #96-03, #96-05, and #96-06 for PM10 at the Kaiser-Trentwood facility.

II. Background of the Spokane Nonattainment Area (Spokane NAA)

A. Description of the Spokane Nonattainment Area

The Spokane PM10 nonattainment area (Spokane NAA) is a roughly rectangular area covering approximately 599 square kilometers in eastern Washington. The Spokane NAA encompasses the metropolitan area of Spokane and some surrounding sections of Spokane County. For a legal description of the boundaries see 40 CFR 81.348. The Spokane NAA lies in a broad, flat valley transversed by the Spokane and Little Spokane rivers. All major point sources (i.e. industrial sources) of PM10 in Spokane County as well as 81 percent of the county's residences lie within the NAA. In general, Spokane has a mild, arid climate in summer and a cold, moist climate in winter. The nonattainment area is characterized by significant terrain elevation changes which may affect dispersion.

B. PM10 Emissions in the Spokane Nonattainment Area

exceedences of the PM10 NAAQS and elevated PM10 levels in the Spokane NAA. The Spokane NAA lies at the northeastern edge of the Columbia Plateau and is impacted by seasonal high winds from the south and southwest, which move dust from the approximate 12.1 million acres of agricultural lands and grasslands on the semi-arid plateau to downwind areas. A 1992 report entitled "An Analysis of the Impact of Biogenic PM10 Sources on the Spokane PM10 Nonattainment Area, February 1992", estimated gross annual emissions from anthropogenic and nonanthropogenic sources of PM10 in eastern Washington as 40% and 60% respectively.

Washington submitted a complete emissions inventory for the calendar year 2002 with the Limited Maintenance Plan, and summarized current significant contributors to daily emissions as fugitive dust from unpaved roads (49%), residential wood combustion (24%), fugitive dust from construction (6%), paved roads (3%) and emissions from land clearing debris burning (3%). In 2002, all other source categories contributed 2% or less to daily emissions of PM10.

C. Planning Background

The Spokane, Washington area was designated nonattainment for PM10 and classified as moderate under sections 107(d)(4)(B) and 188(a) of the Clean Air Act upon enactment of the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990. See 56 FR 56694 (November 6, 1991). States containing initial moderate PM10 nonattainment areas were required to submit, by November 15, 1991, a moderate nonattainment area SIP that, among other requirements, implemented reasonably available control measures (RACM) by December 10, 1993, and demonstrated whether it was practicable to attain the PM10 NAAQS by December 31, 1994. See generally 57 FR 13498 (April 16, 1992); see also 57 FR 18070 (April 28, 1992).

Washington submitted a SIP for the Spokane area on November 15, 1991, followed by addendums on January 31, 1992, December 9, 1994, and May 18, 1995. The December 1994 addendum included a detailed technical analysis indicating that nonanthropogenic sources may be significant in the Spokane PM10 nonattainment area during windblown dust events. In 1997, based on our review of the State's submissions, we approved the PM10 emissions inventory, control measures in the SIP as meeting RACM/RACT, quantitative milestone and reasonable further progress requirements, and contingency measures for all sources of PM10 other than windblown dust. See 62 FR 3800 (January 27, 1997). Under section 188(f) of the Act, EPA deferred action on the attainment demonstration, emissions inventory, control measures and contingency measures for windblown dust sources in the Spokane NAA to provide the State with more time to further evaluate windblown dust events in the Spokane NAA. In this action, we are approving these remaining requirements for windblown dust.

In the same action, EPA approved regulatory orders for the Kaiser-Trentwood aluminum facility to provide consistency between the 1994 emissions inventory and allowable emissions for the facility. See 62 FR 3800 (January 27, 1997). SCAPCA Order #91-01 provided for the use of an alternate opacity limit for the Kaiser-Trentwood aluminum facility. SCAPCA Order #96-03, Order #96-04, Order #96-05 and Order #96-06 significantly lowered the allowable emissions from the facility. These new allowable emissions limits are equivalent to Kaiser facility emissions in the 1994 emissions inventory used in the attainment demonstration.

On September 24, 2001, EPA published a Federal Register notice with its determination, based on air quality data for the years 1995-1997, that the Spokane NAA had attained the NAAQS for PM10 by the extended attainment date of December 31, 1997. See 66 FR 48808.

On November 30, 2004, Washington submitted a Limited Maintenance Plan for the Spokane NAA for approval and requested that EPA redesignate the Spokane NAA to attainment for the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for PM10. In this action, EPA is approving the Limited Maintenance Plan (LMP) for the Spokane NAA in Washington and granting the request by the State to redesignate the area from nonattainment to attainment for PM10. As stated above, we are also approving the remaining moderate area plan requirements for windblown dust.

III. Requirements for Redesignation

A. Clean Air Act Requirements for Redesignation of Nonattainment Areas

Nonattainment areas can be redesignated to attainment after the area has measured air quality data showing it has attained the NAAQS and when certain planning requirements are met. Section 107(d)(3)(E) of the Clean Air Act (the Act), and the General Preamble to Title I provide the criteria for redesignation. See 57 FR 13498 (April 16, 1992). These criteria are further clarified in a policy and guidance memorandum from John Calcagni, Director, Air Quality Management Division, EPA Office of Air Quality Planning and Standards dated September 4, 1992, "Procedures for Processing Requests to Redesignate Areas to Attainment". The criteria for redesignation are:

(1) The Administrator has determined that the area has attained the applicable NAAQS;

(2) The Administrator has fully approved the applicable SIP for the area under section 110(k) of the Act;

(3) The state containing the area has met all requirements applicable to the area under section 110 and part D of the Act;

(4) The Administrator has determined that the improvement in air quality is due to permanent and enforceable reductions in emissions; and

(5) The Administrator has fully approved a maintenance plan for the area as meeting the requirements of section 175A of the Act.

B. The Limited Maintenance Plan (LMP) Option for PM10 Nonattainment Areas

On August 9, 2001, EPA issued guidance on streamlined maintenance plan provisions for certain moderate PM10 nonattainment areas seeking redesignation to attainment (Memo from Lydia Wegman, Director, Air Quality Standards and Strategies Division, entitled "Limited Maintenance Plan Option for Moderate PM10 Nonattainment Areas", (hereafter the LMP Option memo)). The LMP Option memo contains a statistical demonstration that areas meeting certain air quality criteria will, with a high degree of probability, maintain the standard 10 years into the future. Thus, EPA has already provided the maintenance demonstration for areas meeting the criteria outlined in the LMP Option memo. It follows that future year emission inventories for these areas, and some of the standard analyses to determine transportation conformity with the SIP are no longer necessary.

To qualify for the LMP Option, the area should have attained the PM10 NAAQS, the average annual PM10 design value for the area, based upon the most recent 5 years of air quality data at all monitors in the area, should be at or below $40 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$, and the 24 hour design value should be at or below $98 \mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$. If an area cannot meet this test, it may still be able to qualify for the LMP Option if the average design value (ADV) for the site is less than the site-specific critical design values (CDV). In addition, the area should expect only limited growth in on-road motor vehicle PM10 emissions (including fugitive dust) and should have passed a motor vehicle regional emissions analysis test. The LMP Option memo also identifies core provisions that must be included in the LMP. These provisions include an attainment year emissions inventory, assurance of continued operation of an EPA-approved air quality monitoring network, and contingency provisions.

C. Conformity Under the Limited Maintenance Plan Option

The transportation conformity rule (40 CFR parts 51 and 93) and the general conformity rule (40 CFR parts 51 and 93) apply to nonattainment areas and maintenance areas covered by an approved maintenance plan. Under either conformity rule, an acceptable method of demonstrating that a Federal action conforms to the applicable SIP is to demonstrate that expected emissions from the planned action are consistent with the emissions budget for the area.

While EPA's Limited Maintenance Plan Option does not exempt an area from the need to affirm conformity, it explains that the area may demonstrate conformity without submitting an emissions budget. Under the Limited Maintenance Plan Option, emissions budgets are treated as essentially not constraining for the length of the maintenance period because it is unreasonable to expect that the qualifying areas would experience so much growth in that period that a violation of the PM₁₀ NAAQS would result. For transportation conformity purposes, EPA would conclude that emissions in these areas need not be capped for the maintenance period and therefore a regional emissions analysis would not be required. Similarly, Federal actions subject to the general conformity rule could be considered to satisfy the "budget test" specified in 40 CFR 93.158(a)(5)(i)(A) for the same reasons that the budgets are essentially considered to be unlimited.

IV. Review of the Washington State Submittal Addressing the Requirements for Redesignation and Limited Maintenance Plans.

A. Has the Spokane NAA Attained the Applicable NAAQS?

There are two separate NAAQS for PM₁₀, an annual standard of 50 µg/m³ and a 24-hour standard of 150 µg/m³. States must demonstrate that an area has attained the PM₁₀ NAAQS through analysis of ambient air quality data from an ambient air monitoring network representing peak PM₁₀ concentrations. The data should be stored in the EPA Air Quality System (AQS) database. As stated in section II.C. of this document, EPA determined that the Spokane NAA attained the PM₁₀ NAAQS based on monitoring data from the calendar years 1995–1997. See 66 FR 48808 (September 24, 2001). Currently, the area is in compliance with both of the PM₁₀ NAAQS.

Since 1997, exceedences of the 24-hour standard occurred on September 25, 1999 and September 25, 2001. Both of these exceedences were flagged by the State as due to high wind events under EPA's Natural Events Policy. Based on the information provided by Washington about these events, other information provided by Washington regarding control measures being implemented at the time of the events, and the area's soil and climate characteristics, we conclude that the exceedences that occurred on September 25, 1999 and September 25, 2001 were due to high wind natural events and that, on those dates, anthropogenic sources contributing to the exceedences were controlled with Best Available Control Measures (BACM). See memorandum entitled "Assessment of Natural Even Claims for Exceedences on September 25, 1999, and September 25, 2001 in Spokane, Washington" in the Technical Support Document for this action. Therefore, EPA is excluding the exceedences from September 25, 1999 and September 25, 2001 from consideration in determining whether the area is currently attaining the PM₁₀ NAAQS and in calculating design values for the Limited Maintenance Plan. The area continues to attain the 24-hour and annual PM₁₀ NAAQS.

B. Does the Spokane NAA Have a Fully Approved SIP Under Section 110(k) of the Clean Air Act (the Act)?

In order to qualify for redesignation, the SIP for the area must be fully approved under section 110(k) of the Act, and must satisfy all requirements that apply to the area. Section 107(d)(4)(B) of the Clean Air Act contains requirements and milestones for all initial moderate nonattainment area SIPs including:

(1) Provisions to assure that reasonably available control measures (RACM) (including such reductions in emissions from existing sources in the area as may be obtained through the adoption, at a minimum, of reasonably available control technology—RACT) shall be implemented no later than December 10, 1993;

(2) A demonstration (including air quality modeling) that the plan will provide for attainment as expeditiously as practicable by no later than December 31, 1994 or, where the state is seeking an extension of the attainment date under section 188(e), a demonstration that attainment by December 31, 1994 is impracticable and that the plan provides for attainment by the most expeditious alternative date practicable (CAA sections 189(a)(1)(A));

(3) Quantitative milestones which are to be achieved every three years and which demonstrate reasonable further progress (RFP) toward attainment by December 31, 1994 (CAA sections 172(c)(2) and 189(c)); and

(4) Contingency measures to be implemented if the area fails to make RFP or attain by its attainment deadline. These contingency measures are to take effect without further action by the State or EPA. (CAA section 172(c)(9)).

As stated above, on January 27, 1997, EPA approved Spokane's moderate area plan including RACT/RACM for all PM₁₀ sources except for windblown dust and under section 188(f) of the Act, deferred action on the attainment demonstration, emissions inventory, quantitative milestones, control measures and contingency measures for windblown dust sources. See 62 FR 3800. In this action, EPA is approving the area as meeting RACM for windblown dust sources based on the implementation of BACM to control windblown dust originating from the Columbia Plateau. EPA generally interprets the BACM requirement as subsuming the RACM requirement. In other words, if we determine that the measures are indeed the "best available," we have necessarily concluded that they are "reasonably available". As stated above in section IV.A., EPA concludes that BACM is implemented for windblown dust from agriculture on the Columbia Plateau.

The remaining attainment demonstration, emissions inventory, quantitative milestone, and control and contingency measure requirements must be met for all PM₁₀ sources for an approvable moderate area plan. EPA believes that quantitative milestones and contingency measures are no longer required in the Spokane NAA since both of these requirements relate to the applicable attainment date, and EPA determined that the area attained the PM₁₀ NAAQS by December 31, 1997. We believe that Spokane meets all of the remaining requirements for moderate area plans including control measures for windblown dust sources, the attainment demonstration, and emissions inventory by meeting the requirements for the Limited Maintenance Plan.

The Limited Maintenance Plan contains a detailed emissions inventory for all sources of PM₁₀ for the calendar year 2002 including an inventory of windblown dust. The Limited Maintenance Plan also contains control measures that address windblown dust among other sources of PM₁₀. We refer the reader to sections IV.C., and IV.D., respectively for further discussion on the emissions inventory, and control measures requirements for all sources of PM₁₀ in the Spokane NAA.

As previously stated, the fully approved SIP must contain an attainment demonstration (including air quality modeling) that the plan will provide for attainment by the applicable attainment date. As noted above, Spokane attained the PM₁₀ NAAQS by the applicable attainment date (December 31, 1997) based on monitoring data from the calendar years 1995–1997. See 66 FR 48808 (September 24, 2001). However, EPA has not previously fully approved the State's attainment demonstration for Spokane.

In this action, EPA concludes that the statistical demonstration of maintenance submitted with the Limited Maintenance Plan fulfills the attainment demonstration requirement. Generally, EPA recommends that attainment be demonstrated according to the PM–10 SIP Development Guideline (June 1987), which presents three methods based on Federal regulations. Federal regulations require demonstration of attainment “by means of a proportional model or dispersion model or other procedure which is shown to be adequate and appropriate for such purposes.” See 40 CFR 51.112. See also 62 FR 18051 (April 14, 1997). EPA believes that it is reasonable to accept the Limited Maintenance Plan demonstration as an adequate attainment demonstration since this maintenance demonstration ensures maintenance of the PM₁₀ NAAQS for ten years from the effective date of this action. Section IV.F. of this notice contains a description of the maintenance demonstration included with the Limited Maintenance Plan. In this action, EPA is finding the maintenance demonstration criteria outlined in the Limited LMP Option are satisfied. Accordingly, EPA is approving the remaining moderate area plan requirements for the Spokane NAA; the attainment demonstration, emissions inventory and control methods for all sources, including windblown dust. Thus, upon the effective date of this action, the Spokane NAA will have a fully approved moderate area plan.

C. Has the State Met All Applicable Requirements Under Section 110 and Part D of the Act?

Section 107(d)(3)(E) of the Act requires that a state containing a nonattainment area must meet all applicable requirements under section 110 and Part D of the Act for an area to be redesignated to attainment. EPA interprets this to mean that the state must meet all requirements that applied to the area prior to, and at the time of, the submission of a complete redesignation request. The following is a summary of how Washington meets these requirements.

(1) Clean Air Act Section 110 Requirements

Section 110(a)(2) of the Act contains general requirements for nonattainment plans. These requirements include, but are not limited to, submittal of a SIP that has been adopted by the state after reasonable notice and public hearing; provisions for establishment and operation of appropriate apparatus, methods, systems and procedures necessary to monitor ambient air quality; implementation of a permit program; provisions for Part C—Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) and Part D—New Source Review (NSR) permit programs; criteria for stationary source emission control measures, monitoring and reporting, provisions for modeling; and provisions for public and local agency participation. See the General Preamble for further explanation of these requirements. 57 FR 13498 (April 16, 1992).

For purposes of redesignation, EPA review of the Washington SIP shows that the State has satisfied all requirements under section 110(a)(2) of the Act. Further, in 40 CFR 52.2473, EPA has approved Washington's plan for the attainment and maintenance of the national standards under Section 110.

(2) Part D Requirements

Part D contains general requirements applicable to all areas designated nonattainment. The general requirements are followed by a series of subparts specific to each pollutant. All PM₁₀ nonattainment areas must meet the general provisions of Subpart 1 and the specific PM₁₀ provisions in Subpart 4, “Additional Provisions for Particulate Matter Nonattainment Areas.” The following paragraphs discuss these requirements as they apply to the Spokane NAA.

(3) Subpart 1, Section 172(c)

Subpart 1, section 172(c) contains general requirements for nonattainment area plans. A thorough discussion of these requirements may be found in the General Preamble. See 57 FR 13538 (April 16, 1992). Clean Air Act (CAA) section 172(c)(2) requires nonattainment plans to provide for reasonable further progress (RFP). Section 171(1) of the CAA defines RFP as “such annual incremental reductions in emissions of the relevant air pollutant as are required by this part (part D of title I) or may reasonably be required by the Administrator for the purpose of ensuring attainment of the applicable national ambient air quality standard by the applicable date.” Since EPA determined that the Spokane NAA was in attainment of the PM₁₀ NAAQS by 1997, we believe that no further showing of RFP or quantitative milestones is necessary. See 66 FR 48808 (September 24, 2001).

(4) Section 172(c)(3)—Emissions Inventory

Section 172(c)(3) of the Act requires a comprehensive, accurate, current inventory of actual emissions from all sources in the Spokane PM₁₀ nonattainment area. Washington included an emissions inventory for the calendar year 2002 with its submittal of the LMP for the Spokane NAA. Based on the inventory preparation plan for the PM₁₀ 2002 base year emissions inventory, which includes windblown dust sources, EPA believes that the 2002 base year emissions inventory is current, accurate and comprehensive and therefore meets the requirements of Section 172(c)(3) of the Act.

(5) Section 172(c)(5)—New Source Review (NSR)

The Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 contained revisions to the New Source Review (NSR) program requirements for the construction and operation of new and modified major stationary sources located in nonattainment areas. The Act requires states to amend their SIPs to reflect these revisions, but does not require submittal of this element along with the other SIP elements. The Act established June 30, 1992 as the submittal date for the revised NSR programs (Section 189 of the Act). The Part D NSR rules for PM₁₀ nonattainment areas in Washington were approved by EPA on June 2, 1995. See 60 FR 28726. In the Spokane NAA, the requirements of the Part D NSR program will be replaced by the Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) program and the maintenance area NSR program upon effective date of redesignation. The Federal PSD regulations found at 40 CFR 52.21 are the PSD rules in effect for Washington. See 40 CFR 52.2497.

(6) Section 172(c)(7) Compliance With CAA Section 110(a)(2): Air Quality Monitoring Requirements

Once an area is redesignated, the state must continue to operate an appropriate air monitoring network in accord with 40 CFR part 58 to verify attainment status of the area. The State of Washington and Spokane County Air Pollution Authority (SCAPCA) operate two PM10 and PM2.5 State and Local Air Monitoring Stations (SLAMS) in the Spokane NAA. Both monitoring sites meet EPA SLAMS network design and siting requirements set forth at 40 CFR part 58, appendices D and E, and have been monitoring for PM10 since 1995. In section D of the Limited Maintenance Plan that we are approving today, the State commits to continued operation of the monitoring network.

(7) Section 172 (c)(9) Contingency Measures

The Clean Air Act requires that contingency measures take effect if the area fails to meet reasonable further progress requirements or fails to attain the NAAQS by the applicable attainment date. Since the Spokane NAA attained the NAAQS for PM10 by the applicable attainment date of December 31, 1997, contingency measures are no longer required under Section 172(c)(9) of the Act. However, contingency provisions are required for maintenance plans under Section 175(a)(d). We describe the contingency provisions Washington provided in the Spokane LMP below.

(8) Part D Subpart 4

Part D Subpart 4, Section 189(a), (c) and (e) requirements apply to any moderate nonattainment area before the area can be redesignated to attainment. The requirements which were applicable prior to the submission of the request to redesignate the area must be fully approved into the SIP before redesignating the area to attainment. These requirements include:

(a) Provisions to assure that RACM was implemented by December 10, 1993;

(b) Either a demonstration that the plan provided for attainment as expeditiously as practicable but not later than December 31, 1994, or a demonstration that attainment by that date was impracticable;

(c) Quantitative milestones which were achieved every 3 years and which demonstrate reasonable further progress (RFP) toward attainment by December 31, 1994; and

(d) Provisions to assure that the control requirements applicable to major stationary sources of PM10 also apply to major stationary sources of PM10 precursors except where the Administrator determined that such sources do not contribute significantly to PM10 levels which exceed the NAAQS in the area.

These provisions, with the exception of the attainment demonstration and quantitative milestones were fully approved into the SIP upon EPA approval of the PM10 moderate area plan for the Spokane NAA on January 27, 1997. See 62 FR 3800. As discussed above, the requirements for reasonable further progress were satisfied with the September 24, 2001 finding of attainment (66 FR 48808), and EPA is approving the attainment demonstration, based on the maintenance demonstration submitted with the Limited Maintenance Plan, in this action.

D. Has the State Demonstrated That the Air Quality Improvement Is Due to Permanent and Enforceable Reductions?

The state must be able to reasonably attribute the improvement in air quality to permanent and enforceable emission reductions. In making this showing, the state must demonstrate that air quality improvements are the result of actual enforceable emission reductions. This showing should consider emission rates, production capacities, and other related information. The analysis should assume that sources are operating at permitted levels (or historic peak levels) unless evidence is presented that such an assumption is unrealistic.

Permanent and enforceable control measures in the Spokane NAA SIP include RACM and BACM. Emission sources in the Spokane NAA have been implementing RACM for at least 10 years. Table 1 contains a list of RACM implemented in Spokane. These control measures were approved into the SIP, and they are both permanent and federally enforceable. See 62 FR 3800 (January 27, 1997).

As discussed in section IV.A., Best Available Control Measures (BACM) are in place to control wind blown dust from the Columbia Plateau. Based on the 2003 NEAP and the 2004 status report submitted to EPA by the Washington Department of Ecology, EPA has determined that Spokane meets the BACM requirement for agricultural sources within the Columbia Plateau. See the technical support document for this action for a discussion on BACM for agricultural sources within the Columbia Plateau.

There are two major stationary sources within the Spokane NAA, the Kaiser Aluminum facilities at Trentwood and Mead. These have not been evaluated specifically for RACT by either Washington or the Spokane County Air Pollution Control Authority (SCAPCA) since analysis of the 24-hour PM10 problem indicates that industrial sources are not a major contributor. See 61 FR 36001 (July 9, 1996). Although analysis indicates that neither of the Kaiser Aluminum facilities are major contributors to 24-hour PM₁₀ past or future exceedences, SCAPCA issued regulatory orders for the Kaiser-Trentwood facility under WAC 173-400-091 "Voluntary Limits on Emissions." SCAPCA orders #96-03, #96-04, #96-05, and #96-06 lower the potential to emit and #91-01 establishes an alternate opacity limit. These orders were adopted into the SIP on January 27, 1997 (62 FR 3800), and EPA is approving revisions to regulatory orders #96-03, #96-05, and #96-06 with this action.

Finally, EPA believes that areas that qualify for the LMP will meet the NAAQS, even under worst case meteorological conditions. Under the Limited Maintenance Plan policy, the maintenance demonstration is presumed to be satisfied if an area meets the qualifying criteria. Thus, by qualifying for the Limited Maintenance Plan, Washington has demonstrated that the air quality improvements in the Spokane area are the result of permanent emission reductions and not a result of either economic trends or meteorology. A description of the LMP qualifying criteria and how the Spokane area meets these criteria is provided in the following section.

E. Does the Area Have a Fully Approved Maintenance Plan Pursuant to Section 175A of the Act?

In this action, we are approving the Limited Maintenance Plan in accordance with the principles outlined in the LMP Option. Upon the effective date of this action, the area will have a fully approved maintenance plan.

F. Has the State Demonstrated That the Spokane NAA Qualifies for the LMP Option?

The LMP Option memo outlines the requirements for an area to qualify for the LMP Option. First, the area should be attaining the NAAQS. As stated above in Section IV.A., EPA has determined that the Spokane NAA has been in attainment of the PM₁₀ NAAQS since 1997 and continues to meet the PM₁₀ NAAQS for the period 1998-2002.

Second, the average design value (ADV) for the past 5 years of monitoring data must be at or below the critical design value (CDV). The CDV is a margin of safety value and is the value at which an area has been determined to have a 1 in 10 probability of exceeding the NAAQS. The LMP Option memo provides two methods for review of monitoring data for the purpose of qualifying for the LMP option. The first method is a comparison of a site's ADV with the CDV of 98 µg/m³ for the 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS and 40 µg/m³ for the annual PM₁₀ NAAQS. A second method that applies to the 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS is the calculation of a site-specific CDV and a comparison of the site-specific CDV with the ADV for the past 5 years of monitoring data.

The ADV for the 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS for Spokane, based on data from the Crown Zellerbach monitor for the years 1998-2002, is 110.7. This value falls below the site-specific 24-hour CDV of 116.6 µg/m³. The annual ADV from the Crown Zellerbach monitor for the same period is 28.2 µg/m³. This falls below the annual CDV provided in the LMP Option memo of 40 µg/m³. Therefore, Spokane meets the design value criteria outlined in the LMP Option memo. For the 1998-2002 ADV and 1993-2003 site-specific CDV calculations for PM₁₀ in Spokane, please see the technical support document, Attachment H.

Third, the area must meet the motor vehicle regional emissions analysis test in attachment B of the LMP Option memo. Using the methodology outlined in the memo, based on monitoring data for the period 1998-2002, EPA has determined that the Spokane NAA passes the motor vehicle regional emissions analysis test. For the calculations used to determine that Spokane has passed the motor vehicle regional analysis test, see the technical support document, Attachment H.

The monitoring data for the period 1998-2002 shows that Spokane has attained the NAAQS for PM₁₀, the 24-hour ADV and the annual ADV in Spokane are less than the site specific 24-hour PM₁₀ CDV and the national annual CDV respectively. Finally, the area has met the regional vehicle emissions analysis test. Thus, the Spokane NAA area qualifies for the Limited Maintenance Plan option described in the LMP Option memo.

The LMP Option memo also indicates that once a state selects the LMP Option and it is in effect, the state will be expected to determine, on an annual basis, that the LMP criteria are still being met. If the state determines that the LMP criteria are not being met, it should take action to reduce PM₁₀ concentrations enough to requalify for the LMP. One possible approach the State could take is to implement contingency measures. In section E of the Limited Maintenance Plan, Washington commits to evaluate, on an annual basis, the LMP criteria for the Spokane NAA.

For these reasons and reasons explained below, we are approving the LMP for the Spokane NAA and the State's request to redesignate the Spokane NAA from nonattainment to attainment for PM₁₀.

G. Does the State Have an Approved Attainment Emissions Inventory Which Can Be Used To Demonstrate Attainment of the NAAQS?

The state's approved attainment plan should include an emissions inventory (attainment inventory) which can be used to demonstrate attainment of the NAAQS. The inventory should represent emissions during the same five year period associated with air quality data used to determine whether the area meets the applicability requirements of the LMP Option. The state should review its inventory every three years to ensure emissions growth is incorporated in the attainment inventory if necessary. In this instance, Washington completed an attainment year inventory for the attainment year 1997. However, this inventory was not fully approved as it did not include emissions from windblown dust. Washington is now using the emissions inventory for the calendar year 2002 as the attainment year inventory.

EPA has reviewed the 2002 emissions inventory and determined that it is current, accurate and complete. EPA has also reviewed monitoring data for the years 1997-2002, and determined that the 2002 emissions inventory is representative of the attainment year inventory since the NAAQS was not violated during 2002. In addition, the emissions inventory submitted with the Limited Maintenance Plan for the calendar year 2002 is representative of the level of emissions during the time period used to calculate the average design value since 2002 is included in the five year period used to calculate the design value (1998-2002). As stated above in Section IV.C.4., the 2002 emissions inventory meets the requirements of Section 172(c)(3) of the Act, and the requirements for emissions inventory in Table 3.1 of the EPA document entitled PM-10 Emission Inventory Requirements, Final Report.

H. Does the LMP Include an Assurance of Continued Operation of an Appropriate EPA-Approved Air Quality Monitoring Network, in Accordance With 40 CFR Part 58?

A PM₁₀ monitoring network was established in the Spokane area in October, 1985. Monitoring sites have been located in nine different locations throughout the area since that time. The monitoring network was developed and has been maintained in accordance with federal siting and design criteria in 40 CFR Part 58, Appendices D and E and in consultation with Region 10. Currently, there are two PM10/PM2.5 SLAMS/NAMS monitors in the Spokane NAA. In section IV.E. of the Spokane LMP, Washington states that it will continue to operate its monitoring network to meet EPA requirements.

I. Does the Plan Meet the Clean Air Act Requirements for Contingency Provisions?

Section 175A of the Act states that a maintenance plan must include contingency provisions, as necessary, to promptly correct any violation of the NAAQS which may occur after redesignation of the area to attainment. As explained in the LMP Option memo, these contingency measures do not have to be fully adopted at the time of redesignation.

Section IV.F. of the Spokane Limited Maintenance Plan describes a process and timeline to identify and evaluate appropriate contingency measures in the event of a quality assured violation of the PM10 NAAQS. Within 30 days following a violation of the PM10 NAAQS, the Spokane County Air Pollution Control Authority (SCAPCA), the Spokane Regional Transportation Council (SRTC) and the Washington Department of Ecology will convene an assessment team to identify appropriate measures to be implemented and prepare and deliver a report to the Spokane County Air Pollution Control Authority (SCAPCA) board of directors and appropriate staff at Washington Department of Ecology within 120 days based on:

- (1) Monitoring data before and during the event;
- (2) Weather conditions that may have caused and/or contributed to the violation;
- (3) Normal and unusual emissions occurring prior to and during the event;
- (4) Effectiveness of existing controls in reducing the magnitude and/or duration of events;
- (5) Appropriateness of modifying and or implementing one or more LMP contingency measures; and
- (6) Possible changes to the LMP, monitoring network, and or public information strategies.

The plan describes contingency measures that are already in effect or may automatically become effective in the event of a violation of the NAAQS, subject to the assessment described above. These contingency measures include:

- (1) Unpaved Road Control Regulation: This measure, adopted by SCAPCA in 1994 as section 6.15 of Regulation I, controls particulate matter emissions from unpaved surfaces. The measure requires, among other things, that the city of Spokane, Spokane County, and the Town of Millwood submit emission reduction contingency plans for the control of dust emissions from unpaved roads and parking lot emissions to SCAPCA for approval. These contingency plans, if determined appropriate, will be reviewed and updated in the event of a NAAQS violation;

- (2) Ban on Uncertified Stoves: Article VIII of SCAPCA's Regulation I contains provisions for Solid Fuel Burning Device Standards. As amended on January 6, 1994, it enables SCAPCA to take further residential wood-smoke control actions if the area is not in attainment of the PM10 standard because of wood-smoke emissions.

The regulation prohibits the use of any solid fuel burning device not meeting state certification standards. Implementation of this regulation as a contingency measure will provide a further reduction of wood-smoke emissions, should the assessment, as described above, find it necessary.

The assessment team will also consider recommending other contingency measures that may more appropriately address the most probable source contributing to the violation. The board may adopt and implement contingency measures other than those listed above, as needed. EPA believes that current and proposed contingency measures in Spokane's Limited Maintenance Plan meet the requirements for contingency measures as outlined in the Limited Maintenance Plan Option memo.

J. Has the State Met Conformity Requirements?

(1) Transportation Conformity

Under the LMP Option, emissions budgets are treated as essentially not constraining for the maintenance period because it is unreasonable to expect that qualifying areas would experience so much growth in that period that a NAAQS violation would result.

While areas with maintenance plans approved under the LMP Option are not subject to the budget test, the areas remain subject to other transportation conformity requirements of 40 CFR part 93, subpart A. Thus, the metropolitan planning organization (MPO) in the area or the State must document and ensure that:

- (a) Transportation plans and projects provide for timely implementation of SIP transportation control measures

(TCMs) in accordance with 40 CFR 93.113;

- (b) Transportation plans and projects comply with the fiscal constraint element per 40 CFR 93.108;

- (c) The MPO's interagency consultation procedures meet applicable requirements of 40 CFR 93.105;

- (d) Conformity of transportation plans is determined no less frequently than every three years, and conformity of plan amendments and transportation projects is demonstrated in accordance with the timing requirements specified in 40 CFR 93.104;

- (e) The latest planning assumptions and emissions model are used as set forth in 40 CFR 93.110 and 40 CFR 93.111;

- (f) Projects do not cause or contribute to any new localized carbon monoxide or particulate matter violations, in accordance with procedures specified in 40 CFR 93.123; and

- (g) Project sponsors and/or operators provide written commitments as specified in 40 CFR 93.125.

On February 10, 2005, EPA posted a proposal to find the Spokane LMP Motor Vehicle Emissions Budget adequate for transportation conformity purposes on EPA's conformity Web site: <http://www.epa.gov/oms/traq>. As stated above, Limited Maintenance Plan budgets are unconstrained and consequently, the adequacy review period for these maintenance plans serves to allow the public to comment on whether limited maintenance is appropriate for these areas. Interested parties may comment on the adequacy and approval of the Limited Maintenance Plans by submitting their comments on the proposed rule published concurrently with this direct final rule. The comment period for the adequacy posting for the Spokane LMP ended on March 15, 2005. EPA did not receive any comments on this posting.

(2) General Conformity

For Federal actions which are required to address the specific requirements of the general conformity rule, one set of requirements applies particularly to ensuring that emissions from the action will not cause or contribute to new violations of the NAAQS, exacerbate current violations, or delay timely attainment. One way that this requirement can be met is to demonstrate that "the total of direct and indirect emissions from the action (or portion thereof) is determined and documented by the State agency primarily responsible for the applicable SIP to result in a level of emissions which, together with all other emissions in the nonattainment area, would not exceed the emissions budgets specified in the applicable SIP.” 40 CFR 93.158(a)(5)(i)(A).

The decision about whether to include specific allocations of allowable emissions increases to sources is one made by the State and local air quality agencies. These emissions budgets are different than those used in transportation conformity. Emissions budgets in transportation conformity are required to limit and restrain emissions. Emissions budgets in general conformity allow increases in emissions up to specified levels. Washington has not chosen to include specific emissions allocations for Federal projects that would be subject to the provisions of general conformity.

V. Incorporation by Reference (IBR) Material

EPA is incorporating by reference revisions to the following Spokane County Air Pollution Control Authority (SCAPCA) Regulatory Orders: #96-03, effective date October 4, 2000; #96-05, effective date October 4, 2000; and #96-06, effective date October 19, 2000.

VI. Direct Final Action

EPA is approving the Limited Maintenance Plan (LMP) for the Spokane nonattainment area (Spokane NAA) and redesignating the Spokane NAA to attainment for the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for particulate matter with an aerodynamic diameter less than or equal to a nominal 10 micrometers (PM₁₀). EPA is also approving the remaining portions of the moderate area plan (“attainment plan”) for the Spokane NAA for all PM₁₀ sources including windblown dust.

Also in this action, EPA is approving revisions to the Spokane County Air Pollution Control Authority (SCAPCA) Regulatory Orders #96-03, effective date October 4, 2000; #96-05, effective date October 4, 2000; and #96-06, effective date October 19, 2000.

EPA is publishing this action without a prior proposal because EPA views this as a noncontroversial amendment and anticipates no adverse comments. In the proposed rules section of this Federal Register publication, however, EPA is publishing a separate document that will serve as the proposal to approve the SIP revision should adverse comments be filed. This direct final rule is effective on August 30, 2005, without further notice, unless EPA receives adverse comment by August 1, 2005. If an adverse comment is received, EPA will publish a timely withdrawal of the direct final rule in the Federal Register and inform the public that the rule did not take effect. All adverse public comments received will then be addressed in a subsequent final rule based on the proposed rule. EPA will not institute a second comment period on this action. Any parties interested in commenting must do so at this time. Please note that if EPA receives adverse comment on an amendment, paragraph, or section of this rule, EPA may adopt as final those provisions of the rule that are not the subject of an adverse comment.

VII. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), this action is not a “significant regulatory action” and therefore is not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget. For this reason, this action is also not subject to Executive Order 13211, “Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use” (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001). This action merely approves state law as meeting Federal requirements and imposes no additional requirements beyond those imposed by state law. Accordingly, the Administrator certifies that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). Because this rule approves pre-existing requirements under state law and does not impose any additional enforceable duty beyond that required by state law, it does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-4).

This rule also does not have tribal implications because it will not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 6, 2000). This action also does not have federalism implications because it does not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999). This action merely approves a state rule implementing a Federal standard, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power and responsibilities established in the Clean Air Act. This rule also is not subject to Executive Order 13045 “Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks” (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), because it is not economically significant.

In reviewing SIP submissions, EPA’s role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the Clean Air Act. In this context, in the absence of a prior existing requirement for the State to use voluntary consensus standards (VCS), EPA has no authority to disapprove a SIP submission for failure to use VCS. It would thus be inconsistent with applicable law for EPA, when it reviews a SIP submission, to use VCS in place of a SIP submission that otherwise satisfies the provisions of the Clean Air Act. Thus, the requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) do not apply. This rule does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

The Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. 801 et seq., as added by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States. EPA will submit a report containing this rule and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the rule in the Federal Register. A major rule cannot take effect until 60 days after it is published in the Federal Register. This action is not a “major rule” as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).

Under section 307(b)(1) of the Clean Air Act, petitions for judicial review of this action must be filed in the United States Court of Appeals for the appropriate circuit by August 30, 2005. Filing a petition for reconsideration by the Administrator of this final rule does not affect the finality of this rule for the purposes of judicial review nor does it extend the time within which a petition for judicial review may be filed, and shall not postpone the effectiveness of such rule or action. This action may not be challenged later in proceedings to enforce its requirements. See section 307(b)(2).

BILLING CODE 6560-50-P

DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITYFederal Emergency Management Agency*44 CFR Part 64

[Docket No. FEMA-7883]

Suspension of Community Eligibility

AGENCY: Federal Emergency Management Agency, Emergency

Preparedness and Response Directorate, Department of Homeland Security.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule identifies communities, where the sale of flood insurance has been authorized under the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP), that are scheduled for suspension on the effective dates listed within this rule because of noncompliance with the floodplain management requirements of the program. If the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) receives documentation that the community has adopted the required floodplain management measures prior to the effective suspension date given in this rule, the suspension will not occur and a notice of this will be provided by publication in the Federal Register on a subsequent date.

EFFECTIVE DATES: The effective date of each community's scheduled suspension is the third date ("Susp.") listed in the third column of the following tables.

ADDRESSES: If you wish to determine whether a particular community was suspended on the suspension date, contact the appropriate FEMA Regional Office or the NFIP servicing contractor.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Michael M. Grimm, Mitigation Division, 500 C Street, SW., Room 412, Washington, DC 20472, (202) 646-2878.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The NFIP enables property owners to purchase flood insurance which is generally not otherwise available. In return, communities agree to adopt and administer local floodplain management aimed at protecting lives and new construction from future flooding. Section 1315 of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 4022, prohibits flood insurance coverage as authorized under the National Flood Insurance Program, 42 U.S.C. 4001 et seq.; unless an appropriate public body adopts adequate floodplain management measures with effective enforcement measures. The communities listed in this document no longer meet that statutory requirement for compliance with program regulations, 44 CFR part 59 et seq. Accordingly, the communities will be suspended on the effective date in the third column. As of that date, flood insurance will no longer be available in the community. However, some of these communities may adopt and submit the required documentation of legally enforceable floodplain management measures after this rule is published but prior to the actual suspension date. These communities will not be suspended and will continue their eligibility for the sale of insurance.

A notice withdrawing the suspension of the communities will be published in the Federal Register.

In addition, the Federal Emergency Management Agency has identified the special flood hazard areas in these communities by publishing a Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM). The date of the FIRM, if one has been published, is indicated in the fourth column of the table. No direct Federal financial assistance (except assistance pursuant to the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act not in connection with a flood) may legally be provided for construction or acquisition of buildings in the identified special flood hazard area of communities not participating in the NFIP and identified for more than a year, on the Federal Emergency Management Agency's initial flood insurance map of the community as having flood-prone areas (section 202(a) of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973, 42 U.S.C. 4106(a), as amended). This prohibition against certain types of Federal assistance becomes effective for the communities listed on the date shown in the last column. The Administrator finds that notice and public comment under 5 U.S.C. 553(b) are impracticable and unnecessary because communities listed in this final rule have been adequately notified.

Each community receives a 6-month, 90-day, and 30-day notification letter addressed to the Chief Executive Officer that the community will be suspended unless the required floodplain management measures are met prior to the effective suspension date. Since these notifications have been made, this final rule may take effect within less than 30 days.

National Environmental Policy Act

This rule is categorically excluded from the requirements of 44 CFR Part 10, Environmental Considerations. No environmental impact assessment has been prepared.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Administrator has determined that this rule is exempt from the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act because the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 4022, prohibits flood insurance coverage unless an appropriate public body adopts adequate floodplain management measures with effective enforcement measures. The communities listed no longer comply with the statutory requirements, and after the effective date, flood insurance will no longer be available in the communities unless they take remedial action.

Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards; Transmission Shift Position Sequence, Starter Interlock, and Transmission Braking Effect AGENCY: National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This document amends the starter interlock requirements of our safety standard on transmission shift position sequence, starter interlock, and transmission braking effect to clarify how the requirements apply to vehicles incorporating emerging technologies. The amendment is intended to facilitate the development of propulsion systems that conserve energy and reduce emissions by stopping the engine (internal combustion engine) when it is not needed. It is also intended to minimize the possibility of crashes in which a driver has mis-shifted into a forward or reverse gear and would be unprepared for the direction of motion by the vehicle when the engine restarts.

DATES: This final rule becomes effective December 28, 2005.

Any petitions for reconsideration of today's final rule must be received by NHTSA not later than August 15, 2005.

I. Executive Summary

The existing starter interlock requirement of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) No. 102 (at S3.1.3) states "the engine starter shall be inoperative when the transmission shift lever is in a forward or reverse drive position." The purpose of this requirement is to prevent injuries and death from the unexpected motion of a vehicle when the driver starts the vehicle with the transmission inadvertently in a forward or reverse gear. Two recently introduced vehicles, the Toyota Prius¹ and the Honda

¹ The Prius is an electric motor-powered vehicle assisted by an internal combustion engine (ICE). When the propulsion system is activated, the Insight², are powered by hybrid/electric systems (the Toyota Hybrid System (THS) and Honda's Idle-stop Technology (IST)) that permit their gasoline engines to stop and restart automatically while the transmission shift lever is in a drive position.

Each manufacturer asked us to interpret S3.1.3 as it applied to these new vehicles. In interpretation letters to Toyota (November 1, 1999) and Honda (January 17, 2001), we concluded that S3.1.3 would not prohibit either system. In each case, we based our interpretation on a determination that the system met S3.1.3's underlying purpose of ensuring that the vehicle will not lurch forward or backward during driver activation of the engine starter because driver activation of the engine starter is inoperative when the transmission shift lever is in a drive position. We also noted that these new systems were more complex than those on vehicles that existed when S3.1.3 was first adopted, and that we planned to conduct rulemaking to clarify FMVSS No. 102 as applied to emerging technologies. Pending completion of the rulemaking, we stated that we would interpret S3.1.3 as requiring that driver activation of the engine starter must be inoperative when the transmission shift lever is in a forward or reverse drive position.

In the NPRM (68 FR 26269, May 15, 2003), we proposed to amend the regulatory text of FMVSS No. 102 to make it clear that the engine may start and stop automatically after the driver has activated the vehicle's propulsion system, when the transmission shift lever is in any forward gear. Under the proposed regulatory text, this was also permitted when the shift lever is in Reverse, but only if the vehicle's propulsion system provides, at least, a minimum creep force in Reverse when the engine is stopped, the accelerator is released and the propulsion system is activated.

After carefully considering the public comments, we have decided to adopt a final rule with some changes from the proposal. This final rule amends S3.1.3 to accommodate these new technologies, while preserving the safety purpose of the standard. Although the creep force requirements proposed in the NPRM are not adopted in the final rule, the final rule addresses the same safety problems in a simpler way.

With respect to vehicles with automatic transmissions, the rule makes it clear that, after activation of the vehicle's propulsion system by the driver, the engine may stop and restart automatically when the transmission shift position is in any forward drive gear. The rule prohibits the engine from automatically stopping in reverse gear. When the engine is automatically stopped in a forward drive shift position and the driver selects Reverse, the engine is permitted to restart automatically in Reverse if two conditions are satisfied. The first condition is that the engine must restart immediately whenever the service brake is applied. The second condition is that the engine does not start automatically if the service brake is not applied.

The rule also provides, notwithstanding these limitations, that the engine may stop and start at any time after the driver has activated the vehicle's propulsion system if: (a) The vehicle's propulsion system can propel the vehicle in the normal travel mode in all forward and reverse drive gears without the engine operating, and (b) if the engine automatically starts while the vehicle is traveling at a steady speed and steady accelerator control setting, the engine does not cause the vehicle to accelerate.

II. Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

The notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) for an amendment to the starter interlock requirement of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) 571.102 was published on May 15, 2003 (68 FR 26269). We intended the proposed amendment to preserve the original safety intent of the starter interlock requirement while accommodating the technologies used on vehicles such as the Prius and the Insight. With respect to vehicles with automatic transmissions, the agency proposed regulatory text that made it clear that, after activation of the vehicle's propulsion system by the driver, the internal combustion engine (ICE) is permitted to stop and start automatically while the shift position is in any forward drive gear. The agency also proposed regulatory text providing that the ICE is permitted to stop and start automatically while the shift position is in Reverse, but only in vehicles like the Prius that exhibit creep force in forward and reverse drive gears, regardless of whether the ICE is running. This allows the driver to sense what gear the vehicle is in before pressing the accelerator pedal. This creep force is similar to the creep force that exists on conventional (non-hybrid-electric) ICE/automatic transmission equipped vehicles. Creep force occurs in the direction indicated by the selected shift position and provides enough force to cause motion of a vehicle loaded to its GVWR on a level, paved surface before the service brake pedal is completely released. In the NPRM, we stated that creep force is a cue that indicates to the driver that he or she is in the correct gear, as the driver is releasing the brake and has the best chance of stopping quickly in case of a gear selection error. In the NPRM, we also proposed a test for minimum creep force in vehicles that automatically stopped and started its ICE in Reverse.

For a complete discussion of the safety issues that led to proposed changes to FMVSS No. 102, and how NHTSA sought to address these issues, please refer to the notice of proposed rulemaking at 68 FR 26269 (May 15, 2003).

The comment period for the NPRM ended on July 15, 2003.

III. Public Comments to the NPRM

We received comments from ten sources; Advocates for Highway and Auto Safety (AHAS), American Honda Motor Company (Honda), Ford Motor Company (Ford), Nissan North America, Inc. (Nissan), Association of International Automobile Manufacturers, Inc. (AIAM), International Truck and Engine Corporation (International), DaimlerChrysler Corporation (DaimlerChrysler), New York City Transit (NYCT), Toyota Motor North America, Inc. (Toyota), and Denso International America, Inc. (Denso). The commenters included a consumer advocate, vehicle manufacturers, vehicle manufacturer associations, a city transportation department and manufacturers of controls used in hybrid-electric vehicles.

In general, the comments supported amending FMVSS No. 102 to clarify its requirements and facilitate current and evolving hybrid electric vehicle technologies. However, specific commenters raised a variety of issues vehicle is powered by the electric motor. The ICE starts and runs when additional motive power is required or when electrical energy is needed to power the motor and/or to charge the propulsion batteries. The ICE is always running at speeds greater than 42 miles per hour. The Prius propulsion system exhibits creep force and is capable of propelling the vehicle in the normal travel mode in all forward and reverse drive gears even when the engine is stopped and behaves like a conventional ICE/automatic transmission-equipped vehicle.

² The Insight is an ICE powered vehicle assisted by an electric motor and employs idle-stop technology. The electric motor provides assistance when additional motive power is required during acceleration. The ICE of the Insight automatically stops when the brake is applied and the vehicle is stopped. The Insight restarts when the brake is released. The idle-stop feature is not employed in Reverse and therefore, the ICE does not stop in Reverse. If the ICE is stopped in a forward gear and Reverse is selected, the ICE starts immediately, provided the service brake is applied.

relating to creep force and the conditions under which creep force should be present. The issues raised in the public comments, and NHTSA's response to the comments, are discussed below.

IV. Public Comments and NHTSA's Response

A. Requiring Reverse Creep Force in Vehicles That Allow the ICE To Stop and Start Automatically When the Vehicle's Shift Position Is in Reverse

Both AHAS and AIAM indicated support for NHTSA's proposal to require reverse creep force in vehicles that allow the ICE to stop and start automatically while the vehicle's shift position is in Reverse. AHAS commended the agency for anticipating a safety problem before it reaches a level where increasing deaths and injuries have been sustained by both vehicle occupants and pedestrians.

Ford and NYCT supported NHTSA's efforts to revise the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards (FMVSS) for starter interlock function in order to address the new hybrid-electric vehicle (HEV) propulsion systems. They indicated concern, however, that the proposed rule appears to assume that creep force will help drivers avoid collisions resulting from shifting errors. Ford and NYCT stated there are no historical or experimental data provided in support of such a proposition. Ford further argued that the new specification requiring a creep force was inserted without any analysis or documentation of the real-world benefit. Ford indicated that vehicles equipped with manual transmissions do not have creep force while standing at idle and that several non-HEV models equipped with automatic transmissions actually have reduced or eliminated idle creep force (for fuel economy purposes) by partially disengaging the transmission or reducing engine speed at idle. Ford further argued that by imposing a minimum creep force requirement on HEVs, NHTSA arbitrarily would hold HEVs to a higher standard than many conventional power trains with automatic transmissions and all power trains with manual transmissions. Ford stated that NHTSA has presented no evidence that a vehicle without creep force is less safe than one with creep force.

Toyota commented that it understands that the agency's purpose in measuring and regulating a creep force to GVWR ratio is to develop a method to measure driver observable movement; however, it believes there are other ways to alert the driver that his or her vehicle is in Reverse, such as an audible alarm. Toyota believes that an audible alarm should be allowed as a substitute for reverse creep force.

In response to the comments from AHAS and AIMA, NHTSA notes that it sought to amend S3.1.3 of FMVSS No. 102 in a way that allows for current and new technology and at the same time does not compromise the original safety intent of FMVSS No. 102.

NHTSA acknowledges the comments from Ford and NYCT regarding creep force. Even though NHTSA continues to consider creep force a valuable cue to the driver, it has concluded that the changes necessary to accommodate these and other comments discussed in this document would make the regulatory language unnecessarily complex. Therefore, NHTSA has developed a refocused approach to differentiate between two types of hybrid-electric vehicles: the electric motor-powered vehicle assisted by an internal combustion engine (ICE) (such as the Prius) and the ICE-powered vehicle assisted by an electric motor and that employs idle-stop technology (such as the Insight).

This final rule establishes requirements that address the same objectives of solving the mis-shift problem before it happens but in a way such that we no longer need to regulate creep force. The changes in this final rule clarify how the starter interlock requirement applies to vehicles with emerging technologies while continuing to address the need for safety. We believe the restriction of idle-stop systems to forward gears is simple and appropriate. We have also lessened restrictions on electric motor-powered vehicles assisted by an ICE, thereby maximizing design freedom where appropriate.

B. Applicability to Vehicles Over 10,000 Pounds GVWR

International, a U.S. manufacturer of medium and heavy-duty trucks, school buses and medium duty diesel engines recommended that the proposed changes to the regulation be limited to internal combustion (IC)/electric hybrid vehicles with GVWRs less than 10,000 pounds so the regulation does not inhibit the development of new technology or create an unworkable situation for medium and heavy duty vehicles.

International commented that NHTSA has collected data on light duty hybrid (IC)/electric passenger vehicles, even though the proposed changes would apply to all vehicles. International expressed concern that the proposed changes may not be appropriate for medium and heavy-duty vehicles and there is not enough information or data available at this time on medium and heavy-duty hybrid-electric vehicles (HEVs). International stated that development of HEVs with GVWRs greater than 10,000 pounds has not progressed to the same degree as light duty passenger vehicles. Since HEVs with GVWRs greater than 10,000 pounds have many uses, they have different operating characteristics than lighter HEVs, presenting challenges not addressed by the proposed changes. International also expressed concern that there do not appear to be data addressing whether the proposed creep force requirements are appropriate for vehicles with GVWRs greater than 10,000 lbs. International further stated that NHTSA should also be aware that in addition to IC/electric hybrid vehicles, research is ongoing for IC/hydraulic hybrid medium duty vehicles. Since the proposed changes have been specifically written for IC/electric hybrid vehicles, applying these proposed changes to other types of hybrids could pose problems.

NYCT expressed concern that the proposed rule fails to allow for different configurations possible with electric, hybrid-electric, and fuel cell vehicles. NYCT commented that the proposed rule appears to be based on the characteristics of two parallel hybrid-electric gasoline ICE passenger cars (Toyota Prius and Honda Insight) currently in large-scale production. In addition, NYCT indicated that the survey data provided on creep force in Table 1 of the NPRM (at 68 FR 26274) is limited to passenger cars and light trucks of less than 18,000 lbs. GVWR.

NYCT stated that on conventional ICE vehicles with automatic transmissions, creep force provides an anti-rollback function, an important safety feature, on moderate grades. However, the heavy-duty series hybrid-electric buses currently operated by NYCT have an anti-rollback system without creep force. The propulsion system automatically provides torque to prevent rolling backward when the brakes are released on an ascending grade (and also to prevent rolling forward when the bus is in reverse on a descending grade). However, this feature does not allow the vehicle to move in the selected direction until the accelerator is depressed. NYCT has found this arrangement effective for preventing rollback. However, the proposed rule appears to prohibit this design since the rule requires creep force. NYCT stated that the proposed rule would require NYCT's vehicle suppliers to re-design part of their propulsion systems. The attendant engineering costs could have a very significant impact on vehicle lifecycle costs for NYCT, particularly since the North American market for heavy-duty hybrid-electric transit buses is currently limited to a few hundred units per year.

In response, NHTSA recognizes the comments from International and NYCT on heavier hybrid vehicles. We realize the NPRM's creep force requirement may conflict with some systems currently used on heavy trucks and buses. In fact, series systems used on some buses, where the ICE is strictly used to generate electrical power and is not connected to the vehicle drive train, would have been prohibited from stopping in Reverse when it was not needed. This would have caused additional changes and exceptions to the proposed language in the NPRM, leading to additional complexity. The issues presented by International and NYCT are solved by new language in this final rule. The new requirements do not create problems for larger vehicles with series hybrid systems and anti-rollback systems and does not affect the development of new technologies.

C. Specifying a Maximum Throttle Opening Regardless of Driver Throttle Input on Idle-Stop Systems During Automatic ICE Starting

In the NPRM, we asked for comment on whether we should require a limit on throttle opening on idle-stop systems when the engine is automatically starting. The limit on throttle opening would prevent vehicle surging when the driver may rapidly remove his foot from the brake and depress the accelerator to full throttle just before or as the engine automatically starts. Although such vehicle surging is not a problem on the Prius and Insight, it was suggested that such a requirement might be necessary for future idle-stop designs.

Comments from AHAS supported the idea that vehicles that allow the ICE to stop and start automatically should not cause sudden acceleration of the vehicle even when the accelerator pedal is fully depressed during ICE automatic starting.

Honda did not agree with new criteria which would limit throttle opening. Honda agrees with NHTSA that it is necessary to design the idle-stop system to prevent sudden surging during normal operation and during failure modes; however, Honda believes that additional criteria may inhibit future idle-stop development. Honda commented that in its system, when the accelerator pedal is pushed quickly and aggressively after the brake pedal is released, the Honda Integrated Motor Assist (IMA) is capable of restarting the ICE quickly. The first engine firing occurs after the brake pedal is released and before the accelerator pedal is depressed. After the brake pedal is released, brake pressure is maintained while the transmission automatically and rapidly shifts to neutral during engine restarting. After the engine has started, the transmission rapidly shifts to Drive and brake pressure is released. The drive train is engaged quickly and electrically controlled to prevent surging engine revolutions and to prevent vehicle surging. Therefore, on the Insight, Honda said it is unnecessary to place additional limits on the throttle. If the engine should fail to start when the brake is released, brake pressure is maintained and the transmission is in Neutral. The starter turns the engine but is limited to a 2 second duration. Honda indicated that there are many ways in addition to controlling the throttle opening, to control the engine revolutions and prevent vehicle surging. Such additional ways include retarding the ignition fire timing and cutting the fuel injection. In the future, idle-stop technology may be applied to vehicles that use Drive By Wire (DBW) systems where throttle opening is easily controlled electronically. However, requiring control of the throttle opening now could mandate specific hardware, such as DBW, which could inhibit other types of advanced technologies.

Nissan agreed it is necessary to consider the unexpected movement of a stopped vehicle in the design process, but opposed a specified maximum throttle position as a means to achieve design goals. Nissan commented that design specific regulations could restrict development of alternative technologies to meet the same goal. For example, another possible method to control unexpected movement during an automatic engine start is to limit the output of the transmission to the drive axles. While the ability of such a system may be equal to or better than the use of an artificial maximum throttle position, it would not be an acceptable alternative if throttle position is regulated. To allow for the broadest range of technologies, Nissan suggested the agency regulate the threshold and response of the vehicle to the given condition, and allow each manufacturer to decide how best to achieve the desired performance.

AIAM supported the need for safeguards to prevent sudden surging of the vehicle when the engine automatically starts.

International indicated that there might be situations in which limiting power might prevent the operator from avoiding a crash. If the vehicle is stopped on railroad tracks or in the middle of an intersection, the ability to rapidly accelerate might allow the operator to avoid a crash. International recommended that the maximum allowable acceleration or jerk of the vehicle during an engine start be limited to the same value as the acceleration or jerk with the engine already running. This limitation would prevent sudden motions that the operator is not used to but would allow full power to be available for emergency maneuvers.

DaimlerChrysler commented that it was in favor of limiting the throttle opening to less than or equal to $\frac{1}{4}$ throttle.

Toyota commented that in addition to NHTSA's concerns, the situation may arise where a regulation limiting maximum throttle could hinder a driver from escaping a situation in which the driver may have intentionally wanted full throttle. Considering both sides of the issue, Toyota recommended that the agency allow manufacturers to continue developing and incorporating their own means to balance throttle control.

NHTSA notes that a requirement to regulate throttle opening during automatic engine start emerged out of concerns that in future systems, vehicle surging may result when drivers of vehicles equipped with idle-stop systems go from braking to full throttle very quickly, before or while the ICE was in the process of automatically starting. The Honda Insight handles this scenario well, as when the accelerator is fully depressed during automatic engine start, the engine starts and the vehicle gradually accelerates without surging or any unexpected movement. Such a scenario is of no consequence to the Toyota Prius, as actuation of the accelerator to any degree, at any time, will initiate vehicle movement exactly like a conventional non-hybrid-electric vehicle with an automatic transmission, as the electric motor will move the vehicle during situations where the engine is stopped or in the process of automatically starting.

The majority of the comments were in favor of preventing possible vehicle surging in idle-stop systems by allowing manufacturers to continue to design safeguards of their choosing into their systems. The comments indicate that a requirement limiting throttle opening could possibly limit the use of other techniques and designs that would also prevent vehicle surging when the ICE automatically starts during full throttle. Comments also indicated that limiting full throttle might place a driver/vehicle in a dangerous position in cases where full throttle is needed. NHTSA knows that vehicle surging is not an issue for the Prius or the Insight. NHTSA agrees with comments that anticipated safety issues can be solved by a variety of well-designed approaches. NHTSA concludes that since current systems have addressed this issue and the requirement to limit throttle opening may inhibit other methods and techniques to prevent surging in vehicles with idle-stop systems, no action should be taken on this issue at this time.

D. Requiring a Manual Override To Deactivate the Idle-Stop Feature

In the NPRM, we requested comment on whether FMVSS No. 102 should include a requirement for a manual idle-stop override, to allow the driver to disable the idle-stop system and prevent the engine from automatically stopping in cases such as an idle-stop system malfunction or a delay in automatic starting.

Honda did not agree with NHTSA's proposal, which would require a control that permits the driver to manually deactivate or override the idle-stop system. Honda indicated that it has incorporated a number of fail-safe features in its Integrated Motor Assist system that automatically prevents the idle-stop system from operating due to such conditions as low battery power, cold engine, or brake switch failure. Honda did not think a manual lockout function is needed because it could create unnecessary confusion and opportunities for misuse. Honda believes it is the manufacturer's responsibility to design systems to perform properly under all driving conditions and to be convenient and fail-safe by using automatic techniques that are appropriate for the technology employed. Honda stated that regulating specific features, such as a manual lockout, is not necessary at this time and could restrict some future technologies.

Nissan agreed that the idle-stop system should cease to function in the event of a system malfunction; however, Nissan and the AIAM opposed a requirement for a control that would allow the operator to lock out or turn off the system. Given that an idle-stop system (one that includes diagnostic functions) can automatically cease its function and provide equivalent safety performance without operator control, Nissan does not believe that an external control is necessary for all systems. Additionally, if the system provides a control that would allow the operator to lock out or turn off the system, the improvement in fuel economy, the main purpose of the idle-stop, could be reduced. Nissan concluded that a control allowing the operator to deactivate the system is not needed if the system includes a diagnostic function. AIAM provided similar reasons for their opposition to a manual control for locking out an idle-stop system.

International commented that the engine controller should detect if the system is degrading, then shut down the idle-stop system and provide a "service engine" type message. Some fleets and owners/operators prefer to avoid new controls because of added distraction and such a control would rarely be used, which means the operator may forget its location or proper use. Such controls would allow truck and bus drivers to lockout the system based on personal preference, even though it is operating properly, thus eliminating many of the benefits of the system.

DaimlerChrysler indicated that it would expect a manual override to be permitted and not just for malfunctions. In the override mode, the transmission and engine control system would meet the current FMVSS No. 102 requirements. One minute would seem like a reasonable time in "auto stop" mode before an "auto start" should occur. This could accommodate most traffic signal stops or pauses in traffic. DaimlerChrysler also commented it assumes that manual, as well as, automatic overrides of this engine control strategy would be permitted. For example, during high and low ambient temperature conditions, it may be advantageous to automatically override the "auto stop" feature to permit use of air conditioning, defroster, electrically heated seats, or to recharge a discharged battery.

Toyota's comments expressed concerns that requiring an idle-stop override would allow consumers to disable the idle-stop system and negate its environmental benefits. Toyota stressed that manufacturers already design their own safeguards to address malfunctions or excessive automatic starting times. Different manufacturers may use different strategies and regulating this area, at this time, may inhibit introduction of new technologies. In order to advance the introduction of idle-stop technology, Toyota stated its belief that the agency should continue to allow manufacturers to design in their own algorithms to address these concerns. For example, Toyota's algorithms ensure the vehicle continues to be operational if there is a problem with the hybrid system. In Toyota's designs, the vehicle reverts to an "engine on" mode, during which the vehicle's engine remains on until the ignition is turned off, similar to current conventional internal combustion engine vehicles.

In response, NHTSA notes that it raised the issue of a manual override in the NPRM as there were concerns that as vehicles equipped with idle-stop systems age, a delay in ICE restarting may develop. NHTSA anticipates that the idle-stop feature will eventually become commonplace on a significant number of conventional non-hybrid vehicles. Delays in vehicle restarting, as well as inoperable vehicles due to malfunctioning idle-stop systems is a potential future safety concern. NHTSA cannot predict the design of these future systems nor the automatic overrides they may include. A manual override requirement would provide a measure of safety until such automatic overrides and their performance tests/criteria could be defined. The majority of commenters did not agree that an idle-stop system manual override was necessary. However, comments did indicate that automatic overrides may be important. Honda has addressed the issue of overriding the idle-stop system in its design of the Insight by preventing the engine from automatically stopping during certain malfunctions with the idle-stop system or during conditions when the idle-stop system would not perform well. Therefore, as a result of these public comments, NHTSA will not include a requirement for a manual override in this final rule. NHTSA will monitor the performance of idle-stop systems as they develop and take action as necessary.

E. Maximum Time Between Brake Pedal Release and Propulsion System Availability

In the NPRM, we sought comments on whether there should be a limit on the time it takes for an ICE to start automatically once the brake pedal reaches the fully released position. We were concerned that as idle-stop systems age, the time interval between brake pedal release and automatic engine start may become excessive. Delays in engine restarting may have safety implications in situations where vehicles are stopped at intersections or railroad crossings and must accelerate quickly to avoid other traffic or emergency vehicles.

Nissan commented that the time required for the propulsion system to be available to move the vehicle after the brake pedal is released may be different depending on the circumstances and on multiple design and performance target factors. For example, starting the vehicle after a traffic signal changes to green, making a right turn through an intersection, turning left through an intersection in front of an oncoming vehicle, accelerating or merging into traffic, and moving slowly through congested traffic, may all require different availability and response times from the propulsion system. Nissan indicated that it would decide the allowable time for such a propulsion system to be available to move the vehicle after the brake pedal is released based on an analysis of safety and performance factors and the expected consumer acceptance of the system. Nissan indicated that the agency should not restrict design choices, but rather should allow manufacturers the flexibility to decide the allowable time for its vehicles.

International recommended that the interval should be no longer than the time it takes the operator to move his foot from the brake to the accelerator. When a driver applies the accelerator, his expectation is that the vehicle will accelerate and any delay has the potential to cause confusion or problems. International stated it is likely that the time between brake pedal release and availability of the propulsion system would be a customer acceptance issue and need not be regulated.

NHTSA notes that although commenters thought that the maximum permitted time between brake pedal release and propulsion system availability should be a consideration during design of idle-stop systems, commenters did not favor including a minimum time requirement in the final rule. Commenters stated their belief that this issue was one of customer acceptance and should be left up to manufacturers. NHTSA acknowledges that such delays are not an issue with the Prius and the Insight and the anticipation of such a problem presents no more risk than a non-HEV that develops a hesitation problem during acceleration. Therefore, NHTSA will not amend the regulatory text to include a minimum time requirement for ICE automatic starting.

F. Leaving FMVSS No. 102 Unchanged and Placing New Requirements in a Separate Standard

International recommended that FMVSS No. 102 remain as is and that a new standard be added that would apply to hybrid-electric vehicles. International stated its belief that trying to incorporate hybrid-electric vehicles within FMVSS No. 102 is "very confusing" and the confusion will be compounded as other types of hybrid vehicles are developed in the future.

While NHTSA has considered this comment, it has decided not to place the requirements for hybrid-electric vehicle propulsion systems in a separate standard at this time. In the NPRM, exceptions were simply added to existing starter interlock requirements for vehicles to clarify that ICEs may automatically stop and start after driver activation. NHTSA believes that the FMVSS No. 102 language in this final rule is straightforward and easy to understand as written. In the future, if further regulation of hybrid/hybrid-electric vehicle propulsion systems becomes necessary and if such regulation should become complex and confusing, NHTSA may then consider efforts to separate and further clarify requirements.

G. Use of the Term "Driver Activation"

DaimlerChrysler commented that the current state-of-the-art and research are still evolving and the term "Driver Activation" in the Executive Summary (at 68 FR 26270) of the NPRM is not clearly defined. The hybrid-electric vehicles mentioned in the NPRM provide the driver with an alternate means of starting the engine without using the ignition key. DaimlerChrysler recommended that we clarify whether starting the engine without using the ignition key falls under the Automatic Activation heading. At the same time DaimlerChrysler believes the safety purposes of FMVSS No. 102 should be preserved.

In response, "driver activation" as used by the agency in this rulemaking, relates to the current state-of-the-art. "Driver activation" distinguishes between the driver's initial turning on of the propulsion system (which may include the starting of the vehicle's ICE) versus the propulsion system's automatic stopping and starting of the ICE, which occurs only after the driver's initial activation. Whatever action it takes for the driver to initially activate the vehicle's propulsion system and place the vehicle in a mode where its propulsion system can operate and move the vehicle is considered "driver activation." Driver activation includes such actions as inserting a key into the ignition and turning it, pushing a starter button, and activating a remote keyless starting system.

In the NPRM, the term "after the driver has activated the vehicle's propulsion system" was used because in hybrid-electric vehicles such as the Toyota Prius, if certain conditions are met (such as the engine is warm, and the batteries are charged), when the driver turns the ignition on and attempts to start the ICE, the ICE may not start because it may not be needed. Even if the ICE is not needed and doesn't start, the driver is still enabling the propulsion system and when the shift position is placed in a drive gear, the electric motor will provide creep force, as well as power the vehicle when the accelerator is depressed. After the driver has activated the vehicle's propulsion system, the ICE may automatically start and stop as needed. NHTSA believes that the wording used in the Executive Summary and the proposed regulatory text accurately describes driver activation and automatic engine starting in hybrid-electric vehicles.

H. "Shift Position" Versus "Shift Lever Position"

Toyota commented that in the NPRM and in FMVSS 102, the terms "position of the lever" and "shift position" are used interchangeably. Toyota believes the more appropriate term is "shift position". Toyota made this comment because advanced technologies have resulted in vehicles with computerized transmissions and electronic shifters such as joysticks. The "position of the lever" for such systems does not always correspond to the "shift position". Therefore, Toyota recommends that the agency ensure the term "shift position" is used in place of the term "position of the lever."

In response, NHTSA agrees with the comment from Toyota. When FMVSS No. 102 was initially written, all transmissions were controlled by mechanically linked shift levers that sequenced serially from one position to the next. If the lever was positioned next to the letter D, the driver knew that the vehicle was in a forward drive gear. Neutral had to be located between Reverse and Drive so that the system would transition through Neutral when changing back and forth between Drive and Reverse. Presently, shift-by-wire technology and electronically controlled transmissions have led to joystick-type shifters where the shifter returns to a resting position after a gear is selected. If the shifter is momentarily pushed to the D position, the transmission shifts to Drive, a Drive telltale light illuminates to let the driver know the transmission is in Drive and the shifter, when released, returns to its rest position. The telltale light, not the shifter position, tells the driver what gear the transmission is in. In such a system, when shifting from Drive to Reverse, the transmission automatically transitions from Drive to Neutral to Reverse.

Such systems are not limited to joysticks. In some systems push buttons and paddle shifters are also used. In all of these cases, the telltale light, not the position of the lever, paddle, or button, tells the driver of the transmission gear. Whether a paddle, lever or button is used for shifting, the transmission must automatically transition through Neutral when going back and forth between Drive and Reverse. Recently, NHTSA issued an interpretation to Lemf'rder Corporation (August 1, 2002) which submitted diagrams of several joystick sequences. The interpretation evaluated these sequences and discussed whether or not they were in compliance with the sequence requirements of FMVSS No. 102. NHTSA believes that in view of present and emerging shift selection technology, it would be more accurate if the amended portions of FMVSS No. 102 addressed "shift position" rather than "shift lever position." The title of FMVSS No. 102 is also amended to read: "Transmission shift position sequence, starter interlock, and transmission braking effect." Portions of the standard that specifically refer to systems with shift levers (S3.1.1.1) will remain as written.

I. Clarification of When the ICE May Stop and Start

Comments from Denso requested clarification of exclusions for the starter interlock requirements as they appear in the regulatory text of the NPRM. Denso indicated that NHTSA's NPRM prescribes conditions under which a vehicle engine may stop and restart automatically when the transmission shift lever is in a forward or reverse drive position, as exclusions to the general starter interlock requirements (S 4.1.3 of the NPRM). Denso stated its belief that the proposed amendment means that the exclusions permit the engine to "stop and restart" automatically when the transmission shift lever is kept in a forward position (without shifting the lever from the forward position to a reverse position) in S4.1.3.1, or while the lever is kept in a reverse position (without shifting the lever from the reverse position to a forward position) in S4.1.3.2.

However, Denso stated that in actual driving conditions and depending on system design, the shift lever need not always be in the same position when the engine stops and restarts. For example, the engine may automatically stop when the transmission shift lever is in a forward position and then automatically restart after the lever has been shifted from the forward position to a reverse position. Similarly, the engine may automatically stop when the transmission shift lever is in a reverse position and then automatically restart after the lever has been shifted from the reverse position to a forward position. Denso commented that in the latter two cases, it is not clear that either S4.1.3.1 or S4.1.3.2 should be applied. Denso further stated that it is not clear whether the engine in the two cases is permitted to automatically restart. Therefore, Denso requested that NHTSA review the exclusions to S4.1.3 to clarify its application, considering all transmission shift lever positions.

Denso also commented that S4.1.3.2 of the NPRM would require vehicles having an automatic engine stop/start feature that operates when the vehicle is in reverse gear to meet creep force requirements whenever the transmission shift lever is in a reverse position and requires manufacturers to demonstrate compliance with the creep force requirements by testing the vehicle with the engine stopped. Denso submitted a Table "Examples of Engine/Motor Operation flow when the Transmission Shift Lever is in a Reverse Position" (the Table) which provides examples of possible automatic engine and motor operation flow³ for hybrid-electric vehicles (HEVs) and internal combustion engine only vehicles (ICEVs). Denso indicated that the operational status of the engine and the motor when the transmission shift lever is shifted to the reverse position and when the brake pedal is partially/fully released are classified into "motor operation only", "engine operation only", and "simultaneous motor and engine operation". Denso commented that it is not clear how the proposed rule would be applied to the scenarios, which are shown in the Table and asked NHTSA to clarify how the proposed rule will apply to each case. The Table appears in Denso's comments in DOT Docket No. NHTSA-2003-14907-9.

Denso also asked that regarding the creep force compliance test, according to the Table, the systems that operate by automatically restarting the engine on and before the brake pedal is fully released (scenarios numbers 6 to 8, 11, 12, Nos.13 to 18, Nos. 20 to 22 in the Table) cannot be tested to justify the compliance with the creep force requirement; because it appears that these systems cannot achieve the engine stopped condition specified in S4.1.3.2. Denso wanted advice as to what test procedures would apply to these cases. Denso stated its belief that NHTSA's intent for requiring the creep force is to warn driver of what gear the vehicle is engaged in and asked NHTSA to state the rule more clearly and to address the cases listed in the Table. Moreover,

Denso urged NHTSA not to unnecessarily restrict future developments of stop/start technologies.

In response, NHTSA notes that the new language in this final rule states that after the driver has activated the vehicle's propulsion system, the engine may stop and restart automatically when the transmission shift position is in any forward drive gear. When the transmission shift position is in reverse gear, this final rule permits the engine to restart automatically if two conditions are satisfied. Both conditions apply to the situation where the engine is automatically stopped in a forward drive shift position and the driver selects Reverse. The first condition is that the engine must restart immediately when the service brake is applied. The second condition is that the engine does not start automatically if the service brake is not applied. The final rule also provides that the engine may stop and start anytime after the driver has activated the vehicle's propulsion system if the vehicle's propulsion system can propel the vehicle in the normal travel mode in all forward and reverse drive gears without the engine operating and if the engine automatically starts while the vehicle is traveling at a steady speed and a steady accelerator control setting, the engine does not cause the vehicle to accelerate.

The final rule language permits a vehicle like the Insight to automatically stop and start the engine in forward gears; however, when the driver selects Reverse, the engine must start and remain running in Reverse. The final rule language also permits vehicles like the Prius to allow its engine to automatically start and stop anytime after driver activation of the propulsion system. The Prius engine may stop in a forward gear and restart in Reverse or may stop while in Reverse and restart in a forward gear.

Denso asked us to clarify how the proposed rule would apply to each of the scenarios in the Table. Each scenario describes the status of the ICE, electric motor, brake pedal and accelerator while the shift position is in Reverse. Denso also asked that we comment and/or clarify how scenarios numbers 6,7,8,11,12,13,14,15,16,17,18,20,21,22 would be tested using the test procedure described in S5 of the NPRM.

The new language that appears in this final rule does not use creep force to distinguish between types of hybrid vehicles and does not include a test for minimum creep force. Therefore, any concerns about how certain scenarios would be tested for minimum creep force are now moot.

J. Other Issues Raised in Response to the NPRM

The following five issues were also raised in response to the NPRM.

1. Minimum Creep Force Value of 1.5 Percent of GVWR—DaimlerChrysler commented that the creep force ratio defined as .015 (creep force/GVWR) is a good starting point. Ford commented that there is not enough data to support the specific minimum value of creep force proposed. NYCT expressed concern about the proposal to require a creep force of at least 1.5 percent of GVWR, as Table 1 of the NPRM did not include data from any commercial vehicles.

2. Applicability of the Phrase “Brake Pedal Released” to Air Brakes—International commented that air brake systems have different operating characteristics than do hydraulic brake systems. Statements in S4.1.3.2 of the NPRM such as “before the brake pedal is released” and “with the brake pedal released” have a different interpretation when addressing a vehicle with hydraulic versus air brakes. International also stated that S5.1.7 needs more detail. International asked if the system passes if the device registers in the last .001 inch of pedal movement. International stated that a better test may define this in terms of creep force being present at certain points in the pedal travel or at pedal forces less than a certain value.

3. Requiring Creep Force in Reverse When the ICE Is Both “On” and “Off”—International commented that the creep force requirement in reverse gear should apply if the engine is on or off. If a vehicle sits in Reverse for a long time, the engine may start up to recharge the battery or to run the heating and air conditioning systems. Confusion may occur if the driver assumes the vehicle is in a forward gear because the engine is running. Therefore International recommends removing the reference to the state of the combustion engine in the definition of Creep Force (S3) and rewriting S5.1.7 to include testing with the engine off and with the engine on.

4. Use of the Term “Electric Motor” in the Regulatory Text—International indicated that references to an electric motor in the definition of “creep force” (S3) of the NPRM exclude future technologies and will require a change to the regulation with each new technology introduced.

5. Use of the Term “Battery” in the Regulatory Text—International commented that the reference to the word “battery” in S5.1.2 of the NPRM should differentiate between the starter battery and the propulsion battery (propulsion energy storage system). A 95 percent charge for the starter battery is satisfactory. A suggested state of charge for the propulsion battery is its nominal low limit.

NHTSA notes that these five issues were raised in response to NPRM language that proposed to specify and regulate creep force. This final rule removes the use of creep force to distinguish between the two types of hybrid-electric vehicles and removes the performance test for creep force. New language makes the same distinction between the same vehicles with substantially similar language, but in a simpler manner. The new language creates no problems for vehicles equipped with air brakes. In view of the new language that appears in this final rule, the five series of comments addressing creep force issues are no longer applicable.

V. Final Rule

In the NPRM, we proposed to limit the operation of idle-stop systems to forward gears in order to minimize the possibility of vehicle crashes resulting from shifting errors. In an idle-stop equipped vehicle, if the engine is stopped and the driver has mistakenly placed the vehicle in Reverse, there is no cue from creep force and the shifting error may not be realized until the accelerator pedal is pressed and the engine automatically restarts. When the driver presses the accelerator, he may be surprised when the vehicle accelerates rearward rather than forward. Such situations can cause property damage, as well as, injuries and deaths to pedestrians. Allowing idle-stop systems to operate only in forward gears has fewer ramifications, as the driver will learn to associate automatic engine stopping and starting with forward motion.

However, amending Standard 102 to prohibit all vehicles, including hybrid-electric vehicles, from automatically stopping and starting the engine in Reverse would have no safety purpose for a vehicle like the Prius in which engine starting has no effect on its low speed operation. Therefore, a distinction should be made between the two types of hybrid vehicles. In the NPRM, the agency attempted to distinguish between these two types of hybrid-electric vehicles (electric motor-powered vehicle assisted by an ICE (such as the Prius) vs. the ICE-powered vehicle assisted by an electric motor (such as the Insight)) by requiring vehicles that allow its ICE to automatically stop and start in Reverse to exhibit creep force in Reverse when the engine is stopped. The Insight does not stop the engine in Reverse and if the engine is automatically stopped in a forward gear, it starts immediately when Reverse is selected and the service brake is applied. The Prius exhibits creep force in reverse with its ICE stopped and therefore, the requirement permitted both hybrid vehicle designs while limiting the operation of idle-stop systems for conventional vehicles to forward gears only.

Public comments to the NPRM questioned the validity of specifying creep force, raising questions as to conditions under which creep force should be exhibited, and how the proposed amendment would apply to series hybrid-electric systems.⁴ Because solutions to the issues raised by public comments would increase the complexity of the regulatory language, we began to consider alternatives that would meet the same objectives that we sought in the NPRM.

A refined, simpler approach was developed and appears in this final rule. This approach makes the same distinction between vehicles as does the NPRM and produces a substantially similar outcome. This final rule generally requires that the engine starter be inoperative when the transmission shift position is in a forward or reverse drive position. However, after the driver has activated the vehicle propulsion system, the engine may stop and start automatically when the transmission shift position is in any forward drive gear. The rule prohibits the engine from automatically stopping in reverse gear. When the engine is automatically stopped in a forward drive shift position and the driver selects Reverse, this final rule permits the engine to restart automatically in Reverse if two conditions are satisfied. The first condition is that the engine must restart immediately whenever the service brake is applied. The second condition is that the engine does not start automatically if the service brake is not applied.

A second exception applies to vehicles like the Prius where unrestricted engine starting introduces no safety issues. The final rule specifies that the engine may automatically stop and start anytime after the driver has activated the vehicle's propulsion system if the vehicle's propulsion system can propel the vehicle in its normal travel mode in all forward and reverse drive gears without the engine operating, and if the engine automatically starts while the vehicle is traveling at a steady speed and a steady accelerator control setting, the engine does not cause the vehicle to accelerate. This new wording makes a distinction between two types of hybrid vehicles (Insight and Prius) as does the NPRM. The final rule permits the idle-stop feature to operate in forward gears for any vehicle but prohibits it from functioning in Reverse unless the vehicle has special characteristics that are specified in simple language. If the engine on an idle-stop equipped vehicle is stopped in a forward gear and the shift position is changed to Reverse, it requires the brake to be depressed before the engine starts. Therefore, if Reverse is selected by mistake, the driver's foot is on the brake and he or she is prepared to stop the vehicle. It also allows for vehicles like the Prius, which behaves like a conventional ICE/automatic transmission equipped vehicle no matter what the status of the ICE. Therefore, this different approach that appears in this final rule makes the same distinction between the same vehicles as does the NPRM and achieves an outcome substantially similar to that in the NPRM but in a simpler manner. The approach in the final rule permits the designs of the Insight and the Prius for which the original interpretations were written. The final rule also permits the designs used on the hybrid-electric Civic, Accord and the redesigned Prius, as well as series hybrid-electric systems used in heavy vehicles such as buses. The final rule imposes no burden on manufacturers of current hybrid vehicles, and allows for flexibility in future designs. Finally, this final rule does not compromise the original safety intent of Standard 102.

VI. Statutory Bases for the Final Rule

We have issued this final rule pursuant to our statutory authority. Under 49 U.S.C. Chapter 301, Motor Vehicle Safety (49 U.S.C. 30101 et seq.), the Secretary of Transportation is responsible for prescribing motor vehicle safety standards that are practicable, meet the need for motor vehicle safety, and are stated in objective terms. 49 U.S.C. 30111(a). When prescribing such standards, the Secretary must consider all relevant, available motor vehicle safety information. 49 U.S.C. 30111(b). The Secretary must also consider whether a proposed standard is reasonable, practicable, and appropriate for the type of motor vehicle or motor vehicle equipment for which it is prescribed and the extent to which the standard will further the statutory purpose of reducing traffic accidents and deaths and injuries resulting from traffic accidents. Id. Responsibility for promulgation of Federal motor vehicle safety standards was subsequently delegated to NHTSA. 49 U.S.C. 105 and 322; delegation of authority at 49 CFR 1.50.

As a Federal agency, before promulgating changes to a Federal motor vehicle safety standard, NHTSA also has a statutory responsibility to follow the informal rulemaking procedures mandated in the Administrative Procedure Act at 5 U.S.C. Section 553. Among these requirements are Federal Register publication of a general notice of proposed rulemaking, and giving interested persons an opportunity to participate in the rulemaking through submission of written data, views or arguments. After consideration of the public comments, we must incorporate into the rules adopted, a concise general statement of the rule's basis and purpose.

The agency has carefully considered these statutory requirements in promulgating this final rule to amend FMVSS No. 102. As previously discussed in detail, we have solicited public comment in an NPRM and have carefully considered the public comments before issuing this final rule. As a result, we believe that this final rule reflects consideration of all relevant available motor vehicle safety information. Consideration of all these statutory factors has resulted in the following decisions in this final rule.

In the NPRM, we proposed to limit the operation of idle-stop systems to forward gears in order to minimize the possibility of vehicle crashes resulting from shifting errors. In an idle-stop equipped vehicle, if the engine is stopped and the driver has mistakenly placed the vehicle in Reverse, there is no cue from creep force and the shifting error may not be realized until the accelerator pedal is pressed and the engine automatically restarts. When the driver presses the accelerator, he may be surprised when the vehicle accelerates rearward rather than forward. Such situations can cause property damage, as well as, injuries and deaths to pedestrians. Allowing idle-stop systems to operate only in forward gears has fewer ramifications, as the driver will learn to associate automatic engine stopping and starting with forward motion.

However, amending Standard 102 to prohibit all vehicles, including hybrid-electric vehicles, from automatically stopping and starting the engine in Reverse would have no safety purpose for a vehicle like the Prius in which engine starting has no effect on its low speed operation. Therefore, we decided to make a distinction between the two types of hybrid vehicles. In the NPRM, the agency attempted to distinguish between these two types of hybrid-electric vehicles (idle-stop/Insight and the Prius) by requiring vehicles that allow its ICE to automatically stop and start in Reverse to exhibit creep force in Reverse when the engine is stopped. The Insight does not stop the engine in Reverse and if the engine is automatically stopped in a forward gear, it starts immediately when Reverse is selected and the service brake is applied. The Prius exhibits creep force in reverse with its ICE stopped and therefore, the requirement permitted both hybrid vehicle designs while limiting the operation of idle-stop systems for conventional vehicles to forward gears only.

Public comments to the NPRM questioned the validity of specifying creep force, raising questions as to conditions under which creep force should be exhibited, and how the proposed amendment would apply to series hybrid-electric systems. Because solutions to the issues raised by public comments would increase the complexity of the proposed amendment, we began to consider alternatives that would meet the same objectives that we sought in the NPRM.

A new and simpler approach was developed and appears in this final rule. This new approach makes the same distinction between the same vehicles as does the NPRM and produces a substantially similar outcome. This final rule amends FMVSS No. 102 to require that the engine starter be inoperative when the transmission shift position is in a forward or reverse drive position. With respect to vehicles with automatic transmissions, the rule permits, after activation of the vehicle's propulsion system by the driver, the engine to stop and restart automatically when the transmission shift position is in any forward drive gear. The rule prohibits the engine from automatically stopping in reverse gear. When the engine is automatically stopped in a forward drive shift position and the driver selects Reverse, this final rule permits the engine to restart automatically in Reverse if two conditions are satisfied. The first condition is that the engine must restart immediately whenever the service brake is applied. The second condition is that the engine does not start automatically if the service brake is not applied.

no safety issues. The final rule specifies that the engine may automatically stop and start anytime after the driver has activated the vehicle's propulsion system if the vehicle's propulsion system can propel the vehicle in its normal travel mode in all forward and reverse drive gears without the engine operating, and if the engine automatically starts while the vehicle is traveling at a steady speed and a steady accelerator control setting, the engine does not cause the vehicle to accelerate. This new wording makes a distinction between two types of hybrid vehicles (Insight and Prius) as did the NPRM. The final rule permits the idle-stop feature to operate in forward gears for any vehicle but prohibits it from functioning in Reverse unless the vehicle has special characteristics that are specified in simple language. If the engine on an idle-stop equipped vehicle is stopped in a forward gear and the shift position is changed to Reverse, it requires the brake to be depressed before the engine starts. Therefore, if Reverse is selected by mistake, the driver's foot is on the brake and he or she is prepared to stop the vehicle. It also allows for vehicles like the Prius, which behaves like a conventional ICE/automatic transmission equipped vehicle no matter what the status of the ICE. Therefore, this different approach that appears in this final rule makes the same distinction between the same vehicles as does the NPRM and achieves an outcome identical to that in the NPRM but in a simpler manner. The approach in the final rule permits the designs of the Insight and the Prius for which the original interpretations were written. The final rule also permits the designs used on the hybrid-electric Civic, Accord and the redesigned Prius, as well as series hybrid-electric systems used in heavy vehicles such as buses. The final rule imposes no burden on manufacturers of current hybrid vehicles, and allows for flexibility in future designs. Finally, this final rule does not compromise the original safety intent of Standard 102.

As indicated, we have thoroughly reviewed the public comments and amended the final rule to reflect the comments. In the few instances where we did not adopt a comment, we explain why we did not adopt the comment. In most instances, the comments addressed the creep force proposal in the NPRM, which were not adopted in the final rule. These comments were thus made moot. We believe that this final rule, which facilitates the development of propulsion systems, such as hybrid/electric systems, that conserve energy and reduce emissions by stopping the internal combustion engine when it is not needed, meets the need for safety.

VII. Effective Date

AHAS concurred with the NPRM's proposed effective date, which is the first September 1st that occurs 2 years after the publication date of the final rule. International recommended that the proposed changes in the NPRM be applicable only to vehicles with a GVWR less than 10,000 lbs. It stated that if NHTSA does not grant this request, then it requests a much longer lead-time (4 years) for the heavier vehicles. A longer lead time would allow time for further development of these vehicles and also allow time for rule changes if the proposed requirements are not applicable. DaimlerChrysler commented that since we are operating under interpretations, they would like to see an effective date of less than 2 years after publication of the final rule.

In response, NHTSA notes that the new language of the final rule removes any conflicts that existed between current hybrid systems on vehicles with GVWRs greater than 10,000 pounds and the proposed language that appeared in the NPRM. The language in the final rule does not conflict with series hybrid-electric systems usually found on large buses. The final rule language eliminates the test for creep force, distinguishes between the same types of vehicles (i.e., Insight versus Prius) and yields an outcome that is substantially similar to the language in the NPRM. The final rule does not impose any burden on manufacturers, does not cause redesign of current vehicles and does not restrict the development of new technology. Additionally, the final rule establishes in FMVSS No. 102, the interpretations provided for Toyota (1999) and Honda (2001).

For these reasons, and because it is important to expeditiously clarify how the start interlock requirements apply to vehicles incorporating emerging technologies, NHTSA wishes to minimize any delay in the implementation of the final rule. This final rule takes effect 180 days (approximately 6 months) after publication. NHTSA's statute at 49 U.S.C. Section 30111(d) Effective dates of standards states:

[NHTSA] shall specify the effective date of a motor vehicle safety standard prescribed under this chapter [49 USCS §§ 301 et seq.] in the order prescribing the standard. A standard may not become effective before the 180th day after the standard is prescribed or later than one year after it is prescribed

VIII. Regulatory Analyses and Notices

A. Executive Order 12866 and DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures

Executive Order 12866, "Regulatory Planning and Review" (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), provides for making determinations whether a regulatory action is "significant" and therefore subject to Office of Management and Budget (OMB) review and to the requirements of the Executive Order. The Order defines a "significant regulatory action" as one that is likely to result in a rule that may:

(1) Have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more or adversely affect in a material way the economy, a sector of the economy, productivity, competition, jobs, the environment, public health or safety, or State, local, or Tribal governments or communities;

(2) Create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency;

(3) Materially alter the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; or

(4) Raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President's priorities, or the principles set forth in the Executive Order.

We have considered the impact of this rulemaking action under Executive Order 12866 and the Department of Transportation's regulatory policies and procedures. This rulemaking document was not reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget under E.O. 12866, "Regulatory Planning and Review." The rulemaking action is also not considered to be significant under the Department's Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979).

We are revising FMVSS No. 102, Transmission shift position sequence, starter interlock, and transmission braking effect, to clarify how it applies to vehicles with emerging technologies. The amendments do not require changes to current vehicles, and the impacts are so minimal that a full regulatory evaluation has not been prepared.

B. Executive Order 13132 (Federalism)

Executive Order 13132 requires us to develop an accountable process to ensure "meaningful and timely input by State and local officials in the development of regulatory policies that have federalism implications." "Policies that have federalism implications" is defined in the Executive Order to include regulations that have "substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.” Under Executive Order 13132, we may not issue a regulation with Federalism implications, that imposes substantial direct compliance costs, and that is not required by statute, unless the Federal government provides the funds necessary to pay the direct compliance costs incurred by State and local governments, or unless we consult with State and local governments, or unless we consult with State and local officials early in the process of developing the proposed regulation. We also may not issue a regulation with Federalism implications and that preempts State law unless we consult with State and local officials early in the process of developing the proposed regulation.

This rule will not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132. The reason is that this final rule applies to motor vehicle manufacturers, and not to the States or local governments. Thus, the requirements of Section 6 of the Executive Order do not apply.

C. Executive Order 13045 (Economically Significant Rules Disproportionately Affecting Children)

Executive Order 13045 (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997) applies to any rule that: (1) Is determined to be “economically significant” as defined under E.O. 12866, and (2) concerns an environmental, health or safety risk that NHTSA has reason to believe may have a disproportionate effect on children. If the regulatory action meets both criteria, we must evaluate the environmental health or safety effects of the rule on children, and explain why the regulation is preferable to other potentially effective and reasonably feasible alternatives considered by us.

This rule is not subject to the Executive Order because it is not economically significant as defined in E.O. 12866 and does not involve decisions based on environmental, health or safety risks that disproportionately affect children.

D. Executive Order 12988 (Civil Justice Reform)

Pursuant to Executive Order 12988, “Civil Justice Reform,” we have considered whether this rule has any retroactive or preemptive effect. We conclude that it would not have any retroactive effect. Under 49 U.S.C. 30103, whenever a Federal motor vehicle safety standard is in effect, a State may not adopt or maintain a safety standard applicable to the same aspect of performance which is not identical to the Federal standard, except to the extent that the state requirement imposes a higher level of performance and applies only to vehicles procured for the State’s use. 49 U.S.C. 30161 sets forth a procedure for judicial review of final rules establishing, amending or revoking Federal motor vehicle safety standards. That section does not require submission of a petition for reconsideration or other administrative proceedings before parties may file suit in court.

E. Regulatory Flexibility Act

Pursuant to the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., as amended by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act (SBREFA) of 1996) whenever an agency is required to publish a notice of rulemaking for any proposed or final rule, it must prepare and make available for public comment a regulatory flexibility analysis that describes the effect of the rule on small entities (i.e., small businesses, small organizations, and small governmental jurisdictions). However, no regulatory flexibility analysis is required if the head of an agency certifies the rule would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. SBREFA amended the Regulatory Flexibility Act to require Federal agencies to provide a statement of the factual basis for certifying that a rule would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

The Administrator has considered the effects of this rulemaking action under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) and certifies that this final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The statement of the factual basis for the certification is that since this rulemaking makes no substantive changes in the scope of FMVSS No. 102, small manufacturers of passenger cars, multipurpose passenger vehicles, trucks or buses need not make any changes in vehicle manufacturing processes or procedures to ensure that their vehicles meet an amended FMVSS No. 102. Accordingly, the agency concludes that this final rule does not affect the costs of motor vehicle manufacturers considered to be small business entities.

F. National Environmental Policy Act

We have analyzed this rule for the purposes of the National Environmental Policy Act and determined that it would not have any significant impact on the quality of the human environment.

G. Paperwork Reduction Act

NHTSA has determined that this final rule will not impose any “collection of information” burdens on the public, within the meaning of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA). This rulemaking action does not impose any filing or recordkeeping requirements on any manufacturer or any other party. For this reason, we discuss neither electronic filing and recordkeeping nor do we discuss a fully electronic reporting option.

H. National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act

Section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (NTTAA), Pub. L. 104–113, section 12(d) (15 U.S.C. 272) directs us to use voluntary consensus standards in our regulatory activities unless doing so would be inconsistent with applicable law or otherwise impractical. Voluntary consensus standards are technical standards (e.g., materials specifications, test methods, sampling procedures, and business practices) that are developed or adopted by voluntary consensus standards bodies, such as the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE). The NTTAA directs us to provide Congress, through OMB, explanations when we decide not to use available and applicable voluntary consensus standards.

After conducting a search of available sources (including data from International Organization of Standards or other standards bodies), we have determined that there are not any available and applicable voluntary consensus standards that we can use in this final rule.

I. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

Section 202 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (UMRA) requires Federal agencies to prepare a written assessment of the costs, benefits and other effects of proposed or final rules that include a Federal mandate likely to result in the expenditure by State, local or tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of more than $100 million in any one year (adjusted for inflation with base year of 1995). Before promulgating a NHTSA rule for which a written statement is needed, section 205 of the UMRA generally requires us to identify and consider a reasonable number of regulatory alternatives and adopt the least costly, most cost-effective or least burdensome alternative that achieves the objectives of the rule. The provisions of section 205 do not apply when they are inconsistent with applicable law. Moreover, section 205 allows us to adopt an alternative other than the least costly, most cost-effective or least burdensome alternative if we publish with the final rule an explanation why that alternative was not adopted.

This final rule will not result in costs of $100 million or more to either State, local, or tribal governments, in the aggregate, or to the private sector. Thus, this rule is not subject to the requirements of sections 202 and 205 of the UMRA.

J. Plain Language

Executive Order 12866 requires each agency to write all rules in plain language. Application of the principles of plain language includes consideration of the following questions:

- Have we organized the material to suit the public's needs?
- Are the requirements in the rule clearly stated?
- Does the rule contain technical language or jargon that is not clear?
- Would a different format (grouping and order of sections, use of headings, paragraphing) make the rule easier to understand?
- Would more (but shorter) sections be better?
- Could we improve clarity by adding tables, lists, or diagrams?
- What else could we do to make this rulemaking easier to understand?

If you have any responses to these questions, please include them in your comments to the docket number cited in the heading of this final rule.

K. Regulation Identifier Number (RIN)

The Department of Transportation assigns a regulation identifier number (RIN) to each regulatory action listed in the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations. The Regulatory Information Service Center publishes the Unified Agenda in April and October of each year. You may use the RIN contained in the heading at the beginning of this document to find this action in the Unified Agenda.

■ In consideration of the foregoing, the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards (49 CFR Part 571), are amended as set forth below.

PART 571—FEDERAL MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY STANDARDS

■ 1. The authority citation for part 571 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 322, 30111, 30115, 30117, and 30166; delegation of authority at 49 CFR 1.50.

■ 2. Section 571.102 is revised to read as follows:

§ 571.102 Standard No. 102; Transmission shift position sequence, starter interlock, and transmission braking effect.

S1. Purpose and scope. This standard specifies the requirements for the transmission shift position sequence, a starter interlock, and for a braking effect of automatic transmissions, to reduce the likelihood of shifting errors, to prevent starter engagement by the driver when the transmission is in any drive position, and to provide supplemental braking at speeds below 40 kilometers per hour (25 miles per hour).

S2. Application. This standard applies to passenger cars, multi-purpose passenger vehicles, trucks, and buses.

S3. Requirements.

S3.1 Automatic transmissions.

S3.1.1 Location of transmission shift positions on passenger cars. A neutral position shall be located between forward drive and reverse drive positions.

S3.1.1.1 Transmission shift levers. If a steering-column-mounted transmission shift lever is used, movement from neutral position to forward drive position shall be clockwise. If the transmission shift lever sequence includes a park position, it shall be located at the end, adjacent to the reverse drive position.

S3.1.2 Transmission braking effect. In vehicles having more than one forward transmission gear ratio, one forward drive position shall provide a greater degree of engine braking than the highest speed transmission ratio at vehicle speeds below 40 kilometers per hour (25 miles per hour).

S3.1.3 Starter interlock. Except as provided in S3.1.3.1 through S3.1.3.3, the engine starter shall be inoperative when the transmission shift position is in a forward or reverse drive position.

S3.1.3.1 After the driver has activated the vehicle's propulsion system:

(a) The engine may stop and restart automatically when the transmission shift position is in any forward drive gear;

(b) The engine may not automatically stop when the transmission is in reverse gear; and

(c) The engine may automatically restart in reverse gear only if the vehicle satisfies (1) and (2):

(1) When the engine is automatically stopped in a forward drive shift position and the driver selects Reverse, the engine restarts immediately whenever the service brake is applied.

(2) When the engine is automatically stopped in a forward drive shift position and the driver selects Reverse, the engine does not start automatically if the service brake is not applied.

S3.1.3.2 Notwithstanding S3.1.3.1, the engine may stop and start at any time after the driver has activated the vehicle's propulsion system if:

(a) The vehicle's propulsion system can propel the vehicle in the normal travel mode in all forward and reverse drive gears without the engine operating, and

(b) If the engine automatically starts while the vehicle is traveling at a steady speed and steady accelerator control setting, the engine does not cause the vehicle to accelerate.

S3.1.3.3 If the transmission shift position is in Park, automatically stopping or restarting the engine shall not take the transmission out of Park.

S3.1.4 Identification of shift positions and of shift position sequence.

S3.1.4.1 Except as specified in S3.1.4.3, if the transmission shift position sequence includes a park position, identification of shift positions, including the positions in relation to each other and the position selected, shall be displayed in view of the driver whenever any of the following conditions exist:

(a) The ignition is in a position where the transmission can be shifted; or

(b) The transmission is not in park.

S3.1.4.2 Except as specified in S3.1.4.3, if the transmission shift position sequence does not include a park position, identification of shift positions, including the positions in relation to each other and the position selected, shall be displayed in view of the driver whenever the ignition is in a position in which the engine is capable of operation.

S3.1.4.3 Such information need not be displayed when the ignition is in a position that is used only to start the vehicle.

S3.1.4.4 All of the information required to be displayed by S3.1.4.1 or S3.1.4.2 shall be displayed in view of the driver in a single location. At the option of the manufacturer, redundant displays providing some or all of the information may be provided.

S3.2 Manual transmissions.

Identification of the shift lever pattern of manual transmissions, except three forward speed manual transmissions having the standard "H" pattern, shall be displayed in view of the driver at all times when a driver is present in the driver's seating position.

[Docket No. 041126332-5039-02; I.D. 062705A]

Fisheries of the Exclusive Economic Zone Off Alaska; Rock Sole in the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands Management Area

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Temporary rule; closure.

SUMMARY: NMFS is prohibiting directed fishing for rock sole in the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands management area (BSAI). This action is necessary to prevent exceeding the 2005 rock sole total allowable catch (TAC) in the BSAI.

DATES: Effective 1200 hrs, Alaska local time (A.l.t.), July 5, 2005, through 2400 hrs, A.l.t., December 31, 2005.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Josh Keaton, 907-586-7228.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: NMFS manages the groundfish fishery in the BSAI according to the Fishery Management Plan for Groundfish of the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands Management Area (FMP) prepared by the North Pacific Fishery Management Council under authority of the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act. Regulations governing fishing by U.S. vessels in accordance with the FMP appear at subpart H of 50 CFR part 600 and 50 CFR part 679.

The 2005 rock sole TAC in the BSAI is 35,275 metric tons (mt) as established by the 2005 and 2006 final harvest specifications for groundfish in the BSAI (70 FR 8979, February 24, 2005).

In accordance with § 679.20(d)(1)(i), the Administrator, Alaska Region, NMFS, has determined that the 2005 rock sole TAC in the BSAI will soon be reached. Therefore, the Regional Administrator is establishing a directed fishing allowance of 33,275 mt, and is setting aside the remaining 2,000 mt as bycatch to support other anticipated groundfish fisheries. In accordance with § 679.20(d)(1)(iii), the Regional Administrator finds that this directed fishing allowance has been reached. Consequently, NMFS is prohibiting directed fishing for rock sole in the BSAI.

After the effective date of this closure the maximum retainable amounts at §§ 679.20(e) and (f) apply at any time during a trip.

Classification

This action responds to the best available information recently obtained from the fishery. The Assistant Administrator for Fisheries, NOAA (AA), finds good cause to waive the requirement to provide prior notice and opportunity for public comment pursuant to the authority set forth at 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B) as such requirement is impracticable and contrary to the public interest. This requirement is impracticable and contrary to the public interest as it would prevent NMFS from responding to the most recent fisheries data in a timely fashion and would delay the closure of rock sole in the BSAI.

The AA also finds good cause to waive the 30-day delay in the effective date of this action under 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3). This finding is based upon the reasons provided above for waiver of prior notice and opportunity for public comment.

This action is required by § 679.20 and is exempt from review under Executive Order 12866.

Dated: June 27, 2005.

Proposed Establishment of Area Navigation Instrument Flight Rules Terminal Transition Routes (RITTR); Jacksonville, FL

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM).

SUMMARY: This action proposes to establish seven Area Navigation Instrument Flight Rules Terminal Transition Routes (RITTR) in the Jacksonville, FL, terminal area. RITTRs are low altitude Air Traffic Service routes, based on Area Navigation (RNAV), for use by aircraft having instrument flight rules (IFR)-approved Global Positioning System (GPS)/Global Navigation Satellite System (GNSS) equipment. The purpose of RITTR is to expedite the handling of IFR overflight aircraft through busy terminal airspace areas. The FAA is proposing this action to enhance the safe and efficient use of the navigable airspace in the Jacksonville, FL, terminal area.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before August 15, 2005.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on this proposal to the Docket Management System, U.S. Department of Transportation, Room Plaza 401, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, DC 20590-0001. You must identify FAA Docket No. FAA-2005-21694 and Airspace Docket No. 04-ASO-16, at the beginning of your comments. You may also submit comments through the Internet at <http://dms.dot.gov>.

Background

In March 2000, the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association (AOPA) requested that the FAA take action to develop and chart IFR RNAV airways for use by aircraft having IFR-approved GPS equipment. Due to the density of air traffic in some areas, en route aircraft are not always able to fly on the existing Federal airway structure when transiting congested terminal airspace. In such cases, air traffic control (ATC) is often required to provide vectors to reroute aircraft transitioning through the area to avoid the heavy flow of arriving and departing aircraft. AOPA stated that RNAV airways should facilitate more direct routings than are possible with the current Federal airway structure and should provide pilots with easier access through terminal airspace. In addition, AOPA encouraged the expanded use of RNAV airways throughout the National Airspace System (NAS).

In response to the AOPA request, a cooperative effort was launched involving the FAA, AOPA, and the Government/Industry Aeronautical Charting Forum. This effort began with the development of RNAV routes to provide more direct routing for en route IFR aircraft to transition through busy terminal airspace areas. This notice proposes to establish seven charted RITTRs for the Jacksonville, FL, terminal area. The RITTRs proposed in this notice would be depicted on the appropriate low altitude IFR en route chart(s).

RITTR Objective

The objective of the RITTR program is to enhance the expeditious movement of suitably equipped IFR aircraft around or through congested terminal airspace using IFR-approved RNAV equipment. RITTRs would enhance the ability of pilots to navigate through the area without reliance on ground-based navigation aids or ATC radar vectors. To facilitate this goal, and reduce ATC workload, RITTR routes would be designed based on the tracks routinely used by ATC to vector aircraft through or around the affected terminal area. Additionally, the routes begin and terminate at fixes or Navigational Aids located along existing VOR Federal airways in order to provide connectivity with the low-altitude en route structure. Initially, only GNSS-equipped aircraft capable of filing flight plan equipment suffix “/G” would be able to use RITTRs.

RITTR Identification and Charting

RITTRs are identified by the letter “T” prefix, followed by a three digit number. The “T” prefix is one of several International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) designators used to identify domestic RNAV routes. ICAO has allocated to the FAA the letter “T” prefix, along with the number block 200 to 500, for this purpose.

RITTRs would be depicted in blue on the appropriate IFR en route low altitude chart(s). Each route depiction would include a GNSS Minimum En route Altitude (MEA) to ensure obstacle clearance and communications reception.

The FAA plans to publish information about the RITTR program in the Aeronautical Information Manual (AIM) and the Notices to Airmen Publication (NTAP). In addition, a Charting Notice would be issued by the FAA’s National Aeronautical Charting Office to explain the charting changes associated with the RITTRs.

Related Rulemaking

On April 8, 2003, the FAA published a final rule, request for comments, entitled Designation of Class A, B, C, D, and E Airspace Areas; Air Traffic Service Routes, and Reporting Points, in the Federal Register (68 FR 16943). This rule adopted certain amendments proposed in NoticeNo. 02–20, RNAV and Miscellaneous Amendments. This rule revised and adopted several definitions in FAA regulations, including Air Traffic Service Routes, to be in concert with ICAO definitions. Additionally, the final rule reorganized the structure of FAA regulations concerning the designation of Class A, B, C, D, and E airspace areas, airways, routes, and reporting points. The rule was designed to facilitate the establishment of RNAV routes in the National Airspace System for use by aircraft with advanced navigation system capabilities.

The Proposal

The FAA is proposing to amend Title 14 Code of Federal Regulations (14 CFR) part 71 to establish seven RITTRs in the Jacksonville, FL, terminal area. The routes would be designated T–204, T–205, T–206, T–207, T–208, T–210, and T–211, and would be depicted on the appropriate IFR Enroute Low Altitude charts. RITTRs are low altitude Air Traffic Service routes, similar to VOR Federal airways, but based on GNSS navigation. RNAV-equipped aircraft capable of filing flight plan equipment suffix “/G” may file for these routes.

This proposed action would enhance safety and facilitate more flexible and efficient use of the navigable airspace for en route IFR aircraft transitioning through the Jacksonville, FL, terminal area.

The FAA has determined that this proposed regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. Therefore, this proposed regulation: (1) Is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a “significant rule” under Department of Transportation (DOT) Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this proposed rule, when promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Proposed Modification of Class E Airspace; Akron, OH

AGENCY: Federal Aviation

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This document proposes to modify Class E airspace at Akron, OH. An Airship RNAV Global Positioning System 263° Standard Instrument Approach Procedure has been developed for Wingfoot Lake Airship Operations Airport, Akron Suffield, OH. Controlled airspace extending upward from 700 feet or more above the surface of the earth is needed to contain aircraft executing this approach. This action would increase the area of the existing controlled airspace for Akron, OH.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before September 3, 2005.

The Proposal

The FAA is considering an amendment to 14 CFR part 71 to modify Class E airspace at Akron, OH, for Wingfoot Lake Airship Operations Airport. Controlled airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface of the earth is needed to contain aircraft executing instrument approach procedures. Class E airspace areas extending upward from 700 feet above the surface of the earth are published in paragraph 6005 of FAA Order 7400.9M dated August 30, 2004, and effective September 16, 2004, which is incorporated by reference in 14 CFR 71.1. The Class E designations listed in this document would be removed subsequently in the Order.

The FAA has determined that this proposed regulation only involves an establishment body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. Therefore this, proposed regulation—(1) is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 25, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a Regulatory Evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this proposed rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

The Proposal

The FAA is considering an amendment to 14 CFR part 71 to modify Class E airspace at Madison, IN, for Madison Municipal Airport. Controlled airspace extending upward from 700 feet or more above the surface of the earth is needed to contain aircraft executing instrument approach procedures. The area would be depicted on appropriate aeronautical charts. Class E airspace areas extending upward from 700 feet or more above the surface of the earth are published in paragraph 6005 of FAA Order 7400.9M dated August 30, 2004, and effective September 16, 2004, which is incorporated by reference in 14 CFR 71.1. The Class E designations listed in this document would be published subsequently in the Order.

The FAA has determined that this proposed regulation only involves an establishment body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. Therefore this, proposed regulation—(1) is not a “significant regulatory action” under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979), and (3) does not warrant preparation of a Regulatory Evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this proposed rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Application of the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, Federal Unemployment Tax Act, and Collection of Income Tax at Source to Statutory Stock Options

ACTION: Withdrawal of notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This document withdraws the notice of proposed rulemaking relating to the application of the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA), Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA), and Collection of Income Tax at Source to incentive stock options and options granted under employee stock purchase plans (collectively referred to as “statutory stock options”) that was published on November 14, 2001. This withdrawal affects employers that grant these options and employees who exercise these options.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Paul J. Carlino or Michael Swim, 202–622–0047 (not a toll-free number).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On November 14, 2001, the IRS and Treasury published proposed amendments to 26 CFR part 31 under sections 3121(a), 3306(b), and 3401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (Code), and to 26 CFR part 1 under section 424 of the Code, that would address the application of the FICA, FUTA, and Collection of Income Tax at Source to statutory stock options. These proposed amendments to the regulations were published in the Federal Register (66 FR 57023).

The American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 (the AJCA), H.R. 4520, Public Law 108–357 (118 Stat. 1418), was enacted on October 22, 2004. Section 251 of the AJCA amended sections 3121(a) and 3306(b) of the Code to exclude remuneration on account of a transfer of a share of stock to any individual pursuant to an exercise of an incentive stock option (as defined in section 422(b)) or under an employee stock purchase plan (as defined in section 423(b)), or any disposition by the individual of such stock, from the definition of wages for FICA and FUTA tax purposes, respectively. Section 251 of the AJCA also amended sections 421(b) and 423(c) of the Code so that no amount shall be required to be deducted and withheld under the Collection of Income Tax at Source provisions of the Code with respect to any amount treated as compensation under section 421(b) or 423(c), respectively. Because the proposed amendments to the regulations are no longer consistent with the statutes, the IRS and Treasury are withdrawing the proposed amendments to the regulations.

The statutory amendments made by section 251 of the AJCA apply to stock acquired pursuant to statutory stock options exercised after October 22, 2004. For guidance applying to stock acquired pursuant to statutory stock options exercised on or before October 22, 2004, see Notice 2002–47 (2002–2 C.B. 97).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background on Wine Labeling

TTB Authority

Section 105(e) of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (the FAA Act, 27 U.S.C. 201 et seq.) requires that alcohol beverage labels provide consumers with adequate information regarding product identity and prohibits the use of misleading information on such labels. The FAA Act also authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue regulations to carry out its provisions. The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) administers these regulations.

Vintage Date Requirements

Current Requirements

Part 4 of the TTB regulations (27 CFR part 4) contains the rules governing labeling of wine. The current rule for the use of a vintage date on a wine label is found in § 4.27 (27 CFR 4.27). Section 4.27 requires that 95 percent of the grapes in a vintage-dated wine be harvested in the calendar year shown on the label and that the wine be labeled with an appellation of origin other than a country.

Before 1972, regulations in part 4 defined the phrase “vintage wine” as wine that was made “wholly from grapes gathered in the same calendar year and grown and fermented in the same viticultural area, and conforming to the standards prescribed in Classes 1, 2, and 3 of § 4.21.” In T.D. 7185 (37 FR 7974), published on April 22, 1972, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), which administered the FAA Act at the time, amended that definition to allow the addition of up to five percent of other wines to vintage wine. An industry association had requested this change in order to allow producers to replace wine lost by evaporation and leakage during the aging period. In adopting the change, the IRS recognized that requiring vintage wine to be derived wholly from grapes gathered in the stated year was “unnecessarily restrictive when viewed in the light of practices in some of the principal wine producing countries of the world.” The IRS also concluded that liberalization of the vintage date regulations “would not be adverse to the consumer interest.”

Vintage Date Petition

The Wine Institute, a trade association of California wineries, submitted a petition to TTB to amend paragraph (a) of § 4.27 to allow wine labeled with a State, multistate, county, or multicounty appellation of origin (or the foreign equivalent of a State or county) to bear a vintage date if at least 85 percent of the wine is derived from grapes harvested in the labeled calendar year. The Wine Institute proposes to retain the current requirement that at least 95 percent of the grapes in a vintage-dated wine be harvested in the year shown on the label (the “95 percent rule”) for wine with an American viticultural area (or its foreign equivalent) as an appellation of origin. An American viticultural area is a delimited grape growing region approved by TTB that is distinguishable by geographical features; the American viticultural areas are listed in part 9 of the TTB regulations (27 CFR part 9). A foreign equivalent of an American viticultural area is a delimited place or region, other than a political subdivision, which has been established by the country of origin.

In support of its request, the petitioner provided information comparing the vintage date labeling requirement of the United States to those of other wine producing countries. This information shows that the 95 percent rule for vintage wine used by the United States is unusually high when compared to the vintage date requirements of other countries. Specifically, the petitioner notes that Australia, New Zealand, and the Member States of the European Union have an 85 percent same-year content requirement for vintage-dated wine, while Chile and South Africa require that only 75 percent of the grapes in a vintage-dated wine be grown in the year shown on the label. The petitioner did not provide information on precedents for their proposed dual standard for vintage labeling of wine from viticultural areas and other appellations of origin. We note, however, that the TTB appellation of origin regulations use a multiple standard for the percentage of grapes that must be grown in the labeled appellation, that is, 85 percent for a wine labeled with a viticultural area appellation, 75 percent for single State or county appellations, or 100 percent for multistate or multicounty appellations.

The petitioner argues that the current 95 percent rule for vintage wine, as set forth in § 4.27, places U.S. wine producers at a competitive disadvantage in two principal ways:

- The ability of domestic producers to blend wines for the best possible characteristics is limited by the 95 percent rule. The petitioner claims this is most important in “mid-range wines, where consistency of flavor and mouthfeel is desirable between years and where a large proportion of the global wine market exists.” In support of this point, the petitioner provided several examples of the use of small amounts of wine from a different vintage to give consistency and better value to consumers.

- Although the 95 percent rule applies equally to foreign vintage wines imported into the United States, regulators in the United States do not have access to the records of foreign producers to verify that they follow the 95 percent rule for wines they export to the United States. The petitioner suggests that domestic producers of vintage wine may be competing with foreign producers that do not conform to the 95 percent standard.

Proposed Regulatory Amendment

In this notice, TTB proposes to revise paragraph (a) of § 4.27 in order to add the 85 percent standard as proposed in the petition. The proposed revision includes a reorganization of the text in order to accommodate the separate 85 and 95 percent vintage date rules.

Public Participation

Comments Invited

We invite comments from interested members of the public on whether we should make the proposed change to the vintage date rules. We specifically invite comments on whether the proposed amendment will continue to ensure that consumers have adequate information about the identity of wines that are labeled with vintage dates, and are not misled by the use of vintage dates on wine labels. We are also interested in comments on the perceived effect on consumers of using two vintage date standards rather than the current single standard approach. In addition to comments on this specific proposal, we are interested in suggestions on other approaches that might achieve a similar result. We also invite comments on an appropriate delayed effective date. Finally we solicit comments on how any new rule should be applied. For example, should it apply to wines bottled after the effective date, or wines removed for consumption or sale after the effective date? Please provide specific information in support of your comments.

Submitting Comments

Please submit your comments by the closing date shown above in this notice. Your comments must include this notice number and your name and mailing address. The Proposed Amendment

For the reasons discussed in the preamble, we propose to amend 27 CFR, chapter 1, part 4, as follows:

PART 4—LABELING AND ADVERTISING OF WINE

1. The authority citation for part 4 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 27 U.S.C. 205, unless otherwise noted.

2. Amend § 4.27 by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 4.27 Vintage wine.

(a) General. Vintage wine is wine labeled with the year of harvest of the grapes and made in accordance with the standards prescribed in classes 1, 2, or 3 of § 4.21. The wine must be labeled with an appellation of origin other than a country (which does not qualify for vintage labeling). The appellation must be shown in direct conjunction with the designation required by § 4.32(a)(2), in lettering substantially as conspicuous as that designation. In no event may the quantity of wine removed from the producing winery, under labels bearing a vintage date, exceed the volume of vintage wine produced in that winery during the year indicated by the vintage date. The following additional rules apply to vintage labeling:

(1) If an American or imported wine is labeled with a viticultural area appellation of origin, at least 95 percent of the wine must have been derived from grapes harvested in the labeled calendar year; or

(2) If an American or imported wine is labeled with an appellation of origin other than a country or viticultural area, at least 85 percent of the wine must have been derived from grapes harvested in the labeled calendar year.

Requests for this notice in an alternative format should be made to EEOC's Publication Center at 1-800-669-3362.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: EEOC is proposing to amend 29 CFR part 1610. This section contains a schedule of fees utilized by the Commission for purposes of assessing costs to individuals who seek access to records under the FOIA, 5 U.S.C. 552. The present fee schedule was last amended in 1983 and has become outdated. It does not reflect increases in direct costs to the Commission for manual search and review of records. Also, it does not account for technological advances, including computer searches, the direct costs of retrieving records from federal records centers, or the direct costs of making records available in electronic and alternative formats. The changes are being made in accordance with the Office of Management and Budget's Uniform Freedom of Information Act Fee Schedule and Guidelines, 52 FR 10012 (1987).

The higher costs of manual search and review are attributable to increases in the salaries of the involved personnel.

We surveyed our field offices to determine who was conducting the FOIA searches and reviews. We found that the vast majority were done by clerical or paralegal staff, although some offices used professional staff. A small number of field offices reported that managers sometimes conducted searches and reviews. Further, at headquarters, managers and Senior Executive Service (SES) employees occasionally conduct searches and reviews. In order to more accurately reflect the actual efforts and costs involved, we are replacing the current two-tier fee schedule (clerical and professional) with a five-tier schedule (clerical, paralegal, professional, managerial, and Senior Executive Service (SES) employees). Based upon our field survey, we determined that the average grade and step level for clerical personnel performing these functions was GS 6/Step 5; for paralegals was GS 11/Step 8; and for professional personnel was GS 12/Step 5. We calculated the proposed fees for these three categories by using the hourly rates in the U.S. Office of Personnel and Management's (OPM) 2005 Salary Table paid to persons at the average grade/step indicated in the previous sentence and adding 16 percent for benefits, as prescribed by the OMB guidance referred above. For managers (GS-15) and SES employees, we used the average GS-15 and added 16 percent for benefits.

We added several definitions for clarification. The terms "direct cost," "search," and "duplication" have been defined using standard language that can be found in the FOIA regulations of several other government agencies, including OMB. We also clarified that requesters will be charged other direct costs when applicable, e.g., computer search time, record retrieval costs, computer duplication costs, etc. Finally, we have increased the fees for attestation and certification of records to better reflect the actual costs of preparing these documents, and defined both terms to differentiate them from each other. The fees for attestation and certification of records under EEOC's Privacy Act regulations will subsequently be amended to mirror these fee changes under the FOIA.

Regulatory Procedures

Pursuant to Executive Order 12866, EEOC has determined that the regulation will not have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more or adversely affect in a material way the economy, a sector of the economy, productivity, competition, jobs, the environment, public health or safety, or State or local tribal governments or communities. Therefore, a detailed cost-benefit assessment of the regulation is not required.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This proposal contains no new information collection requirements subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. Chapter 35).

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Commission, in accordance with the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 606(b)), has reviewed this regulation and by approving it certifies that this regulation will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995

This proposed rule will not result in the expenditure by State, local, or tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of $100 million or more in any one year, and it will not significantly or uniquely affect small governments. Therefore, no actions were deemed necessary under the provisions of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995.

List of Subjects in 29 CFR Part 1610

Freedom of information.

For the Commission.

Cari M. Dominguez,
Chair.

Accordingly, for the reasons set forth in the preamble, EEOC proposes to amend 29 CFR part 1610 as follows:

PART 1610—AVAILABILITY OF RECORDS

1. The authority citation for part 1610 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 42 U.S.C. 2000e-12(a), 5 U.S.C. 552 as amended by Pub. L. 93-502, Pub. L. 99-570, and Pub. L. 105-231; for § 1610.15, non-search or copy portions are issued under 31 U.S.C. 9701.

2. Section 1610.1 is amended by adding paragraphs (e) through (i) as follows:

§ 1610.1 Definitions.

(e) Direct costs refers to those expenses that EEOC actually incurs in searching for and duplicating (and, in the case of commercial requesters, reviewing) records to respond to a request. Direct costs include, for example, the salary of the employee performing the work (the basic rate of pay for the employee plus 16 percent of that rate to cover benefits) and the cost of operating duplicating machinery. Not included in direct costs are overhead expenses such as costs of space and heating or lighting of the facility in which the records are stored.

(f) Search refers to the time spent looking for and retrieving material that is responsive to a request. It includes page-by-page or line-by-line identification of information within documents and also includes reasonable efforts to locate and retrieve information from records maintained in electronic formats. EEOC employees should ensure that searching for materials is done in the most efficient and least expensive manner reasonably possible. For example, employees shall not search line-by-line when merely duplicating a document would be quicker and less expensive.

(g) Duplication refers to the process of making a copy of a record or document necessary to respond to a FOIA request. Such copies can take the form of paper copy, microform, audio-visual materials, electronic formats (for example magnetic tape or disk), among others. Employees shall honor a requester's specified preference of format of disclosure if the record is readily reproducible with reasonable efforts in the requested form by the office responding to the request.

(h) Attestation refers to the authentication of copies of Commission documents by an affidavit or unsworn declaration from the records custodian without the Commission Seal.

(i) Certification refers to the authentication of copies of Commission documents by an affidavit or unsworn declaration from the records custodian under the Commission Seal.

3. Revise § 1610.15(c) to read as follows:

§ 1610.15 Schedule of fees and method of payment for services rendered.

* * * * *

(c) Except as otherwise provided, the following specific fees for direct costs shall be applicable with respect to services rendered to members of the public under this subpart:

(1) For manual search and review time:

(i) By clerical personnel—at the rate of $5.00 per quarter hour.

(ii) By paralegals—at the rate of $9.00 per quarter hour.

(iii) By professional personnel—at the rate of $10.00 per quarter hour.

(iv) By managers—at the rate of $17.50 per quarter hour.

(v) By SES employees—at the rate of $20.00 per quarter hour.

(2) For computer searches of records, requesters will be charged at the actual direct cost of providing the service. This includes the operator/programmer salary apportionable to the search based on the rates listed in paragraph (c)(1) of this section.

(3) For copies made by photocopy—$0.15 per page (maximum of 10 copies). For copies prepared by computer, such as tapes or printouts, EEOC will charge the direct cost incurred by the agency, including operator time. For other forms of duplication, EEOC will charge the actual costs of that duplication.

(4) For attestation of documents—$25.00 per authenticating affidavit or declaration. Additionally, there may be search and review charges assessed in accordance with the rates listed in paragraph (c)(1) of this section.

(5) For certification of documents—$50.00 per authenticating affidavit or declaration. Additionally, there may be search and review charges assessed in accordance with the rates listed in paragraph (c)(1) of this section.

(6) For each signed statement of negative result of search for record—$10.00. Additionally, there may be search charges assessed in accordance with the rates listed in paragraph (c)(1) of this section.

(7) For retrieval of records from a Federal Records Center—the amount charged to EEOC for retrieval of such records.

(8) All other direct costs of search, review, duplication or delivery (other than normal mail), shall be charged to the requester as appropriate in the same amount as incurred by the agency.

Definitions

The following definitions are from the International Maritime Organization's (IMO's) publication "Ships' Routeing" (except those marked by an asterisk) and should help you review this notice:

Area to be avoided or ATBA means a routing measure comprising an area within defined limits in which either navigation is particularly hazardous or it is exceptionally important to avoid casualties and which should be avoided by all ships, or certain classes of ships.

Deep-water route is a route within defined limits, which has been accurately surveyed for clearance of sea bottom, and submerged obstacles as indicated on nautical charts.

Inshore traffic zone is a routing measure comprising a designated area between the landward boundary of a traffic separation scheme and the adjacent coast, to be used in accordance with the provisions of Rule 10(d), as amended, of the International Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea, 1972 (COLREGS).

Precautionary area means a routing measure comprising an area within defined limits where ships must navigate with particular caution and within which the direction of traffic flow may be recommended.

Recommended route means a route of undefined width, for the convenience of ships in transit, which is often marked by centerline buoys.

Recommended track is a route which has been specifically examined to ensure so far as possible that it is free of dangers and along which ships are advised to navigate.

Regulated Navigation Area or RNA* is a water area within a defined boundary for which regulations for vessels navigating within the area have been established under 33 CFR part 165.

Roundabout means a routing measure comprising a separation point or circular separation zone and a circular traffic lane within defined limits. Traffic within the roundabout is separated by moving in a counterclockwise direction around the separation point or zone.

Separation Zone or Separation line means a zone or line separating the traffic lanes in which ships are proceeding in opposite or nearly opposite directions; or from the adjacent sea area; or separating traffic lanes designated for particular classes of ships proceeding in the same direction.

Traffic lane means an area within defined limit in which one-way traffic is established. Natural obstacles, including those forming separation zones, may constitute a boundary.

Traffic Separation Scheme or TSS means a routing measure aimed at the separation of opposing streams of traffic by appropriate means and by the establishment of traffic lanes.

Two-way route means a route within defined limits inside which two-way traffic is established, aimed at providing safe passage of ships through waters where navigation is difficult or dangerous.

Vessel routing system means any system of one or more routes or routing measures aimed at reducing the risk of casualties; it includes traffic separation schemes, two-way routes, recommended tracks, areas to be avoided, inshore traffic zones, roundabouts, precautionary areas, and deep-water routes.

Background and Purpose

Why are port access route studies required? Under the Ports and Waterways Safety Act (PWSA) (33 U.S.C. 1223(c)), the Commandant of the Coast Guard may designate necessary fairways and traffic separation schemes (TSSs) to provide safe access routes for vessels proceeding to and from U.S. ports. The designation of fairways and TSSs recognizes the paramount right of navigation over all other uses in the designated areas.

The PWSA requires the Coast Guard to conduct a study of port access routes before establishing or adjusting fairways or TSSs. Through the study process, we must coordinate with Federal, State, and foreign state agencies (as appropriate) and consider the views of maritime community representatives, environmental groups, and other interested stakeholders. A primary purpose of this coordination is, to the extent practicable, to reconcile the need for safe access routes with other reasonable waterway uses.

Were there previous port access route studies? The area (known as Area 5a of the original PARS), which included Long Island Sound, was last studied in 1980, and the final results of the study were published in the Federal Register on October 5, 1981 (46 FR 49035). The study of area 5a concluded that no routing measures were necessary within the study area, including Long Island Sound.

Why is a new port access route study necessary? Subsequent to an oil spill in Buzzards Bay in April 2003, the Coast Guard sponsored a Ports and Waterways Safety Assessment (PAWSA). One PAWSA recommendation was to establish a recommended route to help assist vessel traffic and provide safer transit routes for commercial vessels. In response to the PAWSA a domestic recommended route from Cleveland Ledge, Buzzards Bay, Massachusetts to The Race was developed by the Coast Guard and subsequently chartered by National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) as a recommended vessel route. This recommended vessel route has never been submitted to the International Maritime Organization (IMO) for approval. Our own requirements stipulate that prior to submitting vessel routing measures to IMO for approval, we conduct a PARS. Therefore, we announced in the Federal Register that we would conduct a PARS for the Approaches to Narragansett Bay and Buzzards Bay, Cleveland Ledge to The Race, Narragansett Bay East Passage and the Areas Offshore of Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts (68 FR 74199, December 23, 2003). Final results of the PARS are pending and will be published in the Federal Register when finalized.

In addition, the First Coast Guard District published an Advance Notice of Proposed Rule Making (ANPRM) on October 26, 2004 (69 FR 62427) for Navigation and Waterways Management Improvements, Buzzards Bay, MA. The ANPRM is seeking comments on the merits of formally designating the recommended vessel route within Buzzards Bay, as well as amending a First Coast Guard District regulated navigation area to require tug escorts for all tank barges transiting Buzzards Bay, MA. The PARS and the ANPRM did not include the waters of western Block Island Sound extending from Montauk Channel to The Race.

The Coast Guard Captain of the Port (COTP) Long Island Sound was asked to consider implementing recommended vessel routes from Montauk Channel to a point south of Watch Hill, Rhode Island, then running westerly to The Race. These proposed routes would converge with the recommended vessel route from Cleveland Ledge to The Race. Vessels transiting to ports in Long Island Sound or transiting Long Island Sound on voyages to or from the Port of New York utilize one of two routes encompassed in this new study. The first route runs from the Point Judith Pilot Boarding area through Block Island Sound to The Race; the second includes the waters of Montauk Channel north through Block Island Sound to a point south of Watch Hill, Rhode Island, then westerly to The Race.

The areas of study experience high traffic density and multiple uses. Montauk Channel is commonly used by ocean-going vessels with drafts less than 38 feet, large numbers of commercial fishing and recreational vessels, and military vessels. Heavy recreational traffic and commercial ferries that run from New London, Connecticut, to Block Island, Rhode Island, cross Block Island Sound. Significant tug and barge traffic carrying petroleum products and deeper draft tank vessels heading for ports within Long Island Sound or the Port of New York also utilize this route, presenting higher potential for adverse impact to the marine environment due to an oil spill.

The areas of study also correspond to vessel routes utilized by vessels embarking a pilot. Vessels transiting Long Island Sound, irrespective of destination, may utilize either a New York or Connecticut-licensed pilot. Both the New York Board of Commissioners for Pilots and the Connecticut Department of Transportation have designated two pilot boarding areas corresponding to the routes utilized by vessels. Vessels entering Long Island Sound must utilize one of two pilot boarding areas to board or disembark a pilot: the Point Judith Pilot Boarding Area, located South of Point Judith, Rhode Island, and the Montauk Boarding area, located off of Montauk Point, New York.

Long Island Sound receives approximately 750 foreign flag vessel arrivals per year. Of these, over 500 are tank vessels carrying petroleum products. In addition, there are approximately 1500 tug and barge transits through Long Island Sound per year, all of which utilize one of the two routes being examined in this study. Vessels with a draft less than 38 feet may utilize Montauk Channel or Block Island Sound en route to Long Island Sound via The Race.

This PARS is also significant due to the potential increase in vessel traffic due to Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG) vessels transiting the area for Long Island Sound. Broadwater Energy, Inc. recently notified the COTP Long Island Sound of its intent to construct a floating liquefied natural gas (LNG) storage and regassification facility within Long Island Sound. If permitted for construction, the facility is expected to be operational by 2010, and it is projected it would receive between 110 and 160 LNG vessels per year. The loaded draft of typical LNG vessels is between 36 and 39 feet (11 to 12 meters). Under 33 CFR 127.009, the Coast Guard is required to conduct an analysis of the suitability of a waterway for LNG marine traffic. The results of this PARS will contribute to that suitability analysis, which will occur later in the LNG permitting process.

This study is also necessary due to projected increases in vessel traffic and to ensure any routing measures that may be considered for the area from Montauk Point through Block Island to The Race are consistent with measures implemented from Point Judith to The Race. Although this study overlaps the PARS for Narragansett Bay and the ANPRM for Narragansett Bay, this overlap is required due to the potential for LNG vessel traffic through the study area.

What are the timeline, study area, and process of this PARS? The First Coast Guard District will conduct this PARS. The study will begin immediately and we anticipate the study will take 6 to 12 months to complete.

The study area includes the approaches to Block Island Sound, between Montauk Channel and The Race, and the area from Point Judith Pilot Boarding area to The Race.

As part of this study, we will consider previous studies, analyses of vessel traffic density, and agency and stakeholder experience in vessel traffic management, navigation, vessel handling, and effects of weather. We encourage you to participate in the study process by submitting comments in response to this notice.

We will publish the results of the PARS in the Federal Register. It is possible that the study may validate continued applicability of existing vessel routing measures and conclude that no changes are necessary. It is also possible that the study may recommend one or more changes to enhance navigational safety and vessel traffic management efficiency. Study recommendations may lead to future rulemakings or appropriate international agreements.

Possible Scope of the Recommendations

We are attempting to determine the scope of any safety problems associated with vessel transits in the study area. We expect that information gathered during the study will identify any problems and appropriate solutions. The study may recommend that we—

- Maintain the current vessel routing measures;
- Establish a deep-water route;
- Establish recommended routes;
- Create precautionary area(s);
- Create one or more inshore traffic zone(s);
- Establish two-way routes;
- Establish an area to be avoided (ATBA) in shallow areas where the risk of grounding is present;
- Establish, disestablish, or modify anchorage grounds; and
- Establish a Regulated Navigation Area (RNA) with specific vessel operating requirements to ensure safe navigation near shallow water.

Questions

To help us conduct the port access route study, we request comments on the following questions, although comments on other issues addressed in this document are also welcome. In responding to a question, please explain your reasons for each answer, and follow the instructions under “Public Participation and Request for Comments” above.

1. What navigational hazards do vessels operating in the study area face? Please describe.
2. Are there strains on the current vessel routing system (increasing traffic density, for example)? If so, please describe.

3. Are modifications to existing vessel routing measures needed to address hazards and strains and to improve traffic management efficiency in the study area? If so, please describe.

4. What costs and benefits are associated with the measures listed as potential study recommendations? What measures do you think are most cost-effective?

5. What impacts, both positive and negative, would changes to existing routing measures or new routing measures have on the study area?

6. What impacts would routing measures implemented in the study area have on vessels transiting in waters adjacent to the study area, such as in Long Island Sound?

Approval and Promulgation of Implementation Plans for Arizona; Maricopa County PM-10 Nonattainment Area; Serious Area Plan for Attainment of the 24-Hour and Annual PM-10 Standards

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: On July 25, 2002, EPA approved under the Clean Air Act (CAA) the serious area particulate matter (PM-10) plan for the Maricopa County portion of the metropolitan Phoenix (Arizona) nonattainment area (Maricopa County area). Among other things, EPA approved the best available control measure (BACM) and most stringent measure (MSM) demonstrations in the plan and granted the State's request for an attainment date extension for the area. EPA's approval was challenged in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. In response to the Court's remand, EPA has reassessed the BACM demonstration for the significant source categories of on-road motor vehicles and nonroad engines and equipment exhaust, specifically regarding whether or not California Air Resources Board (CARB) diesel is a BACM. EPA has also reassessed the MSM demonstration. As a result of these reassessments, EPA is again proposing to approve the BACM and MSM demonstrations in the plan and to grant the State's request to extend the attainment deadline from 2001 to 2006.

DATES: Any comments must arrive by August 1, 2005.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to Carol Weisner, Planning Office (AIR-2), U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region IX, 75 Hawthorne Street, San Francisco, CA 94105-3901 or e-mail to weisner.carol@epa.gov, or submit comments at <http://www.regulations.gov>.

You can inspect copies of the submitted state implementation plan (SIP) revisions, EPA's technical support document (TSD), and public comments at our Region IX office during normal business hours by appointment.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Carol Weisner, EPA Region IX, (415) 947-4107, weisner.carol@epa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Throughout this document, “we,” “us” and “our” refer to EPA.

I. Background

On July 25, 2002, EPA approved multiple documents submitted to EPA by Arizona for the Maricopa County area as meeting the CAA requirements for serious PM-10 nonattainment areas for the 24-hour and annual PM-10 national ambient air quality standards (NAAQS). Among these documents is the “Revised MAG 1999 Serious Area Particulate Plan for PM-10 for the Maricopa County Nonattainment Area,” February 2000 (MAG plan) that includes the BACM demonstrations for all significant source categories (except agriculture) for both the 24-hour and annual PM-10 standards and the State's request and supporting documentation, including the most stringent measure analysis (except for agriculture) for an attainment date extension for both standards. EPA's July 25, 2002 final action included approval of these elements of the MAG plan.¹

The Arizona Center for Law in the Public Interest (ACLPI), on behalf of Phoenix area residents, subsequently filed in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit a petition for review of EPA's approval of several elements in the MAG plan. As relevant to this proposed rule, ACLPI asserted that EPA's approval was arbitrary and capricious because the plan did not mandate the use of CARB diesel, a fuel standard adopted by CARB, and thus did not satisfy the CAA requirements for BACM and MSM for mobile sources. ACLPI further asserted that we granted an extension of the statutory deadline for attainment from December 31, 2001 to December 31, 2006 based on an inadequate MSM demonstration.

On May 10, 2004, the Court issued its opinion which upheld EPA's final approval in part,² but remanded to EPA the question of whether CARB diesel must be included in the serious area plan as a BACM and a MSM. Specifically, with respect to whether CARB diesel was appropriately rejected as BACM, the Court stated that “* * * Arizona has offered one explanation, which EPA has declined to ratify, and EPA has not proffered an adequate explanation of its own.” The Court further stated that “[i]n light of our disposition with respect to CARB diesel as a BACM, we remand to EPA for further consideration of whether CARB diesel satisfies MSM as well.” Finally, the Court remanded the question of whether the Maricopa County area is eligible for an extension of the attainment date to 2006, but only insofar as that question depends on EPA's determination regarding CARB diesel as a MSM. Vigil v. Leavitt, 366 F.3d 1025, amended at 381 F.3d 826 (9th Cir. 2004).

II. BACM Demonstration for the Maricopa County Nonattainment Area

A. EPA's 2002 Approval

Under CAA section 189(b)(2), serious area PM-10 plans must provide assurances that BACM will be implemented no later than four years after a moderate PM-10 nonattainment area is reclassified as serious. For the Maricopa County area, the BACM implementation deadline was June 10, 2000. In short, a BACM demonstration starts with the identification of all source categories contributing significantly to nonattainment of the PM-10 standards. Once the significant categories are identified, all potential BACM for these categories must be identified and a reasoned justification must be provided for any BACM that are not implemented. All BACM that are economically and technologically feasible must be implemented.³

In the case of the Maricopa County area, the MAG plan identifies eight significant PM-10 source categories, including on-road motor vehicle and nonroad engines and equipment exhaust.^{4,5} A comprehensive list of potential BACM for controlling both on-road and nonroad exhaust was compiled and EPA determined the list to be complete. In our 2002 approval of the MAG plan, we stated that Arizona had one of the most comprehensive programs for addressing on-road motor vehicle emissions and that the additional measures in the MAG plan (e.g., a more stringent diesel inspection and maintenance (I/M) program and measures both encouraging and requiring diesel fleet turnover) would strengthen and go beyond that program. For nonroad engines, EPA stated that Arizona had committed to adopt measures (e.g., a voluntary retirement program for gasoline powered lawn and garden equipment, a program to encourage use of temporary electrical power rather than portable generators at construction sites, a year-round Clean Burning Gasoline program, limits on the sulfur content of diesel fuels) that would strengthen the overall nonroad engine program making it go beyond the existing federal program. 65 FR at 19972–19974; 66 FR at 50258–50260. Strengthening and expanding existing programs are key criteria for demonstrating the implementation of BACM. 59 FR at 42013. EPA noted that CARB diesel was rejected in the MAG plan as a BACM due to high costs, but believed the cost analysis was too uncertain to judge. 65 FR at 19973; 67 FR at 48725. EPA concluded that, overall, the on-road and nonroad measures in the MAG plan constituted BACM for the Maricopa County area and that CARB diesel did not have to be included as a most stringent measure (MSM) for the area because its implementation would not advance the attainment date. 67 FR at 48725.

B. Reassessment of the BACM Demonstration

Pursuant to the Ninth Circuit Court's directive, in this proposed rule EPA revisits the BACM demonstration in the MAG plan for the on-road motor vehicle and nonroad engines and equipment exhaust source categories and addresses the question of whether CARB diesel is a BACM for the Maricopa County area.

(1) On-Road Motor Vehicle Exhaust

Section 211(c)(4)(A) of the CAA generally prohibits the state from prescribing or attempting to enforce controls respecting motor vehicle fuel characteristics or components that EPA has controlled under section 211(c)(1),⁶ unless the state control is identical to the Federal control. Under section 211(c)(4)(C), EPA may approve a non-identical state fuel control as a SIP provision, if the state demonstrates that the measure is necessary to achieve the NAAQS. We may approve a state fuel requirement as necessary if no other measures would bring about timely attainment, or if other measures exist and are technically possible to implement but are unreasonable or impracticable.

EPA currently has nationwide regulations prescribing limits on various characteristics and components of motor vehicle diesel fuel (e.g., sulfur content limits, minimum cetane index and limits on aromatic content) (55 FR 34120, August 21, 1990), thus, the state would need to obtain a CAA section 211(c)(4)(C) waiver in order to implement a different requirement governing characteristics and components of on-road diesel fuel, i.e., CARB diesel, in the Maricopa County area. However, Arizona has not requested a waiver for the Maricopa County area and, since EPA has approved the state's demonstration of attainment of the PM-10 NAAQS (67 FR 48718), EPA believes that the state would not be able to provide a demonstration that CARB diesel is necessary to achieve the NAAQS for PM-10. Thus, the State would not be able to obtain a section 211(c)(4)(C) waiver necessary to implement CARB diesel for on-road motor vehicles.

³ For a detailed discussion of EPA's preliminary interpretation of the CAA's BACM requirements, see “State Implementation Plans for Serious PM-10 Nonattainment Areas, and Attainment Date Waivers for PM-10 Nonattainment Areas Generally; Addendum to the General Preamble for the Implementation of Title I of the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990,” 59 FR 41998, 42008–42014 (August 16, 1994).

⁶ This prohibition applies to all states except California, as explained in section 211(c)(4)(B).

² The Court rejected the petitioners' claim that Arizona's general permit rule for agriculture did not constitute either BACM or MSM. The Court concluded that Arizona was not required to mandate implementation by farmers of all 34 identified best management practices to constitute BACM and that the mandate to implement one BMP in each of three categories was sufficient. Further, Arizona was not required to adopt practices implemented in California's South Coast region to satisfy the MSM requirement.

(2) Nonroad Engines and Equipment Exhaust

Unlike on-road diesel fuel, nonroad diesel fuel currently used in engines and equipment is not subject to EPA standards; however, starting in 2007, fuel sulfur levels in nonroad diesel fuel will be limited to a maximum of 500 parts per million (ppm). This limit also covers fuels used in locomotive and marine applications (though not to the marine residual fuel used by very large engines on ocean-going vessels).⁷ Unlike motor vehicle fuel, EPA regulation of nonroad fuel does not trigger preemption of state fuel controls as the prohibition in section 211(c)(4)(A) does not extend to fuels used in nonroad engines and equipment. 69 FR 38958, 39072–39073 (June 29, 2004).⁸ EPA believes however that requiring CARB diesel only for nonroad engines and equipment in the Maricopa County area is not currently feasible as discussed below.⁹

(a) Fuel Availability

Arizona currently has no refineries and, thus, does not produce CARB diesel; therefore, it must rely on refineries outside the state to supply the fuel. (MAG plan, Summary of Reasoned Justification for Nonimplementation of Particulate Control Measures Due to Infeasibility, pp. 29, 33) The Maricopa County area's fuel is supplied through pipelines from Los Angeles refineries and West Texas/New Mexico refineries. (Evaluation of Gasoline and Diesel Fuel Options for Maricopa County for State of Arizona Department of Environmental Quality, January 30, 1998, MathPro Inc., (MathPro Report), pp. v, vi and 10).

In 1997, it is estimated that the Maricopa County area used approximately 23,000 barrels/day (352.6 million gallons/year) of diesel fuel. Off-road diesel fuel consumption is approximately one third of on-road consumption, thus, off-road consumption is estimated at 88.2 million gallons/year. (MathPro Report, p. 17–18). In order to implement CARB diesel for nonroad vehicles, Arizona would need to ensure that the supplying refiners would be able to produce an adequate supply of CARB diesel for shipment to the Maricopa County area. This would depend on various factors including, among other things, whether refiners have adequate additional capacity beyond their current obligations to make CARB diesel. The most likely source of CARB diesel seems to be from Southern California refiners since they appear to be the only refineries currently producing CARB diesel with pipeline transporting capabilities to the Maricopa County area. However, information from CARB and the California Energy Commission (CEC) on the availability of CARB diesel is not conclusive.¹⁰ EPA solicits any additional information that may provide a clearer understanding of the availability of CARB diesel for nonroad engines and equipment in the Maricopa County area.

¹⁰ CARB reports that CARB diesel production by California refineries has increased more than 14% since 1998. (Cal EPA, ARB, STAFF REPORT: INITIAL STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR PROPOSED RULEMAKING, Proposed Regulatory Amendments Extending the California Standards for Motor Vehicle Diesel Fuel to Diesel Fuel Used in Harborcraft and Intrastate Locomotives, October 1, 2004.) CARB estimates that by 2007 nearly 231,000 barrels per day (or 3.5 billion gallons per year) of CARB diesel will be needed to meet California's demand. Id. CARB also reports that refineries will have the capacity to produce 275,000 barrels per day (or 4.22 billion gallons per year) by 2007. Id. CARB projects that there will not be a shortage of CARB diesel for California and in fact there will be capacity for excess CARB diesel production in California. Id.

However, data from the CEC indicates that 2.8 billion gallons of CARB diesel were used by on-road vehicles in California in 2003. (February 2, 2005 MEMORANDUM, February 2, 2005 Phone Conversation with Chris Kavalec, California Energy Commission (CEC), on California's Supply and Demand for CARB Diesel.) CEC staff estimates that approximately 70% of total diesel usage in California is from on-road vehicles, thus, total CARB diesel usage in California for 2003 is estimated at 3.99 billion gallons. Id. CEC data also indicates that California refineries produced approximately 3.17 billion gallons in 2003. Id. Thus, in 2003, it appears that California's usage of CARB diesel exceeded what its refineries produced. Id. This shortage was likely made up by CARB diesel imports from other domestic and foreign sources. Id. If there is not a sufficient excess supply of CARB diesel, California refineries may need to make a substantial investment of time and resources for environmental permitting and construction in order to expand operations before being able to supply CARB diesel to the Maricopa County area. (MAG plan, Summary of Reasoned Justification for Nonimplementation of Particulate Control Measures Due to Infeasibility, p. 33 and December 6, 2004 MEMORANDUM, November 24, 2004 Phone Conversation with Gordon Shremp, CEC, on the availability of CARB diesel). EPA was unable to obtain any information on the availability of imports that could be supplied to the Maricopa County area.

(b) Fuel Storage and Segregation

Increasing the number of fuels provided to a specific geographic area complicates and increases the demands on the fuels distribution system at various points. Distinct fuels need to be segregated to prevent contamination at each point in distributing fuels from a small number of suppliers (refiners) to a large number of users. If the Maricopa County area implements CARB diesel for nonroad engines and equipment, it would have to ensure that the fuel could be stored separately¹¹ from other fuels and its distribution could be segregated so that only nonroad engines and equipment would use it.

These uncertainties must be resolved before CARB diesel can be considered a feasible measure for the Maricopa County area. EPA solicits any additional information that may provide a better understanding of the fuel storage and segregation problems.

(c) Fueling Outside the Maricopa County Area

The effectiveness of implementing CARB diesel in the Maricopa County area for nonroad engines and equipment is uncertain. Due to the size of the area and the additional cost of CARB diesel, there would be a significant incentive for owners and operators to fuel their nonroad equipment outside the area and/or move their base of operations outside the area whenever possible, thus greatly reducing the effectiveness of the measure. Owners and operators of nonroad engines and equipment using diesel fuel tend to be more sensitive to price increases and are more likely to go outside the area to avoid higher priced fuels than owners and operators of gasoline powered vehicles. This is because diesel powered equipment tends to be larger and use much more fuel than gasoline powered vehicles.¹²

¹¹ According to ADWM staff (10/25/04 MEMORANDUM, October 24, 2004 Telephone Conversation with Duane Yantorno, Air/Fuel Quality Manager, Arizona Department of Weights and Measures, Doris Lo, USEPA Region 9, Wiencek, USEPA Region 9 on Availability of CARB Diesel for the Maricopa County Nonattainment Area.), tank farms for fuel storage in the Maricopa County area are currently at maximum capacity. Thus, if some of the current diesel or gasoline tankage were to be converted to CARB diesel, there could be shortages of other fuels or new tankage might need to be built to accommodate storage of CARB diesel while keeping it segregated from other fuels, thus preventing contamination.

¹² Diesel powered engines and equipment generally include items such as construction equipment (tractors, backhoes, pile drivers), agricultural equipment and heavy duty trucks. Gasoline powered engines and equipment generally include items such as cars, recreational vehicles and lawn and garden equipment. In addition, the diesel powered engines and equipment also are likely to be owned or operated in fleets where

⁹ In addition to soliciting information on the issues discussed in section II.B.2.a–c below, EPA is soliciting information on the economic feasibility of requiring CARB diesel for nonroad vehicles only. Given the issues discussed below and the reduced emissions reductions benefit of implementing CARB diesel for only nonroad vehicles, EPA expects the costs of implementing CARB diesel to be much higher than if it were implemented for both on-road and nonroad vehicles.

The MAG plan states that “California requires CARB diesel statewide. * * * however, [in Arizona] CARB diesel would [apply solely to] * * * part of Maricopa County and 12 townships in two other counties. At its widest point, this area is approximately 66 miles across. The small size of the area means that diesel users will be able to fuel their vehicles outside the nonattainment area and reduce any potential effectiveness the measure would have.” (MAG plan, Summary of Reasoned Justification for Nonimplementation of Particulate Control Measures Due to Infeasibility, p. 29) In addition, the American Trucking Associations, Inc. (ATA) states that “[t]he trucking industry is extremely competitive. * * * Since fuel is one of the largest expenses for trucking companies, companies operating in the Maricopa nonattainment area would have a strong incentive to travel outside the nonattainment area to avoid purchasing the more expensive CARB-diesel. * * *” (ATA Amicus Curiae Brief, Vigil v. Leavitt, Case No. 02–72424; decided at 366 F.3d 1025, amended at 381 F. 3d 826 (9th Cir. 2004).¹³ EPA agrees with these statements from the MAG plan and ATA; however, EPA solicits any additional information that may provide a better understanding of factors that may or may not cause owners and operators of nonroad engines and equipment to purchase diesel fuel outside the Maricopa County area.

III. MSM Demonstration and Extension of Attainment Date

As a serious PM–10 nonattainment area, the Maricopa County area was required to attain the annual and 24-hour PM–10 standards by no later than December 31, 2001. CAA section 188(c)(2). However, CAA section 188(e) allows us to extend the attainment date for a serious PM–10 nonattainment area for up to five years if attainment by 2001 is impracticable and certain specified additional conditions are met. Among these conditions is that the State must demonstrate to our satisfaction that its serious area plan includes the most stringent measures that are included in the implementation plan of any state and/or are achieved in practice in any state and are feasible for the area.¹⁴ Since, as discussed above, EPA is proposing to approve the BACM demonstration in the MAG plan for the on-road and nonroad vehicle exhaust source categories without CARB diesel, our determination for the Maricopa County area in our July 25, 2002 action that CARB diesel is also not required as a MSM because it does not advance the attainment date is not affected. Thus, the attainment date extension granted to the Maricopa County area in that action is also not affected.

IV. Proposed Action

EPA proposes to approve the BACM demonstration in the MAG plan for the source categories of on-road and nonroad vehicle exhaust without CARB diesel. CARB diesel is not feasible for on-road motor vehicles because Arizona cannot obtain a CAA section 211(c)(4)(C) waiver for purposes of PM–10 attainment. CARB diesel is not feasible for nonroad engines and equipment because of the uncertainties with fuel availability, storage and segregation and program effectiveness due to owners and operators fueling outside the Maricopa County area. Therefore, EPA also proposes to approve the MSM demonstration in the MAG plan and the associated extension of the attainment deadline for the area from December 31, 2001 to December 31, 2006.

V. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), this proposed action is not a “significant regulatory action” and therefore is not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget. For this reason, this action is also not subject to Executive Order 13211, “Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use” (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001). This proposed action merely proposes to approve state law as meeting Federal requirements and imposes no additional requirements beyond those imposed by state law. Accordingly, the Administrator certifies that this proposed rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). Because this rule proposes to approve pre-existing requirements under state law and does not impose any additional enforceable duty beyond that required by state law, it does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104–4).

This proposed rule also does not have tribal implications because it will not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000). This action also does not have Federalism implications because it does not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999). This action merely proposes to approve a state rule implementing a Federal standard, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power and responsibilities established in the Clean Air Act. This proposed rule also is not subject to Executive Order 13045 “Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks” (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), because it is not economically significant.

In reviewing SIP submissions, EPA’s role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the Clean Air Act. In this context, in the absence of a prior existing requirement for the State to use voluntary consensus standards (VCS), EPA has no authority to disapprove a SIP submission for failure to use VCS. It would thus be inconsistent with applicable law for EPA, when it reviews a SIP submission, to use VCS in place of a SIP submission that otherwise satisfies the provisions of the Clean Air Act. Thus, the requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) do not apply. This proposed rule does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

I. EPA's Proposed Action

A. What Action Is EPA Proposing Today?

EPA is proposing an approval of New Jersey's revision to the ozone State Implementation Plan (SIP) submitted to EPA on March 31, 2005. This SIP revision relates to New Jersey's NO_x RACT determination for Schering's heat recovery steam generator (HRSG) with duct burner for the cogeneration facility located in Union, Union County.

B. Why Is EPA Proposing This Action?

EPA is proposing this action to:

- Give the public the opportunity to submit comments on EPA's proposed action, as discussed in the DATES and ADDRESSES sections
- Fulfill New Jersey's and EPA's requirements under the Clean Air Act (the Act)
- Make New Jersey's RACT determination federally-enforceable.

C. What Are the Clean Air Act Requirements for NO_x RACT?

The Act requires certain states to develop RACT regulations for major stationary sources of NO_x and to provide for the implementation of the required measures as soon as practicable but no later than May 31, 1995. Under the Act, the definition of major stationary source is based on the tons per year (tpy) of air pollution a source emits and the quality of the air in the area of the source. In ozone transport regions, attainment/unclassified areas as well as marginal and moderate ozone nonattainment areas, a major stationary source for NO_x is considered to be one which emits or has the potential to emit 100 tpy or more of NO_x and is subject to the requirements of a moderate nonattainment area. New Jersey is within the Northeast ozone transport region, established by section 184(a) of the Act, and has defined a major stationary source for NO_x as a source which has the potential to emit 25 tpy, the level set for severe ozone nonattainment areas. Consequently, all major stationary sources of NO_x within the State of New Jersey are required to implement RACT no later than May 31, 1995. For detailed information on the Act requirements for NO_x RACT see the Technical Support Document (TSD), prepared in support of today's proposed action. A copy of the TSD is available upon request from the EPA Regional Office listed in ADDRESSES section or it can be viewed at <http://docket.epa.gov/rmepub/>.

D. How Has Schering Complied With the Act Requirements for NO_x RACT since 1995?

On June 3, 1996, New Jersey adopted the New Jersey Open Market Emission Trading (OMET) program, Subchapter 30 of Chapter 27, Title 7 of the New Jersey Administrative Code. The OMET program permitted regulated facilities to purchase "discrete emission reduction" (DER) credits for volatile organic compounds (VOC) and NO_x to meet VOC and NO_x emission limits set forth in Subchapters 16 and 19 of Chapter 27, Title 7 of the New Jersey Administrative Code, respectively.

On January 9, 2001, EPA published in the Federal Register, a proposed conditional approval of the OMET program. (66 FR 1796) After discussion with New Jersey, on June 24, 2002, EPA sent New Jersey a letter reiterating a number of concerns about the OMET program. On August 13, 2002, New Jersey responded to this letter indicating that it concluded the OMET program should be terminated. On October 18, 2002, EPA published, in the Federal Register (67 FR 64347), its determination to withdraw a prior proposed conditional approval of the OMET program.

On December 16, 2002, New Jersey held a public meeting discussing options for repealing the OMET program. EPA's withdrawal of its proposed approval and this meeting were indications that sources could no longer rely on the OMET program to satisfy the Act requirements for VOC and NO_x RACT. On February 25, 2004, New Jersey adopted rules, repealing the OMET program and adopted rule repeals, and amendments to rules governing other programs impacted by the repeal of the OMET program, including Subchapter 19 (the state NO_x RACT rules). 36 New Jersey Register 1791(a). On that date, New Jersey also adopted amendments and new rules to replace provisions provided by the OMET program. The effective date of the repeals, amendments and new rules is April 5, 2004 and the operative date is April 25, 2004.

On April 26, 2004, EPA notified, by letter, New Jersey that "sources should be advised that if they rely on the extended compliance deadlines or compliance options provided in the revised NJDEP rule, they would not comply with the federally-approved regulations, which do not provide for any such deadline extensions." By copy of that letter, EPA notified sources identified as OMET credit users in the revised rule about "unresolved issues regarding that rule and the probability of SIP disapproval." This letter also refers to a September 18, 2003 letter in which EPA provided comments to New Jersey, which identified serious deficiencies in the originally proposed regulation.

While the State of New Jersey has adopted new state NO_x RACT rules that allowed Schering and other sources until April 25, 2005 to achieve compliance with State NO_x RACT rules, the federally-approved NO_x RACT rule in the SIP requires compliance with the federal RACT regulations by May 31, 1995. Since the new state NO_x RACT rules have not been and are not likely to be federally-approved and included in the SIP, the federally enforceable compliance date for NO_x RACT remains May 31, 1995.

On May 27, 2004, EPA held a meeting with Schering and several other owners/operators of sources copied on the April 26, 2004 letter to New Jersey to discuss compliance options. Schering attended the meeting and advised EPA that it would submit a timely proposal for compliance. On July 15, 2004, Schering submitted for EPA and New Jersey review, a proposal for an alternative emission limit (AEL) to comply with both Federal and State NO_x RACT. On January 19, 2005, EPA sent Schering a Notice of Violation describing its violations of Subchapter 19. On April 11, 2005, EPA issued Schering a Compliance Order which required Schering to comply with the proposed NO_x RACT emissions limits set forth in its AEL application, submitted on July 15, 2004, until the limits are approved by the State. Following state approval, Schering shall comply with the state-approved AEL, until it is federally-approved, and thereafter comply with the NO_x RACT pursuant to the federally-approved AEL. Today's proposed action is the next step in the federal approval process.

E. What Is EPA's Evaluation of New Jersey's SIP Revision?

EPA has determined New Jersey's SIP revision for New Jersey's NO_x RACT determination for Schering's HRSG with duct burner is consistent with New Jersey's NO_x RACT regulation and EPA's guidance. EPA's basis for evaluating New Jersey's SIP revision, is whether it meets the SIP requirements described in section 110 of the Act. EPA thinks that New Jersey's SIP revision will not interfere with any applicable requirement concerning attainment and reasonable further progress, or any other applicable requirement of the Act.

After reviewing New Jersey's SIP revision submittal, EPA found it administratively and technically complete. EPA has determined that the NO_x emission limits identified in New Jersey's Conditions of Approval document represents RACT for Schering's HRSG with duct burner. The conditions contained in the Conditions Of Approval Document currently specify emission limits, work practice standards, and testing, monitoring, and recordkeeping/reporting requirements. These conditions are consistent with the NO_x RACT requirements specified in Subchapter 19 and conform to EPA NO_x RACT guidance. More specifically, EPA proposes to approve the current Conditions of Approval document which includes an alternative emission limit for the HRSG/duct burner when operating in the fresh air fired mode and when firing natural gas. The limit will be the lower of 0.17 lbs/MMBtu, or 115% of the average of three one-hour stack tests, each performed over a consecutive 60-minute period. Please note there may be other requirements, such as adequate monitoring, which States and sources will need to provide for, through the Title V permitting process. The TSD prepared in support of this proposed action, contains a detailed description of New Jersey's submittal and EPA's evaluation.

II. New Jersey's SIP Revision

A. What Are New Jersey's NO_x RACT Requirements?

On November 15, 1993, New Jersey submitted to EPA, as a revision to the SIP, Subchapter 19 of Chapter 27, Title 7 of the New Jersey Administrative Code. Subchapter 19 is entitled "Control and Prohibition of Air Pollution From Oxides of Nitrogen." This Subchapter provides the NO_x RACT requirements for New Jersey and was effective on December 20, 1993. New Jersey submitted Subchapter 19 to EPA, as a revision to the SIP, on November 15, 1993 and on January 27, 1997, the EPA final approval action on Subchapter 19 was published in the Federal Register (62 FR 3804).

On March 24, 1995, New Jersey adopted amendments to Subchapter 19 and submitted them to EPA for approval as a SIP revision on June 21, 1996. On March 29, 1999, the EPA final approval action on the revised Subchapter 19 was published in the Federal Register (64 FR 14832).

B. What Are New Jersey's Facility-Specific NO_x RACT Requirements?

Section 19.13 of New Jersey's regulation establishes a procedure for a case-by-case determination of what represents RACT for a major facility, item of equipment of source operation. This procedure applies to facilities considered major for NO_x which are in one of the following two situations: (1) Except for non-utility boilers, if the NO_x facility contains any source operation or item of equipment of a category not listed in section 19.2 which has the potential to emit more than 10 tons of NO_x per year, or (2) if the owner or operator of a source operation or item of equipment of a category listed in section 19.2 seeks approval of an alternative maximum allowable emission rate. Today's proposal relates to a facility in the second type of situation discussed above.

New Jersey's procedure requires either submission of a NO_x control plan if specific emission limitations do not apply to the specific source, or submission of a request for an alternative maximum allowable emission rate if specific emission limitations do apply to the specific source. In either case, the owners/operators must include a technical and economic feasibility analysis of the possible alternative control measures. Also, in either case, Subchapter 19 requires that New Jersey establish emission limits which rely on a RACT determination specific to the facility. The resulting NO_x control plan or alternative maximum allowable emission rate must be submitted to EPA to approval as a SIP revision.

C. When Was New Jersey's RACT Determination Proposed and Adopted?

New Jersey's RACT determination was proposed on October 23, 2004, with a public comment period ending November 24, 2004. New Jersey adopted the RACT determination on March 9, 2005.

D. When Was New Jersey's SIP Revision Submitted to EPA?

New Jersey's SIP revision was submitted to EPA on March 31, 2005. EPA determined the submittal administratively and technically complete on April 25, 2005.

III. Conclusion

EPA is proposing to approve the New Jersey SIP revision for an alternative RACT emission limit determination for Schering's HRSG with duct burner. This SIP revision contains source-specific NO_x emission limitations for Schering. EPA will consider all information submitted prior to any final rulemaking action as a supplement or amendment to the SIP submittal.

EPA is requesting public comment on the issues discussed in today's action. EPA will consider all public comments before taking final action. Interested parties may participate in the Federal rulemaking procedure by submitting comments to the EPA Regional Office listed in the ADDRESSES section.

IV. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), this proposed action is not a "significant regulatory action" and therefore is not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget. For this reason, this action is also not subject to Executive Order 13211, "Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use" (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001). This proposed action merely proposed to approve state law as meeting federal requirements and imposes no additional requirements beyond those imposed by state law. Accordingly, the Administrator certifies that this proposed rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). Because this rule proposes to approve pre-existing requirements under state law and does not impose any additional enforceable duty beyond that required by state law, it does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-4).

This proposed rule also does not have tribal implications because it will not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000). This action also does not have federalism implications because it does not have substantial direct effects on the states, on the relationship between the National Government and the states, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999). This action merely proposes to approve a state rule implementing a federal standard, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power and responsibilities established in the Act. This proposed rule also is not subject to Executive Order 13045 "Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks" (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), because it is not economically significant.

In reviewing SIP submissions, EPA's role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the Act. In this context, in the absence of a prior existing requirement for the state to use voluntary consensus standards (VCS), EPA has no authority to disapprove a SIP submission for failure to use VCS. It would thus be inconsistent with applicable law for EPA, when it reviews a SIP submission, to use VCS in place of a SIP submission that otherwise satisfies the provisions of the Act. Thus, the requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) do not apply. This proposed rule does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Approval and Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; Minnesota

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: EPA is proposing to approve revisions to the sulfur dioxide requirements for Flint Hills Resources, L.P. (Flint Hills) of Dakota County, Minnesota. The requested revisions will allow the Rosemont, Minnesota petroleum refinery to produce ultra low sulfur diesel fuel. This expansion will add five sources and create an increase in sulfur dioxide emissions. An analysis of the additional sources was conducted. The results shows that the air quality of Dakota County will remain in compliance with the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for sulfur dioxide.

In the final rules section of this Federal Register, EPA is approving the SIP revision as a direct final rule without prior proposal, because EPA views this as a noncontroversial revision and anticipates no adverse comments. A detailed rationale for the approval is set forth in the direct final rule. If we do not receive any adverse comments in response to these direct final and proposed rules, we do not contemplate taking any further action in relation to this proposed rule. If EPA receives adverse comments, we will withdraw the direct final rule and will respond to all public comments in a subsequent final rule based on this proposed rule. EPA will not institute a second comment period on this action. Any parties interested in commenting on this action should do so at this time.

In addition to one complete version of the comment that includes information claimed as CBI, a copy of the comment that does not contain the information claimed as CBI must be submitted for inclusion in the public docket.

Information so marked will not be disclosed except in accordance with procedures set forth in 40 CFR part 2.

2. Tips for Preparing Your Comments. When submitting comments, remember to:

a. Identify the rulemaking by docket number and other identifying information (subject heading, Federal Register date and page number).

b. Follow directions—The agency may ask you to respond to specific questions or organize comments by referencing a Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) part or section number.

c. Explain why you agree or disagree; suggest alternatives and substitute language for your requested changes.

d. Describe any assumptions and provide any technical information and/or data that you used.

e. If you estimate potential costs or burdens, explain how you arrived at your estimate in sufficient detail to allow for it to be reproduced.

f. Provide specific examples to illustrate your concerns, and suggest alternatives.

g. Explain your views as clearly as possible, avoiding the use of profanity or personal threats.

h. Make sure to submit your comments by the comment period deadline identified.

II. What Action Is EPA Taking Today?

The EPA is proposing to approve revisions to the Minnesota sulfur dioxide State Implementation Plan for the Flint Hills refinery. Flint Hills is installing equipment to begin producing ultra low sulfur diesel fuel. This revision adds five new emission sources and create an 125.7 tons per year increase in sulfur dioxide emissions at the Flint Hills facility. Flint Hills conducted air dispersion modeling to assess the effect of its proposed new equipment and operating plan on ambient air quality. The final results of the Flint Hills modeling, including background sulfur dioxide concentrations, were below the 3-hour, 24-hour, and annual sulfur dioxide NAAQS.

Approval and Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; Spokane PM₁₀ Nonattainment Area Limited Maintenance Plan and Redesignation Request

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: EPA is proposing to approve revisions to the Limited Maintenance Plan for the Spokane nonattainment area (NAA) in Washington and grant the request by the State to redesignate the area from nonattainment to attainment for PM₁₀. On November 30, 2004, the State of Washington submitted a Limited Maintenance Plan (LMP) for the Spokane nonattainment area (NAA) for approval and concurrently requested that EPA redesignate the Spokane NAA to attainment for the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for particulate matter with an aerodynamic diameter less than or equal to a nominal 10 micrometers (PM₁₀). In 1997, EPA approved Washington's moderate area plan for the Spokane NAA for all PM₁₀ sources except windblown dust. In this action, EPA is also proposing to approve the remaining elements of the Spokane NAA moderate area plan for windblown dust sources.

I. General Overview

A. What Action Are We Taking?

We are proposing to approve the SIP revision and redesignation request submitted by the State of Washington Department of Ecology (Ecology or State) on March 29, 2005, for the Wallula, Washington PM₁₀ nonattainment area (Wallula nonattainment area). We are proposing to approve the revision and request for redesignation because we believe the State adequately demonstrates that the control measures being implemented in the Wallula area result in maintenance of the PM₁₀ National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) and that all other requirements of the Clean Air Act (the Act) for redesignation to attainment are met. See the Technical Support Document (TSD) accompanying this notice for further supporting documentation

B. What Is the Background for This Action?

1. Description of the Area

The Wallula nonattainment area lies in eastern Washington just north of the Oregon border in the southern portion of the Columbia Plateau. The nonattainment area is a 12 square mile area and includes parts of Walla Walla and Benton Counties and a small portion of Sacajawea State Park in Franklin County. The Wallula area is located in the lowest and driest section of eastern Washington and receives as little as seven to nine inches of precipitation each year. Summer precipitation is usually associated with thunderstorms and it is not unusual for four to six weeks to pass without measurable rainfall in the summer. The Columbia Plateau is also known for prolonged periods of strong winds which carry dust particles for hundreds of miles downwind. Wind erosion is a particular problem in the area because of the natural dustiness of the region due to its dry environments, scant vegetation, unpredictable high winds, and soils which contain substantial quantities of PM₁₀.

The Wallula nonattainment area is generally rural and agricultural. Prominent land uses include dryland and irrigated cropland, industrial sites and natural vegetation. There is only one major stationary source in the nonattainment area, a large pulp and paper mill and its associated compost facility and landfill. There is also a large beef cattle feedlot, a beef processing plant, a natural gas compressor station, grain storage silos and a few other minor sources. The population of the area is approximately 4800. Two-thirds of the population live in the northwest portion of the nonattainment area in the unincorporated town of Burbank.

2. Description of the Air Quality Problem

Air quality analysis shows dust is the main contributor to the area's PM₁₀ exceedances. (See supporting documentation for our approval of the serious area plan at 70 FR 22597 (May 2, 2005).) Analyses of high and low wind days and of high and low PM₁₀ days reveal dust to be the primary material collected on other days as well. An emissions inventory identifies fugitive dust from agricultural fields to be the predominant source of PM₁₀ in the area.

There have been nine reported PM₁₀ exceedances in the Wallula nonattainment area since January 1, 1995. All but one are attributed to dust raised by unusually high winds. To the extent the dust is attributable to anthropogenic (man-made) sources, such sources are controlled with best available control measures. As discussed in the approval of the serious area plan (70 FR 22597 (May 2, 2005)), EPA's Natural Event Policy allows these exceedances to be excluded from determinations of whether the area is attaining the PM₁₀ standards. See Memorandum from EPA's Assistant Administrator for Air and Radiation to EPA Regional Air Directors entitled "Areas Affected by Natural Events," dated May 30, 1996 (EPA's Natural Events Policy).

One exceedance since January 1, 1995 was not due to high winds. This exceedance, which occurred on July 3, 1997, was attributed to an unusual and nonrecurring activity involving the transport of multiple loads of composting material near the monitor.

The Wallula serious area plan demonstrated attainment with the PM₁₀ NAAQS by showing that agricultural field activities in the area are employing best management practices to reduce PM₁₀ emissions, and that the feedlot, compost facility and other sources of fugitive PM₁₀ emissions employ best available control measures. The measures include steps to prevent the type of exceedance that occurred on July 3, 1997 from happening again.

3. Nonattainment History of the Wallula Area

The Wallula area was designated nonattainment for PM₁₀ and classified as moderate under sections 107(d)(4)(B) and 188(a) of the CAA upon enactment of the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990.¹ See 40 CFR 81.348 (PM₁₀ Initial Nonattainment Areas); see also 56 FR 56694 (November 6, 1991). Under subsections 188(a) and (c)(1) of the CAA, all initial moderate PM₁₀ nonattainment areas had the same applicable attainment date of December 31, 1994.

States containing initial moderate PM₁₀ nonattainment areas were required to develop and submit to EPA by November 15, 1991, a SIP revision providing for, among other things, implementation of reasonably available control measures (RACM), including reasonably available control technology (RACT), and a demonstration of attainment of the PM₁₀ NAAQS by December 31, 1994. See section 189(a) of the CAA.² In response to this submission requirement, Ecology submitted a SIP revision for Wallula on November 15, 1991. Subsequently, Ecology submitted additional information indicating that nonanthropogenic sources may be significant in the Wallula nonattainment area during windblown dust events. Based on our review of the State's submissions, we deferred action on several elements in the Wallula SIP, approved the control measures in the SIP as meeting RACM/RACT, and, under section 188(f) of the CAA, granted a temporary waiver to extend the attainment date for Wallula to December 31, 1997. See 60 FR 63109 (December 6, 1995) (proposed action); 62 FR 3800 (January 27, 1997) (final action). The temporary waiver was intended to provide Ecology time to evaluate further the Wallula nonattainment area and to determine the significance of the anthropogenic and nonanthropogenic sources impacting the area. Once these activities were complete or the temporary waiver expired, EPA was to make a decision on whether the area was eligible for a permanent waiver under section 188(f) of the CAA or whether the area had attained the standard by the extended attainment date. See 62 FR at 3802.

On February 9, 2001, EPA published a Federal Register notice making a final determination that the Wallula area had not attained the PM₁₀ standard by the attainment date of December 31, 1997. See 66 FR 9663 (February 9, 2001) (final action); (65 FR 69275) (November 16, 2000) (proposed action). EPA made this determination based on air quality data for calendar years 1995, 1996, and 1997. As a result of that finding, the Wallula nonattainment area was reclassified by operation of law as a serious PM₁₀ nonattainment area effective March 12, 2001 with an attainment date of December 31, 2001.³ See 188(b)(2)(A) and 188(c)(2). On October 22, 2002, EPA found that the Wallula nonattainment area attained the NAAQS for PM₁₀ as of December 31, 2001. EPA's finding was based on EPA's review of monitored air quality data in its Air Quality System (AQS) database for the years 1999 through 2001. EPA's finding included a determination that exceedances that occurred in the area on June 21, 1997, July 10, 1998, June 23, 1999, and August 10, 2000 were due to high winds and, consistent with EPA policy, not considered in determining the area's air quality status. EPA has stated that it will treat ambient PM₁₀ exceedances caused by dust raised by unusually high winds as due to uncontrollable natural events (and thus excludable from attainment determinations) if either (1) the dust originated from nonanthropogenic sources or (2) the dust originated from anthropogenic sources controlled with best available control measures (BACM). See EPA's Natural Events Policy, pp. 4–5.

After EPA made its finding of attainment, Ecology continued to investigate the one remaining exceedance on July 3, 1997 that led to the area's reclassification to serious. Ecology concluded that the exceedance was likely attributable to a one time non-recurring activity involving the transportation of 130 truckloads of finished compost near the monitor on July 1–3, 1997. Although this activity was determined to be unusual and nonrecurring and EPA subsequently determined that the area attained the standards as of December 31, 2001, the Wallula area remained classified as a serious nonattainment area. As a result, a serious area nonattainment SIP revision—in addition to the moderate area SIP revision required under section 189(a)—was required under section 189(b). Ecology submitted a SIP revision meeting both the moderate and serious area planning requirements on November 30, 2004. We approved this SIP revision on May 2, 2005. 70 FR 22597.

In order for the Wallula nonattainment area to be redesignated to attainment for PM₁₀, a 10-year maintenance plan and redesignation request is required for the area. A SIP revision containing these elements was submitted to EPA on March 29, 2005. The accompanying TSD explains why we recommend approval of both the plan and request contained in this revision.

C. What Impact Does This Action Have on the Community in the Wallula Area?

EPA's approval of the State's SIP submittal (that is, approval of the maintenance plan and redesignation request) would result in redesignation of Wallula to a PM₁₀ attainment area. A redesignation to attainment would relieve the Wallula area of certain obligations currently in place because of its nonattainment status. In the event of new sources in the area, minor New Source Review (NSR) and Prevention of

¹ The 1990 Amendments to the CAA made significant changes. See Public Law 101–549, 104 Stat. 2399. References herein are to the CAA as amended in 1990. The Clean Air Act is codified, as amended, in the United States Code at 42 U.S.C. 7401 et seq.

² The moderate area SIP requirements are set forth in section 189(a) of the CAA.

³ Under section 188(c)(2) of the CAA, attainment areas designated nonattainment for PM₁₀ under section 107(d)(4) of the CAA were required to attain the PM₁₀ standard no later than December 31, 2001. As discussed above, Wallula was designated nonattainment under section 107(d)(4) of the CAA.

Significant Deterioration (PSD) requirements would apply.

Although the SIP revision contains emissions reduction control measures that impact both fugitive dust sources and industrial facilities, these control measures are already in place and are enforceable by the State. Therefore, our approval of these measures now has little or no additional regulatory impact on the Wallula community.

II. Review of Maintenance Plan

A. What Criteria Did EPA Use To Review the Maintenance Plan?

Section 107(d)(3)(E) of the Act stipulates that for an area to be redesignated to attainment, EPA must fully approve a maintenance plan which meets the requirements of Section 175A. Section 175A defines the general framework of a maintenance plan, which must provide for maintenance, i.e., continued attainment, of the relevant NAAQS in the area for at least ten years after redesignation. The following is a list of core provisions required in an approvable maintenance plan.

1. The State must develop an attainment emissions inventory to identify the level of emissions in the area which is sufficient to attain the NAAQS.
2. The State must demonstrate maintenance of the NAAQS.
3. The State must verify continued attainment through operation of an appropriate air quality monitoring network.
4. The maintenance plan must include contingency provisions to promptly correct any violation of the NAAQS that occurs after redesignation of the area.

See also the September 4, 1992 Calcagni guidance memorandum (Procedures for Processing Requests to Redesignate Areas to Attainment).

As explained below, the PM₁₀ maintenance plan for the Wallula nonattainment area complies with each of these requirements. See the accompanying TSD for further documentation supporting approval of this plan.

1. Attainment Emissions Inventory (and Future Year Inventory)

The State should develop an attainment year emissions inventory to identify the level of emissions in the area which is sufficient to attain the NAAQS. Where the State has made an adequate demonstration that air quality has improved as a result of the control measures in the SIP, the attainment inventory will generally be an inventory of actual emissions at the time the area attained the standards. This inventory should be consistent with EPA's most recent guidance on emissions inventories for nonattainment areas available at the time and should include the emissions during the time period associated with the monitoring data showing attainment.

The State submitted a PM₁₀ attainment emissions inventory for 2002, a year associated with monitoring data showing attainment. We made an official finding that the area met its attainment date as of December 31, 2001, based on 1999, 2000 and 2001 data. See 67 FR 64815 (October 22, 2002). Air quality data since then, including for 2002, has continued to show attainment.

The 2002 inventory reflects the predominantly rural, agricultural nature of the nonattainment area. Agricultural tilling accounts for just over half (51%) of the area's emissions. The rest are attributed to the pulp and paper mill (the only major source in the nonattainment area), small industrial sources, and mobile sources, which account for 20%, 19% and 9%, respectively.

The state also submitted a 2015 emissions inventory to correspond with the end of the 10 year period covered by the maintenance plan. The total emissions projected for 2015 are more than twice those of the 2002 attainment inventory on both an annual and typical PM₁₀ season day basis. The increase is primarily due to the use of allowable emissions from the existing point sources, and not primarily due to a projected increase in actual emissions. In addition, the 2015 inventory includes permitted emissions from a natural gas-fired power plant for which the state has issued a permit to construct, but which has not yet been constructed.

The methods used to develop the emissions inventories are consistent with EPA guidelines. The assumptions and calculations were checked and found to be thorough and comprehensive. In sum, the State has adequately developed an attainment emissions inventory for 2002 that identifies the levels of emissions of PM₁₀ in the area as sufficient to attain the NAAQS. Further, the State has adequately developed a future year inventory for use in demonstrating maintenance with the NAAQS at least ten years after redesignation.

2. Maintenance Demonstration

A State may generally demonstrate maintenance of the NAAQS by either showing that future emissions of a pollutant or its precursors will not exceed the level of the attainment inventory, or by modeling to show that the future mix of sources and emission rates will not cause a violation of the NAAQS. Under the Act, PM₁₀ areas are required to submit modeled attainment demonstrations to show that proposed reductions in emissions will be sufficient to attain the applicable NAAQS. For these areas, the maintenance demonstration should be based upon the same level of modeling. The demonstration should be for a period of 10 years following the redesignation.

a. 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS

The 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS is 150 µg/m³. This daily standard is attained when the expected number of days per calendar year with a 24-hour average concentration above 150 µg/m³ is equal to or less than one. To demonstrate maintenance of the 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS for the Wallula nonattainment area, the State used a combination of linear speciated rollback and dispersion modeling.

To select dates for speciated rollback modeling, Ecology evaluated filters collected from the 2000–2002 period, the most recent three years for which data from a single monitoring location was available. (The monitoring location was moved in 2003.) During this period, there were nine days that reached elevated levels (defined as 24-hour levels 90 µg/m³ or above). Of those, three dates are associated with a natural event and excluded from further analysis because the sources on those days are addressed by the Natural Events Policy.⁴ Two other dates are excluded because either there is no meteorological information for that day or the mixed wind regime on that day makes it too difficult to relate the exceedance to meteorology. Finally, one date is excluded because it is the lowest of the nine elevated levels (90 µg/m³) and would be unlikely to impact the ⁴Two of these dates, August 10, 2000 and September 29, 2002, are documented by EPA as natural events. 70 FR 22597, May 2, 2005. A third date, May 2, 2002, was claimed as a high wind natural event in Ecology's submittal but was not an exceedance. We cannot concur with the high wind event on May 2, 2002 because the documentation was not submitted within 6 months of occurrence, the timeline in our Natural Events Policy. Nevertheless, we believe it is acceptable to exclude May 2, 2002 from the maintenance demonstration analysis because it corresponds with a date that an accepted natural event exceedance occurred in nearby Walla Walla. Given the proximity of the Wallula and Walla Walla monitors (within about 30 miles of each other) and recognizing both areas are covered by the same 2003 Columbia Plateau Natural Event Action Plan, it is reasonable to believe that the contributing sources for both Wallula and Walla Walla were adequately addressed under the Natural Events Policy on that day.

state's ability to demonstrate maintenance of the NAAQS.⁵ The remaining dates used by the state for its analysis are June 29, 2000, July 12, 2001, and June 17, 2000. These dates correspond to dates on which one of two wind regimes (southwest and north) existed, representing the wind directions for a majority of the elevated readings.

The measured 24-hour concentrations on June 29, 2000, July 12, 2001 and June 17, 2000 were 126 ug/m³, 109 ug/m³, and 100 ug/m³, respectively. The primary constituents found on the filter for the first two days were compost and agricultural soil/unpaved road dust (agricultural soil and unpaved road dust were too similar to be differentiated). The primary constituents on the filter for the third day were also compost and agricultural soil/unpaved road dust, with minor contribution from a beef processing plant.

Using linear speciated rollback modeling, the contribution of each constituent on each filter was multiplied by the appropriate growth factor used to project the 2015 emissions inventory. These results were summed for each filter to arrive at total maximum projected levels for 2015. The predicted levels were 128ug/m³, 111 ug/m³, and 103 ug/m³. All three projected levels are below the 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS demonstrating maintenance of the 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS.

Dispersion Modeling

Two other evaluations were performed to ensure maintenance of the 24-hour NAAQS in Wallula. First, the State evaluated the impact of emissions from Boise Paper Solutions, a pulp and paper mill and the only existing major stationary source in the nonattainment area. Using AERMOD-Prime, the State modeled the mill's maximum allowable emissions out to 2015. The model showed a maximum impact of 87.93 ug/m³. When added to the projected PM₁₀ background concentration of 52.0 ug/m³ (reflecting the background concentration outside the nonattainment area and the contribution of other sources within the nonattainment area), the total maximum projected PM₁₀ level for 2015 was 139.93 ug/m³. This level is below the 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS and demonstrates the mill will not adversely impact continued attainment of the NAAQS.

A second evaluation was performed for a future natural gas-fired power generating station, the Wallula Power Project, which is planned but not yet constructed in the nonattainment area. As part of the permitting process, the source's projected allowable emissions were modeled to determine their potential impact on air quality and were found to be insignificant. The results of this evaluation demonstrate that the gas-fired generating station will not interfere with the area's continued attainment of the NAAQS.

b. PM₁₀ Annual NAAQS

The annual PM₁₀ NAAQS is 50 ug/m³. This yearly standard is attained when the expected annual arithmetic mean concentration is less than or equal to 50 ug/m³.

To demonstrate attainment of the annual PM₁₀ NAAQS, Ecology relies on the area's historic monitoring data in lieu of a modeling demonstration. We believe this approach is appropriate for two reasons. First, the Wallula nonattainment area has never violated the annual PM₁₀ NAAQS since monitoring began in 1986. Second, annual arithmetic mean concentrations in recent years have been more than 30 percent below the standard. Based on evidence of low annual levels for the area, in combination with our expectation that control measures implemented to reduce 24-hour levels will also aid in reducing annual levels, we believe it is very unlikely that the Wallula area will exceed the annual standard in the future. Consequently, we believe that maintenance of the annual standard is demonstrated for the area.

In sum, linear speciated rollback modeling and dispersion modeling show that the area will meet the 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS at least until 2015. Air quality data and control measures to reduce 24-hour levels adequately demonstrate maintenance of the annual standard. We therefore conclude that the State has met the requirements under section 175A of the Act to demonstrate maintenance of the NAAQS for PM₁₀.

3. Monitoring Network

For most of the period since 1986, Ecology's monitoring network for the Wallula nonattainment area has consisted of a single monitoring site. This site is referred to in EPA's Air Quality System (AQS) database as the Nedrow Farm/Wallula Junction monitoring site. This monitoring site was discontinued pursuant to an agreement with the landowner to stop using the monitoring location by October 31, 2003.

In anticipation of the closure of the Nedrow Farm/Wallula Junction monitoring site, Ecology provided EPA with an analysis of the two potential replacement sites and recommended Burbank for the replacement site on the grounds that the monitor at the Burbank site measured the same air mass as the Wallula monitoring site. Based on our review of the data measured at the two sites, we agreed that Burbank was an appropriate replacement site to the original Wallula monitoring site. Burbank is now the sole PM₁₀ monitoring location in the nonattainment area. There are two PM₁₀ monitors at this location. One is a Federal Reference Method (FRM) monitor that has a sampling frequency of once every three days. The other is a tapered element oscillating microbalance (TEOM) mass monitor that runs continuously.

Ecology has operated an ambient air quality monitoring network for PM₁₀ in Washington since the mid 1980s. The State network, which includes the Burbank monitoring site, utilizes EPA reference or equivalent method monitors and routine precision and accuracy checks of the monitoring equipment are made and necessary maintenance performed when warranted. EPA routinely reviews the State monitoring program and it meets Federal requirements.

4. Verification of Continued Attainment

Once an area has been redesignated, the State must continue to operate an appropriate air quality monitoring network, in accordance with 40 CFR part 58, to verify the attainment status of the area. The maintenance plan should contain provisions for continued operation of air quality monitors that will provide such verification. In section 4.4 of the maintenance plan, the State commits to maintaining a monitoring network that meets the requirements of 40 CFR part 58.

5. Contingency Plan

Section 175A of the Act also requires that a maintenance plan include contingency provisions, as necessary, to correct promptly any violation of the NAAQS that occurs after redesignation. These contingency measures are distinguished from those generally required for nonattainment areas under section 172(c)(9). At a minimum, the contingency measures must include a commitment that the State will implement all measures contained in ⁵ The State excluded this elevated level because of high winds on that day, but high winds alone (absent appropriately submitted Natural Event Policy documentation) does not warrant exclusion from the data. Nevertheless, we believe it is acceptable to exclude this date because it is the lowest of the nine levels and would be unlikely to impact the state's ability to demonstrate maintenance.

the nonattainment SIP prior to redesignation.

The State carries over all of the control measures and contingency measures from the serious area plan into the maintenance plan. These contingency measures focus on the mitigation of windblown dust because windblown dust is associated with all recent exceedances of the standard (since 1997) and is the most likely cause of future exceedances. Because of the likelihood of future wind blown exceedances, the plan does not include a PM₁₀ trigger level for implementing the contingency measures. Rather, the measures are to be implemented on a regular basis regardless of the PM₁₀ levels measured.

The plan's contingency measures include improvements to Ecology's process for identifying source contributors when high wind events are occurring, certain PM₁₀ reduction projects included in Ecology's 2003 NEAP, and Ecology's BACM demonstration and our accompanying review every time a windblown dust exceedance occurs. The maintenance plan provides an update on the implementation of these measures, including the status of the use of mulched straw in highly erodible areas to protect occurrences of windblown dust, efforts to facilitate the building of conservation buffers to reduce wind erosion, and expanded enrollment of conservation reserve program acreage in the Horse Heaven Hills. See section 4.6 of the maintenance plan.

In carrying over all the control and contingency measures from the serious area plan, the State has not removed or reduced the stringency of the control measures relied on to demonstrate attainment. Therefore, the State meets the requirement to implement all measures contained in the serious area plan prior to redesignation. Therefore we conclude that the State meets the requirements for contingency measures in the maintenance plan.

B. What Do We Conclude About the Maintenance Plan?

Based on our review of the Wallula PM₁₀ maintenance plan and for the reasons discussed above, we conclude that the requirements for an approvable maintenance plan under the Act have been met. Therefore, we are proposing approval of the maintenance plan for PM₁₀ submitted for the Wallula nonattainment area.

III. Review of Redesignation Request

A. What Criteria Did EPA Use To Review the Request for Redesignation?

The criteria used to review the maintenance plan and redesignation request are derived from the Act, the General Preamble, and a policy and guidance memorandum from John Calcagni, September 4, 1992, Procedures for Processing Requests to Redesignate Areas to Attainment. Section 107(d)(3)(E) of the Act states that the EPA can be redesignate an area to attainment if the following conditions are met:

1. The Administrator has determined the area has attained the NAAQS.
2. The Administrator has fully approved the applicable implementation plan under section 110(k).
3. The Administrator has determined that the improvement in air quality is due to permanent and enforceable reductions in emissions.
4. The State has met all applicable requirements for the area under section 110 and part D.
5. The Administrator has fully approved a maintenance plan, including a contingency plan, for the area under section 175A.

1. Attainment of the NAAQS

Currently the area is in compliance with both the 24-hour and annual PM₁₀ NAAQS. A thorough discussion of the area's compliance with the 24-hour PM₁₀ standard as of December 31, 2001 and for the most recent three full years for which data is available, 2001, 2002, and 2003, is contained in EPA's attainment determination (67 FR 64816, September 3, 2002) and serious area plan approval (70 FR 22597, (May 2, 2005)). Based on data reported in AQS, there have been no exceedances of the PM₁₀ NAAQS since those determinations were made. Therefore, the area continues to meet both the 24-hour and annual PM₁₀ NAAQS.

To determine attainment of the annual PM₁₀ NAAQS, which is 50 ug/m³, the standard is compared to the expected annual mean, which is the average of the weighted annual mean for three consecutive years. The weighted annual mean for each of two consecutive 3-year periods, 1999–2001 and 2000–2002, are 31 ug/m³ and 30 ug/m³, respectively. Because these values are below the 50 ug/m³ standard, the nonattainment area is in attainment with the annual PM₁₀ NAAQS.

2. SIP Nonattainment Area Plan Approval Under Section 110(k)

States containing initial moderate PM₁₀ nonattainment areas were required to submit, by November 15, 1991, a nonattainment area plan that implemented reasonably available control measures (RACM) by December 10, 1993, and demonstrated attainment of the PM₁₀ NAAQS by December 31, 1994. This date was extended to December 31, 1997 for Wallula under a temporary waiver and then to December 31, 2001 after it was reclassified as a serious area. The SIP for the area must be fully approved under section 110(k) of the Act, and must satisfy all requirements that apply to the area.

On May 2, 2005 (70 FR 22597), EPA fully approved the serious area plan for the Wallula nonattainment area submitted by the State on November 30, 2004. EPA approved the State of Washington's nonattainment NSR program in on June 2, 1995. 60 FR 28726. The Wallula serious area plan demonstrated attainment of the PM₁₀ NAAQS by the area's December 31, 2001 deadline. Thus, the area has a fully approved nonattainment SIP.

3. Permanent and Enforceable Improvement in Air Quality

The State must be able to reasonably attribute the improvement in air quality to permanent and enforceable emissions reductions. In making this showing, the State must demonstrate that air quality improvements are the result of actual enforceable emissions reductions. This showing should consider emission rates, production capacities, and other related information. The analysis should assume that sources are operating at permitted levels (or historic peak levels) unless evidence is presented that such an assumption is unrealistic.

Improvements in air quality in the Wallula nonattainment area are reasonably attributed to permanent and enforceable emissions reductions. Process controls and emission limits established at the pulp and paper mill and at the beef processing facility, along with paving at the mill, are permanent and enforceable measures and result in emissions reductions that are not dependent upon meteorology or economic conditions. In addition, because the truck transport activity in 1997 that led to a violation of the 24-hour PM₁₀ NAAQS and reclassification to a serious nonattainment area was an unusual and nonrecurring activity, its cessation also results in permanent reductions.

BACM is being applied to agricultural fields in the Wallula nonattainment area and surrounding areas to reduce the generation of windblown dust. Agricultural data showing an increase in the application of best management practices in the Wallula area over the past decade and new and continued incentives provided by the Federal Food Security Act of 1985 (FSA), as amended in 1996 and 2002, (see 16 U.S.C. 3801–3862), provide further evidence that emissions reductions are the result of permanent control measures and not dependent on meteorology or economic conditions. Both the beef cattle feedlot and the composting facility have dust control plans that call for management practices to minimize fugitive dust and which have been incorporated into permits for these facilities. These were approved as permanent control measures in the Wallula serious area plan.

4. Section 110 and Part D Requirements

Before EPA may approve a redesignation request, the applicable programs under section 110 and Part D that were due prior to the submission of a redesignation request must be adopted by the State and approved by EPA into the SIP.

a. Section 110 Requirements

Section 110(a)(2) of the Act contains general requirements for nonattainment area plans. These requirements include, but are not limited to, submission of a SIP that has been adopted by the State after reasonable notice and public hearing; provisions for establishment and operation of appropriate apparatus, methods, systems and procedures necessary to monitor ambient air quality; implementation of a permit program; provisions for Part C—Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) and Part D—New Source Review (NSR) permit programs; criteria for stationary source emission control measures, monitoring, and reporting, provisions for modeling; and provisions for public and local agency participation.

For purposes of redesignation, the Washington SIP was reviewed to ensure that the State has satisfied all requirements under the Act. Further, in 40 CFR 52.2473, EPA has approved Washington's SIP for the attainment and maintenance of the national standards under Section 110. The provisions related to NSR were most recently approved in the Washington SIP on June 2, 1995, 60 FR 28726. The Federal PSD regulations found at 40 CFR 52.21 are the PSD rules in effect for Washington. See 40 CFR 52.2497.

b. Part D Requirements

Part D consists of general requirements applicable to all areas which are designated nonattainment based on a violation of the NAAQS. The general requirements are followed by a series of subparts specific to each pollutant. All PM₁₀ nonattainment areas must meet the applicable general provisions of subpart 1 and the specific PM₁₀ provisions in subpart 4, “Additional Provisions for Particulate Matter Nonattainment Areas.” The following paragraphs discuss these requirements as they apply to the Wallula nonattainment area.

i. Section 172(c) Plan Provisions

This section contains general requirements for nonattainment area plans. A thorough discussion of these requirements may be found in the general preamble to Title I (57 FR 13498 (April 16, 1992)). The requirements for reasonable further progress, identification of certain emissions increases, emissions inventory, and other measures needed for attainment are satisfied by the serious area plan submitted for the Wallula nonattainment area and approved on May 2, 2005, 70 FR 22597. As mentioned above, the provisions related to NSR were most recently approved in the Washington SIP on June 2, 1995 (60 FR 28726) and the Federal PSD regulations found at 40 CFR 52.21 are the PSD rules in effect for Washington. See 40 CFR 52.2497.

ii. Subpart 4 Requirements

As a moderate PM₁₀ nonattainment area, the Wallula, Washington area must meet Part D, subpart 4, sections 189(a), (c), and (e) requirements before the area can be redesignated to attainment. These requirements must be fully approved into the SIP.

EPA approved the serious area plan for the Wallula nonattainment area, which met the initial requirements of the 1990 amendments for moderate and serious PM₁₀ nonattainment areas, on May 2, 2005, 70 FR 22597. This plan met requirements for RACM/BACM, demonstrating attainment, quantitative milestones, PM₁₀ precursors, contingency measures, and quantitative milestones for demonstrating RFP. The provisions related to NSR were most recently approved in the Washington SIP on June 2, 1995, 60 FR 28726. The Federal PSD regulations found at 40 CFR 52.21 are the PSD rules in effect for Washington. See 40 CFR 52.2497.

5. Conformity

CAA section 176(c) requires that federally-funded or approved transportation plans, programs, and projects in nonattainment areas “conform” to the area's air quality implementation plans. Conformity ensures that federal transportation actions do not worsen an area's air quality or interfere with its meeting the air quality standards. We have issued a conformity rule that establishes the criteria and procedures for determining whether or not transportation plans, programs, and projects conform to a SIP. See 40 CFR part 93, subpart A.

Ecology's analysis shows that mobile sources are an insignificant source of PM₁₀ emissions in the Wallula nonattainment area. As a result, a motor vehicle emissions budget is not required as part of the Wallula maintenance plan and transportation conformity does not apply in this area. See 40 CFR 93.109(k).

6. Maintenance Plans

Section 107(d)(3)(E) of the Act stipulates that for an area to be redesignated, EPA must fully approve a maintenance plan which meets the requirements of section 175A. A State may submit both the redesignation request and the maintenance plan at the same time and rulemaking on both may proceed on a parallel track.

On March 29, 2005, Ecology submitted a PM₁₀ maintenance plan and redesignation request for the Wallula nonattainment area. In Section II above, we evaluated the plan and concluded that the requirements for an approvable maintenance plan under the Act have been met.

B. What Do We Conclude About the Request for Redesignation?

Based on our review of the maintenance plan and the request for redesignation submitted for the Wallula nonattainment area, we conclude that all the requirements for redesignation in Section 107(d)(3)(E) have been met. Therefore, we are proposing to redesignate the Wallula PM₁₀ nonattainment area to attainment.

IV. Conclusion

Based on our evaluation of Ecology's March 29, 2005 SIP submittal, we propose full approval of the PM₁₀ maintenance plan and redesignation request for the Wallula nonattainment area.

V. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), this proposed action is not a “significant regulatory action” and therefore is not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget. For this reason, this action is also not subject to Executive Order 13211, "Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use" (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001). This proposed action merely proposes to approve state law as meeting Federal requirements and imposes no additional requirements beyond those imposed by state law. Accordingly, the Administrator certifies that this proposed rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). Because this rule proposes to approve pre-existing requirements under state law and does not impose any additional enforceable duty beyond that required by state law, it does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-4).

This proposed rule also does not have tribal implications because it will not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000). This action also does not have federalism implications because it does not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the National Government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999). This action merely proposes to approve a state rule implementing a Federal standard, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power and responsibilities established in the Clean Air Act. This proposed rule also is not subject to Executive Order 13045 "Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks" (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), because it is not economically significant.

In reviewing SIP submissions, EPA's role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the Clean Air Act. In this context, in the absence of a prior existing requirement for the State to use voluntary consensus standards (VCS), EPA has no authority to disapprove a SIP submission for failure to use VCS. It would thus be inconsistent with applicable law for EPA, when it reviews a SIP submission, to use VCS in place of a SIP submission that otherwise satisfies the provisions of the Clean Air Act. Thus, the requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) do not apply. This proposed rule does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Governance Standards for Central Nonprofit Agencies and Nonprofit Agencies Participating in the Javits-Wagner-O'Day Program

AGENCY: Committee for Purchase From People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled.

ACTION: Withdrawal of notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Committee for Purchase From People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled (The Committee), which is responsible for administering and overseeing the implementation of the Javits-Wagner-O'Day (JWOD) Act, published a notice of proposed rulemaking on November 12, 2004 (69 FR 65395) proposing to amend its regulations by requiring nonprofit agencies awarded Government contracts under the authority of the JWOD Act, as well as central nonprofit agencies designated by the Committee and nonprofit agencies that would like to qualify for participation in the JWOD Program, to comply with new governance standards. The Committee is now withdrawing this proposed rule for further study and will propose a new rule in the near future.

DATES: Effective Date: July 1, 2005.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: G. John Heyer, General Counsel, by telephone at (703) 603-2121, by fax at (703) 603-0655, by e-mail at jheyer@jwod.gov, or by postal mail at Committee for Purchase From People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled, 1421 Jefferson Davis Highway, Jefferson Plaza 2, Suite 10800, Arlington, VA 22202-3259.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Committee proposed by notice of November 12, 2004 (69 FR 65395) to amend its regulations to require nonprofit agencies awarded Government contracts under the authority of the JWOD Act, as well as central nonprofit agencies designated by the Committee and nonprofit agencies that would like to qualify for participation in the JWOD Program, to comply with new governance standards, including limits on executive compensation. The Committee, by notice of December 3, 2004 (69 FR 70214), extended the comment period on the proposal to February 10, 2005. By the close of the comment period, the Committee had received 167 written comments, from Members of Congress, representatives of designated central nonprofit agencies, representatives of nonprofit agencies, and other interested persons. Six commenters supported the proposed rule in its entirety, and eight other commenters supported the proposed rule in part but requested changes to other parts of the rule. Commenters who objected to the proposed rule frequently offered more than one reason for their objections, including 90 who questioned the Committee's authority to propose the rule; 106 who claimed that the proposed rule is duplicative of efforts of other Governmental entities, such as the Internal Revenue Service, which also regulate nonprofit agencies participating in the Committee's JWOD Program; and 84 who claimed that the rule is a waste of limited resources for most JWOD Program participants, as the Committee admitted that the proposed rule is a response to actions by a small number of program participants. The Committee's analysis of the comments revealed 106 different objections, most made by a small number of commenters, in addition to requests for extension of the original comment period, which the Committee granted, and requests for public hearings on the proposed rule.

As a first step in analyzing the comments received on the proposed rule, the Committee re-examined its legal authority in light of the arguments made in the comments and concluded that the JWOD Act's general rulemaking authority provision (41 U.S.C. 47(d)(1)(C)) does permit the Committee to propose a rule concerning governance standards and executive compensation for JWOD Program participants. There was nothing provided or referenced in the written comments which would explicitly and specifically prohibit the Committee from using its rulemaking authority to propose a rule of this nature.

However, the Committee believes that the number and nature of the other issues raised in the comments justify extensive study and revision of the rule. By withdrawing the proposed rule, the Committee will have the flexibility to make use of valuable insights it has received from reviewing the comments to craft a new rule or rules which will address its concerns without unintended consequences and excessive burdens on program participants. The Committee intends to propose a new rule or rules in this area by the end of the year.

Accordingly, the proposed rule of November 12, 2004 (69 FR 65395) is hereby withdrawn.

Dated: June 28, 2005.

Medicare and State Health Care Programs: Fraud and Abuse; Safe Harbor for Federally Qualified Health Centers Under the Anti-Kickback Statute

AGENCY: Office of Inspector General (OIG), HHS.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: In accordance with section 431 of the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement, and Modernization Act of 2003 (MMA), Public Law 108-173, this proposed rule would establish regulatory standards for the new safe harbor under the Federal anti-kickback statute for certain goods, items, services, donations, and loans provided by individuals and entities to certain health centers funded under section 330 of the Public Health Service Act. Under this proposed safe harbor, the goods, items, services, donations, or loans must contribute to the health center's ability to maintain or increase the availability, or enhance the quality, of services available to a medically underserved population.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

A. The Anti-Kickback Statute and Safe Harbors

Section 1128B(b) of the Social Security Act (the Act) (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7b(b), the anti-kickback statute) provides criminal penalties for individuals or entities that knowingly and willfully offer, pay, solicit, or receive remuneration in order to induce or reward the referral of business reimbursable under any of the Federal health care programs, as defined in section 1128B(f) of the Act. The offense is classified as a felony and is punishable by fines of up to $25,000 and imprisonment for up to 5 years. Violations of the anti-kickback statute may also result in the imposition of a civil money penalty (CMP) under section 1128A(a)(7) of the Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7a(a)(7)) or program exclusion under section 1128(b)(7) of the Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7(b)(7)) and liability under the False Claims Act (31 U.S.C. 3729-33).

The types of remuneration covered specifically include, without limitation, kickbacks, bribes, and rebates, whether made directly or indirectly, overtly or covertly, in cash or in kind. In addition, prohibited conduct includes not only the payment of remuneration intended to induce or reward referrals of patients, but also the payment of remuneration intended to induce or reward the purchasing, leasing, or ordering of, or arranging for or recommending the purchasing, leasing, or ordering of, any good, facility, service, or item reimbursable by any Federal health care program.

Section 14 of the Medicare and Medicaid Patient and Program Protection Act of 1987, Public Law 100-93, specifically required the development and promulgation of regulations, the so-called "safe harbor" provisions, that would specify various payment and business practices that would not be treated as criminal offenses under the anti-kickback statute, even though they may potentially be capable of inducing referrals of business under the Federal health care programs. Since July 29, 1991, we have published in the Federal Register a series of final regulations establishing "safe harbors" in various areas.¹ These OIG safe harbor provisions have been developed "to limit the reach of the statute somewhat by permitting certain non-abusive arrangements, while encouraging beneficial or innocuous arrangements." 56 FR 35952, 35958 (July 21, 1991).

Health care providers and others may voluntarily seek to comply with safe harbors so that they have the assurance that their business practices will not be subject to any enforcement action under the anti-kickback statute, the CMP provision for anti-kickback violations, or the program exclusion authority related to kickbacks. In giving the Department of Health and Human Services the authority to protect certain arrangements and payment practices under the anti-kickback statute, Congress intended the safe harbor regulations to be evolving rules that would be updated periodically to reflect changing business practices and technologies in the health care industry.

B. Section 330-Funded Health Centers

Beginning in the 1960s, Congress enacted various health center programs to assist the large number of individuals living in medically underserved areas, as well as the growing number of special populations with limited access to preventive and primary health care services. In the Health Centers Consolidation Act of 1996, Public Law 104–299, Congress consolidated the four then-existing Federal health center grant programs (the Migrant Health Center Program, the Community Health Center Program, the Health Care for the Homeless Program, and the Health Services for Residents of Public Housing Program) into a single program under section 330 of the Public Health Service (PHS) Act. See S. Rep. 104–186 (December 15, 1995). In 2003, the Federal health center programs supported 890 organizations that provided care to over 12 million patients at 3,600 health care service delivery sites.²

Section 330 grant recipients play a vital role in the health care safety net, providing cost effective care for communities with limited access to health care resources. All recipients of grants under section 330 are public, nonprofit, or tax-exempt (Internal Revenue Code section 501(c)(3) corporations) entities. The health centers must serve “a population that is medically underserved, or a special medically underserved population comprised of migratory and seasonal agricultural workers, the homeless, and residents of public housing.” 42 U.S.C. 254b(a)(1). Health centers must be community based; to this end, a majority of a health center’s governing board must be users of the center and must, as a group, represent the individuals being served by the center.³ 42 U.S.C. 254b(k)(3)(H)(i). Health centers receiving section 330 grant funding must provide, either directly or through contracts or cooperative arrangements, a broad range of required primary health care services, including clinical services by physicians, and, where appropriate, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, and nurse midwives; diagnostic laboratory and radiological services; preventive health services; emergency medical services; certain pharmaceutical services; referrals to other providers (including substance abuse and mental health services); patient case management; services that enable individuals to use the services of the health center (e.g., outreach, transportation, and translation services); and patient and community education services. 42 U.S.C. 254b(b)(1).

They may also provide certain additional health services that are appropriate to serve the health needs of the population served by the health center. 42 U.S.C. 254b(b)(2). These additional health services may include mental health and substance abuse services; recuperative care services; environmental health services; special occupation-related health services for migratory and seasonal agricultural workers; programs to control infectious disease; and injury prevention programs.

Consistent with their mission and the terms of their PHS grants, section 330 grant recipients serve predominantly low-income individuals, including some beneficiaries of the Medicare and Medicaid programs. In 2003, 36 percent of patients treated by section 330 grant recipients were beneficiaries of a Medicaid program, 7 percent were beneficiaries of the Medicare program, and 3 percent were beneficiaries of another public insurance program.⁴ Section 330 grant recipients also treat a substantial and growing number of uninsured patients. In 1996, section 330 grant recipients provided services to 3.2 million uninsured patients, and by 2003, this number had increased to 4.9 million, representing 39 percent of patients treated at those centers during that year.⁵

Section 330 grant recipients must serve all residents of their “catchment” area regardless of the patient’s ability to pay and must establish a fee schedule with discounts to adjust fees on the basis of ability to pay. 42 U.S.C. 254b(a)(1)(B) and 254b(k)(3)(G)(i). Section 330 grant recipients must also make and continue “every reasonable effort to establish and maintain collaborative relationships with other health care providers in the catchment area of the center” (42 U.S.C. 254b(k)(3)(B)), and must “develop an ongoing referral relationship” with at least one hospital in the area. 42 U.S.C. 254b(k)(3)(L).

Section 330 grant funds are intended to defray the costs of serving uninsured patients. Grant recipients are required to seek reimbursement from those patients who are able to pay all or a portion of the charges for their care (applying a schedule of fees and a corresponding schedule of discounts adjusted on the basis of the patient’s ability to pay) or who have private insurance or public coverage, such as Medicare or Medicaid. In general, section 330 grant funds help make up for shortfalls in health center revenues. Thus, the amount of a section 330 grant may not exceed the amount by which the costs of operation of the health center in such fiscal year exceed the total of: (i) State, local, and other operational funding provided to the health center; and (ii) the fees, premiums, and third-party reimbursements that the center may reasonably be expected to receive for its operations in such fiscal year. By statute, nongrant funds must be used to further the objectives of the recipient’s section 330 grant.

Section 330 grant funding accounts for approximately 25 to 30 percent of revenue for health centers receiving such grants. The majority of health center funding derives from charges for patient services. On average, approximately 6.2 percent of health center revenues come from private third-party reimbursement, 35.5 percent from Medicaid payments, 5.5 percent from Medicare payments, and 5.9 percent from self-payments from patients.⁶

Frequently, health centers are provided with, or seek out, opportunities to enter into arrangements with hospitals or other providers or suppliers to further the health centers’ patient care mission.⁷ For example, providers or suppliers may agree to provide health centers with capital development grants, low cost (or no cost) loans, reduced price services, or

The committee believes, based on expert testimony given at the May 14, 1995, hearing, that the development of integrated health care provider networks is key to preserving and strengthening access to community-based health care services in rural areas. Provider networks offer a number of advantages: they can work to ensure that a continuum of health care services is available, reduce the duplication of services, produce savings in administrative and other costs through shared services and an enhanced ability to negotiate in the health care market place, and recruit and utilize health professionals more effectively and efficiently.

Some providers and suppliers have expressed concern that remuneration offered to health centers might be viewed as suspect under the anti-kickback statute, because the health centers are frequently in a position to refer Federal health care program beneficiaries to the provider or supplier. Accordingly, Congress enacted section 431 of MMA to enable some health centers to conserve section 330 and other monies by accepting needed goods, items, services, donations, or loans for free or at reduced rates from willing providers and suppliers.

C. Section 431 of MMA

Section 431 of MMA amends the anti-kickback statute to create a new safe harbor for certain agreements involving health centers. Specifically, section 431(a) of MMA excludes from the reach of the anti-kickback statute any remuneration between: (i) A health center described under section 1905(l)(2)(B)(i) or 1905(l)(2)(B)(ii) of the Act; and (ii) an individual or entity providing goods, items, services, donations, loans, or a combination of these to the health center pursuant to a contract, lease, grant, loan, or other agreement, provided that such agreement contributes to the health center's ability to maintain or increase the availability, or enhance the quality, of services provided to a medically underserved population served by the health center.

In other words, Congress intended to permit health centers to accept certain remuneration that would otherwise implicate the anti-kickback statute when the remuneration furthers a core purpose of the Federal health centers program, i.e., ensuring the availability and quality of safety net health care services to otherwise underserved populations. As discussed in greater detail below, Congress limited the scope of the exception to certain health centers engaged in arrangements involving specific types of identifiable remuneration.

Section 431(b) of MMA requires the Department to promulgate regulatory standards relating to the new safe harbor. In establishing the standards, Congress directed the Department to consider the following factors:

- Whether the arrangement results in savings of Federal grant funds or increased revenues to the health center. We believe this factor evidences Congress's intent that a protected arrangement directly benefit the health center economically and that the benefits of the arrangement primarily inure to the health center, rather than the individual or entity providing the remuneration.

- Whether the arrangement restricts or limits patient freedom of choice. We believe this factor evidences Congress's intent that protected arrangements not result in inappropriate steering of patients. Under the safe harbor, patients remain free to obtain services from any provider or supplier willing to furnish them.

- Whether the arrangement protects the independent medical judgment of health care professionals regarding medically appropriate treatment for patients. We believe this factor evidences Congress's intent to safeguard the integrity of medical decision-making and ensure it is untainted by direct or indirect financial interests. In all cases, the best interests of the patient should guide the medical decision-making of health centers and their affiliated health care professionals.

Section 431(b)(1)(B) of MMA provides that these three factors are "among" the factors the Department may consider in establishing the safe harbor standards. The statute authorizes the Department to include "other standards and criteria that are consistent with the intent of Congress in enacting" the health center safe harbor. Section 431(b)(1) of MMA. Accordingly, we interpret the statute to permit us to consider other relevant factors and to establish other relevant safe harbor standards consistent with the anti-kickback statute and the health center exception. Among the factors we have considered is whether arrangements would pose a risk of fraud or abuse to any Federal health care programs or their beneficiaries. We believe Congress intended to protect arrangements that foster an important goal of the section 330 grant program—assuring the availability and quality of needed health care services for medically underserved populations—without adversely impacting other Federal programs or their beneficiaries.

II. Provisions of the Proposed Rule

This proposed rule would establish standards for a safe harbor under the anti-kickback statute that would protect certain remuneration provided by an individual or entity to certain health centers funded under section 330 of the PHS Act when all safe harbor conditions are satisfied.

A. Statutory Elements

1. Protected Health Centers

The health center safe harbor would be limited to health centers described under section 1905(l)(2)(B)(i) or 1905(l)(2)(B)(ii) of the Act. These sections describe health centers that satisfy all requirements for a section 330 grant and: (i) Directly receive such a grant; or (ii) receive such grant funding under contract with a grant recipient. For the purposes of these regulations, the facilities described in sections 1905(l)(2)(B)(i) and 1905(l)(2)(B)(ii) of the Act are referred to as "health centers." These health centers are two of the four types of Federally qualified health centers (FQHCs) described in section 1905(l)(2)(B) of the Act. Congress excluded from safe harbor protection the two other types of FQHCs described in sections 1905(l)(2)(B)(iii) and 1905(l)(2)(B)(iv) of the Act. Although these or other "look-alike" facilities might qualify for section 330 grant funding, they do not actually receive section 330 grant funding and are not similarly subject to Government oversight inherent in the grant approval and administration processes. We note that arrangements involving these other types of facilities that do not qualify for safe harbor protection are not necessarily unlawful under the anti-kickback statute; rather, such arrangements must be evaluated on a case-by-case basis for compliance with the anti-kickback statute.

2. Protected Remuneration

Section 431(a)(3) of MMA defines the scope of protected remuneration as "goods, items, services, donations, loans, or a combination thereof" provided by an individual or entity to a qualifying health center.⁸ Other forms of remuneration fall outside the scope of the safe harbor. To ensure that protected arrangements further the purposes of the safe harbor, we would require that the remuneration must be medical or clinical in nature or relate directly to patient services furnished by the health center as part of the scope of the health center's section 330 grant (including, for example, billing services, administrative support services, technology support, and enabling services, such as case management, transportation, and translation services).

We interpret section 431 of MMA as applying to remuneration provided by an individual or entity to the health center. Section 431 of MMA does not protect remuneration from a health center to an individual or entity. Any such arrangements must be evaluated on a case-by-case basis to ensure compliance with the anti-kickback statute.⁹ This interpretation is consistent with: (i) The statutory requirement that the remuneration contribute to the health center's ability to maintain or increase the availability or quality of services provided to medically underserved populations; and (ii) the factors set out in section 431(b), including, specifically, the factor at section 431(b)(i) related to the economic benefit to the health center.

Moreover, section 431(a)(3) of MMA makes clear that the health center exception only protects remuneration provided to a health center and does not protect remuneration provided to individuals affiliated with a health center, such as board members, physicians or other health care professionals, administrators, or others. Where remuneration results in personal gain for an individual in a position to influence the referral or award of business, there is an elevated risk of fraud or abuse.

Similarly, the exception, by its terms, does not protect remuneration offered by providers and suppliers to patients of the health center. Where the remuneration inures to the financial benefit of the patient, rather than the economic benefit of the health center, we believe the existing prohibitions on offering inducements to Federal health care program beneficiaries apply.¹⁰ These existing prohibitions are intended to prevent unscrupulous providers and suppliers from luring vulnerable patients to receive unnecessary, substandard, or overpriced services.¹¹ Notwithstanding, we make the following observations:

- Remuneration, such as reduced charges or free services, offered by providers and suppliers to uninsured patients is not prohibited by the Federal fraud and abuse laws, except in the unusual circumstances where a patient is a potential source of referrals of Federal health care program business (for example, the patient is an uninsured referring physician or an uninsured spouse or child of a referring physician).¹²

- Providers and suppliers may waive the cost-sharing amounts for Federal health care program patients who have financial need, provided the provider or supplier does not routinely waive copayments; the waivers are not offered as part of an advertisement or solicitation; and the copayments are waived only after a good faith individualized determination of financial need or the failure of reasonable collection efforts.¹³

To further ensure transparency and untainted medical decision-making, we would require that the goods, items, services, donations, or loans to be provided under a protected arrangement must be specified and fixed in advance in the agreement between the parties in the form of a fixed amount or sum, fixed percentage, or other fixed methodology.¹⁴ The fixed amount or sum, fixed percentage, or other methodology must not be conditioned on the volume or value of Federal health care program business generated between the parties. Requiring that the remuneration (or methodology for determining the remuneration) be fixed in advance would prevent the parties from subsequently adjusting the nature or quantity of the remuneration based on the volume or value of Federal health care program referrals generated by the health center. In addition, the requirement that the remuneration be fixed in advance and not conditioned on referrals would help protect the independent medical judgment of health care professionals.

3. Documentation Requirements

Section 431(a)(3) of MMA specifies that protected arrangements be "pursuant to a contract, lease, grant, loan, or other agreement." To enable the parties and the government to verify compliance with the safe harbor, we would require that the agreement: (i) Be in writing; (ii) be signed by the parties; and (iii) cover all the goods, items, services, donations, and loans provided by the individual or entity to the health center. These requirements would be satisfied by one comprehensive writing or by means of multiple writings that cross-reference or otherwise incorporate other agreements between the parties. These proposed documentation conditions are consistent with other safe harbors at 42 CFR 1001.952. Moreover, we believe these proposed documentation practices are consistent with existing prudent business practices of health centers. Importantly, the conduct of the arrangement must comport with the terms of the written agreement.

4. Benefit to a Medically Underserved Population

Section 431(a)(3) of MMA requires that a protected arrangement contribute to the ability of the health center to "maintain or increase the availability, or enhance the quality, of services provided to a medically underserved population served by the health center." This benefit to a medically underserved population is a critical factor distinguishing the safe harbored conduct from many otherwise potentially abusive arrangements.

Under existing program rules, health centers serve: (i) Populations that are medically underserved; or (ii) special medically underserved populations comprised of migratory and seasonal agricultural workers, homeless people, and residents of public housing. 42 U.S.C. 254b(a)(1). The term "medically underserved population" means "the population of an urban or rural area designated by the Secretary as an area with a shortage of personal health services or a population group designated by the Secretary as having a shortage of such services." 42 U.S.C. 254b(b)(3)(A). The Secretary bases such determinations on the health status of the population, as well as its ability to access and pay for needed services. Accordingly, for purposes of this safe harbor, we would define "medically underserved population" with reference

⁹ We note that some such arrangements may fit in other available safe harbors, such as the safe harbors for personal services and management contracts, employees, or practitioner recruitment, 42 CFR 1001.952(d), (i), and (n).

to the existing definition at 42 U.S.C. 254b(b)(3)(A) and the corresponding regulations at 42 CFR 51c.102(e). All health centers that qualify for section 330 funding serve at least one medically underserved population.

While the statute requires that a protected arrangement benefit a medically underserved population served by the health center by maintaining or increasing the availability or quality of services provided to the medically underserved population, Congress established no specific methodology for determining whether this benefit standard is satisfied. Having considered various options, we have concluded that Congressional intent would best be served by assessing whether an arrangement would result in the required benefit based upon the particular facts and circumstances. We believe health centers are well situated in the first instance to make a reasonable determination whether an arrangement will increase the availability, or enhance the quality, of services provided to a medically underserved population.

We do not interpret the statute as protecting arrangements in which the benefit to the health center and the medically underserved population it serves is merely incidental or where the arrangement primarily benefits the donor (e.g., through referrals of Federally billable business) rather than the health center. An incidental benefit to a medically underserved population tangentially related to an arrangement would not suffice to protect an arrangement under this proposed safe harbor. Accordingly, the proposed regulations would require that the arrangement must contribute "meaningfully" to the health center's ability to maintain or increase the availability, or enhance the quality, of services provided to a medically underserved population served by the health center.

In determining whether an arrangement would result in a meaningful benefit to a medically underserved population, the following factors, among others, should be considered:

- Does the arrangement directly benefit a medically underserved population (e.g., additional services of physicians or allied health professionals at the health center)?
- Does the arrangement involve goods, items, or services of a type that are commonly or typically purchased by the health center, such that the arrangement results in measurable savings that will benefit a medically underserved population?

- If the arrangement involves a donation to the health center, would the donation result in the increased availability of an item, good, device, service, technology, or treatment needed by a medically underserved population, but not previously available in sufficient quantities due to financial limitations?

- Does the health center need the donated items, goods, or services, or the loaned funds to satisfy the scope of its section 330 grant? It is important to note that this safe harbor only protects arrangements involving remuneration that helps the health center fulfill its section 330-grant mission (including, for example, transportation and other enabling services that help patients access the services available from the health center), but does not protect remuneration that does not further the health center's mission (e.g., unnecessary office space, superfluous supplies, or expired medications).

These factors are illustrative, not exhaustive, of relevant considerations. No one factor would be dispositive in determining whether an arrangement confers the benefit required for safe harbor protection. We are soliciting public comments on methods for establishing that an arrangement will confer the requisite benefit to a medically underserved population.

Health centers would be required to take reasonable and verifiable steps to ensure that all arrangements meaningfully contribute to the quality or availability of services the center provides to a medically underserved population. Specifically, to qualify for safe harbor protection, the health center would have to:

- Reasonably determine before entering into the agreement that the arrangement is likely to contribute to the health center's ability to maintain or increase the availability, or enhance the quality, of services to a medically underserved population. Health centers would have to apply reasonable, consistent, and uniform standards for determining this benefit to all proposed arrangements involving similar items, goods, services, loans, or donations. Assuming there is a reasonable and documented expectation of sufficient benefit at the onset of an agreement, the arrangement would not lose its safe harbor protection retroactively if the expected benefit were not, in fact, realized for reasons beyond the control of the parties.

- Periodically re-evaluate agreements to ensure ongoing compliance with the benefit standard and terminate as expeditiously as possible any arrangements that are not reasonably expected to continue to meet the standard. Re-evaluation would need to be conducted at reasonable intervals not to exceed one year, applying reasonable, consistent, and uniform standards. Terminated agreements would not be able to be renegotiated in a manner that is conditioned on the volume or value of Federal health care program referrals. Similarly, arrangements would not be able to be renewed unless the health center reasonably expected the benefit to a medically underserved population standard to be satisfied in the next agreement term.

- Document the initial determination and any re-evaluations contemporaneously. The nature of the documentation would need to be reasonable under the circumstances. Acceptable documentation might include, for example, an estimate of the value of the remuneration exchanged in the particular arrangement and its usefulness to the health center. For example, for an arrangement involving donated equipment, the health center might document the fair market value of the donated equipment or the expenses the health center would have otherwise incurred to purchase or lease similar equipment, as well as the extent to which accepting the donated equipment would increase the quantity or quality of services provided to health center patients. Similarly, for an arrangement involving a monetary donation, the health center might document the amount of the donation and the estimated health care services to be purchased or furnished with the funds. The health center would need to make this documentation available to the Secretary upon request.

We think it likely that many of these steps are those that a prudent health center would otherwise take when evaluating an offer from an individual or entity.

B. Additional Regulatory Standards

Section 431(b) of MMA authorizes us to add additional standards or criteria consistent with Congress's intent in creating an exception under the anti-kickback statute for certain arrangements involving health centers. As discussed above, Congress set forth specific factors that we must consider when establishing safe harbor standards.

1. Freedom of Choice and Independent Medical Judgment

Section 431(b) of MMA directs us to consider the impact of a health center's arrangement on patient freedom of choice and the independent medical judgment of health care professionals.

As these two factors are related, we will address them together. In identifying these two factors, Congress emphasized an important patient protection function of the anti-kickback statute: Preventing both the corruption of medical judgment by financial incentives and improper steering of patients. We are proposing in the safe harbor regulation the following standards intended to ensure that protected arrangements do not impair patient freedom of choice or the independent medical judgment of health care professionals:

- First, under the arrangement, health centers must not be required to refer patients to a particular provider or supplier, and there must be no restrictions on the health center's or its health care professionals' freedom to refer patients to any provider or supplier. For example, a protected arrangement could not require a health center to refer a certain number or proportion of its patients, or a particular category of patients, to a particular provider or supplier.

- Second, individuals and entities that offer to provide goods, items, or services must accept all referrals of patients from the health center who clinically qualify for the goods, items, or services, regardless of payor status or ability to pay. The provider or supplier may impose reasonable overall limits related to the resources it will devote to health center patients. For example, a provider can cap the aggregate number of health center patients it has the capacity to treat, but it cannot determine that it will only treat health center patients who are Medicare beneficiaries. This standard is intended to prevent providers or suppliers in an arrangement with a health center from "cherry picking" particular types of health center patients. In addition, this standard helps ensure that health centers remain free to refer patients based on the patient's health care needs.

- Third, the protected arrangement cannot be exclusive. The individual or entity cannot restrict the health center's ability, if it chooses, to enter into agreements with other providers or suppliers of comparable goods, items, or services, or with other lenders or donors. Where a health center has multiple providers or suppliers willing to offer comparable remuneration, the health center must employ a reasonable methodology to determine which prospective partners to select and must document its determination. In making these determinations, health centers should look to the procurement standards for recipients of Federal grants. See 45 CFR 74.40 et seq.

- Fourth, health centers must provide effective notification to patients of their freedom to choose any willing provider or supplier. Moreover, a health center must disclose the existence and nature of a protected arrangement: (i) To any patient who inquires; and (ii) to any patient referred to an individual or entity that is a party to the protected arrangement for the furnishing of separately billable items or services (i.e., an item or service for which the patient or a third-party payor, rather than the health center, may be obligated to pay). Such disclosure need only be made to a patient the first time the patient is referred to the particular individual or entity. This transparency will help protect the informed decision-making of patients, enhancing their ability to act as prudent consumers of health care services and preserving freedom of choice. The health center must provide required patient disclosures in a timely fashion and in a manner reasonably calculated to provide effective notice and to be understood by the patient. The appropriate disclosure method will necessarily vary depending on the individual characteristics of the health center and its patients. We are electing not to require broader disclosure to patients of all relationships covered by the safe harbor, because we do not believe broader disclosure would be an effective means of preserving health center patients' freedom of choice and, in some situations, might be confusing to the patients served by the health center. Notwithstanding, health centers would be encouraged to consider whether broader disclosure would benefit their patients and, if so, how best to convey useful information to patients. We note that, in many situations, it may be feasible for health centers to provide the required notice through posting lists of arrangements in conspicuous places in the health center and directing patients to those postings.

2. Additional Standards To Prevent Abuse of Federal Health Care Programs and To Protect Patients

As noted above, in accordance with our authority under section 431(b)(1) of MMA to consider other factors and to add additional standards and criteria, we have also considered whether arrangements between health centers and individuals or entities may pose a risk of abuse to Federal health care programs other than the section 330 grant program, such as Medicare or Medicaid, or to beneficiaries. To safeguard these programs and their beneficiaries, we propose adding the following standards to the safe harbor:

- First, the health center may elect to require that an individual or entity that enters into a protected arrangement charge a referred health center patient the same rate it charges other similarly situated persons not referred by the health center or that the items or services be furnished to health center patients at a reduced rate or free of charge (where the discount applies to the total charge and not just to the cost-sharing portion owed by an insured patient). This condition would apply when the individual or entity is billing patients or third parties, rather than the health center, for the items or services.

- Second, no arrangement may enjoy protection under this safe harbor unless it complies with the requirements of the health center's section 330 grant funding.

We further note that providers and suppliers who furnish items and services to Federal health care program patients referred by a health center must comply with all Federal and State laws, including, without limitation, relevant Federal health care program rules governing billing and claims submission. We are concerned that some providers and suppliers may seek to recoup amounts donated to a health center through improper billing of Federal health care programs or inappropriate transfers of governmental funds. We will give further consideration to this potential problem in the final regulations. Once the final regulations are promulgated, we intend to monitor participants in the safe-harbored arrangements for compliance with billing rules.

We are soliciting public comments on these standards, as well as any other standards or criteria that should be included in this safe harbor to achieve its purpose of protecting beneficial, low-risk arrangements.

III. Regulatory Impact Statement

A. Regulatory Analysis

We have examined the impact of this proposed rulemaking as required by Executive Order 12866, the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995, the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) of 1980, and Executive Order 13132.

Executive Order 12866

Executive Order 12866 directs agencies to assess all costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, if regulations are necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits (including potential economic, environmental, public health, and safety effects; distributive impacts; and equity). A regulatory impact analysis must be prepared for major rules with economically significant effects (i.e., $100 million or more in any given year).

This is not a major rule, as defined at 5 U.S.C. 804(2), and it is not economically significant since the overall economic effect of the rule is less than $100 million annually. This proposed safe harbor is designed to allow health centers to enter into certain beneficial arrangements with individuals or entities providing goods, items, services, donations, loans, or a combination thereof to the health center. In doing so, this regulation would impose no requirements on any party. Health centers may voluntarily seek to comply with final regulations, once promulgated, so that they have assurance that participating in covered agreements will not subject them to any enforcement actions under the anti-kickback statute. The safe harbor would facilitate health centers' ability to provide important health care services to communities in need and help these centers fulfill their mission as integral components of the health care safety net. As such, we believe that the aggregate economic impact of this rulemaking would be minimal and would have no effect on the economy or on Federal or State expenditures. To the extent that there is any economic impact, that impact would likely result in savings of Federal grant dollars.

Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

Section 202 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995, Public Law 104-4, requires that agencies assess anticipated costs and benefits before issuing any rule that may result in expenditures in any one year by State, local or tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of $110 million. Since compliance with safe harbor requirements is voluntary, we believe that there are no significant costs associated with this proposed safe harbor that would impose any mandates on State, local, or tribal governments, or the private sector that would result in an expenditure of $110 million or more (adjusted for inflation) in any given year, and that a full analysis under the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act is not necessary.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) and the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement and Fairness Act of 1996, which amended the RFA, require agencies to analyze options for regulatory relief of small entities. For purposes of the RFA, small entities include small businesses, certain nonprofit organizations, and small governmental jurisdictions. Individuals and States are not included in the definition of a small entity. Pursuant to the RFA, some of the health centers that may avail themselves of the protections of the safe harbor are considered to be small entities.

In addition, section 1102(b) of the Act requires us to prepare a regulatory impact analysis if a rule may have a significant impact on the operations of a substantial number of small rural hospitals. This analysis must conform to the provisions of section 604 of the RFA. While this proposed safe harbor may have an impact on small rural hospitals, we believe that the aggregate economic impact of this rulemaking would be minimal, since it is the nature of the violation and not the size or type of the entity that would result in a violation of the anti-kickback statute. Moreover, the safe harbor should benefit small rural hospitals (and their patients) that have relationships with health centers by increasing their flexibility to engage in transactions involving goods, items, services, donations, and loans that result in conservation of Federal grant dollars and other funding without any risk under the anti-kickback statute. The safe harbor should effectively expand opportunities for health centers to engage in arrangements beneficial for fulfilling their mission. For these reasons, and because the vast majority of entities potentially affected by this rulemaking do not engage in prohibited arrangements, schemes, or practices in violation of the law, we have concluded that this proposed rule should not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small rural hospitals, and that a regulatory flexibility analysis is not required for this rulemaking.

Executive Order 13132, Federalism, establishes certain requirements that an agency must meet when it promulgates a rule that imposes substantial direct requirements or costs on State and local governments, preempts State law, or otherwise has Federalism implications. In reviewing this rule under the threshold criteria of Executive Order 13132, we have determined that this proposed rule would not significantly limit the rights, roles, and responsibilities of State or local governments. We have determined, therefore, that a full analysis under these Acts is not necessary.

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has reviewed this proposed rule in accordance with Executive Order 12866.

B. Paperwork Reduction Act

In accordance with section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA), we are required to solicit public comments, and receive final OMB approval, on any information collection requirements set forth in rulemaking.

This proposed safe harbor would impose some minimal information collection requirements on health centers. Specifically, for an arrangement to fall within the proposed safe harbor it would have to fulfill the following documentation requirements: (1) It must be in writing; (2) the written agreement must be signed by the parties; (3) the written agreement must cover all the goods, items, services, donations, and loans provided to the health center; and (4) the health center must document a potential benefit to a medically underserved population. However, these requirements deviate minimally, if at all, from the information these entities would routinely collect in their normal course of business. The statute applies only to the health centers' receipt of goods, items, services, donations, or loans pursuant to a contract, lease, grant, loan, or other agreement. As recipients of Federal grant money, these health centers are already obligated to comply with the administrative requirements, including certain documentation requirements, outlined in 45 CFR part 74. We believe it is usual and customary for health centers to memorialize contracts, leases, grants, loans, and other similar agreements in writing. Ensuring that such writings are comprehensive and that the actual business activities are accurately reflected by documentation are standard prudent business practices. The only documentation requirement of the safe harbor that potentially imposes an additional recordkeeping burden is the requirement that health centers document the statutorily mandated expected benefit to a medically underserved population. Since serving a medically underserved population is central to the underlying mission of the health centers (and all health centers serve at least one such population) and the section 330 grant program, documentation of such benefit would seem to be a prudent business practice to ensure continued compliance not only with the proposed safe harbor but also with the section 330 grant program.

Under certain circumstances, we would require health centers to provide effective notification to patients, disclosing the existence of arrangements protected under this safe harbor and reminding patients of their freedom to choose any willing provider or supplier. Disclosures would not need to be in writing; rather, we would require that health centers provide patient disclosures in a manner reasonably calculated to provide effective notice and to be understood by the patient. The type of notice provided may vary depending on the health center and its patients. We believe this notification requirement would achieve the goal of protecting patients without imposing a significant additional administrative burden on health centers. Moreover, we believe the notification requirement would be consistent with health centers' existing interest in protecting their vulnerable patient populations.

It should be noted that compliance with a safe harbor under the Federal anti-kickback statute is voluntary, and no party is ever required to comply with a safe harbor. Instead, safe harbors merely offer an optional framework regarding how to structure business arrangements to ensure compliance with the anti-kickback statute. All parties remain free to enter into arrangements without regard to a safe harbor, so long as the arrangements do not involve unlawful payments for referrals under the anti-kickback statute.

Thus, we believe that the documentation requirements necessary to enjoy safe harbor protection would not qualify as an added paperwork burden in accordance with 5 CFR 1320.3(b)(2), because the requirements are consistent with the usual and customary business practices of health centers and because the time, effort, and financial resources necessary to comply with the requirements would largely be incurred by health centers in the normal course of their business activities. With respect to the patient notification requirement, we do not believe the requirement would impose an added paperwork burden because the notice need not be written. Furthermore, the notice would only need to be provided in a limited number of circumstances and the requirement is consistent with the health centers' ongoing mission to protect vulnerable patients.

We are specifically soliciting public comments with respect to these requirements. Comments on these requirements should be sent to the following address within 60 days following the Federal Register publication of this interim final rule:

HHS OIG Desk Officer, Office of Management and Budget, Room 10235, New Executive Office Building, 725 17th Street, NW., Washington, DC 20053, FAX: (202) 395-6974.

IV. Public Inspection of Comments and Response to Comments

Comments will be available for public inspection beginning on July 15, 2005 in Room 5518 of the Office of Inspector General at 330 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC on Monday and through Friday of each week (Federal holidays excepted) between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., (202) 619-0089. Because of the large number of comments we normally receive on regulations, we cannot acknowledge or respond to comments individually. However, we will consider all timely and appropriate comments when determining whether to revise this interim final rule.

List of Subjects in 42 CFR Part 1001

Administrative practice and procedure, Fraud, Grant programs—health, Health facilities, Health professions, Maternal and child health, Medicaid, Medicare.

Accordingly, 42 CFR part 1001 would be amended as set forth below:

PART 1001—[AMENDED]

1. The authority citation for part 1001 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 42 U.S.C. 1302, 1320a-7, 1320a-7b, 1395u(j), 1395u(k), 1395y(d), 1395y(e), 1395cc(b)(2)(D), (E) and (F), and 1395hh; and sec. 2455, Pub. L. 103-355, 108 Stat. 3327 (31 U.S.C. 6101 note).

2. Section 1001.952 would be amended by republishing the introductory paragraph for this section and by adding a new paragraph (w) as follows:

§ 1001.952 Exceptions.

The following payment practices shall not be treated as a criminal offense under section 1128B of the Act and shall not serve as the basis for an exclusion:

* * * * *

(w) Health centers. As used in section 1128B of the Act, "remuneration" does not include the transfer of any goods, items, services, donations, loans, or combination thereof from an individual or entity to a health center (as defined in this paragraph), as long as the following eleven standards are met—

(1) The transfer is made pursuant to a contract, lease, grant, loan, or other agreement that is set out in writing, signed by the parties, and covers all the goods, items, services, donations, and loans to be provided by the individual or entity to the health center.

(2) The goods, items, services, donations, or loans are medical or clinical in nature or relate directly to patient services furnished by the health center as part of the scope of the health center's section 330 grant (including, by way of example, billing services, administrative support services, technology support, and enabling services, such as case management, transportation, and translation services, that are within the scope of the grant).

(3) The written agreement specifies and sets forth the amount of goods, items, services, donations, or loans to be provided to the health center (where such amount may be a fixed sum, fixed percentage, or set forth by a fixed methodology), and the amount is not conditioned on the volume or value of Federal health care program business generated between the parties.

(4) The health center reasonably expects the arrangement to contribute meaningfully to the health center's ability to maintain or increase the availability, or enhance the quality, of services provided to a medically underserved population served by the health center, and the health center documents the basis for the reasonable expectation prior to entering the arrangement. Health centers must apply reasonable, consistent, and uniform standards when making the determination. The documentation must be made available to the Secretary upon request.

(5) At reasonable intervals, but at least annually, the health center must re-evaluate the arrangement to ensure that the arrangement is expected to continue to satisfy the standard set forth in paragraph (w)(4) of this section. The health center must apply reasonable, consistent, and uniform standards when making the re-evaluation, and must document the re-evaluation contemporaneously. The documentation must be made available to the Secretary upon request. Noncompliant arrangements must be promptly terminated. Terminated agreements must not be renegotiated in a manner that is conditioned on the volume or value of Federal health care program business generated between the parties. Similarly, arrangements must not be renewed or renegotiated unless the health center reasonably expects the standard set forth in paragraph (w)(4) of this section to be satisfied in the next agreement term. Renewed or renegotiated agreements must comply with the requirements of paragraph (w)(4) of this section.

(6) The health center (and its affiliated health care professionals) must not be required to refer patients to a particular individual or entity, and the health center (and its affiliated health care professionals) must be free to refer patients to any provider or supplier.

(7) Individuals and entities that offer to provide goods, items, or services to health center patients must accept all referrals of patients from the health center who clinically qualify for the goods, items, or services, regardless of the patient's payor status or ability to pay. The individual or entity may impose reasonable limits on the aggregate volume or value of referrals it will accept.

(8) The agreement must not restrict the health center's ability, if it chooses, to enter into agreements with other providers or suppliers of comparable goods, items, or services, or with other lenders or donors. Where a health center has multiple individuals or entities willing to offer comparable remuneration, the health center must employ a reasonable methodology to determine which prospective partners to select and must document its determination. In making these determinations, health centers should look to the procurement standards for recipients of Federal grants. See 45 CFR 74.40 et seq.

(9) The health center must provide effective notification to patients of their freedom to choose any willing provider or supplier. In addition, the health center must disclose the existence and nature of an arrangement under this paragraph to any patient who inquires and upon the initial such referral, to any patient referred to an individual or entity that is a party to the arrangement for the furnishing of separately billable items or services (i.e., an item or service for which the patient or a third-party payor, rather than the health center, may be obligated to pay). The health center must provide required patient disclosures in a timely fashion and in a manner reasonably calculated to be effective and understood by the patient.

(10) Under the arrangement, the health center may elect to require that the individual or entity charge a referred health center patient the same rate it charges other patients not referred by the health center or that the individual or entity charge a referred health center patient a reduced rate (where the discount applies to the total charge and not just to the cost-sharing portion owed by an insured patient).

(11) The agreement must comply with all relevant requirements of the health center's section 330 grant funding. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "health center" means a Federally qualified health center under section 1905(l)(2)(B)(i) or 1905(l)(2)(B)(ii) of the Act, and "medically underserved population" means a medically underserved population as defined in regulations at 42 CFR 51c.102(e).

National Organic Program (NOP), Final Judgment and Order in the Case Harvey v. Johanns AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Agricultural Marketing Service is publishing this notice pursuant to a June 9, 2005, consent final judgment and order issued by the United States District Court, District of Maine, in the case Harvey v. Johanns. The court issued a declaratory judgment that 7 CFR 205.606 shall be interpreted to permit the use of a nonorganically produced agricultural product only when the product has been listed in section 205.606 pursuant to National List procedures, and when an accredited certifying agent has determined that the organic form of the agricultural product is not commercially available. The court's order limits an accredited certifying agent's commercially available determinations for nonorganic agricultural products used in or on processed organic products to the 5 substances contained in 7 CFR 205.606. The products are native cornstarch, water extracted gums, kelp when used as a thickener and dietary supplement, unbleached lecithin, and high methoxy pectin.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Keith Jones, Director, Program Development, National Organic Program, 1400 Independence Ave., SW., Room 4008-S, Ag Stop 0268, Washington, DC 20250-0268; Telephone: (202) 720-3252; Fax: (202) 205-7808; e-mail: keith.jones@usda.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This notice is issued under the authority of the Organic Foods Production Act of 1990 (OFPA) as amended (7 U.S.C. 6501 et seq.). In October 2003, Arthur Harvey, a certified organic blueberry grower, filed a complaint under the Administrative Procedures Act in the United States District Court, District of Maine. Harvey alleged that several subsections of the NOP regulations violated OFPA, were arbitrary and were not in accordance with law.

The USDA prevailed on all counts of Harvey's suit in a decision issued by the district court on January 7, 2004. On March 8, 2004, Harvey appealed the district court's decision to the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit. On January 26, 2005, the First Circuit issued a decision in the case. The First Circuit court upheld the NOP rule in general, but remanded the case to the U.S. District Court, District of Maine, for, among other things, the entry of a declaratory judgment that 7

CFR 205.606 does not establish a blanket exemption to the National List requirements for nonorganic agricultural products that are not commercially available. On June 9, 2005, the district court issued its final judgment and order in the case. A copy of the final judgment and order may be found at <https://www.ams.usda.gov/nop>.

The First Circuit's decision recognized that some producers, handlers and certifiers may have misinterpreted 7 CFR 205.606 to mean that any nonorganic agricultural product which was determined by an accredited certifying agent to be not commercially available in organic form could be used in organic products, without being individually listed pursuant to the National List procedures. The court held that such an interpretation is contrary to the plain meaning of OFPA. However, because of the potential for confusion, and to enable an orderly transition to compliance with the regulation, the district court's order regarding the meaning of 7 CFR 205.606 shall become effective and enforceable two years (June 9, 2007) from the date of its judgment and order.

Dated: June 27, 2005.

Acting Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Title: Importation of Pork-Filled Pasta.

Type of Request: Extension of approval of an information collection.

Abstract: The Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) is responsible for protecting the health of our Nation's livestock and poultry populations by preventing the introduction and interstate spread of serious diseases and pests of livestock and for eradicating such diseases from the United States when feasible. The regulations in 9 CFR part 94 (referred to below as the regulations) prohibit or restrict the importation of specified animals and animal products into the United States to prevent the introduction into the U.S. livestock population of certain contagious animal diseases, including swine vesicular disease (SVD). Section 94.12 of the regulations contains, among other things, specific processing, recordkeeping, and certification requirements for pork-filled pasta products exported to the United States from regions affected with SVD.

The regulations require, among other things, that the pork-filled pasta products be accompanied by a certificate stating that the product has been handled and processed according to the requirements set forth in the regulations. This certificate must be issued and signed by an official of the National Government of the region in which the pasta products were processed.

In addition, the processing facility where the pork-filled pasta products are produced must maintain original records (to be kept for a minimum of 2 years) that identify, for each lot of pork used, the date the pork entered the facility, the lot number, the health certificate that accompanied the pork from the slaughter/processing facility to the meat-filled pasta processing facility, and the date the pork either began either dry-curing or was cooked.

These records would provide important information in any traceback investigation that may need to be conducted by officials of the region of origin of the pork-filled pasta product, or by officials of the USDA.

We are asking the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to approve our use of these information collection activities for an additional 3 years.

The purpose of this notice is to solicit comments from the public (as well as affected agencies) concerning our information collection. These comments will help us:

(1) Evaluate whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;

(2) Evaluate the accuracy of our estimate of the burden of the collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;

(3) Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and

(4) Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, through use, as appropriate, of automated, electronic, mechanical, and other collection technologies; e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.

Estimate of burden: The public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 1.25 hours per response.

Respondents: Officials of the National Government of the region in which the pork-filled pasta product is processed.

Estimated annual number of respondents: 5.

Estimated annual number of responses per respondent: 20.

Estimated annual number of responses: 100.

Estimated total annual burden on respondents: 125 hours. (Due to averaging, the total annual burden hours may not equal the product of the annual number of responses multiplied by the reporting burden per response.)

All responses to this notice will be summarized and included in the request for OMB approval. All comments will also become a matter of public record.

Done in Washington, DC, this 27th day of June 2005.

Acting Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: User Fee Regulations.

OMB Number: 0579-0094.

Type of Request: Extension of approval of an information collection.

Abstract: Section 2509 of the Food, Agriculture, Conservation, and Trade Act of 1990, as amended, authorizes the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) to collect user fees for agricultural quarantine and inspection (AQI) services, for providing for the inspection and certification of plants and plant products offered for export or transiting the United States, and for providing veterinary diagnostic services and services related to the importation and exportation of animals and animal products.

Although certain AQI functions, but not the laws or regulations upon which they are premised, were transferred from APHIS to the Customs and Border Protection (CBP) bureau of the Department of Homeland Security, in 2002, APHIS remains responsible for the regulations related to AQI activities, including the user fee regulations. APHIS also remains responsible for administration of the user fee programs.

Neither APHIS nor CBP receives an appropriation to fund these activities; instead, user fees are calculated and assessed to ensure full cost recovery of each user fee program. If the information was not collected, the agencies would not be able to perform the services since the fees collected are necessary to fund the work.

Requesters of services usually are repeat customers, and, in many cases, request that we bill them for our services. Also, the 1996 Debt Collection Improvement Act requires that agencies collect tax identification numbers (TINs) from all persons doing business with the government for purposes of collecting delinquent debts. Without a TIN, service cannot be provided on a credit basis.

The requests for services are in writing, by telephone, or in person. The information contained in each request identifies the specific service requested and the time in which the requester wishes the service to be performed. This information is necessary in order for the animal import centers and port offices to schedule the work and to calculate the fees due.

APHIS is responsible for ensuring that the fees collected are correct and that they are remitted in full and in a timely manner. To ensure this, the party (ticketing agents for transportation companies) responsible for collecting and remitting fees must allow APHIS personnel to verify the accuracy of the fees collected and remitted, and otherwise determine compliance with the statute and regulations. We also require that whoever is responsible for making fee payments advise us of the name, address, and telephone number of a responsible officer who is authorized to verify fee calculations, collections, and remittances.

This information collection is necessary for APHIS to effectively collect fees, ensure remittances in a timely manner, and determine proper credit for payment of international air passenger, aircraft clearance, commercial truck, commercial railroad car, commercial vessel, phytosanitary certificate, import/export, and veterinary diagnostic user fees.

We have reviewed the paperwork requirements of the user fee programs and have made every possible effort to streamline our processes and minimize the impact on the public. Whenever possible, we use existing billing/collection methods to minimize the cost to the Agency.

We are asking the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to approve our use of this information collection activity for an additional 3 years.

The purpose of this notice is to solicit comments from the public (as well as affected agencies) concerning our information collection. These comments will help us:

- (1) Evaluate whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;
- (2) Evaluate the accuracy of our estimate of the burden of the collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- (3) Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and
- (4) Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, through use, as appropriate, of automated, electronic, mechanical, and other collection technologies; e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.

Estimate of burden: The public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 0.0351595 hours per response.

Respondents: Arriving international passengers, owners and operators of arriving international means of conveyance, importers/exporters who wish to import or export plants and plant products, and importers/exporters who wish to import or export animals and animal products.

Estimated annual number of respondents: 184,277.

Estimated annual number of responses per respondent: 1.324875.

Estimated annual number of responses: 244,144.

Estimated total annual burden on respondents: 8,584 hours. (Due to averaging, the total annual burden hours may not equal the product of the annual number of responses multiplied by the reporting burden per response.)

All responses to this notice will be summarized and included in the request for OMB approval. All comments will also become a matter of public record.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Johne's Disease in Domestic Animals; Interstate Movement.

OMB Number: 0579-0148.

Type of Request: Extension of approval of an information collection.

Abstract: The Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture is responsible for, among other things, preventing the spread of serious communicable animal diseases (such as Johne's disease) from one State to another, and for eradicating such diseases from the United States when feasible.

Johne's disease, also known as paratuberculosis, is caused by Mycobacterium paratuberculosis and primarily affects cattle, sheep, goats, and other domestic, exotic, and wild ruminants. The disease is a chronic and contagious enteritis that results in progressive wasting and eventual death. It is nearly always introduced into a healthy herd by an infected animal that is not showing symptoms of the disease.

The regulations in title 9, chapter I, subchapter C of the Code of Federal Regulations govern the interstate movement of animals to prevent the dissemination of livestock and poultry diseases in the United States. Within subchapter C, part 71 contains general provisions for the interstate transportation of animals, poultry, and animal products, while part 80 pertains specifically to the interstate movement of domestic animals that are positive to an official test for Johne's disease.

Our regulations provide that cattle, sheep, goats, and other domestic animals that are positive to an official test for Johne's disease may generally be moved interstate only to a recognized slaughtering establishment or to an approved livestock facility for sale to such an establishment. The animals must bear an official eartag and be shipped with an owner-shipper statement.

We are asking the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to approve our use of these information collection activities for an additional 3 years.

The purpose of this notice is to solicit comments from the public (as well as affected agencies) concerning this information collection activity. These comments will help us:

(1) Evaluate whether the information collection is necessary for the proper performance of our agency's functions, including whether the information will have practical utility;

(2) Evaluate the accuracy of our estimate of the burden of the information collection, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;

(4) Minimize the burden of the information collection on those who are to respond through use, as appropriate, of automated, electronic, mechanical, or other collection technologies, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.

Estimate of burden: Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 0.20 hours per response.

Respondents: Herd owners, shippers, and State representatives.

Estimated number of respondents: 250.

Estimated number of responses per respondent: 1.

Estimated annual number of responses: 250.

Estimated total annual burden on respondents: 50 hours. (Due to averaging, the total annual burden hours may not equal the product of the annual number of responses multiplied by the reporting burden per response.)

All responses to this notice will be summarized and included in the request for OMB approval. All comments will also become a matter of public record.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The regulations in 7 CFR part 340, "Introduction of Organisms and Products Altered or Produced Through Genetic Engineering Which Are Plant Pests or Which There Is Reason to Believe Are Plant Pests," regulate, among other things, the introduction (importation, interstate movement, or release into the environment) of organisms and products altered or produced through genetic engineering that are plant pests or that there is reason to believe are plant pests. Such genetically engineered organisms and products are considered "regulated articles."

The regulations in § 340.6(a) provide that any person may submit a petition to the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) seeking a determination that an article should not be regulated under 7 CFR part 340. Paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 340.6 describe the form that a petition for a determination of nonregulated status must take and the information that must be included in the petition.

On December 19, 2003, APHIS received a petition (APHIS No. 03-353-01p) from Mycogen Seeds/Dow AgroSciences LLC of Indianapolis, IN, and Pioneer Hi-Bred International of Johnston, IA (Dow AgroSciences/Pioneer), requesting a determination of nonregulated status under 7 CFR part 340 for corn (Zea mays) designated as corn line DAS-59122-7, which has been genetically engineered for resistance to corn rootworm and for tolerance to the herbicide glufosinate. The DowAgroSciences/Pioneer petition states that the subject corn should not be regulated by APHIS because it does not present a plant pest risk.

As described in the petition, corn line DAS-59122-7 has been genetically engineered to express a plant incorporated protectant (PIP) that controls certain corn rootworm. The PIP is an insecticidal crystal protein (ICP) from Bacillus thuringiensis strain PS149B1. The ICP is made of two proteins Cry34Ab1, approximately 14kDa, and Cry35Ab1, approximately 44 kDa in molecular weight. Transcription of the Cry 34Ab1 coding sequence is controlled by the maize ubiquitin promoter (UBI1ZM PRO). Transcription of Cry35Ab1 is controlled by a wheat (Triticum aestivum) peroxidase (TA Peroxidase) promoter. The termination sequences for these two genes were derived from the potato (Solanum tuberosum) proteinase inhibitor II (PINII). The PIP is expressed throughout the plant and confers resistance to northern corn rootworm (nCRW), western corn rootworm (wCRW) and Mexican corn rootworm (mCRW).

Corn line DAS-59122-7 has also been genetically engineered to express the enzyme phosphinothricin acetyltransferase (PAT), which confers tolerance to the herbicide glufosinate. The expression of the pat gene, derived from the bacterium Streptomyces viridochromogenes, is under the control of the cauliflower mosaic virus (CaMV) 35S RNA promoter and a CaMV termination sequence (CaMV35S TERM). The DAS-59122-7 corn line was generated through Agrobacterium-mediated transformation of the publicly available corn line Hi-II.

Corn line DAS-59122-7 has been considered regulated article under the regulations in 7 CFR part 340 because it contains gene sequences from a plant pathogen. In the process of reviewing the notifications for field trials of the subject corn, APHIS determined that the vectors and other elements were disarmed and that the trials, which were conducted under conditions of reproductive and physical confinement or isolation, would not present a risk of plant pest introduction or dissemination.

In section 403 of the Plant Protection Act (7 U.S.C. 7701-7772), plant pest is defined as any living stage of any of the following that can directly or indirectly injure, cause damage to, or cause disease in any plant or plant product: A protozoan, a nonhuman animal, a parasitic plant, a bacterium, a fungus, a virus or viroid, an infectious agent or other pathogen, or any article similar to or allied with any of the foregoing. APHIS views this definition very broadly. The definition covers direct or indirect injury, disease, or damage not just to agricultural crops, but also to plants in general, for example, native species, as well as to organisms that may be beneficial to plants, for example, honeybees, rhizobia, etc.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is responsible for the regulation of pesticides under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), as amended (7 U.S.C. 136 et seq.). FIFRA requires that all pesticides, including herbicides, be registered prior to distribution or sale, unless exempt by EPA regulation. In cases in which genetically modified plants allow for a new use of a pesticide or involve a different use pattern for the pesticide, EPA must approve the new or different use. Accordingly, DowAgroSciences/Pioneer has submitted a request to EPA for Section 3 Registration of the Cry34/Cry35 ICP construct as a plant incorporated protectant in corn.

When the use of the pesticide on the genetically modified plant would result in an increase in the residues in a food or feed crop for which the pesticide is currently registered, or in new residues in a crop for which the pesticide is not currently registered, establishment of a new tolerance or a revision of the existing tolerance would be required. Residue tolerances for pesticides are established by EPA under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFDCA), as amended (21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.), and the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) enforces tolerances set by EPA under the FFDCA. DowAgroSciences/Pioneer has submitted a request to EPA for a tolerance exemption for Cry34/Cry35 ICP as expressed in the subject corn events.

FDA published a statement of policy on foods derived from new plant varieties in the Federal Register on May 29, 1992 (57 FR 22984-23005). The FDA statement of policy includes a discussion of FDA's authority for ensuring food safety under the FFDCA, and provides guidance to industry on the scientific considerations associated with the development of foods derived from new plant varieties, including those plants developed through the techniques of genetic engineering. DowAgroSciences/Pioneer has completed consultation with FDA on the subject corn event (BNF No. 81, <http://www.cfsan.fda.gov/~rd/biocon.html>).

To provide the public with documentation of APHIS' review and analysis of the environmental impacts and plant pest risk associated with a proposed determination of nonregulated status for the DowAgroSciences/Pioneer corn line DAS-59122-7, an EA has been prepared. The EA was prepared in accordance with (1) The National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA), as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.), (2) regulations of the Council on Environmental Quality for implementing the procedural provisions of NEPA (40 CFR parts 1500-1508), (3) USDA regulations implementing NEPA (7 CFR part 1b), and (4) APHIS' NEPA Implementing Procedures (7 CFR part 372).

In accordance with § 340.6(d) of the regulations, we are publishing this notice to inform the public that APHIS will accept written comments regarding the petition for a determination of nonregulated status from interested persons for a period of 60 days from the date of this notice. We are also soliciting written comments from interested persons on the EA prepared to examine any environmental impacts of the proposed determination for the subject corn event. The petition and the EA and any comments received are available for public review, and copies of the petition and the EA are available as indicated in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT section of this notice.

After the comment period closes, APHIS will review the data submitted by the petitioner, all written comments received during the comment period, and any other relevant information. After reviewing and evaluating the comments on the petition and the EA and other data and information, APHIS will furnish a response to the petitioner, either approving the petition in whole or in part, or denying the petition. APHIS will then publish a notice in the Federal Register announcing the regulatory status of the DowAgroSciences/Pioneer glyphosate-tolerant corn line DAS-59122-7 and the availability of APHIS' written decision.

COMMITTEE FOR PURCHASE FROM PEOPLE WHO ARE BLIND OR SEVERELY DISABLED

Information Collection To Be Submitted to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for Approval Under the Paperwork Reduction Act; Initial Certification

AGENCY: Committee for Purchase from People Who are Blind or Severely Disabled.

ACTION: Notice; request for comments.

SUMMARY: The Committee for Purchase from People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled (The Committee) will submit the collections of information listed below to OMB for approval under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act. This notice solicits comments on these collections of information.

DATES: Submit your written comments on the information collection on or before August 30, 2005.

ADDRESSES: Mail your comments on the requirement to Janet Yandik, Information Management Specialist, Committee for Purchase from People Who are Blind or Severely Disabled, 1421 Jefferson Davis Highway, Jefferson Plaza 2, Suite 10800, Arlington, VA, 22202–3259; fax (703) 603–0655; or e-mail rulecomments@jwod.gov.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: To request a copy of the applicable forms or explanatory material, contact Janet Yandik at information in above paragraph.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) regulations at 5 CFR part 1320, which implement provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.), require that interested members of the public and affected agencies have an opportunity to comment on information collection and recordkeeping activities (see 5 CFR 1320.8(d)). The Committee plans to submit a request to OMB to renew its approval of the collections of information concerning initial certification of nonprofit agencies serving people who are blind or who have other severe disabilities to participate in the Javits-Wagner-O'Day (JWOD) Program. The Committee is requesting a 3-year term of approval for these information collection activities.

Federal agencies may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. The OMB control numbers for these collections of information are 3037–0003 and 3037–0004.

The JWOD Act of 1971 (41 U.S.C. 46–48c) is the authorizing legislation for the JWOD Program. The JWOD Program creates jobs and training opportunities for people who are blind or who have other severe disabilities. Its primary means of doing so is by requiring Government agencies to purchase selected products and services from nonprofit agencies employing such individuals. The JWOD Program is administered by the Committee. Two national, independent organizations, National Industries for the Blind (NIB) and NISH, help State and private nonprofit agencies participate in the JWOD Program.

The implementing regulations for the JWOD Act, which are located at 41 CFR chapter 51, provide the requirements, procedures, and standards for the JWOD Program. Section 51–4.2 of the regulations sets forth the standards that a nonprofit agency must meet to qualify for participation in the JWOD Program. Under this section of the regulations, a nonprofit agency that would like to participate in the JWOD Program must submit documentation (e.g., articles of incorporation and by-laws) demonstrating its nonprofit status and a completed copy of the appropriate Initial Certification form (Committee Form 401 or 402). This documentation helps the Committee determine whether the applicant nonprofit agency is appropriate for inclusion in the JWOD Program.

This information collection renewal request seeks approval for the Committee to continue to collect the information required under 41 CFR 51–4.2 of the regulations so that the Committee can continue to verify the appropriateness of nonprofit agencies that would like to participate in the JWOD Program. There are no changes to these current collections in this renewal request.

Filing Information

As a courtesy, we are making information related to sunset proceedings, including copies of the Department's regulations regarding sunset reviews (19 CFR 351.218) and Sunset Policy Bulletin, the Department's schedule of sunset reviews, case history information (i.e., previous margins, duty absorption determinations, scope language, import volumes), and service lists available to the public on the Department's sunset Internet website at the following address: "<http://ia.ita.doc.gov/sunset/>." All submissions in these sunset reviews must be filed in accordance with the Department's regulations regarding format, translation, service, and certification of documents. These rules can be found at 19 CFR 351.303.

Because deadlines in a sunset review can be very short, we urge interested parties to apply for access to proprietary information under administrative protective order ("APO") immediately following publication in the Federal Register of the notice of initiation of the sunset review. The Department's regulations on submission of proprietary information and eligibility to receive access to business proprietary information under APO can be found at 19 CFR 351.304–306.

Information Required from Interested Parties

Domestic interested parties (defined in section 771(9)(C), (D), (E), (F), and (G) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.102(b)) wishing to participate in these sunset reviews must respond not later than 15 days after the date of publication in the Federal Register of the notice of initiation by filing a notice of intent to participate. The required contents of the notice of intent to participate are set forth at 19 CFR 351.218(d)(1)(ii). In accordance with the Department's regulations, if we do not receive a notice of intent to participate from at least one domestic interested party by the 15-day deadline, the Department will automatically revoke the orders without further review. See 19 CFR 351.218(d)(1)(iii).

If we receive an order-specific notice of intent to participate from a domestic interested party, the Department's regulations provide that all parties wishing to participate in the sunset review must file complete substantive responses not later than 30 days after the date of publication in the Federal Register of the notice of initiation. The required contents of a substantive response, on an order-specific basis, are set forth at 19 CFR 351.218(d)(3). Note that certain information requirements differ for respondent and domestic parties. Also, note that the Department's information requirements are distinct from the Commission's information requirements. Please consult the Department's regulations for information regarding the Department's conduct of sunset reviews.¹ Please consult the Department's regulations at 19 CFR Part 351 for definitions of terms and for other general information concerning antidumping and countervailing duty proceedings at the Department.

This notice of initiation is being published in accordance with section 751(c) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.218(c).

Notice of Extension of Time Limit for Preliminary Results of Antidumping Duty Review: Honey from Argentina

AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2005.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Brian Sheba or Robert James, AD/CVD Operations, Office 7, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 482–0145 and (202) 482–0469, respectively.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On December 30, 2004, the American Honey Producers Association and the Sioux Honey Association (collectively petitioners) requested an administrative review of the antidumping duty order on honey from Argentina in response to the Department of Commerce's (the Department) notice of opportunity to request a review published in the Federal Register. See Antidumping or Countervailing Duty Order, Finding, or Suspended Investigation: Opportunity to Request Administrative Review, 69 FR 69889 (December 1, 2003). The petitioners requested that the Department conduct an administrative review of entries of subject merchandise made by twenty-four Argentine producers/exporters. In addition, the Department received requests for reviews from three of the Argentine exporters included in the petitioners' request, plus a request for review by one additional exporter, El Mana S.A. (El Mana). The Department initiated a review on the above twenty-five companies on January 31, 2005. See Initiation of Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Administrative Reviews and Request for Revocation in Part, 70 FR 4818 (January 31, 2005).

Subsequent to the Department's initiation of review, on February 22, 2005, the petitioners filed a withdrawal of request for review for fifteen of the companies. See letter from petitioners to the Department, Honey From Argentina, (February 22, 2005), on file in the Central Records Unit (CRU), room B–099 of the main Department building. On February 24, 2005, both petitioners and Nexco S.A. (Nexco) (an exporter) submitted letters withdrawing their individual requests for review of Nexco. See letters from petitioners and from Nexco to the Department, Honey From Argentina, (February 24, 2005), on file in the CRU. Also on February 24, 2005, petitioner rescinded its withdrawal with respect to Mielar S.A. (Mielar). See id. On March 9, 2005, El Mana submitted a letter withdrawing its request for administrative review. See letter from El Mana to the Department, Honey From Argentina, (March 9, 2005), on file in the CRU. On March 31, 2005, petitioners submitted a withdrawal of request for review of two additional companies: Compania Apicola Argentina (CAA), Mielar, and TransHoney S.A. (TransHoney). See Letter from petitioners to the Department, Honey From Argentina, (March 31, 2005), on file in the CRU. On April 15, 2005, the Department rescinded its review for the companies named in petitioners' and respondents' withdrawals of request for review. See Honey from Argentina: Notice of Partial Rescission of Antidumping Duty Administrative Review, 70 FR 19927 (April 15, 2005).

Notice of Extension

Pursuant to the time limits for administrative reviews set forth in section 751(a)(3)(A) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act), the current deadlines are September 1, 2005, for the preliminary results and December 30, 2005, for the final results of this administrative review. The Department, however, may extend the deadline for completion of the preliminary results of a review if it determines it is not practicable to complete the preliminary results within the statutory time limit. See 751(a)(3)(A) of the Act and section 351.213(h)(2) of the Department's regulations. In this case the Department has determined it is not practicable to complete this review within the statutory time limit because of complex issues involved in this review, including the requested partial revocation of the dumping order with respect to Asociación de Cooperativas Argentinas.

Therefore, the Department is extending the time limit for completion of the preliminary results until December 20, 2005, in accordance with section 751(a)(3)(A) of the Act. The deadline for the final results of this review will continue to be 120 days after publication of the preliminary results.

Certain Stainless Steel Butt-Weld Pipe Fittings from Taiwan: Notice of Court Decision and Suspension of Liquidation

AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: On June 14, 2005, in Alloy Piping Products, Inc., Flowline Division, et al. v. United States, Slip Op. 05-69, ("Alloy Piping II"), the Court of International Trade ("CIT") affirmed the Department of Commerce's (the "Department") Final Results of Determination Pursuant to Remand ("Remand Results"), dated February 14, 2005. Consistent with the decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit ("CAFC") in Timken Co. v. United States, 893 F.2d 337 (Fed. Cir. 1990) ("Timken"), the Department will continue to order the suspension of liquidation of the subject merchandise, where appropriate, until there is a "conclusive" decision in this case. If the case is not appealed, or if it is affirmed on appeal, the Department will instruct U.S. Customs and Border Protection ("Customs") to liquidate all relevant entries from Ta Chen Stainless Steel Pipe, Ltd. ("Ta Chen") and revise the cash deposit rates as appropriate.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2005.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Alex Villanueva, AD/CVD Operations, Office 9, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 1401 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20230, telephone 202-482-3208, fax 202-482-9089.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Following publication of the Final Results, Alloy Piping Products, Inc., Flowline Division, Markovitz Enterprises, Inc., Gerlin Inc., and Taylor Forge Stainless Inc., (the "Petitioners") and Ta Chen, filed a lawsuit with the CIT challenging the Department's findings in Certain Stainless Steel Butt-Weld Pipe Fittings From Taiwan and Accompanying Issues and Decisions Memorandum; Final Results of 1999-2000 Administrative Review, 66 FR 65899, 65900 (December 21, 2001) ("Final Results"). In Alloy Piping v. United States, Slip Op. 04-134, (CIT 2004) ("Alloy Piping I"), the CIT instructed the Department to (1) reopen the record, seek additional relevant information regarding employee bonuses, and recalculate the general and administrative ("G&A") expenses of Ta Chen; and (2) reconsider Ta Chen's U.S. indirect selling expenses and to account for all of Ta Chen's U.S. selling expenses incurred during fiscal year 1999. Specifically, regarding employee bonuses, the CIT instructed the Department to consider employee bonuses distributed directly from shareholders' equity, and paid by the company to its employees and management in its recalculation of the G&A expenses;

The Draft Final Results Pursuant to Remand ("Draft Results") were released to parties on January 27, 2005. The Department received comments from interested parties on the Draft Results on February 1, 2005. There were no substantive changes made to the Remand Results as a result of comments received on the Draft Results. On February 14, 2005, the Department responded to the CIT's Order of Remand by filing the Remand Results. In its Remand Results, the Department reopened the record, sought additional relevant information regarding employee bonuses and recalculated the G&A expenses of Ta Chen to include bonuses to both employees and directors/supervisors. The Department also reconsidered Ta Chen's U.S. indirect selling expenses and determined that there was no need to add financial interest expenses to Ta Chen's U.S. indirect selling expenses. Thus, the Department did not change Ta Chen's U.S. indirect selling expenses.

As a result of the remand determination, the antidumping duty rate for Ta Chen was decreased from 6.11 to 6.10 percent. The CIT did not receive comments from either the Petitioners or Ta Chen.

On June 14, 2005, the CIT affirmed the Department's findings in the Remand Results. Specifically, the CIT upheld the Department reopening the record, seeking additional relevant information regarding employee bonuses, and recalculating the G&A expenses of Ta Chen and reconsidering Ta Chen's U.S. indirect selling expenses. See Alloy Piping II.

The only revisions made to the Final Results were revisions to the calculation of Ta Chen's G&A expenses, as noted above. This revision resulted in a change in Ta Chen's margin.

Suspension of Liquidation

The CAFC, in Timken, held that the Department must publish notice of a decision of the CIT or the CAFC which is not "in harmony" with the Department's final determination or results. Publication of this notice fulfills that obligation. The CAFC also held that the Department must suspend liquidation of the subject merchandise until there is a "conclusive" decision in the case. Therefore, pursuant to Timken, the Department must continue to suspend liquidation pending the expiration of the period to appeal the CIT's June 14, 2005, decision, or, if that decision is appealed, pending a final decision by the CAFC. The Department will instruct Customs to revise cash deposit rates, as appropriate, and to liquidate relevant entries covering the subject merchandise effective (insert date of FR publication), in the event that the CIT's ruling is not appealed, or if appealed and upheld by the CAFC.

Dated: June 24, 2005.

Renewable Energy Trade Mission

AGENCY: International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

ACTION: Notice to Renewable Energy Trade Mission to Brazil, October 17-19, 2005.

SUMMARY: The United States Department of Commerce, International Trade Administration, U.S. Commercial Service is organizing a Renewable Energy Trade Mission to Brazil, October 17-19, 2005, to help U.S. firms find business partners and sell renewable energy equipment and services in Rio de Janeiro, São Paulo, and Salvador da Bahia. Targeted sectors include hydro, wind, solar, bio-diesel and biomass.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Renewable Energy Trade Mission, Brazil, October 17-19, 2005.

Mission Statement

I. Description of the Mission

The United States Department of Commerce, International Trade Administration, U.S. Commercial Service is organizing a Renewable Energy Trade Mission to Brazil, October 17-19, 2005, to help U.S. firms find business partners and sell renewable energy equipment and services in Rio de Janeiro, São Paulo, and Salvador da Bahia. Targeted sectors include hydro, wind, solar, bio-diesel and biomass. The mission, to be led by a U.S. Department of Commerce official, will include business-to-business matchmaking with local companies and meetings with key government officials. Representatives of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC) and the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) will be on hand to provide information and counseling on their programs.

II. Commercial Setting for the Mission

The renewable energy sector in Brazil holds enormous potential for development over the next four years, given the country's wealth of natural resources for wind, biomass, solar and hydro projects, and the Brazilian government's Incentive Program for Alternative Electric Energy Sources (PROINFA), which aims to install by 2008 small hydro, wind, and biomass facilities capable of generating 3,300 MW. (PROINFA defines small hydropower projects as having a maximum installed capacity of 30 MW.) This program is expected to attract more than US$2 billion in investments from 2005 to 2008.

Small hydropower plants have commanded critical attention since the 2001 energy crisis and the implementation of PROINFA. Brazil has a long tradition of hydropower generation, from both small and large plants. The generation of 1,100 MW in new PROINFA projects is already approved, and many Brazilian companies are investing in small hydro projects that are not part of PROINFA. While most demand is currently supplied by subsidiaries of such companies as GE, Siemens, ABB and Alstom, there are opportunities for sales of selected components.

Wind energy is also a priority growth sector. Even the most conservative estimates put the potential for wind power production at more than 70,000 MW—nearly equal to Brazil's entire generating capacity (90,000 MW). There are many small wind power plants operating in Brazil, especially in the states of Ceará and Rio Grande do Sul. The 1,100 MW approved under PROINFA will be installed between 2005 and 2008. There is currently only one manufacturer of large-scale wind power plants operating in Brazil, a subsidiary of the German firm Enercon.

Solar power offers enormous development opportunities in Brazil, which has one of the world's most abundant solar energy resources and has only just begun to explore its potential. The use of solar water heaters in Brazil has increased rapidly in the last few years, with nearly 140 Brazilian manufacturers producing these products for residences, hotels, hospitals, and swimming pools. Most are very small companies.

Photovoltaic technology (PV) is a competitive alternative to grid extension in remote areas of the country and in applications of social interest. The power needs of rural off-grid communities are relatively modest and therefore compatible with stand-alone PV systems. Estimates indicate that 5% to 10% of the non-electrified domiciles (about 250,000) could be supplied with PV systems. The main PV applications in Brazil have been off-grid residences, public services, water pumping, and telecommunications. There are many initiatives underway utilizing stand-alone PV systems, more than 30,000 of them purchased for rural electrification.

Biomass is a growth sector supported by Brazil's ambitious program for manufacturing bio-diesel from vegetable oils. The country plans to replace 2% of its diesel consumption through bio-diesel starting in June 2005 and increase this rate to 5% in 2009, primarily through use of castor oil and palm oil. Total consumption of fossil diesel is currently 38 billion liters/year.

Brazil is the world's largest producer of sugarcane and ethanol. It has one of the most technologically advanced programs of bio-fuels of the world, in development since the 1970s. More than 3 million cars are powered exclusively by hydrated ethanol, consuming more than 5 billion liters/year. In addition, most gas sold contains 20%–25% anhydrous ethanol (production of 6 billion liters/year), the highest percentage mix in the world. It is expected that domestic and export demand for ethanol will continue to rise. The installed power of cogeneration in the sugar cane industry is approximately 1800 MW. Note that the bio-diesel and ethanol programs do not fall under the PROINFA project, which is only for grid-connected electricity.

Brazil also has very large planted forests, mainly of eucalyptus and pine, especially for the cellulose and charcoal industries. As these sectors are growing at very high rates, a shortage of eucalyptus is expected over the next few years. The total capacity for pulp is about 10 million tons/year, and for paper 9 million. Production from cellulose plants meets about 85% of electricity needs, and paper operations meet about 10%, whereas cogeneration from integrated paper and pulp plants meets about 60%. Under PROINFA, most approved biomass projects are for sugarcane bagasse, but there has also been interest in rice hulls, orange bagasse, wood chips, wood residues and fiber of palm oil kernels.

PROINFA: Under PROINFA, the Brazilian Government, through its holding company Eletrobras, has already selected projects eligible to sell energy to the national grid in 20-year contracts with independent producers. Projects may have up to 80% of equity financed through subsidized loans from the Federal Economic and Social Development Bank (BNDES). A special US$280 million fund called "Brasil Energia," set up by private pension funds and BNDES, offers financing to project sponsors selected under PROINFA. To qualify for PROINFA financing, a minimum of 60% of the project procurement must be of Brazilian-made equipment.

After this goal of 3,300 MW is installed, a second phase of PROINFA will immediately follow to ensure that in 20 years wind, biomass and small hydropower systems supply 10% of Brazil's annual electric power consumption. For this second phase, only projects with a minimum of 90% Brazilian-made components will be eligible for BNDES financing.

"Light For All" (Luz Para Todos), another of the Brazilian Federal government's important projects, has set a goal to achieve universal access to safe and affordable energy as a key element in its fight against rural poverty. There are currently nearly 18 million Brazilians living in remote communities without reliable access to electricity. In the Amazon region, there are more than 1,000 mini power plants, most of which use diesel oil to supply electricity to isolated villages. Many of them are old and inefficient. The need to serve this region is expected to create more opportunities for companies offering innovative and efficient technologies.

III. Goals for the Mission

The goal of the Renewable Energy Trade Mission to Brazil is to provide U.S. participants with first-hand market information, access to government decision makers, and one-on-one meetings with business contacts, including potential agents, distributors and partners, so they can position themselves to enter or expand their presence in the Brazilian market.

IV. Scenario for the Mission

The Renewable Energy Trade Mission will include three stops: Rio de Janeiro, São Paulo and Salvador da Bahia. In each city, participants will meet with potential business partners, customers, end-users and agents/distributors through one-on-one meetings and other activities, including regulatory meetings with high-ranking federal and state officials involved in this sector.

Timetable

The full program includes Rio de Janeiro, São Paulo, and Salvador da Bahia. Members of the delegation who opt to visit additional cities, return to Rio, or remain in São Paulo instead of traveling to Salvador may pay an additional US$400 for Gold Key Service appointments. This fee is exclusive of interpreter and transportation costs, estimated at US$200.

V. Criteria for Participant Selection

- Relevance of a company's business line to mission goals.
- Timeliness of the company's signed application and participation agreement (including the participation fees).
- Minimum of 7 and a maximum of 25 participating companies on the mission (a maximum of 10 firms with an existing local office in Brazil will be accepted).

- Potential for business in Brazil for the company.

- Provision of adequate information on the company's products and/or services, and the company's primary market objectives, in order to facilitate appropriate matching with potential business partners.

- Certification that the company meets Departmental guidelines for participation. Generally, a company's products or services should be either produced in the United States, or, if not, marketed under the name of a U.S. firm and have at least 51 percent U.S. content of the value of the finished product or service.

The participation fee is $3,200 per firm, which includes one representative. The fee for each additional firm representative is $750. The option to participate in the trade mission is also being offered to U.S.-based firms in Brazil; the same fee structure applies.

Any partisan political activities (including political contributions) of an applicant are entirely irrelevant to the selection process.

Mission recruitment will be conducted in an open and public manner, including publication in the Federal Register, posting on the Commerce Department trade mission calendar—<http://www.ita.doc.gov/doctm/tmcal.html>—and other Internet Web sites, press releases to general and trade media, direct mail, broadcast fax, notices by industry trade associations and other multiplier groups, and publicity at industry meetings, symposia, conferences, and trade shows. The American Council on Renewable Energy (ACORE) and the Business Council for Sustainable Energy (BCSE) plan to publicize the mission to their members. The Commercial Service will explore and welcome outreach assistance from other interested organizations.

Recruitment for the mission will begin in June and conclude September 5, 2005. Applications received after that date will be considered only if space and scheduling constraints permit.

National Institute of Standards and Technology

[Docket No: 050621163-5163-01]

Request for Public Comments on World Trade Center Investigation Draft Final Reports

AGENCY: National Institute of Standards and Technology, United States Department of Commerce.

ACTION: World Trade Center Investigation Draft Final Reports; request for public comment.

SUMMARY: The Director of the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), Technology Administration, United States Department of Commerce, announces the availability for public comment of the draft final reports of the study conducted by NIST into the technical causes of the World Trade Center (WTC) disaster on September 11, 2001, after the terrorist attacks. NIST requests comments on any or all of the 43 draft reports issued by NIST concerning various aspects of the WTC buildings, including their design, construction, maintenance and evacuation. These reports total about 10,000 pages. NIST especially encourages public comment on the approximately 200-page draft summary report, which contains the principal findings and recommendations for changes to codes, standards, and practices. NIST will consider all comments received from the public on the 43 draft reports before they are issued in final form.

DATES: The public comment period will commence with the release of the draft reports. Comments on the draft reports must be received no later than 5 p.m. EDT August 4, 2005.

ADDRESSES: A link on the WTC Investigation Web site, <http://wtc.nist.gov> will take users to a page where comments may be entered. The Web page is the preferred method for submittal of comments as this will allow NIST to electronically sort and group comments that address the same issue.

Comments may also be submitted by e-mail to wtc@nist.gov, by fax to (301) 975-6122, or by mail to: WTC Technical Information Repository, Attention: Mr. Stephen Cauffman, National Institute of Standards and Technology, Stop 8610, Gaithersburg, MD 20899-8610.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information or if you have questions, please contact Mr. Steve Cauffman by e-mail at cauffman@nist.gov or by telephone at (301) 975-6051.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) released a total of 43 draft reports documenting the Federal Building and Fire Safety Investigation of the World Trade Center Disaster. These reports include the draft summary report on the Investigation of the WTC Towers, 8 project reports, and 34 supporting technical topic reports. Fifteen of these reports, including three project reports, were released on April 5, 2005.

These reports are being issued in draft form with a period for public comment. Public comments will be accepted until 5 p.m. EDT on August 4, 2005.

In response to the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) initiated a formal Federal building and fire safety investigation of the World Trade Center disaster on August 21, 2002. NIST issued two written updates on its WTC investigation activities (December 2002 and December 2003) and detailed technical progress reports in May 2003 and June 2004.

The investigation objectives are:

1. To determine (a) why and how the WTC 1 and WTC 2 collapsed following the initial impact of the aircraft, and (b) why and how the 47-story WTC 7 collapsed.

2. To determine why the loss of life and injuries were so low or so high depending on location, including technical aspects of fire protection, occupant behavior, evacuation, and emergency response.

3. To determine the procedures and practices which were used in the design, construction, operation, and maintenance of the WTC buildings.

4. To identify, as specifically as possible, areas in national building and fire codes, standards, and practices that warrant revision.

Among the specific questions that NIST is investigating within the above four objectives are the following:

How and why did WTC 1 stand nearly twice as long as WTC 2 before collapsing (103 min versus 56 min), though they were hit by virtually identical aircraft?

What factors related to normal building and fire safety considerations not unique to the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, if any, could have delayed or prevented the collapse of the WTC towers?

Would the undamaged WTC towers have remained standing in a normal major building fire?

What factors related to normal building and fire safety considerations, if any, could have saved additional WTC occupant lives or could have minimized the loss of life among the ranks of first responders on September 11, 2001?

How well did the procedures and practices used in the design, construction, operation, and maintenance of the WTC buildings conform to accepted national practices, standards, and codes?

The draft final report documents the investigation of the World Trade Center Towers, the findings of the investigation, and the recommendations resulting from the investigation. Additionally, NIST has released in draft form the eight project reports, and 34 technical topic reports that document all aspects of the investigation. All of the reports are being released as drafts for public comment. NIST will separately release a draft supplementary report documenting the collapse investigation of World Trade Center 7 and allow a period for public comment following its release.

Request for Public Comment: Persons interested in commenting on the draft investigation reports should submit their comments as instructed above. All comments received in response to this notice will become part of the public record and will be available for inspection and copying at the National Institute of Standards and Technology, Freedom of Information Act Reading Room, Gaithersburg, MD.

Comments submitted should be specific to the maximum extent possible: they should clearly state the issue, location (report number, page number, paragraph or sentence), provide a short reason for any suggested change, and provide suggested language for the requested revision. Due to the length of the reports, NIST cannot guarantee consideration of comments submitted without this information.

Comments may be submitted to NIST in any of four ways. A link on the WTC Investigation Web site, <http://wtc.nist.gov> will take users to a page where comments may be entered. The Web page is the preferred method for submittal of comments as this will allow NIST to electronically sort and group comments that address the same issue.

Comments may also be submitted by e-mail to wtc@nist.gov, by fax to (301) 975-6122, or by mail to:

WTC Technical Information Repository, Attention: Mr. Stephen Cauffman, National Institute of Standards and Technology, Stop 8610, Gaithersburg, MD 20899-8610.

National Institute of Standards and Technology

Meetings: Weights and Measures National Conference

AGENCY: National Institute of Standards and Technology, Commerce.

ACTION: Announcement of public meeting of the National Conference on Weights and Measures.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of the National Conference on Weights and Measures will be held July 10 through 14, 2005, at the Hilton in Walt Disney World, Orlando, FL. This meeting is open to the public. Meeting registration and hotel information can be found on the NCWM Web site (<http://www.ncwm.net>). The National Conference on Weights and Measures is an organization of weights and measures enforcement officials of the states, counties, and cities of the United States, and private sector representatives. The Annual Meeting of the Conference brings together enforcement officials, other government officials, and representatives of business, industry, trade associations, and consumer organizations to discuss and vote upon subjects related to the field of weights and measures technology and administration. Pursuant to (15 U.S.C. 272(b)(6)), the National Institute of Standards and Technology supports the National Conference on Weights and Measures in order to promote uniformity among the States in the complexity of laws, regulations, methods of inspection, and testing of equipment that comprises regulatory control by the states of commercial weighing and measuring.

DATES: July 10–14, 2005.

ADDRESSES: The Hilton in Walt Disney World, Orlando, FL.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The National Conference on Weights and Measures (NCWM) has the following topics scheduled for discussion and vote at the Annual Meeting in July. This meeting is comprised of work sessions of the NCWM Committees to discuss and modify, if necessary, and to present items for vote on recommendations that are considered sufficiently developed. Please see NCWM Publication 16, which is available on the NIST Web site (<http://www.nist.gov/owm>) and the NCWM Web site (<http://www.ncwm.net>) for additional information. Written comments may be submitted to the Chief, NIST Weights and Measures Division, 100 Bureau Drive, Stop 2600, Gaithersburg, MD 20899–2600, or via email at owm@nist.gov.

The following provides a brief description of the voting items. Additional information items and subjects for further development will be presented to receive additional input. The NCWM Specifications and Tolerances Committee addresses proposed changes or amendments to NIST Handbook 44, “Specifications, Tolerances, and other Technical Requirements for Weighing and Measuring Devices.” The items address commercial weighing and measuring devices that may be used in commercial measurement applications, that is, devices that are normally used to buy from or sell to the general public or used for determining the quantity of products sold among businesses. Issues on the agenda of the NCWM Laws and Regulations Committee relate to NIST Handbook 130, “Uniform Laws and Regulations in the area of legal metrology and engine fuel quality,” and NIST Handbook 133, “Checking the Net Contents of Packaged Goods.”

NCWM Specifications and Tolerances Committee (Items Scheduled for a Vote)

General Code

Item 310–2: Clarify the tolerances to be applied during the type evaluation of weighing and measuring instruments; that is, special test tolerances do not apply to instruments undergoing type evaluation.

Scales Code

Item 320–1: Clarify the requirement’s original intent for marking zero indications on scales and point-of-sale systems, where a zero-balance condition is represented by other than a digital zero indication.

Item 320–2: The recommendation is to drop the “#” mark as an acceptable symbol for “pound” on a receipt printed by a point-of-sale system, i.e., a cash register interfaced with a scale.

Item 320–3: Add a new user requirement to the Scales Code to address the proper interface of computing scales with electronic cash registers (ECR).

Item 320–4: Change the zero-tracking requirement (the amount of weight that can automatically be rezeroed) for class III scales manufactured after January 1, 2006, to be consistent with the international standard recommended by the International Organization of Legal Metrology (OIML).

Item 320–5: Provide guidelines on the placement of the required nominal capacity and scale division information on scales.

Item 320–8: Align the U.S. requirements for the time dependence (creep) test for scales and load cells with the OIML requirements.

Item 320–9: Include in NIST Handbook 44 the list of acceptable international symbols for marking operational controls, indications and features on scales.

Belt-Conveyor Scale Systems

Item 321–1: Add a requirement for users of belt-conveyor scales to prevent the reweighing of material that has already been weighed, but which may have fallen off the belt-conveyor before delivery to the customer.

Liquid-Measuring Devices

Item 330–1: Add a nonretroactive requirement to address “computer jump” on gasoline and diesel fuel dispensers as the price of gasoline and diesel fuel continues to increase.

Item 330–2: The recommended changes specify the flow rates for retail motor fuel (gasoline and diesel fuel) dispensers at which special tests are to be conducted at low flow rates. The flow rates for the special tests are specified for dispensers marked and those not marked with minimum flow rates.

Vehicle-Tank Meters

Item 331–2: Clarify that the unit price on a vehicle-tank meter does not have to be displayed continuously on a price-computing meter register. However, the unit price must be clearly displayed and understood by the operator and an observer of the delivery.

Item 331–3: The recommendation is to adopt a nonretroactive requirement for an automatic zero-set-back interlock on electronic vehicle-tank meters to force meters to be set back to zero for each delivery. Aircraft fueling is excluded from the requirement.

Item 331–4: Modify the “split-compartment” test for vehicle-tank meters and rename the test as a “product depletion” test. A specific tolerance is specified for the performance of the vapor (air) eliminator system.

Other Items

Item 360–1: Add a tentative code for livestock, meat, and poultry evaluation systems used to measure the fat content on carcasses and other quality characteristics that affect the price paid for the commodities. The proposed tentative code is based upon four recently completed ASTM standards that have been developed over the past three years.

Item 360–2: Amend the Fundamental Considerations in Handbook 44 to recognize additional standards that are acceptable for field standards and update the terminology and references for field standards, reference and secondary standards, corrections, and uncertainties. These changes are related to items 221–1 and 234–1 on the agenda of the Laws and Regulations Committee.

NCWM Laws and Regulations Committee (Items Scheduled for a Vote)

Item 221–1: Amend the Uniform Weights and Measures Law to modify definitions for different types of physical standards to be consistent with current international terminology and add definitions regarding traceability, accreditation, calibration, uncertainty, and other technical terms to recognize current roles of accredited laboratories. Additionally, amendments to the Uniform Weights and Measures Law are proposed to allow the recognition of calibrations performed by accredited laboratories and to broaden references to documentary standards to allow the recognition and use of documentary standards developed by other national and international standards developing organizations.

Item 234–1: Amend the Uniform Regulation for the Voluntary

Registration of Servicepersons and Service Agencies regarding the references to the physical standards that are used and to expand the reference to national and international documentary standards that may be acceptable for the physical standards used by these service agencies. The proposed changes would also broaden the range of laboratories that could verify compliance of the physical standards to these documentary standards.

Item 237-1: This recommendation specifies how biodiesel fuels shall be identified on retail dispensers of the products, and specifies the documentation required to be provided to the retailer at the time of delivery of the biodiesel fuels and blends.

POLICY JUSTIFICATION

Egypt - AVENGER Fire Units

The Government of Egypt has requested a possible sale of 25 complete AVENGER Fire Units, 30 AN/VRC-92E Single Channel Ground and Airborne Radio System (SINCGARS) radios, 29 captive flight trainers, 25 aerial handling trainers, 25 1097A2 High Mobility Multi-Purpose Wheeled Vehicle carriers, support equipment, spare and repair parts, publications and technical data, personnel training and training equipment, U. S. Government Quality Assurance Teams, and other related elements of logistics. The estimated cost is $126 million.

This proposed sale will contribute to the foreign policy and national security of the United States by helping to improve the security of a friendly country that has been and continues to be an important force for political stability and economic progress in the Middle East.

This proposed sale will reduce Egypt dependence on its Soviet air defense systems and will enhance potential interoperability with U. S. forces. This will provide Egypt with two additional short-range air defense brigades of 12 AVENGER fire units per brigade (6 fire units per battalion). One of the 25 fire units will be used as an operational float and/or for training at the Air Defense Institute. Egypt will use the fire units to upgrade its air defense capability and will have no difficulty absorbing these additional fire units into its armed forces.

The proposed sale of this equipment and support will not affect the basic military balance in the region.

The principal contractors will be Boeing Aerospace Company of Huntsville, Alabama; and International Telephone and Telegraph of Fort Wayne, Indiana. There are no known offset agreements proposed in connection with this potential sale.

Implementation of this proposed sale will require the assignment of two field service representatives for one year to support the fire units and SINCGAR radios. There will be a U.S. Government Quality Assurance Team for three weeks intervals quarterly to participate in program management and technical reviews.

There will be no adverse impact on U.S. defense readiness as a result of this proposed sale.

Transmittal No. 05-26

Notice of Proposed Issuance of Letter of Offer Pursuant to Section 36(b)(1) of the Arms Export Control Act

Annex
Item No. vii

(vii) Sensitivity of Technology:

1. The highest classification of the AVENGER hardware is Confidential and the highest classification of data and information is Secret.

a. The sensitivity of AVENGER critical technologies is primarily in the area of design and production know-how and not end items. Critical technologies by major subcomponent include:

(1) The AVENGER control electronics unit integrates several inputs and outputs for the overall fire unit control. Access to the microprocessor and firmware could allow extraction of the fire permit and other information disclosing system capabilities that could be used to develop evasive tactics.

(2) The interface electronic assembly/electronics control assembly contains programming that is uploaded to the missile. Access to this programming could disclose missile capabilities and weaknesses.

(3) The laser range finder and FLIR technology could reveal detailed design and fabrication information of the system which may be applied to systems used against the U.S. The reverse engineering potential is not significant; however, release of some end items could lead to development of countermeasures. The critical technologies in the AVENGER fire unit are: microprocessors, optical coatings, microcircuit technology, semiconductor detectors, printed circuit boards, preparation, purification, compounding and handling of electronic, electro-optic, and optical materials, cryogenic cooling, integrated optics and opto-electronics technology, infrared band sensor, and laser range finder technology. This configuration will not allow for man-portable operation of the system.

3. (U) If a technologically advanced adversary were to obtain knowledge of the specific hardware and software elements, the information could be used to develop countermeasures which might reduce weapon system effectiveness or be used in the development of a system with similar or advanced capabilities.

POLICY JUSTIFICATION

Egypt - CHINOOK Turbine Engines

The Government of Egypt has requested a possible sale of 50 CH-47D T55-GA-714A turbine engines for CHINOOK helicopters, support equipment, spare and repair parts, publications and technical data, personnel training and training equipment, U.S. Government Technical Assistance Field Team (TAFT) and other related elements of logistics. The estimated cost is $73 million.

This proposed sale will contribute to the foreign policy and national security of the United States by helping to improve the security of a friendly country which has been and continues to be an important force for political stability and economic progress in the Middle East.

Egypt will eventually replace its existing T55-L-712 engines on its CH-47 CHINOOK helicopters. Egypt uses these helicopters in support of its armed forces and may also deploy them in cases of disaster relief missions when called upon or in joint exercises with the U.S. Government. Egypt, which already has CHINOOK engines in its inventory, will have no difficulty absorbing these additional engines.

The prime contractor will be Honeywell of Phoenix, Arizona. There are no known offset agreements proposed in connection with this potential sale.

Implementation of this proposed sale will require the assignment of 12 U.S. Government representatives to Egypt following delivery of the engines and installation phase.

There will be no adverse impact on U.S. defense readiness as a result of this proposed sale.

The DoD 'Blanket Routine Uses' set forth at the beginning of the Defense Security Service's compilation of systems of records notices also apply to this system.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, safeguarding, retaining and disposing of records in the system:

STORAGE:

Records contained in the system are stored on electronic media (such as CD-ROM disks, optical digital data disks, computers, and computer output products).

RETRIEVABILITY:

Information is retrieved by full name, Social Security Number, date of birth, state and country of birth.

SAFEGUARDS:

Electronically and optically stored records are maintained in "fail-safe" system software with password-protected access. Records are accessible only to authorized persons with a valid need-to-know, who are appropriately screened, investigated and determined eligible for access. During non-duty hours, alarms systems and/or security or military police guards secure all locations. Only authorized personnel with a valid need-to-know are allowed access to JPAS. Additionally, JPAS users are subject to limitations within the system, based on their specific functions and security eligibility and access level.

RETENTION AND DISPOSAL:

Automated records are actively retained during the entire period an individual maintains DoD affiliation. When either (1) the affiliation ends or (2) an applicant is not accepted for DoD affiliation, the automated records are actively retained for two years. At the end of the two-year period, the automated record is moved to an electronic archive with retrieval capability. Destruction of automated records is by erasure and/or degaussing.

SYSTEM MANAGER(S) AND ADDRESS:

Chief Information Officer/Chief Operating Officer, Defense Security Service, 1340 Braddock Place, Alexandria, VA 22314-1651.

NOTIFICATION PROCEDURE:

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

Department of the Army; Corps of Engineers

Intent To Prepare a Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) for the Construction and Operation of an Open Pit Copper/Nickel/Cobalt/Precious Metals Mine, an Ore Processing Plant, and Tailings Basin Proposed by PolyMet Mining, Inc. Near Babbitt and Hoyt Lakes in St. Louis County, MN

AGENCY: Department of the Army, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, DOD.

ACTION: Notice of intent.

SUMMARY: PolyMet Mining, Inc., has applied to the St. Paul District, Corps of Engineers (Corps) for a permit to discharge fill material into wetlands to facilitate the construction and operation of an open pit copper/nickel/cobalt/precious metals mine in the low grade polymetallic disseminated magmatic sulfide NorthMet deposit in northeastern Minnesota, approximately 6 miles south of the town of Babbitt. The mining process would require the construction of waste and product stockpiles near the open pit. Ore processing would be conducted at a currently inactive taconite processing plant (modifications would be necessary), and ore tailings would be disposed of in a currently inactive taconite tailings basin adjacent to the processing plant. The processing plant and tailings basin are located about 8 miles west of the NorthMet deposit and about 5 miles north of the town of Hoyt Lakes. Ore would be transported from the mine to the processing plant via an existing railroad line. Construction of a railroad spur to the mine and a connecting railroad line to the plant site would be required. Project plans call for the mining of up to 32,000 tons of ore per day after overburden and waste rock stripping and stockpiling. Mining operations would be conducted 24 hours per day, 365 days per year, over the 20-year life of the project. Processing the ore would involve crushing, grinding, flotation, and hydrometallurgical processing. Cathode copper (high purity metal) would be produced on-site by solvent extraction and electrowinning. The processing would produce other metals (nickel, cobalt, palladium, platinum, and gold) as precipitates rather than as finished metal. The precipitates would be shipped offsite for further refining.

The project would require dredging or discharging fill material into an estimated 1,257 acres of wetlands. While some of the wetlands may be isolated, the majority of the wetlands are adjacent to the Partridge River, which is a tributary to the St. Louis River, which is a navigable water of the United States. A specific compensatory wetland mitigation plan has not yet been developed for the project. PolyMet Mining, Inc., has expressed interest in working with various interested federal and state agencies to develop an acceptable plan that would meet federal and state compensatory mitigation requirements. The discharge of fill material into waters of the United States requires a permit pursuant to Section 404 of the Clean Water Act. The final environmental impact statement will be used as a basis for the permit decision and to ensure compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Questions concerning the DEIS can be addressed to Mr. Jon K. Ahlness, Regulatory Branch by letter at U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, 190 Fifth Street East, St. Paul MN 55101-1638, by telephone at (651) 290-5381, or by e-mail at jon.k.ahlness@mvp02.usace.army.mil.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Corps and the State of Minnesota will jointly prepare the DEIS. The Corps is the lead federal agency and the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (MnDNR) is the lead state agency. The U.S. Forest Service is a cooperating agency. The Corps and the MnDNR will prepare and release to the public a Scoping Environmental Assessment Worksheet (EAW) and a Draft Scoping Decision Document. The public will have 30 days to provide comments on those two documents. The Corps and the MnDNR will conduct a public scoping meeting in Hoyt Lakes, Minnesota during the 30-day public comment period. A notice will be published or aired in local media once the meeting has been scheduled. Additional meetings will be conducted as needed. In accordance with 40 CFR 1506.5(c) and Corps policy, a third party contractor will be selected to prepare the DEIS. We anticipate that the DEIS will be available to the public in the summer of 2006.

The DEIS will assess impacts of the proposed action and reasonable alternatives, identify and evaluate mitigation alternatives, and discuss potential environmental monitoring. Significant issues and resources to be identified in the DEIS will be determined through coordination with responsible federal, state, and local agencies; the general public; interested private organizations and parties; and affected Native American Tribes. Anyone who has an interest in participating in the development of the DEIS is invited to contact the St. Paul District, Corps of Engineers. Major issues identified to date for discussion in the DEIS are the impacts of the proposed project on:

1. Natural resources including: Fishery, wildlife, vegetation, waters of the U.S., including wetlands, and riparian areas.
2. Water quality, water quantity, groundwater, erosion, and sedimentation.
3. Air quality.
4. Social and economic resources.
5. Downstream resources.

Additional issues of interest may be identified through the public scoping meeting and agency meetings.

The development of an open pit sulfide ore mine and associated ore processing and tailings facilities would be considered major in scope. The project: (1) Would have a significant adverse effect on wetlands (which are special aquatic sites), (2) has the potential to significantly affect water quality and groundwater, and (3) would also adversely affect plankton, fish, and wildlife. Our environmental review will be conducted to the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, Council of Environmental Quality Regulations, Endangered Species Act of 1973, Section 404 of the Clean Water Act, and applicable laws and regulations.

Dated: June 23, 2005.

Colonel, Corps of Engineers District Engineer.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Proposed Agency Information Collection

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: Notice and request for comments.

SUMMARY: The Department of Energy (DOE) invites public comment on a proposed collection of information that DOE is developing for submission to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. The Office of Science reports annually in the President's Budget Request the numbers of researchers, post docs, graduate students and technicians supported through Research Grants and Field Work Proposals (FWPs). However, these data are based on forecasts by the principal investigator (i.e., PIs) at the time the grants and FWPs were initially funded. These estimates are unreliable because they are based on the best guess of the PIs at the time of funding. While the PI's initial estimate could be accurate at the time of the request, the reliability of the initial estimate decreases as the project matures. Further, the forecasts by the PIs are subjective. Therefore, it is not possible to quantify the inaccuracies with any confidence. To better plan for future investments, the Office of Science must better understand the actual impact of its budget on the technical manpower supported. A short (approximately 17 minutes) web-based survey has been developed to collect actual workforce data from a small sample of researchers currently supported by the Office of Science. The result will be compared to proposal data to estimate the average and range of variation and to derive a statistically valid methodology for approximating budgetary impacts on the technical manpower supported. Comments are invited on: (a) Whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information shall have practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (d) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology. Comments submitted in response to this notice will be summarized and/or included in the request for OMB approval of this information collection; they also will become a matter of public record.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Western Area Power Administration

Central Arizona Project-Rate Order No. WAPA-124

AGENCY: Western Area Power Administration, DOE.

ACTION: Notice of proposed transmission rates.

SUMMARY: The Western Area Power Administration (Western) is proposing revised rates for the Central Arizona Project (CAP) firm point-to-point transmission service, nonfirm point-to-point transmission service, and Network Integration Transmission Service (NITS) on the CAP 115 kilovolt (kV) and 230-kV transmission lines. Current rates, under Rate Schedules CAP-FT1, CAP-NFT1 and CAP-NITS1, extend through December 31, 2005. Proposed rates will provide sufficient revenue to pay all annual costs, including interest expense, and repay required investment within the allowable period. Western will prepare a brochure that provides detailed information on the rates to all interested parties. Proposed rates, under Rate Schedules CAP-FT2, CAP-NFT2, and CAP-NITS2, are scheduled to go into effect on January 1, 2006, and will remain in effect through December 31, 2010. Publication of this Federal Register notice begins the formal process for the proposed rates.

DATES: The consultation and comment period begins today and will end September 29, 2005. Western will present a detailed explanation of the proposed rates at a public information forum. The public information forum is: July 22, 2005, 10-12 p.m. MST, Phoenix, AZ.

Western will accept oral and written comments at a public comment forum. The public comment forum will be held on the following date: August 22, 2005, 1 p.m. MST, Phoenix, AZ.

ADDRESSES: Send written comments to Mr. J. Tyler Carlson, Regional Manager, Desert Southwest Customer Service Region, Western Area Power Administration, P.O. Box 6457, Phoenix, AZ 85005-6457, e-mail carlson@wapa.gov. Western will post official information about the rate process on its Web site at <http://www.wapa.gov/dsw/pwrmt/CAPTRP/CAPTRP.htm>. Western will post official comments received via letter and e-mail to its Web site after the close of the comment period. Western must receive written comments by the end of the consultation and comment period to ensure they are considered in Western's decision process. The public information forum and public comment forum will be held at: Western's Desert Southwest Region (DSWR) office, 615 South 43rd Avenue, Phoenix, AZ.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Jack Murray, Rates Team Lead, Desert Southwest Customer Service Region, Western Area Power Administration, P.O. Box 6457, Phoenix, AZ 85005-6457, telephone (602) 605-2442, e-mail jmurray@wapa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Proposed rates for the CAP 115-kV and 230-kV transmission lines are designed to recover an annual revenue requirement that includes investment repayment, interest, operation and maintenance expense, and other expenses.

The Deputy Secretary of Energy approved Rate Schedules CAP-FT1, CAP-NFT1, and CAP-NITS1 for transmission service effective January 1, 2001 (Rate Order No. WAPA-88, 65 FR 77368, December 11, 2000), and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (Commission) confirmed and approved the rate schedules on July 31, 2001, under FERC Docket No. EF01-5111-000 (96 FERC 62,094). Approval for Rate Schedules CAP-FT1, CAP-NFT1, and CAP-NITS1 covered 5 years beginning on January 1, 2001, ending on December 31, 2005.

Proposed rates for point-to-point transmission service and NITS on the CAP 115BkV and 230-kV transmission lines are based on a revenue requirement that recovers the CAP 115BkV and 230-kV transmission lines costs for facilities associated with providing transmission service and the non-facilities costs allocated to transmission service. Proposed rates for point-to-point transmission service on the CAP 115-kV/230-kV transmission system are determined by combining the average annual amortization costs with the average annual operations and maintenance costs, and dividing them by the average annual contract rate of delivery for the cost evaluation period, fiscal years FY 2006-FY 2010.

PROPOSED POINT-TO-POINT CAP 115/230-KV TRANSMISSION SERVICE RATES

Type of service	Existing rates 115/230-kV system	Proposed rates 115/230-kV system 1/1/2006	Percent change
Firm Transmission Service	$9.83/kW/Year	$8.74/kW/year	(11.09)
Nonfirm Transmission Service	1.87 mills/kWh	1.66 mills/kWh	(11.23)

The proposed rates reflect a 11.09% decrease due to decreases in operation and maintenance, principal, and interest cost for the five year period ending 2010. Implementing the proposed rates results in a firm point-to-point CAP 115-kV and 230-kV transmission line rate of $8.74 per kilowattyear and a nonfirm point-to-point CAP 115-kV and 230-kV transmission line rate of 1.66 mills/kWh.

NITS allows a transmission customer to integrate, plan, economically dispatch, and regulate its network resources to serve its native load in a way comparable to how a transmission provider uses its own transmission system to service its native load customers. The monthly charge methodology for NITS on the CAP 115-kV and 230-kV transmission lines is the product of the transmission customer's load-ratio share times one-twelfth of the annual transmission revenue requirement. The customer's load-ratio share is calculated on a rolling 12-month basis. The customer's load-ratio share is equal to that customer's hourly load coincident with the CAP 115-kV and 230-kV transmission lines monthly transmission system peak divided by the resultant value of the CAP 115-kV and 230-kV transmission lines monthly transmission system peak minus the CAP 115-kV and 230-kV transmission lines coincident peak for all firm point-to-point transmission service plus the CAP 115-kV and 230-kV transmission lines firm point-to-point transmission service reservations.

The proposed rates include the costs for scheduling, system control, and dispatch service.

Legal Authority

Western is establishing rates for transmission service on the CAP 115-kV and 230-kV transmission lines under the Department of Energy Organization Act (42 U.S.C. 7101-7352); the Reclamation Act of 1902 (ch. 1093, 32 Stat. 388), as amended and supplemented by subsequent laws, particularly section 9(c) of the Reclamation Project Act of 1939 (43 U.S.C. 485h(c)); and other acts that specifically apply to the project involved.

By Delegation Order No. 00-037-00, effective December 6, 2001, the Secretary of Energy delegated: (1) The authority to develop power and transmission rates to Western's Administrator; (2) the authority to confirm, approve, and place such rates into effect on an interim basis to the Deputy Secretary of Energy; and (3) the authority to confirm, approve, and place into effect on a final basis, to remand, or to disapprove such rates to the Commission. Existing Department of Energy (DOE) procedures for public participation in power rate adjustments (10 CFR part 903) were published on September 18, 1985.

Availability of Information

All brochures, studies, comments, letters, memorandums, and other documents Western initiates or uses to develop the proposed rates are available for inspection and copying at the DSWR office, located at 615 South 43rd Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona. Many of these documents and supporting information are also available on its

Web site at <http://www.wapa.gov/dsw/pwrmt/CAPTRP/CAPTRP.htm>.

Regulatory Procedure Requirements

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

The Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601, et seq.) requires Federal agencies to perform a regulatory flexibility analysis if a final rule is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities and there is a legal requirement to issue a general notice of proposed rulemaking. This action does not require a regulatory flexibility analysis since it is a rulemaking of particular applicability involving rates or services applicable to public property.

Environmental Compliance

In compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA) (42 U.S.C. 4321, et seq.); Council on Environmental Quality Regulations (40 CFR parts 1500-1508); and DOE NEPA Regulations (10 CFR part 1021), Western has determined this action is categorically excluded from preparing an environmental assessment or an environmental impact statement.

Determination Under Executive Order 12866

Western has an exemption from centralized regulatory review under Executive Order 12866; accordingly, no clearance of this notice by the Office of Management and Budget is required.

Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act

Western has determined that this rule is exempt from congressional notification requirements under 5 U.S.C. 801 because the action is a rulemaking of particular applicability relating to rates or services and involves matters of procedure.

Dated: June 17, 2005.

Michael S. Hacskaylo, Administrator.

recommended that a revised cumulative air quality analysis, including other reasonably foreseeable projects, especially on Uintah and Ouray Reservations be completed. Rating EC2.

EIS No. 20050044, ERP No. D-BLM-J02047-WY, Jonah Infill Drilling Project, Propose to Expand Development of Natural Gas Drilling, Sublette County, WY.

Summary: EPA expressed concerns because decreased well spacing will result in significant impacts to: vegetation from removal or compaction; surface water quality from soil erosion; wildlife from habitat destruction; and fragmentation without providing specific approaches to maintain ecosystem viability. In addition, there is a potential for wetlands impacts from surface activities located in playas. EPA recommends phased development based on geographic considerations and potential impacts and identification of mitigation for significant impacts. Synopsis

Each year, the Interstate TRS Fund Administrator, currently the National Exchange Carrier Association, Inc. (NECA), collects and reviews projected cost and minutes of use data submitted by TRS providers to determine the annual TRS compensation rates for the various forms of TRS. On April 25, 2005, NECA filed its annual Interstate Telecommunications Relay Services Fund Payment Formula and Fund Size Estimate for the period of July 1, 2005 through June 6, 2006. (NECA, Interstate Telecommunications Relay Services Fund Payment Formula and Fund Size Estimate, CC Docket No. 98-67, filed April 25, 2005 (2005 NECA Filing)). As NECA explains in its filing, it performs a detailed analysis of the providers' data to determine, among other things, whether all of the costs submitted may be properly included in the rate calculations. NECA notes that in determining rates for 2005–2006 Fund year it disallowed costs in only two instances, and in each case the provider accepted NECA's decision. NECA proposes the following TRS provider compensation rates: $1.312 per-minute for interstate traditional TRS and interstate and intrastate IP Relay, $1.579 per-minute for interstate STS, and $5.924 per-minute for interstate and intrastate VRS. Based on these figures, NECA proposes a total interstate TRS Fund (Fund) size requirement and carrier contribution factor for the July 1, 2005 through June 30, 2006, Fund year of $413,737,460 and 0.00528, respectively.

Traditional TRS and IP Relay

As in prior years, NECA determined that the same compensation rate would apply to providers of both traditional TRS and IP Relay services. (When the Commission recognized IP Relay as a form of TRS, it directed that IP Relay providers would be compensated at the same rate as traditional TRS. See Provision of Improved Telecommunications Relay Services and Speech-to-Speech Services for Individuals with Hearing and Speech Disabilities, Declaratory Ruling and Second Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, CC Docket No. 98–67, published at 67 FR 39863, June 11, 2002 and 67 FR 39929, June 11, 2002), 17 FCC Red 7779 at page 7786, paragraph 22 (April 22, 2002)). This rate is determined by dividing the providers' total projected costs of providing these services by the providers' total projected minutes of use. For traditional TRS, only the costs of providing interstate service are considered. Based on the data provided, NECA's calculations resulted in a proposed compensation rate of $1.312 per-minute. (This figure was arrived at by dividing the 2005–2006 annualized average projected costs of $298,971,355 by the annualized average projected minutes of 213,112,677, and applying the 1.4% rate of return to an allowance for working capital to the resulting cost per minute). There were no cost disallowances with respect to these services. This rate reflects a slight decrease from the 2004–2005 rate of $1.398.

NECA notes that the Interstate TRS Fund Advisory Council (Council), at its April 19, 2005, meeting, expressed concern that combining the traditional TRS interstate and IP Relay reimbursement rate penalized traditional TRS providers by under-compensating these providers. NECA notes that if the rates were calculated separately, the traditional TRS rate would be $1.40 (up $0.128) and the IP Relay rate would be $1.278 (down $0.034). NECA also notes that although in the early stages of IP Relay, providers indicated that the costs of providing traditional TRS and IP Relay were virtually the same, “the cost data no longer supports that early conclusion.” As a result, NECA offers the Council's recommendation to consider separate reimbursement rates for traditional TRS and IP Relay.

For purposes of determining the Fund size requirement and carrier contribution rate, NECA projected demand for traditional TRS based on prior actual usage. (NECA explains that although in calculating the compensation rates it uses the providers' own projections of minutes of use, in calculating the Fund size it uses actual growth rates to estimate minutes of use that will be paid by the Fund. NECA states that, in this case, it calculated a growth rate from the four-month period of October 2004 through January 2005, and applied this growth rate to the actual minutes of March 2005 to determine projected minutes for the twelve-month period of the July 2005 to June 2006 Fund year). Using a growth rate derived from prior usage (an increase of 22,183 minutes per month), NECA forecasts 26.5 million minutes of use for the period of July 2005 through June 2006 for traditional TRS. NECA used the same methodology to determine a growth rate for IP Relay to estimate minutes of use for the July 2005 through June 2006 Fund year. Using this growth rate (an increase of 210,364 minutes per month), NECA forecasts 99.5 million minutes of use for the period of July 2005 through June 2006 for IP Relay. Taken together, NECA therefore forecasts that there will be 126 million minutes of combined use for traditional TRS and IP Relay during the 2005–2006 Fund year. By multiplying the proposed compensation rate ($1.312) by NECA's projected minutes of use, NECA projects that the Interstate TRS Fund will need $165.3 million to compensate TRS providers for providing these services. (The $165.3 million, added to the funding requirements for the projected use of STS and VRS, as noted below, plus certain administrative costs, determines the total projected Interstate TRS Fund size estimate). NECA notes that if separate rates were adopted for traditional TRS and IP Relay, the total TRS Fund requirement would increase less than 12 thousand dollars, and the contribution factor of 0.00528 would remain the same.

Speech-to-Speech (STS)

The compensation rate for providers of interstate STS is determined the same way, using the providers' total projected interstate costs of providing this service and the providers' total projected minutes of use. As NECA explains, however, although most of the providers reflected an average cost between approximately $1.30 and $2.70 per-minute, one STS provider reported costs of more than $12 per-minute, which NECA characterized as “significantly different from the norm and about seven times the average of the other five providers.” As a result “[a]fter several discussions with the provider to determine why their STS costs were so high,” NECA excluded the provider's data from the rate development. NECA notes that after informing the provider of its intent to exclude the data, the provider accepted NECA's decision. Based on the data submitted (and considered), NECA calculations resulted in a proposed compensation rate for STS of $1.579 per-minute. (This figure was calculated by dividing the 2005–2006 annualized average projected costs of $309,680 by the providers' 2005–2006 projected minutes of 198,860, and applying the 1.4% rate of return for an allowance for working capital to the resulting average cost per minute). This rate represents a slight decrease from the 2004–2005 rate of $1.596.

For purposes of determining the Fund size requirement and carrier contribution rate, NECA projected demand based on a growth rate derived from the same methodology used for traditional TRS and IP Relay, October 2004 through January 2005. Using the average growth rate for this period of 283 minutes, NECA forecasts 187 thousand minutes of use for the period of July 2005 through June 2006 for STS. By multiplying the proposed compensation rate ($1.579) by NECA's projected minutes of use, NECA projects that the Interstate TRS Fund will need $295,409 to compensate TRS providers for providing STS.

Video Relay Service (VRS)

The compensation rate for providers of VRS is also determined based on the total projected costs of providing this service and the total projected minutes of use. NECA, however, did exclude certain costs of one provider. As NECA explains, one VRS provider included the expenses for keeping on staff Certified Deaf Interpreters, i.e., “deaf interpreters who would help hearing interpreters on unusual or difficult calls.” NECA notes that no other VRS provider had such a position, and that after discussions with the provider the provider accepted NECA's decision not to include such costs in the rate development. Based on the data submitted (as modified), NECA's calculations resulted in a proposed compensation rate of $5.924 per minute. (This figure was calculated by dividing the 2005–2006 annualized average projected costs of $321,049,465 by providers' 2005–2006 annualized average projected minutes of 54,948,999, and applying the 1.4% rate of return for an allowance for working capital to the resulting average cost per minute). This rate represents a 22% decrease from the 2004–2005 rate of $7.596.

NECA states that the proposed average rate of $5.924 “appears to be driven by the cost and demand characteristics of a single provider.” (NECA states the “[t]he average produced by the traditional rate development methodology using all providers' cost are above the average.”) NECA notes that if the VRS rate was calculated by excluding the cost and demand data of the low cost provider, the proposed compensation rate would be $7.061 (an increase of $1.137 per-minute). (An increase of $1.137 per minute to the VRS rate would increase the required Fund size by over $40 million ($1.137 multiplied by the projected minutes of use of 35.5 million)). NECA advises the Commission to “explore alternatives to the traditional rate calculation” for VRS because of several open issues relating to the provision of VRS, including “interoperability” and speed of answer. (“Interoperability” refers to whether a consumer can use TRS equipment with any of the providers' relay service and not be limited to using only one provider (e.g., the provider that gave the consumer the equipment). See Petition for Declaratory Ruling Filed by the California Coalition of Agencies Serving the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (CCASDHH) Concerning Video Relay Service (VRS) Interoperability, Public Notice, CC Docket No. 98–67, CG Docket No. 03–123, DA 05–509 (March 1, 2005), published at 70 FR 12884, March 16, 2005). The Commission has presently waived the speed of answer rule for VRS. The waiver expires on January 1, 2006. See 2004 TRS Report & Order, published at 69 FR 53346, September 1, 2004, 19 FCC Rcd pages 12522–12524, 12568–12569, paragraphs 119–123 (speed of answer waiver), and paragraph 246 (raising issue of appropriate VRS speed of answer in Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (FNPRM)). NECA also notes that the Interstate TRS Fund

Advisory Council, at its April 19, 2005, meeting, expressed concern that decreasing the VRS rate from $7.596 to the proposed rate of $5.924 would under-compensate many VRS providers, threatening their continued provision of the service. The Council recommended that the Commission leave open the opportunity to re-examine the VRS rate when decisions on VRS speed of answer and interoperability are reached.

For purposes of determining the Fund size requirement and carrier contribution rate, NECA again projected demand based on a growth rate derived from the same four-month period of October 2004 through January 2005. Using the average growth rate for this period of 120,845 minutes, NECA forecasts 35.5 million minutes of use for the period of July 2005 through June 2006, for VRS. By multiplying the proposed compensation rate ($5.924) by NECA's projected minutes of use, NECA projects that the Interstate TRS Fund will need $210.5 million to compensate TRS providers for providing VRS.

Interstate TRS Fund Size and Carrier Contribution Rate

Once NECA has calculated its proposed compensation rates for traditional TRS and IP Relay, STS, and VRS, NECA calculates the proposed Interstate TRS Fund size and the carrier contribution factor. (Under the Commission's rules, “[e]very carrier providing interstate telecommunications services shall contribute to the TRS Fund on the basis of interstate end-user telecommunications revenues.” 47 CFR 64.604(c)(5)(iii)(A)). The total annual Fund requirement is determined by adding together the projected payments to TRS providers for the various forms of TRS, plus certain administrative expenses. The contribution factor is based on the ratio between total expected TRS Fund expenses and interstate end-user telecommunications revenues.

Making these calculations, NECA determined that the total Fund size requirement—i.e., the amount that would be necessary to compensate providers for providing all eligible TRS services for the period of July 2005 through June 2006—would be $413,337,460. This amount includes the actual costs of providing TRS, NECA's administrative costs, and a 10 percent safety margin, less interest income on retained funds. NECA then divided that number by the total 2004 common carrier end user revenues ($78.2 billion) to arrive at a contribution factor of 0.00528. NECA submits all of its data to the Commission, which then approves or modifies NECA's proposed per-minute compensation rates, carrier contribution factor, and Fund size. (See 47 CFR 64.604(c)(5)(iii)(E), (H)). As we have noted, NECA states that if the Commission adopts separate compensation rates for traditional TRS and IP Relay, the effect on the total Fund size requirement would be negligible and the carrier contribution factor of 0.00528 would be the same.

Commenters

On April 28, 2005, the Commission released a Public Notice requesting comment on NECA's filing. (National Exchange Carrier Association (NECA) Submits the Payment Formula and Fund Size Estimate for Interstate Telecommunications Relay Services (TRS) Fund for July 2005 through June 2006, Public Notice, CC Docket No. 98–67, DA 05–1175 (April 28, 2005), published at 70 FR 24790, May 11, 2005, (2005 TRS Rate PN)). Discussion

We have reviewed the 2005 NECA Filing, as well as the underlying cost data and the comments that were filed. Based on this review, we approve NECA's proposed compensation rates of $1.579 per-minute for STS. We conclude, however, that the compensation rates for traditional TRS and IP Relay should reflect the cost and demand data unique to those services, and that, therefore, it is no longer appropriate to compensate these services at a single rate that reflects the combined projected costs and minutes of use. Accordingly, as reflected in NECA's filing, we adopt a compensation rate of $1.440 per-minute for traditional TRS, and a compensation rate of $1.278 per-minute for IP Relay. With respect to VRS, we reject NECA's proposed rate and, as explained below, we adopt a rate of $6.644 per-minute, reflecting the median rate of the rates of the seven providers that submitted VRS cost and demand data. Accordingly, we adopt a total Fund size of $441,493,869 and a carrier contribution factor of 0.00564. (The compensation rates for STS and VRS, and the fund size and carrier contribution factor, shall be effective upon the release of this Order. The compensation rates for traditional TRS and IP Relay shall be effective upon publication of this Order in the Federal Register. Until such time, providers of traditional TRS and IP Relay shall be compensated at the 2004–2005 rate of $1.398).

Compensation Rate for Speech-to-Speech (STS)

We conclude that STS shall be compensated at $1.579 per-minute for interstate STS for the 2005–2006 Fund year, as recommended by NECA. As we have noted above, this rate was determined by dividing the providers' total projected interstate costs of $309,680 by the providers' total projected interstate minutes of 198,860. We have reviewed NECA's proposed rate and its analysis of the relevant underlying data. We find that NECA's calculations with respect to this service are reasonable. Accordingly, the Interstate TRS Fund will pay $1.579 per-minute for eligible interstate STS for the period of July 2005 through June 2006.

Compensation Rate for Traditional TRS and IP Policy

Separate Rates for Traditional TRS and IP Relay

Given the cost disparity between traditional TRS and IP Relay, (See 2005 NECA filing, page 13, note 21 (reflecting a 11% disparity between the average cost of providing traditional TRS and IP Relay)), we conclude that these services should be compensated at separate rates based on the cost and demand projections specific to each service. We do not believe that it is fair or reasonable to use a combined rate ($1.312) that over-compensates IP Relay providers (by $.034 per-minute) and under-compensates traditional TRS providers (by $0.128 per-minute).

Consistent with prior Commission rulings, NECA proposes a compensation rate of $1.312 applicable to both traditional TRS and IP Relay. The Public Notice seeking comment on NECA's filing also specifically sought comment on whether the Commission should adopt separate compensation rates for traditional TRS and IP Relay. (The issue of whether separate compensation rates should be adopted for traditional TRS and IP Relay was raised in the FNPRM in the 2004 TRS Report & Order. 2004 TRS Report and Order, published at 69 FR 53382, September 1, 2004, 19 FCC Rcd pages 12564–12565, paragraph 233. In the FNPRM, the Commission noted that although the Interstate TRS Fund administrator requests and analyzes separate data for the costs of providing IP Relay and traditional TRS, the services are compensated at the same per-minute rate. The Commission also recognized that “the cost of providing IP Relay may be less than the cost of providing traditional TRS,” and therefore “providers of IP Relay may be over-compensated, and providers of traditional TRS may be under-compensated.” The Commission therefore sought comment on whether to adopt separate compensation rates for IP Relay and traditional TRS. Four parties filed comments in response to this issue. All commenters asserted that the cost differences for providing these services are not significant, and therefore that they should continue to be compensated at the same rate). Three parties support a single compensation rate for both services; three parties support separate compensation rates.

MCI, Nordia, and Hamilton assert that the Commission should continue to use the same compensation rate for traditional TRS and IP Relay. MCI and Hamilton assert that the costs of providing these services are generally similar. MCI suggests that to the extent the costs of providing traditional TRS may be higher, it is likely because of inefficiencies, and the Commission should not reward inefficient providers. Nordia asserts that the Commission should not adopt separate rates without giving prior notice.

Sprint, Ultratec and CSD urge the Commission to adopt separate compensation rates for these services. They maintain that compensating these services at the same rate is no longer warranted. (Although in its comments to the 2004 TRS Report & Order's FNPRM Sprint stated that the two services should be compensated at the same rate, in its subsequent comments in response to the Public Notice Sprint asserts that “given the cost differentials in providing traditional TRS and [IP Relay] service, a merged rate can no longer be justified.”) Sprint notes that the average costs per-minute of traditional TRS is significantly more than for IP Relay, and asserts that this is because many mandatory minimum standards are waived for IP Relay and IP Relay providers avoid access charges. Sprint argues that unless the rates are separate, IP Relay providers “will continue to receive a windfall” while traditional TRS providers “will continue to lose money on every traditional TRS minute carried.” Ultratec similarly asserts the combined rate fails to compensate traditional TRS providers for their reasonable costs, and that separate rates should be adopted that reflect the average actual costs associated with each of these services. CSD also asserts that so long as the costs for providing each of these services differ, “it makes little more sense to use a single rate for their reimbursement.”

We concluded that traditional TRS and IP Relay should be compensated at separate rates based on the cost and demand projections specific to these services. NECA's filing indicates that IP Relay costs are approximately 11 percent less than traditional TRS. As NECA indicates, for the 2005–2006 Fund year, the average cost per-minute for IP Relay is $0.162 less than the average cost per-minute of traditional TRS. We do not believe that it is fair or reasonable to use a combined rate ($1.312) that overcompensates IP Relay providers (by $.034 per-minute) and under-compensates traditional TRS providers (by $0.128 per-minute). We also agree with CSD that the dispositive consideration is not whether adopting separate rates would reduce the size of the Interstate TRS Fund, but rather whether a particular rate compensates providers for the reasonable costs of providing the service. As an immediate matter, NECA indicates that the adoption of the separate rates for traditional TRS and IP Relay would have no material effect on the size of the fund. However, because the growth of IP Relay will likely outpace the growth of traditional TRS, over the long-term adopting separate rates will likely lead to a decrease in the size of the Fund. We therefore adopt separate rates for traditional TRS and IP Relay, and instruct NECA to calculate and propose separate rates for these services in the future. (In its comments, Hamilton urges the Commission to reject a "rate of return" cost recovery methodology for traditional TRS and IP Relay and instead adopt its "MARS" plan, which it proposed in its petition for reconsideration (filed October 1, 2004) of the 2004 TRS Report & Order. Under the MARS plan, the interstate TRS rate would be calculated based on an average of the intrastate TRS rates paid by the states. Hamilton requests that the Commission seek comment on the MARS plan when it adopts the 2005–2006 TRS rates. MCI also states that the Commission should adopt the MARS plan. AT&T also urges the Commission to consider adopting this plan. We will raise the issue of adopting the MARS plan in a future notice of proposed rulemaking.

Compensation Rate for Traditional TRS

We conclude that traditional TRS shall be compensated at $1.440 per-minute. This is consistent with NECA's calculation based on the providers' projected cost and demand specific to traditional TRS. This rate is determined by dividing the providers' total projected interstate costs for traditional TRS of $68,084,670 by the providers' total projected interstate minutes of traditional TRS of 47,948,559, and applying the 1.4% rate of return for an allowance for working capital to the resulting average cost per minute. We have reviewed NECA's rate and its analysis of the relevant underlying data particular to traditional TRS. We find that NECA's calculations with respect to this service are reasonable. Therefore, we adopt a compensation rate for eligible traditional TRS calls of $1.440 per-minute for the period of July 2005 through June 2006. (The compensation rate for traditional TRS shall be effective upon publication of this Order in the Federal Register. Until such time, providers of traditional TRS shall be compensated at the 2004–2005 rate of $1.398).

Compensation Rate for IP Relay

We conclude that IP Relay shall be compensated at $1.278 per-minute. This is consistent with NECA's calculation based on the providers' projected cost and demand specific to IP Relay. This rate is determined by dividing the providers' total projected costs for IP Relay of $230,866,685 by the provider's total projected minutes of IP Relay of 183,164,118, and applying the 1.4% rate of return for an allowance for working capital to the resulting average cost per minute. We have reviewed NECA's proposed rate and its analysis of the relevant underlying data particular to IP Relay. We find that NECA's calculations with respect to this service are reasonable. Therefore, we adopt a compensation rate for eligible traditional IP Relay calls of $1.278 per-minute for the period of July 2005 through June 2006. (The compensation rate for IP Relay shall be effective upon publication of this Order in the Federal Register. Until such time, providers of IP Relay shall be compensated at the 2004–2005 rate of $1.398).

Compensation Rate for Video Relay Service (VRS)

We conclude that VRS shall be compensated at $6.644 per-minute. NECA indicates that its proposed rate of $5.924 per-minute appears to be driven by the costs and demand data of one provider, and that if the data from this provider was excluded the rate would be $7.061. NECA also notes that the Council expressed concern over the proposed rate and the effect one provider had on the rate, and that there are several open issues with respect to VRS service that might affect the rate. (These issues are speed of answer and interoperability). Accordingly, NECA suggests that the Commission may wish to explore alternatives to the traditional rate calculation for VRS. No commenter filed comments in support of NECA's proposed rate.

In response to NECA's filing, several commenters urge the Commission to reject the proposed VRS rate of $5.924 and adopt a higher alternative rate that is more representative of the majority of the providers' costs in providing this service. Hands On, and TDI/DHHCAN assert that the proposed rate is skewed artificially low because there is currently no speed of answer or interoperability requirement, results in higher costs to those providers that do provide a faster speed of answer and interoperable service. TDI/DHHCAN also asserts that NECA's proposed compensation rate may result in a reduction of the availability of the service, which would be contrary to the functional equivalency requirements of the ADA. Hands On and CSD further assert that the proposed rate would adversely affect service quality. CSD also asserts that the proposed rate will reduce competition because the non-dominant providers will be forced to reduce the quality of their service and therefore will be even less able to compete with the dominant provider.

Hands On proposes several alternative ways to calculate the VRS rate. These alternatives include: a weighted average that excludes the dominant provider, which results in a rate of $7.061 (this is the alternative rate proposed in NECA filing); the median cost rate of all of the providers that submitted data, which results in a rate of $6.644; a weighted average that excludes the data of the high cost and low cost providers, which results in a rate of approximately $7.00; and a non-weighted average that includes all providers, which results in a rate of $7.325. In Hands On's view, the "most appropriate methodology is to use the weighted average method, but with the elimination of the low and high cost providers' estimates." CSD also proposes alternative VRS rate calculations that exclude the dominant provider's data, use a non-weighted average of all providers' data, or tie the VRS compensation rate to service levels. CSD suggests that one of these alternatives could be implemented on an interim basis until the Commission adopts service level standards (e.g., speed of answer). TDI/DHHCAN proposes that the Commission adopt the rate of $7.061 that derived by excluding the data of the largest provider. Hands On asserts that "[a]ny of these alternatives rate calculations would be appropriate for the Commission to adopt on an interim basis pending action on outstanding [issues], including * * * answer speed and interoperability." Hands On also suggests that the Commission could adopt VRS rates that vary depending on the provider's speed of answer. Hands On asserts that such an approach would ensure that providers that lower costs (presumably because they employ fewer VRS CAs and therefore have longer speed of answer times) will not be overcompensated. Sorenson, in its reply comments, asserts that adoption of Hands On's proposed plan would be premature until the Commission establishes a speed of answer requirement for VRS. Because the speed of answer requirement for VRS is presently waived, and the issue of a speed of answer requirement for VRS is pending before the Commission, we decline to adopt this proposal at this time.

We conclude that under the present circumstances, given the lack of certain standards for VRS, NECA's proposed VRS compensation rate of $5.924 would not be a fair and reasonable compensation rate for VRS providers. Therefore, we do not adopt that rate, but instead adopt a rate of $6.644 per-minute for the 2005–2006 Fund year. This rate reflects the median rate of the individual rates of the seven VRS providers that submitted cost and demand data.

We conclude that the median rate is the most appropriate rate for 2005–2006 Fund year. This rate is closest to a majority of the providers' proposed rates and is a better indicator of reasonable costs in this unique situation, where there are several pending issues under consideration impacting providers' costs. As we have noted, the Commission's rules mandate that providers be compensated for the "reasonable" costs of providing service. (See 47 CFR 64.604(c)(5)(iii)(E)). The record reflects that the "reasonableness" of costs will vary depending on the level of service provided. Because of open quality of service issues such as speed of answer and interoperability, the record reflects that the providers may not be offering consumers the same level of service. In these circumstances, where NECA's proposed rate was calculated at a time when certain key VRS rules are in flux, and where services are being provided at various levels of service quality, we believe that an alternative compensation rate is appropriate. We are concerned that both the overall quality and availability of the service may suffer under NECA's proposed rate.

In these circumstances, we reject NECA's proposed rate. On the present record, we find that a compensation rate based on the weighted average of the providers' costs would not fairly reflect the reasonable costs of providing service. As NECA and commenters have noted, NECA's proposed rate is below the rate of all providers except the one dominant, low cost provider. (To determine a per-minute compensation rate that reflects reasonable costs, the Commission has used providers' projected costs and minutes of use data to determine a weighted average. As a result, the rate does not correlate with any provider's actual costs—it simply represents one estimate of what a reasonable compensation should be to fairly compensate all providers. The rate will, necessarily, result in some providers being over-compensation and some providers being under-compensated. In the past, the relative level of compensation as it affects each of the providers has not been an issue, likely because market share was more evenly divided and providers' level of service was similar). Therefore, under NECA's proposed rate, all of the providers except the one dominant, low-cost provider will lose money on every minute of call carried. We also note that all commenters on this issue assert that NECA's proposed rate is too low and unfair, and that the Interstate TRS Fund Advisory Council has expressed similar concerns. Finally, we recognize that the Commission has not yet settled on a cost recovery methodology for VRS, and that this issue remains open. We conclude that the median rate of $6.644 per-minute represents a just and reasonable rate for compensating providers of VRS. That rate is closest to a majority of the providers' proposed rates, and will result (by definition) in the same number of providers having costs above the rate as below the rate. That rate is also supported by at least one commenter. We therefore adopt a VRS compensation rate of $6.644 per-minute for the period of July 2005 through June 2006. (Because of the open "quality of service" issues regarding VRS, including speed of answer, interoperability, and whether the service should be required to be offered 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, the Commission may revisit the VRS compensation rate for the 2005–2006 Fund year, if new rules are adopted in these areas that would affect the cost of providing service. Moreover, we emphasize that the Commission's conclusion with respect to the VRS rate in this Order is based on the unique circumstances of the present record.

Interstate TRS Fund Size and Carrier Contribution Rate

We adopt a total Interstate TRS Fund size of $441,493,869 and a carrier contribution factor of 0.00564 for the July 2005 through June 2006 Fund year. (We recognize that adopting a VRS rate of $6.644, rather than $5.924, increases the size of the Fund by approximately $28 million (or nearly 7 percent). Although we remain concerned about the rapid growth in the size of the Fund, we are obligated to ensure that providers are compensated for their reasonable costs. We also note that the rate of $6.644 is significantly less than the previous rate of $7.596. Moreover, the size of the Fund is largely driven by the steadily increasing demand for IP Relay and VRS, all of which calls are currently compensated from the Fund). That figure reflects the funds necessary to compensate providers for projected eligible minutes of use for the various forms of TRS, a 10 percent safety margin, and NECA's administrative costs, less interest income, and is based on the rates adopted in this Order.

AT&T asserts that NECA has overstated the Fund size by inflating demand projections. AT&T notes that NECA applied a growth rate based on a four-month period (October 2004 through January 2005), and argues that projecting demand based on this "arbitrary" four-month period has inflated the Fund size by $43 million. AT&T asserts that NECA should have developed a growth rate based on the prior twelve-month period. AT&T also argues that NECA's inclusion of a 10 percent "safety margin" to cover possible shortfalls is unwarranted, excessive, and unnecessary, and that instead, NECA should request additional funding if and when there is such a shortfall.

CSD, Hands On, and NECA filed reply comments in response to AT&T assertions. First, NECA explains that it used this four-month period to establish a growth rate because of changes in the relay service marketplace and anomalies in the minutes of use for certain months in the prior twelve-month period. NECA notes, for example, that because of the projected increased use of captioned telephone, it believes minutes of use of traditional TRS will increase, but that reliance on the historic twelve-month period would result in a decrease. NECA further notes that there were two months in which the minutes of use for IP Relay and VRS were uncharacteristically low, and that therefore use of a twelve-month growth period that includes these month's results in a growth rate that is significantly below the overall historic growth rate. As a result, NECA asserts that its usage projection is "far more reasonable" than using an historic twelve-month period as AT&T proposes. CSD and Hands On agree that NECA's reliance on the four-month period to project minutes of use was appropriate because of the increased use of new technologies and the need for adequate funding as demand for these new services continues to increase. In its comments, Hamilton asserts that the significant increase in demand for IP Relay and VRS merit an increase in the overall fund size.

Second, NECA explains that it has used a 10 percent safety margin every year since its first filing in 1994, "to insure smooth, efficient operation of the fund and to minimize the need for subsequent fund size revisions." (We note that NECA has not always referred to this margin as a "safety margin," but as, e.g., an "uncollectable allowance"). NECA also notes that unanticipated growth in the minutes of use required an additional assessment during the 2003–2004 Fund year, that in December 2004 the Commission increased the compensation rates retroactively to the beginning of the Fund year, and that minutes of use continue to grow. (In February 2004, the Commission increased the Fund size and carrier contribution factor because of the growth of IP Relay and VRS. See Telecommunications Relay Services and Speech-to-Speech Services for Individuals with Hearing and Speech Disabilities, Order, CC Docket No. 98–67, DA 04–465 (Feb. 24, 2004)). In these circumstances, NECA suggests that a 10 percent safety margin is prudent, and will obviate the possibility that NECA will have to bill and collect additional funds from over 4,300 contributors.

Under these circumstances, we find that NECA's use of a four-month period to project demand and the inclusion of a 10 percent safety margin are reasonable. As NECA explains in its filing and reply comments, it used a four-month period to determine the growth rate for traditional TRS because that period reflected a steady growth in minutes of use, whereas in prior months traditional TRS minutes fluctuated up and down from month to month. It also reasonably believes that traditional TRS minutes will increase in the 2005–2006 Fund year, because of the growth in the use of captioned telephone service. NECA also explains that it used this same four-month growth period for STS because “a clear growth rate has not been discernable either annually or monthly,” and for IP Relay and VRS because there is limited historical data for those services. In addition, NECA explains that for IP Relay, there was steady growth in that period compared to fluctuations in prior months. We find NECA's approach to be reasonable, particularly in view of the overall steady growth in the use of the two Internet-based forms of TRS, IP Relay and VRS. (NECA notes that “continued strong growth or Internet and video relay services, and the anticipated growth of captioned telephone VCO minutes”).

We also conclude that NECA's inclusion of the 10 percent safety margin is reasonable and appropriate given the continued growth in the overall minutes of use and the desire to avoid having to increase the Fund size and see additional contributions in the middle of a Fund year.

Other Issues

Commenters raise two other issues relating the funding mechanism for TRS. First, AT&T argues that the Commission should eliminate the ability of local exchange carriers (LEGs) to recover their Interstate TRS Fund contributions through carrier access charges. AT&T notes that raised this issue in 2003, but that in the 2003 Bureau TRS Order the Bureau stated that the rate order was not the appropriate proceeding in which to address this issue. AT&T now asserts that this charge should be eliminated “either in a separate proceeding or as part of the Commission's comprehensive reform of intercarrier compensation.” In reply comments, NECA and Verizon assert that AT&T's argument is not germane to this proceeding. Verizon also asserts that, in any event, it is neither unlawful nor inappropriate to require access customers to pay a portion of a LEC's Interstate TRS Fund contribution. We again conclude, as the Bureau did in the 2003 Bureau TRS Order, that this issue falls outside the scope of this proceeding.

Second, Telco Group asserts that international revenues should be excluded from the revenue base used to calculate payments due the Interstate TRS Fund, “at least for those carriers whose international revenues comprise a significant proportion of their total interstate and international revenues.” As it notes, Telco Group filed a petition for a declaratory ruling on this issue, on which the Commission sought comment by public notice. (See Telco Group, Inc. Files Petition for Declaratory Ruling or Waiver to Exclude International Revenues from the Revenue Base Used to Calculate Payment to the Interstate TRS Fund, Public Notice, CC Docket No. 98–67, DA 04–3352 (Oct. 25, 2004), published at 69 FR 64573, November 4, 2004). Accordingly, this issue will be addressed by the Commission in that proceeding.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, as amended (RFA), (the RFA, see 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., has been amended by the Contract with America Advancement Act of 1996, Public Law Number 103–121, 110 Statute 847 (1996) (CWAAA). Title II of the CWAAA is the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Act of 1996 (SBREFA00, requires that a regulatory flexibility analysis be prepared for rulemaking proceedings, unless the agency certifies that “the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.” (5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The RFA generally defines “small entity” as having the same meaning as the terms “small business,” “small organization,” and “small governmental jurisdiction.” (5 U.S.C. 605(b)). In addition, the term “small business” has the same meaning as the term “small business concern” under the Small Business Act. (5 U.S.C.

601(3) (incorporating by reference the definition of “small business concern” in the Small Business Act, 15 U.S.C. 632). Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 601(3), the statutory definition of a small business applies “unless and agency, after consultation with the Office of Advocacy of the Small Business Administration and after opportunity for public comments, establishes one or more definitions of such term which are appropriate to the activities of the agency and publishes such definition(s) in the Federal Register). A small business concern is one which: (1) Is independently owned and operated; (2) is not dominate in its field of operation; and (3) satisfies any additional criteria established by the Small Business Administration.

The Commission concludes in this item that the public interest is best served by requiring and adopting separate compensation rates for traditional TRS and IP Relay based on the cost and demand data submitted by providers unique to those services. The Commission believes that it would be unfair to continue to use a combined rate to compensate providers of traditional TRS and IP Relay when doing so will result in IP Relay providers being over-compensated, and traditional TRS providers being under-compensated.

This item affects providers of traditional TRS and IP Relay providers, but imposes no regulatory burden upon them. Currently, only seven providers are providing traditional TRS and being compensated from the Interstate TRS Fund: Ameritech, AT&T, Hamilton, Kansas Relay Service Inc., MCI, Nordia, and Sprint. Presently, only six entities are providing IP Relay and being compensated from the Interstate TRS Fund: AT&T, Hamilton, MCI, Sprint, Nordia, and Sorenson. In addition, this item imposes no significant economic impact on small entities. Although the six IP Relay providers will receive less compensation as a result of the rule adopted in this Order, the seven providers of traditional TRS will benefit by receiving more compensation for providing this service.

Therefore, certification is in order since both prongs of the legal test—i.e., (a) no significant economic impact; and (b) no impact upon a substantial number of small entities—are satisfied. Most of the entities affected by the item are not small entities, and there is no significant economic impact because the result of the Order is to confer as much of an economic benefit as an economic disadvantage. Furthermore, there are not a substantial number of small entities affected by this Order. Accordingly, the Commission certifies that the requirements of this Order will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Ordering Clauses

Pursuant to the authority contained in §§ 1, 2, and 225 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 151, 152, and 225, that this order is hereby adopted.

NECA shall compensate providers of Speech-to-Speech relay service (STS) and Video Relay Service (VRS) for the July 1, 2005 through June 30, 2006 Fund year at the following rates: STS providers—$1.579 per completed interstate conversation minute; and VRS providers—$6.644 per completed interstate and intrastate conversation minute.

NECA shall compensate providers of traditional telecommunications relay service (TRS) and IP Relay, effective upon publication of this Order in the Federal Register for the July 1, 2005 through June 30, 2006 Fund year, at the following rates: traditional TRS providers—$1.440 per completed interstate conversation minute; IP Relay providers—$1.278 per completed interstate and intrastate conversation minute. (Because TRS payment formulas are to be effective for a one-year period beginning July 1 under 47 CFR 64.604(c)(5)(iii)(H), we find good cause, pursuant to 5 U.S.C.553(d), to make this Order effective on less than thirty days notice). Prior to publication of this Order in the Federal Register, NECA shall compensate providers of traditional TRS and IP Relay at the 2004–2005 Fund year rate.

The Interstate TRS Fund size shall be $441,493,869 and the carrier contribution factor shall be 0.00564, for the July 1, 2005, through June 30, 2006, Fund year.

The Commission will not send a copy of this Order to Congress and the Government Accountability Office pursuant to the Congressional Review Act of 1996 because this is a rule of particular applicability adopting the annual TRS provider compensation rates. (See 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A)).

[FMR Bulletin 2005-B2]

Real Property

To: Heads of Federal Agencies

Subject: Federal Real Property Profile
Summary Report

1. What is the purpose of this bulletin? This bulletin announces the release of the Fiscal Year (FY) 2004 version of the Federal Real Property Profile (FRPP) Summary Report, which provides an overview of the United States Government's owned and leased real property as of September 30, 2004.

2. What is the background?

a. This annual publication is a summary report of the Federal Government's real property assets, as reported to the General Services Administration's (GSA's) Federal Real Property Profile Internet Application (FRPP-IA) reporting system. The report provides an overview of Federal real property assets categorized in three major areas—buildings, land, and structures. Descriptions of specific use classifications are located in the Appendix of the report.

b. The detailed information for this summary report is held in a password-protected Web-based database. This database allows agency representatives to update data on-line in real time, and to produce ad hoc reports. The FRPP-IA reporting system provides information regarding Federal real property holdings to stakeholders, including the Office of Management and Budget, the Congress, the Federal community, and the public. Its purpose is to assist Federal asset managers with their stewardship responsibilities by offering a real-time environment for on-line updates.

c. To ensure accuracy, GSA requested that agencies confirm their FY 2004 data summary figures prior to publication of the FRPP Summary Report. Most agencies provided data based on their real property holdings as of September 30 of each year. In a few instances, data provided in previous years has been used where updated information was unavailable. This is noted on the list of contributing agencies. The agency list and status of updates and confirmations is provided as part of the FRPP Summary Report.

d. On February 4, 2004, the President issued Executive Order (EO) 13327, "Federal Real Property Asset Management." The EO created a Federal Real Property Council (FRPC) and directed the Administrator of General Services, in consultation with the FRPC, to establish and maintain a single, comprehensive database of all real property under the custody and control of all executive branch agencies, except for property withheld for reasons of national security, foreign policy, or public safety. With the issuance of EO 13327 and to meet the requirements defined by the FRPC, the Governmentwide inventory report will be modified for FY 2005 reporting purposes. For future fiscal years, including FY 2006 and beyond, a Governmentwide inventory report will be compiled based on any new requirements established by the FRPC.

3. How can we obtain a copy of the FRPP summary report? You will find the FY 2004 version of the FRPP Summary Report on the GSA website at <http://www.gsa.gov/realpropertyprofile>. There you will be able to read, print, or download this report. You can also obtain a copy from the Asset Management Division (MPA), General Services Administration, 1800 F Street, NW., Washington, DC 20405, or by email at mcdonald.peoples@gsa.gov.

4. Who should we contact for further information regarding the FRPP? For further information, contact Stanley Langfeld, Director, Regulations Management Division (MPR), Office of Real Property Management, Office of Governmentwide Policy, General Services Administration, 1800 F Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20405, by phone at (202) 501-1737, or by e-mail at stanley.langfeld@gsa.gov.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Office of the Secretary

[Document Identifier: OS-4040-0002]

Notice of Adoption of Government- Wide Standard Data Elements for Use by Federal Grant Making Agencies— Mandatory Grant Applications/Plans and Related Submissions

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, Grants.gov Program Management Office, HHS.

In compliance with the requirement of section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, the Office of the Secretary (OS), Department of Health and Human Services, is publishing the following summary of a proposed collection for public comment. Interested persons are invited to send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including any of the following subjects: (1) The necessity and utility of the proposed information collection for the proper performance of the agency's functions; (2) the accuracy of the estimated burden; (3) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (4) the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology to minimize the information collection burden. Emergency Clearance for the data set was published in the Federal Register on September 3, 2004 [Vol. 69, No. 171]. Public comments from the Emergency Clearance were incorporated into the proposed information collection.

Type of Information Collection

Request: Regular.

Title of Information Collection: SF-424 Mandatory (M), Application for Federal Assistance.

Form/OMB No.: OS-4040-0002.

OMB cleared the SF 424(M),

Application for Federal Assistance, for emergency use on January 25, 2005.

Use: On February 28, 2005, the Grants.gov Program Management Office, one of the 26 E-Government initiatives, managed by HHS, published the proposed the SF 424(M) collection for public comment in the Federal Register (70 FR 9656). Interested individuals were invited to send comments regarding any aspect of this collection of information. This notice indicates request for extension of OMB clearance for the SF-424 (M), and also responds to comments received on the February 28, 2005, Federal Register notice.

The SF-424 (M) is intended for use as the government-wide data set for the cover page of applications, plans, and related submissions under mandatory grant programs. The form is currently available for use as part of the electronic application process of Grants.gov, which was deployed in October 2003 and is part of the implementation of the Federal Financial Assistance Management Improvement Act of 1999 (Pub. L. 106-107). Federal agencies and applicants/recipients under mandatory grant programs will use the standard cover page data set and definitions for paper and electronic applications/plans/related submissions. The standard data set replaces numerous agency data sets and reduces the administrative burden placed on the grants community. Federal agencies are not required to collect all of the information included in the proposed data set. The agency will identify the data that must be provided by applicants through instructions that will accompany the application package.

We plan to refine the form over time. At this time, no changes are being made to the form, although, in several cases, we made changes to the instructions. Additional standard data elements for other components of an application/plan, e.g., a standard budget, may be proposed at a later date.

Frequency: Recordkeeping, application, and on occasion.

Affected Public: Federal, State, Local and Tribal governments; farms; and non-profit organizations.

Total Annual Respondents: 1,271.

Total Annual Responses: 22,186.

Average Burden Per Response: 1 hour.

Total Annual Hours: 22,186.

Responses To Comments

We received nine sets of comments—eight from Federal agencies and one from a university. The comments generally addressed the following areas: Need for an additional form for mandatory grant programs; length of the form; requested changes to the form or instructions; and desired functionality of the electronic form. The comments in each area are addressed below.

Need for an Additional Form for Mandatory Grant Programs

Several commenters questioned whether creating an additional SF 424 form could be considered streamlining. With the issuance of the SF 424 (M), there are now four variations of the SF 424 in addition to the core SF 424: Mandatory grants, research and related, short organizational, and individual. Each of these variations was developed to accommodate specific types of programs or recipients, whether using different or fewer data elements. The SF 424(M) was developed for use in mandatory grant programs, which differ in from discretionary grants in a number of respects. We believe making these accommodations for specific market segments, including mandatory grant programs, is a significant streamlining. These several versions of the SF 424 represent a reduction from hundreds of agency- and program-specific forms with unique or non-standard elements.

Length of the Form

Several commenters noted the length of the form in the version proposed. Two things should be noted. As a hard-copy form, the SF 424(M) form is no longer than the core SF 424. Although we proposed a continuation page, in response to other comments (see below), in the next version of the form, we have decided to eliminate the continuation page. Additionally, the commenters were viewing a printed version of a PureEdge form. When viewed electronically, the form does not appear as three individual pages but rather as a series of data elements. The elimination of the continuation page will affect the length of the PureEdge form as well.

Requested Changes to the Form or Instructions

Several commenters requested changes to the form and/or instructions. These comments included requests for definitions of terms, addition of data elements, and changes in terminology. We evaluated the requested changes and noted that some of them were not appropriate or were not appropriate for mandatory grant programs, e.g., use of the term “amendment” in lieu of “update” and inclusion of “continuation” as a type of submission.

In the first case, we do not believe that it is appropriate to introduce the term “amendment.” None of the other versions of SF 424 use the term “amendment;” applicants generally do not initiate “amendments.” The term also may be confused with an amended award issued by the Federal awarding agency. As a means of tracking changes to applications, agencies may use the date of submission that will be recorded by Grants.gov. In the second case, continuation applications may be used in discretionary grants programs, but generally are not used in mandatory grant programs. There is no need to modify this form to accommodate the comment because Federal agencies/programs can select from any of the various SF 424 forms and should use the one that best suits their needs.

In several cases, commenters asked for changes that are appropriately handled by the agencies in the agency- or program-specific instructions that will be provided to applicants. This includes advising applicants about how to complete items such as “Type of Submission” or “Frequency.” The form instructions specify those required and optional data elements that will require agency instructions. One commenter indicated that providing information on “areas affected by the project” would be problematic because the nature of the program or project might make it very difficult to pinpoint the effects on specific geographical areas. We believe this is a program-specific issue, which would need to be addressed in the program’s application package instructions.

In response to the comments, we have clarified or changed the instructions in several areas. We expanded the instructions related to “consolidated application/plan/funding request.” Also, the instructions, as proposed, limited the “Type of Applicant” choices to those that generally are eligible to receive mandatory grants. Several commenters asked that the potential choices be expanded. Although the excluded applicant types generally are not eligible for mandatory grant programs, the instructions have been modified to indicate that an agency may allow an applicant to choose from any of the applicant types displayed. This is consistent with the objective of having this form primarily reflect the needs of mandatory grant programs but being available for other uses as determined by Federal agencies/program.

For those comments that were germane to mandatory grant programs, in version 2, we plan to make several changes to the form (and corresponding instructions). As part of that effort, we will review the various data elements and determine whether we should change them to more closely align with the core SF 424 or need to retain them as currently used. Among the changes we plan in version 2 are eliminating use of the continuation page. The inclusion of multiple Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) numbers will be handled other than through a cover page and the other data elements shown on the continuation page will be accommodated through expansion of fields on the cover page or by other means.

Desired Functionality of the Electronic Form

One commenter asked that the form also be in Microsoft Word or Excel format in the belief that applicants do not always have the resources to buy the full version of Adobe Acrobat and Adobe Acrobat Reader does not allow applicants to save documents filled out electronically. Grants.gov has opted to use PureEdge, not Adobe to develop its forms. This software provides fillable forms and is available free of charge from the Grants.gov website.

One commenter requested that, when a CFDA number is entered, the title should automatically be inserted. This functionality exists for the single CFDA number on the cover sheet (the application downloaded by the applicant has the CFDA number and title pre-populated), but not for the additional CFDA numbers. At the time the applicant enters this information, the application is on their desktop, not connected to a source file where this information is available.

To obtain copies of the supporting statement and any related forms for the proposed paperwork collections referenced above, access the HHS Web site address at <http://www.hhs.gov/oirm/infocollect/pending/> or e-mail your request, including your address, phone number, OMB number, and OS document identifier, to naomi.cook@hhs.gov, or call the Reports Clearance Office on (202) 690-6162. 9. A record about a loan applicant or potential contractor or grantee may be disclosed from the system of records to credit reporting agencies to obtain a credit report in order to determine the person's credit worthiness and ability to repay debts owed to the Federal Government.

10. When a person applies for a loan under a loan program as to which the OMB has made a determination under I.R.C. 6103(a)(3), a record about his/her application may be disclosed to the Treasury Department to find out whether he/she has a delinquent tax account, for the sole purpose of determining the person's creditworthiness.

11. A record from this system may be disclosed to the following entities in order to help collect a debt owed the United States:

a. To another Federal agency so that agency can effect a salary offset;

b. To the Treasury Department or another Federal agency in order to effect an administrative offset under common law or under 31 U.S.C. 3716 (withholding from money payable to, or held on behalf of, the individual);

Disclosure under parts (a)-(c) and (e) is limited to those items; the amount, status, and history of the claim; and the agency or program under which the claim arose. Disclosure of records is limited to debtor's name, address, and social security number. Also a record from this system may be disclosed to other systems, Federal agencies or its agents in order to participate in a computer matching of a list of debtors against a list of Federal employees.

DISCLOSURE TO CONSUMER REPORTING AGENCIES:

Disclosure pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(b)(12): Disclosure may be made from this system to "consumer reporting agencies," as defined in 31 U.S.C. 3701(a)(3). The purpose of this disclosure is to aid in the collection of outstanding debts owed to the Federal Government, typically, to provide an incentive for debtors to repay their debts timely, by making these debts part of their credit records. Disclosure of records is limited to the individual's name, address, social security number, and other information necessary to establish the individual's identity; the amount, status and history of the claim; and the agency or program under which the claim arose. The disclosure will be made only after the procedural requirements of 31 U.S.C. 3711(e) have been followed. Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

STORAGE:

Hard copy documents are maintained in file folders at agency headquarters and area/district office sites; and on computer disc pack and magnetic tape at central computer sites. Hard copy documents and automated records will both be maintained in accordance with Chapter 45-13 of the HHS General Administration Manual, "Safeguarding Records Contained in Systems of Records", and the "HHS Automated Information System Security Program Handbook."

RETRIEVABILITY:

This varies according to the particular accounting system within the HHS Operating Divisions, Area and District Offices. Usually the hard copy document is filed by name within accounting classification. Computer records may be indexed by social security number and voucher number. Intra-departmental uses and transfers concern the validation and certification for payment, and for HHS internal audits.

SAFEGUARDS:

1. Authorized Users: Employees and officials directly responsible for programmatic or fiscal activity, including administrative and staff personnel, financial management personnel, computer personnel, and managers who have responsibilities for implementing HHS funded programs.

2. Physical Safeguards: File folders, reports and other forms of personnel data, and electronic diskettes are stored in areas where fire and life safety codes are strictly enforced. All documents and diskettes are protected during lunch hours and nonworking hours in locked file cabinets or locked storage areas. Magnetic tapes and computer matching tapes are locked in a computer room and tape vault.

3. Procedural Safeguards: Password protection of automated records is provided. All authorized users protect information from public view and from unauthorized personnel entering an office. The safeguards described above were established in accordance with HHS Chapter 45-13 of the General

Administration Manual; and the HHS ADP System Manual Part 6, "ADP Systems Security."

RETENTION AND DISPOSAL:

Records are purged from automated files once the accounting purpose has been served; printed copy and manual documents are retained and disposed of in accordance with Government Accountability Office principles and standards as authorized by the National Archives and Records Administration.

SYSTEM MANAGER(S) AND ADDRESS:

Department of Health and Human Services, DHHS, Assistant Secretary for Budget, Technology and Finance, Office of the Secretary, Room 510A, Hubert H. Humphrey Building, Washington, DC 20201.

NOTIFICATION PROCEDURE:

Inquiries should be made, either in writing or in person, to the organizations listed under "Location" in Appendix 1, with the exception of Food and Drug Administration records. For those records contact: FDA Privacy Act Coordinator (HFI-30), Food and Drug Administration, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20857. The individual making the inquiry must show proof of identity before information is released. Give name and social security number, purpose of payment or collection (travel, grant, etc.) and, if possible, the agency accounting classification.

RECORD ACCESS PROCEDURES:

Same as notification procedures. Requesters should also clearly specify the record contents being sought, and may include a request for an accounting of disclosures that have been made of their records, if any. (These access procedures are in accordance with HHS regulations (45 CFR 5b.5(a)(2)).)

CONTESTING RECORD PROCEDURE:

Contact the official at the address specified under notification procedure above, and reasonably identify the record and specify the information being contested, the corrective action sought, and the reasons for requesting the correction, along with supporting information to show how the record is inaccurate, incomplete, untimely, or irrelevant.

RECORD SOURCE CATEGORIES:

Travel vouchers submitted by the individual; grant, contract and loan award document; delinquent loan, grant and scholarship record; consultant invoice of services rendered; and application for travel advance.

The scientific review group will address and consider each of the following criteria in assigning the application's overall score, weighting them as appropriate for each application. The application does not need to be strong in all categories to be judged likely to have major scientific impact and thus deserve a high priority score. For example, an investigator may propose to carry out important work that by its nature is not innovative, but is essential to move a field forward.

The review criteria are as follows:
Significance: Does this study address an important problem? If the aims of the application are achieved, how will scientific knowledge be advanced? What will be the effect of these studies on the concepts or methods that drive this field? Does the applicant demonstrate an understanding of the need for and intent of the research? Does the applicant provide a description of study activities that are likely to lead to meeting the objectives of this project? Are the proposed study activities likely to have a positive impact on the field of HIV prevention for HIV positive women in the southern U.S.?

Approach: Are the conceptual framework, design, methods, and analyses adequately developed, well-integrated, and appropriate to the aims of the project? Does the applicant acknowledge potential problem areas and consider alternative tactics? Does the applicant address all of the activities listed on pages four through eight of this announcement? Will the applicant establish a community advisory board to assist on all aspects of conducting the study? Does the applicant agency demonstrate adequate knowledge of the epidemic in its geographic area and the target population? Does the applicant provide a timeframe for the proposed project? Does the applicant propose an adequate plan to recruit the required minimum number of eligible participants? Does the applicant propose an adequate plan to retain at least 85 percent of the study sample across the follow-up period? Does the applicant present an adequate plan for recruitment and organizational support of nurses to deliver the intervention? Surveillance of HIV/AIDS Related Events Among Persons Not Receiving Care

Announcement Type: New.

Funding Opportunity Number: PS05-085.

Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance Number: 93.944.

Key Dates: Application Deadline: August 1, 2005.

Executive Summary: HIV/AIDS surveillance data have been used for describing the epidemic, planning prevention and treatment activities, developing treatment guidelines, advocating for resources, and allocating and prioritizing available resources within communities. The Health Resources Services Administration (HRSA) uses HIV/AIDS surveillance data from states to estimate severity of need to allocate nearly two billion in funding for HIV-related ambulatory care and support services available annually through the Ryan White Comprehensive AIDS Resources Emergency (CARE) Act.

A committee from the Institute of Medicine (IOM) recently reviewed, at the request of Congress, the status of HIV/AIDS surveillance. In the resulting report, three populations of interest were outlined;

- Persons infected with HIV, who do not have a diagnosis of HIV and are not receiving care.
- Persons infected with HIV, who have a diagnosis of HIV but are not receiving care.
- Persons infected with HIV, who have a diagnosis of HIV and are receiving care.

Understanding how many and which persons in a community have a diagnosis of HIV but are not receiving care is critically important for estimating the community's resource needs. Of the estimated 850,000–950,000 HIV-infected persons in the United States, an estimated 75 percent know they are infected. Of these, an estimated 50 percent do not have evidence of having received any medical care for their HIV infection. One of the goals of CDC's Advancing HIV Prevention initiative is to provide HIV testing outside of traditional medical settings, and to increase linkage to HIV care for those whose HIV test results are positive. Because of treatment advances, more people with HIV infection are living longer and healthier lives. Persons who know they are infected can benefit from prophylaxis for opportunistic infections, monitoring of their immune status, and, when recommended, treatment with antiretroviral drugs. Additionally, new HIV therapies may reduce the degree of infectiousness by lowering viral load and thereby reducing HIV transmission.

Therefore, to determine the extent of medical services and resources that will be needed for persons who are infected with HIV, but who have not received medical care, it is critically important to quantify and describe the number in this population. In addition, determining factors related to not receiving care will be important in designing effective interventions for linking persons to care.

A supplemental surveillance system designed to produce population-based estimates of persons who have a diagnosis of HIV and are receiving care has been developed. Federal awards were made to 26 health departments to collect clinical and behavioral data among persons who have a diagnosis of HIV and are receiving care. Supplemental surveillance systems that collect data about those persons infected with HIV who are and are not receiving care will provide critically needed information on the quality of care and severity of need for care; barriers to receiving care; prevention; and support services at the local level. This information will assist local planning groups (i.e., community planning groups and local planning councils) in determining local allocation of CDC and Ryan White CARE Act funds. Additionally, this type of supplemental surveillance data will provide a means of evaluating new prevention initiatives (e.g., Advancing HIV Prevention) that focus on the provision of prevention services and linkage to care for persons living with HIV (PLWHA) infection.

I. Funding Opportunity Description

Authority: Sections 317(k)(2) and 318(c) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. Sections 247b(k)(2) and 247c(c)), as amended.

Purpose: The purpose of the program is to develop a supplemental HIV/AIDS surveillance system to identify persons who have a diagnosis of HIV infection and who are not receiving care. The collected data will be used to determine the potential added resources that will be required when this population is linked to care. This program addresses the Healthy People 2010 focus area(s) of:

- Access to health care.
- Disability and secondary conditions.

- Community-based programs.
- HIV.
- Mental health.
- Public health infrastructure.

Measurable outcomes of the program will be in alignment with one or more of the following performance goal(s) for the National Center for HIV, STD and TB Prevention (NCHSTP) and the Division of HIV/AIDS Prevention (DHAP) Strategic Plan:

- By 2010, increase to at least 80 percent the proportion of HIV-infected people who are linked to appropriate prevention, care, and treatment services, as measured by those who report having received some form of medical care within three months of their HIV diagnosis (2001 baseline: 79 percent).
- Strengthen the capacity nationwide to monitor the epidemic; develop and implement effective HIV prevention interventions; and evaluate prevention programs.

The data from this project will provide information that is necessary for developing and implementing effective interventions for linking prevention, treatment, and care, and encouraging the use of these services by HIV-infected persons who are not receiving care.

Research Objectives:

- To identify persons who have a diagnosis of HIV, but who are not receiving care.
- To ascertain barriers to receiving care through patient interview.
- To determine the clinical status of persons who have a diagnosis of HIV infection, but who are not receiving care, to estimate the added resources that would be required when these individuals are linked to care.

Activities:

Awardee activities for this program are as follows:

- Collaborate with CDC to develop and review the required protocols.
- Collaborate with CDC to develop and review the required data collection instruments.

- Participate in required training activities.
- Attend, as soon as feasible after awarding of funds, a principal investigators' meeting at CDC to review and finalize the project protocol and data collection instruments.
- Use state HIV/AIDS surveillance databases and supplemental laboratory databases to identify HIV-infected persons who are not receiving care.
- Share with CDC the list of HIV infected persons not receiving care, by study code number but without identifiers, to determine whether all, or a representative sample of, HIV-infected persons not receiving care will be interviewed.
- Conduct personal interviews of all, or a representative sample of, persons with HIV not receiving care to collect: demographic data; HIV testing history; high-risk drug use and sexual behaviors; reasons for not using health care; and other variables determined in collaboration with CDC.
- If respondent consents, collect a sample of blood, such as a dried blood spot from a finger-stick, for further laboratory testing to include CD4 count, HIV viral load, and resistance testing.
- Ship blood specimens for testing to participating laboratories according to shipping protocol.
- Work with CDC to develop the database and database management capability for this project.
- Collect and maintain a database of linked interview and laboratory data; maintain this information in an electronic database; periodically transmit this data to CDC with patient unique identifiers. No individual patient names will be transmitted to CDC.
- Protect data in accordance with Appendix C of CDC's Guidelines for HIV/AIDS Surveillance. Applicant must ensure that the program requirements detailed in the security standards are attained.
- Participate in periodic conference calls and grantee meetings with other funded sites and CDC.
- Disseminate findings jointly with CDC and other participating sites, particularly analyzing and summarizing data from local sites.
- Participate in evaluation activities.

In a cooperative agreement, CDC staff is substantially involved in the program activities, above and beyond routine grant monitoring.

CDC Activities for this program are as follows:

- Coordinate the development and review of the required protocols.
- Coordinate the development and review of the required data collection instruments.

- Convene a principal investigators' meeting to review and finalize the project protocol and data collection instruments.
- Participate in joint conference calls, grantee meetings, and site visits.
- Assist project sites in compiling a list of HIV-infected persons not receiving care and describing that population.
- On the basis of data submitted to CDC, determine whether all or a representative sample of HIV-infected persons not receiving care will be interviewed at each project site.
- Provide training and technical support for interviewers, including technical support for the collection of blood, laboratory testing, electronic data collection, and data transfer to CDC.
- Provide training and technical support for data management and data analysis of interview and laboratory data.
- Jointly disseminate findings, particularly analyzing and summarizing aggregate data from all participating sites.

III. Eligibility Information

III.1. Eligible Applicants

Because of the critical need to understand populations of persons with a diagnosis of HIV who are receiving care and those who are not receiving care, eligible applicants are limited to those health departments or their bona fide agents in the jurisdictions randomly sampled by the RAND Corporation in a national probability sample and awarded funding under Program Announcement 04155, entitled "Morbidity and Risk Behavior Surveillance." The following are the eligible jurisdictions: California; Chicago, Illinois; Delaware; Florida; Georgia; Houston, Texas; Illinois; Indiana; Los Angeles, California; Maryland; Massachusetts; Michigan; Mississippi; New Jersey; New York; New York City, New York; North Carolina; Oregon; Pennsylvania; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Puerto Rico; San Francisco, California; South Carolina; Texas; Virginia; and Washington.

Eligibility is further restricted to sites (among those listed above) that:

- Have mandated and implemented HIV infection reporting.
- Have state laws/rules/regulations that mandate reporting of either all CD4 laboratory tests, regardless of test value (i.e., no cutoff level).

OR

Have all detectable HIV viral load laboratory tests.

OR

Have the authority to interpret existing state laws/rules/regulations to meet the above eligibility criteria.

- Have implemented the laboratory-reporting requirement stated above (see the second eligibility criterion above) for at least one year.

Eligible applicants are limited to the health departments in the jurisdictions randomly sampled by the RAND Corporation in a national probability sample and awarded funding under Program Announcement 04155, entitled "Morbidity and Risk Behavior Surveillance," due to their participation in the initial phases of this research study. The study was initiated in response to a need for high-quality, population-based data on quality of care and severity of need for care, prevention, and support services on the local level to assist local planning groups (i.e., Community Planning Groups and local planning councils) in determining local allocation of CDC and Ryan White CARE Act funds.

In order to implement a supplemental surveillance system, which will address these data needs, CDC developed a study design, which will rely on a national probability sample of persons with HIV infection to generate nationally representative estimates of clinical outcomes and HIV-related behaviors. The Health Care Services and Utilization Survey, conducted in the mid-1990s by the RAND CORPORATION, demonstrated the methodology as appropriate for this purpose. Briefly, CDC contracted with the RAND Corporation to draw a nationally representative sample of states using probability proportional to size methods. Based on availability of resources, 20 states were selected by RAND. In the 20 selected states, HIV care providers were randomly selected to participate in the study. For patients randomly selected from these providers, data on HIV care was abstracted from medical records, and the patients were offered participation in an interview. CDC has piloted these methods for population-based patient selection since 1998 in 12 areas in the Survey of HIV Disease and Care (SHDC) project. It is imperative to the fidelity and integrity of this research study that the recipients funded under Program Announcement 04155 are the only eligible entities for program activities proposed under this announcement, due to the nature of the activities already conducted by recipients, and the linkage and correlation between activities completed and study findings and the proposed activities.

Eligible applicants may designate a bona fide agent to apply on behalf of their state. A bona fide agent is an agency or organization identified by the state as eligible to submit an application under the state eligibility in lieu of a state application. If you are applying as a bona fide agent of a state or local government, you must provide a letter from the state or local government as documentation of your status. Place this documentation behind the first page of your application form.

III.2. Cost Sharing or Matching

Matching funds are not required for this program.

III.3. Other

CDC will accept and review applications with budgets greater than the ceiling of the award range.

Special Requirements: If your application is incomplete or nonresponsive to the requirements listed in this section, it will not be entered into the review process. You will be notified that your application did not meet submission requirements.

- Late applications will be considered nonresponsive. See Section "IV.3. Submission Dates and Times" for more information on deadlines.

- Eligible applicants (as outlined in eligibility criteria) must supply evidence of having all of the following:

- Award of funds through PA 04155. You must include a copy of Notice of Award (NoA) for Program Announcement (PA) 04155 in the appendix.

- State laws/rules/regulations that mandate HIV infection reporting.

- State laws/rules/regulations that mandate all CD4 laboratory tests regardless of test value (i.e., no cutoff level). Copies of state laws/rules/regulations must be submitted as part of the application in the appendix, and the applicant must refer to the specific language that addresses the eligibility criteria.

OR

All detectable HIV viral load laboratory tests

OR

The authority to interpret existing state laws/rules/regulations to meet eligibility criteria. Include a letter of justification, on official health department letterhead stationary, signed by the health department official who has the authority to interpret state laws/rules/regulations, if interpretation of state laws/rules/regulations for reportable conditions has been used to justify eligibility.

- Implemented the laboratory reporting requirement stated above (see second eligibility criteria above) for at least 1 year.

- Documentation of eligibility must be included in the application in the appendix.

Note: Title 2 of the United States Code Section 1611 states that an organization described in Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code that engages in lobbying activities is not eligible to receive federal funds constituting an award, grant, or loan.

Individuals Eligible to Become Principal Investigators: Any individuals who have the skills, knowledge, and resources necessary to carry out the proposed research are invited to work with their institution to develop an application for support. Individuals from underrepresented racial and ethnic groups as well as individuals with disabilities are always encouraged to apply for CDC programs.

V. Application Review Information

V.1. Criteria

Applicants are required to provide measures of effectiveness that will show that they have accomplished the various identified objectives of the cooperative agreement. Measures of effectiveness must relate to the performance goals stated in the "Purpose" section of this announcement. Measures must be objective and quantitative and must measure the intended outcome. These measures of effectiveness must be submitted with the application and will be an element of evaluation.

Reviewers will be asked to evaluate the likelihood that the proposed research will have a substantial effect on the pursuit of the goals of CDC-supported research. These goals are as follows:

- To advance the understanding of biological systems.
- To improve the control and prevention of disease and injury.
- To enhance health.

The application will be evaluated against the following criteria:

Methods (40 points): Are the conceptual framework, design, methods, and analyses adequately developed, well-integrated, and appropriate to the aims of the project? Does the applicant acknowledge potential problem areas and consider alternative tactics? Are the proposed methods feasible? Will they accomplish the program goals? Will they address the required follow-up activities and methods in a timely manner? Are the objectives reasonable, time-phased, and measurable? Does the applicant provide reasonable methods to evaluate progress toward the timely accomplishment of objectives? Is documentation provided which supports the applicant's ability to locate and enroll potentially hard-to-reach populations (e.g., data about sexually transmitted diseases or HIV partner counseling and referral programs, other research or surveillance projects)?

Capacity (30 points): Is the investigator appropriately trained and well suited to carry out this work? Is the work proposed appropriate to the experience level of the principal investigator and other researchers (if any)? Does the applicant have the appropriate staff to conduct this research? Do the job descriptions and curricula vitae for proposed and current staff indicate that they are appropriate for identifying and locating persons who have a diagnosis of HIV and who are not receiving care? Do the current or proposed staffs have the ability to conduct face-to-face interviews outside of an office setting? Does the current or proposed staff have the ability and the appropriate state-required qualifications to collect blood?

Significance (20 points): Does this study address an important problem? If the aims of the application are achieved, how will scientific knowledge be advanced? What will be the effect of these studies on the concepts or methods that drive this field? What is the extent to which data have or will assist in HIV prevention and care activities?

Objective (10 points): Does the applicant provide objectives which are reasonable, time-phased, and measurable? Does the applicant provide reasonable methods to evaluate their progress toward the timely accomplishment of the objectives?

Additional Review Criteria: In addition to the above criteria, the following items will be considered in the determination of scientific merit and priority score:

Protection of Human Subjects from Research Risks: Does the application adequately address the requirements of Title 45 CFR Part 46 for the protection of human subjects? This will be scored; an application can be disapproved if the research risks are sufficiently serious and protection against risks is so inadequate as to make the entire application unacceptable.

Inclusion of Women and Minorities in Research: Does the application adequately address the CDC Policy requirements regarding the inclusion of women, ethnic, and racial groups in the proposed research? This includes: (1) The proposed plan for the inclusion of both sexes and racial and ethnic minority populations for appropriate representation; (2) The proposed justification when representation is limited or absent; (3) A statement as to whether the design of the study is adequate to measure differences when warranted; and (4) A statement as to whether the plans for recruitment and outreach for study participants include the process of establishing partnerships with community(ies) and recognition of mutual benefits.

Budget (Reviewed but not scored): The reasonableness of the proposed budget and the requested period of support in relation to the proposed research.

V.2. Review and Selection Process

Applications will be reviewed for completeness by the Procurement and Grants Office (PGO) staff, and for responsiveness by NCHSTP. Incomplete applications and applications that are non-responsive to the eligibility criteria will not advance through the review process. Applicants will be notified the application did not meet submission requirements.

An objective review panel comprised of CDC staff, outside of the funding division, will evaluate complete and responsive applications according to the criteria listed in the "V.1. Criteria" section above. The objective review process will follow the policy requirements as stated in the GPD 2.04 [<http://198.102.218.46/doc/gpd204.doc>].

Award Criteria: Award decisions during the programmatic review will be based on the following:

- Scientific merit (as determined by the objective review panel).
- Availability of funds.
- Programmatic priorities.
- Funding of applications in rank order as determined by the objective review panel.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Administration for Children and Families

Administration on Children, Youth and Families, Children's Bureau; Consortium for Longitudinal Studies of Child Abuse and Neglect (LONGSCAN)

Announcement Type: Initial.

Funding Opportunity Number: HHS-2005-ACF-ACYF-CA-0087.

CFDA Number: 93.670.

Due Dates for Applications:

Application is due August 10, 2005.

Executive Summary: The purpose of these grants is to support a fourth implementation phase of the Consortium for Longitudinal Studies of Child Abuse and Neglect, which is conducting and coordinating prospective studies of young children who are at risk or who have already experienced maltreatment. These studies are expected to contribute to the knowledge of the etiology and consequences of child maltreatment, and provide new insights into the prevention, identification and treatment of maltreatment.

Priority Area 1

I. Funding Opportunity Description

The purpose of these grants is to support a fourth implementation phase of the Consortium for Longitudinal Studies of Child Abuse and Neglect, which is conducting and coordinating prospective studies of young children who are at risk or who have already experienced maltreatment. These studies are expected to contribute to the knowledge of the etiology and consequences of child maltreatment, and provide new insights into the prevention, identification and treatment of maltreatment.

Background

LONGSCAN is a consortium of prospective studies designed to examine the life course of young children who are at risk of maltreatment or who have already been maltreated. Currently, the total projected sample size is about 1,500 children who are recruited at age four or younger. Baseline data is collected through child and primary caretaker interviews on all children in each of the studies at age four. Teacher assessments on each child are collected at subsequent follow-ups after the child enters school. The studies use common data collection instruments and a common developmental perspective so that applied analyses of data as well as comparisons among sites and site-specific analyses can be accomplished. To date, the specific common measurement batteries have been selected for ages four, six, eight and twelve, and data have been collected on twelve-year-olds in some sites. Tracking is carried out annually. Each site is responsible for selecting and maintaining a sample to follow at the designated data points for up to twenty years. The study duration of twenty years has been selected for conceptual reasons only, and the actual duration of the effort will be contingent upon the availability of financial support.

The Principal Investigators have signed and abide by a Governance Agreement that describes the operating structure of the Executive Board and seven Committees (Publication, Measures, Human Subjects, Communication, Field Procedures and Tracking, Data Handling and Analysis, Funding and Development) and policies related to ownership, local analysis and authorship. The Executive Board and Committees meet twice a year and use the Internet in between to discuss issues that arise and to reach agreement on the most appropriate procedures and actions to take.

Samples of children for the five sites vary by their level of risk and exposure to maltreatment. The studies include children identified at birth as at risk; children identified as at risk in pediatric clinics during their first year of life; children identified as at risk due to a report to a child protective services agency; children in treatment because of maltreatment; and children who have been removed from their families and placed in foster care following maltreatment. In addition to the common measures, each site also is collecting data. For example, one site has recruited children in their first year of life and has a special focus on use of videotaped observations of parent-child interactions as a means of assessing attachment and bonding. Two sites are obtaining information on the role of the fathers in caring for the children.

As the grantees complete their fifteenth year of work, the sites have completed recruitment of their samples; collected site-specific data; selected, piloted and trained on administering measures for the age four, six, eight, and twelve, fourteen, and sixteen-year old follow-ups; developed procedures and conducted annual contact interviews with the samples; developed forms; and conducted CPS record reviews for their samples.

During the first fifteen years of implementation, the Coordinating Center has provided for coordination of cross-site activities including measurement selection and development; production of instruments, operational manuals and training for site staff; development of the data entry system and training of site staff in entry and analysis; receipt and checks for the data; development, maintenance, documentation and distribution to sites of datasets; and conducted cross-site analyses. All sites will have completed the data collection on the four-, six-, and eight-year-olds, and most will have completed the data collection for twelve-year-olds. Consortium members have written papers and presented individually and on panels at various national professional conferences.

The Administration on Children, Youth and Families' (ACYF) Children's Bureau seeks to fund a fourth phase of the Consortium for Longitudinal Studies to enable the completion of all data collection for children at ages twelve and sixteen in these samples, and to begin data collection from older participants as appropriate. Variations in subject recruitment have resulted in a range in the ages of the children in the studies so that, although data collection from eight-year-olds will have just been completed in one site, at least four of the five sites will be well into the age 16 follow-up during this period. It is also expected that a common measurement battery will be developed and used for the follow-ups as the sample moves from adolescence into adulthood. This phase of funding will provide for data analyses and findings for baseline and follow-up of the samples through age twelve, and preliminary analyses for the developmental transition through adolescence and into adulthood.

In this, the fourth phase, the Children's Bureau again intends to award up to six separate grants: five to Satellite Sites and one to a stand-alone Coordinating Center. Each Satellite Site and Coordinating Center applicant is expected to submit an individual application in response to this priority area.

The Children's Bureau is committed to the process of secondary data analysis for the purpose of verification and extension of research findings. To that end, the applicant(s) will agree to archive data from the study with the National Data Archive on Child Abuse and Neglect within two years of the termination of Federal funding for the project. The applicant's Institutional Review Board and research participants should be made aware that the data from the project will be archived and made available to other researchers after personal identifiers have been removed. Archiving will involve providing individual respondent data in electronic form and the accompanying documentation, including the codebook, the final report, and copies of the research instruments, as appropriate. A manual describing the guidelines of the Archive, 'Depositing Data with the National Data Archive on Child Abuse and Neglect: A Handbook for Investigators,' is available from the Archive directly at the Family Life Development Center, MVR Hall, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY 14853 (phone: (607) 255-7799), from the Archive Web site at www.ndacan.cornell.edu, or from the National Clearinghouse on Child Abuse and Neglect Information.

History

In Fiscal Year 1989, the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect (NCCAN), which was the predecessor to the Office on Child Abuse and Neglect (OCAN), an office in the Children's Bureau, funded two successful applicants in response to the priority area for the Consortium for Longitudinal Studies of Child Maltreatment. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the Juvenile Protective Association in Chicago were awarded a planning grant as a 'central grantee' and 'satellite grantee,' respectively. The planning grant successfully developed a plan for a longitudinal study. The original announcement stated that upon completion of this planning year, a central grantee and up to three satellites would be funded for a five-year period and possibly longer, pending statutory authority and the availability of funds. The announcement went on to state that additional satellite projects could be funded in the future.

In FY 1990 and FY 1991, NCCAN awarded five-year grants to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the Juvenile Protective Association for the implementation of the Consortium for Longitudinal Studies of Child Maltreatment. The University of North Carolina received the award as the central grantee (Coordinating Center) and for two Satellite Sites (in North Carolina and Seattle); and the Juvenile Protective Association received the award for a satellite grantee (in Chicago), thus implementing the proposed plan for the Consortium Coordinating Center and three Satellite Sites.

In FY 1990, the San Diego State University Foundation received a grant in response to the priority area on Psychological Impact of Child Maltreatment, and by FY 1991, had signed an agreement to participate as a Satellite Site in the Consortium.

In FY 1991, the University of Maryland at Baltimore received a grant in response to the priority area on Field Initiated Research for Child Abuse and Neglect, and agreed, as part of their application, to coordinate with the Consortium for Longitudinal Studies. The University of Maryland at Baltimore also signed an agreement to participate as a satellite site in the Consortium. With the award of this grant in 1991, the Consortium comprised the Coordinating Center and five Satellite Sites.

In FY 1995, a limited competition was held to continue the Consortium for Longitudinal Studies and all existing grantees were awarded new grants. In FY 2000, a limited competition was again held, with each of the satellite sites becoming eligible to receive an individual grant. Currently, the Coordinating Center grant is awarded to the University of North Carolina, and satellite site grants are awarded to the University of North Carolina, the University of Maryland, San Diego Children's Hospital, the Juvenile Protective Association in Chicago, and the Washington State Department of Social and Health Services.

The collaborative effort in which these grantees are involved is multidisciplinary and has taken the name of the LONGSCAN Consortium. In this priority area, the Children's Bureau has sought to address the needs identified by the report from the National Research Council (1995) for collaborative, longitudinal studies in a developmental framework and theory-based longitudinal research to examine the antecedents and consequences of child abuse and neglect.

Legislative Authority

The Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act Section 105 (b)(5) (42 U.S.C. 5106).

(c) Provide for 10-15 percent of the proposed budget to project evaluation.

II. Award Information

Funding Instrument Type:
Cooperative Agreement.

Federal Substantial Involvement With Cooperative Agreement

A cooperative agreement is a specific method of awarding Federal assistance in which substantial Federal involvement is anticipated. A cooperative agreement clearly defines the respective responsibilities of the Children's Bureau and the grantee prior to the award. The Children's Bureau anticipates that agency involvement will produce programmatic benefits to the recipient otherwise unavailable to them for carrying out the project. The involvement and collaboration includes Children's Bureau review and approval of planning stages of the activities before implementation phases may begin; Children's Bureau involvement in the establishment of policies and procedures that maximize open competition, and rigorous and impartial development, review and funding of grant or sub-grant activities, if applicable; and Children's Bureau and recipient joint collaboration in the performance of key programmatic activities (i.e., strategic planning, implementation, information technology enhancements, training and technical assistance, publications or products, and evaluation). It also includes close monitoring by the Children's Bureau of the requirements stated in this announcement that limit the grantee's discretion with respect to scope of services offered, organizational structure and management processes, coupled with close Children's Bureau monitoring during performance, which may, in order to ensure compliance with the intent of this funding, exceed those Federal stewardship responsibilities customary for grant activities.

Anticipated Total Priority Area Funding: $1,750,000.

Anticipated Number of Awards: 1 to 6.

Ceiling on Amount of Individual Awards Per Budget Period: $500,000.

Average Projected Award Amount: $500,000.

Length of Project Periods: 60-month project with five 12-month budget periods.

Other

Explanation of Other: In the first budget period, the maximum Federal share of each of the five Satellite Sites is not to exceed $250,000, and the maximum Federal share of the Coordinating Center is not to exceed $500,000. The projects awarded will be for a project period of 60 months. The initial grant award will be for a 12-month budget period. The award of continuation beyond each 12-month budget period will be subject to the availability of funds, satisfactory progress on the part of the grantee, and a determination that continued funding would be in the best interest of the government.

Floor on amount of individual awards: None.

The application must be typed, double spaced, printed on only one side, with at least 1/2 inch margins on each side and 1 inch at the top and bottom, using standard 12 Point fonts (such as Times New Roman or Courier). Pages must be numbered.

All copies of an application must be submitted in a single package, and a separate package must be submitted for each funding opportunity. The package must be clearly labeled for the specific funding opportunity it is addressing.

Because each application will be duplicated, do not use or include separate covers, binders, clips, tabs, plastic inserts, maps, brochures, or any other items that cannot be processed easily on a photocopy machine with an automatic feed. Do not bind, clip, staple, or fasten in any way separate subsections of the application, including supporting documentation; however, each complete copy must be stapled securely in the upper left corner. Applicants are advised that the copies of the application submitted, not the original, will be reproduced by the Federal government for review.

Tips for Preparing a Competitive Application. It is essential that applicants read the entire announcement package carefully before preparing an application and include all of the required application forms and attachments. The application must reflect a thorough understanding of the purpose and objectives of the applicable legislation. Reviewers expect applicants to understand the goals of the legislation and the Children's Bureau's interest in each topic. A "responsive application" is one that addresses all of the evaluation criteria in ways that demonstrate this understanding. Applications that are considered to be "unresponsive" generally receive very low scores and are rarely funded.

The Children's Bureau's Web site (<http://www.acf.dhhs.gov/programs/cb>) provides a wide range of information and links to other relevant web sites. Before you begin preparing an application, we suggest that you learn more about the mission and programs of the Children's Bureau by exploring the Web site.

Organizing Your Application. The specific evaluation criteria in Section V of this funding announcement will be used to review and evaluate each application. The applicant should address each of these specific evaluation criteria in the project description. Applicants should organize their project description in this sequence: (1) Objectives and Need for Assistance; (2) Approach; (3) Organizational Profiles; (4) Budget and Budget Justification and should use the same headings as these criteria, so that reviewers can readily find information that directly addresses each of the specific review criteria.

Project Evaluation Plan. Project evaluations are very important. If you do not have the in-house capacity to conduct an objective, comprehensive evaluation of the project, then the Children's Bureau advises that you propose contracting with a third-party evaluator specializing in social science or evaluation, or a university or college, to conduct the evaluation. A skilled evaluator can assist you in designing a data collection strategy that is appropriate for the evaluation of your proposed project. Additional assistance may be found in a document titled "Program Manager's Guide to Evaluation." A copy of this document can be accessed at http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/core/pubs_reports/prog_mgr.html or ordered by contacting the National Clearinghouse on Child Abuse and Neglect Information, 330 C Street, SW., Washington, DC 20447; phone (800) 394-3366; fax (703) 385-3206; e-mail nccanch@calib.com.

Logic Model. A logic model is a tool that presents the conceptual framework for a proposed project and explains the linkages among program elements. While there are many versions of the logic model, they generally summarize the logical connections among the needs that are the focus of the project, project goals and objectives, the target population, project inputs (resources), the proposed activities/processes/ outputs directed toward the target population, the expected short- and long-term outcomes the initiative is designed to achieve, and the evaluation plan for measuring the extent to which proposed processes and outcomes actually occur. Information on the development of logic models is available on the Internet at <http://www.uwex.edu/ces/pdande/> or http://www.extension.iastate.edu/cyfar/capbuilding/outcome/outcome_logicmdir.html.

4. Intergovernmental Review

State Single Point of Contact (SPOC)

This program is covered under Executive Order 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs," and 45 CFR part 100, "Intergovernmental Review of Department of Health and Human Services Programs and Activities." Under the Order, States may design their own processes for reviewing and commenting on proposed Federal assistance under covered programs.

As of October 1, 2004, the following jurisdictions have elected to participate in the Executive Order process: Arkansas, California, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Utah, West Virginia, Wisconsin, American Samoa, Guam, North Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and Virgin Islands. As these jurisdictions have elected to participate in the Executive Order process, they have established SPOCs. Applicants from participating jurisdictions should contact their SPOC, as soon as possible, to alert them of prospective applications and receive instructions. Applicants must submit all required materials, if any, to the SPOC and indicate the date of this submittal (or the date of contact if no submittal is required) on the Standard Form 424, item 16a. Under 45 CFR 100.8(a)(2).

A SPOC has 60 days from the application deadline to comment on proposed new or competing continuation awards. SPOCs are encouraged to eliminate the submission of routine endorsements as official recommendations. Additionally, SPOCs are requested to clearly differentiate between mere advisory comments and those official State process recommendations which may trigger the "accommodate or explain" rule.

When comments are submitted directly to ACF, they should be addressed to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Office of Grants Management, Division of Discretionary Grants, 370 L'Enfant Promenade SW., 4th floor, Washington, DC 20447.

Although the remaining jurisdictions have chosen not to participate in the process, entities that meet the eligibility requirements of the program are still eligible to apply for a grant even if a State, Territory, Commonwealth, etc. does not have a SPOC. Therefore, applicants from these jurisdictions that have or for projects administered by federally-recognized Indian Tribes, need take no action in regard to E.O. 12372.

The official list, including addresses, of the jurisdictions elected to participate in E.O. 12372 can be found on the following URL: <http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/grants/spoc.html>.

V. Application Review Information

The Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13)

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 40 hours per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, gathering and maintaining the data needed and reviewing the collection information.

The project description is approved under OMB control number 0970-0139 which expires 4/30/2007.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

The following are instructions and guidelines on how to prepare the "Project Summary/Abstract" and "Full Project Description" sections of the application. Under the evaluation criteria section, note that each criterion is preceded by the generic evaluation requirement under the ACF Uniform Project Description (UPD).

1. Criteria

General Instructions

ACF is particularly interested in specific project descriptions that focus on outcomes and convey strategies for achieving intended performance. Project descriptions are evaluated on the basis of substance and measurable outcomes, not length. Extensive exhibits are not required. Cross-referencing should be used rather than repetition. Supporting information concerning activities that will not be directly funded by the grant or information that does not directly pertain to an integral part of the grant funded activity should be placed in an appendix. Pages should be numbered and a table of contents should be included for easy reference.

Introduction

Applicants required to submit a full project description shall prepare the project description statement in accordance with the following instructions while being aware of the specified evaluation criteria. The text options give a broad overview of what your project description should include while the evaluation criteria identifies the measures that will be used to evaluate applications.

Project Summary/Abstract

Provide a summary of the project description (a page or less) with reference to the funding request.

Objectives and Need for Assistance

Clearly identify the physical, economic, social, financial, institutional, and/or other problem(s) requiring a solution. The need for assistance must be demonstrated and the principal and subordinate objectives of the project must be clearly stated; supporting documentation, such as letters of support and testimonials from concerned interests other than the applicant, may be included. Any relevant data based on planning studies should be included or referred to in the endnotes/footnotes. Incorporate demographic data and participant/beneficiary information, as needed. In developing the project description, the applicant may volunteer or be requested to provide information on the total range of projects currently being conducted and supported (or to be initiated), some of which may be outside the scope of the program announcement.

Approach

Outline a plan of action that describes the scope and detail of how the proposed work will be accomplished.

Account for all functions or activities identified in the application. Cite factors that might accelerate or decelerate the work and state your reason for taking the proposed approach rather than others. Describe any unusual features of the project such as design or technological innovations, reductions in cost or time, or extraordinary social and community involvement. Provide quantitative monthly or quarterly projections of the accomplishments to be achieved for each function or activity in such terms as the number of people to be served and the number of activities accomplished.

When accomplishments cannot be quantified by activity or function, list them in chronological order to show the schedule of accomplishments and their target dates. If any data is to be collected, maintained, and/or disseminated, clearance may be required from the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB). This clearance pertains to any "collection of information that is conducted or sponsored by ACF." List organizations, cooperating entities, consultants, or other key individuals who will work on the project along with a short description of the nature of their effort or contribution.

Organizational Profiles

Provide information on the applicant organization(s) and cooperating partners, such as organizational charts, financial statements, audit reports or statements from CPAs/Licensed Public Accountants, Employer Identification Numbers, names of bond carriers, contact persons and telephone numbers, child care licenses and other documentation of professional accreditation, information on compliance with Federal/State/local government standards, documentation of experience in the program area, and other pertinent information. If the applicant is a non-profit organization, submit proof of non-profit status in its application. The non-profit agency can accomplish this by providing: (a) A reference to the applicant organization's listing in the Internal Revenue Service's (IRS) most recent list of tax-exempt organizations described in the IRS Code; (b) a copy of a currently valid IRS tax exemption certificate; (c) a statement from a State taxing body, State attorney general, or other appropriate State official certifying that the applicant organization has a non-profit status and that none of the net earnings accrue to any private shareholders or individuals; (d) a certified copy of the organization's certificate of incorporation or similar document that clearly establishes non-profit status; (e) any of the items immediately above for a State or national parent organization and a statement signed by the parent organization that the applicant organization is a local non-profit affiliate.

Budget and Budget Justification

Provide a budget with line item detail and detailed calculations for each budget object class identified on the Budget Information form. Detailed calculations must include estimation methods, quantities, unit costs, and other similar quantitative detail sufficient for the calculation to be duplicated. Also include a breakout by the funding sources identified in Block 15 of the SF-424. Provide a narrative budget justification that describes how the categorical costs are derived. Discuss the necessity, reasonableness, and allocability of the proposed costs.

General

Use the following guidelines for preparing the budget and budget justification. Both Federal and non-Federal resources shall be detailed and justified in the budget and narrative justification. "Federal resources" refers only to the ACF grant for which you are applying. "Non Federal resources" are all other Federal and non-Federal resources. It is suggested that budget amounts and computations be presented in a columnar format: first column, object class categories; second column, Federal budget; next column(s), non-Federal budget(s); and last column, total budget. The budget justification should be a narrative.

Personnel

Description: Costs of employee salaries and wages.

Justification: Identify the project director or principal investigator, if known. For each staff person, provide the title, time commitment to the project (in months), time commitment to the project (as a percentage or full-time equivalent), annual salary, grant salary, wage rates, etc. Do not include the costs of consultants or personnel costs of delegate agencies or of specific project(s) or businesses to be financed by the applicant.

Fringe Benefits

Description: Costs of employee fringe benefits unless treated as part of an approved indirect cost rate.

Justification: Provide a breakdown of the amounts and percentages that comprise fringe benefit costs such as health insurance, FICA, retirement insurance, taxes, etc.

Travel

Description: Costs of project-related travel by employees of the applicant organization (does not include costs of consultant travel).

Justification: For each trip, show the total number of traveler(s), travel destination, duration of trip, per diem, mileage allowances, if privately owned vehicles will be used, and other transportation costs and subsistence allowances. Travel costs for key staff to attend ACF-sponsored workshops should be detailed in the budget.

Equipment

Description: "Equipment" means an article of nonexpendable, tangible personal property having a useful life of more than one year and an acquisition cost which equals or exceeds the lesser of (a) the capitalization level established by the organization for the financial statement purposes, or (b) $5,000. (Note: Acquisition cost means the net invoice unit price of an item of equipment, including the cost of any modifications, attachments, accessories, or auxiliary apparatus necessary to make it usable for the purpose for which it is acquired. Ancillary charges, such as taxes, duty, protective in-transit insurance, freight, and installation shall be included in or excluded from acquisition cost in accordance with the organization's regular written accounting practices.)

Justification: For each type of equipment requested, provide a description of the equipment, the cost per unit, the number of units, the total cost, and a plan for use on the project, as well as use or disposal of the equipment after the project ends. An applicant organization that uses its own definition for equipment should provide a copy of its policy or section of its policy which includes the equipment definition.

Supplies

Description: Costs of all tangible personal property other than that included under the Equipment category.

Justification: Specify general categories of supplies and their costs. Show computations and provide other information which supports the amount requested.

Contractual

Description: Costs of all contracts for services and goods except for those that belong under other categories such as equipment, supplies, construction, etc. Include third party evaluation contracts (if applicable) and contracts with secondary recipient organizations, including delegate agencies and specific project(s) or businesses to be financed by the applicant.

Justification: Demonstrate that all procurement transactions will be conducted in a manner to provide, to the maximum extent practical, open and free competition. Recipients and subrecipients, other than States that are required to use part 92 procedures, must justify any anticipated procurement action that is expected to be awarded without competition and exceed the simplified acquisition threshold fixed at 41 U.S.C. 403(11) (currently set at $100,000).

Recipients might be required to make available to ACF pre-award review and procurement documents, such as request for proposals or invitations for bids, independent cost estimates, etc. Note: Whenever the applicant intends to delegate part of the project to another agency, the applicant must provide a detailed budget and budget narrative for each delegate agency, by agency title, along with the required supporting information referred to in these instructions.

Other

Enter the total of all other costs. Such costs, where applicable and appropriate, may include but are not limited to insurance, food, medical and dental costs (noncontractual), professional services costs, space and equipment rentals, printing and publication, computer use, training costs, such as tuition and stipends, staff development costs, and administrative costs.

Justification: Provide computations, a narrative description and a justification for each cost under this category.

Indirect Charges

Description: Total amount of indirect costs. This category should be used only when the applicant currently has an indirect cost rate approved by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) or another cognizant Federal agency.

Justification: An applicant that will charge indirect costs to the grant must enclose a copy of the current rate agreement. If the applicant organization is in the process of initially developing or renegotiating a rate, upon notification that an award will be made, it should immediately develop a tentative indirect cost rate proposal based on its most recently completed fiscal year, in accordance with the cognizant agency's guidelines for establishing indirect cost rates, and submit it to the cognizant agency. Applicants awaiting approval of their indirect cost proposals may also request indirect costs. When an indirect cost rate is requested, those costs included in the indirect cost pool should not also be charged as direct costs to the grant. Also, if the applicant is requesting a rate which is less than what is allowed under the program, the authorized representative of the applicant organization must submit a signed acknowledgement that the applicant is accepting a lower rate than allowed.

Evaluation Criteria: The following evaluation criteria appear in weighted descending order. The corresponding score values indicate the relative importance that ACF places on each evaluation criterion; however, applicants need not develop their applications precisely according to the order presented. Application components may be organized such that a reviewer will be able to follow a seamless and logical flow of information (e.g. from a broad overview of the project to more detailed information about how it will be conducted).

In considering how applicants will carry out the responsibilities addressed under this announcement, competing applications for financial assistance will be reviewed and evaluated against the following criteria:

Approach (50 points)

Criterion 2: Approach (50 points). For Satellite Site applicants, reviewers will evaluate the extent to which applicants:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the issues, problems, and benefits associated with being a Satellite Site, and with participating in the Consortium for Longitudinal Studies of Child Abuse and Neglect.
2. Describe activities undertaken during the first, second and third implementation phases and how the approach being proposed for the fourth five-year effort would build on this work; describe the study samples(s), provide details about what data have been collected within the sample(s) to date, and describe how attrition of the study samples(s) will be addressed.

Provide information on articles, papers and presentations on the projects to date, as well as those planned; describe the strategies for the dissemination of the products, interim findings, as appropriate, and reports that would be of use to other researchers, policy-makers, and practitioners in the field.

3. Discuss how the issues of informed consent have been and will be addressed for the child, primary caregiver, teacher and record reviews; describe use of the Certificate of Confidentiality and how any legal and ethical issues that may arise will be addressed; and discuss how informed consent procedures address plans to archive the data at the National Data Archive on Child Abuse and Neglect.

Organizational Profiles (20 points)

Criterion 3: Organization Profiles (20 points). For both Satellite Site and Coordinating Center applicants, reviewers will evaluate the extent to which applicants:

1. Discuss staff and organizational experience specifically to conduct child maltreatment research and university or agency support, if applicable, to the organizational capabilities required for implementation of this activity.

2. Describe experience in working with child welfare agencies in collaborative efforts, if applicable.

6. Describe the relationship between the proposed project and other work planned, anticipated or underway by the applicant with federal assistance.

Objectives and Need for Assistance (20 points)

Criterion 1: Objectives and Need for Assistance (20 points). For both Satellite Site and Coordinating Center applicants, reviewers will evaluate the extent to which applicants:

1. Discuss, concisely, the objectives and needs for longitudinal research on child abuse and neglect.

2. Discuss the merits of a multi-site, multi-sample study.

3. Discuss the general and overall goals of the LONGSCAN project specific to your application as the Coordinating Center or a Satellite Site.

4. Discuss the implications of the findings to date to future work.

5. Discuss how this work will benefit the field by enhancing policy, improving practice, and advancing science in child maltreatment research.

6. Discuss the significance to the field of the proposed project.

Budget and Budget Justification (10 points)

Criterion 4: Budget and Budget Justification (10 points). For both Satellite Site and Coordinating Center applicants, reviewers will evaluate the extent to which applicants:

1. Show that costs of the proposed program are reasonable and justified in terms of the application and the anticipated results and benefits. Discussion should refer to (1) the budget information presented on Standard Forms 424 and 424A and (2) the activities to be conducted.

2. Describe the fiscal control and accounting procedures that will be used to ensure prudent use, proper and timely disbursement and accurate accounting of funds received under this program announcement.

2. Review and Selection Process

Since ACF will be using non-Federal reviewers in the review process, applicants have the option of omitting from the application copies (not the original) of specific salary rates or amounts for individuals specified in the application budget.

No grant award will be made under this announcement on the basis of an incomplete application.

When the Operations Center receives your application it will be screened to confirm that your application was received by the deadline. Federal staff will verify that you are an eligible applicant and that the application contains all the essential elements. Applications received from ineligible organizations and applications received after the deadline will be withdrawn from further consideration.

A panel of at least three reviewers (primarily experts from outside the Federal government) will use the evaluation criteria described in this announcement to evaluate each application. The reviewers will determine the strengths and weaknesses of each application, provide comments about the strengths and weaknesses and give each application a numerical score.

The results of the competitive review are a primary factor in making funding decisions. In addition, Federal staff conducts administrative reviews of the applications and, in light of the results of the competitive review, will recommend applications for funding to the ACYF Commissioner. ACYF reserves the option of discussing applications with other funding sources when this is in the best interest of the Federal government. ACYF may also solicit and consider comments from ACF Regional Office staff in making funding decisions. ACYF may take into consideration the involvement (financial and/or programmatic) of the private sector, national, or State or community foundations; a favorable balance between Federal and non-Federal funds for the proposed project; or the potential for high benefit from low Federal investment. ACYF may elect not to fund any applicants having known management, fiscal, reporting, programmatic, or other problems which make it unlikely that they would be able to provide effective services or effectively complete the proposed activity.

With the results of the peer review and the information from Federal staff, the Commissioner of ACYF makes the final funding decisions. The Commissioner may give special consideration to applications proposing services of special interest to the Government and to achieve geographic distributions of grant awards. Applications of special interest may include, but are not limited to, applications focusing on unserved or inadequately served clients or service areas and programs addressing diverse ethnic populations.

Approved But Unfunded Applications

Applications that are approved but unfunded may be held over for funding in the next funding cycle, pending the availability of funds, for a period not to exceed one year.

3. Anticipated Announcement and Award Dates

Applications will be reviewed in the summer of 2005. Grant awards will have a start date no later than September 30, 2005.

VI. Award Administration Information

1. Award Notices

The successful applicants will be notified through the issuance of a Financial Assistance Award document which sets forth the amount of funds granted, the terms and conditions of the grant, the effective date of the grant, the budget period for which initial support will be given, the non-Federal share to be provided (if applicable), and the total project period for which support is contemplated. The Financial Assistance

Award will be signed by the Grants Officer and transmitted via postal mail. Organizations whose applications will not be funded will be notified in writing.

Administration for Children and Families

Administration on Developmental Disabilities; Family Support Initiative 2005

Announcement Type: Initial.

Funding Opportunity Number: HHS-2005-ACF-ADD-DF-0020.

CFDA Number: 93.631.

Due Date for Applications: Application is due August 15, 2005.

Executive Summary: Objectives: To provide funds to States to create or expand statewide systems change for Family Support. To allow for the award of competitive grants to conduct training, technical assistance, and other activities designed to address the problems that impede the self-sufficiency of individuals with developmental disabilities and families of children with developmental disabilities. This program announcement will provide funds for the development phase of the Family Support Initiative. This is the last program announcement related to statewide systems change begun in 1999. This is not a funding opportunity related to Family Support 360. Eligible States and territorial entities under this announcement are: Alabama, Iowa, California and Puerto Rico. States and territories not listed above are not eligible to apply.

I. Funding Opportunity Description

Statutory Authority Covered Under This Announcement

This announcement is covered under the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000 (DD Act of 2000), (42 U.S.C. 15001–15115). Projects of National Significance is Subtitle E of the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000, (42 U.S.C. 15081–15083). Provisions under this section provide for the award of grants, contracts, or cooperative agreements for Projects of National Significance that support:

- The development of national and State policies that reinforce and promote the self-determination, independence, productivity, integration, and inclusion in all facets of community life of individuals with developmental disabilities.
- Family support activities, data collection and analysis, technical assistance to entities that provide family support and data collection activities; and
- Other projects of sufficient size and scope that hold promise to expand or improve opportunities for individuals with developmental disabilities.

General Description

The Administration on Developmental Disabilities (ADD) is located within the Administration for Children and Families (ACF), Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS). ADD shares goals with other ACF programs that promote the economic and social well-being of families, children, individuals, and communities. ACF and ADD envision:

- Families and individuals empowered to increase their own economic independence and productivity;
- Strong, healthy, supportive communities having a positive impact on the quality of life and the development of children;
- Partnerships with individuals, front-line service providers, communities, States, and Congress that enable solutions that transcend traditional agency boundaries;
- Services planned and integrated to improve access to programs and supports for individuals and families;
- A recognition of the power and effectiveness of public private partnerships, including collaboration among community groups, such as faith-based organizations, families, and public agencies; and

- A community-based approach that recognizes and expands on the resources and benefits of diversity.

These goals will enable individuals, including people with developmental disabilities, to live productive and independent lives integrated into their communities. The Projects of National Significance (PNS) program is one means through which ADD promotes the achievement of these goals.

ADD is the lead agency within ACF and DHHS responsible for planning and administering programs to promote self-sufficiency and protect the rights of persons with developmental disabilities. ADD implements the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act (the DD Act), which was authorized by Congress in 2000.

This Act supports and provides assistance to States, public, private non-profit agencies, and organizations, including faith-based organizations, to assure that individuals with developmental disabilities and their families participate in the design of and have access to culturally competent services, supports, and other assistance and opportunities that promote independence, productivity, integration, and inclusion into the community.

As defined in the DD Act, the term “developmental disabilities” means a severe, chronic disability of an individual that is attributable to a mental or physical impairment or combination of mental and physical impairments that is manifested before the individual attains age 22 and is likely to continue indefinitely. Developmental disabilities results in substantial limitations in three or more of the following functional areas: self-care; receptive and expressive language, learning, mobility, self-direction, capacity for independent living, and capacity for economic self-sufficiency.

A number of significant findings are identified in the DD Act, including:

- Disability is a natural part of the human experience that does not diminish the right of individuals with developmental disabilities to enjoy the opportunity for independence, productivity, integration, and inclusion into the community;
- Individuals whose disabilities occur during their developmental period frequently have severe disabilities that are likely to continue indefinitely; and
- Individuals with developmental disabilities often require lifelong specialized services and assistance, provided in a coordinated and culturally competent manner by many agencies, professionals, advocates, community representatives and others to eliminate barriers and to meet the needs of such individuals and their families.

The DD Act also promotes the best practices and policies presented below:

- Individuals with developmental disabilities, including those with the most severe developmental disabilities, are capable of achieving independence, productivity, integration, and inclusion into the community, and often require the provision of services, supports, and other assistance to achieve such;

- Individuals with developmental disabilities have competencies, capabilities, and personal goals that should be recognized, supported, and encouraged, and any assistance to such individuals should be provided in an individualized manner, consistent with the unique strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, and capabilities of the individual; and

- Individuals with developmental disabilities and their families are the primary decision makers regarding the services and support such individuals and their families receive, and play decision-making roles in policies and programs that affect the lives of such individuals and their families.

Towards these ends, ADD seeks to support and accomplish the following:

- Enhance the capabilities of families in assisting individuals with developmental disabilities to achieve their maximum potential;
- Support the increasing ability of individuals with developmental disabilities to exercise greater choice and self-determination and to engage in leadership activities in their communities; and
- Ensure the protection of individuals with developmental disabilities’ legal and human rights.

The four grant programs funded under the Act are:

- State Developmental Disabilities Councils;
- State Protection and Advocacy Systems for Individuals with Developmental Disabilities’ Rights;
- Grants to the National Network of University Centers for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities, Education, Research, and Service; and
- Grants for Projects of National Significance.

Priority Area 1

Family Support Program

1. Description of the Family Support Program

The purpose of the family support program is for States to create or expand statewide systems change. It allows for the award of competitive grants to conduct training, technical assistance, and other national activities designed to address the problems that impede the self-sufficiency of families of children with developmental disabilities.

2. Requirements

Project funds must be used to support the development of family support activities contributing to the self-determination, independence, productivity, and integration and inclusion in all facets of community life of such individuals. Projects will:

(1) Ensure the full participation, choice and control of families of children with developmental disabilities, in decisions related to the provision of such family support for their family;

(2) Ensure the active involvement of families of children with developmental disabilities in the planning, development, implementation, and evaluation of the project; increase the availability of, funding for, access to, and provision of family support for families of children with developmental disabilities;

(3) Promote training activities that are family-centered and family-directed and that enhance the ability of family members of children with developmental disabilities to increase participation, choice, and control in the provision of family support for families of children with developmental disabilities;

(4) Increase and promote interagency coordination among State agencies, and between State agencies and private entities that are involved in these projects; and

(5) Increase the awareness of laws, regulations, policies, practices, procedures, and organizational structures that facilitate or impede the availability or provision of family support for families of children with developmental disabilities.

3. Minimum Requirements for Project Design

ADD requires grant funds to be used to support the development of State policies that reinforce and promote (with the support of families, guardians, advocates, and communities of individuals with developmental disabilities) the self-determination, independence, productivity and integration and inclusion in all facets of community life of such individuals through family support activities. Project activities should accomplish any of the following:

- Establishment of a State Policy Council of families of children with developmental disabilities, or utilization of an existing council which will advise and assist the lead entity in the performance of activities under the project. The State Policy Council shall be composed of a majority of participants who are family members of children with developmental disabilities, or who are youth with developmental disabilities (ages 18–21), or qualify under both categories;

- Training and technical assistance for family members, service providers, community members, professionals, members of the Policy Council, State agency staff, students and others;

- Interagency coordination of Federal and State policies, resources, and services; establishment of interagency workgroups to enhance public funding options and coordination; and other interagency activities that promote coordination;

- Outreach to locate families who are eligible for family support and to identify groups who are underserved and unserved;

- Policy studies that relate to the development and implementation, or expansions and enhancement, of a statewide system of family support for families of children with developmental disabilities;

- Hearings and forums to solicit input from families of children with developmental disabilities, regarding family support programs, policies, and plans for such families;

- Public awareness and education to families of children with developmental disabilities, parent groups and organizations, public and private agencies, students, policymakers, and the general public;

- Needs assessment;

- Analysis of statewide system of family support for families of children with developmental disabilities;

- Development plans must include innovative partnerships with community organizations to increase the utilization of generic services by families of children with developmental disabilities;

- Pilot demonstration projects to demonstrate new approaches to the provision of family support for families of children with developmental disabilities that include family strengthening services such as parenting education and marriage education.

ADD expects to fund applications that include or incorporate into these activities one or more of the following populations relevant to their State: (1) Unserved and underserved populations that include populations such as individuals from racial and ethnic minority backgrounds, economically disadvantaged individuals, individuals with limited-English proficiency, and individuals from underserved geographic areas (rural or urban); (2) aging families of adult children with developmental disabilities, who are over age 21 with a focus on assisting those families, and their adult children, to be included as self-determining members of their communities; (3) foster/adoptive families of children with developmental disabilities; (4) families participating in the State's Temporary Assistance for Needy Families Program (TANF), welfare-to-work, and/or SSI program; (5) veterans with families having a child with a developmental disability; (6) parents with developmental disabilities (especially cognitive disabilities) who have children with or without disabilities; and (7) families of children with developmental disabilities who have behavioral/emotional issues.

ADD intends to fund those applications that describe how the project will:

- Ensure consumer/self-advocate orientation and participation;

- Include key project personnel with direct life experience living with a developmental disability;

- Have strong advisory components that consist of a majority of individuals with developmental disabilities and a structure where individuals with developmental disabilities make real decisions that determine the outcome of the grant;

- If the project includes research, reflect the principles of participatory action;

- Consider cultural competency ("cultural competency" as defined in the DD Act means services, supports, or other assistance that is conducted or provided in a manner that is responsive to the beliefs, interpersonal styles, attitudes, language, and behavior of individuals who are receiving the services, supports or other assistance, and in a manner that has the greatest likelihood of ensuring their maximum participation in the program involved);

- Allow individuals with developmental disabilities and their families to be involved in all aspects of the design, implementation, and evaluation of the project;

- Attend to unserved and underserved individuals, who have developmental disabilities (from mild to severe), and who are from multicultural backgrounds, rural and inner-city areas, and migrant, homeless, and refugee families;

- Comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act, if applicable, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended by the Rehabilitation Act Amendments of 1998 (Pub. L. 105–220);

- Use collaboration through partnerships and coalitions;
- Develop the capacity to communicate and disseminate information and technical assistance through E-mail and other effective, affordable, and accessible forms of electronic communication that are Section 508 compliant.
- Develop and establish system change activities beyond the project period; and
- Disseminate models, products, best practices, and strategies for distribution between networks and beyond.

Applications must also include provisions for the travel of a key staff person during the project period for one (1) trip to Washington, DC.

This will be the final program announcement from ADD to solicit applicants for Federal funding for the Family Support Initiative Program that was begun in 1999. This final program announcement notice does not apply to future Family Support 360 initiative announcements.

2. Cost Sharing/Matching

Yes.

Grantees are required to meet a non-Federal share of the project costs. Grantees must provide at least 25% of the total approved cost of the project. The total approved cost of the project is the sum of the ACF share and the non-Federal share. The non-Federal share may be met by cash or in-kind contributions, although applicants are encouraged to meet their match requirements through cash contributions. For example, in order to meet the match requirements, a project with a total approved cost of $133,333, requesting $100,000 in ACF funds, must provide a non-Federal share of at least $33,333 (25% of total approved project cost of $133,333.) Grantees will be held accountable for commitments of non-Federal resources even if over the amount of the required match. Failure to provide the amount will result in disallowance of Federal funds. Lack of supporting documentation at the time of application will not impact the responsiveness of the application for competitive review.

3. Other

All applicants must have a Dun & Bradstreet number. On June 27, 2003 the Office of Management and Budget published in the Federal Register a new Federal policy applicable to all Federal grant applicants. The policy requires Federal grant applicants to provide a Dun & Bradstreet Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number when applying for Federal grants or cooperative agreements on or after October 1, 2003. The DUNS number will be required whether an applicant is submitting a paper application or using the government-wide electronic portal (www.Grants.gov). A DUNS number will be required for every application for a new award or renewal/continuation of an award, including applications or plans under formula, entitlement and block grant programs, submitted on or after October 1, 2003.

Please ensure that your organization has a DUNS number. You may acquire a DUNS number at no cost by calling the dedicated toll-free DUNS number request line on 1-866-705-5711 or you may request a number on-line at <http://www.dnb.com>.

Non-profit organizations applying for funding are required to submit proof of their non-profit status.

Proof of non-profit status is any one of the following:

- A reference to the applicant organization's listing in the Internal Revenue Service's (IRS) most recent list of tax-exempt organizations described in the IRS Code.
- A copy of a currently valid IRS tax exemption certificate.
- A statement from a State taxing body, State attorney general, or other appropriate State official certifying that the applicant organization has a non-profit status and that none of the net earning accrue to any private shareholders or individuals.
- A certified copy of the organization's certificate of incorporation or similar document that clearly establishes non-profit status.
- Any of the items in the subparagraphs immediately above for a State or national parent organization and a statement signed by the parent organization that the applicant organization is a local non-profit affiliate.

When applying electronically we strongly suggest you attach your proof of non-profit status with your electronic application.

Private, non-profit organizations are encouraged to submit with their applications the survey located under "Grant Related Documents and Forms," "Survey for Private, Non-Profit Grant Applicants," titled, "Survey on Ensuring Equal Opportunity for Applicants," at: <http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/ofs/forms.htm>.

Disqualification Factors

Applications that exceed the ceiling amount will be considered non-responsive and will not be considered for funding under this announcement.

Any application that fails to satisfy the deadline requirements referenced in Section IV.3 will be considered non-responsive and will not be considered for funding under this announcement.

Phone: 202-690-7898. Fax: 202-205-8037. E-mail: jrucker@acf.hhs.gov.

2. Content and Form of Application Submission

A letter from the office of the governor or the chief executive officer designating the applicant as the lead agency for the State or Territory must accompany the application. This lead agency is responsible for coordinating the planning, development, implementation (or expansion and enhancement), and evaluation of a statewide system of family support services for families of children with developmental disabilities. State designated applicants include public and private non-profit organizations, which may include faith-based and community organizations, and private and State controlled institutions of higher education designated by the governor or chief executive officer of the State as the lead agency for this project. The letter must contain an original signature of the governor's office and accurately specify the name of the designated organization as stated on the front of the grant application Standard Form 424.

Each application package must include an original and two copies of the complete application.

Each copy should be stapled securely (front and back if necessary) in the upper left-hand corner. All pages of the narrative (including charts, tables, maps, exhibits, etc.) must be sequentially numbered, beginning with page one. In order to facilitate handling, please do not use covers, binders or tabs. Do not include extraneous materials as attachments, such as agency promotion brochures, slides, tapes, film clips, minutes of meetings, survey instruments or articles of incorporation.

The narrative should be typed double spaced on a single side of an 8½ x 11" plain white paper, with 1" margins on all sides, using black print no smaller than 12 pitch or 12 point size. All pages of the narrative, including attachments (such as charts, references/footnotes, tables, maps, exhibits, etc.) and letters of support must be sequentially numbered, beginning with "Objectives and Need for Assistance" as page number one. Applicants should not submit reproductions of larger size paper, reduced to meet the size requirement.

The length of the application, including all attachments and required Federal forms, must not exceed 60 pages. The Federally required forms will be counted towards the total number of pages. The 60-page limit will be strictly enforced. All pages beyond the first 60 pages of text will be removed prior to applications being evaluated by the reviewers. A page is a single side of an 8½ x 11" sheet of paper with 1" margins.

Applicants are requested not to send pamphlets, brochure or other printed material along with their application as these pose copying difficulties. These materials, if submitted, will not be included in the review process if they exceed the 60-page limit. Each page of the application will be counted to determine the total length.

Applicants have the option of omitting the Social Security Numbers and specific salary rates of the proposed projects from the two copies submitted with the original application to ACF. For purposes of the outside review process, applicants may elect to summarize salary information on the copies of their application. All salary information must, however, appear on the signed original application for ACF.

You may submit your application to us in either electronic or paper format.

To submit an application electronically, please use the <http://www.Grants.gov/Apply> site. If you use Grants.gov, you will be able to download a copy of the application package, complete it off-line, and then upload and submit the application via the Grants.gov site. ACF will not accept grant applications via email or facsimile transmission.

Please note the following if you plan to submit your application electronically via Grants.gov:

- Electronic submission is voluntary, but strongly encouraged.
 - When you enter the Grants.gov site, you will find information about submitting an application electronically through the site, as well as the hours of operation. We strongly recommend that you do not wait until the application deadline date to begin the application process through Grants.gov.
 - We recommend you visit Grants.gov at least 30 days prior to filing your application to fully understand the process and requirements. We encourage applicants who submit electronically to submit well before the closing date and time so that if difficulties are encountered an applicant can still send in a hard copy overnight. If you encounter difficulties, please contact the Grants.gov Help Desk at 1-800-518-4276 to report the problem and obtain assistance with the system.
 - To use Grants.gov, you, as the applicant, must have a DUNS Number and register in the Central Contractor Registry (CCR). You should allow a minimum of five days to complete the CCR registration.
 - You will not receive additional point value because you submit a grant application in electronic format, nor will we penalize you if you submit an application in paper format.
 - You may submit all documents electronically, including all information typically included on the SF 424 and all necessary assurances and certifications.
 - Your application must comply with any page limitation requirements described in this program announcement.
 - After you electronically submit your application, you will receive an automatic acknowledgement from Grants.gov that contains a Grants.gov tracking number. The Administration for Children and Families will retrieve your application from Grants.gov.
 - We may request that you provide original signatures on forms at a later date.
 - You may access the electronic application for this program on www.Grants.gov
 - You must search for the downloadable application package by the CFDA number.
- An original and two copies of the complete application are required. The original and each of the two copies must include all required forms, certifications, assurances, and appendices, be signed by an authorized representative, have original signatures, and be submitted unbound.

Private, non-profit organizations are encouraged to submit with their applications the survey located under "Grant Related Documents and Forms," "Survey for Private, Non-Profit Grant Applicants," titled, "Survey on Ensuring Equal Opportunity for Applicants," at: <http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/ofs/forms.htm>.

The forms may be reproduced for use in submitting applications. Applicants must sign and return the standard forms with their application.

Applicants must furnish prior to award an executed copy of the Standard Form LLL, Certification Regarding Lobbying, when applying for an award in excess of $100,000. Applicants who have used non-Federal funds for lobbying activities in connection with receiving assistance under this announcement shall complete a disclosure form, if applicable, with their applications. Applicants must sign and return the certification with their application.

Applicants must also understand they will be held accountable for the smoking prohibition included within Pub. L. 103-227, Title XII Environmental Tobacco Smoke (also known as the PRO-KIDS Act of 1994). 4. Intergovernmental Review

State Single Point of Contact (SPOC)

This program is covered under Executive Order 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs," and 45 CFR Part 100, "Intergovernmental Review of Department of Health and Human Services Programs and Activities." Under the Order, States may design their own processes for reviewing and commenting on proposed Federal assistance under covered programs.

As of October 1, 2004, the following jurisdictions have elected to participate in the Executive Order process: Arkansas, California, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Utah, West Virginia, Wisconsin, American Samoa, Guam, North Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and Virgin Islands. As these jurisdictions have elected to participate in the Executive Order process, they have established SPOCs. Applicants from participating jurisdictions should contact their SPOC, as soon as possible, to alert them of prospective applications and receive instructions. Applicants must submit all required materials, if any, to the SPOC and indicate the date of this submittal (or the date of contact if no submittal is required) on the Standard Form 424, item 16a.

Under 45 CFR 100.8(a)(2), a SPOC has 60 days from the application deadline to comment on proposed new or competing continuation awards. SPOCs are encouraged to eliminate the submission of routine endorsements as official recommendations. Additionally, SPOCs are requested to clearly differentiate between mere advisory comments and those official State process recommendations which may trigger the "accommodate or explain" rule.

When comments are submitted directly to ACF, they should be addressed to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Office of Grants Management, Division of Discretionary Grants, 370 L'Enfant Promenade, SW., 4th floor, Washington, DC 20447.

Although the remaining jurisdictions have chosen not to participate in the process, entities that meet the eligibility requirements of the program are still eligible to apply for a grant even if a State, Territory, Commonwealth, etc. does not have a SPOC. Therefore, applicants from these jurisdictions, or for projects administered by Federally-recognized Indian Tribes, need take no action in regard to E.O. 12372.

The official list, including addresses, of the jurisdictions that have elected to participate in E.O. 12372 can be found on the following URL: <http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/grants/spoc.html>.

5. Funding Restrictions

Grant awards will not allow reimbursement of pre-award costs.

Costs associated with foreign travel or for construction activity are not allowable charges to the program grant.

Applications must also include provisions for the travel of a key staff person during the project period for one (1) trip to Washington, DC.

6. Other Submission Requirements

Please see Section IV.3 for an explanation of due dates. Applications should be mailed to: Tim Chappelle, Grants Officer, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Office of Grants Management, 370 L'Enfant Promenade, SW., Mail Stop: 8th Floor West, Washington, DC 20442.

V. Application Review Information

The Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13)

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 40 hours per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, gathering and maintaining the data needed and reviewing the collection information.

The project description is approved under OMB control number 0970-0139 which expires 4/30/2007.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

1. Criteria

The following are instructions and guidelines on how to prepare the "project summary/abstract" and "full project description" sections of the application. Under the evaluation criteria section, note that each criterion is preceded by the generic evaluation requirement under the ACF Uniform Project Description (UPD).

The Project Description Overview

Purpose

The project description provides a major means by which an application is evaluated and ranked to compete with other applications for available assistance. The project description should be concise and complete and should address the activity for which Federal funds are being requested. Supporting documents should be included where they can present information clearly and succinctly. In preparing your project description, information responsive to each of the requested evaluation criteria must be provided. Awarding offices use this and other information in making their funding recommendations. It is important, therefore, that this information be included in the application in a manner that is clear and complete.

General Expectations and Instructions

ACF is particularly interested in specific project descriptions that focus on outcomes and convey strategies for achieving intended performance. Project descriptions are evaluated on the basis of substance and measurable outcomes, not length. Extensive exhibits are not required. Cross-referencing should be used rather than repetition. Supporting information concerning activities that will not be directly funded by the grant or information that does not directly pertain to an integral part of the grant funded activity should be placed in an appendix.

Pages should be numbered and a table of contents should be included for easy reference.

Introduction

Applicants required to submit a full project description shall prepare the project description statement in accordance with the following instructions while being aware of the specified evaluation criteria. The text options give a broad overview of what your project description should include while the evaluation criteria identifies the measures that will be used to evaluate applications.

Project Summary/Abstract

Provide a summary of the project description (a page or less) with reference to the funding request.

Objectives and Need for Assistance

Clearly identify the physical, economic, social, financial, institutional, and/or other problem(s) requiring a solution. The need for assistance must be demonstrated and the principal and subordinate objectives of the project must be clearly stated; supporting documentation, such as letters of support and testimonials from concerned interests other than the applicant, may be included. Any relevant data based on planning studies should be included or referred to in the endnotes/footnotes. Incorporate demographic data and participant/beneficiary information, as needed. In developing the project description, the applicant may volunteer or be requested to provide information on the total range of projects currently being conducted and supported (or to be initiated), some of which may be outside the scope of the program announcement.

Results or Benefits Expected

Identify the results and benefits to be derived. The grantee must describe what information was shared with individuals with developmental disabilities and family members and what they suggested individuals with developmental disabilities and family members do with the information.

Approach

Outline a plan of action that describes the scope and detail of how the proposed work will be accomplished. Account for all functions or activities identified in the application. Cite factors that might accelerate or decelerate the work and state your reason for taking the proposed approach rather than others. Describe any unusual features of the project such as design or technological innovations, reductions in cost or time, or extraordinary social and community involvement.

Provide quantitative monthly or quarterly projections of the accomplishments to be achieved for each function or activity in such terms as the number of people to be served and the number of activities accomplished. Applicants are expected to present a plan that (1) reflects an understanding of the characteristics, needs and services currently available to the targeted population; (2) provides services that directly address the needs of the target population; (3) is evidence-based and grounded in theory and practice; (4) is appropriate and feasible; (5) can be reliably evaluated; and (6) if successfully implemented, can be sustained after Federal funding has ceased. When accomplishments cannot be quantified by activity or function, list them in chronological order to show the schedule of accomplishments and their target dates.

If any data is to be collected, maintained, and/or disseminated, clearance may be required from the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB). This clearance pertains to any "collection of information that is conducted or sponsored by ACF."

List organizations, cooperating entities, consultants, or other key individuals who will work on the project, along with a short description of the nature of their effort or contribution.

Evaluation

Provide a narrative addressing how the conduct of the project and the results of the project will be evaluated. In addressing the evaluation of results, state how you will determine the extent to which the project has achieved its stated objectives and the extent to which the accomplishment of objectives can be attributed to the project. Discuss the criteria to be used to evaluate results, and explain the methodology that will be used to determine if the needs identified and discussed are being met and if the project results and benefits are being achieved. With respect to the conduct of the project, define the procedures to be employed to determine whether the project is being conducted in a manner consistent with the work plan presented and discuss the impact of the project's various activities on the project's effectiveness.

Geographic Location

Describe the precise location of the project and boundaries of the area to be served by the proposed project. Maps or other graphic aids may be attached.

Staff and Position Data

Provide a biographical sketch and job description for each key person appointed. Job descriptions for each vacant key position should be included as well. As new key staff is appointed, biographical sketches will also be required.

Plan for Project Continuance Beyond Grant Support

Provide a plan for securing resources and continuing project activities after Federal assistance has ended.

Organizational Profiles

Provide information on the applicant organization(s) and cooperating partners, such as organizational charts, financial statements, audit reports or statements from CPAs/Licensed Public Accountants, Employer Identification Numbers, names of bond carriers, contact persons and telephone numbers, child care licenses and other documentation of professional accreditation, information on compliance with Federal/State/local government standards, documentation of experience in the program area, and other pertinent information. If the applicant is a non-profit organization, submit proof of non-profit status in its application.

The non-profit agency can accomplish this by providing: (a) A reference to the applicant organization's listing in the Internal Revenue Service's (IRS) most recent list of tax-exempt organizations described in the IRS Code; (b) a copy of a currently valid IRS tax exemption certificate, (c) a statement from a State taxing body, State attorney general, or other appropriate State official certifying that the applicant organization has a non-profit status and that none of the net earnings accrue to any private shareholders or individuals; (d) a certified copy of the organization's certificate of incorporation or similar document that clearly establishes non-profit status, (e) any of the items immediately above for a State or national parent organization and a statement signed by the parent organization that the applicant organization is a local non-profit affiliate.

Dissemination Plan

Provide a plan for distributing reports and other project outputs to colleagues and the public. Applicants must provide a description of the kind, volume and timing of distribution.

Third-Party Agreements

Provide written and signed agreements between grantees and subgrantees or subcontractors or other cooperating entities. These agreements must detail scope of work to be performed, work schedules, remuneration, and other terms and conditions that structure or define the relationship.

Letters of Support

Provide statements from community, public and commercial leaders that support the project proposed for funding. All submissions should be included in the application OR by application deadline.

Budget and Budget Justification

Provide a budget with line item detail and detailed calculations for each budget object class identified on the Budget Information form. Detailed calculations must include estimation methods, quantities, unit costs, and other similar quantitative detail sufficient for the calculation to be duplicated. Also include a breakout by the funding sources identified in Block 15 of the SF-424.

Provide a narrative budget justification that describes how the categorical costs are derived. Discuss the necessity, reasonableness, and allocability of the proposed costs.

General

Use the following guidelines for preparing the budget and budget justification. Both Federal and non-Federal resources shall be detailed and justified in the budget and narrative justification. "Federal resources" refers only to the ACF grant for which you are applying. "Non-Federal resources" are all other Federal and non-Federal resources. It is suggested that budget amounts and computations be presented in a columnar format: first column, object class categories; second column, Federal budget; next column(s), non-Federal budget(s), and last column, total budget. The budget justification should be a narrative.

Personnel

Description: Costs of employee salaries and wages.

Justification: Identify the project director or principal investigator, if known. For each staff person, provide the title, time commitment to the project (in months), time commitment to the project (as a percentage or full-time equivalent), annual salary, grant salary, wage rates, etc. Do not include the costs of consultants or personnel costs of delegate agencies or of specific project(s) or businesses to be financed by the applicant.

Fringe Benefits

Description: Costs of employee fringe benefits unless treated as part of an approved indirect cost rate.

Justification: Provide a breakdown of the amounts and percentages that comprise fringe benefit costs such as health insurance, FICA, retirement insurance, taxes, etc.

Travel

Description: Costs of project-related travel by employees of the applicant organization (does not include costs of consultant travel).

Justification: For each trip, show the total number of traveler(s), travel destination, duration of trip, per diem, mileage allowances, if privately owned vehicles will be used, and other transportation costs and subsistence allowances. Travel costs for key staff to attend ACF-sponsored workshops should be detailed in the budget.

Equipment

Description: "Equipment" means an article of nonexpendable, tangible personal property having a useful life of more than one year and an acquisition cost which equals or exceeds the lesser of (a) the capitalization level established by the organization for the financial statement purposes, or (b) $5,000. (Note: Acquisition cost means the net invoice unit price of an item of equipment, including the cost of any modifications, attachments, accessories, or auxiliary apparatus necessary to make it usable for the purpose for which it is acquired. Ancillary charges, such as taxes, duty, protective in-transit insurance, freight, and installation shall be included in or excluded from acquisition cost in accordance with the organization's regular written accounting practices.)

Justification: For each type of equipment requested, provide a description of the equipment, the cost per unit, the number of units, the total cost, and a plan for use on the project, as well as use or disposal of the equipment after the project ends. An applicant organization that uses its own definition for equipment should provide a copy of its policy or section of its policy which includes the equipment definition.

Supplies

Description: Costs of all tangible personal property other than that included under the Equipment category.

Justification: Specify general categories of supplies and their costs. Show computations and provide other information which supports the amount requested.

Contractual

Description: Costs of all contracts for services and goods except for those that belong under other categories such as equipment, supplies, construction, etc. Include third party evaluation contracts (if applicable) and contracts with secondary recipient organizations, including delegate agencies and specific project(s) or businesses to be financed by the applicant.

Justification: Demonstrate that all procurement transactions will be conducted in a manner to provide, to the maximum extent practical, open and free competition. Recipients and subrecipients, other than States that are required to use Part 92 procedures, must justify any anticipated procurement action that is expected to be awarded without competition and exceed the simplified acquisition threshold fixed at 41 U.S.C. 403(11) (currently set at $100,000).

Recipients might be required to make available to ACF pre-award review and procurement documents, such as request for proposals or invitations for bids, independent cost estimates, etc.

Note: Whenever the applicant intends to delegate part of the project to another agency, the applicant must provide a detailed budget and budget narrative for each delegate agency, by agency title, along with the required supporting information referred to in these instructions.

Other

Enter the total of all other costs. Such costs, where applicable and appropriate, may include but are not limited to insurance, food, medical and dental costs (noncontractual), professional services costs, space and equipment rentals, printing and publication, computer use, training costs, such as tuition and stipends, staff development costs, and administrative costs.

Justification: Provide computations, a narrative description and a justification for each cost under this category.

Indirect Charges

Description: Total amount of indirect costs. This category should be used only when the applicant currently has an indirect cost rate approved by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) or another cognizant Federal agency.

Justification: An applicant that will charge indirect costs to the grant must enclose a copy of the current rate agreement. If the applicant organization is in the process of initially developing or renegotiating a rate, upon notification that an award will be made, it should immediately develop a tentative indirect cost rate proposal based on its most recently completed fiscal year, in accordance with the cognizant agency's guidelines for establishing indirect cost rates, and submit it to the cognizant agency. Applicants awaiting approval of their indirect cost proposals may also request indirect costs. When an indirect cost rate is requested, those costs included in the indirect cost pool should not also be charged as direct costs to the grant. Also, if the applicant is requesting a rate which is less than what is allowed under the program, the authorized representative of the applicant organization must submit a signed acknowledgement that the applicant is accepting a lower rate than allowed.

Program Income

Description: The estimated amount of income, if any, expected to be generated from this project.

Justification: Describe the nature, source and anticipated use of program income in the budget or refer to the pages in the application which contain this information.

Non-Federal Resources

Description: Amounts of non-Federal resources that will be used to support the project as identified in Block 15 of the SF-424.

Justification: The firm commitment of these resources must be documented and submitted with the application so the applicant is given credit in the review process. A detailed budget must be prepared for each funding source.

Total Direct Charges, Total Indirect Charges, Total Project Costs

Evaluation Criteria

The following evaluation criteria appear in weighted descending order. The corresponding score values indicate the relative importance that ACF places on each evaluation criterion; however, applicants need not develop their applications precisely according to the order presented. Application components may be organized such that a reviewer will be able to follow a seamless and logical flow of information (i.e., from a broad overview of the project to more detailed information about how it will be conducted).

In considering how applicants will carry out the responsibilities addressed under this announcement, competing applications for financial assistance will be reviewed and evaluated against the following criteria:

Approach (35 points)

The application will be evaluated on the extent to which it:

- (1) Outlines a plan of action pertaining to the scope and detail on how the proposed work will be accomplished for each project. Defines goals and specific measurable objectives for the project (8 points);
- (2) Identifies the kind of data to be collected and maintained, and discusses the criteria to be used to evaluate the results and success of the project. Describes how the proposed project will be evaluated to determine the extent to which it has achieved its stated goals and objectives; and whether the methods of evaluation include the use of performance measures that are clearly related to the intended outcome of the project (8 points);
- (3) Describes any unusual features of the project, such as design or technological innovation, reductions in cost or time, or extraordinary social and community involvement (5 points);
- (4) Provides quantitative monthly or quarterly projections of the accomplishments to be achieved for each function or activity, in such terms as the number of people to be served and the number of activities accomplished. When accomplishments cannot be quantified, activities should be listed in chronological order to show the schedule of accomplishments and their target dates (4 points);
- (5) Describes the products to be developed during the implementation of the proposed project. These can include questionnaires, interview guides, data collection instruments, software, Internet applications, reports, outcomes and evaluation results. Also present a dissemination plan for conveying the information (4 points);
- (6) Cites factors which might accelerate or decelerate the work and provide reasons for taking this approach as opposed to others (3 points); and
- (7) Lists each organization, operator, consultant, or other key individual who will work on the project along with a short description of the nature of their effort and contribution (3 points).

Objectives and Need for Assistance (25 points)

The application will be evaluated on the extent to which it:

(1) Demonstrates the need for the assistance and states the principal and subordinate objectives for the project (10 points);

(2) Pinpoints any relevant physical, economic, social, financial, institutional, or other problems requiring a solution (5 points);

(3) Provides supporting documentation or other testimonies from concerned interests other than the applicant (5 points);

(4) Provides any relevant data based on planning studies (4 points); and

(5) Provides maps and other graphic aids (1 point).

Results or Benefits Expected (20 points)

The application will be evaluated on the extent to which it:

(1) Clearly describes project benefits and results as they relate to the objectives of the project (10 points); and

(2) Provides information as to the extent to which the project will build on current theory, research, evaluation, and best practices to contribute to increased knowledge of understanding the problems, issues, or effective strategies and practices in family support (10 points).

Organizational Profiles (13 points)

The application will be evaluated on the extent to which it:

(1) Identifies the background of the project director/principal investigator and key project staff (including name, address, training, educational background, and other qualifying experience) and the experience of the organization that demonstrates its ability to effectively and efficiently administer this project; (4 points);

(2) Provides a brief background description of how the applicant organization is organized, the types and quantity of services it provides, and the research and management capabilities it possesses (4 points);

(3) Describes the competence of the project team and its demonstrated ability to produce a final product that is readily comprehensible and usable (3 points); and

(4) Provides an organization chart showing the relationship of the project to the current organization (2 points).

Budget and Budget Justification (7 points)

The application will be evaluated on the extent to which it:

(1) Discusses and justifies the costs of the proposed project which are reasonable and programmatically justified in view of the activities to be conducted and the anticipated results and benefits (3 points);

(2) Describes the fiscal control and accounting procedures that will be used to ensure prudent use, proper disbursement, and accurate accounting of funds received under this program announcement (2 points); and

(3) Includes a fully explained non-Federal share budget and its source(s) (2 points).

Note: Maximum awards to States will be $100,000. Maximum awards to Territories will be $50,000. Therefore, application request levels must not exceed the ceiling amount of $100,000 in Federal funds for a State entity and $50,000 in Federal funds for a Territorial entity.

Additional Points (5 points)

This year, five (5) additional points will be added to the total score for an application for any project that includes partnership and collaboration with one or more of the 140 Empowerment Zones/Enterprise Communities. To receive the additional five points, the application must provide a clear outline for the collaboration and a discussion of how the involvement of the EZ/EC is related to the objectives and the activities of the project. For further information on Empowerment Zones and Enterprise Communities, please visit the ACF Office of Community Service's Web site at <http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/ocs/ez-ec>.

2. Review and Selection Process

No grant award will be made under this announcement on the basis of an incomplete application.

A. Selection Process

Applications under this Program Announcement that are received by the deadline date will be competitively reviewed and scored. Experts in the field, generally persons from outside the Federal Government, will use the evaluation criteria listed previously in the evaluation section of the Program Announcement to review and score the applications. The results of this review are a primary factor in making funding decisions.

ADD reserves the option of discussing applications with, or referring them to, other Federal or non-Federal funding sources when this is determined to be in the best interest of the Federal Government or the applicant.

In making Family Support Initiative decisions for 2005 grant awards, ADD will consider whether applications focus on or feature the following aspects/activities in their project design to the extent appropriate:

- A substantially innovative strategy with the potential to improve theory or practice in the field of human services;

- A model practice or set of procedures that holds the potential for replication by organizations administering or delivering human services;

- A substantial involvement of volunteers, the private sector (either financial or programmatic), faith-based and community organizations, and/or national or community foundations;

- A favorable balance between Federal and non-Federal funds available for the proposed project which is likely to result in the potential for high benefit for low Federal investment; and

- A programmatic focus on those most in need of services and assistance, such as unserved and underserved populations, including underserved cultural, ethnic, and racial minority populations.

To the greatest extent possible, efforts will be made to ensure that funding decisions reflect an equitable distribution of assistance among the States and geographical regions of the country, and rural and urban area. In making these decisions, ADD may also take into account their need to avoid unnecessary duplication of effort.

B. Review Process

Using the evaluation criteria described in Section V.1., a panel of at least three reviewers (primarily experts from outside the Federal Government) will evaluate and score the applications. To facilitate this review, applicants should ensure that they address the minimum requirements identified in Section I, Priority Area Description, 3. Minimum Requirements for Project Design.

Reviewers will determine the strengths and weaknesses of each application in terms of the evaluation criteria listed in Section V.1., provide comments, and assign numerical scores. The point value following each criterion indicates the maximum numerical weight that each applicant may received per section in the review process.

Since ACF will be using non-Federal reviewers in the process, applicants have the option of omitting from the application copies (not the original) specific salary rates or amounts for individuals specified in the application budget and Social Security Numbers, if otherwise required for individuals. The copies may include summary salary information.

Approved But Unfunded Applications

Applications that are approved but unfunded may be held over for funding in the next funding cycle, pending the availability of funds, for a period not to exceed one year.

3. Anticipated Announcement and Award Dates

Subject to the availability of funding, ADD intends to award new grants resulting from this Program Announcement during the fourth quarter of Fiscal Year 2005. Up to $350,000 in Federal funds will be available to support these projects this fiscal year.

For the purpose of the awards under this Program Announcement, the successful applicants should expect a project start date of September 1, 2005.

VI. Award Administration Information

1. Award Notices

The successful applicants will be notified through the issuance of a Financial Assistance Award document which sets forth the amount of funds granted, the terms and conditions of the grant, the effective date of the grant, the budget period for which initial support will be given, the non-Federal share to be provided, and the total project period for which support is contemplated. The Financial Assistance Award will be signed by the Grants Officer and transmitted via postal mail.

Organizations whose applications will not be funded will be notified in writing.

2. Administrative and National Policy Requirements

Grantees are subject to the requirements in 45 CFR part 74 (non-governmental) or 45 CFR part 92 (governmental).

Direct Federal grants, sub-award funds, or contracts under this Family Support Initiative 2005 program shall not be used to support inherently religious activities such as religious instruction, worship, or proselytization. Therefore, organizations must take steps to separate, in time or location, their inherently religious activities from the services funded under this Program. Regulations pertaining to the Equal Treatment For Faith-Based Organizations, which includes the prohibition against Federal funding of inherently religious activities, can be found at either 45 CFR part 87.1 or the HHS Web site at <http://www.os.dhhs.gov/fbc/waisgate21.pdf>.

3. Reporting Requirements

Programmatic Reports: Quarterly.

Financial Reports: Semi-Annually.

Grantees will be required to submit program progress and financial reports (SF-269) throughout the project period. Program progress and financial reports are due 30 days after the reporting period. In addition, final programmatic and financial reports are due 90 days after the close of the project period.

Food and Drug Administration

Ruminant Feed Ban Support Project; Availability of Cooperative Agreements: Request for Applications: RFA-FDA-ORA-05-3; Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance Number: 93.449

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration, HHS.

ACTION: Notice.

I. Funding Opportunity Description

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA), Office of Regulatory Affairs (ORA), Division of Federal-State Relations (DFSR) in coordination with the Center for Veterinary Medicine (CVM), is announcing the availability of cooperative agreements to further enhance the infrastructure of State, territorial, and tribal animal feed safety and bovine spongiform encephalopathy (BSE) prevention programs. These cooperative agreements are intended to fund additional personnel, equipment, supplies and training to support activities related to the FDA ruminant feed ban (21 CFR part 589.2000) (referred to as the ruminant feed ban), in State, territory, and tribal governments.

Under these cooperative agreements, the State, territory, and tribal governments would enhance their feed/BSE safety programs to increase the ability to locate and visit firms involved in the manufacture, distribution, and transportation of animal feed and operations feeding ruminant animals in their jurisdiction, to verify compliance with the ruminant feed ban. Funds could be used to increase State, territory, and tribal personnel dedicated to conducting these inspections. Funds could also be used for supplies, training, and laboratory equipment for feed sample testing using FDA validated methods. The goal of enhancing their feed/BSE safety programs is to increase State, territory, and tribal inspections under section 702 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (the FD&C Act) (21 U.S.C. 372) of renderers, protein blenders, and feed mills that manufacture animal feeds and feed ingredients, and inspections of salvagers of food and feed, and transporters of animal feed and feed ingredients utilizing materials prohibited under the ruminant feed ban. Finally, the Feed Ban Support Project funds are intended to supplement, not replace, State funding for program improvement.

There are seven key project areas identified for this effort:

- Hire and/or train State/territory/tribal personnel to conduct ruminant feed ban inspections. Training of State/territory/tribal personnel may be accomplished through the ORA University, or the Association of American Feed Control Officials Annual Feed Seminar, or other training that meets State/territory/tribal and FDA requirements. New hires for this program must meet the State/territory/tribal agency's qualifications for feed inspections and sampling techniques.
- Hire and/or train laboratory personnel to verify that feed samples are free of materials prohibited under the ruminant feed ban. Laboratory analyses must utilize FDA methodologies for detection of prohibited materials.
- Identify and inspect renderers, protein blenders, commercial animal feed manufacturers, distributors (including retailers), transporters of animal feed and feed ingredients, on-farm animal feed mixers, and ruminant feeders within the State/territory/tribal jurisdiction. These inspections would be conducted under section 702 of the FD&C Act using and completing the FDA Ruminant Feed Ban Inspection Checklist and Ruminant Feed Ban Compliance Program to verify compliance with the ruminant feed ban. These inspections would be conducted by officers and employees duly commissioned by FDA in accordance with section 702 of the FD&C Act.
- Conduct surveillance sampling of renderers, protein blenders, and feed mills that manufacture with materials prohibited under the ruminant feed ban. A minimum of one sample from each facility would be obtained during the inspection and would be analyzed by the State/territorial/tribal government for prohibited materials. This surveillance sampling would be conducted under section 702 of the FD&C Act using and completing the FDA Ruminant Feed Ban Inspection Checklist and Ruminant Feed Ban Compliance Program to verify compliance with the ruminant feed ban. This surveillance sampling would be conducted by officers and employees duly commissioned by FDA in accordance with section 702 of the FD&C Act.
- Locate and inspect other firms of specified concern, such as feed salvagers, feed transporters, and ruminant feeders. These inspections would be conducted under section 702 of the FD&C Act using and completing the FDA Ruminant Feed Ban Inspection Checklist and Ruminant Feed Ban Compliance Program to verify compliance with the ruminant feed ban. These inspections would be conducted by officers and employees duly commissioned by FDA in accordance with section 702 of the FD&C Act.

- Provide copies of all completed BSE checklists and sample results as a part of the quarterly program progress report to the FDA Project officer or designated office, as well as provide completed checklists and sample results in accordance with section 702 of the FD&C Act.

- Be able to identify and quantify improvements to the existing State/territory/tribal BSE program or developing new programs (i.e., personnel hiring, personnel training, equipment upgrades, increase in inspections conducted) in the quarterly reports as a result of the cooperative agreement.

FDA will support the projects covered by this notice under the authority of Section 311 of the Public Health Security and Bioterrorism Preparedness and Response Act of 2002 (the Bioterrorism Act) (Public Law 107-188), which amends the FD&C Act by adding section 909 (21 U.S.C. 399). FDA's research program is described in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance, No. 93.449.

1. Background

The events of September 11, 2001, reinforced the need to enhance the security and safety of the U.S. food supply. Congress responded by passing the Bioterrorism Act which President Bush signed into law on June 12, 2002. The Bioterrorism Act is divided into the following five titles:

- Title I—National Preparedness for Bioterrorism and Other Public Health Emergencies
 - Title II—Enhancing Controls on Dangerous Biological Agents and Toxins
 - Title III—Protecting Safety and Security of Food and Drug Supply
 - Title IV—Drinking Water Security and Safety
 - Title V—Additional Provisions
- Subtitle A of Title III—Protection of Food Supply, Section 311—Grants to States for Inspections, amends the FD&C Act by adding section 909 to authorize the Secretary of Health and Human Services to award grants to States, territories, and Indian tribes that undertake examinations, inspections, and investigations, and related activities under section 702 of the FD&C Act. The grant funds are only available for the costs of conducting these examinations, inspections, investigations, and related activities.

Toward these ends, ORA is offering these cooperative agreements to State/territorial/tribal governments for them to develop new or enhance the capability of their existing Feed/BSE programs and assist in an increased surveillance presence throughout the commercial feed channels to prevent the introduction or amplification of BSE in the United States. State/territorial/tribal inspections are based on a determination of compliance of firms with the "Animal Proteins Prohibited In Ruminant Feeds" regulation, (21 CFR 589.2000), as well as any subsequent regulations and guidance applicable to the BSE ruminant feed ban. This regulation is designed to prevent the establishment and amplification of BSE through animal feed, by prohibiting the use of certain proteins derived from mammalian tissue in the feeding of ruminant animals. The regulation affects renderers, protein blenders, commercial animal feed manufacturers, distributors (including retailers), transporters of animal feed and feed ingredients, on-farm animal feed mixers, and ruminant feeders. Based on the need to control the entry and spread of this disease, the agency has set a goal to assist in the development of new or the enhancement of existing State/territory/tribal BSE programs to help meet compliance with the regulation.

2. Program Goals

The goal of FDA's ORA Cooperative Agreement Program is to enhance, complement, develop and improve State/territory/tribal feed safety and surveillance programs. This will be accomplished through the provision of funding for additional equipment, supplies, funding for personnel, training in current FDA approved feed testing methodologies, participation in proficiency testing to establish additional reliable laboratory sample analysis capacity, and analysis of surveillance samples and State/territorial/tribal compliance inspections. This will also require extensive cooperation and coordination with FDA District Offices to minimize duplication of inspections.

II. Award Information

1. Award Instrument

Support will be in the form of a cooperative agreement. Substantive involvement by the awarding agency is inherent in the cooperative agreement award. Accordingly, FDA will have substantial involvement in the program activities of the project funded by the cooperative agreement.

Substantive involvement includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- FDA assistance and coordination in the sharing of information on the identification and location of all renderers, protein blenders, commercial animal feed manufacturers, distributors (including retailers), transporters of animal feed and feed ingredients, on-farm animal feed mixers, and ruminant feeders known to FDA and the State/territorial/tribal agency.

- FDA assistance in the training of State/territorial/tribal BSE program personnel.

- FDA assistance in the training of State/territorial/tribal laboratory personnel to verify that feed samples are free of materials prohibited under the ruminant feed ban.

- FDA assistance in the surveillance sampling of renderers, protein blenders, and feed mills that manufacture with materials prohibited under the ruminant feed ban.

- FDA assistance and cooperation in the location and inspection of other firms of specified concern, such as feed salvagers, feed transporters, and ruminant feeders.

- FDA will assist in the review of all completed checklists and sample results provided as a part of the quarterly reports.

- FDA will assist with joint inspections for training, compliance, auditing or other field activities as requested by the awardee.

2. Applicability

All cooperative agreement projects that are developed at State, territorial, and tribal levels must have existing BSE feed safety and surveillance programs or propose in detail the development of a State/territory/tribal feed/BSE regulatory program.

3. Award Amount

The total amount of funding available in Fiscal Year (FY) 2005 is $2 million. Cooperative agreements will be awarded up to $250,000 in total (direct plus indirect) costs per year for up to three (3) years and can be modified for years 2 and 3, depending on the availability of funds and review of prior year's accomplishments.

4. Length of Support

The length of support will depend on the nature of the project. For those projects with an expected duration of more than 1 year, a second or third year of noncompetitive continuation of support will depend on the following factors: (1) Performance during the preceding year and (2) availability of Federal funds.

5. Funding Plan

It is anticipated that FDA will make up to ten awards in FY 2005. The number of projects funded will depend on the quality of the applications received and is subject to availability of Federal funds to support the projects.

In addition, if a cooperative agreement is awarded, grantees will be informed if any additional documentation should be needed to support their award. Funds may be requested in the budget to travel to FDA for meetings with program staff about the progress of the project. The project office will have continuous interaction with the grantee through inspection field audits, collection of quarterly progress reports, and provision of training, joint inspections, and compliance. There may be other regular meetings with grantees to assist in fulfilling the requirements of the cooperative agreement.

These cooperative agreements will be made to either fund the development of new State/territory/tribal BSE programs or to enhance existing State/territory/tribal BSE programs for the funding of items such as: Supplies, lab equipment, surveillance, sample collection, personnel, for the provision of training in current inspectional and analytical methodology, for the analysis of feed and feed products, and ruminant feed ban inspections. Successful applications will be selected for funding to ensure a broad geographic distribution of the program. Size of the existing or new State/territory/tribal program and number of facilities to be covered under the cooperative agreement will also be a determining factor.

States with current BSE/ruminant feed ban contracts from FDA can maintain these contracts for feed/BSE inspections at the discretion of the State and FDA. However, the facilities and work covered under the contract cannot be counted towards fulfillment of the cooperative agreement and must remain distinct and separate from the cooperative agreement. These cooperative agreements are not to fund licensed medicated feed or routine feed safety good manufacturing practice (GMP) inspections that are unrelated to the ruminant feed ban.

III. Eligibility Information

1. Eligible Applicants

This cooperative agreement program is only available to State, territory, and tribal agency feed/BSE regulatory programs that undertake inspections and related activities under section 702 of the FD&C Act.

2. Cost Sharing or Matching

Cost sharing is not required.

3. Other

Dun and Bradstreet Number (DUNS).

As of October 1, 2003, applicants are required to have a DUNS number to apply for a grant or cooperative agreement from the Federal Government. The DUNS number is a 9-digit identification number that uniquely identifies business entities. Obtaining a DUNS number is easy and there is no charge. To obtain a DUNS number, call 1-866-705-5711. Be certain that you identify yourself as a Federal grant applicant when you contact Dun and Bradstreet.

IV. Application and Submission

1. Addresses to Request Application

FDA is accepting new applications for this program electronically via Grants.gov. B. Laboratory Facilities

The applicant must provide a complete description of the facilities, including the following information: The name and address of the State/territory/tribal facility conducting the BSE testing; the name of the most responsible individual for the facility where the testing will be conducted; and, the location and installation requirements of any equipment purchased with cooperative agreement funds.

At a minimum, the grantee shall utilize and follow the laboratory testing procedures, methodology, and protocol employed and approved by FDA in the testing of all BSE samples to ensure compliance with the ruminant feed ban.

In addition, if a cooperative agreement is awarded, grantees will be informed if any additional documentation should be needed to support their award.

C. Format for Application

Data and information included in the application will generally not be publicly available prior to the funding of the application. After funding has been granted, data and information included in the application will be given confidential treatment to the extent permitted by the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552(b)(4)) and FDA's implementing regulations (including 21 CFR 20.61, 20.105, and 20.106). By accepting funding, the applicant agrees to allow FDA to publish specific information about the cooperative agreement.

Information collection requirements requested on Form PHS 5161-1 (Rev. 7/00) have been sent by PHS to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and have been approved and assigned OMB control number 0348-0043.

3. Submission Dates and Times

For FY 05, the application receipt date is August 15, 2005.

Applications will be accepted from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, until the established receipt date. Please do not send applications to the Center for Scientific Review (CSR) at the National Institutes of Health (NIH). Any application sent to NIH/CSR that is forwarded to the FDA Grants Management Office and not received in time for orderly processing will be judged nonresponsive and returned to the applicant.

Applications submitted electronically must be received by the close of business on the established receipt date.

No addendum material will be accepted after the established receipt date.

4. Intergovernmental Review

The regulations issued under Executive Order 12372, Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs (45 CFR part 100) apply. Applicants (other than federally recognized Indian Tribal governments) should contact the State's Single Point of Contact (SPOC) as early as possible to alert the SPOC to the prospective application(s) and to receive any necessary instructions on the State's review process. A current listing of SPOCs is located at: <http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/grants/spoc.html>. The SPOC should send any State review process recommendations to the FDA administrative contact (see AGENCY CONTACTS in section VII of this document). The due date for the State process recommendations is no later than 60 days after the deadline date for the receipt of applications. FDA does not guarantee to accommodate or explain SPOC comments that are received after the 60-day cutoff.

5. Funding Restrictions

These cooperative agreements are not to fund licensed medicated feed or routine feed safety GMP inspections that are unrelated to the ruminant feed ban. These awards may be only used for the development of new State/territory/tribal BSE programs or to enhance and supplement existing State/territory/tribal BSE program funding. States with current BSE/ruminant feed ban contracts from FDA can maintain these contracts for feed/BSE inspections at the discretion of the State and FDA. However, the facilities and work covered under the contract cannot be counted towards fulfillment of the cooperative agreement and must remain distinct and separate from the cooperative agreement.

6. Other Submission Requirements

A. Central Contractor Registration

In anticipation of the <http://www.grants.gov> electronic application process, applicants must register with the CCR database. This database is a governmentwide warehouse of commercial and financial information for all organizations conducting business with the Federal Government. Registration with CCR will eventually become a requirement and is consistent with the governmentwide management reform to create a citizen-centered web presence and build e-gov infrastructures in and across agencies to establish a "single face to industry." The preferred method for completing a registration is through the World Wide Web at <http://www.ccr.gov>. This Web site provides a CCR handbook with detailed information on data you will need prior to beginning the online pre-registration, as well as steps to walk you through the registration process. You must have a DUNS number to begin your registration.

In order to access <http://grants.gov> an applicant will be required to register with the Credential Provider. Information about this is available at <http://www.grant.gov/CredentialProvider>.

B. Copyright Material

Applicants and applicants' sub-grantees and sub-contractors must ensure compliance that any projects developed in whole or in part with Federal funds may be made available to other State, territorial, local, and tribal feed/BSE regulatory agencies by FDA or its agents. Any copyrighted or copyrightable works shall be subject to a royalty-free, nonexclusive, and irrevocable license to the Federal Government to reproduce, publish, or otherwise use them, and to authorize others to do so for Federal Government purposes.

V. Application Review Information

1. Criteria

A. General Information

FDA grants management and program staff will review all applications sent in response to this notice. To be responsive, an application must be submitted in accordance with the requirements of this notice and must bear the original signature of the applicant institution's/organization's authorized official. Applications found to be nonresponsive will be returned to the applicant without further consideration. Applicants are strongly encouraged to contact FDA to resolve any questions about criteria before submitting their application. Please direct all questions of a technical or scientific nature to the ORA program staff and all questions of an administrative or financial nature to the grants management staff (see AGENCY CONTACTS in section VII of this document).

The original signature requirement does not apply to applications submitted electronically.

B. Scientific/Technical Review Criteria

Applications will be considered for funding on the basis of their overall technical merit as determined through the review process. Program criteria will include availability of funds and overall program balance in terms of geography and with respect to existing inventory of feed firms within their State.

The ad hoc expert panel will review applications based on the "Content and Form of Application" requirements listed in section IV.2.A of this document.

A score will be assigned based on the scientific/technical review criteria. The review panel may advise the program staff about the appropriateness of the proposal to the goals of this ORA/Office of Regional Operations (ORO)/DFSR and CVM cooperative agreement program.

C. Program Review Criteria

Applications will be considered for funding on the basis of their overall technical merit as determined through the review process. Program criteria will include availability of funds and overall program balance in terms of geography with respect to existing and projected awards.

2. Review and Selection Process

Responsive applications will be reviewed and evaluated for scientific and technical merit by an ad hoc panel of experts in the subject field of the specific application. Final funding decisions will be made by the Commissioner of Food and Drugs or his designee.

3. Anticipated Announcement and Award

Notification regarding the results of the review is anticipated by September 1, 2005. The expected start date for the FY 05 awards will be September 29, 2005.

VI. Award Administration Information

1. Award Notices

The FDA Grants Management Office will notify applicants who have been selected for an award. Awards will either be issued on a Notice of Grant Award (PHS 5152) signed by the FDA Chief Grants Management Officer and be sent to successful applicants by mail or be transmitted electronically.

2. Administrative and National Policy Requirements

These agreements will be subject to all applicable policies and requirements that govern the grant programs of PHS, including 45 CFR part 92 and the PHS Grants Policy Statement.

Equipment purchased under this cooperative agreement is subject to the requirements of 45 CFR part 92.31, "Real property."

Applicants must adhere to the requirements of this Notice. Special Terms and Conditions regarding FDA regulatory requirements and adequate progress of the study may be part of the awards notice.

PHS strongly encourages all cooperative agreement recipients to provide a smoke-free workplace and to discourage the use of all tobacco products. This is consistent with the PHS mission to protect and advance the physical and mental health of the American people.

FDA is committed to achieving the health promotion and disease prevention objectives of "Healthy People 2010," a national effort designed to reduce morbidity and mortality and to improve quality of life. Applicants may obtain a paper copy of the "Healthy People 2010" objectives, vols. I and II, for $70 ($87.50 foreign) S/N 017-000-00550-9, by writing to the Superintendent of Documents, P.O. Box 371954, Pittsburgh, PA 15250-7954. Telephone orders can be placed to 202-512-2250. The document is also available in CD-ROM format, S/N 017-001-00549-5 for $19 ($23.50 foreign) as well as on the Internet at <http://www.healthypeople.gov/>. (FDA has verified the Web site address, but we are not responsible for subsequent changes to the Web site after this document publishes in the Federal Register.) Internet viewers should proceed to "Publications."

3. Reporting

A. Reporting Requirements

The original and two copies of the annual Financial Status Report (FSR) (SF-269) must be sent to FDA's grants management officer within 90 days of the budget period end date of the grant. For continuing cooperative agreements, an annual program progress report is also required. For such cooperative agreements, the noncompeting continuation application (PHS 5161-1) will be considered the annual program progress report.

Quarterly progress reports as well as a final program progress report are required. Quarterly progress reports must contain, but are not limited to the following:

1. Status report on the installation and operational readiness of any analytical equipment that is purchased.
2. Status report on the hiring and training of State/territorial/tribal laboratory personnel.
3. Copies of the inspection report on the firms for which Ruminant Feed Ban Inspection checklists were completed including general assessment of compliance status.
4. Summary report on the facility inventory that is maintained in the State/territory/tribal government.
5. Status report on the hiring and training of personnel to conduct the inspections.
6. Report on feed sample descriptions and subsequent analytical results.
7. Where the examinations, inspections, or investigations and related activities undertaken under section 702 of the FD&C Act result in a State/territorial/tribal enforcement action, a summary report of the followup actions and final resolution of the findings.
8. Summary of improvements (identify and quantify) in the overall State/territory/tribal BSE program resulting from the cooperative agreement.
9. Provide copies of all completed BSE checklists and sample results as a part of the quarterly program progress report to the FDA Project officer or designated office.

The grantee must file a final program progress report, FSR, invention statement, and disposition of equipment statement within 90 days after the end date of the project period as noted on the notice of the cooperative agreement award.

B. Monitoring Activities

The program project officer will monitor grantees periodically. The monitoring may be in the form of telephone conversations, e-mails or written correspondence between the project officer/grants management officer and the principal investigator. Periodic site visits with officials of the grantee organization may also occur. The results of these monitoring activities will be recorded in the official cooperative agreement file and will be available to the grantee upon request consistent with applicable disclosure statutes and FDA disclosure regulations. The grantee organization must comply with all special terms and conditions of the cooperative agreement, including those that state that future funding of the study will depend on recommendations from the project officer. The scope of the recommendation will confirm that: (1) There has been acceptable progress on the project; (2) there is continued compliance with all FDA regulatory requirements; (3) if necessary, there is an indication that corrective action has taken place; and (4) assurance that any replacement of personnel will meet the testing and inspection requirements.

VII. Agency Contacts

This Notice is soliciting comments from members of the public and affected agencies concerning the proposed collection of information to: (1) Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the affected agency, including whether the information will have practical utility; (2) Evaluate the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information; (3) Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (4) Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.

This Notice also lists the following information:

Title of Proposal: Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Urban County and New York Towns Qualification/Requalification Process.

OMB Control Number, is applicable: 2506-0170.

Description of the need for the information and proposed use: The Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, at sections 102(a)(6) and 102(e) requires that any county seeking qualification as an urban county notify each unit of general local government within the county that such unit may enter into a cooperation agreement to participate in the CDBG program as part of the county. Section 102(2) of the statute specifies that the period of qualification will be three years. Based on these statutory provisions, counties seeking qualification or requalification as urban counties under the CDBG program must provide information to HUD every three years identifying the units of general local governments (UGLGs) within the county participating as a part of the county for purposes of receiving CDBG funds. The population of UGLGs for each eligible urban county and New York town are used in HUD's allocation of CDBG funds for all entitlement and State CDBG grantees. New York towns must undertake a similar process every three years because under New York State law, New York towns that contain incorporated UGLGs within their boundaries cannot qualify as metropolitan cities unless they execute cooperation agreements with all such incorporated units. The New York town qualification process must be completed prior to the qualification or urban counties so that any town that does not qualify as a metropolitan city will still have an opportunity to participate as part of an urban county.

Agency form numbers, if applicable: N/A.

Members of affected public: Urban counties and New York towns that are eligible as entitlement grantees of the CDBG program.

Estimation of the total numbers of hours needed to prepare the information collection including number of respondents, frequency of response, and hours of response: There are currently 165 qualified urban counties participating in the CDBG program that must requalify every three years. On average, three new counties qualify each year. The burden on new counties is greater than for existing counties that requalify. The Department estimates new grantees use, on average, 100 hours to review instructions, contact communities in the county, prepare and review agreements, obtain legal opinions, have agreements executed at the local and county level, and prepare and transmit copies of required documents to HUD. The Department estimates that counties that are requalifying use, on average, 60 hours to complete these actions. The time savings on requalification is primarily a result of a grantee's ability to use agreements with no specified end date. use of such "renewable" agreements enables the grantee to merely notify affected participating UGLGs in writing that their agreement will automatically be renewed unless the UGLG terminates the agreement in writing, rather than executing a new agreement every three years.

There are 10 New York towns that requalify every three years. They, too, may use "renewable" agreements that reduce the burden required under this process. The Department estimates that New York towns, on average, use 50 hours every three years to complete the requalification process.

Average of 3 new urban counties qualify per year: 3×100 hours = 300 hrs.

165 grantees requalify on triennial basis; average annual number of respondents = 55: 55×60 hrs. = 3300 hrs.

10 towns requalify every three years; average annual number of respondents = 3.3: 3.3×50 = 165 hrs.

Total combined burden hours: 3,765 hrs.

This total number of combined burden hours can be expected to increase annually by 300 hours annually, given the average of three new urban counties becoming eligible entitlement grantees each year.

Status of the proposed information collection: Existing collection number will expire October 31, 2005.

Authority: The Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, 44 U.S.C. Chapter 35, as amended.

Dated: June 27, 2005.

Bureau of Land Management

[WO–320–1990–05–24 1A]

Mining Claim and Site Maintenance and Location Fees

AGENCY: Bureau of Land Management, Interior.

ACTION: Restoration of location and maintenance fees.

SUMMARY: The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) is publishing this notice to advise the mining community that the location fee for newly located mining claims or sites has been restored from $25 to $30 per mining claim or site. In addition, the annual maintenance fee has been restored from $100 to $125 per mining claim or site. BLM reduced the fees on December 8, 2004, as directed by statute. The statute further provided that the fees would return to their formerly increased levels when BLM had met certain conditions. These conditions have now been met and the fees have returned to the levels that are reflected in the regulations found at 43 CFR 3830.21 (2004). Mining claim holders must pay a $30 location fee and a $125 maintenance fee for all mining claims and sites recorded on or after June 30, 2005. In addition, the annual maintenance fee due September 1, 2005, is $125 per mining claim or site, as reflected in the current regulations.

DATES: Effective Date: The fees that are listed in 43 CFR 3830.21 (2004) are again effective as of June 30, 2005.

ADDRESSES: You may mail suggestions or inquiries to Bureau of Land Management, Solid Minerals Group, Room 501 LS, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240–0001.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Roger Haskins in the Solid Minerals Group at (202) 452–0355. For assistance in reaching Mr. Haskins, persons who use a tele-communications device for the deaf (TDD) may call the Federal Information Relay Service at 1–(800) 877–8339, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On July 1, 2004, the Department of the Interior adjusted the location and maintenance fees for mining claims and sites based upon the Consumer Price Index (CPI), as required by the Mining Law. See 69 FR 40,294. The Department increased the location fee from $25 to $30 and increased the annual maintenance fee from $100 to $125. The Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations Act for fiscal year 2005, Division E, Title I, Section 120 of Public Law 108–447 of December 8, 2004, directed the Department of the Interior to roll back these location and maintenance fees for mining claims and sites to their pre-July 2004 level. This meant that, as of December 8, 2004, the location fee was rolled back from $30 to $25 per new location and the annual maintenance fee was rolled back from $125 to $100 per mining claim or site. However, the 2005 Appropriations Act also provided that the fees would return to their increased levels when the Department met certain conditions, including establishing a plan of operations tracking system and filing a report with Congress regarding the length of time it takes the Department to approve proposed mining plans of operations and recommending steps to reduce current delays. The Department met these conditions on June 30, 2005. Therefore, in accordance with the terms of the 2005 Appropriations Act, the fees have returned to the rates established in 2004. Mining claim holders must pay a $30 location fee and a $125 maintenance fee for all mining claims and sites recorded on or after June 30, 2005. In addition, the annual maintenance fee due September 1, 2005, is $125 per mining claim or site. The complete listing of fees and service charges may be found at 43 CFR 3830.21 (2004).

Under the regulations at 43 CFR 3834.23(c), if a mining claimant timely pays pre-increase fees, the BLM will provide notice to the claimant and an opportunity to pay the difference. Although the fee increase addressed by this notice was not directly a CPI-based increase, the 2004 increase that has been restored was CPI-based. Therefore, we believe that the cure provisions of the rule will apply if a claimant timely pays $100 for a claim on or before September 1, 2005. However, the BLM will issue an additional rule before September 1, 2005, further clarifying that mining claimants may cure the filing of an insufficient payment of fees when the fees have changed through means other than a CPI adjustment, as was the case here.

Kathleen Clarke,

Director, Bureau of Land Management.

The public record for this review may be viewed on the Commission's electronic docket (EDIS) at <http://edis.usitc.gov>.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background.—On December 28, 1994, the Department of Commerce issued an antidumping duty order on imports of cased pencils from China (59 FR 66909). Following five-year reviews by Commerce and the Commission, effective August 10, 2000, Commerce issued a continuation of the antidumping duty order on imports of cased pencils from China (65 FR 48960). The Commission is now conducting a second review to determine whether revocation of the order would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to the domestic industry within a reasonably foreseeable time. It will assess the adequacy of interested party responses to this notice of institution to determine whether to conduct a full review or an expedited review. The Commission's determination in any expedited review will be based on the facts available, which may include information provided in response to this notice.

Definitions.—The following definitions apply to this review:

(1) Subject Merchandise is the class or kind of merchandise that is within the scope of the five-year review, as defined by the Department of Commerce.

(2) The Subject Country in this review is China.

(3) The Domestic Like Product is the domestically produced product or products which are like, or in the absence of like, most similar in characteristics and uses with, the Subject Merchandise. In its original determination and its expedited five-year review determination, the Commission defined the Domestic Like Product as all cased pencils, coextensive with Commerce's scope.

(4) The Domestic Industry is the U.S. producers as a whole of the Domestic Like Product, or those producers whose collective output of the Domestic Like Product constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of the product. In its original determination and its expedited five-year review determination, the Commission defined the Domestic Industry as all domestic producers of cased pencils. In its original determination, the Commission excluded one domestic producer, Pentech, from the Domestic Industry under the related parties provision.

(5) An Importer is any person or firm engaged, either directly or through a parent company or subsidiary, in importing the Subject Merchandise into the United States from a foreign manufacturer or through its selling agent.

Participation in the review and public service list.—Persons, including industrial users of the Subject Merchandise and, if the merchandise is sold at the retail level, representative consumer organizations, wishing to participate in the review as parties must file an entry of appearance with the Secretary to the Commission, as provided in section 201.11(b)(4) of the Commission's rules, no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. The Secretary will maintain a public service list containing the names and addresses of all persons, or their representatives, who are parties to the review.

Former Commission employees who are seeking to appear in Commission five-year reviews are reminded that they are required, pursuant to 19 CFR 201.15, to seek Commission approval if the matter in which they are seeking to appear was pending in any manner or form during their Commission employment. The Commission is seeking guidance as to whether a second transition five-year review is the "same particular matter" as the underlying original investigation for purposes of 19 CFR 201.15 and 18 U.S.C. 207, the post employment statute for Federal employees. Former employees may seek informal advice from Commission ethics officials with respect to this and the related issue of whether the employee's participation was "personal and substantial." However, any informal consultation will not relieve former employees of the obligation to seek approval to appear from the Commission under its rule 201.15. For ethics advice, contact Carol McCue Verratti, Deputy Agency Ethics Official, at 202-205-3088.

Limited disclosure of business proprietary information (BPI) under an administrative protective order (APO) and APO service list.—Pursuant to section 207.7(a) of the Commission's rules, the Secretary will make BPI submitted in this review available to authorized applicants under the APO issued in the review, provided that the application is made no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. Authorized applicants must represent interested parties, as defined in 19 U.S.C. 1677(9), who are parties to the review. A separate service list will be maintained by the Secretary for those parties authorized to receive BPI under the APO.

SUMMARY: The Commission hereby gives notice that it has instituted reviews pursuant to section 751(c) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1675(c)) (the Act) to determine whether revocation of the antidumping duty orders on forged stainless steel flanges from India and Taiwan would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury. Pursuant to section 751(c)(2) of the Act, interested parties are requested to respond to this notice by submitting the information specified below to the Commission;¹ to be assured of consideration, the deadline for responses is August 22, 2005. Comments on the adequacy of responses may be filed with the Commission by September 13, 2005. For further information concerning the conduct of these reviews and rules of general application, consult the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, part 201, subparts A through E (19 CFR part

DATES: Effective Date: July 1, 2005.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mary Messer (202-205-3193), Office of Investigations, U.S. International Trade Commission, 500 E Street SW., Washington, DC 20436. Hearing-impaired persons can obtain information on this matter by contacting the Commission's TDD terminal on 202-205-1810. Persons with mobility impairments who will need special assistance in gaining access to the Commission should contact the Office of the Secretary at 202-205-2000. General information concerning the Commission may also be obtained by accessing its Internet server (<http://www.usitc.gov>). The public record for these reviews may be viewed on the Commission's electronic docket (EDIS) at <http://edis.usitc.gov>.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background.—On February 9, 1994, the Department of Commerce issued antidumping duty orders on imports of forged stainless steel flanges from India and Taiwan (59 FR 5994). Following five-year reviews by Commerce and the Commission, effective August 16, 2000, Commerce issued a continuation of the antidumping duty orders on imports of forged stainless steel flanges from India and Taiwan (65 FR 49964). The Commission is now conducting second review to determine whether revocation of the orders would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to the domestic industry within a reasonably foreseeable time. It will assess the adequacy of interested party responses to this notice of institution to determine whether to conduct full reviews or expedited reviews. The Commission's determinations in any expedited reviews will be based on the facts available, which may include information provided in response to this notice.

Definitions.—The following definitions apply to these reviews:

(1) Subject Merchandise is the class or kind of merchandise that is within the scope of the five-year reviews, as defined by the Department of Commerce.

(2) The Subject Countries in these reviews are India and Taiwan.

(3) The Domestic Like Product is the domestically produced product or products which are like, or in the absence of like, most similar in characteristics and uses with, the Subject Merchandise. In its original determinations, the Commission found one Domestic Like Product: stainless steel flanges, both finished and unfinished. In its expedited five-year review determinations, the Commission defined the Domestic Like Product as stainless steel flanges, co-extensive with Commerce's scope.

(4) The Domestic Industry is the U.S. producers as a whole of the Domestic Like Product, or those producers whose collective output of the Domestic Like Product constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of the product. In its original determinations, the Commission found one Domestic Industry: the domestic producers of forgings and finished stainless steel flanges, consisting of both forger/finishers and converters. The Commission also excluded one domestic producer, Flow Components, from the Domestic Industry under the related parties provision. Two Commissioners defined the Domestic Industry differently in the original investigations. In its expedited five-year review determinations, the Commission defined the Domestic Industry as all domestic producers of stainless steel flanges, including both integrated producers and converters.

(5) An Importer is any person or firm engaged, either directly or through a parent company or subsidiary, in importing the Subject Merchandise into the United States from a foreign manufacturer or through its selling agent.

Participation in the reviews and public service list.—Persons, including industrial users of the Subject Merchandise and, if the merchandise is sold at the retail level, representative consumer organizations, wishing to participate in the reviews as parties must file an entry of appearance with the Secretary to the Commission, as provided in section 201.11(b)(4) of the Commission's rules, no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. The Secretary will maintain a public service list containing the names and addresses of all persons, or their representatives, who are parties to the reviews.

Former Commission employees who are seeking to appear in Commission five-year reviews are reminded that they are required, pursuant to 19 CFR 201.15, to seek Commission approval if the matter in which they are seeking to appear was pending in any manner or form during their Commission employment. The Commission is seeking guidance as to whether a second transition five-year review is the "same particular matter" as the underlying original investigation for purposes of 19 CFR 201.15 and 18 U.S.C. 207, the post employment statute for Federal employees. Former employees may seek informal advice from Commission ethics officials with respect to this and the related issue of whether the employee's participation was "personal and substantial." Authorized applicants must represent interested parties, as defined in 19 U.S.C. 1677(9), who are parties to the reviews. A separate service list will be maintained by the Secretary for those parties authorized to receive BPI under the APO.

Certification.—Pursuant to section 207.3 of the Commission's rules, any person submitting information to the Commission in connection with these reviews must certify that the information is accurate and complete to the best of the submitter's knowledge. In making the certification, the submitter will be deemed to consent, unless otherwise specified, for the Commission, its employees, and contract personnel to use the information provided in any other reviews or investigations of the same or comparable products which the Commission conducts under Title VII of the Act, or in internal audits and investigations relating to the programs and operations of the Commission pursuant to 5 U.S.C. Appendix 3.

Written submissions.—Pursuant to section 207.61 of the Commission's rules, each interested party response to this notice must provide the information specified below. The deadline for filing such responses is August 22, 2005. Pursuant to section 207.62(b) of the Commission's rules, eligible parties (as specified in Commission rule 207.62(b)(1)) may also file comments concerning the adequacy of responses to the notice of institution and whether the Commission should conduct expedited or full reviews. The deadline for filing such comments is September 13, 2005. All written submissions must conform with the provisions of sections 201.8 and 207.3 of the Commission's rules and any submissions that contain BPI must also conform with the requirements of sections 201.6 and 207.7 of the Commission's rules. The Commission's rules do not authorize filing of submissions with the Secretary by facsimile or electronic means, except to the extent permitted by section 201.8 of the Commission's rules, as amended, 67 FR 68036 (November 8, 2002). Also, in accordance with sections 201.16(c) and 207.3 of the Commission's rules, each document filed by a party to the reviews must be served on all other parties to the reviews (as identified by either the public or APO service list as appropriate), and a certificate of service must accompany the document (if you are not a party to the reviews you do not need to serve your response).

Inability to provide requested information.—Pursuant to section 207.61(c) of the Commission's rules, any interested party that cannot furnish the information requested by this notice in the requested form and manner shall notify the Commission at the earliest possible time, provide a full explanation of why it cannot provide the requested information, and indicate alternative forms in which it can provide equivalent information. If an interested party does not provide this notification (or the Commission finds the explanation provided in the notification inadequate) and fails to provide a complete response to this notice, the Commission may take an adverse inference against the party pursuant to section 776(b) of the Act in making its determinations in the reviews.

Information to be Provided in Response to This Notice of Institution: If you are a domestic producer, union/worker group, or trade/business association; import/export Subject Merchandise from more than one Subject Country; or produce Subject Merchandise in more than one Subject Country, you may file a single response. If you do so, please ensure that your response to each question includes the information requested for each pertinent Subject Country. As used below, the term "firm" includes any related firms.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mary Messer (202-205-3193), Office of Investigations, U.S. International Trade Commission, 500 E Street SW., Washington, DC 20436. Hearing-impaired persons can obtain information on this matter by contacting the Commission's TDD terminal on 202-205-1810. General information concerning the Commission may also be obtained by accessing its Internet server (<http://www.usitc.gov>). The public record for these reviews may be viewed on the Commission's electronic docket (EDIS) at <http://edis.usitc.gov>.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background.—On February 19, 1991, the Department of Commerce issued an antidumping duty order on imports of the following classes or kinds of heavy forged hand tools from China: (1) Axes and adzes, (2) bars and wedges, (3) hammers and sledges, and (4) picks and mattocks (56 FR 6622). Following five-year reviews by Commerce and the Commission, effective August 10, 2000, Commerce issued a continuation of the antidumping duty order on imports of heavy forged hand tools from China (65 FR 48962). The Commission is now conducting second reviews to determine whether revocation of the order would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to the domestic industry within a reasonably foreseeable time. It will assess the adequacy of interested party responses to this notice of institution to determine whether to conduct full reviews or expedited reviews. The Commission's determinations in any expedited reviews will be based on the facts available, which may include information provided in response to this notice.

Definitions.—The following definitions apply to these reviews:

(1) Subject Merchandise is the class or kind of merchandise that is within the scope of the five-year reviews, as defined by the Department of Commerce.

(2) The Subject Country in these reviews is China.

(3) The Domestic Like Product is the domestically produced product or products which are like, or in the absence of like, most similar in characteristics and uses with, the Subject Merchandise. In its original determinations and its full five-year review determinations, the Commission found four Domestic Like Products: (1) Axes, adzes, and hewing tools, other than machetes, with or without handles; (2) bar tools, track tools, and wedges; (3) hammers and sledges, with heads weighing two pounds or more, with or without handles; and (4) picks and mattocks, with or without handles.

(4) The Domestic Industry is the U.S. producers as a whole of the Domestic Like Product, or those producers whose collective output of the Domestic Like Product constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of the product. In its original determinations and its full five-year review determinations, the Commission found four Domestic Industries: (1) Domestic producers of axes, adzes and hewing tools, other than machetes, with or without handles; (2) domestic producers of bar tools, track tools, and wedges; (3) domestic producers of hammers and sledges, with heads weighing two pounds or more, with or without handles; and (4) domestic producers of picks and mattocks, with or without handles. The Commission excluded from the Domestic Industries companies that do no more than assemble imported heads with handles purchased from a domestic manufacturer. In the original determinations, the Commission also excluded one domestic producer, Madison Mill, from the Domestic Industries under the related parties provision. In the review determination, the Commission did not find that Madison Mill engaged in sufficient production-related activity to be considered a domestic producer.

(5) An Importer is any person or firm engaged, either directly or through a parent company or subsidiary, in importing the Subject Merchandise into the United States from a foreign manufacturer or through its selling agent.

Participation in the reviews and public service list.—Persons, including industrial users of the Subject Merchandise and, if the merchandise is sold at the retail level, representative consumer organizations, wishing to participate in the reviews as parties must file an entry of appearance with the Secretary to the Commission, as provided in section 201.11(b)(4) of the Commission's rules, no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. The Secretary will maintain a public service list containing the names and addresses of all persons, or their representatives, who are parties to the reviews.

Former Commission employees who are seeking to appear in Commission five-year reviews are reminded that they are required, pursuant to 19 CFR 201.15, to seek Commission approval if the matter in which they are seeking to appear was pending in any manner or form during their Commission employment. The Commission is seeking guidance as to whether a second transition five-year review is the "same particular matter" as the underlying original investigation for purposes of 19 CFR 201.15 and 18 U.S.C. 207, the post employment statute for Federal employees. Former employees may seek informal advice from Commission ethics officials with respect to this and the related issue of whether the employee's participation was "personal and substantial." However, any informal consultation will not relieve former employees of the obligation to seek approval to appear from the Commission under its rule 201.15. For ethics advice, contact Carol McCue Verratti, Deputy Agency Ethics Official, at 202-205-3088.

Limited disclosure of business proprietary information (BPI) under an administrative protective order (APO) and APO service list.—Pursuant to section 207.7(a) of the Commission's rules, the Secretary will make BPI submitted in these reviews available to authorized applicants under the APO issued in the reviews, provided that the application is made no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. Authorized applicants must represent interested parties, as defined in 19 U.S.C. 1677(9), who are parties to the reviews. A separate service list will be maintained by the Secretary for those parties authorized to receive BPI under the APO.

Certification.—Pursuant to section 207.3 of the Commission's rules, any person submitting information to the Commission in connection with these reviews must certify that the information is accurate and complete to the best of the submitter's knowledge. In making the certification, the submitter will be deemed to consent, unless otherwise specified, for the Commission, its employees, and contract personnel to use the information provided in any other reviews or investigations of the same or comparable products which the Commission conducts under Title VII of the Act, or in internal audits and investigations relating to the programs and operations of the Commission pursuant to 5 U.S.C. Appendix 3.

The Commission's rules do not authorize filing of submissions with the Secretary by facsimile or electronic means, except to the extent permitted by section 201.8 of the Commission's rules, as amended, 67 FR 68036 (November 8, 2002). Also, in accordance with sections 201.16(c) and 207.3 of the Commission's rules, each document filed by a party to the reviews must be served on all other parties to the reviews (as identified by either the public or APO service list as appropriate), and a certificate of service must accompany the document (if you are not a party to the reviews you do not need to serve your response).

Inability to provide requested information.—Pursuant to section 207.61(c) of the Commission's rules, any interested party that cannot furnish the information requested by this notice in the requested form and manner shall notify the Commission at the earliest possible time, provide a full explanation of why it cannot provide the requested information, and indicate alternative forms in which it can provide equivalent information. SUMMARY: The Commission hereby gives notice that it has instituted reviews pursuant to section 751(c) of the Tariff

Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1675(c)) (the Act) to determine whether revocation of the countervailing duty orders on magnesium from Canada would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury. Pursuant to section 751(c)(2) of the Act, interested parties are requested to respond to this notice by submitting the information specified below to the Commission;¹ to be assured of consideration, the deadline for responses is August 22, 2005. EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 2005.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mary Messer (202–205–3193), Office of Investigations, U.S. International Trade Commission, 500 E Street SW, Washington, DC 20436. Hearing-impaired persons can obtain information on this matter by contacting the Commission's TDD terminal on 202–205–1810. Persons with mobility impairments who will need special assistance in gaining access to the Commission should contact the Office of the Secretary at 202–205–2000. General information concerning the Commission may also be obtained by accessing its Internet server (<http://www.usitc.gov>). The public record for these reviews may be viewed on the Commission's electronic docket (EDIS) at <http://edis.usitc.gov>.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background.—On August 31, 1992, the Department of Commerce issued countervailing duty orders on imports of alloy and pure magnesium from Canada (57 FR 39392). Following five-year reviews by Commerce and the Commission, effective August 16, 2000, Commerce issued a continuation of the countervailing duty orders on imports of alloy and pure magnesium from Canada (65 FR 49964). The Commission is now conducting second reviews to determine whether revocation of the countervailing duty orders would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to the domestic industries within a reasonably foreseeable time. It will assess the adequacy of interested party responses to this notice of institution to determine whether to conduct full reviews or expedited reviews. The Commission's determinations in any expedited reviews will be based on the facts available, which may include information provided in response to this notice.

Definitions.—The following definitions apply to these reviews:

(1) Subject Merchandise is the class or kind of merchandise that is within the scope of the five-year reviews, as defined by the Department of Commerce.

(2) The Subject Country in these reviews is Canada.

(3) The Domestic Like Product is the domestically produced product or products which are like, or in the absence of like, most similar in characteristics and uses with, the Subject Merchandise. In its original determinations (on remand) and its full five-year review determinations, the Commission found two separate Domestic Like Products: (1) alloy magnesium and (2) pure magnesium. Certain Commissioners defined the Domestic Like Product differently in the original determinations.

(4) The Domestic Industry is the U.S. producers as a whole of the Domestic Like Product, or those producers whose collective output of the Domestic Like Product constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of the product. In its original determinations (on remand) and its full five-year review determinations, the Commission found two separate Domestic Industries composed of (1) all domestic producers of alloy magnesium and (2) all domestic producers of pure magnesium. Certain Commissioners defined the Domestic Industry differently in the original determinations.

(5) An Importer is any person or firm engaged, either directly or through a parent company or subsidiary, in importing the Subject Merchandise into the United States from a foreign manufacturer or through its selling agent.

Participation in the reviews and public service list.—Persons, including industrial users of the Subject Merchandise and, if the merchandise is sold at the retail level, representative consumer organizations, wishing to participate in the reviews as parties must file an entry of appearance with the Secretary to the Commission, as provided in section 201.11(b)(4) of the Commission's rules, no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. The Secretary will maintain a public service list containing the names and addresses of all persons, or their representatives, who are parties to the reviews.

Former Commission employees who are seeking to appear in Commission five-year reviews are reminded that they are required, pursuant to 19 CFR 201.15, to seek Commission approval if the matter in which they are seeking to appear was pending in any manner or form during their Commission employment. The Commission is seeking guidance as to whether a second transition five-year review is the "same particular matter" as the underlying original investigation for purposes of 19 CFR 201.15 and 18 U.S.C. 207, the post employment statute for Federal employees. Former employees may seek informal advice from Commission ethics officials with respect to this and the related issue of whether the employee's participation was "personal and substantial." However, any informal consultation will not relieve former employees of the obligation to seek approval to appear from the Commission under its rule 201.15. For ethics advice, contact Carol McCue Verratti, Deputy Agency Ethics Official, at 202–205–3088.

Limited disclosure of business proprietary information (BPI) under an administrative protective order (APO) and APO service list.—Pursuant to section 207.7(a) of the Commission's rules, the Secretary will make BPI submitted in these reviews available to authorized applicants under the APO issued in the reviews, provided that the application is made no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. Authorized applicants must represent interested parties, as defined in 19 U.S.C. 1677(9), who are parties to the reviews. A separate service list will be maintained by the Secretary for those parties authorized to receive BPI under the APO.

Certification.—Pursuant to section 207.3 of the Commission's rules, any person submitting information to the Commission in connection with these reviews must certify that the information is accurate and complete to the best of the submitter's knowledge. In making the certification, the submitter will be deemed to consent, unless otherwise specified, for the Commission, its employees, and contract personnel to use the information provided in any other reviews or investigations of the same or

The deadline for filing such comments is September 13, 2005. The Commission's rules do not authorize filing of submissions with the Secretary by facsimile or electronic means, except to the extent permitted by section 201.8 of the Commission's rules, as amended, 67 FR 68036 (November 8, 2002). Also, in accordance with sections 201.16(c) and 207.3 of the Commission's rules, each document filed by a party to the reviews must be served on all other parties to the reviews (as identified by either the public or APO service list as appropriate), and a certificate of service must accompany the document (if you are not a party to the reviews you do not need to serve your response).

Inability to provide requested information.—Pursuant to section 207.61(c) of the Commission's rules, any interested party that cannot furnish the information requested by this notice in the requested form and manner shall notify the Commission at the earliest possible time, provide a full explanation of why it cannot provide the requested information, and indicate alternative forms in which it can provide equivalent information. If an interested party does not provide this notification (or the Commission finds the explanation provided in the notification inadequate) and fails to provide a complete response to this notice, the Commission may take an adverse inference against the party pursuant to section 776(b) of the Act in making its determinations in the reviews.

Following five-year reviews by Commerce and the Commission, effective August 22, 2000, Commerce issued a continuation of the countervailing duty order on imports of welded carbon steel pipe and tube from Turkey (65 FR 50960) and the antidumping duty orders on imports of certain pipe and tube from Argentina, Brazil, India, Korea, Mexico, Taiwan, Thailand, and Turkey (65 FR 50955–50958). The Commission is now conducting second reviews to determine whether revocation of the orders would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to the domestic industry within a reasonably foreseeable time. It will assess the adequacy of interested party responses to this notice of institution to determine whether to conduct full reviews or expedited reviews. The Commission's determinations in any expedited reviews will be based on the facts available, which may include information provided in response to this notice.

Definitions.—The following definitions apply to these reviews:

(1) Subject Merchandise is the class or kind of merchandise that is within the scope of the five-year reviews, as defined by the Department of Commerce.

(2) The Subject Countries in these reviews are Argentina, Brazil, India, Korea, Mexico, Taiwan, Thailand, and Turkey.

(3) The Domestic Like Product is the domestically produced product or products which are like, or in the absence of like, most similar in characteristics and uses with, the Subject Merchandise. In its original determinations, the Commission defined the Domestic Like Products as follows: (1) Small Diameter Circular Welded Carbon Steel Pipes and Tubes from Taiwan (Inv. No. 731-TA-132)—small diameter circular pipes and tubes (i.e., with an outside diameter of at least 0.375 inch but not more than 4.5 inches); (2) Certain Circular Welded Carbon Steel Pipes and Tubes from Thailand and Turkey (Inv. Nos. 731-TA-252 and 701-TA-253)—standard pipe up to and including 16 inches in outside diameter; (3) Certain Circular Welded Carbon Steel Pipes and Tubes from India and Turkey (Inv. Nos. 731-TA-271 and 273)—standard pipe of not more than 16 inches in outside diameter; (4) Certain Circular Welded Carbon Steel Pipes and Tubes from Brazil, Korea, Mexico, and Taiwan (Inv. Nos. 731-TA-532–534 and 536)—circular welded, non-alloy steel pipes and tubes of not more than 16 inches in outside diameter, except (a) finished conduit other than finished rigid conduit and (b) mechanical tubing that is not cold-drawn or cold-rolled; (5) Light-Walled Rectangular Pipe and Tube from Argentina and Taiwan (Inv. Nos. 731-TA-409 and 410)—light-walled rectangular pipe and tube. In its full five-year review determinations, the Commission found the following Domestic Like Products: (A) for the reviews listed in items (1)–(4) above, circular welded non-alloy steel pipes and tubes up to and including 16 inches in outside diameter, regardless of wall thickness and (B) for the reviews listed in item (5) above, light-walled rectangular pipe and tube.

(4) The Domestic Industry is the U.S. producers as a whole of the Domestic Like Product, or those producers whose collective output of the Domestic Like Product constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of the product. In its original determinations, the Commission defined the Domestic Industries as follows: (1) Small Diameter Circular Welded Carbon Steel Pipes and Tubes from Taiwan (Inv. No. 731-TA-132)—domestic producers of small diameter circular pipes and tubes (i.e., with an outside diameter of at least 0.375 inch but not more than 4.5 inches); (2) Certain Circular Welded Carbon Steel Pipes and Tubes from Thailand and Turkey (Inv. Nos. 731-TA-252 and 701-TA-253)—domestic producers of standard pipe up to and including 16 inches outside diameter; (3) Certain Circular Welded Carbon Steel Pipes and Tubes from India and Turkey (Inv. Nos. 731-TA-271 and 273)—domestic producers of standard pipe of not more than 16 inches in outside diameter; (4) Certain Circular Welded Carbon Steel Pipes and Tubes from Brazil, Korea, Mexico, and Taiwan (Inv. Nos. 731-TA-532–534 and 536)—domestic producers of circular welded, non-alloy steel pipes and tubes of not more than 16 inches in outside diameter, except (a) finished conduit other than finished rigid conduit and (b) mechanical tubing that is not cold-drawn or cold-rolled; (5) Light-Walled Rectangular Pipe and Tube from Argentina and Taiwan (Inv. Nos. 731-TA-409 and 410)—domestic producers of light-walled rectangular pipe and tube. In its full five-year review determinations, the Commission found the following Domestic Industries: (A) for the reviews listed in items (1)–(4) above, domestic producers of circular welded non-alloy steel pipes and tubes up to and including 16 inches in outside diameter, regardless of wall thickness and (B) for the review listed in item (5) above, domestic producers of light-walled rectangular pipe and tube.

(5) An Importer is any person or firm engaged, either directly or through a parent company or subsidiary, in importing the Subject Merchandise into the United States from a foreign manufacturer or through its selling agent.

Participation in the reviews and public service list.—Persons, including industrial users of the Subject Merchandise and, if the merchandise is sold at the retail level, representative consumer organizations, wishing to participate in the reviews as parties must file an entry of appearance with the Secretary to the Commission, as provided in section 201.11(b)(4) of the Commission's rules, no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. The Secretary will maintain a public service list containing the names and addresses of all persons, or their representatives, who are parties to the reviews.

Former Commission employees who are seeking to appear in Commission five-year reviews are reminded that they are required, pursuant to 19 CFR 201.15, to seek Commission approval if the matter in which they are seeking to appear was pending in any manner or form during their Commission employment. The Commission is seeking guidance as to whether a second transition five-year review is the "same particular matter" as the underlying original investigation for purposes of 19 CFR 201.15 and 18 U.S.C. 207, the post employment statute for Federal employees. Former employees may seek informal advice from Commission ethics officials with respect to this and the related issue of whether the employee's participation was "personal and substantial." However, any informal consultation will not relieve former employees of the obligation to seek approval to appear from the Commission under its rule 201.15. For ethics advice, contact Carol McCue Verratti, Deputy Agency Ethics Official, at 202-205-3088.

Limited disclosure of business proprietary information (BPI) under an administrative protective order (APO) and APO service list.—Pursuant to section 207.7(a) of the Commission's rules, the Secretary will make BPI submitted in these reviews available to authorized applicants under the APO issued in the reviews, provided that the application is made no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. Authorized applicants must represent interested parties, as defined in 19 U.S.C. 1677(9), who are parties to the reviews. A separate service list will be maintained by the Secretary for those parties authorized to receive BPI under the APO.

Certification.—Pursuant to section 207.3 of the Commission's rules, any person submitting information to the Commission in connection with these reviews must certify that the information is accurate and complete to the best of the submitter's knowledge. In making the certification, the submitter will be deemed to consent, unless otherwise specified, for the Commission, its employees, and contract personnel to use the information provided in any other reviews or investigations of the same or comparable products which the Commission conducts under Title VII of the Act, or in internal audits and investigations relating to the programs and operations of the Commission pursuant to 5 U.S.C. Appendix 3.

Written submissions.—Pursuant to section 207.61 of the Commission's rules, each interested party response to this notice must provide the information specified below. The deadline for filing such responses is August 22, 2005. Pursuant to section 207.62(b) of the Commission's rules, eligible parties (as specified in Commission rule 207.62(b)(1)) may also file comments concerning the adequacy of responses to the notice of institution and whether the Commission should conduct expedited or full reviews. The deadline for filing such comments is September 13, 2005. All written submissions must conform with the provisions of sections 201.8 and 207.3 of the Commission's rules and any submissions that contain BPI must also conform with the requirements of sections 201.6 and 207.7 of the Commission's rules. The Commission's rules do not authorize filing of submissions with the Secretary by facsimile or electronic means, except to the extent permitted by section 201.8 of the Commission's rules, as amended, 67 FR 68036 (November 8, 2002). Also, in accordance with sections 201.16(c) and 207.3 of the Commission's rules, each document filed by a party to the reviews must be served on all other parties to the reviews (as identified by either the public or APO service list as appropriate), and a certificate of service must accompany the document (if you are not a party to the reviews you do not need to serve your response).

Inability to provide requested information.—Pursuant to section 207.61(c) of the Commission's rules, any interested party that cannot furnish the information requested by this notice in the requested form and manner shall notify the Commission at the earliest possible time, provide a full explanation of why it cannot provide the requested information, and indicate alternative forms in which it can provide equivalent information. If an interested party does not provide this notification (or the Commission finds the explanation provided in the notification inadequate) and fails to provide a complete response to this notice, the Commission may take an adverse inference against the party pursuant to section 776(b) of the Act in making its determinations in the reviews.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background.—On December 1, 1993, the Department of Commerce issued an antidumping duty order on imports of stainless steel wire rod from India (58 FR 63335). On January 28, 1994, the Department of Commerce issued antidumping duty orders on imports of stainless steel wire rod from Brazil and France (59 FR 4021, 4022). Following five-year reviews by Commerce and the Commission, effective August 2, 2000, Commerce issued a continuation of the antidumping duty orders on imports of stainless steel wire rod from Brazil, France, and India (65 FR 47403). The Commission is now conducting second reviews to determine whether revocation of the order would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to the domestic industry within a reasonably foreseeable time. It will assess the adequacy of interested party responses to this notice of institution to determine whether to conduct full reviews or expedited reviews. The Commission's determinations in any expedited reviews will be based on the facts available, which may include information provided in response to this notice.

Definitions.—The following definitions apply to these reviews:

(1) Subject Merchandise is the class or kind of merchandise that is within the scope of the five-year reviews, as defined by the Department of Commerce.

(2) The Subject Countries in these reviews are Brazil, France, and India.

(3) The Domestic Like Product is the domestically produced product or products which are like, or in the absence of like, most similar in characteristics and uses with, the Subject Merchandise. In its original determinations and its full five-year review determinations, the Commission defined the Domestic Like Product as stainless steel wire rod.

(4) The Domestic Industry is the U.S. producers as a whole of the Domestic Like Product, or those producers whose collective output of the Domestic Like Product constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of the product. In its original determinations and its full five-year review determinations, the Commission defined the Domestic Industry as domestic producers of stainless steel wire rod.

(5) An Importer is any person or firm engaged, either directly or through a parent company or subsidiary, in importing the Subject Merchandise into the United States from a foreign manufacturer or through its selling agent.

Participation in the reviews and public service list.—Persons, including industrial users of the Subject Merchandise and, if the merchandise is sold at the retail level, representative consumer organizations, wishing to participate in the reviews as parties must file an entry of appearance with the Secretary to the Commission, as provided in section 201.11(b)(4) of the Commission's rules, no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. The Secretary will maintain a public service list containing the names and addresses of all persons, or their representatives, who are parties to the reviews.

Former Commission employees who are seeking to appear in Commission five-year reviews are reminded that they are required, pursuant to 19 CFR 201.15, to seek Commission approval if the matter in which they are seeking to appear was pending in any manner or form during their Commission employment. The Commission is seeking guidance as to whether a second transition five-year review is the "same particular matter" as the underlying original investigation for purposes of 19 CFR 201.15 and 18 U.S.C. 207, the post employment statute for Federal employees. Former employees may seek informal advice from Commission ethics officials with respect to this and the related issue of whether the employee's participation was "personal and substantial." However, any informal consultation will not relieve former employees of the obligation to seek approval to appear from the Commission under its rule 201.15. For ethics advice, contact Carol McCue Verratti, Deputy Agency Ethics Official, at 202–205–3088.

Limited disclosure of business proprietary information (BPI) under an administrative protective order (APO) and APO service list.—Pursuant to section 207.7(a) of the Commission's rules, the Secretary will make BPI submitted in these reviews available to authorized applicants under the APO issued in the reviews, provided that the application is made no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. Authorized applicants must represent interested parties, as defined in 19 U.S.C. 1677(9), who are parties to the reviews. A separate service list will be maintained by the Secretary for those parties authorized to receive BPI under the APO.

Certification.—Pursuant to section 207.3 of the Commission's rules, any person submitting information to the Commission in connection with these reviews must certify that the information is accurate and complete to the best of the submitter's knowledge. In making the certification, the submitter will be deemed to consent, unless otherwise specified, for the Commission, its employees, and contract personnel to use the information provided in any other reviews or investigations of the same or comparable products which the Commission conducts under Title VII of the Act, or in internal audits and investigations relating to the programs and operations of the Commission pursuant to 5 U.S.C. Appendix 3.

Written submissions.—Pursuant to section 207.61 of the Commission's rules, each interested party response to this notice must provide the information specified below. The deadline for filing such responses is August 22, 2005. Pursuant to section 207.62(b) of the Commission's rules, eligible parties (as specified in Commission rule 207.62(b)(1)) may also file comments concerning the adequacy of responses to the notice of institution and whether the Commission should conduct expedited or full reviews. The deadline for filing such comments is September 13, 2005. All written submissions must conform with the provisions of sections 201.8 and 207.3 of the Commission's rules and any submissions that contain BPI must also conform with the requirements of sections 201.6 and 207.7 of the Commission's rules. The Commission's rules do not authorize filing of submissions with the Secretary by facsimile or electronic means, except to the extent permitted by section 201.8 of the Commission's rules, as amended, 67 FR 68036 (November 8, 2002). Also, in accordance with sections 201.16(c) and 207.3 of the Commission's rules, each document filed by a party to the reviews must be served on all other parties to the reviews (as identified by either the public or APO service list as appropriate), and a certificate of service must accompany the document (if you are not a party to the reviews you do not need to serve your response).

Inability to provide requested information.—Pursuant to section 207.61(c) of the Commission's rules, any interested party that cannot furnish the information requested by this notice in the requested form and manner shall notify the Commission at the earliest possible time, provide a full explanation of why it cannot provide the requested information, and indicate alternative forms in which it can provide equivalent information. If an interested party does not provide this notification (or the Commission finds the explanation provided in the notification inadequate) and fails to provide a complete response to this notice, the Commission may take an adverse inference against the party pursuant to section 776(b) of the Act in making its determinations in the reviews.

Information to be Provided in Response to This Notice of Institution: If you are a domestic producer, union/worker group, or trade/business association; import/export Subject Merchandise from more than one Subject Country; or produce Subject Merchandise in more than one Subject Country, you may file a single response. If you do so, please ensure that your response to each question includes the information requested for each pertinent Subject Country. As used below, the term "firm" includes any related firms.

(1) The name and address of your firm or entity (including World Wide Web address if available) and name, telephone number, fax number, and E-mail address of the certifying official.

(2) A statement indicating whether your firm/entity is a U.S. producer of the Domestic Like Product, a U.S. union or worker group, a U.S. importer of the Subject Merchandise, a foreign producer or exporter of the Subject Merchandise, a U.S. or foreign trade or business association, or another interested party (including an explanation). If you are a union/worker group or trade/business association, identify the firms in which your workers are employed or which are members of your association.

(3) A statement indicating whether your firm/entity is willing to participate in these reviews by providing information requested by the Commission.

(4) A statement of the likely effects of the revocation of the antidumping duty orders on the Domestic Industry in general and/or your firm/entity specifically. In your response, please discuss the various factors specified in section 752(a) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1675a(a)) including the likely volume of subject imports, likely price effects of subject imports, and likely impact of imports of Subject Merchandise on the Domestic Industry.

(5) A list of all known and currently operating U.S. producers of the Domestic Like Product. Identify any known related parties and the nature of the relationship as defined in section 771(4)(B) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1677(4)(B)).

(6) A list of all known and currently operating U.S. importers of the Subject Merchandise and producers of the Subject Merchandise in the Subject Countries that currently export or have exported Subject Merchandise to the United States or other countries after 1999.

(7) If you are a U.S. producer of the Domestic Like Product, provide the following information on your firm's operations on that product during calendar year 2004 (report quantity data in short tons and value data in U.S. dollars, f.o.b. plant). If you are a union/worker group or trade/business association, provide the information, on an aggregate basis, for the firms in which your workers are employed/which are members of your association.

(b) The quantity and value of U.S. commercial shipments of the Domestic Like Product produced in your U.S. plant(s); and

(c) The quantity and value of U.S. internal consumption/company transfers of the Domestic Like Product produced in your U.S. plant(s).

(8) If you are a U.S. importer or a trade/business association of U.S. importers of the Subject Merchandise from the Subject Countries, provide the following information on your firm's(s') operations on that product during calendar year 2004 (report quantity data in short tons and value data in U.S. dollars). If you are a trade/business association, provide the information, on an aggregate basis, for the firms which are members of your association.

(a) The quantity and value (landed, duty-paid but not including antidumping duties) of U.S. imports and, if known, an estimate of the percentage of total U.S. imports of Subject Merchandise from the Subject Countries accounted for by your firm's(s.) imports;

(b) The quantity and value (f.o.b. U.S. port, including antidumping duties) of U.S. commercial shipments of Subject Merchandise imported from the Subject Countries; and

(c) The quantity and value (f.o.b. U.S. port, including antidumping duties) of U.S. internal consumption/company transfers of Subject Merchandise imported from the Subject Countries.

(9) If you are a producer, an exporter, or a trade/business association of producers or exporters of the Subject Merchandise in the Subject Countries, provide the following information on your firm's(s') operations on that product during calendar year 2004 (report quantity data in short tons and value data in U.S. dollars, landed and duty-paid at the U.S. port but not including antidumping duties). If you are a trade/business association, provide the information, on an aggregate basis, for the firms which are members of your association.

(a) Production (quantity) and, if known, an estimate of the percentage of total production of Subject Merchandise in the Subject Countries accounted for by your firm's(s') production; and

(b) The quantity and value of your firm's(s') exports to the United States of Subject Merchandise and, if known, an estimate of the percentage of total exports to the United States of Subject Merchandise from the Subject Countries accounted for by your firm's(s') exports.

(10) Identify significant changes, if any, in the supply and demand conditions or business cycle for the Domestic Like Product that have occurred in the United States or in the market for the Subject Merchandise in the Subject Countries after 1999, and significant changes, if any, that are likely to occur within a reasonably foreseeable time. Supply conditions to consider include technology; production methods; development efforts; ability to increase production (including the shift of production facilities used for other products and the use, cost, or availability of major inputs into production); and factors related to the ability to shift supply among different national markets (including barriers to importation in foreign markets or changes in market demand abroad). Demand conditions to consider include end uses and applications; the existence and availability of substitute products; and the level of competition among the Domestic Like Product produced in the United States, Subject Merchandise produced in the Subject Countries, and such merchandise from other countries.

(11) (OPTIONAL) A statement of whether you agree with the above definitions of the Domestic Like Product and Domestic Industry; if you disagree with either or both of these definitions, please explain why and provide alternative definitions.

The Commission is now conducting a second review to determine whether termination of the suspended investigation would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to the domestic industry within a reasonably foreseeable time. It will assess the adequacy of interested party responses to this notice of institution to determine whether to conduct a full review or an expedited review. The Commission's determination in any expedited review will be based on the facts available, which may include information provided in response to this notice.

Definitions.—The following definitions apply to this review:

(1) Subject Merchandise is the class or kind of merchandise that is within the scope of the five-year review, as defined by the Department of Commerce.

(2) The Subject Country in this review is Russia.

(3) The Domestic Like Product is the domestically produced product or products which are like, or in the absence of like, most similar in characteristics and uses with, the Subject Merchandise. In its original preliminary determination concerning the U.S.S.R. and in its first full five-year review determination concerning Russia, the Commission defined the Domestic Like Product as uranium coextensive with Commerce's scope.

(4) The Domestic Industry is the U.S. producers as a whole of the Domestic Like Product, or those producers whose collective output of the Domestic Like Product constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of the product. In its original preliminary determination concerning the U.S.S.R., the Commission defined the Domestic Industry as domestic producers of the product coextensive with Commerce's scope of the investigation, including the U.S. Department of Energy's uranium enrichment operations. In its full five-year review determination concerning Russia, the Commission defined the Domestic Industry as all domestic producers of uranium, including concentrators, the converter, the enricher, and fabricators.

(5) An Importer is any person or firm engaged, either directly or through a parent company or subsidiary, in importing the Subject Merchandise into the United States from a foreign manufacturer or through its selling agent.

Participation in the review and public service list.—Persons, including industrial users of the Subject Merchandise and, if the merchandise is sold at the retail level, representative consumer organizations, wishing to participate in the review as parties must file an entry of appearance with the Secretary to the Commission, as provided in section 201.11(b)(4) of the Commission's rules, no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. The Secretary will maintain a public service list containing the names and addresses of all persons, or their representatives, who are parties to the review.

Former Commission employees who are seeking to appear in Commission five-year reviews are reminded that they are required, pursuant to 19 CFR 201.15, to seek Commission approval if the matter in which they are seeking to appear was pending in any manner or form during their Commission employment. The Commission is seeking guidance as to whether a second transition five-year review is the "same particular matter" as the underlying original investigation for purposes of 19 CFR 201.15 and 18 U.S.C. 207, the post employment statute for Federal employees. Former employees may seek informal advice from Commission ethics officials with respect to this and the related issue of whether the employee's participation was "personal and substantial." However, any informal consultation will not relieve former employees of the obligation to seek approval to appear from the Commission under its rule 201.15. For ethics advice, contact Carol McCue Verratti, Deputy Agency Ethics Official, at (202) 205-3088.

Limited disclosure of business proprietary information (BPI) under an administrative protective order (APO) and APO service list.—Pursuant to section 207.7(a) of the Commission's rules, the Secretary will make BPI submitted in this review available to authorized applicants under the APO issued in the review, provided that the application is made no later than 21 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. Authorized applicants must represent interested parties, as defined in 19 U.S.C. 1677(9), who are parties to the review. A separate service list will be maintained by the Secretary for those parties authorized to receive BPI under the APO.

Certification.—Pursuant to section 207.3 of the Commission's rules, any person submitting information to the Commission in connection with this review must certify that the information is accurate and complete to the best of the submitter's knowledge. In making the certification, the submitter will be deemed to consent, unless otherwise specified, for the Commission, its employees, and contract personnel to use the information provided in any other reviews or investigations of the same or comparable products which the Commission conducts under Title VII of the Act, or in internal audits and investigations relating to the programs and operations of the Commission pursuant to 5 U.S.C. Appendix 3.

Written submissions.—Pursuant to section 207.61 of the Commission's rules, each interested party response to this notice must provide the information specified below. The deadline for filing such responses is August 22, 2005. Pursuant to section 207.62(b) of the Commission's rules, eligible parties (as specified in Commission rule 207.62(b)(1)) may also file comments concerning the adequacy of responses to the notice of institution and whether the Commission should conduct an expedited or full review. The deadline for filing such comments is September 13, 2005. All written submissions must conform with the provisions of sections 201.8 and 207.3 of the Commission's rules and any submissions that contain BPI must also conform with the requirements of sections 201.6 and 207.7 of the Commission's rules. The Commission's rules do not authorize filing of submissions with the Secretary by facsimile or electronic means, except to the extent permitted by section 201.8 of the Commission's rules, as amended, 67 FR 68036 (November 8, 2002). Also, in accordance with sections 201.16(c) and 207.3 of the Commission's rules, each document filed by a party to the review must be served on all other parties to the review (as identified by either the public or APO service list as appropriate), and a certificate of service must accompany the document (if you are not a party to the review you do not need to serve your response).

Inability to provide requested information.—Pursuant to section 207.61(c) of the Commission's rules, any interested party that cannot furnish the information requested by this notice in the requested form and manner shall notify the Commission at the earliest possible time, provide a full explanation of why it cannot provide the requested information, and indicate alternative forms in which it can provide equivalent information. If an interested party does not provide this notification (or the Commission finds the explanation provided in the notification inadequate) and fails to provide a complete response to this notice, the Commission may take an adverse inference against the party pursuant to section 776(b) of the Act in making its determination in the review.

Information to be provided in response to this notice of institution: As used below, the term "firm" includes any related firms.

(1) The name and address of your firm or entity (including World Wide Web address if available) and name, telephone number, fax number, and e-mail address of the certifying official.

(5) A list of all known and currently operating U.S. producers of the Domestic Like Product. Identify any known related parties and the nature of the relationship as defined in section 771(4)(B) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1677(4)(B)).

(6) A list of all known and currently operating U.S. importers of the Subject Merchandise and producers of the Subject Merchandise in the Subject Country that currently export or have exported Subject Merchandise to the United States or other countries after 1999.

(7) If you are a U.S. producer of the Domestic Like Product, provide the following information on your firm's operations on that product during calendar year 2004 (report quantity data in pounds and value data in U.S. dollars, f.o.b. plant). If you are a union/worker group or trade/business association, provide the information, on an aggregate basis, for the firms in which your workers are employed/which are members of your association.

(b) the quantity and value (f.o.b. U.S. port, including antidumping duties) of U.S. commercial shipments of Subject Merchandise imported from the Subject Country; and

(c) the quantity and value (f.o.b. U.S. port, including antidumping duties) of U.S. internal consumption/company transfers of Subject Merchandise imported from the Subject Country.

(9) If you are a producer, an exporter, or a trade/business association of producers or exporters of the Subject Merchandise in the Subject Country, provide the following information on your firm's(s') operations on that product during calendar year 2004 (report quantity data in pounds and value data in U.S. dollars, landed and duty-paid at the U.S. port but not including antidumping duties). If you are a trade/business association, provide the information, on an aggregate basis, for the firms which are members of your association.

(a) Production (quantity) and, if known, an estimate of the percentage of total production of Subject Merchandise in the Subject Country accounted for by your firm's(s') production; and

(b) the quantity and value of your firm's(s') exports to the United States of Subject Merchandise and, if known, an estimate of the percentage of total exports to the United States of Subject Merchandise from the Subject Country accounted for by your firm's(s') exports.

(10) Identify significant changes, if any, in the supply and demand conditions or business cycle for the Domestic Like Product that have occurred in the United States or in the market for the Subject Merchandise in the Subject Country after 1999, and significant changes, if any, that are likely to occur within a reasonably foreseeable time. Supply conditions to consider include technology; production methods; development efforts; ability to increase production (including the shift of production facilities used for other products and the use, cost, or availability of major inputs into production); and factors related to the ability to shift supply among different national markets (including barriers to importation in foreign markets or changes in market demand abroad). Demand conditions to consider include end uses and applications; the existence and availability of substitute products; and the level of competition among the Domestic Like Product produced in the United States, Subject Merchandise produced in the Subject Country, and such merchandise from other countries.

BILLING CODE 4510-26-P

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Employment Standards Administration; Wage and Hour Division

Minimum Wages for Federal and Federally Assisted Construction; General Wage Determination Decisions

General wage determination decisions of the Secretary of Labor are issued in accordance with applicable law and are based on the information obtained by the Department of Labor from its study of local wage conditions and data made available from other sources. They specify the basic hourly wage rates and fringe benefits which are determined to be prevailing for the described classes of laborers and mechanics employed on construction projects of a similar character and in the localities specified therein.

The determinations in these decisions of prevailing rates and fringe benefits have been made in accordance with 29 CFR Part 1, by authority of the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1931, as amended (46 Stat. 1494, as amended, 40 U.S.C. 276a) and of other Federal statutes referred to in 29 CFR Part 1, Appendix, as well as such additional statutes as may from time to time be enacted containing provisions for the payment of wages determined to be prevailing by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act. The prevailing rates and fringe benefits determined in these decisions shall, in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing statutes, constitute the minimum wages payable on Federal and federally assisted construction projects to laborers and mechanics of the specified classes engaged on contract work of the character and in the localities described therein.

Good cause is hereby found for not utilizing notice and public comment procedure thereon prior to the issuance of these determinations as prescribed in 5 U.S.C. 553 and not providing for delay in the effective date as prescribed in that section, because the necessity to issue current construction industry wage determinations frequently and in large volume causes procedures to be impractical and contrary to the public interest.

General wage determination decisions, and modifications and supersedeas decisions thereto, contain no expiration dates and are effective from the date of notice in the Federal Register, or on the date written notice is received by the agency, whichever is earlier. These decisions are to be used in accordance with the provisions of 29 CFR Parts 1 and 5. Accordingly, the applicable decision, together with any modifications issued, must be made a part of every contract for performance of the described work within the geographic area indicated as required by an applicable Federal prevailing wage law and 29 CFR Part 5. The wage rates and fringe benefits, notice of which is published herein, and which are contained in the Government Printing Office (GPO) document entitled "General Wage Determinations Issued Under The Davis-Bacon And Related Acts," shall be the minimum paid by contractors and subcontractors to laborers and mechanics.

Any person, organization, or governmental agency having an interest in the rates determined as prevailing is encouraged to submit wage rate and fringe benefit information for consideration to be the Department. Further information and self-explanatory forms for the purpose of submitting this data may be obtained by writing to the U.S. Department of Labor, Employment Standards Administration, Wage and Hour Division, Division of Wage Determinations, 200 Constitution Avenue, NW., Room S-3014, Washington, DC 20210.

Carolina Power and Light Company, Duke Energy Corporation, Entergy Nuclear Operations, Inc., R. E. Ginna Nuclear Power Plant, LLC, Receipt of Request for Action Under 10 CFR 2.206

Notice is hereby given that by petition dated May 12, 2005, Mr. Paul Gunter, on behalf of Nuclear Information and Resource Service, Citizens Awareness Network (CAN), Indian Point Safe Energy Coalition, North Carolina Waste Awareness and Reduction Network (NCWARN), Alliance for Affordable Energy, and Blue Ridge Environmental Defense League (the Petitioners), has requested that the NRC engage emergency enforcement actions to modify and/or suspend operating licenses for Shearon Harris Nuclear Power Station Unit 1, Docket No. 50–400, License No. NPF–63; H. B. Robinson Unit 2, Docket No. 50–261, License No. DPR–23; McGuire Units 1 and 2, Docket No. 50–369, License No. NPF–9; Catawba Units 1 and 2, Docket Nos. 50–413 and 50–414, License Nos. NPF–35 and NPF–52; Ginna, Docket No.

50–244, License No. DPR–18; James A. FitzPatrick, Docket No. 50–333, License No. DPR–59; Indian Point Units 2 and 3, Docket Nos. 50–247 and 50–286, License Nos. DPR–26 and DPR–64; Vermont Yankee, Docket No. 50–271, License No. DPR–28; Waterford Unit 3, Docket No. 50–382, License No. NPF–38; and Arkansas Nuclear One Units 1 and 2, Docket No. 50–313 and 50–368, License No. DPR–51 and NPF–6, with regard to potential violations of NRC regulations for fire protection under Title 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations (10 CFR) part 50. Specifically, the petition requested emergency enforcement under 10 CFR 2.206 to include following actions by the Commission:

(1) Collect information through generic communication with nuclear industry and specifically with the named reactor sites to determine the extent of condition of the inoperable fire barriers; including the requirement that the licensees conduct a full inventory of the type Hemyc/MT to include the amount in linear and square footage, its specific applications, and the identification of safe shutdown systems which are currently unprotected by the noncompliance and an assessment of the safety significance of each application;

(2) The communication should require, at minimum that the above named sites provide justification for operation in non-compliance with all applicable fire protection regulations; and

(3) With the determination that any and/or all of the above mentioned sites are operating in unanalyzed condition and/or that assurance of public health and safety is degraded, promptly order a suspension of the license or a power reduction of the affected reactors until such time as it can be demonstrated that the licensees are operating in conformance with all other applicable fire protection regulations.

The request is being treated pursuant to 10 CFR 2.206, of the Commission's regulations. The request has been referred to the Director of the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation. As provided by 10 CFR 2.206, appropriate action will be taken on this petition within a reasonable time. Mr. Paul Gunter, as Director of the Reactor Watchdog Project for Nuclear Information and Resource Service, Debbie Katz of CAN, and Jim Warren of NCWARN, participated in a telephone conference call with the NRC's Petition Review Board (PRB) on June 1, 2005, to discuss the petition. The results of that discussion were considered in the PRB's determination regarding the petitioner's request for action and in establishing the schedule for the review of the petition. During the June 1, 2005, PRB conference call, the petitioners requested that the NRC consider other fire barrier issues beyond the Hemyc electric raceway fire barrier system. This request will not be accepted under the 2.206 process because the petitioner did not provide adequate information to justify expanding the scope of the review.

A copy of the petition and the transcript of the telephone conference call are available for inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room (PDR), located at One White Flint North, Public File Area O1 F21, 11555 Rockville Pike (first floor), Rockville, Maryland, and from the NRC's Agencywide Documents Access and Management System (ADAMS), Public Electronic Reading Room, on the Internet at the NRC Web site, <http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/adams.html> (ADAMS Accession Nos. ML051440209 and ML051640452). Persons who do not have access to ADAMS or who encounter problems in accessing the documents located in ADAMS, should contact the NRC PDR Reference staff by telephone at 1–800–397–4209 or 301–415–4737, or by e-mail to pdr@nrc.gov.

[Docket No. 70-3103]

Louisiana Energy Service's Proposed National Enrichment Facility; Notice of Availability of Final Environmental Impact Statement

AGENCY: Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

ACTION: Notice of availability of Final Environmental Impact Statement.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

James Park, Project Manager, Environmental and Performance Assessment Directorate, Division of Waste Management and Environmental Protection, Office of Nuclear Material Safety and Safeguards, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555. Telephone: (301) 415-5835; e-mail: jrp@nrc.gov.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) is issuing a Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) on the proposed construction, operation, and decommissioning of the National Enrichment Facility (NEF), a gaseous centrifuge uranium enrichment facility, near Eunice, New Mexico. The FEIS is being issued as part of the NRC's decision-making process on whether to authorize Louisiana Energy Services (LES) to construct, operate, and decommission the proposed NEF.

The proposed NEF would produce enriched uranium-235 (²³⁵U) up to 5 weight percent by the gas centrifuge process with a nominal production of 3 million separative work units per year. The enriched uranium would be used in commercial nuclear power plants. The FEIS discusses the purpose and need for the proposed NEF, and reasonable alternatives to the proposed action, including the no-action alternative. The FEIS also discusses the environment potentially affected by the proposed action, presents and compares potential environmental impacts resulting from the proposed action and its alternatives, and identifies the mitigation measures proposed by LES to eliminate or lessen the potential environmental impacts.

Based on the evaluation in the FEIS, the NRC environmental review staff has concluded that the proposed action will generally have small to moderate effects on the public and the existing environment. This FEIS reflects the final analysis of environmental impacts of LES's proposal and its alternatives, including the consideration of public comments received by the NRC.

ADDRESSES: The NRC maintains an Agencywide Documents Access and Management System (ADAMS), which provides text and image files of NRC's public documents. The FEIS and its appendices may be accessed through the NRC's Public Electronic Reading Room on the Internet at <http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/adams.html>, using the ADAMS accession numbers ML051730238 and ML051730292 for Volumes 1 and 2 of the FEIS, respectively. If you do not have access to ADAMS or if there are problems in accessing the documents located in ADAMS, contact the NRC Public Document Room (PDR) Reference staff at 1-800-397-4209, 301-415-4737 or by email to pdr@nrc.gov.

The FEIS is also available for inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, U.S. NRC's Headquarters Building, 11555 Rockville Pike (first floor), Rockville, Maryland. Upon written request and to the extent supplies are available, a single copy of the FEIS can be obtained for a fee by writing to the Office of the Chief Information Officer, Reproduction and Distribution Services Section, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555-0001; by electronic mail at DISTRIBUTION@nrc.gov; or by fax at (301) 415-2289.

A selected group of documents associated with the NEF may also be obtained from the Internet on NRC's NEF Web page: <http://www.nrc.gov/materials/fuel-cycle-fac/lesfacility.html> (case sensitive).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The NRC staff has prepared this FEIS in response to a December 2003 application submitted by LES for a license to construct, operate and decommission a gas centrifuge uranium enrichment facility in Lea County, New Mexico. The FEIS for the proposed NEF was prepared by the staff of the NRC and its contractors, Advanced Technologies and Laboratories, International, Inc. and Pacific Northwest National Laboratory, in compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and the NRC's regulations for implementing NEPA (10 CFR Part 51).

The NRC staff published a Notice of Intent to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) for the proposed NEF and to conduct a scoping process, in the Federal Register on February 4, 2004 (69 FR 5374). The NRC staff accepted scoping comments through March 18, 2004, and subsequently issued a Scoping Summary Report in April 2004 (ADAMS Accession Number: ML041050128). The NRC staff prepared and issued a Draft EIS in September 2004; notice of the availability of the Draft EIS appeared in the Federal Register on September 17, 2004 (69 FR 56104). Public comments on the Draft EIS were accepted by the NRC staff until January 7, 2005. The NRC staff's responses to these comments and copies of the submitted comments are provided in appendices to the FEIS.

The FEIS describes the proposed action and alternatives to the proposed action, including the no-action alternative, and describes the proposed mitigation measures. The NRC staff assesses the impacts of the proposed action and its alternatives on public and occupational health, air quality, water resources, waste management, geology and soils, noise, ecology resources, land use, transportation, historical and cultural resources, visual and scenic resources, socioeconomics, accidents and environmental justice.

Additionally, the FEIS analyzes and compares the costs and benefits of the proposed action.

After weighing the impacts, costs, and benefits of the proposed action and comparing alternatives, the NRC staff, in accordance with 10 CFR 51.91(d), sets forth its final NEPA recommendation regarding the proposed action. The NRC staff recommends that the proposed action be approved, unless safety issues mandate otherwise.

Dated at Rockville, Maryland, this 23rd day of June 2005.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34-51913; File No. SR-ISE-2004-28]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; International Securities Exchange, Inc.; Order Approving Proposed Rule Change and Amendments No. 1 and 2 Relating to Trading Options on Full and Reduced Values of the ISE 250 Index, the ISE 100 Index and the ISE 50 Index, Including Long-Term Options

June 23, 2005.

I. Introduction

On September 10, 2004, the International Securities Exchange, Inc. ("ISE" or "Exchange") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act")¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² a proposal to trade options on three broad-based indexes, the ISE 250 Index, the ISE 100 Index and the ISE 50 Index. The ISE submitted Amendments No. 1 and No. 2 to the proposal on January 5, 2005,³ and on March 7, 2005, respectively.⁴ The proposed rule change and Amendments No. 1 and No. 2 were published for comment in the Federal Register on April 6, 2005.⁵ The Commission received no comment letters regarding the proposal. This order approves the proposed rule change, as amended.

II. Description of the Proposal

The ISE proposes to list and trade cash-settled, European-style, index options on full and reduced values of the ISE 250 Index, the ISE 100 Index and the ISE 50 Index (collectively, the "ISE Indexes").⁶ Specifically, the Exchange proposes to list options based upon the full value of the ISE Indexes ("Full-size ISE Indexes") as well as one-tenth of the value of the ISE Indexes ("Mini ISE Indexes").

A brief description of the proposal appears below; the Notice provides a more detailed description of the proposal.

³ Amendment No. 1 set forth a list of the underlying components of the ISE Indexes.

⁵ See Securities Exchange Act Release No. 51447 (March 30, 2005), 70 FR 17484 ("Notice").

⁶ A description of each of the ISE Indexes will be available on the Exchange's publicly available Web site at <http://www.iseoptions.com>.

Index Design and Composition

The ISE Indexes are designed to track the performance of the most highly capitalized publicly traded companies in the United States. Each index is a float-adjusted capitalization-weighted index,⁷ whose components are all headquartered in the United States and listed on either the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. ("NYSE"), the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD"), Automated Quotation System ("NASDAQ"), or the American Stock Exchange LLC ("Amex"). All companies in the ISE Indexes will either be operating companies or Real Estate Investments Trusts. All other companies, such as Closed-end Funds, Exchange Traded Funds, Holding Companies, Investment Vehicles and Royalty Trusts are not eligible for inclusion.

Companies are selected for inclusion in the ISE Indexes by the Exchange based on the Exchange's methodology.⁸ Companies may not apply, and may not be nominated, for inclusion. Companies may be added or removed by the Exchange based on the methodology described below. In order for a company to be eligible for inclusion in the ISE Indexes, it must satisfy certain minimum criteria. One of the requirements for inclusion is that a company's ratio of cumulative shares traded to adjusted shares outstanding must be greater than 0.30 over the past 12 months. Another requirement that must be met by each company is the number of shares in its public float must constitute at least 50% of its total number of outstanding shares. To be eligible for inclusion in the ISE 100 Index, companies must meet one additional requirement: options on the component company's stock must be listed on the Exchange.

The ISE indexes are calculated and maintained by Standard & Poor's ("S&P") pursuant to the Exchange's rules-based methodology and instructions.

ISE 250 Index

The ISE 250 Index is designed to track the combined performance of the most highly capitalized stocks in the U.S. equity markets and specifically includes the top 250 stocks as ranked by market capitalization.

Components of the ISE 250 Index are selected using a rules-based methodology that is fully transparent. Its original selection pool includes all common stocks listed on the NYSE, Amex and NASDAQ. The entire index universe is ranked in descending order by unadjusted market capitalization. Companies that do not meet component eligibility requirements are removed. If a component has multiple share classes, the most liquid issue for that company is included. The top 250 companies, ranked by market capitalization, are then selected from the remaining universe.

Each component's eligibility and ranking is reviewed twice annually, in June and December of each calendar year. Any necessary component changes are made after the close on the third Friday of June and December, and become effective at the opening on the next trading day. Changes to the ISE 250 Index will be announced on ISE's publicly available Web site five trading days prior to the effective date.

In addition to the scheduled reviews, the ISE 250 Index is reviewed on an ongoing basis to accommodate extraordinary events and corporate actions, such as delistings, bankruptcies, mergers or acquisitions involving index components.

The ISE 100 Index tracks the 100 most actively traded listed options classes on the Exchange. Components of the ISE 100 Index are selected based on the average daily volume of each options class over a six-month period on the Exchange. Its original selection pool includes all equity options listed on the Exchange, ranked by average daily volume over the previous six month period. Companies that do not meet component eligibility requirements are removed. The top 100 companies, ranked by average daily volume, are then selected, and the index is weighted by float-adjusted market capitalization.

Similar to the ISE 250 Index, each component's eligibility and ranking in the ISE 100 Index is reviewed twice annually, in June and December of each calendar year. Any necessary component changes are made after the close on the third Friday of June and December, and become effective at the opening on the next trading day. Changes to the ISE 100 Index will be announced on ISE's publicly available Web site five trading days prior to the effective date.

In addition to the scheduled reviews, the ISE 100 Index is reviewed on an ongoing basis to accommodate extraordinary events and corporate actions, such as delistings, bankruptcies, mergers or acquisitions involving index components.

ISE 50 Index

The ISE 50 Index is a subset of the ISE 250 Index, such that the components of the ISE 50 Index consist of the top 50 components that make up the ISE 250 Index, as ranked by market capitalization. Thus, the criteria for inclusion into the ISE 50 Index, as well as the maintenance of the Index, are identical to those of the ISE 250 Index.

Index Calculation and Index Maintenance

The base index level of the ISE 250 Index, the ISE 100 Index and the ISE 50 Index, as of December 31, 1998, was 250, 100 and 200, respectively. On January 3, 2005, the index level of the ISE 250 Index, the ISE 100 Index and the ISE 50 Index was 227.48, 86.32, and 156.98, respectively. The Exchange proposes to base trading in options on both Full-size ISE Indexes and on fractions of Full-size ISE Indexes. In particular, the Exchange proposes to list options on Mini ISE Indexes that are based on one-tenth of the value of Full-size ISE Indexes.

The Full-size ISE Indexes' and the Mini ISE Indexes' level shall each be calculated continuously, using the last sale price for each component stock in the ISE Indexes, and shall be disseminated every 15 seconds throughout the trading day.⁹

The settlement values for purposes of settling both Full-size ISE Indexes ("Full-size Settlement Value") and Mini ISE Indexes ("Mini Settlement Value") shall be calculated on the basis of opening market prices on the business day prior to the expiration date of such options ("Settlement Day").¹⁰ The Settlement Day is normally the Friday preceding "Expiration Saturday."¹¹ In the event a component security in the ISE Indexes does not trade on Settlement Day, the closing price from the previous trading day will be used to calculate both Full-size Settlement

⁹ The ISE Index levels shall be calculated by S&P, on behalf of the Exchange, and disseminated to the Options Price Reporting Authority ("OPRA") by the Exchange. The Exchange shall also disseminate these values to its members. The ISE Indexes will be published daily on the Exchange's publicly available Web site and through major quotation vendors, such as Reuters.

¹⁰ The aggregate exercise value of the option contract is calculated by multiplying the Index value by the Index multiplier, which is 100.

¹¹ For any given expiration month, options on the ISE Indexes will expire on the third Saturday of the month.

⁷ The calculation of a float-adjusted, market-weighted index involves taking the summation of the product of the price of each stock in the index and the number of shares available to the public for trading, rather than the total shares outstanding for each issue. In contrast, a price-weighted index involves taking the summation of the prices of the stocks in the index.

⁸ Rules governing component selection of the ISE Indexes will be available on the Exchange's publicly available Web site at <http://www.iseoptions.com>.

Value and Mini Settlement Value. Accordingly, trading in the ISE Indexes will normally cease on the Thursday preceding an Expiration Saturday. S&P shall calculate, and the Exchange shall disseminate, both Full-size Settlement Value and Mini Settlement Value in the same manner as S&P shall calculate, and the Exchange shall disseminate, both Full-Size ISE Indexes' and Mini ISE Indexes' levels.

S&P will monitor and maintain the ISE Indexes pursuant to ISE's methodology and instructions. S&P is responsible for making all necessary adjustments to the ISE Indexes to reflect component deletions, share changes, stock splits, stock dividends (other than an ordinary cash dividend), and stock price adjustments due to restructuring, mergers, or spin-offs involving the underlying components. Some corporate actions, such as stock splits and stock dividends, require simple changes to the available shares outstanding and the stock prices of the underlying components. The number of common shares outstanding for each component stock will be reviewed every Friday. Share changes of less than 5% will be updated on a quarterly basis, becoming effective after the close on the third Friday of March, June, September and December of each calendar year. The index divisor is adjusted at that time to compensate for the share changes. Share changes greater than 5% will be adjusted after the close on the Wednesday of the following week. The index divisor change also becomes effective after the close on that day. Changes will be announced on the Exchange's publicly available Web site prior to the effective date. Unscheduled share changes due to corporate actions may be processed the same day they are announced, depending on the time the details are received by S&P. In such cases, the index divisor changes may become effective that same day and immediately announced on the Exchange's publicly available Web site.

The eligibility of each component of the ISE Indexes will be reviewed in June and December of each calendar year. Components that fail to meet the eligibility requirements are replaced with new component companies. Component changes may also occur between review periods if a specific corporate action makes an existing component ineligible. The Exchange maintains a Component Replacement Pool ("CRP") for the ISE Indexes at all times for contingency purposes. The CRP contains at least ten companies that meet the eligibility requirements for the ISE Indexes, ranked by market capitalization for the ISE 250 Index and the ISE 50 Index, and six-month average trading volume for the ISE 100 Index. Components removed from the ISE Indexes are replaced with those from the CRP. Component changes are made after the close on the third Friday of June and December of each calendar year, and become effective at the opening on the next trading day. All such changes will be announced on the Exchange's publicly available Web site at least five trading days prior to the effective date.

The Exchange represents that the ISE Indexes currently satisfy the maintenance criteria and further states that it will monitor and maintain the ISE Indexes on a quarterly basis, at which point the Exchange will notify the Commission's Division of Market Regulation ("Division"), and will cease trading options on the NYSE Indexes if and when: (i) The number of securities in the ISE Indexes drops by $\frac{1}{3}$ or more; (ii) 10% or more of the weight of the ISE Indexes is represented by component securities having a market value of less than \$75 million; (iii) less than 80% of the weight of the ISE Indexes is represented by component securities that are eligible for options trading pursuant to ISE Rule 502; (iv) 10% or more of the weight of the ISE Indexes is represented by component securities trading less than 20,000 shares per day; or (v) the largest component security accounts for more than 15% of the weight of the ISE Indexes or the largest five components in the aggregate account for more than 40% of the weight of the ISE Indexes.¹² In the event the Indexes fail at any time to satisfy the maintenance criteria, the ISE will not open for trading any additional series of options on the Indexes unless such failure is determined by the Exchange not to be significant and the Commission concurs in that determination, or unless the continued listing of options on each respective Index has been approved by the Commission under Section 19(b)(2) of the Exchange Act.¹³

Contract Specifications

The ISE Indexes are each broad-based indexes, as defined in ISE Rule 2001(j).¹⁴ Options on the ISE Indexes are European-style and A.M. cash-settled. The Exchange's standard trading hours for index options (9:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m., New York time), as set forth in ISE Rule 2008(a), will apply to the ISE Indexes. Exchange rules that are applicable to the trading of options on broad-based indexes will apply to both Full-size ISE Indexes and Mini ISE Indexes.¹⁵

Specifically, the trading of Full-size ISE Indexes and Mini ISE Indexes will be subject to, among others, Exchange rules governing margin requirements and trading halt procedures for index options.

For each of the Full-size ISE Indexes, the Exchange proposes to establish aggregate position and exercise limits at 50,000 contracts on the same side of the market, provided no more than 30,000 of such contracts are in the nearest expiration month series. For position and exercise limit purposes, Full-size ISE Indexes contracts shall be aggregated with Mini ISE Indexes contracts, where ten (10) Mini ISE Indexes contracts equal one (1) Full-size ISE Index contract.

The Exchange proposes to set strike price intervals at $21\frac{1}{2}$ points for certain near-the-money series in near-term expiration months when each of the ISE Indexes is at a level below 200, and 5 point strike price intervals for other options series with expirations up to one year, and 10 point strike price intervals for longer-term options. The minimum tick size for series trading below \$3 shall be 0.05, and for series trading at or above \$3 shall be 0.10.

The Exchange proposes to list options on the ISE Indexes in the three consecutive near-term expiration months plus up to three successive expiration months in the March cycle. For example, consecutive expirations of January, February, March, plus June, September, and December expirations would be listed.¹⁶ In addition, longer-term option series ("LEAPS") having up to thirty-six (36) months to expiration may be traded.¹⁷ The interval between expiration months on the ISE Indexes shall not be less than six months. The trading of any long-term ISE Indexes shall be subject to the same rules that govern the trading of all the Exchange's index options, including sales practice

Surveillance and Capacity

The ISE represents that it has an adequate surveillance program in place for options traded on the ISE Indexes, and intends to apply those same program procedures that it applies to the Exchange's other index options. Additionally, the Exchange is a member of the Intermarket Surveillance Group ("ISG") under the Intermarket Surveillance Group Agreement, dated June 20, 1994. The members of the ISG include all of the U.S. registered stock and options markets: the Amex, the Boston Stock Exchange, Inc., the Chicago Board Options Exchange, the Chicago Stock Exchange, Inc., the National Stock Exchange, Inc., the NASD, the NYSE, the Pacific Stock Exchange, Inc. and the Philadelphia Stock Exchange, Inc. The ISG members work together to coordinate surveillance and investigative information sharing in the stock and options markets. In addition, the major futures exchanges are affiliated members of the ISG, which allows for the sharing of surveillance information for potential intermarket trading abuses.

The Exchange represented that it has the system capacity to adequately handle all series that would be permitted to be added by this proposal, including LEAPS on the Full and Reduced Value ISE Indexes. The Exchange provided to the Commission information in a confidential submission that supports its system capacity representations that will result from the introduction of both Full-size ISE Indexes and Mini ISE Indexes.

III. Discussion

After careful review, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change, as amended, is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to a national securities exchange and, in particular, the requirements of Section 6(b)(5) of the Act.¹⁸ The Commission finds that the trading of options on full and reduced values of the ISE Indexes will permit investors to participate in the price movements of the securities that comprise the Indexes. The Commission also believes that the trading of options on the ISE Indexes will allow investors holding positions in some or all of the securities underlying the Index to hedge the risks associated with their portfolios. Accordingly, the Commission believes that options on the ISE Indexes will provide investors with an important trading and hedging mechanism. By broadening the hedging and investment opportunities of investors, the Commission believes that the trading of options on the ISE Indexes will serve to protect investors, promote the public interest, and contribute to the maintenance of fair and orderly markets.¹⁹

The trading of options on the ISE Indexes, however, raises several issues, including issues related to index design, customer protection, surveillance, and market impact. For the reasons discussed below, the Commission believes that the ISE has adequately addressed these issues.

A. Index Design and Structure

The Commission finds that it is appropriate and consistent with the Act to classify the ISE Indexes as broad-based for purposes of index options trading, and therefore appropriate to permit ISE rules applicable to the trading of broad-based index options to apply to the new ISE Index options. As noted above, the ISE 250 Index is comprised of the top 250 stocks in the U.S. capital markets as ranked by market capitalization; the ISE 100 is comprised of the equity securities underlying the most actively traded listed options classes on the ISE; and the ISE 50 is comprised of a subset of the ISE 250 Index, such that the components of the ISE 50 Index consist of the top 50 components that make up the ISE 250 Index, as ranked by market capitalization.

ISE 250 Index

The Commission believes that the ISE 250 Index is broad-based because it reflects a substantial segment of the U.S. equity markets. First, the Index represents various diverse segments of the U.S. securities markets. Second, the Index, which is designed to track the overall U.S. market, is composed of highly capitalized, actively traded securities. According to the ISE, as of June 11, 2004, 99.2% of the components were options eligible, as measured by weighting, and 97.2% of the components were options eligible, as measured by number. As of June 11, 2004, the total capitalization of all of the components in the Index was $8.63 trillion, and the mean capitalization of the Index's components was approximately $34.51 billion. Third, no single stock or group of stocks dominate the index with the largest Index component accounting for 3.8% of the weight of the Index, and the five highest weighted securities accounting for 15.9% of the weight of the Index, as of June 11, 2004. Based on the above, the Commission believes the ISE 250 Index is appropriately classified as a broad based index under ISE rules.

The Commission also believes that the general broad diversification, capitalizations, liquidity, and relative weighting of the component securities of the ISE 250 Index minimize the potential for manipulation of the Index. First, the Index is comprised of 250 components listed and actively traded on the NYSE, NASDAQ or Amex, and no single security dominates the Index. Second, as of June 11, 2004, the total Index capitalization was approximately $8.63 trillion, the median and mean capitalizations of the Index's components were approximately $16.85 billion and $34.51 billion, respectively, and the capitalizations of the Index's components ranged from a high of approximately $328.14 billion for the highest-weighted component (which represented 3.8% of the weight of the Index) to a low of approximately $5.47 billion for the lowest-weighted Index component (which represented 0.1% of the weight of the Index). As of June 11, 2004, the capitalizations of the Index's five most heavily weighted components, which represented 15.9% of the weight of the Index, ranged from approximately $241 billion to approximately $328 billion. Third, as of June 11, 2004, mean and median six-month average daily trading volume of the Index's components was 5.292 million shares and 2.81 million shares, respectively, and 100% of the Index's components had six-month average daily trading volume of at least 50,000 shares. Fourth, as of June 11, 2004, components representing 99.2% of the weight of the Index were options eligible. Fifth, the ISE has represented that it will monitor and maintain the Index on a quarterly basis at which point the Exchange will notify the Division, and will cease trading options on the Index if and when: (i) The number of securities in the Index drops by 1/3rd or more; (ii)

¹⁹ Pursuant to Section 6(b)(5) of the Act, the Commission must predicate approval of any new option or warrant proposal upon a finding that the introduction of such new derivative instrument is in the public interest. Such a finding would be difficult for a derivative instrument that served no hedging or other economic function, because any benefits that might be derived by market participants likely would be outweighed by the potential for manipulation, diminished public confidence in the integrity of the markets, and other valid regulatory concerns. In this regard, the Commission believes that options on the ISE Indexes will provide investors with a hedging and investment vehicle that should reflect the overall movement of a substantial segment of the capital markets.

10% or more of the weight of the Index is represented by component securities having a market value of less than $75 million; (iii) less than 80% of the weight of the Index is represented by component securities that are eligible for options trading pursuant to ISE Rule 502; (iv) 10% or more of the weight of the Index is represented by component securities trading less than 20,000 shares per day; or (v) the largest component security accounts for more than 15% of the weight of the Index or the largest five components in the aggregate account for more than 40% of the weight of the ISE Indexes.²⁰ In the event the Index fails at any time to satisfy the maintenance criteria, the ISE will not open for trading any additional series of options on the Index unless such failure is determined by the Exchange not to be significant and the Commission concurs in that determination, or unless the continued listing of options on the Index has been approved by the Commission under Section 19(b)(2) of the Exchange Act.²¹

The Commission believes that these factors minimize the potential for manipulation because it is unlikely that attempted manipulations of the prices of the Index's components would affect significantly the Index's value. Moreover, the surveillance procedures discussed below should detect as well as deter potential manipulations and other trading abuses.

Finally, the Commission believes that the position and exercise limits for options on the ISE 250 Index are designed to minimize the potential for manipulation and other market impact concerns. The position and exercise limits for the options on the ISE 250 Index is comparable to the position and exercise limits approved for other index options.²²

The Commission believes that the ISE 100 Index is broad-based because it reflects a substantial segment of the U.S. equity markets. First, the Index represents various diverse segments of the U.S. securities markets. Second, the Index, which is designed to track the overall U.S. market, is composed of highly capitalized, actively traded securities. According to the ISE, as of June 11, 2004, 100% of the components were options eligible, as measured by weighting, and 100% of the components were options eligible, as measured by number. Second, as of June 11, 2004, the total capitalization of the Index was approximately $5.36 trillion. Third, no single stock or group of stocks dominate the index with the largest Index component accounting for 6.1% of the weight of the Index, and the five highest weighted securities accounting for 25.6% of the weight of the Index, as of June 11, 2004. Based on the above, the Commission believes the ISE 100 Index is appropriately classified as a broad based index under ISE rules.

The Commission also believes that the general broad diversification, capitalizations, liquidity, and relative weighting of the component securities of the ISE 100 Index minimize the potential for manipulation of the Index. First, the Index is comprised of 100 components listed and actively traded on the NYSE, NASDAQ or Amex, and no single security dominates the Index. Second, as of June 11, 2004, the total Index capitalization was approximately $5.36 trillion, the median and mean capitalizations of the Index's components were approximately $26.09 billion and $53.65 billion, respectively, and the capitalizations of the Index's components ranged from a high of approximately $328.14 billion for the highest-weighted component (which represented 6.1% of the weight of the Index) to a low of approximately $104.44 billion for the lowest-weighted Index component (which represented 0.002% of the weight of the Index). As of June 11, 2004, the capitalizations of the Index's five most heavily weighted components, which represented 25.6% of the weight of the Index, ranged from approximately $241 billion to approximately $328 billion. Third, as of June 11, 2004, mean and median six-month average daily trading volume of the Index's components was 11.58 million shares and 6.84 million shares, respectively, and 100% of the Index's components had six-month average daily trading volume of at least 50,000 shares. Fourth, as of June 11, 2004, 100% of the components were options eligible, as measured by weighting, and 100% of the components were options eligible, as measured by number. Fifth, the ISE has represented that it will monitor the Index on a quarterly basis at which point the Exchange will notify the Division, and will cease trading options on the Index if and when: (1) The number of securities in the Index drops by 1/3rd or more; (2) 10% or more of the weight of the Index is represented by component securities having a market value of less than $75 million; (3) less than 80% of the weight of the Index is represented by component securities that are eligible for options trading pursuant to ISE Rule 502; (4) 10% or more of the weight of the Index is represented by component securities trading less than 20,000 shares per day; or (5) the largest component security accounts for more than 15% of the weight of the Index or the largest five components in the aggregate account for more than 40% of the weight of the Index.

The Commission believes that these factors minimize the potential for manipulation because it is unlikely that attempted manipulations of the prices of the Index's components would affect significantly the Index's value. Moreover, the surveillance procedures discussed below should detect as well as deter potential manipulations and other trading abuses.

Finally, the Commission believes that the position and exercise limits for options on the ISE 100 Index are designed to minimize the potential for manipulation and other market impact concerns. The position and exercise limits for the options on the ISE 100 Index is comparable to the position and exercise limits approved for other index options.²³

The Commission believes that the ISE 50 Index is broad-based because it, as a subset of the ISE 250 Index, likewise reflects a substantial segment of the U.S. equity markets. First, the Index represents various diverse segments of the U.S. securities markets. Second, the Index, which is designed to track the overall U.S. market, is composed of highly capitalized, actively traded securities. According to the ISE, as of June 11, 2004, 100% of the components were options eligible, as measured by weighting, and 100% of the components were options eligible, as measured by number. As of June 11, 2004, the total capitalization of the Index was approximately $5.18 trillion. Third, no single stock or group of stocks dominate the index with the largest Index component accounting for 6.3% of the weight of the Index, and the five highest weighted securities accounting for 26.5% of the weight of the Index, as of June 11, 2004. Based on the above, the Commission believes the ISE 50 Index is appropriately classified as a broad based index under ISE rules.

The Commission also believes that the general broad diversification, capitalizations, liquidity, and relative weighting of the component securities of the ISE 50 Index minimize the potential for manipulation of the Index. First, the Index is comprised of a subset of the ISE 250 Index, such that the components of the ISE 50 Index consist of the top 50 components that make up the ISE 250 Index, as ranked by market capitalization, and no single security dominates the Index. As noted above, the components are comprised of the 50 most highly capitalized stocks that are actively traded on the NYSE, NASDAQ or Amex. Second, as of June 11, 2004, the total Index capitalization was approximately $5.18 trillion, the median and mean capitalizations of the Index's components were approximately $73.7 billion and $103.5 billion, respectively, and the capitalizations of the Index's components ranged from a high of approximately $328.14 billion for the highest-weighted component (which represented 6.3% of the weight of the Index) to a low of approximately $24.86 billion for the lowest-weighted Index component (which represented 0.5% of the weight of the Index). As of June 11, 2004, the capitalizations of the Index's five most heavily weighted components, which represented 26.5% of the weight of the Index, ranged from approximately $271.9 billion to approximately $328.14 billion. Third, as of June 11, 2004, mean and median six-month average daily trading volume of the Index's components was 11.63 million shares and 6.64 million shares, respectively, and 100% of the Index's components had six-month average daily trading volume of at least 50,000 shares. Fourth, as of June 11, 2004, 100% of the components were options eligible, as measured by weighting, and 100% of the components were options eligible, as measured by number. Fifth, the ISE has represented that it will monitor the Index on a quarterly basis at which point the Exchange will notify the Division, and will cease trading options on the Index if and when: (1) The number of securities in the Index drops by 1/3rd or more; (2) 10% or more of the weight of the Index is represented by component securities having a market value of less than $75 million; (3) less than 80% of the weight of the Index is represented by component securities that are eligible for options trading pursuant to ISE Rule 502; (4) 10% or more of the weight of the Index is represented by component securities trading less than 20,000 shares per day; or (5) the largest component security accounts for more than 15% of the weight of the Index or the largest five components in the aggregate account for more than 40% of the weight of the Index.

The Commission believes that these factors minimize the potential for manipulation because it is unlikely that attempted manipulations of the prices of the Index's components would affect significantly the Index's value. Moreover, the surveillance procedures discussed below should detect as well as deter potential manipulations and other trading abuses.

Finally, the Commission believes that the position and exercise limits for options on the ISE 50 Index are designed to minimize the potential for manipulation and other market impact concerns. The position and exercise limits for options on the ISE 50 Index is comparable to the position and exercise limits approved for other index options.²⁴

B. Customer Protection

The Commission believes that a regulatory system designed to protect public customers must be in place before the trading of sophisticated financial instruments, such as options on the ISE Indexes, can commence on a national securities exchange. The Commission notes that the trading of standardized, exchange-traded options occurs in an environment that is designed to ensure, among other things, that: (1) The special risks of options are disclosed to public customers; (2) only investors capable of evaluating and bearing the risks of options trading are engaged in such trading; and (3) special compliance procedures are applicable to options accounts. Accordingly, because options on the ISE Indexes will be subject to the same regulatory regime as the other standardized options traded currently on the ISE, the Commission believes that adequate safeguards are in place to ensure the protection of investors in options on the ISE Indexes.

C. Surveillance

The Commission generally believes that a surveillance sharing agreement between an exchange proposing to list a stock index derivative product and the market(s) trading the stocks underlying the derivative product is an important measure for the surveillance of the derivative product and the underlying securities markets. Such agreements ensure the availability of information necessary to detect and deter potential manipulations and other trading abuses, thereby making the stock index product less readily susceptible to manipulation. In this regard, the ISE and the NYSE, the NASD, and the Amex are members of the ISG and the ISG Agreement will apply to the trading of Index Options.²⁵ In addition, the ISE will apply to the options on the ISE Indexes the same surveillance procedures it uses currently for existing index options trading on the ISE.

D. Market Impact

The Commission believes that the listing and trading of options on the ISE Indexes will not adversely impact the underlying securities markets.²⁶ First, as described above, the ISE Indexes are highly capitalized and their underlying components are actively traded. Second, the position and exercise limits applicable to the options on the ISE Indexes should serve to minimize potential manipulation and market impact concerns. Third, the risk to investors of contra-party non-performance will be minimized because the options on the ISE Indexes, like other standardized options traded in the U.S., will be issued and guaranteed by the Options Clearing Corporation. Fourth, existing ISE Index options rules and surveillance procedures will apply to the options on the ISE Indexes.

IV. Conclusion

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act,²⁷ that the proposed rule change (SR-ISE-2004-28), as amended, is approved.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.²⁸

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34-51925; File No. SR-NYSE-2005-32]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; New York Stock Exchange, Inc.; Notice of Filing of Proposed Rule Change and Amendment No. 1 Thereto Relating to NYSE OpenBook® Exhibit C

June 24, 2005.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act"),¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² notice is hereby given that on May 13, 2005, the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. ("NYSE" or "Exchange") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the NYSE. On June 16, 2005, the NYSE submitted Amendment No. 1 to the proposed rule change.³ The Commission is publishing this notice, as amended, to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The NYSE proposes to amend display requirements pursuant to which vendors may distribute to their customers NYSE OpenBook information. The Exchange has set forth the display requirements in an Exhibit C to the standard form of "Agreement for the Receipt and Use of Market Data" (the "OpenBook Exhibit C"). Below is the text of the proposed rule change, as amended. Proposed new language is italicized; proposed deletions are in [brackets].

* * * * *

EXHIBIT C Agreement for Receipt and Use of Market Data: Additional Provisions

21. NYSE [OPENBOOK™]OPENBOOK®

(a) [AUTHORIZATION—Exhibit A describes Customer's receipt of the NYSE OpenBook™ Service and]DEFINITIONS

(i) "NYSE OpenBook Information" means the limit order and other information [included in that service. (This Exhibit C refers to that information,)]that NYSE makes available pursuant to the NYSE OpenBook

Service and any modified version of that information and any information derived from that information.

(ii) "Other Data" means limit order and other information that other market centers make available.

(b) AUTHORIZATION—Exhibit A describes Customer's receipt of NYSE OpenBook Information. NYSE OpenBook Information shall constitute "NYSE Market Information" for all purposes of the Agreement and its exhibits. Customer may use NYSE OpenBook Information, and may provide displays of NYSE OpenBook Information to Subscribers, but may do so:

(i) only as and to the extent described, and in the manner specified, in Exhibit A; and

(ii) only for so long as the Agreement and this Exhibit C are in effect.

Customer's provision of displays of NYSE OpenBook Information to Subscribers shall constitute "Subscriber Services" under the Agreement. Each display of NYSE OpenBook Information that Customer provides to Subscribers shall indicate that NYSE is the source of the information included in the display.

[(b)c] DISPLAY SERVICES—As an additional Subscriber Service requirement under clause (iii) of Paragraph 5(b) of the Agreement, Customer shall not commence to provide displays of NYSE OpenBook Information to a Subscriber unless:

(i) Customer has first presented the Subscriber with such form of notice or agreement as NYSE may specify; and

(ii) If NYSE specifies that the Subscriber must acknowledge its receipt of that notice, or manifest its assent to that agreement, the Subscriber has first complied with that requirement in such manner as NYSE may direct.

[(c) INDIRECT ACCESS

PROHIBITED—Except as NYSE may specifically permit in writing and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Paragraph 5(c) of the Agreement, Customer shall not provide to any other Person any Indirect Access Service that includes OpenBook Information.]

[(d) CONSOLIDATED DISPLAYS PROHIBITED—Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Exhibit A or elsewhere, Customer shall not cause, or permit any other Person to cause, the displays of OpenBook Information that Customer provides to Subscribers to be integrated with limit orders or other market information that any source other than NYSE makes available. This means, for instance, that Customer shall not permit the displays of OpenBook Information that it provides to Subscribers to be consolidated with limit orders that any other market, or any electronic communications network or broker-dealer, makes available. However, this prohibition does not prevent Vendor from enabling a Subscriber to view one or more other entities' limit orders side-by-side with, or on the same page as, displays of OpenBook Information. In addition, this prohibition shall not apply insofar as Customer provides displays to its officers, partners and employees or to those of its Customer Affiliates.]

[(e) SHARING OF RESEARCH—Customer and NYSE shall meet periodically to discuss the results, progress and status of the OpenBook™ Service and to share any market research that Customer has generated, subject to Customer's obligation or reasonable need to maintain confidentiality in respect of certain information.]

(d) NYSE OPENBOOK DISPLAY RULES

(i) ATTRIBUTION—Customer shall associate the identifier "NYSE" with each element or line of NYSE OpenBook Information that it includes in an Integrated Display or Montage.

(ii) AGGREGATED DISPLAYS—Insofar as Customer incorporates NYSE OpenBook Information with Other Data in its displays (an "Integrated Display"), Customer shall cause the Integrated Display to indicate at each price level the number of shares attributable to each NYSE OpenBook bid or offer.

(iii) NYSE OPENBOOK-ONLY DISPLAYS—Customer may integrate NYSE OpenBook Information with other market information as the Agreement, as modified by this Exhibit C, may provide. However, Customer shall also make NYSE OpenBook Information available as a stand-alone product that is separate and apart from information products that include other market centers' information (a "Stand-Alone NYSE OpenBook Product"). Customer may include other NYSE market data in Stand-Alone NYSE OpenBook Products, subject to compliance with such contract and fee requirements as may apply to that other NYSE market data. Customer shall make its subscribers aware of the availability of the Stand-Alone NYSE OpenBook Product in the same manner and to the same extent as it makes its subscribers aware of the product that integrates NYSE OpenBook Information with other market information.

(iv) SCREEN SHOTS—No later than at the time that Customer commences to provide to others displays of NYSE OpenBook Information, or modifies those displays, Customer shall submit to NYSE for inclusion in Exhibit A sample screen shots that demonstrate each manner of display and each modification.

³ In Amendment No. 1, NYSE submitted an Exhibit 4 to indicate the proposed changes to the existing Exhibit C that governs the receipt of OpenBook data.

(e) INTERNAL DISPLAYS—The NYSE OpenBook display requirements set forth in Paragraph 21(d) shall not apply insofar as Customer provides displays to its officers, partners and employees or to those of its Customer Affiliates.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of, and basis for, the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change, as amended. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

NYSE OpenBook is a compilation of limit order data that the Exchange provides to market data vendors, broker-dealers, private network providers and other entities through a data feed. For every limit price, NYSE OpenBook includes the aggregate volume. NYSE has made NYSE OpenBook data available for more than three years. It updates that limit order data every five seconds.⁴ Last August, NYSE submitted a proposed rule change to the Commission to provide NYSE OpenBook data on the basis of real-time updates. (That filing is pending before the Commission.⁵)

In order for a vendor to receive NYSE OpenBook information from the Exchange for redistribution to its customers, the Exchange requires the vendor to enter into its standard form of "Agreement for Receipt and Use of Market Data." This form (the "Consolidated Vendor Form") is the same form that vendors must enter into in order to receive market data under the CTA Plan and the CQ Plan. The participants in the CTA and CQ Plans first submitted the Consolidated Vendor Form to the Commission for immediate effectiveness in 1990⁶ and the Commission approved a revised version of it in 1996 in conjunction with the participants' restatement of the CTA and CQ Plans.⁷

The Exchange designed the Consolidated Vendor Form as a generic, one-size-fits-all form of agreement that consists of a standard set of basic provisions that apply to all data recipients. Accordingly, the Consolidated Vendor Form accommodates a number of different types of market data, a number of different means of receiving access to market data and a number of different uses of market data. Because it was recognized that the Consolidated Vendor Form could not anticipate every aspect of a vendor's receipt and use of market data or future advances in technology or new product offerings, Paragraph 19(a) of the form provides that "Exhibit C, if any, contains additional provisions applicable to any non-standard aspects of Customer's Receipt and Use of Market Data." The Exhibit C terms and conditions pursuant to which NYSE currently makes NYSE OpenBook available prohibit a recipient of NYSE OpenBook data from externally distributing that data if the recipient has integrated that data with limit orders or other market information from any source other than the NYSE, although the recipient may make the integrated data available to its own officers, partners and employees or those of its affiliates.

In light of the Exchange's experience with both the NYSE OpenBook product and its Liquidity Quote[®] product, as well as comments of vendors and NYSE OpenBook users, the Exchange has determined to replace the prohibition against integrating NYSE OpenBook data with other data with four display requirements.

First, any Integrated Display must associate the identifier "NYSE" with each element or line of NYSE OpenBook data that is included in the Integrated Display.

Second, any display or montage that incorporates NYSE OpenBook data with limit orders or other market information from any source other than the NYSE makes available (an "Integrated Display") must indicate at each price level the number of shares attributable to the OpenBook bids and offers.

Third, if a vendor or internal data user makes Integrated Displays available, it must also make NYSE OpenBook Information available as a product that is separate and apart from information products that include other market centers' information and make its subscribers aware of the availability of the stand-alone NYSE OpenBook product in the same manner as it makes its subscribers aware of the integrated product.

Fourth, each vendor must add to Exhibit A a sample of each new screen shot to demonstrate the manner of the display and any modification to previous displays. The vendor is required to submit the new screen shot no later than at the time it first commences to provide the new or modified display to others.

The display requirements do not apply insofar as the data recipient distributes NYSE OpenBook data to its officers, partners and employees or to those of its affiliates.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes that the proposed rule change, as amended, is consistent with Section 6(b) of the Act⁸ in general, and furthers the objectives of Section 6(b)(5)⁹ in particular, in that it is designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to foster cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in processing information with respect to, and facilitating transactions in, securities, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change, as amended, will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

No written comments were either solicited or received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

Within 35 days of the date of publication of this notice in the Federal Register or within such longer period (i) as the Commission may designate up to 90 days of such date if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding, or (ii) as to which the Exchange consents, the Commission will:

(A) By order approve such proposed rule change; or

(B) Institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be disapproved.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change, as amended, is consistent with the Act.

The Commission notes that, unlike NYSE's Liquidity Quote, which is a unique market data product that represents aggregated NYSE trading interest at multiple price levels to a specific price interval outside the NYSE best bid or offer ("BBO"), NYSE OpenBook consists simply of depth-of-book limit order information. In the order approving the Exhibit C associated with NYSE's Liquidity Quote, the Commission specifically stated that the terms therein did not "apply and have not been considered or approved* * * as acceptable for the distribution of NYSE OpenBook data." In this proposed rule change, the NYSE proposes to eliminate the restrictions it places on vendors' ability to integrate OpenBook data with data from other markets. In place of these restrictions, however, NYSE has proposed terms substantially identical to those applicable to the distribution of Liquidity Quote data. Specifically, NYSE proposes to require vendors to identify each element or line of OpenBook data that is included in a display that is integrated with other markets' data, indicate the number of shares attributable to the NYSE OpenBook data in any integrated display and provide NYSE OpenBook as a separate data product.

The Commission recognizes that OpenBook contains important market data that provides investors with a view of available liquidity in the NYSE limit order book. This data is likely to become even more pertinent if the NYSE Hybrid Market Proposal is approved and implemented. For example, in the Hybrid Market Proposal, NYSE has proposed to substantially expand its automatic execution functionality and permit investors to sweep the NYSE limit order book, subject to certain parameters. Accordingly, the ability of investors to view and consider the depth of liquidity on the book is likely to assume heightened importance in making trading decisions in this environment.

Section 11A of the Act generally sets forth standards under which a self-regulatory organization ("SRO") may distribute information with respect to quotations, including limit orders.¹⁰ In addition, Section 6(b)(8) of the Act¹¹ requires that the rules of an exchange not impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. Accordingly, the Commission specifically requests commenters to provide their views on the following:

1. The Commission requests comment on whether the proposal is consistent with the Section 11A(c)(1)(C) of the Act,¹² which requires, among other things, that all securities information processors be able to obtain information with respect to quotations and transactions for the purposes of distribution and publication on fair and reasonable terms. Specifically, are the proposed contract terms that require vendors to identify NYSE OpenBook data on displays that also include other markets' data and provide a separate OpenBook product fair and reasonable?

2. Section 11A(c)(1)(B) of the Act¹³ requires, among other things, that a SRO distribute information with respect to quotations in such a manner as to assure the prompt, accurate, reliable, and fair collection, processing, distribution, and publication of information with respect to quotations for and transactions in such securities, and the fairness and usefulness of the form and content of such information. The Commission requests comment on whether the form and content of the OpenBook data are useful and fair in light of the proposed restrictions on the form of display (i.e., the requirement that vendors identify NYSE OpenBook data in integrated displays and provide a separate OpenBook product).

3. Section 11A(c)(1)(D) of the Act¹⁴ requires, among other things, that exchange members, brokers, dealers and securities information processors be able to obtain information with respect to quotations for and transactions in securities on terms that are not unreasonably discriminatory. The Commission requests comment on whether the NYSE's proposal is consistent with this provision. Specifically, are the proposed Exhibit C contract terms unfairly discriminatory because they only apply to vendors that disseminate the OpenBook data and do not apply to broker-dealers' internal use of the data.

4. Finally, the Commission requests comment on the proposed rule change's potential impact on competition. Specifically, the Commission requests comment on whether the proposal imposes any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34-51923; File No. SR-NYSE-2005-13]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; New York Stock Exchange, Inc.; Notice of Filing of Proposed Rule Change Relating to Proposed Uniform Branch Office Form ("Form BR")

June 24, 2005.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act")¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² notice is hereby given that on April 13, 2005, the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. ("NYSE" or "Exchange") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the Exchange. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes to adopt proposed new Uniform Branch Office Form ("Form BR"). The text of the proposed Form BR is available on the NYSE's Web site (<http://www.nyse.com/>), at the Exchange's Office of the Secretary, and at the Commission's Public Reference Room.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The purpose of this filing is to establish a new Form BR that would enable Exchange members and member organizations ("NYSE Membership") to electronically submit branch office application information to the Exchange, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD"), and states through the Central Registration Depository ("CRD" or "CRD system").³ The NYSE Membership would be able to use the proposed Form BR to submit information that is currently furnished through the NYSE Branch Office Application form, Schedule E of the Uniform Application for Broker-Dealer Registration ("Form BD"), and certain state branch office forms.

Background

A working group ("Working Group"), composed of Exchange and NASD staff, representatives of the North American Securities Administrators Association ("NASAA"), and states, developed the proposed new Form BR to register and seek approval of branch offices. Form BR is one component of a broader project to provide uniform branch office definitions and registration procedures.⁴

³ CRD is a computerized database that contains information about most brokers, some investment advisers, their representatives, and the firms for whom they work. Examples of information in CRD include brokers' licenses, regulatory violations, educational backgrounds, employment histories, and records of serious investor complaints.

⁴ Although adoption of the proposed Form BR would not be dependent on the adoption of a uniform definition of branch office, both the Exchange and NASD have submitted rule filings to the Commission proposing to adopt definitions of branch office that would be substantially similar in

The Exchange believes that the integration of branch registration into CRD through Form BR would create efficiencies for the NYSE Membership by, among other things, making it easier for them to register branch offices with the Exchange, NASD, and states, and to manage their ongoing registration responsibilities regarding those branch offices (e.g., changes and withdrawals). The NYSE Membership would also benefit from centralized on-line work queues, electronic notifications, and the ability to designate and identify the branch office where a particular registered representative works. Additional CRD enhancements would provide what amounts to a relational "link" between the Form BR and the Uniform Application for Securities Industry Registration or Transfer ("Form U4").⁵

The proposed Form BR would be a "uniform" form, similar to the Form U4 and the Uniform Termination Notice for Securities Industry Registration ("Form U5"). As with Forms U4 and U5, by electronically filing a single Form BR through CRD, the NYSE Membership would be able to update branch application information and seek approval for branch offices from the Exchange, NASD, and states that require branch registration.⁶ Form BR would reconcile inconsistencies among existing branch office forms, eliminate duplicative questions, and elicit information to facilitate the branch office registration/approval process. Form BR is intended to combine the current Exchange Branch Office Application form, the existing state branch office forms, and Schedule E of Form BD.⁷

Previously, branch application information was submitted through the Exchange's Electronic Filing Platform

all material respects. See SR-NYSE-2002-34 and SR-NASD-2003-104 and amendments thereto.

⁵ For example, while firms would continue to report changes to an individual registered person's branch office assignment by filing an amended Form U4, firms would also be able to report a new office of employment address for multiple registered persons assigned to a particular branch office that has moved to a new location by filing an amended Form BR (rather than filing multiple Form U4 amendments for the registered persons affected). The Exchange and NASD expect to make the appropriate technical changes to Form U4 to support this functionality and to facilitate the overall implementation of the branch office registration project.

⁷ States that currently require branch office registration or reporting have indicated that they would use the proposed Form BR for those purposes.

¹⁵ 17 CFR 200.30-3(a)(12).

² 17 CFR 240.19b-4.

("EFP").⁸ Once the proposed new Form BR becomes effective, branch office applications and amendments would no longer be accepted or processed through EFP. Form BR information submitted through CRD would be automatically transmitted to the NYSE branch office system, from which the Exchange would review branch applications per its current protocol. The NYSE branch office system would then transmit approval/rejection determinations directly back to CRD, where the NYSE Membership could view them.

Features of Proposed Form BR

The following are significant features of proposed Form BR:

Filing Types: Form BR would permit firms to make: (1) An "initial" filing (to apply for approval of or to report a branch office); (2) an "amendment" filing (to amend information previously filed); and (3) a "closing/withdrawal" filing (to terminate a branch office registration and/or withdraw an initial filing prior to approval by a state or self-regulatory organization ("SRO")).

NYSE Component: Form BR would include a section that solicits information exclusively from the NYSE Membership, including certain branch office and office space-sharing information.

Explanation of Terms: Form BR would adopt, to the extent possible, the "Explained Terms" used on the existing uniform forms. It would also include definitions of additional terms used in the context of branch office registration and reporting, including "closing," "person-in-charge," "regular branch," "small branch," "supervisor," and "withdrawal."⁹

Type of Entity: Consistent with the uniform form concept, Form BR would provide entities with the opportunity to designate whether the branch office filing is being made on behalf of a broker-dealer ("BD") or an investment adviser ("IA"). This feature would enable firms to register or report IA branches in states that require such registration and reporting.

Other Business ("DBA") Names/Types of Activities/Web Sites: This section of Form BR would elicit the financial industry activities conducted at the branch office, names under which the branch office is conducting business, and Web site addresses used by the branch office.

Office Sharing Arrangements: Form BR would allow for the submission of all information elicited on both the Exchange's current Branch Office Application and Office Space-Sharing forms.¹⁰ As noted above, some of this information would be exclusive to the NYSE Membership. The protocol for submission of information regarding office-sharing arrangements pursuant to NYSE Rule 343 would not change.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes that, insofar as Form BR and the CRD system are used by the Exchange and other various SROs, their use is consistent with Section 6(b)(5)¹¹ of the Act in that it is designed to foster cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in regulating transactions in securities. Additionally, the Exchange believes that the information reported on the Forms would assist the Exchange in its responsibilities under Section 6(c)(3)(B)¹² of the Act in denying membership to those subject to a statutory disqualification or who cannot meet such standards of training, experience, and competence as are prescribed by the rules of the Exchange, or those who have engaged in acts or practices inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants or Others

The Exchange's Information Memo No. 04-43, issued on August 9, 2004, solicited comments on a preliminary version of Form BR. The only comments the Exchange received were contained in a September 7, 2004 letter from the Association of Registration Management ("ARM"). A copy of the Information Memo and the ARM letter are available at the NYSE and the Commission. The NASD issued a similar notice to its members¹³ that elicited comments from other parties, as well as a similar letter from the ARM. The Exchange, NASD, ARM, and other parties discussed all of the comments, and a consensus was reached to make the changes below to the preliminary Form BR.

Pre-Populating the Proposed Form BR

In response to five commenters who suggested that Form BR be pre-populated wherever possible, a number of questions in Section 1 (General Information) would be pre-populated from information already reported in Web CRD. Furthermore, applicants would be required to complete Section 5 (Associated Individual) only for initial branch office filings. To associate a registered individual with a branch office after the initial branch office filing, applicants would only need to update the "office of employment" address on that individual's Form U4, and the Form BR would automatically be populated with that information.

During the transition period (in which information would be moved from the EFP to Form BR on the CRD system), the following Form BR data elements would be pre-populated based on existing NYSE, NASD, and jurisdiction branch office data: Branch Address, NYSE Branch Code Number, NASD Branch Number, NYSE/NASD Supervisor/Person-In-Charge Name and CRD Number, Operational Status, and NYSE/Jurisdiction Registration Status. To facilitate the transition process, firms would have the option of providing a data feed of the name and CRD number of the individuals associated with each branch. Once branches have been established in the CRD system, it would be possible to electronically transfer entire branches between firms, or relocate an entire branch within the same firm, via the Form BR.

Section 1—General Information

As noted above, seven fields would be pre-populated.

Section 2—Registration/Notice Filing/Type of Office

Six commenters offered remarks about Section 2. One commenter recommended that the Form ask for information only about one supervisor. The Working Group decided not to limit the question to one supervisor, since there could be more than one supervisor in a branch office. However, in response to a comment that it was duplicative to ask whether a supervisor was currently associated with the firm, the Working Group eliminated that question. The Working Group left intact the requirement to check a box requiring the applicant to attest that it is not required to register the branch with the NYSE. In ⁸ The EFP is an extranet built by the NYSE to support authenticated, encrypted, two-way communications between the NYSE and its membership. It is currently being used for applications such as branch office approvals and short interest reporting.

⁹ Some of these terms are used on the current NYSE Branch Office Application form.

¹⁰ This information would be consistent with information currently elicited on Schedule E of the Form BD.

¹³ See NASD Notice to Members 04-55 (August 2004).

response to a comment that the information in Section 2 was already being reported on the Form U4, the Working Group eliminated the "Disclosure," statutory disqualification ("SD") status, and "Independent Contractor" fields. Applicants would only need to supply the name and/or CRD number of the supervisor/person-in-charge. The other information would be populated based on information already in the CRD system.

Section 3—Types of Activities/Other Business Names/Websites

Section 3, among other things, would include a question about the outside activities of associated persons. Six commenters had concerns about the scope of information being elicited and the difficulty of updating the information when persons join or leave a firm. After considering the comments, the Working Group determined that there is a regulatory need for information regarding the "investment-related" activities of associated persons conducted at the branch. Therefore, the Working Group eliminated the checklist of financial industry activities, business, or services conducted by any associated person of the applicant at the branch and replaced it with a question limited to a description of any outside "investment-related" activities, a term that is defined in the Form U4.

The Working Group also considered a commenter's suggestion that disclosure should be limited to information about firms. The commenter had concerns about the costs of gathering information about associated persons' activities, and the potential for firm responsibility for associated persons' outside business activities. The Working Group, nonetheless, concluded that the questions being asked in Section 3, as revised, have significant regulatory value, and should be retained.¹⁴

Section 4—Branch Office Arrangements

Section 4 elicits information about branch office arrangements and payment of expenses. There were eight comments about this section, which generally asked for clarification of the questions. Initially, a question in Section 4 (taken essentially verbatim from the Schedule E) asked whether the branch had a written agreement with the main office and whether five percent or more of its registered representatives were deemed to be "independent contractors." The Working Group eliminated this question in its entirety because: (1) Another question in Section 4 would ask whether the business location operates under a written agreement; and (2) as previously discussed, information about independent contractors would be elicited on the Form U4. The Working Group added a question that permits applicants to explain any expense payment or financial interest arrangement in their own words.

Section 5—Associated Individuals

In the preliminary Form BR, Section 5 requested the CRD number, disclosure information, and SD status of each associated person at a branch, and whether the person is an independent contractor. In response to seven comments that such requests were duplicative and unnecessary, the Working Group eliminated the "Disclosure," "SD," and "Independent Contractor" fields from this section. As modified, firms would be required to enter only each individual's CRD number or, in the alternative, each individual's name. The other information would be populated, as appropriate, based on information already in the CRD system.¹⁵

Section 6—NYSE Branch Information

In response to ARM's comment that the NYSE primarily seeks "a sense of the size of the branch office's business," and that exact figures would be difficult to estimate, the NYSE changed the question "What is the estimated cost of opening and equipping the new office?" to "Is the estimated cost of opening and equipping this branch office greater than 10% of the applicant's most recent excess net capital?" and "If yes, enter the cost of opening and equipping the office."

ARM also commented that the issues sought to be addressed by four questions for branches conducting research and investment banking would be more effectively addressed by one question, "Does the applicant have information barriers in place?" The NYSE agreed, and replaced the four questions with the suggested one.

ARM believed that the question "Is the officer or partner responsible for the inspection of this office at least annually a registered representative?" served no regulatory purpose. The NYSE agreed, and removed it.

Furthermore, agreeing with ARM's observation that "Name and address where branch office certificates will be sent" might not require a response if it were worded "Name and address where branch office certificates will be sent, if different from this branch office address," the NYSE added the suggested, conditional wording.

Section 7—Branch Closing

This section elicits information about the date operations would cease at the branch office, the location of the branch's books and records, and the name and telephone number of a contact person. One commenter stated the view that Section 7 made branch closing or withdrawal more complicated. Another commenter suggested pre-populating Section 7. A third commenter noted that the information being asked was already available on the Form U5. The NYSE eliminated the question "Is this office closing to be listed in the NYSE Bulletin?" However, the Working Group did not change any other questions due to the regulatory value of the requested information.

Section 8—Branch Withdrawal

Despite one comment questioning the need for this information, the Working Group decided to keep this section's request for date and reason for withdrawal, and name and telephone number of contact person, because the Working Group felt the information would be of value to regulators.

Section 9—Signature

As initially proposed, Section 9 required the signatory to certify "under penalty of perjury" that he or she had signed the form on behalf of, and with the authority of, the applicant. The attestation also required the signatory and the applicant to represent that the applicant would promptly file any required amendments to the Form BR. One commenter contended that the signer should not be required to attest on behalf of himself and the firm as to the truth of information supplied by associated individuals or as to future amendments. Another commenter noted that neither the current NYSE Branch Office Application nor Schedule E amendments require a signature, and suggested that Form BR limit the attestation to "the best of the member's knowledge the application is accurate and complete in all material respects." The Working Group carefully considered these comments and removed "under penalty of perjury," as well as the statement regarding future amendments on behalf of the signatory and firm, from the attestation. However, the Working Group concluded that the integrity of the data being reported requires an attestation that the statements are "current, true and complete."

Other Comments

Four commenters favored the proposed Form BR only if all states were to accept the Form in place of state registration requirements. The Exchange notes that, as of this date, Connecticut, Florida, Vermont, and Nevada have indicated that they plan to retire their respective branch registration forms and adopt the Form BR. Several of the states that require a "notice" filing also have agreed to use the proposed Form BR in place of their forms. The Exchange notes that NASAA, which, as part of the Working Group, was involved in the creation of the Form BR, has indicated that it expects to formally endorse the Form BR.

The Exchange has also considered comments concerning the costs to firms of filing the proposed Form BR for each of their branches. Two commenters indicated that their firms have more than 1,000 branch offices. The Working Group carefully weighed the regulatory value of branch office registration against the additional costs that would be incurred by members that heretofore were not required to register certain offices (e.g., home offices), and determined that the regulatory value of registering each office that could in the future qualify as a branch office outweighed the increased financial costs to certain members. In reaching this decision, the Working Group considered the fact that large multi-service firms with branch offices throughout the United States have long been required to register a significant number of branch offices.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34-51926; File No. SR-Phlx-2004-65]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Philadelphia Stock Exchange, Inc.; Order Approving Proposed Rule Change and Amendment Nos. 1, 2, and 3 Relating to Back-up Trading Arrangements

June 27, 2005.

I. Introduction

On October 18, 2004, the Philadelphia Stock Exchange, Inc. ("Phlx" or "Exchange") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act"),¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² a proposed rule change to establish rules covering emergency procedures for Phlx members and back-up trading arrangements in the event that the Exchange's main facility is unavailable. On April 29, 2005, the Exchange submitted Amendment No. 1 to the proposal.³ On May 12, 2005, the Exchange submitted Amendment No. 2 to the proposal.⁴ On May 16, 2005, the Exchange submitted Amendment No. 3 to the proposal.⁵ The proposed rule change, as amended, was published for notice and comment in the Federal Register on May 25, 2005.⁶ The Commission received no comment letters regarding the proposed rule

change. This order approves the proposed rule change, as amended.

II. Description of Proposal

The Phlx proposes to adopt a rule that will permit Phlx to enter into arrangements with one or more other exchanges that would provide trading facilities for Phlx listed options at another exchange in the event that the functions of Phlx are severely and adversely affected by an emergency or extraordinary circumstances (a "Disabling Event"), and similarly provide trading facilities at Phlx for another exchange to trade its listed options if that exchange's facility experiences a Disabling Event. Phlx also proposes changes to its fee schedule relative to the fees that shall apply to transactions in the options of a Disabled Exchange executed on a Back-up Exchange.

A. Rule 99—Back-up Trading Arrangements

a. Background

As set forth in the Notice, the Exchange proposes to adopt new Rule 99, Backup Trading Arrangements, which would govern the arrangements with one or more other exchanges (each a "Back-up Exchange") to permit Phlx and its members to use a portion of a Back-up Exchange's facilities to conduct the trading of Phlx exclusively listed options⁷ in the event of a Disabling Event, and similarly will permit Phlx to provide trading facilities at Phlx for another exchange's exclusively listed options if that exchange (a "Disabled Exchange") is prevented from trading due to a Disabling Event.

Proposed Rule 99 would also permit Phlx to enter into arrangements with a Back-up Exchange to provide for the listing and trading of Phlx singly listed options⁸ by the Back-up Exchange if Phlx's facility becomes disabled, and conversely provide for the listing and trading by Phlx of the singly listed options of a Disabled Exchange.⁹

⁷ For purposes of proposed Phlx Rule 99, the term "exclusively listed option" means an option that is listed exclusively by an exchange (because the exchange has an exclusive license to use, or has proprietary rights in, the interest underlying the option). See Phlx Rule 99(a)(i)(A).

⁸ For purposes of proposed Phlx Rule 99, the term "singly listed option" means an option that is not an "exclusively listed option" but that is listed by an exchange and not by any other national securities exchange. See Phlx Rule 99(a)(ii)(A).

⁹ In its proposal, Phlx stated that the back-up trading arrangements contemplated by proposed Rule 99 represent the Exchange's immediate plan to ensure that Phlx's exclusively listed and singly listed options will have a trading venue if a catastrophe renders its primary facility inaccessible or inoperable. The Exchange noted that, in September 2003, it had entered into separate

b. If Phlx Is the Disabled Exchange

Section (a) of proposed Rule 99 describes the back-up trading arrangements that would apply if Phlx were the Disabled Exchange. Under proposed paragraph (a)(i)(B), the facility of the Back-up Exchange used by Phlx to trade some or all of Phlx's exclusively listed options will be deemed to be a facility of Phlx, and such option classes shall trade as listings of Phlx.

Since the trading of Phlx exclusively listed options will be conducted using the systems of the Back-up Exchange, proposed paragraph (a)(i)(C) provides that the trading of Phlx exclusively listed options on Phlx's facility at the Back-up Exchange would be conducted in accordance with the rules of the Back-up Exchange, except that such trading would be subject to Phlx rules with respect to doing business with the public, margin requirements, net capital requirements, listing requirements and position limits.¹⁰ In addition, Phlx and the Back-up Exchange may agree that other Phlx rules will apply to such trading.¹¹ The Back-up Exchange rules that govern trading on Phlx's facility at the Back-up Exchange shall be deemed to be Phlx rules for purposes of such trading.

Proposed paragraph (a)(i)(D) reflects that the Back-up Exchange has agreed to perform the related regulatory functions with respect to trading of Phlx exclusively listed options on Phlx's facility at the Back-up Exchange, in each case except as Phlx and the Back-up

Memoranda of Understanding with the American Stock Exchange LLC ("Amex") and CBOE to memorialize their mutual understanding to work together to develop bi-lateral back-up trading arrangements in the event that trading is prevented at one of the exchanges due to a Disabling Event. Since then, the Exchange has been working with these exchanges to put in place written agreements outlining essential commercial terms with respect to the arrangements as well as operational plans that describe the operational and logistical aspects of the arrangements. At present, Phlx and CBOE have signed an agreement relative to back-up trading arrangements and completed a joint operational plan. See supra note 4.

¹⁰ As specified in Phlx Rule 99(a)(i)(C), the Exchange will notify its members which rules apply in advance of trading.

¹¹ As stated above, Phlx's back-up trading arrangements with CBOE contemplate that the operation of the Disabled Exchange's facility at the Back-up Exchange will be conducted in accordance with the rules of the Back-up Exchange except that (i) the rules of the Disabled Exchange will apply with respect to doing business with the public, margin requirements, net capital requirements and listing requirements, and (ii) the members of the Disabled Exchange that are trading on the facility of the Disabled Exchange at the Back-up Exchange (not including members of the Back-up Exchange who become temporary members of the Disabled Exchange) will be subject to the rules of the Disabled Exchange governing or applying to the maintenance of a person's or a firm's status as a member of the Disabled Exchange.

Exchange may specifically agree otherwise. The Back-up Exchange and Phlx will coordinate with each other regarding surveillance and enforcement respecting such trading. Phlx shall retain the ultimate legal responsibility for the performance of its self-regulatory obligations with respect to Phlx's facility at the Back-up Exchange.

Under proposed paragraph (a)(i)(E), if the Back-up Exchange is unable to accommodate all Phlx members that desire to trade on Phlx's facility at the Back-up Exchange, Phlx would have the right to determine which members shall be eligible to trade at that facility by considering factors such as whether the member is the specialist in the applicable product(s), the number of contracts traded by the member in the applicable product(s), market performance, and other factors relating to a member's contribution to the market in the applicable product(s).

Under proposed paragraph (a)(i)(F), members of the Back-up Exchange will not be authorized to trade in any Phlx exclusively listed options, except that (i) Phlx may deputize willing floor brokers of the Back-up Exchange as temporary Phlx members to permit them to execute orders as brokers in Phlx exclusively listed options traded on Phlx's facility at the Back-up Exchange,¹² and (ii) the Back-up Exchange has agreed that it will, at the instruction of Phlx, select members of the Back-up Exchange that are willing to be deputized by Phlx as temporary Phlx members authorized to trade Phlx exclusively listed options on Phlx's facility at the Back-up Exchange for such period of time following a Disabling Event as Phlx determines to be appropriate, and Phlx may deputize such members of the Back-up Exchange as temporary Phlx members for that purpose. The second of the foregoing exceptions would permit members of the Back-up Exchange to trade Phlx exclusively listed options on the Phlx facility on the Back-up Exchange if, for example, circumstances surrounding a Disabling Event result in Phlx members being delayed in arriving at the Back-up Exchange in time for prompt resumption of trading.

Section (a)(ii) of the proposed rule provides for the continued trading of Phlx singly listed options at a Back-up ¹² The exchanges that acted as Back-up Exchanges in previous emergency situations also deputized floor brokers in this manner. See Securities Exchange Act Release No. 27365 (October 19, 1989), 54 FR 43511 (October 25, 1989) (approving trading of options listed on the Pacific Stock Exchange at other exchanges in wake of earthquake); Securities Exchange Act Release No. 40088 (June 12, 1998), 63 FR 33426 (June 18, 1998) (approving trading of Dell options listed on Phlx at Amex on a temporary basis).

Exchange in the event of a Disabling Event at Phlx. Proposed paragraph (a)(ii)(B) provides that Phlx may enter into arrangements with a Back-up Exchange under which the Back-up Exchange will agree, in the event of a Disabling Event, to list for trading options that are then singly listed only by Phlx. Such options would trade on the Back-up Exchange as listings of the Back-up Exchange and in accordance with the rules of the Back-up Exchange. Under proposed paragraph (a)(ii)(C), any such option listed by the Back-up Exchange that does not satisfy the standard listing and maintenance criteria of the Back-up Exchange will be subject, upon listing by the Back-up Exchange, to delisting (and, thus, restrictions on opening new series, and engaging in opening transactions in those series with open interest, as may be provided in the rules of the Back-up Exchange).

Phlx singly listed options would be traded by members of the Back-up Exchange and by Phlx members selected by Phlx to the extent the Back-up Exchange can accommodate Phlx members in the capacity of temporary members of the Back-up Exchange. If the Back-up Exchange is unable to accommodate all Phlx members that desire to trade Phlx singly listed options at the Back-up Exchange, Phlx may determine which members would be eligible to trade such options at the Back-up Exchange by considering the same factors used to determine which Phlx members are eligible to trade Phlx exclusively listed options at the Phlx facility at the Back-up Exchange.

c. If Phlx Is the Back-up Exchange

Section (b) of proposed Rule 99 describes the back-up trading arrangements that would apply if Phlx were the Back-up Exchange. In general, the provisions in Section (b) are the converse of the provisions in Section (a). With respect to the exclusively listed options of the Disabled Exchange, the facility of Phlx used by the Disabled Exchange to trade some or all of the Disabled Exchange's exclusively listed options would be deemed to be a facility of the Disabled Exchange, and such options would trade as listings of the Disabled Exchange. Trading of the Disabled Exchange's exclusively listed options on the Disabled Exchange's facility at Phlx would be conducted in accordance with Phlx rules, except that (i) such trading would be subject to the Disabled Exchange's rules with respect to doing business with the public, margin requirements, net capital requirements, listing requirements, and position limits, and (ii) members of the Disabled Exchange that are trading on the Disabled Exchange's facility at Phlx (not including Phlx members who become temporary members of the Disabled Exchange pursuant to paragraph (b)(i)(D)) would be subject to the rules of the Disabled Exchange governing or applying to the maintenance of a person's or a firm's status as a member of the Disabled Exchange. In addition, the Disabled Exchange and Phlx may agree that other Disabled Exchange rules will apply to such trading.

Phlx will perform the related regulatory functions with respect to such trading, in each case except as the Disabled Exchange and Phlx may specifically agree otherwise. Proposed paragraph (b)(i)(C) reflects that the Disabled Exchange has agreed to retain the ultimate legal responsibility for the performance of its self-regulatory obligations with respect to the Disabled Exchange's facility at Phlx.

Section (b)(ii) describes the arrangements applicable to trading of the Disabled Exchange's singly listed options at Phlx, and is the converse of Section (a)(ii). One difference is the last sentence in paragraph (b)(ii)(A), which provides that Phlx may allocate singly listed option classes of the Disabled Exchange to a Phlx Specialist in advance of a Disabling Event, without utilizing the allocation process under Phlx Rule 506, to enable Phlx to quickly list such option classes upon the occurrence of a Disabling Event.

d. Member Obligations

Phlx Rule 99(c) describes the obligations of members and member organizations with respect to the trading by temporary members of a Disabled Exchange pursuant to a back-up trading agreement.

Section (c)(i) sets forth the obligations applicable to Phlx members who act in the capacity of temporary members of the Disabled Exchange on the facility of the Disabled Exchange at the Back-up Exchange. Section (c)(i) provides that a Phlx member acting as a temporary member of the Disabled Exchange shall be subject to, and obligated to comply with, the rules that govern the operation of the facility of the Disabled Exchange at Phlx. This would include the rules of the Disabled Exchange to the extent applicable during the period of such trading, including the rules of the Disabled Exchange limiting its liability for the use of its facilities that apply to members of the Disabled Exchange. Additionally, (1) such Phlx member acting as a temporary member of the Disabled Exchange shall be deemed to have satisfied, and the Disabled Exchange has agreed to waive specific compliance with, rules governing or applying to the maintenance of a person's or a firm's status as a member of the Disabled Exchange, including all dues, fees and charges imposed generally upon members of the Disabled Exchange based on their status as such; (2) such Phlx member acting as a temporary member of the Disabled Exchange shall have none of the rights of a member of the Disabled Exchange except the right to conduct business on the facility of the Disabled Exchange at the Back-up Exchange to the extent described in the Rule; (3) the member organization associated with such Phlx member acting as a temporary member of the Disabled Exchange, if any, shall be responsible for all obligations arising out of that Phlx member's activities on or relating to the Disabled Exchange, and (4) the clearing member of such Phlx member shall guarantee and clear the transactions of such temporary member on the Disabled Exchange.

Section (c)(ii) sets forth the obligations applicable to Phlx members who act in the capacity of temporary members of the Back-up Exchange for the purpose of trading singly and multiply listed options of the Disabled Exchange. Such Phlx members shall be subject to, and obligated to comply with, the rules of the Back-up Exchange that are applicable to the Back-up Exchange's own members, including the rules of the Back-up Exchange limiting its liability for the use of its facilities that apply to members of the Back-up Exchange. Phlx members who act in the capacity of temporary members of the Back-up Exchange have the same obligations as those set forth in Section (c)(i) that apply to temporary members of the Disabled Exchange, except that, in addition, Phlx members who act in the capacity of temporary members of the Back-up Exchange shall only be permitted (1) to act in those capacities on the Back-up Exchange that are authorized by the Back-up Exchange and that are comparable to capacities in which the temporary member has been authorized to act on the Disabled Exchange, and (2) to trade in those options in which the temporary member is authorized to trade on the Disabled Exchange.

e. Member Proceedings

As noted above, proposed Phlx Rule 99 provides that the rules of the Back-up Exchange shall apply to the trading of the singly and multiply listed options of the Disabled Exchange traded on the Back-up Exchange's facilities, and (with certain limited exceptions) the trading of exclusively listed options of the Disabled Exchange traded on the facility of the Disabled Exchange at the Back-up Exchange. The proposed rule contemplates that the Back-up Exchange will perform the related regulatory functions with respect to such trading (except as the Back-up Exchange and the Disabled Exchange may specifically agree otherwise).

Section (d) of proposed Rule 99 provides that if a Backup Exchange initiates an enforcement proceeding with respect to the trading during a backup period of singly or multiply listed options of the Disabled Exchange by a temporary member of the Backup Exchange or exclusively listed options of the Disabled Exchange by a member of the Disabled Exchange (other than a member of the Backup Exchange who is a temporary member of the Disabled Exchange), and such proceeding is in process upon the conclusion of the backup period, the Backup Exchange may transfer responsibility for such proceeding to the Disabled Exchange following the conclusion of the backup period. This approach to the exercise of enforcement jurisdiction is also consistent with past precedent.¹³

With respect to arbitration jurisdiction, proposed Section (d) provides that arbitration of any disputes with respect to any trading during a backup period of singly or multiply listed options of the Disabled Exchange or of exclusively listed options of the Disabled Exchange on the Disabled Exchange's facility at the Backup Exchange will be conducted in accordance with the rules of the Backup Exchange, unless the parties to an arbitration agree that it shall be conducted in accordance with the rules of the Disabled Exchange.

The purpose of these provisions is to permit a Backup Exchange to confer its temporary enforcement jurisdiction over a member or member organization of the Disabled Exchange back to the Disabled Exchange once the Disabled Exchange resumes normal operations.

f. Member Preparations

To ensure that members are prepared to implement Phlx's back-up trading arrangements, proposed Section (e) of Proposed Rule 99 requires Phlx members to take appropriate actions as instructed by Phlx to accommodate Phlx's back-up trading arrangements with other exchanges and Phlx's own back-up trading arrangements.

B. Fee Schedule

The Exchange proposes to add a footnote to its Fee Schedule to inform its members regarding what fees will apply to transactions in the listed options of a Disabled Exchange effected on a Backup Exchange under Rule 99. The footnote provides that if Phlx is the Disabled Exchange, the Backup Exchange has agreed to apply the per contract and per contract side fees in the Phlx fee schedule to transactions in Phlx exclusively listed options traded on the Phlx facility on the Backup Exchange.¹⁴ If any other Phlx listed options are traded on the Backup Exchange (such as Phlx singly listed options) pursuant to Phlx Rule 99, the fee schedule of the Backup Exchange shall apply to such trades. The footnote contains a second paragraph stating the converse if Phlx is the Backup Exchange under Rule 99.

III. Commission's Findings and Order Granting Accelerated Approval of Proposed Rule Change

After careful consideration, the Commission finds that Phlx's proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations thereunder, applicable to a national securities exchange.¹⁵ In particular, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 6(b)(5) of the Act,¹⁶ in that it is designed to perfect the mechanisms of a free and open market and to protect investors and the public interest.

In light of the heightened security risks to the financial markets since the September 11, 2001 attacks on the World Trade Centers in New York City, the Commission has worked with the national securities exchanges to develop contingency plans and emergency procedures, suggesting measures to minimize the potential disruption and market impact that a future Disabling Event could cause. The present rule change proposal is a direct response to that effort.

The Commission believes that Phlx's proposed rule changes are reasonably designed to address the key elements necessary to mitigate the effects of a Disabling Event affecting the Exchange. Specifically, the back-up trading arrangements contemplated by proposed Phlx Rule 99 are intended to ensure that Phlx's exclusively listed and singly listed options will have a trading venue in the event that trading at Phlx is prevented due to a Disabling Event, thus minimizing potential disruptions for the markets and investors under those circumstances.¹⁷ The proposed rule also provides authority for Phlx to provide a back-up trading venue should another exchange be affected by a Disabling Event.

The Commission likewise finds that the proposed change to the Exchange's Fee Schedule is consistent with the Act. By affirming that Phlx and, by mutual agreement, the Back-up Exchange will apply the per contract and per contract side fees normally applicable to exclusively listed options under the Disabled Exchange's fee schedule, the Commission believes that the proposed rule change appears to be reasonably designed to minimize the disruption associated with back-up trading of such options. The proposal also clarifies that, with regard to singly listed options, the fees charged shall be those set forth in the Back-up Exchange fee schedule where trading occurs at a Back-up Exchange, or, where trading occurs at Phlx, the Phlx fee schedule.

IV. Conclusion

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act,¹⁸ that the proposed rule change (SR-Phlx-2004-65), as amended by Amendment Nos. 1, 2 and 3, is hereby approved.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.¹⁹

1. Medicare Subsidy Quality Review Case Analysis Forms—20 CFR Part 418(b)(5)—0960—NEW. Under the aegis of the Medicare Modernization Act of 2003, SSA will make Medicare Part D subsidy determinations and will work with the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to administer the subsidy. The subsidy determination is based on applicants' answers to questions about categories such as household size, income, and assets. This information is self-reported by applicants using form OMB No. 0960-0696 (SSA-1020), and thus, SSA needs a way to determine if this form is being completed accurately and completely and a way to validate its determination decisions. To this end, SSA will use the new Medicare Quality Review system to check the accuracy of the self-reported information on form OMB No. 0960-0696. In this system, SSA will conduct phone interviews with selected applicants and will confirm information such as household size, income, and assets.

A questionnaire and several other forms will be used as part of the Medicare Quality Review System. The collection instruments, their descriptions, and burden information are listed in the table below.

TENNESSEE VALLEY AUTHORITY

Environmental Impact Statement for Rutherford-Williamson-Davidson Power Supply Improvement Project AGENCY: Tennessee Valley Authority.

ACTION: Notice of intent.

SUMMARY: The Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) will prepare an environmental impact statement (EIS) addressing the proposed construction and operation of a new or expanded 500-kilovolt (kV) substation and associated transmission line upgrades in middle Tennessee. The substation would be located in Rutherford, Williamson, or Davidson County. Other project components would be located in these counties and in other counties in middle Tennessee. In the EIS, TVA will evaluate the potential environmental impacts of the construction, operation, and maintenance of the new and upgraded facilities. TVA will use the EIS process to obtain public involvement on this proposal. Public comment is invited concerning both the scope of the EIS and environmental issues that should be addressed as a part of this EIS.

DATES: Comments on the scope and environmental issues for the EIS must be postmarked or e-mailed no later than August 8, 2005, to ensure consideration.

ADDRESSES: Written comments should be sent to Charles P. Nicholson, Environmental Policy and Planning, Tennessee Valley Authority, Mail Stop WT 9B, 400 West Summit Hill Drive, Knoxville, Tennessee 37902-1401. Comments may be e-mailed to cpnichol@tva.gov.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Hugh S. Barger, Environmental Engineer, Transmission/Power Supply, Tennessee Valley Authority, Mail Stop MR 4G-C, 1101 Market Street, Chattanooga, Tennessee 37402-2801. Telephone (423) 751-3131. E-mail may be sent to hsbarger@tva.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The population in Murfreesboro, Franklin, and surrounding areas of Middle Tennessee has grown at a rate of 4.3 percent per year since 1990. TVA supplies bulk electricity to this area through its Davidson, Pinhook, and Wilson 500-kV Substations. As a result of the rapid population growth, the electrical load for this area has also grown rapidly and is expected to exceed the capacity of the 500-kV substations serving the area by 2010. Several 161-kV transmission lines serving the area from these substations are also expected to become overloaded by 2010.

TVA has studied these problems and tentatively concluded that the best method of remedying them is to either construct a new 500-kV substation or expand an existing 500-kV substation. The solution would also require the construction and operation of new 500-kV and 161-kV transmission lines and/or upgrades to existing transmission lines.

Project Description

TVA has three potential alternative solutions. The first would involve the construction of a new 500-kV substation in southwest Rutherford County near Eagleville. The substation would require an area of at least 50 to 75 acres. Major substation components would include four 500/161-kV transformers, two 500-kV breakers, and nine 161-kV breakers. TVA would also add four 500-kV breakers to its Maury 500-kV substation in north-central Maury County.

As part of this solution, TVA would also construct and operate a new 500-kV transmission line from its Maury 500-kV Substation to the new 500-kV substation. This line would likely be about 2725 to 30 miles long and would be built on right-of-way purchased by TVA in the 1970s for construction of the Hartsville-Maury 500-kV transmission line. This line was never completed and the portion of the right-of-way proposed for the new 500-kV line has remained in TVA ownership and was never cleared. Three 161-kV transmission lines are also proposed. One of these, from the new 500-kV substation to the Almaden Substation, would be about 7 miles long and built on vacant right-of-way owned by TVA. A double-circuit line about 12 miles long would be built on new right-of-way between the new substation and the Christiana substation. Another line about 2.5 miles long would connect the Murfreesboro-Triune-E. Franklin 161-kV transmission line to the new substation. The proposed transmission lines are located in Rutherford, Maury, and Williamson Counties.

The second potential solution involves the construction and operation of a new 500-kV substation in northeast Williamson County near Brentwood. The substation would be similar to that described for the first solution. As part of the second solution, TVA would also upgrade about 75 miles of existing 161-kV transmission lines. These transmission lines are located in Davidson, Rutherford, Williamson, Sumner, Wilson, Coffee, Franklin, and Bedford Counties. The upgrade work could range from replacing the conductors to completely rebuilding the lines.

The third potential solution involves the expansion of TVA's existing Pinhook 500-kV Substation in southwest Davidson County. The substation would be expanded by adding a second bank of 500/161-kV transformers. This solution would also require the upgrading of about 115 miles of existing 161-kV transmission lines. These transmission lines are located in Davidson, Rutherford, Maury, Williamson, Coffee, Franklin, and Bedford Counties.

The new 500-kV transmission line would likely be built using self-supporting, laced steel towers on right-of-way 175 feet in width. The new 161-kV lines would likely be built using self-supporting single-pole or H-frame steel towers on right-of-way 100 feet wide. The structure types, right-of-way characteristics, and line lengths remain to be determined and could change when additional information is gathered.

Line construction would require removal of trees within the line right-of-way as well as any other nearby tall trees which would endanger the safe operation of the line. Construction of the 500-kV support structures would require the excavation of foundations for each of the tower legs. Support structures for the 161-kV lines would normally not require separate foundations and the poles would be embedded in drilled holes. Cranes and other heavy equipment would be needed to construct the towers and pull the electrical conductor into place. After construction, the disturbed areas would be restored, and the right-of-way would be maintained periodically to control the growth of tall vegetation that could endanger the line. A detailed description these activities, as well as applicable and appropriate environmental protection measures, will be provided in the EIS.

After the completion of scoping, TVA will begin detailed studies for siting the substation and routing the transmission lines using maps, aerial photography and other relevant data. When the studies have progressed sufficiently, potentially affected landowners will be contacted directly, and additional field surveys will be conducted.

Proposed Issues To Be Addressed

The EIS will contain descriptions of the existing environmental and socioeconomic resources within the area that would be affected by construction and operation of the proposed transmission line and upgrades. TVA's evaluation of potential environmental impacts to these resources will include, but not necessarily be limited to, the potential impacts on water quality, aquatic and terrestrial ecology, endangered and threatened species, wetlands, aesthetics and visual resources, land use, historic and archaeological resources, and socioeconomic resources. The need and purpose of the project will be discussed.

Alternatives

The results of evaluating the potential environmental impacts and other important issues identified in the scoping process, as well as engineering and economic considerations, will be used by TVA in selecting identifying a preferred alternative. At this time, the range of alternatives TVA has identified for detailed evaluation includes no action and the three alternative solutions described above. The ability of energy conversation to meet projected demands will be addressed. As analyses proceed, one or more alternatives may be eliminated due to technical infeasibility, unacceptable environmental impacts, or unreasonably high economic costs. TVA also expects to evaluate multiple sites for the new substation.

Scoping Process

Scoping, which is integral to the process for implementing the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), is a procedure that solicits public input to the EIS process to ensure that: (1) Issues are identified early and properly studied; (2) issues of little significance do not consume substantial time and effort; (3) the draft EIS is thorough and balanced; and (4) delays caused by an inadequate EIS are avoided. TVA's NEPA procedures require that the scoping process commence soon after a decision has been reached to prepare an EIS in order to provide an early and open process for determining the scope and for identifying the significant issues related to a proposed action. The range of alternatives and the issues to be addressed in the draft EIS will be determined, in part, from written comments submitted by mail or e-mail, and comments presented orally or in writing at any public meetings. The preliminary identification of reasonable alternatives and environmental issues in this notice is not meant to be exhaustive or final.

The scoping process will include both interagency and public scoping. The public is invited to submit written comments or e-mail comments on the scope of this EIS no later than the date given under the DATES section of this notice.

TVA will conduct a public scoping meeting on July 11, 2005. This informal meeting will begin at 4 p.m. and end at 8 p.m. (CST). The meeting will be held at the Eagleville High School, 500 Highway 99, Eagleville, Tennessee, Tennessee.

At the meeting, TVA management and project staff will present overviews of the proposed transmission line project and the EIS process, answer questions, and solicit comments on the issues that the public would like addressed in the EIS. These meetings will be publicized through notices in local newspapers, by TVA press releases, on the TVA Web site at <http://www.tva.gov/environment/calendar.htm> and in letters to local elected officials preceding the public meetings.

The agencies to be included in the interagency scoping are U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation, the Tennessee State Historic Preservation Officer, and other Federal, State, and local agencies, as appropriate. After consideration of the scoping comments, TVA will further identify alternatives and environmental issues to be addressed in the EIS. Following analysis of the environmental consequences of each alternative, TVA will prepare a draft EIS for public review and comment. Notice of availability of the draft EIS will be published by the Environmental Protection Agency in the Federal Register. TVA will solicit written comments on the draft EIS, and information about possible public meetings to comment on the draft EIS will be announced. TVA expects to release a draft EIS in the fall of 2006 and a final EIS in early 2007.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Victor Powell, Aerospace Engineer, Federal Administration, Aircraft Certification Service, Aircraft Engineering Division, Certification Procedures Branch, AIR-110, Room 815, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20591, telephone (202) 267-9564, fax (202) 237-5340, or E-mail: 9-awa-air110-vp12@faa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Comments Invited

You are invited to comment on the proposed policy by sending written data, views, or arguments to the above address. Comments received on the proposed policy may be examined, before and after the comment closing date, in Room 815, FAA Headquarters Building, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20591, weekdays except Federal holidays, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. The Director, Aircraft Certification Service, will consider all communications received on or before the closing date before issuing the final policy.

Background

The FAA's Aircraft Certification Service (AIR) are proposing to revise current guidance used by the Aircraft Certification Offices (ACOs) to evaluate applications for provisional TCs for inclusion into the next revision of FAA Order 8110.4, "Type Certification." As such, to ensure the adequacy of the guidance and compliance with the provisional type certification requirements (14 CFR part 21.81), this proposed guidance would help to ensure a standardized process for the evaluation and issuance of a provisional TC for aircraft and aircraft engines. The standardized guidance will help by ensuring (1) all ACOs have the same expectations for safety, and (2) the applicants are treated equally and consistently no matter where their applications are submitted for our evaluation.

How to Get Copies

You can get a copy of the proposed guidance from the Internet at <http://www.faa.gov/Certification/Aircraft/DraftDoc/Comments.htm>, by selecting Draft Policy memos. You may also request a copy from Victor Powell, AIR-110 (see the section FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT).

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Federal Highway Administration

Environmental Impact Statement: Dallas County, TX

AGENCY: Federal Highway (FHWA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of intent.

SUMMARY: The FHWA is issuing this notice to advise the public that an environmental impact statement will be prepared for a proposed transportation project in Dallas County, Texas.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Salvador Deocampo, District Engineer (North), Federal Highway Administration, 300 E. 8th Street, Room 826, Austin, Texas 78701, Telephone 512-536-5950.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The FHWA, in cooperation with the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT), will prepare an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) for State Highway (SH) 190 (The East Branch) from Interstate Highway (IH) 30 to IH 20 within southeast Dallas County. The corridor is approximately 11 miles in length. From a regional and local perspective, there is an increasing demand for additional transportation capacity and access through the corridor. In the last 30 years, southeast Dallas County has experienced growth in population and employment and this trend is expected to continue.

Previous feasibility studies and Mobility 2025 Metropolitan Transportation Plan—Amended April 2005, the Metropolitan Transportation Plan (MTP) for the Dallas-Fort Worth region, has examined a full range of alternatives and alignments within the corridor. SH 190 is included in the current MTP as a new location six-lane roadway. The environmental study will examine viable alternatives and potential transportation modes including the No-Build and the potential for toll-application to the build alternative alignments. All alternative alignments begin at or near the proposed IH 30/President George Bush Turnpike interchange and proceed south toward and ultimately terminate at IH 20. These proposed alternatives would be contained within a corridor generally bounded to the east by the Dallas/Kaufman County Line and the west by Bobtown Road in Garland, Collins Road and Clay Road in Sunnyvale, and Clay-Mathis Road and Lawson Road in Mesquite. The project has included public involvement to address the long-term mobility needs of both the region and local community. The environmental study will include the determination of the number of lands, roadway configuration, and operational characteristics. It will also include a discussion of the effect of the social, economic, and natural environments and of other known and reasonably foreseeable agency actions proposed within the SH 190/East Branch Corridor. If a build alternative is selected, and if it is determined to be a viable project, TxDOT shall construct and operate the facility. Issues relative to the project include noise, archaeological sites, historic properties, socio-economic effects, changes to travel patterns, air quality, water quality, floodplains, and wetlands.

Letters describing the proposed action and soliciting comments will be sent to appropriate Federal, State, regional, and local agencies, and to organizations and persons who have previously expressed or are known to have interest in this proposed. In addition to public meetings, a future public hearing will be held. Public notice will be given of the time and place of the meetings and the hearing. The Draft EIS will be available for public and agency review and comments before the hearing.

A public scoping meeting in an Open House format with no formal presentation will be conducted on Tuesday, July 26, 2005, between the hours of 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. at the Mesquite Convention Center and Rodeo Center located at 1700 Rodeo Drive, Mesquite, Texas 75149. This will be the first in a series of meetings to solicit public comments on the proposed action as part of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) process. Persons interested in attending this meeting who have special communication or accommodation needs are encouraged to contact the local TxDOT Public Information Office at (214) 320-6100 at least two days prior to the meeting. Because the public meeting will be conducted in English, any request for language interpreters or other special communication needs should also be made at least two days prior to the public meeting. Every reasonable effort will be made to accommodate these needs.

To ensure that the full range of issues related to this proposed action are addressed and all significant issues identified, comments and suggestions are invited from all interested parties. Comments or questions concerning this proposed action and the EIS should be directed to the FHWA at the address provided above. Additional project information may be obtained by visiting the project's Web site at <http://www.theeastbranch.org>.

Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration

[Docket No. FMCSA-2005-21104]

Hours of Service of Drivers; American Pyrotechnics Association Application for an Exemption From the 14-Hour Rule During Independence Day Celebrations

AGENCY: Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA), DOT.

ACTION: Grant of application for exemption.

SUMMARY: The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) grants the American Pyrotechnics Association's (APA) application for an exemption from the prohibition against driving a commercial motor vehicle (CMV) after the 14th hour of coming on-duty. The exemption is applicable for a period beginning 7 days prior to, and 2 days immediately following Independence Day. Fireworks personnel who operate CMVs for the companies listed in this notice, in conjunction with staging fireworks shows celebrating Independence Day, are allowed to exclude off-duty and sleeper berth time of any length in the calculation of the 14-hours. However, drivers are not allowed to drive after accumulating a total of 14-hours of on-duty time, following 10 consecutive hours off duty, and continue to be subject to the 11-hour driving time limits, and the 60- and 70-hour weekly limits. After reviewing the comments received in response to the May 6, 2005, notice requesting public comment on the APA application, FMCSA has determined the exemption would achieve a level of safety equivalent to what would be provided by compliance with the 14-hour rule as it applies to other drivers of property-carrying vehicles.

DATES: The exemption is effective June 28, 2005, and is applicable from June 28 (12:01 a.m.) through July 6, 2005 (11:59 p.m.), and from June 28 (12:01 a.m.) through July 6, 2006 (11:59 p.m.). The exemption expires on July 7, 2006.

ADDRESSES: Docket: For access to the docket to read background documents or comments received, go to <http://dms.dot.gov> and/or Room PL-401 on the plaza level of the Nassif Building, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, DC, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays.

Privacy Act: Anyone may search the electronic form of all comments received into any of DOT's dockets by the name of the individual submitting the comment (or of the person signing the comment, if submitted on behalf of an association, business, labor union, or other entity). You may review DOT's complete Privacy Act Statement in the Federal Register (65 FR 19477, Apr. 11, 2000). This statement is also available at <http://dms.dot.gov>.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Section 4007 of the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century (Pub. L. 105-178, 112 Stat. 107, June 9, 1998) amended 49 U.S.C. 31315 and 31136(e) to provide FMCSA with authority to grant exemptions from its safety regulations. On December 8, 1998, the Federal Highway Administration's Office of Motor Carriers, the predecessor to FMCSA, published an interim final rule implementing section 4007 (63 FR 67600). On August 20, 2004, FMCSA published a Final Rule (69 FR 51589) on this subject. Under 49 CFR part 381, FMCSA must publish a notice of each exemption request in the Federal Register. The agency must provide the public with an opportunity to inspect the information relevant to the application, including any safety analyses that have been conducted. The agency must also provide an opportunity for public comment on the request.

The agency must then examine the safety analyses and the public comments, and determine whether the exemption would achieve a level of safety equivalent to, or greater than, the level that would be achieved by complying with the current regulation (49 CFR 381.305). The Agency's decision must be published in the Federal Register (49 CFR 381.315(b)). If the agency denies the request, it must state the reason for doing so. If the decision is to grant the exemption, the notice must specify the person or class of persons receiving the exemption, and the regulatory provision or provisions from which an exemption is being granted. The notice must also specify the effective period of the exemption (up to two years), and explain the terms and conditions of the exemption. The exemption may be renewed (49 CFR 381.300(b)).

APA's Application for an Exemption

APA requested an exemption from FMCSA's prohibition against drivers of property-carrying CMVs operating such vehicles after the 14th hour of coming on duty [49 CFR 395.3(a)(2)]. APA requested that fireworks personnel covered by the exemption be allowed to exclude off-duty and sleeper berth time of any length in the calculation of the 14-hour rule. Drivers would not be allowed to drive after the accumulation of 14 hours of on-duty time, following 10 consecutive hours off duty. The exemption would be applicable to approximately 3,000 drivers responsible for operating about 3,000 commercial motor vehicles. A copy of the application for an exemption, which includes a list of all the motor carriers that would be covered by it, is included in the docket referenced at the beginning of this notice.

APA, a trade association representing the domestic fireworks industry, argues that full compliance with the current hours-of-service regulations during the brief period surrounding Independence Day would impose a substantial economic hardship on its members that operate fireworks for the public. This period is the busiest time of the year for these companies. APA members are hired to conduct multiple fireworks shows in celebration of Independence Day, during a compressed timeframe.

The drivers are trained pyrotechnicians, each holding a commercial driver's license (CDL) with a hazardous materials endorsement. These drivers transport fireworks and equipment to remote locations to meet demanding schedules. APA indicated that under the previous hours-of-service requirements in effect prior to the implementation of FMCSA's April 28, 2003, final rule (68 FR 22456), the pyrotechnicians could meet their schedules without exceeding the limits, and without experiencing any crashes or hazardous materials incidents. By contrast, under the new regulations, the pyrotechnicians cannot meet typical holiday schedules, and fireworks companies would be forced to hire a second driver for most trips. Or, fireworks companies would be forced to decrease significantly their engagements. APA argues both options are economically detrimental for its members, and would deny many Americans the primary component of their Independence Day celebration.

Discussion of Public Comments

On May 6, 2005, FMCSA requested public comment from all interested persons on the APA application for an exemption (70 FR 24160). The comment period ended on June 6, 2005. FMCSA received comments from five individuals (Steven L. Cox, George M. Florer, Debbie I. Keeler, Steve Reeves, Barb Sachau) and the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO). All of the commenters were opposed to granting the exemption.

Generally, commenters believe the 14-hour provision of the hours-of-service requirements is a good rule based on sound reasoning because it prevents employers from extending the workday. Some of the commenters believe granting the APA exemption application would encourage other special interests groups to request the same exemption.

Two commenters suggest the APA request is motivated for economic reasons. One of these commenters indicated the exemption would enable motor carriers to deliver fireworks to retail stores without complying with the hours-of-service rules. The other indicated that the exemption supports APA members' goals of making more money.

PUCO indicated that highway travel dangers increase around Independence Day. PUCO believes the days before and after Independence Day make up the third busiest highway travel period of the year surpassed only by travel around Thanksgiving and Christmas. PUCO argues that the level of traffic congestion during the holidays means there is less of a margin for driver error and a greater potential for crashes and injuries. PUCO considers Independence Day as a time to focus on highway safety through more rigorous enforcement of motor carrier safety regulations. The State agency believes the increased threat posed by the hazardous materials (fireworks) being transported by APA means that CMV drivers should be alert, and that enforcement of the 14-hour rule should be emphasized rather than diminished.

FMCSA Response

FMCSA understands the concerns raised by the commenters but has concluded that the 9-day exemption requested by APA is not likely to decrease safety.

Pyrotechnicians rarely drive the full 11 hours allowed by the current regulations, but in the rush to prepare for Independence Day they may need to be on duty more than 14 consecutive hours and to drive at the end of that tour of duty. Without an exemption, these pyrotechnician/drivers would be stranded, often with a CMV partially loaded with fireworks, at the site of a forthcoming shoot; conversely, the fireworks company could employ a second driver, operating on a later schedule, to return the vehicle to a secure location within the 14-hour limit. The first option poses certain risks to public safety and the second would significantly increase the costs and logistical complexity of a shoot.

APA points out that "there were no accidents or incidents involving display personnel operating under the waiver" FMCSA granted APA members for Independence Day fireworks displays in 2004. The operational demands of this unique industry appear to minimize the risk of CMV crashes. In the last few days before the holiday, drivers spend their driving time transporting fireworks relatively short distances, from the nearest distribution point to the site of the shoot. Most of their on-duty time, however, is devoted to the intricate and potentially dangerous task of installing, wiring, and double-checking fireworks displays. According to APA, pyrotechnicians drive to the site of the shoot in the early morning and return late in the evening, thus avoiding much of the heavy traffic typical of the holiday. After setting up the fireworks display in daylight, in order to reduce the possibility of mistakes, the pyrotechnician/drivers typically have several hours off duty in the late afternoon and early evening, just before the shoot. This enables them to rest or nap, reducing or eliminating the fatigue caused by the day's activities, and making their return trip later that evening, after the shoot, safer than would otherwise be expected. The caution typically exercised by pyrotechnicians handling explosives may also carry over into their driving style, minimizing the risk of crashes, though this is admittedly conjectural.

In addition to driving at off-peak hours and having an opportunity for substantial rest periods during their tours of duty, pyrotechnicians who drive back to a hotel or motel in the 15th or 16th hours after coming on duty will be required to take 10 consecutive hours off duty, like other drivers. An opportunity for 8 consecutive hours of sleep should eliminate the possibility of cumulative fatigue the next day. Although FMCSA believes the 14-hour limit is generally conducive to safety, the current HOS regulations allow some kinds of short-haul drivers a 16-hour driving window once a week, providing certain conditions are met. The safety record of these drivers does not appear to have suffered as a result of the 16-hour provision. Because pyrotechnician/drivers operate like short-haul drivers (relatively little driving, a variety of work), FMCSA has concluded that the 9-day exemption requested by APA is not likely adversely to affect motor carrier safety.

In response to concerns about the exemption being used to support the delivery of fireworks for retail outlets, FMCSA believes APA's application accurately describes the reason the organization requested the exemption from the 14-hour rule. The exemption is intended to provide an alternative to the 14-hour provision for pyrotechnicians involved in the transportation and operation of fireworks for Independence Day shows. Neither the APA application, nor the terms and conditions associated with the exemption cover the transportation of fireworks to retail outlets to support consumer purchases of fireworks. The fireworks in question are for use by trained pyrotechnicians in fireworks shows, and are not intended for purchase by individual consumers.

As for PUCO's concerns, FMCSA believes that the mitigating factors discussed above are likely to ensure that the exemption granted today does not have a harmful effect on highway safety.

FMCSA Decision

In consideration of the public comments and the agency's response to those comments, FMCSA grants the APA exemption. The drivers employed by the companies, firms, and entities listed in the appendix to this notice are granted relief from the requirements of 49 CFR 395.3(a)(2) under the terms and conditions listed below.

Terms of the Exemption

Period of the Exemption

The exemption from the requirements of 49 CFR 395.3(a)(2) [the 14-hour rule] is effective June 28, 2005, and is applicable from June 28 (12:01 a.m.) through July 6, 2005 (11:59 p.m.), and from June 28 (12:01 a.m.) through July 6, 2006 (11:59 p.m.). The exemption expires on July 7, 2006.

Extent of the Exemption

This exemption is restricted to drivers employed by the companies, firms and entities listed in the appendix to this notice. The drivers are entitled to a limited exemption from the requirements of 49 CFR 395.3(a)(2). This regulation, 49 CFR 395.3(a)(2), currently prohibits a driver from driving after the 14th hour of coming on duty and does not permit off-duty periods to extend the 14-hour limit. Drivers covered by this exemption may exclude off-duty and sleeper berth time of any length from the calculation of the 14-hour limit. This exemption is contingent on each driver driving no more than 11 hours in a 14-hour period. The exemption is further contingent on each driver having a full 10 hours off duty following 14 hours on duty prior to beginning a new driving period. The drivers must comply with all other requirements of 49 CFR part 395.

Preemption

During the period the exemption is in effect, no State shall enforce any law or regulation that conflicts with or is inconsistent with this exemption with respect to a person operating under the exemption.

Notification to FMCSA

Each company, firm and entity listed in the appendix to this notice must notify FMCSA within 5 business days of any of the following:

1. An accident (as defined in 49 CFR 390.5), involving any of the motor carrier's CMVs, operating under the terms of this exemption. The notification must include the following information:

- a. Date of the accident,
- b. City or town, and State, in which the accident occurred, or closest to the accident scene,
- c. Driver's name and license number,
- d. Vehicle number and State license number,
- e. Number of individuals suffering physical injury,
- f. Number of fatalities,
- g. The police-reported cause of the accident, and
- h. Whether the driver was cited for violation of any traffic laws, or motor carrier safety regulations.

2. The total driving time and the total on-duty time period prior to the accident.

Termination

FMCSA does not believe the motor carriers and drivers covered by this exemption will experience any deterioration of their safety record. However, should this occur, FMCSA will take all steps necessary to protect the public interest, including revocation of the exemption. FMCSA will immediately revoke the exemption for failure to comply with its terms and conditions. Each motor carrier and each driver may be subject to periodic monitoring by FMCSA during the period the exemption.

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 31136 and 31315; and 49 CFR 1.73.

Issued on June 28, 2005.

Annette M. Sandberg, Administrator.

The purpose of the paperwork is to ensure that these states are properly monitoring the operations of pipeline operators in their states, and to determine Federal grant amounts for these states. This notice is published (pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995) to measure the need for the paperwork collection from these state agencies, to find ways to minimize the burden on states that must respond, to find ways to enhance the quality of information collected, and to verify the accuracy of the PHMSA's estimate of the burden (measured in work hours) on the states. This notice also seeks approval from the Office of Management and Budget to renew the existing approval of this paperwork collection.

DATES: Comments on this notice must be received by August 1, 2005 to assure consideration.

ADDRESSES: You may submit written comments to the docket by any of the following methods:

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Pursuant to the Pipeline Safety Law (49 U.S.C. Chapter 601), PHMSA shares responsibility for inspecting and overseeing the nation's pipelines with State pipeline safety offices. Regulations for enforcing this legislation are found in 49 CFR Part 195, "Transportation of Hazardous Liquids by Pipeline." These regulations include recordkeeping requirements for hazardous liquid pipeline operators to submit accident reports. Both Federal and State regulators depend on accident reports to manage inspection programs and to identify trends in hazardous liquid pipeline safety. The importance of accident data and data quality are repeatedly emphasized by Congress, the National Transportation Safety Board, and DOT's Office of Inspector General. PHMSA would like to continue to collect vital information on accidents on these hazardous liquid pipelines to fulfill its statutory mandates.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Pipeline Safety Law (49 U.S.C. Chapter 601) grants the Secretary of Transportation the authority to prescribe minimum safety standards for pipeline transportation and for pipeline facilities. To enable the Secretary to decide whether a person owning or operating a pipeline facility is complying with this chapter and standards prescribed or orders issued under this chapter, the person is required to (i) maintain records, make reports, and provide information the Secretary requires; and (ii) make the records, reports, and information available when the Secretary requests. These records help ascertain compliance and provide information for incident investigation. PHMSA is requesting comments from gas pipeline operators regarding the burden associated with providing recordkeeping requirements. The feedback from this request will assist PHMSA in assessing how it collects this information and also ensure that gas pipelines are operated in a safe manner.

AGENCY: Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA), Department of Transportation (DOT).

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: This notice seeks public comment on the need for PHMSA to collect paperwork information on pipeline integrity management in high consequence areas from hazardous liquid pipeline operators with less than 500 miles of pipelines. This information collection requires operators to provide direct integrity testing and evaluation of pipelines in high consequence areas. This notice is published (pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995) to measure the need for the paperwork collection, to find ways to minimize the burden on these operators that must respond, to find ways to enhance the quality of information collected, and to verify the accuracy of the PHMSA's estimate of the burden (measured in work hours) on private entities. This notice also seeks approval from OMB to renew the existing approval of this paperwork collection.

Florence Hamn, Office of Pipeline Safety, PHMSA, DOT, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, DC 20590, (202) 366-3015 or by e-mail at Florence.Hamn@dot.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: PHMSA published the Final Rule titled "Pipeline Safety: Pipeline Integrity Management in High Consequence Areas (Hazardous Liquid Operators with less than 500 miles of Pipelines)" on January 16, 2002, in response to a host of safety recommendations, statutory mandates (49 U.S.C. chapter 601 and 49 CFR part 195), and the results of accident analyses. This rule requires continual assessment and evaluation of pipeline integrity through inspection or testing, data integration and analysis, and follow-up remedial, preventive, and mitigative actions.

The existing estimate of the information collection burden is based on the assumption that (1) all operators have developed initial integrity management plan, however, based on the audits conducted by PHMSA, approximately 50 percent or about 66 operators would need to substantially revise the initial plan, and would require approximately 1,400 hours to revise their initial integrity management program; (2) an additional 330 hours are required to update these programs annually; and (3) an additional 500 hours per operator are required annually to integrate data into the operator's existing management information system. PHMSA would like to continue to collect vital information on integrity management programs in the high consequence areas to measure its program effectiveness and to fulfill its statutory mandates.

As used in this notice, "information collection" and "paperwork collection" are synonymous, and include all work related to preparing and disseminating information related to this recordkeeping requirement including completing paperwork, gathering information and conducting telephone calls.

Background

Appendix A to 31 CFR chapter V contains the names of blocked persons, specially designated nationals, specially designated terrorists, specially designated global terrorists, foreign terrorist organizations, and specially designated narcotics traffickers designated pursuant to the various economic sanctions programs administered by the Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC"). This appendix is periodically amended to reflect the names of individuals and entities added to, or removed from, the list. This appendix also is periodically amended to provide updated identifying and clarifying information, as well as alternative spellings and additional aliases, for certain individuals and entities included on the list.

Note 7 to the appendices to chapter V of Title 31 of the Code of Federal Regulations states, in relevant part, that frequently updated information on OFAC designations is provided for examination or downloading on OFAC's Internet site (<http://www.treas.gov/ofac>). Among other data, the Internet site posts changes in designations and identifying information, and provides country-by-country lists of names. Information is also available by fax through OFAC's fax-on-demand system at 202/622-0077 and on various information systems serviced by OFAC. Updated information on OFAC designations should be consulted before engaging in transactions subject to the economic sanctions programs in chapter V.

Appendix A of chapter V of Title 31 of the Code of Federal Regulations conforms to the format used on OFAC's website to present the information on Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons. This amendment reflects the complete list of persons identified in OFAC's Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons list as of June 1, 2005. Changes after that date are not reflected in this document.

Because the regulations involve a foreign affairs function, Executive Order 12866 and the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553), requiring notice of proposed rulemaking, opportunity for public participation, and delay in effective date, are inapplicable. Because no notice of proposed rulemaking is required for this rule, the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601-612) does not apply.

(b) The Underwriting Limitations published herein are on a per bond basis. Treasury requirements do not limit the penal sum (face amount) of bonds which surety companies may provide. However, when the penal sum exceeds a company's Underwriting Limitation, the excess must be protected by co-insurance, reinsurance, or other methods in accordance with Treasury Circular 297, Revised September 1, 1978 (31 CFR Section 223.10, Section 223.11). Treasury refers to a bond of this type as an Excess Risk. When Excess Risks on bonds in favor of the United States are protected by reinsurance, such reinsurance is to be effected by use of a Federal reinsurance form to be filed with the bond or within 45 days thereafter. In protecting such excess risks, the underwriting limitation in force on the day in which the bond was provided will govern absolutely. For further assistance, contact the Surety Bond Branch at (202) 874-6850.

(c) For a Federal bond to be acceptable, a surety company must be licensed in the State or other area in which it executes (signs and/or otherwise validates) a bond, but need not be licensed in the State or other area in which the principal resides or where the contract is to be performed. See 28 Op. Atty. Gen. 127, Dec. 24, 1909; 31 CFR Section 223.5 (b). The term "other area" includes the District of Columbia, American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

License information in this Circular is provided to the Treasury Department by the companies themselves. For updated license information, you may contact the company directly or the applicable State Insurance Department. Refer to the list of state insurance departments at the end of this publication. For further assistance, contact the Surety Bond Branch at (202) 874-6850.

(d) FEDERAL PROCESS AGENTS: Treasury Approved surety companies are required to appoint Federal process agents in accord with 31 U.S.C. 9306 and 31 CFR 224 in the following districts: Where the principal resides; where the obligation is to be performed; and in the District of Columbia where the bond is returnable or filed. No process agent is required in the State or other area where the company is incorporated (31 CFR Section 224.2). The name and address of a particular surety's process agent in a particular Federal Judicial District may be obtained from the Clerk of the U.S. District Court in that district. (The appointment documents are on file with the clerks.)

(NOTE: A surety company's underwriting agent who furnishes its bonds may or may not be its authorized process agent.)

SERVICE OF PROCESS: Process should be served on the Federal process agent appointed by a surety in a judicial district, except where the appointment of such agent is pending or during the absence of such agent from the district. Only in the event an agent has not been duly appointed, or the appointment is pending, or the agent is absent from the district, should process be served directly on the Clerk of the court pursuant to the provisions of 31 U.S.C. 9306.

(e) Companies holding Certificates of Authority as acceptable reinsuring companies are acceptable only as reinsuring companies on Federal bonds.

(f) Some companies may be Approved surplus lines carriers in various states. Such approval may indicate that the company is authorized to write surety in a particular state, even though the company is not licensed in the state. Questions related to this may be directed to the appropriate State Insurance Department. Refer to the list of state insurance departments at the end of this publication.

National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants: Miscellaneous Organic Chemical ManufacturingAGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).ACTION: Direct final rule; amendments.

SUMMARY: On November 10, 2003, EPA promulgated national emission standards for hazardous air pollutants (NESHAP) for miscellaneous organic chemical manufacturing under the authority of section 112 of the Clean Air Act (CAA). We are amending the NESHAP by clarifying the compliance requirements for flares and the alternative standard, which limits the outlet concentration to 20 parts per million. We are amending the NESHAP by extending the vapor balancing alternative to cover transfers from barges to storage tanks, amending the procedures for correcting measured concentrations at the outlet of combustion devices to correct for dilution by supplemental gas, and clarifying the signature requirements for the notification of compliance status report. The direct final rule amendments also specify requirements for effluent from control devices, clarify the definition of the term continuous process vent, and correct several referencing and drafting errors. We are issuing the amendments by direct final rule, without prior proposal, because we view the revisions as noncontroversial and anticipate no adverse comments.

In the Proposed Rules section of this Federal Register, we are publishing a separate document that will serve as the proposal in the event that timely adverse comments are received.

DATES: The direct final rule is effective on August 30, 2005, without further notice, unless EPA receives adverse written comment by August 1, 2005, or if a public hearing is requested by July 11, 2005. If EPA receives such comments or a hearing is requested, EPA will publish a timely withdrawal in the Federal Register indicating which provisions will become effective, and which provisions are being withdrawn due to adverse comment.

However, in the Proposed Rules section of this Federal Register, we are publishing a separate document that will serve as the proposal in the event that timely adverse comments are received. If we receive such adverse comments on the amendments, we will publish a timely withdrawal in the Federal Register informing the public which provisions will become effective and which provisions are being withdrawn due to adverse comment. We will address all public comments in a subsequent final rule based on the proposed rule. Any of the distinct amendments in the direct final rule for which we do not receive adverse comment will become effective on the date set out above. We will not institute a second comment period on the direct final rule amendments. Any parties interested in commenting must do so at this time.

Judicial Review. Under section 307(b)(1) of the CAA, judicial review of the direct final rule amendments is available only by filing a petition for review in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia by August 30, 2005. Under section 307(d)(7)(B) of the CAA, only an objection to the direct final rule amendments that was raised with reasonable specificity during the period for public comment can be raised during judicial review. Moreover, under section 307(b)(2) of the CAA, the requirements established by the direct final rule amendments may not be challenged separately in any civil or criminal proceedings brought by EPA to enforce these requirements.

I. Why Are We Amending the Rule?

On November 10, 2003, we promulgated NESHAP for Miscellaneous Organic Chemical Manufacturing as subpart FFFF in 40 CFR part 63 (68 FR 63852). Since promulgation of the NESHAP, we determined that the alternative standard, which limits the outlet concentration to 20 parts per million, did not contain several provisions that have been included in the same alternative standard in other rules, that the flare provisions are not consistent with other rules, that the procedures to account for dilution air added to vent streams before a combustion device are unnecessarily restrictive, and that the vapor balancing alternative for storage tanks could be extended to vapor balancing to barges.

II. What Amendments Are We Making to the Rule?

Amendments to the Procedure for Correcting Measured Concentrations to Account for Supplemental Gases. If you comply with an outlet concentration emission limit and use a combustion device, the NESHAP require you to correct the measured outlet concentration to 3 percent oxygen to account for dilution caused by adding supplemental gases to the emission stream prior to the control device. The direct final rule amendments add a second option that allows you to correct only for the actual amount of supplemental gas. This option is consistent with the correction requirement in the final rule for noncombustion devices.

The correction to 3 percent oxygen was originally used in new source performance standards for air oxidation unit processes, distillation operations, and reactor processes in the synthetic organic chemical manufacturing industry (40 CFR part 60, subparts III, NNN and RRR). The value of 3 percent represents good engineering practice when oxygen-deficient streams are combusted with supplemental combustion air (i.e., a supplemental gas). To prevent owners or operators from diluting streams to meet the outlet concentration emission limit for noncombustion devices, the NESHAP require correction of the actual flowrate of supplemental gases. The direct final rule amends 40 CFR 63.2450(i) to allow a correction based on the actual flowrate of supplemental gases, as well as the correction to 3 percent oxygen for combustion devices if supplemental gases are used as allowed by the NESHAP. In addition, the direct final rule amends the definition of supplemental gas to mirror the definition of supplemental combustion air in 40 CFR 63.1312, which is appropriate for both combustion and noncombustion devices.

Clarification of the Initial Compliance Requirements for Flares. The direct final rule clarifies the initial compliance requirements for flares because we understand the promulgated language has caused some confusion. If you use a flare to comply with an emission limit, the NESHAP specify that you must comply with the requirements in 40 CFR 63.982(b), which in turn, references 40 CFR 63.987. These are the only compliance requirements that apply to flares, including flares used to control batch process vents. Thus, the procedures in § 63.2460(c)(2)(i) of the NESHAP to demonstrate compliance with a percent reduction emission limit by comparing the uncontrolled and controlled emission limits apply only if you use a non-flare control device. You never have to demonstrate the percent reduction for a flare; you only have to meet the requirements in 40 CFR 63.987. The direct final rule adds a sentence to 40 CFR 63.2460(c)(2)(i) to clarify this point.

The requirement in 40 CFR 63.2460(c)(2)(ii) to establish emission profiles before conducting a performance test or design evaluation for a control device that controls emissions from batch process vents also applies when you use a non-flare control device. The direct final rule revises 40 CFR 63.2460(c)(2)(ii) to clarify this point.

Amendments to the Initial Compliance Requirements for Flares Used to Control Batch Process Vents. The direct final rule adds a new paragraph (b)(4)(iii) to 40 CFR 63.2460 to specify that you may designate emission streams that are controlled with a flare as Group 1. By meeting the requirements in 40 CFR 63.987, the owner or operator demonstrates compliance with the HAP destruction requirements in the NESHAP.

Amendments to Performance Testing for Demonstrating Initial Compliance with a Percent Reduction Requirement. Section 63.2450(d) through (f) of the NESHAP specify that you must comply with various requirements of 40 CFR part 63, subpart SS, for performance testing provisions. One exception is that the option in 40 CFR 63.997(e)(2)(iv) to demonstrate compliance with a percent reduction emission limit by measuring total organic compounds (TOC) was prohibited by 40 CFR 63.2450(n) of the NESHAP. Since promulgation, we have determined that this restriction is unwarranted because 40 CFR 63.997(e)(2)(iv)(G) and (H) describe procedures for using Methods 25 and 25A of 40 CFR part 60, appendix A, for measuring TOC. The direct final rule removes 40 CFR 63.2450(n) to allow compliance with a percent reduction limit to be demonstrated by measuring either total organic HAP or TOC as specified in 40 CFR 63.997(e)(2)(iv).

Amendments to the Alternative Standard. The direct final rule amendments add additional options for the monitoring provisions to the alternative standard and adds planned routine maintenance provisions for storage tanks. The direct final rule amendments also permit compliance with the emission limits and work practice standards in Tables 1 through 4 to subpart FFFF of part 63 to be met by limiting the outlet concentration and demonstrating compliance with the outlet concentration emission limit through continuous emission monitoring. The direct final rule amendments allow monitoring of operating parameters as an alternative to adjusting measured concentrations to account for dilution caused by supplemental gases, indicate that the planned routine maintenance provisions apply under the alternative standard for control devices that are used to control emissions from storage tanks, and clarify a couple of references.

The introductory text in 40 CFR 63.2505(b) of the NESHAP currently requires you to meet the requirements specified in 40 CFR 63.1258(b)(5)(i) to demonstrate compliance with the alternative standard. This reference inadvertently excludes the options in 40 CFR 63.1258(b)(5)(ii) for monitoring operating parameters as an alternative to adjusting the measured concentrations to account for the dilution caused by adding supplemental gases to the emission stream prior to the control device. For combustion devices, the option requires operation above minimum temperature and residence time limits and monitoring to demonstrate continuous compliance with the limits. For noncombustion devices used to control emissions from dense gas systems (i.e., systems with oxygen levels less than 12 percent), the option requires calculation of a flowrate setpoint and monitoring of the flowrate to demonstrate continuous compliance with the setpoint. These options are as valid for miscellaneous organic chemical manufacturing sources as for pharmaceuticals production sources. The preamble to the proposed amendments to the NESHAP for pharmaceuticals production describes the rationale for these alternatives (65 FR 19152, April 10, 2000). As detailed therein, available data indicate that a properly designed and operated combustion device will reduce emissions by 98 percent if it maintains the specified residence time and temperature. With respect to dense gas systems, the flowrate setpoint calculated for dense gas systems is an indicator of HAP concentration in the gas stream into the control device, and maintaining the flowrate below this value would demonstrate that significant dilution is not occurring. Therefore, the direct final rule amendments modify the introductory text in § 63.2505(b) to reference all of the provisions in § 63.1258(b)(5).

The direct final rule amendments also add language specifying that the alternative standard does not apply to emissions from storage tanks during periods of planned routine maintenance of the control device. All of this language is identical to the planned routine maintenance language in 40 CFR 63.2470 that applies if you comply with the percent reduction emission limit. The exemption was included for compliance with the percent reduction emission limit because the storage tank cannot necessarily be shutdown while the control device is shutdown for maintenance. The same rationale applies for the alternative standard.

Section 63.2505(b)(5)(ii) in the NESHAP specifies requirements for continuous parameter monitoring systems (CPMS) for scrubbers used to comply with the option to reduce hydrogen halide and halogen HAP emissions after a combustion device by 95 percent. The current language specifies that you must install, operate, and maintain CPMS for the scrubber as specified in 40 CFR 63.2450(k). Since the actual requirements are in 40 CFR 63.994(c), which is modified by § 63.2450(k), the direct final rule amendments revise the provision to reference both sections. Finally, the direct final rule amendments reorder two of the paragraphs in § 63.2505(b) to improve readability.

Amendments to the Vapor Balancing Alternative for Storage Tanks. The direct final rule amendments extend vapor balancing to cover liquid transfers from barges to storage tanks. The NESHAP allow vapor balancing from storage tanks to tank trucks and railcars. Since promulgation of the NESHAP, we have determined that barges are used to supply materials to storage tanks in the miscellaneous organic chemical manufacturing industry, and the vapor balancing procedures are as valid for barges as for tank trucks and railcars. The only difference is that the testing procedures to determine vapor-tightness of barges are specified in 40 CFR 61.304(f).

Amendments to the Definition of Group 1 Wastewater. The direct final rule amendments add a new paragraph (4) to § 63.2485(c) to specify that effluent from a water scrubber or any other control device that has been used to comply with an emission limit for process vents is Group 1 wastewater, provided the process vent emission stream is Group 1 for HAP listed in Table 8 to 40 CFR part 63, subpart FFFF. This change is needed to ensure that HAP removed from an emission stream are destroyed or otherwise treated so that they are not simply re-emitted. The new language is similar to requirements the NESHAP for Pharmaceuticals Production.

Amendment to the Definition of Continuous Process Vent. Section 63.2550(i) of the NESHAP defines "continuous process vent" using the same language as in 40 CFR 63.107 of the Hazardous Organic NESHAP (HON), except that references to other sections in the HON are replaced by references to provisions in 40 CFR part 63, subpart FFFF. Section 63.107(d) of the HON specifies that a gas stream must contain greater than 0.005 weight percent total organic HAP to be a continuous process vent. The direct final rule amendments change "total organic HAP" to "total HAP" for the purposes of subpart FFFF, to clarify the applicability of the emission limits for inorganic HAP emissions from process vents that are specified in Table 3 to subpart FFFF.

According to the current definition of Continuous process vent in the NESHAP, if the only HAP in a gas stream is inorganic HAP, then it would not be a continuous process vent (or any kind of process vent), even if it meets all of the other criteria specified in 40 CFR 63.107. This means it also would not be subject to the emission limits for inorganic HAP in Table 3 to subpart FFFF of part 63. However, in setting the MACT floor for inorganic HAP emissions, we used all available data for gas streams from processing operations, not just data for streams that also had organic HAP. Changing § 63.107(d) for the purposes of subpart FFFF ensures that such streams from continuous operations are subject to the emission limits for inorganic HAP, as we intended. This change also makes the definition for continuous process vent consistent with the definition for batch process vent, which already includes a threshold based on total HAP.

Clarification of Notification of Compliance Status Reporting Requirements. The introductory text in 40 CFR 63.9(h)(2)(i) requires the owner or operator of an affected source to submit to the Administrator a notification of compliance status, signed by the responsible official who shall certify its accuracy. Table 12 to subpart FFFF of part 63 inadvertently stated that this paragraph does not apply to subpart FFFF. This was not our intent. We intended to specify only that the subparagraphs (A) through (G) do not apply because the types of information to include in the report are specified in § 63.2520(d) of subpart FFFF rather than § 63.9(h)(2). Therefore, the direct final rule amendments revise the references in the entry for § 63.9(h)(1)—(6) in Table 12 to subpart FFFF to clarify this point.

Miscellaneous Technical Corrections. The direct final rule amendments include several changes to correct references and drafting errors.

III. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

A. Executive Order 12866: Regulatory Planning and Review

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), EPA must determine whether the regulatory action is “significant” and, therefore, subject to Office of Management and Budget (OMB) review and the requirements of the Executive Order. The Executive Order defines “significant regulatory action” as one that is likely to result in a rule that may:

(1) Have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more or adversely affect in a material way the economy, a sector of the economy, productivity, competition, jobs, the environment, public health or safety, or State, local, or tribal governments or communities;

(2) Create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency;

(3) Materially alter the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs, or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; or

(4) Raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President’s priorities, or the principles set forth in the Executive Order.

It has been determined that the direct final rule amendments are not a “significant regulatory action” under the terms of Executive Order 12866 and are, therefore, not subject to OMB review.

B. Paperwork Reduction Act

This action does not impose any new information collection burden. This action gives a source owner or operator several additional compliance options. Since they are only options, this action will not increase the information collection burden. The OMB has previously approved the information collection requirements contained in the existing regulations under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., and has assigned OMB control number 2060–0533 (EPA ICR No. 1969.02).

Copies of the information collection request (ICR) document(s) may be obtained from Susan Auby, by mail at the Office of Environmental Information, Collection Strategies Division; U.S. EPA (2822T); 1200 Pennsylvania Ave., NW., Washington, DC 20460, by e-mail at auby.susan@epa.gov, or by calling (202) 566–1672. A copy may also be downloaded off the Internet at <http://www.epa.gov/icr>. Include the ICR or OMB number in any correspondence.

Burden means the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose or provide information to or for a Federal agency. This includes the time needed to review instructions; develop, acquire, install, and utilize technology and systems for the purposes of collecting, validating, and verifying information, processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information; adjust the existing ways to comply with any previously applicable instructions and requirements; train personnel to be able to respond to a collection of information; search data sources; complete and review the collection of information; and transmit or otherwise disclose the information.

An Agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. The OMB control numbers for EPA’s regulations are listed in 40 CFR part 9 and 48 CFR chapter 15.

C. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The EPA has determined that it is not necessary to prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis in connection with the direct final rule amendments.

For purposes of assessing the impacts of today’s direct final rule amendments on small entities, a small entity is defined as: (1) A small business as defined by the Small Business Administration’s regulations at 13 CFR 121.201; (2) a small governmental jurisdiction that is a government of a city, county, town, school district or special district with a population of less than 50,000; and (3) a small organization that is any not-for-profit enterprise which is independently owned and operated and is not dominant in its field.

After considering the economic impacts of today’s final rule on small entities, EPA has concluded that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. In determining whether a rule has a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, the impact of concern is any significant adverse economic impact on small entities, since the primary purpose of the regulatory flexibility analyses is to identify and address regulatory alternatives “which minimize any significant economic impact of the proposed rule on small entities.” 5 U.S.C. 603 and 604. Thus, an agency may conclude that a rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities if the rule relieves regulatory burden, or otherwise has a positive economic effect on all of the small entities subject to the rule.

The direct final rule amendments add several compliance options granting greater flexibility to small entities subject to the final rule that may result in a more efficient use of resources. We have therefore concluded that today’s final rule will relieve regulatory burden for all affected small entities.

D. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

Title II of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (UMRA), Public Law 104–4, establishes requirements for Federal agencies to assess the effects of their regulatory actions on State, local, and tribal governments and the private sector. Under section 202 of the UMRA, EPA generally must prepare a written statement, including a cost-benefit analysis, for proposed and final rules with “Federal mandates” that may result in expenditures by State, local, and tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of $100 million or more in any 1 year. Before promulgating an EPA rule for which a written statement is needed, section 205 of the UMRA generally requires EPA to identify and consider a reasonable number of regulatory alternatives and adopt the least-costly, most cost-effective, or least burdensome alternative that achieves the objectives of the rule. The provisions of section 205 do not apply when they are inconsistent with applicable law. Moreover, section 205 allows EPA to adopt an alternative other than the least-costly, most cost effective, or least-burdensome alternative if the Administrator publishes with the final rule an explanation why that alternative was not adopted. Before EPA establishes any regulatory requirements that may significantly or uniquely affect small governments, including tribal governments, it must have developed under section 203 of the UMRA a small government agency plan. The plan must provide for notifying potentially affected small governments to have meaningful and timely input in the development of EPA regulatory proposals with significant Federal intergovernmental mandates, and informing, educating, and advising small governments on compliance with the regulatory requirements.

The EPA has determined that the direct final rule amendments do not contain a Federal mandate that may result in expenditures of $100 million or more for State, local, or tribal governments, in the aggregate, or the private sector in any 1 year. The direct final rule amendments provide a source owner or operator with additional options to comply with the standards. Therefore, the direct final rule amendments are not subject to the requirements of sections 202 and 205 of the UMRA.

E. Executive Order 13132: Federalism

Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999) requires EPA to develop an accountable process to ensure “meaningful and timely input by State and local officials in the development of regulatory policies that have federalism implications.” “Policies that have federalism implications” is defined in the Executive Order to include regulations that have “substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.”

The direct final rule amendments do not have federalism implications. They will not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132. The direct final rule amendments provide a source owner or operator with another option to comply with the standards and, therefore, impose no additional burden on sources. Thus, Executive Order 13132 does not apply to the direct final rule amendments.

In the spirit of Executive Order 13132 and consistent with EPA policy to promote communications between EPA and State and local governments, EPA specifically solicits comment on the direct final rule amendments from State and local officials.

F. Executive Order 13175: Consultation and Coordination With Indian Tribal Governments

Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000), requires EPA to develop an accountable process to ensure “meaningful and timely input by tribal officials in the development of regulatory policies that have tribal implications.” The direct final rule amendments do not have tribal implications, as specified in Executive Order 13175. The direct final rule amendments provide a source owner or operator with another option to comply with the standards and, therefore, impose no additional burden on sources. Thus, Executive Order 13175 does not apply to the direct final rule amendments.

The EPA specifically solicits additional comment on the direct final rule amendments from tribal officials.

G. Executive Order 13045: Protection of Children From Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks

Executive Order 13045 (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997) applies to any rule that: (1) Is determined to be “economically significant” as defined under Executive Order 12866, and (2) concerns an environmental health or safety risk that EPA has reason to believe may have a disproportionate effect on children. If the regulatory action meets both criteria, EPA must evaluate the environmental health or safety effects of the planned rule on children, and explain why the planned regulation is preferable to other potentially effective and reasonably feasible alternatives considered by EPA.

The EPA interprets Executive Order 13045 as applying only to those regulatory actions that are based on health or safety risks, such that the analysis required under section 5–501 of the Executive Order has the potential to influence the regulation. Today’s direct final rule amendments are not subject to Executive Order 13045 because they are based on technology performance, not health or safety risks. Furthermore, the direct final rule amendments have been determined not to be “economically significant” as defined under Executive Order 12866.

H. Executive Order 13211: Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use

The direct final rule amendments are not subject to Executive Order 13211 (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001) because they are not a significant regulatory action under Executive Order 12866.

I. National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995

Section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (NTTAA), Public Law 104–113, 12(d) (15 U.S.C. 272 note), directs EPA to use voluntary consensus standards in its regulatory activities unless to do so would be inconsistent with applicable law or otherwise impractical. Voluntary consensus standards are technical standards (e.g., materials specifications, test methods, sampling procedures, and business practices) that are developed or adopted by voluntary consensus standards bodies. The NTTAA directs EPA to provide Congress, through OMB, explanations when the Agency decides not to use available and applicable voluntary consensus standards.

No new standard requirements are cited in the direct final rule amendments. Therefore, EPA is not proposing or adopting any voluntary consensus standards in the direct final rule amendments.

J. Congressional Review Act

The Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. 801 et seq., as added by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States. The EPA will submit a report containing the direct final rule and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the direct final rule in the Federal Register. The direct final rule is not a "major rule" as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2). The direct final rule amendments are effective on August 30, 2005.

§ 63.2450 What are my general requirements for complying with this subpart?

(i) Outlet concentration correction for combustion devices. When § 63.997(e)(2)(iii)(C) requires you to correct the measured concentration at the outlet of a combustion device to 3 percent oxygen if you add supplemental combustion air, the requirements in either paragraph (i)(1) or (2) of this section apply for the purposes of this subpart.

(1) You must correct the concentration in the gas stream at the outlet of the combustion device to 3 percent oxygen if you add supplemental gases, as defined in § 63.2550, to the vent stream, or;

(2) You must correct the measured concentration for supplemental gases using Equation 1 of § 63.2460; you may use process knowledge and representative operating data to determine the fraction of the total flow due to supplemental gas.

(ii) When you conduct a performance test or design evaluation for a non-flare control device used to control emissions from batch process vents, you must establish emission profiles and conduct the test under worst-case conditions according to § 63.1257(b)(8) instead of under normal operating conditions as specified in § 63.7(e)(1). The requirements in § 63.997(e)(1)(i) and (iii) also do not apply for performance tests conducted to determine compliance with the emission limits for batch process vents. For purposes of this subpart FFFF, references in § 63.997(b)(1) to "methods specified in § 63.997(e)" include the methods specified in § 63.1257(b)(8).

National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants: Miscellaneous Organic Chemical ManufacturingAGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).ACTION: Proposed rule; amendments.

SUMMARY: On November 10, 2003, EPA promulgated national emission standards for hazardous air pollutants (NESHAP) for miscellaneous organic chemical manufacturing under the authority of section 112 of the Clean Air Act (CAA). This action proposes clarifications to the compliance requirements for flares and the alternative standard, which limits the outlet concentration to 20 parts per million. This action proposes an expansion of the scope of the vapor balancing alternative for storage tanks, modifications to the procedures for correcting measured concentrations at the outlet of combustion devices to account for supplemental gases, and clarification of the signature requirements for the notification of compliance status report. This action also proposes revisions of several referencing and drafting errors.

In the Rules and Regulations section of this Federal Register, we are taking direct final action on the proposed amendments because we view the amendments as noncontroversial and anticipate no adverse comments. We have explained our reasons for the amendments in the preamble to the direct final rule. If we receive no adverse comments, we will take no further action on the proposed amendments. If we receive adverse comments, we will withdraw only those provisions on which we received significant adverse comments. We will publish a timely withdrawal in the Federal Register indicating which provisions will become effective and which provisions are being withdrawn. If part or all of the direct final rule in the Rules and Regulations section of today's Federal Register is withdrawn, all comments pertaining to the withdrawn provisions will be addressed in a subsequent final rule based on the proposed amendments. We will not institute a second comment period before taking the subsequent final action. Any parties interested in commenting must do so at this time.

DATES: Comments. Written comments must be received on or before August 1, 2005, unless a hearing is requested by July 11, 2005. If a hearing is requested, written comments must be received on or before August 15, 2005.

What Should I Consider as I Prepare My Comments for EPA?

Submitting CBI. Do not submit this information to EPA through EDOCKET, regulations.gov or e-mail. Clearly mark the part or all of the information that you claim to be CBI. For CBI information in a disk or CD-ROM that you mail to EPA, mark the outside of the disk or CD-ROM as CBI and then identify electronically within the disk or CD-ROM the specific information that is claimed as CBI. In addition to one complete version of the comment that includes information claimed as CBI, a copy of the comment that does not contain the information claimed as CBI must be submitted for inclusion in the public docket. Information so marked will not be disclosed except in accordance with procedures set forth in 40 CFR part 2.

Tips for Preparing Your Comments. When submitting comments, remember to:

- Identify the rulemaking by docket number and other identifying information (subject heading, Federal Register date and page number).
- Follow directions—The Agency may ask you to respond to specific questions or organize comments by referencing a Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) part or section number.
- Explain why you agree or disagree; suggest alternatives and substitute language for your requested changes.
- Describe any assumptions and provide any technical information and/or data that you used.
- If you estimate potential costs or burdens, explain how you arrived at your estimate in sufficient detail to allow for it to be reproduced.

- Provide specific examples to illustrate your concerns, and suggest alternatives.

- Explain your views as clearly as possible, avoiding the use of profanity or personal threats.

Public Hearing. Persons interested in presenting oral testimony or inquiring as to whether a hearing is to be held should contact Mr. Randy McDonald, Organic Chemicals Group, Emission Standards Division (Mail Code C504-04), EPA, Research Triangle Park, North Carolina 27711, telephone number (919) 541-5402, electronic mail address mcdonald.randy@epa.gov, at least 2 days in advance of the potential date of the public hearing. Persons interested in attending the public hearing must also call Mr. Randy McDonald to verify the time, date, and location of the hearing. The public hearing will provide interested parties the opportunity to present data, views, or arguments concerning these proposed emission standards.

World Wide Web (WWW). In addition to being available in the docket, an electronic copy of today's proposal will also be available through the WWW. Following the Administrator's signature, a copy of this action will be posted on EPA's Technology Transfer Network (TTN) policy and guidance page for newly proposed or promulgated rules <http://www.epa.gov/ttn/oarpg>. The TTN at EPA's Web site provides information and technology exchange in various areas of air pollution control.

Direct Final Rule. A direct final rule identical to the proposal is published in the Rules and Regulations section of today's Federal Register. If we receive any adverse comment pertaining to the amendments, we will publish a timely notice in the Federal Register informing the public that the amendments are being withdrawn due to adverse comment. We will address all public comments concerning the withdrawn amendments in a subsequent final rule. If no adverse comments are received, no further action will be taken on the proposal and the direct final rule will become effective as provided in that action.

The regulatory text for the proposal is identical to that for the direct final rule published in the Rules and Regulations section of today's Federal Register. For further supplementary information, the detailed rationale for the proposal and the regulatory revisions, see the direct final rule published in the Rules and Regulations section of today's Federal Register.

Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

For a complete discussion of all administrative requirements applicable to this section, see the direct final rule in the Rules and Regulations section of today's Federal Register.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) generally requires an agency to prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis of any rule subject to notice and comment rulemaking requirements under the Administrative Procedure Act or any other statute unless the agency certifies that the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Small entities include small businesses, small organizations, and small governmental jurisdictions.

For purposes of assessing the impacts of today's proposed amendments on small entities, a small entity is defined as: (1) A small business as defined by the Small Business Administration's regulations at 13 CFR 121.201; (2) a small governmental jurisdiction that is a government of a city, county, town, school district or special district with a population of less than 50,000; and (3) a small organization that is any not-for-profit enterprise which is independently owned and operated and is not dominant in its field.

After considering the economic impacts of today's proposed amendments on small entities, I certify that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. In determining whether a proposed rule has a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, the impact of concern is any significant adverse economic impact, since the primary purpose of the regulatory flexibility analysis is to identify and address regulatory alternatives "which minimize any significant economic impact of the proposed rule on small entities" (5 U.S.C. 603 and 604). Thus, any agency may certify that a rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities if the rule relieves regulatory burden or otherwise has a positive economic effect on all of the small entities subject to the rule. The proposed amendments grant greater flexibility to small entities subject to the NESHAP that may result in a more efficient use of resources for them and, therefore, impose no additional regulatory costs or requirements on owners or operators of affected sources. The EPA continues to be interested in the potential impacts of the proposed rule on small entities and welcomes comments on issues related to such impacts.

Part V

The President

Executive Order 13382—Blocking Property of Weapons of Mass Destruction
Proliferators and Their Supporters

Presidential Documents

Title 3—Executive Order 13382 of June 28, 2005*The President*Blocking Property of Weapons of Mass Destruction Proliferators and Their Supporters

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America, including the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.) (IEEPA), the National Emergencies Act (50 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.), and section 301 of title 3, United States Code,

I, George W. Bush, President of the United States of America, in order to take additional steps with respect to the national emergency described and declared in Executive Order 12938 of November 14, 1994, regarding the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and the means of delivering them, and the measures imposed by that order, as expanded by Executive Order 13094 of July 28, 1998, hereby order:

Section 1. (a) Except to the extent provided in section 203(b)(1), (3), and (4) of IEEPA (50 U.S.C. 1702(b)(1), (3), and (4)), or in regulations, orders, directives, or licenses that may be issued pursuant to this order, and notwithstanding any contract entered into or any license or permit granted prior to the effective date of this order, all property and interests in property of the following persons, that are in the United States, that hereafter come within the United States, or that are or hereafter come within the possession or control of United States persons, are blocked and may not be transferred, paid, exported, withdrawn, or otherwise dealt in:

(i) the persons listed in the Annex to this order;

(ii) any foreign person determined by the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of the Treasury, the Attorney General, and other relevant agencies, to have engaged, or attempted to engage, in activities or transactions that have materially contributed to, or pose a risk of materially contributing to, the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction or their means of delivery (including missiles capable of delivering such weapons), including any efforts to manufacture, acquire, possess, develop, transport, transfer or use such items, by any person or foreign country of proliferation concern;

(iii) any person determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, and other relevant agencies, to have provided, or attempted to provide, financial, material, technological or other support for, or goods or services in support of, any activity or transaction described in paragraph (a)(ii) of this section, or any person whose property and interests in property are blocked pursuant to this order; and

(iv) any person determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, and other relevant agencies, to be owned or controlled by, or acting or purporting to act for or on behalf of, directly or indirectly, any person whose property and interests in property are blocked pursuant to this order.

(b) Any transaction or dealing by a United States person or within the United States in property or interests in property blocked pursuant to this order is prohibited, including, but not limited to, (i) the making of any contribution or provision of funds, goods, or services by, to, or for the benefit of, any person whose property and interests in property are blocked pursuant to this order, and (ii) the receipt of any contribution or provision of funds, goods, or services from any such person.

(c) Any transaction by a United States person or within the United States that evades or avoids, has the purpose of evading or avoiding, or attempts to violate any of the prohibitions set forth in this order is prohibited.

(d) Any conspiracy formed to violate the prohibitions set forth in this order is prohibited.

Sec. 2. For purposes of this order:

(a) the term “person” means an individual or entity;

(b) the term “entity” means a partnership, association, trust, joint venture, corporation, group, subgroup, or other organization; and

(c) the term “United States person” means any United States citizen, permanent resident alien, entity organized under the laws of the United States or any jurisdiction within the United States (including foreign branches), or any person in the United States.

Sec. 3. I hereby determine that the making of donations of the type of articles specified in section 203(b)(2) of IEEPA (50 U.S.C. 1702(b)(2)) by, to, or for the benefit of, any person whose property and interests in property are blocked pursuant to this order would seriously impair my ability to deal with the national emergency declared in Executive Order 12938, and I hereby prohibit such donations as provided by section 1 of this order.

Sec. 4. Section 4(a) of Executive Order 12938, as amended, is further amended to read as follows:

“Sec. 4. Measures Against Foreign Persons.

(a) Determination by Secretary of State; Imposition of Measures. Except to the extent provided in section 203(b) of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1702(b)), where applicable, if the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of the Treasury, determines that a foreign person, on or after November 16, 1990, the effective date of Executive Order 12735, the predecessor order to Executive Order 12938, has engaged, or attempted to engage, in activities or transactions that have materially contributed to, or pose a risk of materially contributing to, the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction or their means of delivery (including missiles capable of delivering such weapons), including any efforts to manufacture, acquire, possess, develop, transport, transfer, or use such items, by any person or foreign country of proliferation concern, the measures set forth in subsections (b), (c), and (d) of this section shall be imposed on that foreign person to the extent determined by the Secretary of State, in consultation with the implementing agency and other relevant agencies. Nothing in this section is intended to preclude the imposition on that foreign person of other measures or sanctions available under this order or under other authorities.”

Sec. 5. For those persons whose property and interests in property are blocked pursuant to section 1 of this order who might have a constitutional presence in the United States, I find that because of the ability to transfer funds or other assets instantaneously, prior notice to such persons of measures to be taken pursuant to this order would render these measures ineffectual. I therefore determine that for these measures to be effective in addressing the national emergency declared in Executive Order 12938, as amended, there need be no prior notice of a listing or determination made pursuant to section 1 of this order.

Sec. 6. The Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Secretary of State, is hereby authorized to take such actions, including the promulgation of rules and regulations, and to employ all powers granted to the President by IEEPA as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this order. The Secretary of the Treasury may redelegate any of these functions to other officers and agencies of the United States Government, consistent with applicable law. All agencies of the United States Government are hereby directed to take all appropriate measures within their authority to carry out the provisions of this order and, where appropriate, to advise the Secretary of the Treasury in a timely manner of the measures taken.

Sec. 7. The Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Secretary of State, is hereby authorized to determine, subsequent to the issuance of this order, that circumstances no longer warrant the inclusion of a person in the Annex to this order and that the property and interests in property of that person are therefore no longer blocked pursuant to section 1 of this order.

Sec. 8. This order is not intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States, its departments, agencies, instrumentalities, or entities, its officers or employees, or any other person.

Sec. 9. (a) This order is effective at 12:01 a.m. eastern daylight time on June 29, 2005.

(b) This order shall be transmitted to the Congress and published in the Federal Register.
