14 CFR Part 39

[Docket No. FAA–2005–21860; Directorate Identifier 2005–NM–032–AD; Amendment 39–14445; AD 2006–01–06]

Airworthiness Directives; Airbus Model A330–200, A330–300, A340–200, and A340–300 Series Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), Department of Transportation (DOT).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The FAA is adopting a new airworthiness directive (AD) for certain Airbus Model A330–200, A330–300, A340–200, and A340–300 series airplanes. This AD requires operators to modify the hydraulic control block of the nose landing gear. This AD results from a report of an unexpected steering event (swerve) during the take-off roll of one affected airplane. We are issuing this AD to prevent loss of airplane steering while on the ground, which could result in the airplane going off the side of the runway.

DATES: This AD becomes effective February 10, 2006.

The Director of the Federal Register approved the incorporation by reference of certain publications listed in the AD as of February 10, 2006.

ADDRESSES: You may examine the AD docket on the Internet at http://dms.dot.gov or in person at the Docket Management Facility, U.S. Department of Transportation, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Nassif Building, room PL–401, Washington, DC.

Contact Airbus, 1 Rond Point Maurice Bellonte, 31707 Blagnac Cedex, France, for service information identified in this AD.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Tim Backman, Aerospace Engineer International Branch, ANM–116, FAA, Transport Airplane Directorate, 1601 Lind Avenue, SW., Renton, Washington 98055–4056; telephone (425) 227–2797; fax (425) 227–1149.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Examining the Docket

You may examine the airworthiness directive (AD) docket on the Internet at http://dms.dot.gov or in person at the Docket Management Facility office between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays. The Docket Management Facility office (telephone (800) 647–5227) is located on the plaza level of the Nassif Building at the street address stated in the ADDRESSES section.

Discussion

The FAA issued a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) to amend 14 CFR part 39 to include an AD that would apply to certain Airbus Model A330–200, A330–300, A340–200, and A340–300 series airplanes. That NPRM was published in the Federal Register on July 19, 2005 (70 FR 41354). That NPRM proposed to require operators to modify the hydraulic control block of the nose landing gear.

Comments

We provided the public the opportunity to participate in the development of this AD. We have considered the comments received.

Request To Exclude Airplanes With Certain Modification From Applicability

The commenter requests that the applicability be revised to match the effectivity of French airworthiness directive F–2005–016, dated January 19, 2005. The French airworthiness directive excludes airplanes on which Airbus Modification 50650 has been embodied in production or Airbus Service Bulletin A330–32–3156 or A340–32–4194 has been embodied in service. The original issue of these service bulletins, both dated December 22, 2004, was referenced as the appropriate source of service information for accomplishing the actions proposed in the NPRM. The commenter states that this additional information in the applicability would be useful for compliance with the FAA AD, particularly at the delivery level, and would help to avoid requests for alternate methods of compliance (AMOCs) once the AD is issued.

We partially agree with the commenter. We agree to revise the applicability to exclude airplanes on which Airbus Modification 50650 has been embodied in production. Airplanes on which Modification 50650 has been embodied are not subject to the identified unsafe condition. We disagree with including a reference to the service bulletins in the applicability. Paragraph (f) of the NPRM proposed to require accomplishing the actions in those service bulletins in order to ensure that the actions are accomplished on all affected airplanes. In addition, paragraph (e) of the NPRM and the final rule states, ''You are responsible for having the actions required by this AD performed within the compliance times specified, unless the actions have already been done.'' If the service bulletins referenced in paragraph (f) are accomplished then, in accordance with paragraph (e), no further actions are necessary. Paragraph (e) accomplishes the purpose of the commenter's request regarding airplanes on which the service bulletins are embodied, without making an additional change to the applicability. Therefore, we have changed the applicability of the final rule to exclude airplanes on which Airbus Modification 50650 has been embodied in production, but we have not added a reference to the service bulletins in the applicability.

Request To Add Reference to Re-identified Parts

The commenter considers it useful to operators to add a new note at the end of paragraph (f) to state that ''At the end of the modification: The hydraulic control block (HCB) part number (P/N) C24856000–9 will become P/N C24856000–11, and the HCB P/N C24856001–7 will become P/N C24856001–9.''

We agree with the commenter. The information about the part numbers used for re-identifying the parts after the modification would be useful to operators. We have not added a new note, but have included this information in the existing Note 1 of the final rule. Note 1 refers to Messier-Bugatti Service Bulletin C24856–32–064, dated January 26, 2005, which is an additional source of service information for doing the modification, and which also contains the references to the re-identified part numbers. We have also revised paragraph (g) of the final rule to remove the statement ''unless it has been modified in accordance with paragraph (f) of this AD.'' The modified parts have a new part number, as specified in the revised Note 1.

Request To Add Airplanes to Applicability

The commenter requests that we add Airbus Model A330–302 and –303 airplanes to the applicability. The commenter points out that French airworthiness directive F–2005–016, dated January 19, 2005, and Airbus Service Bulletin A330–32–3156, dated December 22, 2004, which was referenced as a source of service information in the NPRM, both include these airplanes. The commenter acknowledges that Airbus Model A330–302 and –303 airplanes have not yet been certified by the FAA, but states that the certification is expected in the near future. The commenter suggests that, since the certification is expected and these airplane models are included in the mandated service information, they be included in the applicability of the final rule.

We do not agree with the commenter. AD actions are restricted to airplanes that are type certificated for operation in the United States under the provisions of section 21.29 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 21.29) and the applicable bilateral airworthiness agreement. However, should these airplanes be type certificated, we may consider further AD action. We have not changed the final rule in this regard.

Clarification of AMOC Paragraph

We have revised this action to clarify the appropriate procedure for notifying the principal inspector before using any approved AMOC on any airplane to which the AMOC applies.

Conclusion

We have carefully reviewed the available data, including the comments received, and determined that air safety and the public interest require adopting the AD with the changes described previously. We have determined that these changes will neither increase the economic burden on any operator nor increase the scope of the AD.

Costs of Compliance

This AD affects about 22 Model A330–200 and A330–300 airplanes of U.S. registry. The actions take about 39 work hours per airplane, at an average labor rate of $65 per work hour. There is no charge for required parts. Based on these figures, the estimated cost of this AD for U.S. operators is $55,770, or $2,535 per airplane.

There are currently no Model A340–200 or Model A340–300 airplanes on the U.S. Register. Should one of these airplanes be imported and placed on the U.S. Register in the future, the actions would take about 39 work hours per airplane, at an average labor rate of $65 per work hour. Based on these figures, the estimated cost of this AD would be $2,535 per airplane.

Authority for This Rulemaking

Title 49 of the United States Code specifies the FAA's authority to issue rules on aviation safety. Subtitle I, section 106, describes the authority of the FAA Administrator. Subtitle VII, Aviation Programs, describes in more detail the scope of the Agency's authority.

We are issuing this rulemaking under the authority described in subtitle VII, part A, subpart III, section 44701, ''General requirements.'' Under that section, Congress charges the FAA with promoting safe flight of civil aircraft in air commerce by prescribing regulations for practices, methods, and procedures the Administrator finds necessary for safety in air commerce. This regulation is within the scope of that authority because it addresses an unsafe condition that is likely to exist or develop on products identified in this rulemaking action.

Regulatory Findings

We have determined that this AD will not have federalism implications under Executive Order 13132. This AD will not have a substantial direct effect on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify that this AD:

(1) Is not a ''significant regulatory action'' under Executive Order 12866;

(2) Is not a ''significant rule'' under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034, February 26, 1979); and

(3) Will not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

We prepared a regulatory evaluation of the estimated costs to comply with this AD and placed it in the AD docket. See the ADDRESSES section for a location to examine the regulatory evaluation.

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration, HHS.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is amending the animal drug regulations to reflect approval of an abbreviated new animal drug application (ANADA) filed by A & G Pharmaceuticals, Inc. The ANADA provides for the veterinary prescription use of phenylbutazone powder administered to horses in feed for the relief of inflammatory conditions associated with the musculoskeletal system.

DATES: This rule is effective January 6, 2006.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: John K. Harshman, Center for Veterinary Medicine (HFV–104), Food and Drug Administration, 7500 Standish Pl., Rockville, MD 20855, 240–276–9808, e-mail: john.harshman@fda.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A & G Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 1030 West Commodore Blvd., Jackson, NJ 08527, filed ANADA 200–334 that provides for the veterinary prescription use of EQUIZONE 100 (phenylbutazone), a powder administered to horses in feed for the relief of inflammatory conditions associated with the musculoskeletal system. A & G Pharmaceuticals, Inc.'s, EQUIZONE 100 is approved as a generic copy of Phoenix Scientific, Inc.'s, Phenylbutazone Tablets, USP, approved under NADA 91–818. The ANADA is approved as of November 18, 2005, and the regulations are amended in 21 CFR part 520 by adding new § 520.1720e. The basis of approval is discussed in the freedom of information summary.

In addition, A & G Pharmaceuticals, Inc., has not been previously listed in the animal drug regulations as a sponsor of an approved application. At this time, 21 CFR 510.600(c) is being amended to add entries for the firm.

In accordance with the freedom of information provisions of 21 CFR part 20 and 21 CFR 514.11(e)(2)(ii), a summary of safety and effectiveness data and information submitted to support approval of this application may be seen in the Division of Dockets Management (HFA–305), Food and Drug Administration, 5630 Fishers Lane, rm. 1061, Rockville, MD 20852, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

FDA has determined under 21 CFR 25.33(a)(1) that this action is of a type that does not individually or cumulatively have a significant effect on the human environment. Therefore, neither an environmental assessment nor an environmental impact statement is required.

This rule does not meet the definition of ''rule'' in 5 U.S.C. 804(3)(A) because it is a rule of ''particular applicability.'' Therefore, it is not subject to the congressional review requirements in 5 U.S.C. 801–808.

Federal Travel Regulation; 2006 Privately Owned Vehicle Mileage Reimbursement AGENCY: Office of Governmentwide Policy, General Services Administration (GSA).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This final rule amends the mileage reimbursement rate for use of a privately owned automobile (POA) on official travel to reflect the decrease in the single standard mileage rate established by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). 5 U.S.C. 5704(a)(1) prohibits GSA from exceeding the single standard mileage rate established by the IRS. Accordingly, the FTR is revised to decrease the reimbursement of operating a POA from $0.485 to $0.445 per mile.

DATES: Effective date: This final rule is effective January 6, 2006. Applicability date: This final rule is effective for travel performed on and after January 1, 2006.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Background

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C 5707(b), the Administrator of General Services has the responsibility to prescribe the privately owned vehicle (POV) mileage reimbursement rates to which Federal employees are entitled when using their privately owned airplanes, automobiles, and motorcycles while engaged on official business. As provided for in 5 U.S.C. 5704(a)(1), the automobile reimbursement rate established by the Administrator of General Services cannot exceed the single standard mileage rate established by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) for purposes of calculating the deductible costs of operating an automobile for business purposes. The IRS issued Revenue Procedure 2005–78 announcing the new single standard mileage rate for automobiles would be $0.445 per mile effective on January 1, 2006. At this time, this change only affects the mileage reimbursement for privately owned automobiles. GSA is obtaining data from industry sources to determine if an increase or decrease in the mileage reimbursement allowances is warranted for motorcycles and airplanes.

B. Executive Order 12886

This is not a significant regulatory action and, therefore, was not subject to review under Section 6(b) of Executive Order 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review, dated September 30, 1993. This final rule is not a major rule under 5 U.S.C. 804.

C. Regulatory Flexibility Act

This final rule is not required to be published in the Federal Register for notice and comment; therefore, the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq., does not apply.

D. Paperwork Reduction Act

The Paperwork Reduction Act does not apply because the changes to the FTR do not impose recordkeeping or information collection requirements, or the collection of information from offerors, contractors, or members of the public which require the approval of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq.

Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards; Tires

AGENCY: National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), Department of Transportation.

ACTION: Final rule; response to petitions for reconsideration.

SUMMARY: In June 2003, NHTSA published a final rule establishing upgraded tire performance requirements for new tires for use on vehicles with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less. This document responds to petitions for reconsideration of that final rule. After carefully considering the petitions, the agency is modifying certain performance requirements to better address snow tires and certain specialty tires. Specifically, we are amending the performance requirements for snow tires used on light vehicles. Further, we decided that the safety performance of certain other specialty tires is better addressed through the requirements of a different Federal safety standard.

DATES: The amendments in this rule are effective June 1, 2007, and delay the effective date of the Final Rule published on June 26, 2003 (68 FR 38115) from June 1, 2007 until September 1, 2007. Voluntary compliance is permitted before that time. In addition, ''snow tires,'' as defined in S3 of 49 CFR 571.139 need not comply with the requirements of 49 CFR 571.139 until September 1, 2008, if they comply with applicable requirements in effect as of the date of this Final Rule. The incorporation by reference of certain publications listed in the regulations is approved by the Director of the Federal Register as of September 1, 2007.

I. Summary of Final Rule

First, this final rule amends Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) No. 139, ''New pneumatic tires for light vehicles'' to reduce the endurance and low-pressure test speeds from 120 km/h to 110 km/h for snow tires. Second, this rule amends the application of FMVSS No. 139 to exclude light truck radial tires with a tread depth of 18/32 inches or greater. Instead these tires will be subject to the requirements of FMVSS No. 119. Third, this rule makes several technical corrections and amendments to the regulatory texts of FMVSS Nos. 109, 110, 119, 120 and 139. For example, because a test laboratory may not be able to maintain a constant ambient temperature the agency is specifying a tolerance during certain tests. Finally, we have delayed the effective date of the upgraded tire safety requirements from June 1, 2007 until September 1, 2007. Voluntary compliance is permitted before that date.

II. Background

The Transportation Recall Enhancement, Accountability, and Documentation (TREAD) Act, Section 10, ''Endurance and resistance standards for tires,'' required NHTSA to revise and update Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) No. 109, New Pneumatic Tires, and FMVSS No. 119, New Pneumatic Tires for Vehicles Other than Passenger Cars.[1] In response to this mandate, NHTSA published a final rule on June 26, 2003, establishing a new FMVSS No. 139, New Pneumatic Radial Tires for Light Vehicles, which will apply to new tires used on light vehicles; i.e., vehicles with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or less, except motorcycles and low speed vehicles.[2]

The new standard is scheduled to become effective on June 1, 2007. It features substantially more stringent high speed and endurance tests, and a new low-pressure performance test. The purpose of the new and more stringent requirements is to improve the ability of tires to withstand the effects of tire heat build-up and severe under-inflation during highway travel in fully loaded conditions. Unlike the existing tire safety standards, which previously differentiated between light trucks and passenger cars,[3] FMVSS No. 139 applies to tires used on both.

The June 2003 final rule deferred action on proposals to revise the existing strength and bead unseating resistance tests, and to add a new tire-aging test, because the agency believed that additional research should be undertaken before reaching decision in these areas. Finally, the final rule changed the applicability of FMVSS No. 109 and FMVSS No. 119. Beginning June 1, 2007, FMVSS No. 109 would apply only to bias-ply tires and certain other specialty tires used on light vehicles. FMVSS No. 119 would apply to tires used on motorcycles, low speed vehicles, and heavy vehicles; i.e., vehicles with a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 10,000 pounds.

III. Petitions for Reconsideration

NHTSA received petitions for reconsideration of the June 2003 final rule from eight petitioners who requested that NHTSA reconsider or otherwise address 18 issues described below.[4] The petitioners were Denman Tire (Denman), the Rubber Manufacturers Association (RMA), Japan Automobile Tyre Manufacturers Association (JATMA), European Tyre and Rim Technical Organization (ETRTO), Specialty Equipment Market Association (SEMA), Alliance of Automobile Manufacturers (Alliance), Tire and Rim Association (TRA), and Strategy Safety. Two commenters, the Small Business Administration (SBA) and the Tire Industry Association (TIA) submitted letters in support of Denman's petition to exclude its tires from FMVSS No. 139. The issues or subject areas addressed by the petitioners include the following:

- RMA, ETRTO, and JATMA requested that NHTSA either redefine tire chunking or not consider tire chunking to be an indication of tire failure during endurance testing.
- Denman petitioned the agency to exclude tires manufactured in quantities of less than 15,000 tires from the requirements of FMVSS No. 139, and instead subject these tires to the requirements of FMVSS No. 119.
- RMA, ETRTO, and JATMA petitioned the agency to clarify which tire safety standard applies to spare tires.
- JATMA petitioned the agency to revise the test conditions and procedures specified for the low-pressure performance test.
- JATMA, ETRTO, and RMA petitioned the agency to include a temperature tolerance of ±3 °C to the ambient temperature of 38 °C specified for endurance and low-pressure testing of FMVSS No. 139.
- The RMA and ETRTO petitioned the agency to amend the method by which vehicle manufacturers calculate the vehicle normal load on the tire.
- Exclude ST, FI, and 8–12 rim diameter code tires.
- Definition of passenger car tire.
- RMA petitioned the agency to delete CT tires from the requirements of FMVSS No. 139 and other tire safety standards because CT tires are no longer being offered for sale in the U.S.
- Alliance petitioned the agency to change the effective date of FMVSS No. 139 from June 1, 2007 to September 1, 2007 to coincide with the traditional start of the new model year introduction.
- Allow FMVSS No. 139 tires on vehicles over 10,000 pounds.
- De-rating requirement.
- Measuring post-test inflation pressure.
- RMA petitioned the agency to correct the test pressures for LT tires with a nominal cross section larger than 295 mm.
- JATMA petitioned the agency to clarify the bead unseating test conditions for light truck tires.

IV. Discussion and Analysis

A. Endurance Test Failure Due to Tire Chunking

Under the new requirements of FMVSS No. 139, tires are subjected to endurance testing under different loading conditions at the speed of 120 km/h, for a combined duration of 34 hours. After completing the endurance test, the same tire is then subjected to a low-pressure performance test for an additional 90 minutes. S6.3.2(a) and S6.4.2(a) of FMVSS No. 139, require that when the tire is tested for endurance and low-pressure performance, ''* * * there shall be no visual evidence of tread, sidewall, ply, cord, belt or bead separation, chunking, open splices, cracking or broken cords.'' Chunking is defined as ''* * * breaking away of pieces of the tread or sidewall.''[5]

RMA, ETRTO, and JATMA requested that NHTSA either redefine tire chunking or not consider tire chunking to be an indication of tire failure during endurance testing because petitioners believe that endurance test failures due to chunking are not representative of tire failures occurring in the real world.

RMA recommended that we either delete ''chunking'' from Sections S6.3.2(a) and S6.4.2(a), or modify the definition of ''chunking'' as follows: ''Chunking means the breaking away of pieces of the tread or sidewall rubber extending to the reinforcement cord or wire material.'' That is, chunking would only be considered to occur if the breakaway pieces of tread or sidewall were deep enough to reach reinforcement cord or wire material. JATMA also asked the agency to redefine chunking such that it would be permitted for deep tread, winter type snow tires, and on light truck tires so long as it did not expose reinforcement cords.

RMA argued that chunking mostly occurs during endurance testing and is rarely experienced in the real world. RMA believes that chunking occurs in testing because the test road-wheel artificially overheats the tire by [2] 68 FR 38115; June 26, 2003.

[3] Historically, FMVSS No. 109 applied to tires for use on passenger cars and FMVSS No. 119 applied to tires for use on all other vehicles, including light trucks.

[4] To examine the petitions please see Docket No. NHTSA–03–15400 at http://dms.dot.gov/search/searchFormSimple.cfm.

[5] The existing tire safety requirements, FMVSSs No. 109 and 119, contain the same definition of ''chunking.'' Additionally, the European Union tire regulations, Economic Commission for Europe (ECE) Regulation 30 for light vehicle tires and ECE Regulation 54 for heavy vehicle tires also contain a similar definition.

deflecting the tire's outer edges.[6] This deflection occurs because the tire's contact patch flexes when contacting the curved surface of the test road-wheel, which is typically 67 inches (1.7 meters) in diameter. The difference between flat and curved surface performance increases as the tire's outside diameter increases, and/or the tread depth increases. According to RMA, this results in more energy being transferred into the tire, resulting in higher running temperatures.

According to RMA and ETRTO, the test road-wheel temperature difference is more pronounced for deep tread snow tires and certain light truck tires because deep tread snow tires depend on the traction characteristics of higher hysteretic tread compounds, molded in greater tread depth, and smaller tread blocks. These tread designs and compounds are adversely affected by the greater deflection on the road-wheel and consequently run at disproportionately higher temperatures. Petitioners argue that the resultant tread chunking is uncharacteristic of real-world tire performance.

RMA states that its members subjected 352 passenger car tires of various sizes, service descriptions, load ranges and types to endurance and low-pressure testing. We note that the duration of these tests exceeded the duration of tests specified in FMVSS No. 139 by six hours.[7] Thirteen of the 35 deep tread snow tires failed that endurance test. All 13 failures were attributed to tread chunking. Out of 129 light truck (LT) tires of various sizes, 38 tires failed the 40-hour endurance test. Tread chunking was attributed to 44 percent of failures.

After we issued the June 2003 final rule, RMA performed additional testing using the FMVSS No. 139 duration parameters.[8] The data are summarized below:

Tire type	Number tested	Number chunked	Percent failure
PC tires	157	9	6
PC snow tires	67	33	49
LT tires	87	6	7
LT snow tires	2	1	50
Total	313	49	16

* PC means passenger car.

RMA believes that the ''no chunking'' requirement penalizes larger tires because of material thickness (heavier lugs, ribs, plies, and deeper tread depth), especially at higher speed and reduced inflation pressure. The petitioners argue that the ''no chunking'' requirement will force tire manufacturers to redesign deep tread winter type snow tires and LT tires and that these tire design changes will not improve but will, to the contrary, reduce snow traction and off-road traction performance.

As an alternative to redefining chunking, petitioners suggested that the agency subject light truck tires and deep tread snow tires to the performance requirements of FMVSS No. 119, instead of FMVSS No. 139.

Agency Testing. Before issuing the June 2003 final rule, we tested a select sample of tires to assess their performance under the more stringent high-speed and endurance tests, and the new low-pressure test. Our tire sample varied not only in size, but also in price. We found that 19 out of 20 sampled tires passed all tests being contemplated by the agency. All five LT tires subjected to this testing passed. Fourteen out of 15 passenger car (PC) tires passed all the tests. One snow tire failed the endurance testing due to chunking.[9]

To address the issues raised in the petitions for reconsideration, the agency conducted additional testing on a larger sample of tires. We focused on the tires selected by vehicle manufacturers as original equipment for new light vehicles, and similar-sized tires readily available in the replacement market. We also tested certain specialty tires discussed in Section IV(B). The test results are summarized in Table I below.

In addition to FMVSS No. 139 testing, the agency performed modified testing to assess the effectiveness of cooling fans in reducing the incidence of tire chunking during testing. We used a circulating fan to simulate the airflow across the tire that would normally occur on the roadway. The addition of fan did not affect tire performance. The tires that failed FMVSS No. 139 endurance and low-pressure performance tests did not pass the modified tests.

Observations:
- Chunking: Half of the failures (19/36, 53%) were due to chunking.
- Specialty LT: All four Goodyear 31x10.50R15 passed, while all 4 Denman 31x10.50R15 failed.
- Effectiveness of fan is inconclusive: 1 Kelly-Springfield PC did better with the fan; however 1 Coker PC did better without the fan.

Transport Canada conducted testing of LT and PC snow tires to FMVSS No. 139 test requirements, except that the test speed was reduced from 120 km/h to 110 km/h. The tests were performed at the Standards Testing Labs (STL) and Smithers Scientific Services (Smithers). STL tested 13 tires and Smithers Scientific Services tested 20 tires, including six LT snow tires. Of the 13 tires tested by STL, none failed. Of the 20 tires tested by Smithers, two PC snow tires failed because of chunking.[10] The overall tire failure rate was 6%, or 2 out of 33 tires.

Agency Decision. Based on analysis of agency research and testing, as well as testing conducted by RMA and Transport Canada, we decided to amend certain performance requirements of FMVSS No. 139 as they apply to PC snow tires and LT snow tires. Specifically, we decided to reduce the endurance and low pressure performance test speeds in S6.3.1.2.3 and S6.4.2.1 from 120 km/h to 110 km/h for all PC snow tires and LT snow tires with load ranges of C, D, and E. All of the other test parameters in S6.3 and S6.4 remain unchanged.

The agency decided against eliminating ''chunking'' as a test failure condition because we did not receive data demonstrating that some fixed percentage of a tire's tread could break away without detrimental effect on safe vehicle operation.

In real world riving conditions, operating a vehicle with chunked tires creates a potential safety hazard due to wheel imbalance and vehicle vibrations. Further, allowing tread chunking just short of exposing the reinforcement cords would create an unacceptable risk of imminent tire failure. Finally, we note that international standards such as ECE R 30 and ECE R 54 also deem tire chunking to be an indication of a safety problem.

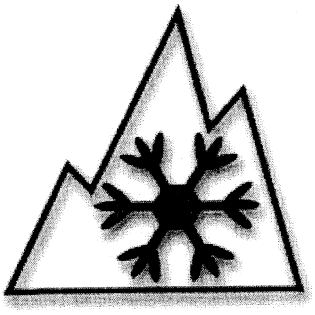
The agency believes that because of the nature of snow tire construction, the speed specified in certain current tests of FMVSS No. 139 are impracticable for special tires. Specifically, snow tires usually feature higher hysteretic tread compounds, molded in greater tread depth, and smaller tread blocks. This construction is used to provide special performance in snow conditions. These tread designs and compounds are disproportionately affected at high speeds when tested on the road wheel. The technical design challenges and the costs to redesign existing snow tires to pass the 120 km/h test would far outweigh the negligible safety benefits associated with that redesign. By reducing the endurance and low-pressure test speeds from 120 km/h to 110 km/h for all PC snow tires and LT snow tires with load ranges of C, D, and E we can ensure virtually all the safety benefits from upgrading the test speed for snow tires and eliminate practicability and cost concerns.

The agency has decided not to reduce the test speed for non-snow LT tires. These tires did not experience chunking in our tests, and we believe the higher test speed is practicable for non-snow LT tires. The test results provided by RMA also indicate that chunking occurs infrequently in non-snow LT tires when tested at speeds and duration specified in S6.3.1.2.3 and S6.4.1.2.1.

The tire industry classifies tires as ''snow tires'' if they attain a traction index equal to or greater than 110, compared to the ASTM E–1136 Standard Reference Test Tire, when using the snow traction test as described in ASTM F–1805, Standard Test Method for Single Wheel Driving Traction in a Straight Line on Snow- and Ice-Covered Surfaces. We are incorporating this voluntary consensus standard by reference in order to insure that the tires that do not attain a certain level of traction are not labeled as snow tires and subjected to less stringent testing.

In order to enable the agency to ascertain which tires are to be tested at 110 km/h, the agency is adding a labeling requirement to all PC snow tires and LT snow tires with load ranges of C, D, and E that are certified at this test speed. The manufacturers must mark their snow tires with the Alpine Symbol if they wish to certify their snow tires to the special requirements applicable to snow tires. The use of the Alpine Symbol will have the added benefit of enabling consumers to identify snow tires that provide a higher level of snow traction compared to all-season tires. However, the tire manufacturers are not obligated to do so if they wish to certify their snow tires to the normal requirements of the Standard. Thus, only the snow tires certified to the reduced test speed requirements must display an Alpine symbol (as shown below), on at least one sidewall. The symbol is currently required in Canada as a means of identifying snow tires.

[10] The two snow tires that chunked during testing at Smithers are Kumho Izen Stud (P205/75R15, 97Q) and Bridgestone Dueler DM–Z2 (P235/75R15, 105Q).



If the manufacturers choose to mark their snow tires with the Alpine Symbol, the mountain profile must have a minimum base of 15 mm and a minimum height of 15 mm, and must contain three peaks with the middle peak being the tallest. Inside the mountain profile, there must be a six-sided snowflake having a minimum height of one-half the tallest peak.

B. Deep Tread LT Specialty Tires

Denman produces Radial Deep Tread On-road/Off-road LT specialty radial tires (deep tread tires) used for significant off-road operations necessitating extended mobility on harsh terrain. Denman petitioned the agency to exclude these deep tread tires from the requirements of FMVSS 139 because the costs of compliance testing and certification would, according to the petitioner, cause it to go out of business. Instead, Denman asked that the agency subject their deep tread tires to the less stringent requirements of FMVSS No. 109 or FMVSS No. 119. The agency received letters from the U.S. Congress, the Small Business Administration, the Tire Industry Association and SEMA in support of Denman's petition.

Denman stated it has not tested any of their deep tread tires to the new requirements of FMVSS No. 139, because such tests are cost prohibitive. Denman argued that when issuing the June 2003 final rule, the agency excluded bias-ply tires for the reasons of practicability, and the same rationale should exclude their deep tread tires from the requirements of FMVSS No. 139. Denman argued that mandating more stringent and expensive tire performance requirements for specialty deep tread radial tires, but not for bias ply tires would encourage manufacturing of bias ply deep tread tires instead of deep tread radial tires. Denman recommended that NHTSA exclude radial tires with a 20/32-inch tread depth or greater and a rubber-to-void ratio of 2/3 or lower.

Agency Testing and Research

Because there is no standard industry definition of rubber-to-void ratio, the agency has decided to consider only the tread depth, which is an easily measured parameter, in addressing the issues raised by the Denman petition.

NHTSA tested sixteen of Denman's deep tread tires (≥ 18/32 inch tread depth) to the FMVSS No. 139 performance parameters. Our test results showed a higher failure rate for deep tread tires compared to the failure rates for original equipment non-deep tread tires. We believe the deep tread tires experienced chunking because of their tread depth. The results are as follows:

Type of test	Number of Denman tires tested	Number and percentage of Denman tires that passed
FMVSS No. 139 endurance and low-pressure tests	8	2 (25%)
FMVSS No. 139 high speed test	5	2 (40%)
FMVSS No. 119 endurance test	3	3 (100%)

Our research indicates that, with one exception,[11] vehicle manufacturers typically do not install tires with tread depth exceeding 18/32 inches on their vehicles either as standard or optional equipment.

Agency Decision

Based agency testing and analysis, we believe that a number of the requirements in FMVSS No. 139 are impracticable for deep tread specialty tires with tread depth of at least 18/32 inches. Because the thickness of the tread rubber of these tires causes higher tire temperatures, we believe that it is more appropriate to subject these tires to the requirements of FMVSS No. 119.[12] We note that in a letter to the agency on October 4, 2004, RMA provided endurance test results on 16 deep tread tires with tread depths of 18/32-inch or greater; 62 percent (10 of 16) failed due to chunking. The agency believes that any potential countermeasures could be cost prohibitive, and could also negatively impact the utility of deep tread tires, which serve a special purpose of providing increased navigational capabilities for vehicles used off-road.

C. Tire Conditioning Prior to Low Pressure Performance Test

JATMA petitioned the agency to revise the test conditions and procedures specified for the low pressure performance test such that at the completion of the endurance test, all hot air would be purged from the test tire and refilled with cold air before beginning the low-pressure test. JATMA did not provide a rationale or data supporting this recommendation, but its petition suggests that the tire would cool down quicker if purged of its hot air and refilled with cold air.

The agency believes that complete deflation and re-inflation of the test tire is unnecessary. Instead, in order to ensure that the tire is sufficiently cooled-off after completion of the endurance test, we are amending the low-pressure test conditions and procedures to specify that the tire is conditioned for a period of at least 3 hours prior to beginning the low-pressure test.[13]

D. Test Temperature Tolerance

JATMA, ETRTO, and RMA petitioned the agency to include a temperature tolerance of ± 3 °C to the ambient temperature of 38 °C specified for endurance and low-pressure testing of FMVSS No. 139. The petitioners note that this tolerance is currently specified in FMVSS No. 109. The RMA also petitioned the agency to lower the ambient temperature for the tire dimensions test since this test is typically performed in an area with an ambient of 20 °C–30 °C.

Because a test laboratory may not be able to maintain a constant ambient temperature of 38 °C, the agency is specifying a tolerance of +0 °C, −6 °C. That is, the tires subject to the high speed, endurance, and low pressure performance tests of FMVSS No. 139 must meet the applicable requirements at the full range of temperatures between 32 °C and 38 °C. For the tire dimensions test, the agency is specifying an ambient room temperature of 20 °C to 30 °C.

E. Calculation of Vehicle Normal Load

RMA and ETRTO petitioned the agency to amend the method by which vehicle manufacturers calculate the vehicle normal load on the tire, as specified by S4.2.1.2, S4.2.2.2 and S4.2.2.3 of FMVSS No. 110.

[11] Jeep Wrangler Rubicon is equipped with 245/75R16 Goodyear Wrangler MT/R tires with a tread depth of 19/32 inches.

[12] FMVSS No. 119 endurance test for load range E tires is conducted at 40 mph at loading conditions of 70 percent/88 percent/106 percent for 47 hours (7/16/24 hours) at an inflation pressure corresponding to the maximum load rating marked on the tire sidewall.

[13] The agency has also amended the conditioning procedure which precedes the endurance testing by adding a tolerance of ± 5 minutes.

Specifically, the petitioners suggested that the vehicle normal load on the tire should not exceed 88 percent of tire maximum load.

The agency revised the definition of vehicle normal load to change the frame of reference from a percentage of the tire's maximum load to the percentage of the tire's load at the manufacturer's recommended tire pressure. Specifically, the normal load is defined as 94 percent of the vehicle manufacturer's recommended cold inflation pressure.

We believe that it is not appropriate to define normal load as 88% of maximum load rating because the manufacturer's recommended tire pressure for some vehicles equipped with, for example, LT load range E tires, could be far below their maximum inflation pressure. If we were to require normal load calculation based on the maximum inflation pressure, the normal load calculation would be different. Accordingly, the agency is denying the petitioner's request.

F. Time Limit for Measuring Post-Test Inflation Pressure

RMA and ETRTO petitioned the agency to amend the time limit for checking post-test inflation pressure from ''at least one hour'' to ''at least 15 minutes after the end of the test.'' [14] RMA explained that when post-test time period exceeds one hour, inflation pressure in the tires often falls below pre-test levels. Petitioners argue that the tire inflation pressure should be measured when the tire temperature has stabilized, which occurs within one hour, but not sooner than 15 minutes.

In the June 2003 final rule, the agency specified that all post-test pressure measurements be taken at least one hour after the test is completed. We indicated that the one-hour period provides a sufficient time for tire cooling and would prevent superficially high tire temperatures from masking test-induced pressure losses that would not be detectable at an earlier time. Further, this time period reduces the risk of tire explosion, which RMA stated could occur if tire pressure measurement was taken immediately after testing.

The agency is amending the time limit for post-test pressure measurement from ''at least one hour'' to ''at any time between 15 minutes and 25 minutes'' after the tests are completed. This change ensures that the pressure measurement does not occur after 25 minutes have elapsed. For tires known to retain more heat and therefore, higher inflation pressure, the change offers enough flexibility to allow measurement after the 15 minute time period, in order to address technician safety. The agency believes that if a rapid loss of pressure to a level below the initial test pressure is to occur, it is likely to occur during the test or within the first 15 minutes after the end of the test. Thus, this change will not affect the stringency of the upgraded tire safety performance requirements.

G. Permissible Level of Tire Pressure Loss

RMA and ETRTO petitioned the agency to amend FMVSS No. 139 to allow for a pressure loss of not greater than 10 percent below the initial test pressure. Petitioners noted that small air losses occur during and after tests as a result of air diffusion through the tire casing. Further, some air also escapes during pressure measurement. According to the petitioners, additional variability factors could include tire pressure gauge accuracy, and the ''initial break-in'' factor; i.e. testing of new tires could result in some small mechanical growth of the tire casing (increase in pressure vessel volume). As a result, some post-test tire pressure measurements will show small pressure losses below the initial test pressure, which should not be indicative of tire failure. RMA suggested that a minimum permissible tire pressure loss criteria be specified.

RMA submitted information, data, and graphs on its testing by RMA member companies. A total of 313 tires (224 passenger car and 89 light truck tires) were tested to the FMVSS No. 139 endurance and low pressure performance tests. Of the 313 tires tested, 42 percent (133) experienced pressure loss per the FMVSS No. 139 conditions and procedures. The loss of pressure was attributed to the longer cool-down time periods addressed above. RMA stated that the 42 percent estimate could be higher as some tire manufacturers did not report pressure loss data to the RMA.

The agency agrees that some small mechanical growth of the tire casing could occur during the initial break-in of new tires, which could result in post-test pressures being slightly lower than the initial test pressure once the tire has cooled to ambient temperature. Although our testing did not show significant losses in tire pressure at 15 to 25 minutes after the completion of endurance and low-pressure testing, we believe that it is reasonable to allow for a nominal amount of post-test pressure drop. Accordingly, the agency will require that the post-test pressure loss be no greater than 5% of the specified initial inflation pressure.

V. Miscellaneous Issues and Technical Corrections to the Regulatory Text

1. JATMA, ETRTO, RMA petitioned the agency to remove references to T-Type spare tires from S6.1.1.1.2 of FMVSS No. 139. Petitioners noted that footnote 38 of the June 2003 final rule indicated that temporary spare tires would not be subject to the requirements of FMVSS No. 139.[15]

The agency did not intend to subject T-Type temporary spare tires to the requirements of FMVSS No. 139. Therefore, NHTSA is amending the regulatory text of FMVSS No. 139 to remove references to T-Type temporary spare tires.

2. The RMA and ETRTO petitioned the agency to replace the term ''P-metric'' with the term ''passenger car'' in the regulatory text of FMVSS Nos. 109, 110 and 139. The RMA stated that using ''P-metric'' as a generic term for ''passenger car'' tires is not correct since the use of this terminology could exclude ''Hard'' metric or any other radial passenger car tire that does not have ''P-metric'' size designation.

NHTSA has reviewed the tire industry Year Books (TRA, JATMA, and ETRTO) and notes that tires used on passenger cars are referred to as ''passenger car'' tires and not ''P-metric'' tires.[16] Therefore, the agency is amending the regulatory text of the relevant tire safety standards by removing references to ''P-metric tires'' where it is more appropriate to use the term ''passenger car.'' In conjunction with this change, we are adding a definition of passenger car tires to FMVSS No. 139.

3. Alliance petitioned the agency to amend FMVSS No. 120 to allow the use of tires meeting FMVSS 139 in addition to those meeting FMVSS No. 119 for vehicles with a GVWR over 10,000 pounds.

The agency agrees that FMVSS No. 120 should allow the use of tires that comply with FMVSS No. 139. For example, LT tires with a load range E are sometimes used on vehicles with a GVWR below 10,000 pounds. Since FMVSS No. 139 applies to LT tires load range E tires, a reference to this standard should have been included in S5.1.1 of FMVSS No. 120. NHTSA believes this reference was inadvertently omitted from the June 2003 final rule.

[14] See Docket No. NHTSA–2003–15400–23.

[15] See 68 FR 38116 at 38145.

[16] The TRA Year Book states that the prefix, ''P'', when used in tire size designations identifies a tire primarily intended for service on passenger cars. In addition to the P-Type passenger car tires, the Year Book also includes information on T-Type passenger car tires and other passenger car tires.

Accordingly, the agency is amending the regulatory text of S5.1.1 of FMVSS No. 120 to add a reference to FMVSS No. 139.

4. RMA, TRA, and ETRTO petitioned the agency to amend the ''application'' sections of FMVSS No. 119, ''New pneumatic tires for vehicles other than passenger cars,'' to indicate that it applies to Special Trailer (ST), Farm Implement (FI), and 8–12 rim diameter code and below tires. We note that in the June 2003 final rule, the agency decided to exclude bias, ST, FI, and 8–12 rim diameter tires from the requirements of FMVSS No. 139 and indicated that they would remain subject to the requirements of FMVSS Nos. 109 and 119.[17] However, the petitioners indicate that all such tires have been, and remain subject to only FMVSS No. 119 because they are not used on passenger cars.

The agency is amending the application sections of FMVSS Nos. 109, 119, and 139 in order to clarify that ST, FI, and 8–12 rim diameter code and below tires are subject to the requirements of FMVSS No. 119.

5. When a passenger car tire is installed on a traditionally heavier vehicle such as an MPV, truck, bus, or trailer, the normal load rating is ''de-rated'' by a factor of 1.10. That is, the normal load rating is reduced by dividing it by 1.10. The Alliance petitioned the agency to clarify that the de-rating requirement in FMVSS No. 120 applies only to passenger car tires, and not to all tires.

The agency intended to apply the 1.10 de-rating requirement in FMVSS No. 120 only to passenger car tires when installed on vehicles other than passenger cars. The agency did not intend to subject other tires to the same requirements. Accordingly, the agency is amending S5.1.2 of FMVSS No. 120 to clarify the application of the de-rating requirement.

6. Safety Research and Strategies (SRS) submitted comments urging the agency to address tire aging.[18] In short, SRS is asking the agency to require that tires be labeled with an ''expiration date'' that would inform consumers that their tires are no longer safe after an X number of years have elapsed since their manufacture.

The agency is currently conducting research on tire aging. When this research is complete, the agency will decide how to proceed.

7. This document amends the titles to FMVSS No. 109 and FMVSS No. 139 to more accurately reflect their application. The new titles read as follows: § 571.109—Standard No. 109—New pneumatic and certain specialty tires, and § 571.139—Standard No. 139—New pneumatic radial tires for light vehicles.

8. This document amends the table located below Figure 1 in FMVSS No. 109 to add a 20 rim diameter code because the Tire & Rim Association's 2003 and newer Yearbooks now include LT tires of that size.

9. ETRTO and RMA petitioned the agency to remove references to CT Tires from FMVSS No. 139 because CT tires are not being manufactured for sale or distribution in the United States.[19] The petitioners also indicated that this tire type is being withdrawn as an active classification in the ETRTO Standards Manual.

This rule amends FMVSS No. 139 by removing references to CT tires because these tires are not being sold in the United States.

10. RMA and ETRTO petitioned the agency to amend Tables I and II in FMVSS No. 119. Specifically, the petitioners requested that Table I include the plunger diameter for motorcycles. The petitioners also requested that Table II include the minimum static breaking energies for load ranges ''A'' through ''E'' tires used on 12 rim diameter code or smaller, and light truck tires, because FMVSS No. 119 applies to these types of tires.

NHTSA agrees with the petitioners that Tables I and II of FMVSS No. 119 should be revised to reflect the change in applicability of FMVSS No. 119. The agency has retained the current strength requirements of FMVSS No. 119 but since LT load range C, D, and E tires are now subject to the requirements of FMVSS No. 139, the tables need to reflect this change.

11. RMA petitioned the agency to correct the test pressures for LT tires with a nominal cross section larger than 295 mm. The petitioner indicated that these tires, as shown in the Tire and Rim Association Year Book, have a lower inflation pressure to attain the load range C, D, or E maximum load limits and do not follow the normal load range C, D, and E inflation pressures for tire maximum load limits. Therefore, to ensure that all LT tires within a single load range category are subject to the same level of performance requirements, the petitioners recommend that FMVSS No. 139 be amended to specify correct inflation pressures for these tires.

NHTSA agrees with the petitioner that LT tires with a nominal cross section greater than 295 mm have a different load range for the same maximum inflation pressure as tires equal to or less than 295 mm wide and therefore amend S6.2.1.1.1, S6.3.1.1.1 and S6.4.1.1.1 accordingly.

12. JATMA petitioned the agency to clarify the bead unseating test conditions (inflation pressure and dimension ''A'') for light truck tires, since they were not stipulated in the June 2003 final rule. The current requirement in FMVSS No. 139, S6.6, reference FMVSS No. 109, which does not include test parameters for LT tires.

We are amending the regulatory text to specify the test inflation pressure for the LT tires undergoing resistance to bead unseating test. The pressure is the same for the endurance test. The dimension ''A'' parameters are the same as those specified in FMVSS No. 109.

VI. Effective Date

Alliance petitioned the agency to change the effective date of FMVSS No. 139 from June 1, 2007 to September 1, 2007 to coincide with the traditional start of the new model year introduction. Petitioners argue that an effective date of September 1, 2007 would help in the transition from the 2007 to 2008 model year. RMA petitioned the agency to extend the effective date for an additional 2 years to 2009 arguing that tire manufacturers are waiting for the agency's response to petitions for reconsideration.

In light of potential impact of mid-model year introduction of a new set of requirements, the agency is delaying the effective date of FMVSS No. 139 until September 1, 2007. Furthermore, we are delaying the effective date of applicability of FMVSS No. 139 to snow tires until September 1, 2008 because of changes to snow tire construction that may be necessitated by the more stringent performance requirements. However, we believe that a two-year delay in the effective date, as requested by the RMA is unwarranted. As indicated in 49 CFR § 553.35(d) a petition for reconsideration does not stay the effectiveness of the rule. Therefore, the manufacturers need to continue their efforts to comply with the new requirements while their petitions are being considered.

VII. Rulemaking Notices and Analyses

A. Executive Order 12866 and DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures

Executive Order 12866, ''Regulatory Planning and Review'' (58 FR 51735,

[17] See 68 FR 38116 at 38141.

[19] CT means a pneumatic tire with an inverted flange tire and rim system in which the rim is designed with rim flanges pointed radially inward and the tire is designed to fit on the underside of the rim in a manner that encloses the rim flanges inside the air cavity of the tire.

October 4, 1993), provides for making determinations whether a regulatory action is ''significant'' and therefore subject to Office of Management and Budget (OMB) review and to the requirements of the Executive Order. The Order defines a ''significant regulatory action'' as one that is likely to result in a rule that may:

(1) Have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more or adversely affect in a material way the economy, a sector of the economy, productivity, competition, jobs, the environment, public health or safety, or State, local, or Tribal governments or communities;

(2) Create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency;

(3) Materially alter the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; or

(4) Raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President's priorities, or the principles set forth in the Executive Order.

This rulemaking action was not reviewed under Executive Order 12866. The rulemaking action is not significant under Department of Transportation regulatory policies and procedures. The agency is modifying certain performance requirements to better address snow tires and certain deep tread specialty tires. The effect of this change is a decreased regulatory burden on manufacturers of snow tires and deep tread specialty tires through more practicable tire safety performance requirements. This final rule also makes a number of technical corrections to the regulatory text of all Federal tire safety regulations. This action will not affect the impacts estimated in the final regulatory evaluation for the June 2003 final rule.

B. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. § 601 et seq.) requires agencies to evaluate the potential effects of their proposed and final rules on small business, small organizations and small governmental jurisdictions. I hereby certify that this rulemaking action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

This document decreases the regulatory burden on small entities by subjecting the specially manufactured deep-tread tires to more practicable tire safety performance requirements. According to the petitioners and the Small Business Administration, this rulemaking action will result in substantial cost savings for the one small business that petitioned the agency to amend our regulations.

C. National Environmental Policy Act

NHTSA has analyzed this document for the purposes of the National Environmental Policy Act. The agency has determined that implementation of this rulemaking action does not have any significant impact on the quality of the human environment.

D. Executive Order 13132 (Federalism)

The agency has analyzed this rulemaking in accordance with the principles and criteria contained in Executive Order 13132 and has determined that it does not have sufficient federal implications to warrant consultation with State and local officials or the preparation of a federalism summary impact statement. The final rule does not have any substantial impact on the States, or on the current Federal-State relationship, or on the current distribution of power and responsibilities among the various local officials.

E. Unfunded Mandates Act

The Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 requires agencies to prepare a written assessment of the costs, benefits and other effects of proposed or final rules that include a Federal mandate likely to result in the expenditure by State, local or tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of more than $100 million annually ($120.7 million as adjusted annually for inflation with base year of 1995).

The agency previously estimated that the June 2003 final rule establishing more stringent tire performance requirements was likely to result in the expenditure by automobile manufacturers and/or tire manufacturers of more than $109 million annually.[20]

This document amends certain performance requirements to better address snow tires and certain specialty tires. This final rule also makes a number of technical corrections to the regulatory text of all Federal tire safety regulations. The effect of these changes is a decreased regulatory burden on manufacturers of snow tires and certain other specialty tires. Accordingly, this rulemaking action will not result in expenditures by State, local or tribal governments of more than $120 million annually. Further this rulemaking action will not result in private sector expenditure of more than $120 million annually.

F. Civil Justice Reform

This final rule does not have any retroactive effect. Under 49 U.S.C. 21403, whenever a Federal motor vehicle safety standard is in effect, a State may not adopt or maintain a safety standard applicable to the same aspect of performance which is not identical to the Federal standard, except to the extent that the state requirement imposes a higher level of performance and applies only to vehicles procured for the State's use. 49 U.S.C. 21461 sets forth a procedure for judicial review of final rules establishing, amending or revoking Federal motor vehicle safety standards. That section does not require submission of a petition for reconsideration or other administrative proceedings before parties may file suit in court.

G. Paperwork Reduction Act

Under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA) (44 U.S.C. 3501, et. seq.), Federal agencies must obtain approval from the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for each ''collection of information'' they conduct, sponsor, or require through regulations. NHTSA has reviewed this final rule and determined that it does not contain collection of information requirements.

In order to enable the agency to ascertain which tires are to be tested to less stringent requirements, the agency is adding a labeling requirement to all PC snow tires and LT snow tires with load ranges of C, D, and E that are certified under the less stringent requirements. The manufacturers must mark their snow tires with the Alpine Symbol described in Section IV(A), if they wish to certify their snow tires to the requirements applicable to snow tires. However, the tire manufacturers are not obligated to do so if they wish to certify their snow tires to the normal requirements of the Standard. Thus, only the snow tires certified to the reduced test speed requirements must display an Alpine symbol (as shown below), on at least one sidewall. The use of the Alpine Symbol will have the added benefit of enabling consumers to identify snow tires that provide a higher level of snow traction compared to all-season tires.

Under CFR 1320.3(h)(1), ''information'' does not generally include certifications such as that described in the previous paragraph, which only identify tires certified to the less stringent requirements.

H. Privacy Act

Anyone is able to search the electronic form of all comments received into any of our dockets by the name of the individual submitting the comment (or signing the comment, if submitted on behalf of an association, business, labor union, etc.). § 571.120—Standard No. 120—Tire selection and rims for motor vehicles with a GVWR of more than 4,536 kilograms (10,000 pounds).

S5.1.1 Except as specified in S5.1.3, each vehicle equipped with pneumatic tires for highway service shall be equipped with tires that meet the requirements of § 571.109, § 571.119 or § 571.139, and rims that are listed by the manufacturer of the tires as suitable for use with those tires, in accordance with S4.4 of § 571.109 or S5.1 of § 571.119, as applicable, except that vehicles may be equipped with a non-pneumatic spare tire assembly that meets the requirements of § 571.129, New non-pneumatic tires for passenger cars, and S8 of this standard. Vehicles equipped with such an assembly shall meet the requirements of S5.3.3, S7, and S9 of this standard.

S5.1.2 Except in the case of a vehicle which has a speed attainable in 3.2 kilometers of 80 kilometers per hour or less, the sum of the maximum load ratings of the tires fitted to an axle shall be not less than the gross axle weight rating (GAWR) of the axle system as specified on the vehicle's certification label required by 49 CFR part 567. Except in the case of a vehicle which has a speed attainable in 2 miles of 50 mph or less, the sum of the maximum load ratings of the tires fitted to an axle shall be not less than the gross axle weight rating (GAWR) of the axle system as specified on the vehicle's certification label required by 49 CFR part 567. If the certification label shows more than one GAWR for the axle system, the sum shall be not less than the GAWR corresponding to the size designation of the tires fitted to the axle. If the size designation of the tires fitted to the axle does not appear on the certification label, the sum shall be not less than the lowest GAWR appearing on the label. When a passenger car tire is installed on a multipurpose passenger vehicle, truck, bus, or trailer, the tire's load rating shall be reduced by dividing by 1.10 before calculating the sum (i.e., the sum of the load ratings of the tires on each axle, when the tires' load carrying capacity at the recommended tire cold inflation pressure is reduced by dividing by 1.10, must be appropriate for the GAWR).

trucks, that have a gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR) of 10,000 pounds or less.

Snow tire means a tire that attains a traction index equal to or greater than 110, compared to the ASTM E–1136 Standard Reference Test Tire, when using the snow traction test as described in ASTM F–1805–00, Standard Test Method for Single Wheel Driving Traction in a Straight Line on Snow- and Ice-Covered Surfaces, and which is marked with an Alpine Symbol specified in S5.5 (i) on at least one sidewall.

* * * * *

* * * * *

(i) Alpine Symbol. A tire meeting the definition of a snow tire as defined in paragraph S3 may, at the option of the manufacturer, show the pictograph of a mountain with a snowflake as shown below. If the manufacturer chooses to mark the snow tire with the alpine symbol, the mountain profile must have a minimum base of 15 mm and a minimum height of 15 mm, and must contain three peaks with the middle peak being the tallest. Inside the mountain, there must be a six-sided snowflake having a minimum height of one-half the tallest peak.

The Proposal

The FAA is considering an amendment to 14 CFR part 71 by modifying the Class E airspace area at Palm Springs International Airport, Palm Springs, CA. The establishment of a RNAV (RNP) Y IAP to RWY 13R at Palm Springs International Airport has made this proposal necessary. Additional controlled airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface is needed to contain aircraft executing the RNAV (RNP) Y IAP to RWY 13R at Palm Springs International Airport has made this proposal necessary. The intended effect of this proposal is to provide adequate controlled airspace for aircraft executing the RNAV (RNP) Y IAP to RWY 13R at Palm Springs International Airport, Palm Springs, CA. Class E airspace designations are published in paragraph 6005 of FAA Order 7400.9N dated September 1, 2005, and effective September 16, 2005, which is incorporated by reference in 14 CFR 71.1. The Class E airspace designation listed in this document would be published subsequently in this Order.

The FAA has determined that this proposed regulation only involves an established body of technical regualtions for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. Therefore, this proposed regualtion—(1) Is not a ''significant regulatory action'' under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a ''significant rule'' under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034, February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this proposed rule would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On March 28, 2005, the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality submitted a SIP revision approval request entitled, ''NSR in the Ozone Transport Region (OTR).'' The applicable regulations requiring implementation of nonattainment NSR in the Virginia portion of the OTR were adopted by the Virginia State Air Pollution Control Board on September 29, 2004.

I. Background

The Clean Air Act requires that 13 states including the District of Columbia submit revisions to their State Implementation Plans that will require major new and major modified sources of volatile organic compounds (VOC) or nitrogen oxides (NO_X) to meet certain new source review (NSR) requirements if they are located (or are proposing to locate) in the Ozone Transport Region.

Section 184 of the Act establishes the OTR, which consists of the states of Connecticut, Delaware, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and the Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Area that includes the District of Columbia and portions of Virginia. The areas designated as in the Virginia portion of the OTR are as follows: Arlington County, Fairfax County, Loudoun County, Prince William County, Stafford County, Alexandria

City, Fairfax City, Falls Church City, Manassas City, and Manassas Park City.

II. Summary of SIP Revision

The Commonwealth of Virginia amended its regulations to clarify that areas located in the Virginia portion of the OTR must meet the requirements of Virginia Code Article 9 VAC 5 Chapter 80 (Permits for Major Stationary Sources and Major Modifications Locating in Nonattainment Areas) as if they were classified as moderate nonattainment for ozone, except that the threshold for major stationary sources of VOCs would be 50 tons instead of 100 tons. The changes that are reflected in this requested SIP revision are those that identify and define the OTR locations in Virginia while providing direction to what State regulations sources will need to follow when they are either planning to locate in or are already located in the Virginia portion of the OTR. Changes were made to the State provisions at 9 VAC 5–80–2000, Applicability and 9 VAC 5–80–2010, Definitions.

Sources in the Virginia portion of the OTR are also required to meet offset requirements in 9 VAC 5–80–2120 B 2 for areas classified as moderate nonattainment for ozone. These provisions require all increases of VOC and/or NO_X emissions attributable to the new or modified source to be offset with emission reductions elsewhere in the Virginia portion of the OTR at a ratio of 1.15 to 1.00.

The SIP revision will amend the SIP to add new regulatory language indicating that sources in the Virginia portion of the OTR are subject to the requirements of 9 VAC 5–80–2000, et seq. regardless of the nonattainment status of the area where the source is located. The SIP revision also provides that sources located or planning to locate in areas within the OTR that are classified as ''serious'' or ''severe'' nonattainment areas are required to meet the respective emission thresholds listed within the State's definition of a ''major stationary source'' at 9 VAC 5–80–2010 C Section a(1) and (2) and the more restrictive offset requirements located in 9 VAC 5–80–2120 B 3 and B 4, respectively.

III. General Information Pertaining to SIP Submittals From the Commonwealth of Virginia

In 1995, Virginia adopted legislation that provides, subject to certain conditions, for an environmental assessment (audit) ''privilege'' for voluntary compliance evaluations performed by a regulated entity. The legislation further addresses the relative burden of proof for parties either asserting the privilege or seeking disclosure of documents for which the privilege is claimed. Virginia's legislation also provides, subject to certain conditions, for a penalty waiver for violations of environmental laws when a regulated entity discovers such violations pursuant to a voluntary compliance evaluation and voluntarily discloses such violations to the Commonwealth and takes prompt and appropriate measures to remedy the violations. Virginia's Voluntary Environmental Assessment Privilege Law, Va. Code Sec. 10.1–1198, provides a privilege that protects from disclosure documents and information about the content of those documents that are the product of a voluntary environmental assessment. The Privilege Law does not extend to documents or information (1) that are generated or developed before the commencement of a voluntary environmental assessment; (2) that are prepared independently of the assessment process; (3) that demonstrate a clear, imminent and substantial danger to the public health or environment; or (4) that are required by law.

On January 12, 1998, the Commonwealth of Virginia Office of the Attorney General provided a legal opinion that states that the Privilege law, Va. Code Sec. 10.1–1198, precludes granting a privilege to documents and information ''required by law,'' including documents and information ''required by Federal law to maintain program delegation, authorization or approval,'' since Virginia must ''enforce Federally authorized environmental programs in a manner that is no less stringent than their Federal counterparts * * *.'' The opinion concludes that ''[r]egarding § 10.1–1198, therefore, documents or other information needed for civil or criminal enforcement under one of these programs could not be privileged because such documents and information are essential to pursuing enforcement in a manner required by Federal law to maintain program delegation, authorization or approval.''

Virginia's Immunity law, Va. Code Sec. 10.1–1199, provides that ''[t]o the extent consistent with requirements imposed by Federal law,'' any person making a voluntary disclosure of information to a state agency regarding a violation of an environmental statute, regulation, permit, or administrative order is granted immunity from administrative or civil penalty. The Attorney General's January 12, 1998 opinion states that the quoted language renders this statute inapplicable to enforcement of any Federally authorized programs, since ''no immunity could be afforded from administrative, civil, or criminal penalties because granting such immunity would not be consistent with Federal law, which is one of the criteria for immunity.'' Therefore, EPA has determined that Virginia's Privilege and Immunity statutes will not preclude the Commonwealth from enforcing its NSR program consistent with the Federal requirements. In any event, because EPA has also determined that a state audit privilege and immunity law can affect only state enforcement and cannot have any impact on Federal enforcement authorities, EPA may at any time invoke its authority under the Clean Air Act, including, for example, sections 113, 167, 205, 211 or 213, to enforce the requirements or prohibitions of the state plan, independently of any state enforcement effort. In addition, citizen enforcement under section 304 of the Clean Air Act is likewise unaffected by this, or any, state audit privilege or immunity law.

IV. Proposed Action

EPA's review of this material indicates this action will have a beneficial effect on air quality by reducing emissions in the Ozone Transport Region. EPA is proposing to approve the Virginia SIP revision for NSR in the Ozone Transport Region, which was submitted on March 28, 2005. EPA is soliciting public comments on the issues discussed in this document. These comments will be considered before taking final action.

V. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), this proposed action is not a ''significant regulatory action'' and therefore is not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget. For this reason, this action is also not subject to Executive Order 13211, ''Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use'' (66 FR 28355 (May 22, 2001)). This action merely proposes to approve state law as meeting Federal requirements and imposes no additional requirements beyond those imposed by state law. Accordingly, the Administrator certifies that this proposed rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). Because this rule proposes to approve pre-existing requirements under state law and does not impose any additional enforceable duty beyond that required by state law, it does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104–4). This proposed rule also does not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000), nor will it have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999), because it merely proposes to approve a state rule implementing a Federal requirement, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power and responsibilities established in the Clean Air Act. This proposed rule also is not subject to Executive Order 13045 (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), because it is not economically significant.

In reviewing SIP submissions, EPA's role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the Clean Air Act. In this context, in the absence of a prior existing requirement for the State to use voluntary consensus standards (VCS), EPA has no authority to disapprove a SIP submission for failure to use VCS. It would thus be inconsistent with applicable law for EPA, when it reviews a SIP submission, to use VCS in place of a SIP submission that otherwise satisfies the provisions of the Clean Air Act. Thus, the requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) do not apply. As required by section 3 of Executive Order 12988 (61 FR 4729, February 7, 1996), in issuing this proposed rule, EPA has taken the necessary steps to eliminate drafting errors and ambiguity, minimize potential litigation, and provide a clear legal standard for affected conduct. EPA has complied with Executive Order 12630 (53 FR 8859, March 15, 1988) by examining the takings implications of the rule in accordance with the ''Attorney General's Supplemental Guidelines for the Evaluation of Risk and Avoidance of Unanticipated Takings'' issued under the executive order. This proposed rule, to approve the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality State Implementation Plan revision request requiring implementation of NSR in the Virginia portion of the Ozone Transport Region, does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

In 1997, EPA adopted an 8-hour ozone national ambient air quality standard (NAAQS) with a level of 0.08 parts per million (ppm) to provide greater protection to public health than the previous standard of 0.12 ppm averaged over a 1-hour block of time (62 FR 38894, July 18, 1997). At the same time, EPA established a new standard for fine particulate matter ($PM_{2.5}$) that applies to particles 2.5 microns in diameter or less (62 FR 38711, July 18, 1997). These standards became effective on September 16, 1997 and are located in 40 CFR part 50.

On September 26, 2005, the Commonwealth submitted a SIP revision that amends the existing Virginia Regulations for the Control and Abatement of Air Pollution (9 VAC 5 Chapter 30, Ambient Air Quality Standards). This amendment includes the NAAQS for the 8-hour ozone and $PM_{2.5}$, as well as general revisions to the Commonwealth's regulations consistent with 40 CFR part 50.

II. Summary of SIP Revision

The Commonwealth's revision incorporates the 1997 NAAQS for the 8-hour ozone and $PM_{2.5}$ standards into 9 VAC 5 Chapter 30. This SIP revision provides that the 8-hour primary and secondary ozone ambient air quality standards are met when the average of the fourth highest daily maximum 8-hour average ozone concentration is less than or equal to 0.08 ppm, averaged over three consecutive years. In addition, the SIP revision adds a new $PM_{2.5}$ ambient air quality standard. The standards incorporated in this SIP revision are 65 micrograms per cubic meter based on a 24-hour average concentration and 15.0 micrograms per cubic meter annual arithmetic mean concentration.

The other SIP revisions incorporated into 9 VAC 5 Chapter 30, are amendments to the ambient air quality standards for sulfur dioxide, carbon monoxide, ozone (1-hour), PM_{10}, nitrogen dioxide, and lead, to make the state regulation consistent with 40 CFR part 50.

III. General Information Pertaining to SIP Submittals From the Commonwealth of Virginia

In 1995, Virginia adopted legislation that provides, subject to certain conditions, for an environmental assessment (audit) ''privilege''' for voluntary compliance evaluations performed by a regulated entity. The legislation further addresses the relative burden of proof for parties either asserting the privilege or seeking disclosure of documents for which the privilege is claimed. Virginia's legislation also provides, subject to certain conditions, for a penalty waiver for violations of environmental laws when a regulated entity discovers such violations pursuant to a voluntary compliance evaluation and voluntarily discloses such violations to the Commonwealth and takes prompt and appropriate measures to remedy the violations. Virginia's Voluntary Environmental Assessment Privilege Law, Va. Code Sec. 10.1–1198, provides a privilege that protects from disclosure documents and information about the content of those documents that are the product of a voluntary environmental assessment. The Privilege Law does not extend to documents or information (1) that is generated or developed before the commencement of a voluntary environmental assessment; (2) that is prepared independently of the assessment process; (3) that demonstrates a clear, imminent and substantial danger to the public health or environment; or (4) that is required by law.

On January 12, 1998, the Commonwealth of Virginia Office of the Attorney General provided a legal opinion that states that the Privilege Law, Va. Code Sec. 10.1–1198, precludes granting a privilege to documents and information ''required by law,'' including documents and information ''required by Federal law to maintain program delegation, authorization or approval,'' since Virginia must ''enforce Federally authorized environmental programs in a manner that is no less stringent than their Federal counterparts. * * *'' The opinion concludes that ''[r]egarding § 10.1–1198, therefore, documents or other information needed for civil or criminal enforcement under one of these programs could not be privileged because such documents and information are essential to pursuing enforcement in a manner required by Federal law to maintain program delegation, authorization or approval.''

Virginia's Immunity law, Va. Code Sec. 10.1–1199, provides that ''[t]o the extent consistent with requirements imposed by Federal law,'' any person making a voluntary disclosure of information to a state agency regarding a violation of an environmental statute, regulation, permit, or administrative order is granted immunity from administrative or civil penalty. The Attorney General's January 12, 1998 opinion states that the quoted language renders this statute inapplicable to enforcement of any Federally authorized programs, since ''no immunity could be afforded from administrative, civil, or criminal penalties because granting such immunity would not be consistent with Federal law, which is one of the criteria for immunity.''

Therefore, EPA has determined that Virginia's Privilege and Immunity statutes will not preclude the Commonwealth from enforcing its program consistent with the Federal requirements. In any event, because EPA has also determined that a state audit privilege and immunity law can affect only state enforcement and cannot have any impact on Federal enforcement authorities, EPA may at any time invoke its authority under the Clean Air Act, including, for example, sections 113, 167, 205, 211 or 213, to enforce the requirements or prohibitions of the state plan, independently of any state enforcement effort. In addition, citizen enforcement under section 304 of the Clean Air Act is likewise unaffected by this, or any, state audit privilege or immunity law.

IV. Proposed Action

EPA's review of this material indicates that the amendments to 9 VAC 5 Chapter 30 are consistent with 40 CFR part 50. EPA is proposing to approve the Virginia SIP revision for 9 VAC 5 Chapter 30, which was submitted on September 26, 2005. EPA is soliciting public comments on the issues discussed in this document. These comments will be considered before taking final action.

V. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), this proposed action is not a ''significant regulatory action'' and therefore is not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget. For this reason, this action is also not subject to Executive Order 13211, ''Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use'' (66 FR 28355 (May 22, 2001)). This action merely proposes to approve state law as meeting Federal requirements and imposes no additional requirements beyond those imposed by state law. Accordingly, the Administrator certifies that this proposed rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). Because this rule proposes to approve pre-existing requirements under state law and does not impose any additional enforceable duty beyond that required by state law, it does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104–4). This proposed rule also does not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000), nor will it have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999), because it merely proposes to approve a state rule implementing a Federal requirement, and does not alter the relationship or the distribution of power and responsibilities established in the Clean Air Act. This proposed rule also is not subject to Executive Order 13045 (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), because it is not economically significant.

In reviewing SIP submissions, EPA's role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the Clean Air Act. In this context, in the absence of a prior existing requirement for the State to use voluntary consensus standards (VCS), EPA has no authority to disapprove a SIP submission for failure to use VCS. It would thus be inconsistent with applicable law for EPA, when it reviews a SIP submission, to use VCS in place of a SIP submission that otherwise satisfies the provisions of the Clean Air Act. Thus, the requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) do not apply. As required by section 3 of Executive Order 12988 (61 FR 4729, February 7, 1996), in issuing this proposed rule, EPA has taken the necessary steps to eliminate drafting errors and ambiguity, minimize potential litigation, and provide a clear legal standard for affected conduct. EPA has complied with Executive Order 12630 (53 FR 8859, March 15, 1988) by examining the takings implications of the rule in accordance with the ''Attorney General's Supplemental Guidelines for the Evaluation of Risk and Avoidance of Unanticipated Takings'' issued under the executive order.

This proposed rule pertaining to the amendments of Virginia's ambient air quality standards, does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Amendments to the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) Regulations for Storm Water Discharges Associated With Oil and Gas Exploration, Production, Processing, or Treatment Operations, or Transmission Facilities

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: Today EPA proposes action to codify in the Agency's regulations changes to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act resulting from the Energy Policy Act of 2005. This proposed action would modify National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System regulations to provide that certain storm water discharges from field activities, including construction, associated with oil and gas exploration, production, processing, or treatment operations, or transmission facilities would be exempt from National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System permit requirements. This action also encourages voluntary application of best management practices for oil and gas field activities and operations to minimize the discharge of pollutants in storm water runoff and protect water quality.

II. Background Information

A. NPDES Program

In 1972, Congress amended the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (more commonly referred to as the Clean Water Act or CWA) to prohibit the discharge of any pollutant to waters of the United States from a point source except in compliance with specified provisions of the CWA, including section 402. The principal means by which one may lawfully discharge pollutants into waters of the United States is by obtaining authorization in a NPDES permit issued under CWA section 402. Initial efforts to improve water quality under the NPDES program focused primarily on reducing pollutants in industrial process wastewater and municipal sewage.

As pollution control measures for industrial process wastewater and municipal sewage were implemented and refined, it became increasingly evident that more diffuse sources of water pollution were also significant causes of water quality impairment. Specifically, storm water runoff draining large surface areas, such as agricultural and urban land, was found to be a major cause of water quality impairment, including the non-attainment of designated beneficial uses. As a result, in 1987, Congress added Section 402(p) of the CWA, which directs EPA to develop a two-phased approach to regulate storm water discharges under the NPDES program.

The first phase of the national program for controlling storm water, commonly referred to as ''Phase I,'' was promulgated on November 16, 1990 (55 FR 47990). Phase I requires NPDES permits for storm water discharges from a large number of priority sources, including municipal separate storm sewer systems (MS4s) generally serving populations of 100,000 or more and industrial activity. EPA defined the term ''storm water discharge associated with industrial activity'' in a manner that covered a wide variety of facilities, including construction activities that disturb at least five acres of land (40 CFR 122.26(b)(14)(x)).

The second phase of the storm water program, ''Phase II,'' was promulgated on December 8, 1999 (64 FR 68722). Phase II expanded the existing program to include discharges of storm water from smaller municipalities in urbanized areas and from construction sites that disturb between one and five acres of land. (40 CFR 122.26(b)(15)(i)). Discharges from these sources have generally needed permit authorization since March 10, 2003 (40 CFR 122.26(e)(8)). Phase II allows certain sources to be excluded from the national program based on a demonstrable lack of impact on water quality. The Phase II rule also allows for other sources not automatically regulated on a national basis to be designated for inclusion based on increased likelihood for localized adverse impact on water quality.

B. NPDES Program Provisions Specific to Oil and Gas Activities

The 1987 amendments to the CWA also added language at section 402(l)(2) that exempts from NPDES permitting requirements certain storm water discharges from oil and gas exploration, production, processing, or treatment operations or transmission facilities. That provision states that ''[t]he Administrator shall not require a permit under this section, nor shall the Administrator directly or indirectly require any State to require a permit, for discharges of storm water runoff from mining operations or oil and gas exploration, production, processing, or treatment operations or transmission facilities, composed entirely of flows which are from conveyances or systems of conveyances (including but not limited to pipes, conduits, ditches, and channels) used for collecting and conveying precipitation runoff and which are not contaminated by contact with, or do not come into contact with, any overburden, raw material, intermediate products, finished product, byproduct, or waste products located on the site of such operations.''

On January 4, 1989, EPA promulgated a rule [National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System Permit Regulations] that, among other actions, codified the CWA section 402(l)(2) exemption at what was then 40 CFR 122.26(a)(3). (See 54 FR 246). The preamble to that rule explained that the legislative history of CWA section 402(l)(2) suggests that, with respect to oil or grease or hazardous substances, the determination of whether storm water is contaminated by contact with such materials, as established by the Administrator, shall take into consideration whether these materials are present in such storm water runoff in excess of reportable quantities under section 311 of the CWA or section 102 of CERCLA.

The 1990 NPDES Phase I storm water regulations also codified the CWA section 402(l)(2) exemption, this time moving the regulatory exemption to 40 CFR 122.26(a)(2) for uncontaminated storm water discharges from oil and gas activities while also imposing permit requirements for storm water discharges associated with industrial activities, including construction sites disturbing at least five acres (40 CFR 122.26(b)(14)(x)). The Phase I rule re-codification of the CWA section 402(l)(2) provision also revised the regulatory language to specify that the ''Director may not require a permit'' rather than the section 402(l)(2) language that specifies that the ''Administrator shall not require a permit under this section, nor shall the Administrator directly or indirectly require any State to require a permit'' for these discharges. This change helped clarify that States may not require permits for these discharges under the NPDES program.

The rule also codified at § 122.26(c)(1)(iii) the conditions which would be considered indicative of contamination by contact with overburden, raw material, intermediate products, finished product, byproduct, or waste products located on the site and would thus necessitate an NPDES storm water permit application by oil and gas exploration, production, processing or treatment operations or transmission facilities. Section 122.26(c)(1)(iii) provides as follows:

> (iii) The operator of an existing or new discharge composed entirely of storm water from an oil or gas exploration, production, processing, or treatment operation, or transmission facility is not required to submit a permit application in accordance with paragraph (c)(1)(i) of this section, unless the facility:
> (A) Has had a discharge of storm water resulting in the discharge of a reportable quantity for which notification is or was required pursuant to 40 CFR 117.21 or 40 CFR 302.6 at anytime since November 16, 1987; or
>
> (B) Has had a discharge of storm water resulting in the discharge of a reportable quantity for which notification is or was required pursuant to 40 CFR 110.6 at any time since November 16, 1987; or
> (C) Contributes to a violation of a water quality standard.

EPA based this interpretation of contamination on the legislative history of section 402(l)(2), which directed EPA to consider whether reportable quantities (RQs) of oil or grease or hazardous substances under either the CWA or CERCLA had been exceeded in determining whether storm water from oil and gas operations had been contaminated by contact with overburden, raw material, intermediate products, finished products, byproduct, or waste products.

Shortly after issuance of EPA's first general permit specific to storm water discharges associated with construction activity (Final NPDES General Permits for Storm Water Discharges From Construction Sites, September 9, 1992, 57 FR 41176), EPA Region 8 raised a question to EPA Headquarters about the applicability of the permit requirements for oil and gas-related construction activities. On December 10, 1992, EPA Headquarters sent a memorandum to EPA Region 8 stating that all construction activities that disturb five or more acres must apply for a permit, including those construction activities associated with oil and gas activities.

This memorandum was legally challenged by a collection of trade associations who asserted that the memorandum was unlawful and requested that the court set it aside as inconsistent with the CWA. The United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit dismissed this challenge on the grounds that the internal EPA memorandum itself did not constitute an action reviewable by the courts. Appalachian Energy Group v. EPA, 33 F.3d. 319, 322 (4th Cir. 1994).

As noted previously, EPA promulgated the final Phase II storm water rule on December 8, 1999 with a requirement that storm water discharges from small construction activities (those disturbing between one and five acres) obtain NPDES permit coverage beginning on March 10, 2003. Based on public comments on the January 9, 1998, proposed Phase II rule, EPA had considered including oil and gas exploration sites in its economic analysis for the rulemaking, but further analysis suggested that few, if any, of these sites would actually disturb more than one acre of land. Economic Analysis of the Final Phase II Storm Water Rule, October 1999 (see p 4–2). Accordingly, EPA decided that separate analysis of this sector was unnecessary. After promulgating the final Phase II rule, EPA became aware that close to 30,000 oil and gas sites annually may, in fact, be affected. EPA now believes that the majority of such sites may exceed one acre when the acreage attributed to lease roads, pipeline right-of-ways and other infrastructure facilities is apportioned to each site.

In light of this new information, on March 10, 2003, EPA published a rule (the ''deferral rule'') that postponed until March 10, 2005, the permit authorization deadline for NPDES storm water permits for oil and gas construction activity that disturbs one to five acres of land. This extension allowed EPA to analyze and better evaluate (1) the impact of the permit requirements on the oil and gas industry, (2) the appropriate best management practices (BMPs) for preventing contamination of storm water runoff resulting from construction associated with oil and gas exploration, production, processing, or treatment operations or transmission facilities, and (3) the scope and effect of section 402(l)(2) and other storm water provisions of the Clean Water Act. 68 FR 11325.

Between 2003 and 2005, EPA gathered information on size, location and other site characteristics to better evaluate compliance costs associated with the control of storm water runoff from oil and gas construction activities. EPA met with various stakeholders and visited a number of oil and gas sites with construction-related activities, to discuss and review existing BMPs for preventing contamination of storm water runoff resulting from construction associated with these oil and gas activities. Additionally, EPA gathered economic data for the industry and initiated an economic impact analysis of the existing Phase II regulations specific to the oil and gas industry. EPA's preliminary analysis indicated that there could be significant and potentially costly administrative delays in the permitting process for oil and gas construction sites that were not considered in the original economic analysis for the 1999 Phase II rulemaking. As a result, on March 9, 2005, EPA further postponed the date for NPDES regulation for an additional 15 months until June 12, 2006, to provide additional time for the Agency to complete its evaluation of the economic and legal issues that were raised and to assess appropriate procedures and methods for controlling storm water discharges from these sources to mitigate impacts on water quality.

A collection of trade associations petitioned the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit for review of the March 10, 2003 deferral rule. The petitioners asserted that the deferral rule represents the Agency's first acknowledgment that the NPDES regulations apply to construction activities associated with oil and gas activities, but that such regulations are inconsistent with CWA section 402(l)(2). On June 16, 2005, the Fifth Circuit dismissed the petition on the grounds that the issue is not ripe for review. Specifically, the Court acknowledged EPA's ongoing analysis of this issue and indicated that ''any interpretation [of CWA section 402(l)(2)] we would provide would necessarily prematurely cut off EPA's interpretive process.'' Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Ass'n, et al. v. EPA, 413 F.3d 479, 483 (5th Cir. 2005).

III. Description of Proposed NPDES Program Modifications

A. Objectives EPA Seeks To Achieve in Today's Proposal

The primary purpose of today's proposed rule is to propose modifications to the NPDES regulations in 40 CFR part 122 based on changes to the Clean Water Act (CWA) resulting from the Energy Policy Act of 2005 language (See Pub. L. 109–58, 119 Stat. 694 (codified as amended at 33 U.S.C. 1362 (2005))). A second purpose is to encourage voluntary application of best management practices (BMPs) for oil and gas field activities and operations, including construction, to provide additional protection of water quality from potential storm water discharges.

On August 8, 2005, the President signed into law the Energy Policy Act of 2005. Section 323 of the Energy Policy Act of 2005 added a new paragraph (24) to section 502 of the CWA to define the term ''oil and gas exploration, production, processing, or treatment, or transmission facilities'' to mean ''all field activities or operations associated with exploration, production, processing, or treatment operations, or transmission facilities, including activities necessary to prepare a site for drilling and for the movement and placement of drilling equipment, whether or not such field activities or operations may be considered to be construction activities.'' This term is used in CWA section 402(l)(2) of the CWA to identify oil and gas activities for which EPA shall not require NPDES permit coverage for certain storm water discharges. The effect of this statutory change is to make construction activities at oil and gas sites eligible for the exemption established by CWA section 402(l)(2). EPA interprets this extension of the statutory exemption to include construction of drilling sites, drilling waste management pits, and access roads as well as construction of the transportation and treatment infrastructure such as pipelines, natural gas treatment plants, natural gas pipeline compressor stations and crude oil pumping stations.

The action is being published in the Federal Register as a proposed rule to provide the public and interested stakeholders with the opportunity to comment on this rulemaking.

B. Today's Regulatory Approach

1. Requirements for Regulated Entities Under Today's Proposal

Today's action proposes to codify changes to section 502, subpart (24) (''Oil and Gas Exploration and Production Defined'') of the Clean Water Act (CWA) into EPA regulations in 40 CFR part 122 (''EPA-Administered Permit Programs: The National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System [NPDES]''). Specifically, the language in the Energy Policy Act of 2005, signed by the President on August 8, 2005, states that section 502 of the CWA is amended by adding the following subparagraph at the end of the current section: ''(24) OIL AND GAS EXPLORATION AND PRODUCTION.—The term 'oil and gas exploration, production, processing, or treatment operations or transmission facilities' means all field activities or operations associated with exploration, production, processing, or treatment operations, or transmission facilities, including activities necessary to prepare a site for drilling and for the movement and placement of drilling equipment, whether or not such field activities or operations may be considered to be construction activities.''

In extending this statutory exemption at CWA section 402(l)(2) to oil and gas construction activities, Congress did not differentiate among operations on the basis of the size of the disturbed acreage. Accordingly, there is no distinction in today's proposal as to whether the amount of disturbed acreage is less than 1 acre, between 1 and 5 acres, or greater than 5 acres. Hence, discharges from ''large'' construction activity (disturbing at least 5 acres) at oil and gas facilities would be eligible for the exemption from NPDES permitting requirements under today's proposal to the same extent as discharges from small construction activity at such facilities.

In addition to the construction of drilling sites, drilling waste management pits, and access roads, EPA also interprets the specific phrase in the statutory language ''all field activities or operations'' [emphasis added] as being applicable to construction of in-field treatment plants and the transportation infrastructure (e.g., crude oil and natural gas pipelines, natural gas treatment plants and both natural gas pipeline compressor and crude oil pump stations) necessary for the operation of most producing oil and gas fields. Such construction activities would thus be eligible for the CWA section 402(l)(2) exemption from NPDES permitting requirements.

This proposed regulation would implement Congress' intention, in the Energy Policy Act of 2005, to exclude virtually all oil and gas construction activities from regulation under the NPDES storm water program. However, consistent with the language of CWA section 402(l)(2), the proposed regulatory changes would not exclude oil and gas construction activities from regulation under the NPDES storm water program when such field activities or operations discharge storm water that has been contaminated by contact with ''* * * any overburden, raw material, intermediate products, finished product, byproduct or waste products located on the site of such operations.'' [CWA section 402(l)(2)].

The legislative history of CWA section 402(l)(2) provided guidance to EPA in interpreting the phrase ''contaminated by contact with.'' It provides as follows:

> The substitute [final version of the bill] provides that permits are not required where stormwater runoff is diverted around mining operations or oil and gas operations and does not come in contact with overburden, raw material, product, or process waste. In addition, where stormwater runoff is not contaminated by contact with such materials, as determined by the Administrator, permits are also not required. With respect to oil or grease or hazardous substances, the determination of whether stormwater is 'contaminated by contact with' such materials, as established by the Administrator, shall take into consideration runoff in excess of reportable quantities under section 311 of the Clean Water Act or section 102 of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980, or in the case of mining operations, above natural background levels.

Based on this language, EPA codified its interpretation of ''contaminated by contact with'' at § 122.26(c)(1)(iii). It provides that oil and gas operations are exempt except where their discharges contribute reportable quantities of oil or grease or hazardous substances to waters of the United States or contribute to a violation of a water quality standard.

However, a plain reading of CWA section 402(l)(2) suggests that oil and gas sites where runoff is not contaminated by contact with raw material, intermediate products, finished product, byproduct or waste products located at the site are not required to obtain NPDES permits, even in situations where the runoff might be contributing to a violation of water quality standards (the term overburden is applicable only to mining). At the time that EPA promulgated § 122.26(c)(1)(iii), EPA believed it reasonable to presume that causing or contributing to a violation of water quality standards was an indication of contamination as envisioned in the statute. However, now that Congress has explicitly extended the exemption to construction activities associated with oil and gas operations, EPA believes this presumption may no longer be valid in some instances. For example, sediment in runoff related to the clearing of ground or construction of an access road could cause or contribute to a water quality standard violation even where the runoff does not come into contact with raw material, intermediate products, finished product, byproduct or waste products located at the site.

For this reason, EPA is proposing to clarify in § 122.26(a)(2)(ii) that a water quality standard violation for sediment alone does not trigger a permitting requirement. Because most substances for which an RQ has been established are the types of materials (e.g., oil, grease, toxic or hazardous chemicals) that would likely not be present in storm water discharge from an oil or gas site other than through contact with exposed raw material, intermediate products, finished product, byproduct or waste products, EPA would generally consider an exceedance of an RQ as indicative of contamination. This would be true whether such contact occurred during or after construction. Sediment, in contrast, could easily be present in the discharge even without such contact, and thus in and of itself would not lead to a determination of contamination through contact. Sediment could serve as a vehicle for discharges of oil or grease or hazardous substances (e.g., heavy metals) and if an RQ is exceeded or a water quality standard violated for such a pollutant, such contamination could trigger permitting requirements. EPA believes that this interpretation is fully consistent with Congress' intent in enacting the 2005 Energy Policy Act, which specifically included within the scope of the section 404(l)(2) exemption construction activities associated with oil and gas sites.

Finally, EPA proposes to reorganize regulatory language in § 122.26(a)(2) to create two new paragraphs: (i) and (ii). EPA believes this change is consistent with the existing regulatory framework provided in § 122.26(c)(1)(iii) and (iv) which separates mining and oil and gas requirements. Proposed paragraph (i) merely recodifies existing requirements at § 122.26(c)(1)(iv) for storm water discharges from mining operations that come into contact with, any overburden, raw material, intermediate products, finished products, byproduct, or waste products located on the site of such operations.'' Proposed paragraph (ii) clarifies permit requirements for storm water discharges from oil and gas sites consistent with the discussion provided above. In addition, EPA is proposing to add a note to the regulations encouraging operators of oil and gas field activities or operations to implement and maintain Best Management Practices (BMPs) to minimize the discharges of pollutants, including sediment, in storm water both during and after construction activities to help protect surface water quality during storm events. Additional discussion of the importance of these activities is provided in section III.B.3.

Today's proposed rulemaking would apply to all States, Federal lands and Indian Country regardless of whether EPA is the NPDES permitting authority. Discharges that would be exempted from NPDES permit requirements in today's proposal would be exempted from such NPDES requirements regardless of whether EPA or a State is the permitting authority. EPA wishes to clarify, however, that today's proposal is not intended to interfere with the States' ability to regulate any discharges through a State's non-NPDES program. However, if a State were to require a permit for discharges exempt from the Clean Water Act NPDES program requirements, the State's permit requirement would not be considered part of the State's EPA-approved NPDES program. See 40 CFR 123.1(i)(2).

EPA requests comment on all aspects of this proposed rule.

2. Timeframe for Final Rule

EPA intends to issue a final rulemaking in advance of the June 12, 2006 deadline by which oil and gas construction sites that disturb one to five acres of land are currently scheduled to obtain NPDES permits for their discharges. If finalized as proposed, EPA's final rulemaking would effectively exempt all field activities or operations associated with oil and gas exploration, production, processing or treatment and transmission construction activities from regulation under the NPDES storm water permitting program, except in accordance with § 122.26(a)(2)(ii) and (c)(1)(iii).

3. Best Management Practices (BMPs)

In accordance with CWA section 402(l)(2), today's proposed rule does not require that operators select, install, and maintain Best Management Practices (BMPs) to minimize discharges of pollutants (including sediment) in storm water; however, the Agency is adding a note within the regulatory text encouraging operators of oil and gas field activities or operations to institute these practices both during and after construction activities whenever practicable.

Installation of effective BMPs would provide additional measures to help protect surface water during storm events. Appropriate controls would be those suitable to the site conditions, both during and after the period of construction, and consistent with generally accepted engineering design criteria and manufacturer specifications. Selection of BMPs could also be affected by seasonal or climate conditions.

Most storm water controls for construction activities can be grouped into three classes: (a) Erosion and sediment controls; (b) storm water management measures; and (c) good housekeeping practices. Erosion and sediment controls address pollutants (e.g., sediment) in storm water generated from the site during active construction-related work. Storm water management measures result in reductions of pollutants in storm water discharged from the site after the construction has been completed. Good housekeeping measures are those practices employed to manage materials on the site and control litter. While not explicitly required by regulation, some good housekeeping practices may be necessary to ensure that runoff satisfies the conditions in § 122.26(a)(2)(ii) and (c)(1)(iii) for eligibility for the permitting exemption.

Effective soil erosion and sedimentation control typically is accomplished through the use of a suite of BMPs. Operators should design control measures that collectively address the multiple needs of holding soil in place, diverting storm water around active areas with bare soil, slowing water down as it crosses the site, and providing settling areas for soil that has become mobilized.

The value of EPA's recommended oil and gas construction site BMPs has already been recognized by many oil and gas site operators. Under the sponsorship of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, the oil and gas industry developed guidance entitled ''Guidance Document: Reasonable and Prudent Practices for Stabilization (RAPPS) of Oil and Gas Construction Sites,'' Horizon Environmental Services, Inc., April 2004, that describes the application of appropriate BMPs based on general geographical location and the distance, slope, and amount of vegetative cover between the construction activity and the nearest water body. This document is a relatively simple, common sense approach to mitigating environmental consequences arising from a variety of oil and gas construction activities. The document has been widely publicized and a large number of independent oil and gas operating companies have informed EPA that they have adopted the practices outlined in the document in their day-to-day field construction activities.

4. Other Federal, State, Tribal, and/or Local Controls

EPA expects that operators will comply with applicable Federal, State, Tribal, and/or local controls on oil and gas construction activities. For example, today's action does not affect existing requirements established under section 404 of the CWA for discharges of dredge and fill materials to waters of the United States, including requirements as they apply to wetlands. Similarly, the proposed rule does not affect decisions made at the local level on the need for enhanced protection of local water resources. As such, this proposed rulemaking would not curtail the ability of an appropriate environmental management agency (e.g., State, Tribal or local government) from imposing specific discharge conditions on an oil and gas operator that would otherwise be exempted under today's proposed rule so long as these requirements are imposed pursuant to authority other than an EPA-approved NPDES program. For example, a State or tribe could choose, under its own authorities, to set limits or require that an operator meet certain discharge conditions in sensitive watersheds.

IV. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

A. Executive Order 12866: Regulatory Planning and Review

Under Executive Order 12866, (58 FR 51735 (October 4, 1993)) the Agency must determine whether the regulatory action is ''significant'' and therefore subject to OMB review and the requirements of the Executive Order. The Order defines ''significant regulatory action'' as one that is likely to result in a rule that may:

(1) Have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more or adversely affect in a material way the economy, a sector of the economy, productivity, competition, jobs, the environment, public health or safety, or State, local, or tribal governments or communities;

(2) Create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency;

(3) Alter materially the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; or

(4) Raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President's priorities, or the principles set forth in the Executive Order.

Pursuant to the terms of Executive Order 12866, EPA has determined that this is a ''significant regulatory action'' within the meaning of the Executive Order. EPA has submitted this action to OMB for review. Changes made in response to OMB suggestions or recommendations will be documented in the public record.

B. Paperwork Reduction Act

This proposed rule would not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq., as this rulemaking is deregulatory and imposes no new requirements.

Burden means the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose or provide information to or for a Federal agency. This includes the time needed to review instructions; develop, acquire, install, and utilize technology and systems for the purposes of collecting, validating, and verifying information; processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information; adjust the existing ways to comply with any previously applicable instructions and requirements; train personnel to be able to respond to a collection of information; search data sources; complete and review the collection of information; and transmit or otherwise disclose the information.

An Agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. The OMB control numbers for EPA's regulations are listed in 40 CFR part 9.

C. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA), 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., generally requires an agency to prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis of any rule subject to notice and comment rulemaking requirements under the Administrative Procedure Act or any other statute unless the agency certifies that the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Small entities include small businesses, small organizations, and small governmental jurisdictions. For purposes of assessing the impacts of today's final rule on small entities, small entity is defined as: (1) A small business based on Small Business Administration size standards; (2) a small governmental jurisdiction that is a government of a city, county, town, school district or special district with a population of less than 50,000; and (3) a small organization that is any not-for-profit enterprise which is independently owned and operated and is not dominant in its field.

After considering the economic impacts of today's proposed rule on small entities, I certify that this action would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. In determining whether a rule would have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, the impact of concern is any significant adverse economic impact on small entities, since the primary purpose of the regulatory flexibility analyses is to identify and address regulatory alternatives ''which minimize any significant economic impact of the rule on small entities.'' 5 U.S.C. 603 and 604. Thus, an agency may certify that a rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities if the rule relieves regulatory burden, or otherwise has a positive economic effect on all of the small entities subject to the rule.

Today's proposed rule, by expanding the universe of oil and gas operations eligible for the NPDES permit exemption created by CWA section 402(l)(2), would relieve the regulatory burden for certain discharges associated with construction activity at exploration, production, processing, or treatment operations, or transmission facilities to obtain an NPDES storm water permit. We have therefore concluded that today's proposed rule would relieve a regulatory burden for all affected small entities.

D. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

Title II of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (UMRA), Public Law 104–4, establishes requirements for Federal agencies to assess the effects of their regulatory actions on State, local, and tribal governments and the private sector. Under section 202 of the UMRA, EPA generally must prepare a written statement, including a cost-benefit analysis, for proposed and final rules with ''Federal mandates'' that may result in expenditures to State, local, and tribal governments, in the aggregate, or to the private sector, of $100 million or more in any one year. Before promulgating an EPA rule for which a written statement is needed, section 205 of the UMRA generally requires EPA to identify and consider a reasonable number of regulatory alternatives and adopt the least costly, most cost-effective or least burdensome alternative that achieves the objectives of the rule. The provisions of section 205 do not apply when they are inconsistent with applicable law. Moreover, section 205 allows EPA to adopt an alternative other than the least costly, most cost-effective or least burdensome alternative if the Administrator publishes with the final rule an explanation why that alternative was not adopted.

Before EPA establishes any regulatory requirements that may significantly or uniquely affect small governments, including tribal governments, it must have developed under section 203 of the UMRA a small government agency plan. The plan must provide for notifying potentially affected small governments, enabling officials of affected small governments to have meaningful and timely input in the development of EPA regulatory proposals with significant Federal intergovernmental mandates, and informing, educating, and advising small governments on compliance with the regulatory requirements.

Today's proposed rule contains no Federal mandates (under the regulatory provisions of Title II of the UMRA) for State, local, or tribal governments or the private sector. The proposed rule imposed no enforceable duty on any State, local or tribal governments or the private sector. Thus, today's proposed rule is not subject to the requirements of sections 202 and 205 of the UMRA.

E. Executive Order 13132: Federalism

Executive Order 13132, entitled ''Federalism'' (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999), requires EPA to develop an accountable process to ensure ''meaningful and timely input by State and local officials in the development of regulatory policies that have federalism implications.'' The phrase ''Policies that have federalism implications'' is defined in the Executive Order to include regulations that have ''substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.''

This proposed rule does not have federalism implications. It would not have substantial, direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132. Thus, Executive Order 13132 does not apply to this rule.

F. Executive Order 13175: Consultation and Coordination With Indian Tribal Governments

Executive Order 13175, entitled, ''Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments'' (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000), requires EPA to develop an accountable process to ensure ''meaningful and timely input by tribal officials in the development of regulatory policies that have tribal implications.'' This proposed rule does not have any Tribal implications as specified in Executive Order 13175. It would not have substantial direct effects on Tribal governments, on the relationship between the Federal government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal government and Indian tribes, as specified in Executive Order 13175. Thus, Executive Order 13175 does not apply to this rule. EPA specifically solicits additional comment on this proposed rule from tribal officials.

G. Executive Order 13045: Protection of Children From Environmental Health and Safety Risks

Executive Order 13045, ''Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks'' (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997), applies to any rule that: (1) Is determined to be ''economically significant'' as defined under Executive Order 12866, and (2) concerns an environmental health or safety risk that EPA has reason to believe may have a disproportionate effect on children. If the regulatory action meets both criteria, the Agency must evaluate the environmental health or safety effects of the planned rule on children, and explain why the planned regulation is preferable to other potentially effective and reasonably feasible alternatives considered by the Agency. This proposed rule is not subject to the Executive Order because it is not economically significant as defined under Executive Order 12866, and because the Agency does not have reason to believe the environmental health or safety risks addressed by this action present a disproportionate risk to children.

H. Executive Order 13211: Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use

This proposed rule is not a ''significant energy action'' as defined in Executive Order 13211, ''Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use (66 FR 28355 (May 22, 2001)) because it is not likely to have a significant adverse effect on the supply, distribution, or use of energy.

I. National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act

Section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (''NTTAA''), Public Law 104–113, section 12(d) (15 U.S.C. 272 note) directs EPA to use voluntary consensus standards in its regulatory activities unless to do so would be inconsistent with applicable law or otherwise impractical. Voluntary consensus standards are technical standards (e.g., materials specifications, test methods, sampling procedures, and business practices) that are developed or adopted by voluntary consensus standard bodies. The NTTAA directs EPA to provide Congress, through OMB, explanations when the Agency decides not to use available and applicable voluntary consensus standards.

This proposed rulemaking does not involve technical standards. Therefore, EPA is not considering the use of any voluntary consensus standards.

recordkeeping requirements, Water pollution control.

Dated: December 30, 2005.

Stephen L. Johnson,

Administrator.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, Chapter I of Title 40 of the Code of Federal Regulations is proposed to be amended as follows:

PART 122—EPA ADMINISTERED PERMIT PROGRAMS: THE NATIONAL POLLUTANT DISCHARGE ELIMINATION SYSTEM

1. The authority citation for part 122 continues to read as follows:

Authority: The Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. 1251 et seq.

Subpart B—[Amended]

2. Section 122.26 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(2) and (e)(8) to read as follows:

§ 122.26 Storm water discharges (applicable to State NPDES programs, see 122.35).

(a) * * *

(2) The Director may not require a permit for discharges of storm water runoff from the following:

(i) Mining operations composed entirely of flows which are from conveyances or systems of conveyances (including but not limited to pipes, conduits, ditches, and channels) used for collecting and conveying precipitation runoff and which are not contaminated by contact with or that have not come into contact with, any overburden, raw material, intermediate products, finished product, byproduct or waste products located on the site of such operations, except in accordance with § 122.26(c)(1)(iv).

(ii) All field activities or operations associated with oil and gas exploration, production, processing, or treatment operations, or transmission facilities, including activities necessary to prepare a site for drilling and for the movement and placement of drilling equipment, whether or not such field activities or operations may be considered to be construction activities, except in accordance with § 122.26(c)(1)(iii). Discharges of sediment from construction activities associated with oil and gas exploration, production, processing, or treatment operations, or transmission facilities are not subject to the provisions of § 122.26(c)(1)(iii)(C).

Note to § 122.26(a)(2)(ii): EPA encourages operators of oil and gas field activities or operations to implement and maintain Best Management Practices (BMPs) to minimize discharges of pollutants, including sediment, in storm water both during and after construction activities to help ensure protection of surface water quality during storm events. Appropriate controls would be those suitable to the site conditions and consistent with generally accepted engineering design criteria and manufacturer specifications. Selection of BMPs could also be affected by seasonal or climate conditions.

(e) * * *

(8) For any storm water discharge associated with small construction activities identified in paragraph (b)(15)(i) of this section, see § 122.21(c)(1). Discharges from these sources require permit authorization by March 10, 2003, unless designated for coverage before then.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

40 CFR Part 180

[EPA–HQ–OPP–2005–0252; FRL–7755–6]

Iodomethane; Pesticide Chemical Not Requiring a Tolerance or an Exemption from Tolerance

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: EPA is proposing to designate the use of the active ingredient, iodomethane as a non-food use pesticide when applied as a pre-plant soil fumigant for peppers, strawberries and tomatoes by adding an entry to 40 CFR 180.2020 noting the non-food use determination. This determination is based on the Agency's evaluation of data which indicates that residues of iodomethane (CH_3I) are quickly degraded or metabolized into non-toxic degradates and subsequently incorporated into natural plant constituents. The effect of this proposed designation is that EPA does not require that a tolerance or exemption from tolerance under section 408 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFDCA), 21 U.S.C. 346a, be established as a condition of registration of the pesticide under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), 7 U.S.C. 136 et. seq.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before February 6, 2006.

ADDRESSES: Submit your comments, identified by docket identification (ID) number EPA–HQ–OPP–2005–0252, by one of the following methods:

viii. Make sure to submit your comments by the comment period deadline identified.

II. Background and Statutory Findings

On February 4, 2002 and February 18, 2005, the Agency received applications to register pesticide products containing the new active ingredient, iodomethane as a pre-plant fumigant for peppers, strawberries, and tomatoes. The registrant, Arysta LifeScience North America, Corp. (formerly known as Arvesta Corp.) asserted that the uses should be considered non-food uses based on data submitted with the applications.

EPA on its own initiative, under section 408 of the FFDCA, 21 U.S.C. 346a, is proposing to add an entry to 40 CFR 180.2020 noting the non-food use determination for iodomethane when used as a pre-plant fumigant for peppers, strawberries and tomatoes. This determination is based on the Agency's evaluation of metabolism and crop field trial data which included analysis for residues of iodomethane (CH_3I) and free iodide (I-). Analytical method descriptions and validations used to measure iodomethane and free iodide were also submitted to the Agency.

The Agency does not believe that there is a reasonable expectation of iodomethane residues per se in peppers, strawberries and tomatoes at harvest. Iodomethane is quickly metabolized/degraded into iodide at levels lower than those which would cause toxic effects, and into other non-toxic degradates which are incorporated into natural plant constituents. Iodide, the major degradate, is an ubiquitous, naturally-occurring component of all soils, plants, and animals, and as such, there is an existing background level of iodine and iodide in the environment which varies depending on the naturally-occurring sources of iodine chemicals in the region. As a result, enforcement of tolerances would not be possible since no iodide-free samples are available and residue field trials showed evidence of control samples with higher iodide residues than iodomethane treated samples. Additionally, iodine is an essential human dietary nutrient, and iodomethane residues must dissipate in the soil prior to planting as the chemical is phytotoxic. Therefore, the Agency concludes that tolerances are not required for iodomethane.

EPA lists in 40 CFR 180.2020 pesticide chemical uses EPA has determined do not need a tolerance or exemption from the requirement of a tolerance based on EPA's finding that they are not likely to result in residues in or on food. It is under these provisions that the EPA proposes to designate the pre-plant fumigant use of iodomethane on peppers, strawberries and tomatoes as a non-food use because the use is not likely to result in residues in or on food for the reasons described in Unit II of this document.

III. Conclusion

A nonfood use determination is proposed for iodomethane when applied as a pre-plant soil fumigant for peppers, strawberries, and tomatoes.

IV. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

This proposed rule establishes a non-food use determination under section 408(e) of the FFDCA in response to an application for registration of a pesticide product submitted to the Agency. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has exempted these types of actions from review under Executive Order 12866, entitled Regulatory Planning and Review (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993). Because this proposed rule has been exempted from review under Executive Order 12866 due to its lack of significance, this proposed rule is not subject to Executive Order 13211, Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001). This proposed rule does not contain any information collections subject to OMB approval under the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA), 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., or impose any enforceable duty or contain any unfunded mandate as described under Title II of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (UMRA) (Public Law 104–4). Nor does it require any special considerations under Executive Order 12898, entitled Federal Actions to Address Environmental Justice in Minority Populations and Low-Income Populations (59 FR 7629, February 16, 1994); or OMB review or any Agency action under Executive Order 13045, entitled Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997). This action does not involve any technical standards that would require Agency consideration of voluntary consensus standards pursuant to section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (NTTAA), Public Law 104–113, section 12(d) (15 U.S.C. 272 note). Pursuant to the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), the Agency hereby certifies that this proposed action will not have significant negative economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Listing a pesticide use as not requiring a tolerance or exemption from tolerance clarifies that regulation under the FFDCA is unnecessary as to that use and thus has no negative economic impact. In addition, the Agency has determined that this action will not have a substantial direct effect on States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132, entitled Federalism (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999). Executive Order 13132 requires EPA to develop an accountable process to ensure ''meaningful and timely input by State and local officials in the development of regulatory policies that have federalism implications.'' ''Policies that have federalism implications'' is defined in the Executive order to include regulations that have ''substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.'' This proposed rule directly regulates growers, food processors, food handlers and food retailers, not States. This action does not alter the relationships or distribution of power and responsibilities established by Congress in the preemption provisions of section 408(n)(4) of the FFDCA. For these same reasons, the Agency has determined that this proposed rule does not have any ''tribal implications'' as described in Executive Order 13175, entitled Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments (65 FR 67249, November 6, 2000). Executive Order 13175, requires EPA to develop an accountable process to ensure ''meaningful and timely input by tribal officials in the development of regulatory policies that have tribal implications.'' ''Policies that have tribal implications'' is defined in the Executive order to include regulations that have ''substantial direct effects on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and the Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes.'' This proposed rule will not have substantial direct effects on tribal governments, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, as specified in Executive Order 13175. Thus, Executive Order 13175 does not apply to this proposed rule.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: National Veterinary Accreditation Program.

OMB Number: 0579–0032.

Type of Request: Extension of approval of an information collection.

Abstract: The Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture is responsible for, among other things, protecting the health of our Nation's livestock and poultry populations by preventing the introduction and spread of serious diseases and pests of livestock and poultry and for eradicating such diseases and pests from the United States when feasible.

To help us accomplish our mission, APHIS' Veterinary Services administers the National Veterinary Accreditation Program. This program certifies private veterinary practitioners to work cooperatively with Federal veterinarians, as well as with State animal health officials, to conduct certain activities for us. Accredited veterinarians are instrumental in increasing our capacity to perform health certifications and conduct extensive disease surveillance and monitoring.

Operating this program requires a number of information gathering activities, including:

- Conducting veterinary accreditation orientation and training.
- Completing animal health certificates.
- Applying and removing official seals.
- Completing test reports.
- Reviewing applications for veterinary accreditation and reaccreditation.
- Recordkeeping.
- Updating information on accredited veterinarians.

We are asking the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to approve our use of these information collection activities for an additional 3 years.

The purpose of this notice is to solicit comments from the public (as well as affected agencies) concerning our information collection. These comments will help us:

(1) Evaluate whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;

(2) Evaluate the accuracy of our estimate of the burden of the information collection, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;

(3) Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and

(4) Minimize the burden of the information collection on those who are to respond, through use, as appropriate, of automated, electronic, mechanical, and other collection technologies, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.

Estimate of burden: The public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 0.477348 hours per response.

Respondents: Accredited veterinarians, candidates for the National Veterinary Accreditation Program, and State animal health officials who review applications for veterinary accreditation and reaccreditation.

Estimated annual number of respondents: 63,000.

Estimated annual number of responses per respondent: 2.095936.

Estimated annual number of responses: 132,044.

Estimated total annual burden on respondents: 63,031 hours. (Due to averaging, the total annual burden hours may not equal the product of the annual number of responses multiplied by the reporting burden per response.)

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Requirements for Recognizing the Animal Health Status of Foreign Regions.

OMB Number: 0579–0219.

Type of Request: Extension of approval of an information collection.

Abstract: The Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture is responsible for, among other things, protecting the health of our Nation's livestock and poultry populations by preventing the introduction and spread of serious diseases and pests of livestock and poultry and for eradicating such diseases and pests from the United States when feasible.

The regulations in 9 CFR part 92, Importation of Animals and Animal Products: Procedures for Requesting Recognition of Regions, set out the process by which a foreign government may request recognition of the animal health status of a region or approval to export animals or animal products to the United States based on the risk associated with animals or animal products from that region. Each request must include information about the region, including information on the veterinary services organization of the region; the extent to which movement of animals and animal products is controlled from regions of higher risk, and the level of biosecurity for such movements; livestock demographics and marketing practices in the region; diagnostic laboratory capabilities in the region; and the region's policies and infrastructure for animal disease control. Specifically, in § 92.2, we require regions that have been granted status under the regulations to provide information, or allow us to access information, to confirm the regions' animal health status when we request it. The types of information collected will vary based on the information required to adequately assess a region's animal health status.

We are asking the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to approve our use of this information collection activity for an additional 3 years.

The purpose of this notice is to solicit comments from the public (as well as affected agencies) concerning our information collection. These comments will help us:

(1) Evaluate whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;

(2) Evaluate the accuracy of our estimate of the burden of the information collection, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;

(3) Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and

(4) Minimize the burden of the information collection on those who are to respond, through use, as appropriate, of automated, electronic, mechanical, and other collection technologies, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.

Estimate of burden: The public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 40 hours per response.

Respondents: Veterinary authorities in regions that have been granted a particular animal health status for a specified animal disease.

Estimated annual number of respondents: 3.

Estimated annual number of responses per respondent: 1.

Estimated annual number of responses: 3.

Estimated total annual burden on respondents: 120 hours. (Due to averaging, the total annual burden hours may not equal the product of the annual number of responses multiplied by the reporting burden per response.)

All responses to this notice will be summarized and included in the request for OMB approval. All comments will also become a matter of public record.

Done in Washington, DC, this 29th day of December, 2005.

AGENCY: Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, USDA.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: We are advising the public of our determination that the Monsanto corn line designated as transformation event MON 88017, which has been genetically engineered for resistance to a corn rootworm complex and for tolerance to the herbicide glyphosate, is no longer considered a regulated article under our regulations governing the introduction of certain genetically engineered organisms. This notice also announces the availability of our written determination and our finding of no significant impact.

DATES: Effective Date: December 14, 2005.

ADDRESSES: You may read the petition, the environmental assessment, the determination, the finding of no significant impact, and the comments that we received on Docket No. 04–114–1 in our reading room. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The regulations in 7 CFR part 340, ''Introduction of Organisms and Products Altered or Produced Through Genetic Engineering Which Are Plant Pests or Which There Is Reason to Believe Are Plant Pests,'' regulate, among other things, the introduction (importation, interstate movement, or release into the environment) of organisms and products altered or produced through genetic engineering that are plant pests or that there is reason to believe are plant pests. Such genetically engineered organisms and products are considered ''regulated articles.''

The regulations in § 340.6(a) provide that any person may submit a petition to the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) seeking a determination that an article should not be regulated under 7 CFR part 340. Paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 340.6 describe the form that a petition for a determination of nonregulated status must take and the information that must be included in the petition.

On May 4, 2004, APHIS received a petition (APHIS Petition Number 04–125–01p) from Monsanto Company (Monsanto) of St. Louis, MO, requesting a determination of nonregulated status under 7 CFR part 340 for corn (Zea mays L.) designated as transformation event MON 88017 which has been genetically engineered for resistance to corn rootworm and for tolerance to the herbicide glyphosate. The Monsanto petition states that the subject corn should not be regulated by APHIS because it does not present a plant pest risk.

In a notice published in the Federal Register on August 12, 2005 (70 FR 47168–47169, Docket No. 04–114–1), APHIS announced the availability of the Monsanto petition and an environmental assessment (EA). APHIS solicited comments on whether the subject corn would present a plant pest risk and on the EA. The August 2005 notice also discussed the role of APHIS, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) in regulating the subject corn and products developed from it.

APHIS received 19 comments by the close of the 60-day comment period, which ended on October 11, 2005. Comments were submitted by university professionals, growers associations, and private individuals. Eight comments supported granting nonregulated status to corn line MON 88017. These comments cited corn rootworm as a significant problem and supported the use of technologies to help combat the problem. One commenter submitted a request to ''treat MON 88017 with suspicion until proven otherwise [safe],'' but provided no basis for the concern and neither requested the petition be approved nor denied. Ten comments were opposed to the action. Several of those comments reflected a general disapproval of genetically engineered crops. Several other comments cited the similarity of MON 88017 to MON 863 and cited an article that reviewed the acute toxicology studies commissioned by European Food Safety Agency and did not address a plant-pest risk. APHIS conferred with both FDA and EPA about the results of that study. The response to these comments can be found in an attachment to the finding of no significant impact (FONSI).

APHIS has amended the EA. A list of changes is included as an attachment to the EA. The changes correct typographical errors and provide clarity to the reader; these changes are not substantive and do not change the analysis described in the EA.

As described in the petition, event MON 88017 corn has been genetically engineered to express a Cry3Bb1 insecticidal protein derived from Bacillus thuringiensis (Bt) subspecies kumamotoensis strain EG4691. This gene has been modified to encode six specific amino acid substitutions when compared to strain EG4691. Cry3Bb1 expression is regulated by the enhanced 35S promoter (e35S) from cauliflower mosaic virus, the rice actin intron (ract1 intron), 5′ leader sequence from wheat chlorophyll a/b-binding protein (wt CAB), and the 3′ nontranslated region of the 17.3 kDa heat shock protein from wheat. Event MON 88017 has also been genetically engineered to express a 5-enolpyruvylshikimate-3-phosphate synthase protein from Agrobacterium sp. strain CP4 (CP4 EPSPS), which confers tolerance to the herbicide glyphosate. Expression of cp4 epsps is regulated by the rice actin 1 (ract1) 5′ untranslated region containing the promoter and first intron and nopaline synthase 3′ polyadenylation signal (NOS 3′) from Agrobacterium tumefaciens. A construct containing both genes was delivered to the recipient corn variety, A xHi-II, through Agrobacterium-mediated gene transfer. The petitioner states that the Cry3Bb1 protein expressed in MON 88017 is 99.8 percent identical to the Cry3Bb1 protein expressed in nonregulated corn line MON 863. The CP4 EPSPS protein is identical to corn line NK603.

Determination

Based on its analysis of the data submitted by Monsanto, a review of other scientific data, field tests of the subject corn, and the comments submitted by the public, APHIS has determined that corn line MON 88017 is no longer a regulated article under APHIS' regulations at 7 CFR part 340 for the following reasons: (1) It exhibits no plant pathogenic properties (although a plant pathogen was used in the development of this corn, these plants are not infected by this organism, nor do they contain genetic material from this pathogen that can cause plant disease); (2) it exhibits no characteristics that would cause it to be weedier than the nontransgenic parent corn line or other cultivated corn; (3) gene introgression from MON 88017 corn into wild relatives in the United States and its territories is extremely unlikely and is not likely to increase the weediness potential of any resulting progeny nor adversely affect genetic diversity of related plants any more than would introgression from traditional corn hybrids; (4) disease and susceptibility and compositional profiles of the plants of MON 88017 are similar to those of its parent variety and other corn cultivars grown in the United States; therefore, no direct or indirect plant pest effect on raw or processed plant commodities is expected; (5) field observations, compositional analyses, and data on the safety of the engineered EPSPS and Cry3Bb1 proteins all indicate that MON 88017 should not have greater potential than other cultivated corn to damage or harm organisms beneficial to agriculture; (6) compared to current corn pest and weed management practices, cultivation of MON 88017 should not reduce the ability to control pests and weeds in corn or other crops. In addition to our finding of no plant pest risk, there will be no effect on the threatened or endangered species resulting from a determination of nonregulated status for MON 88017 and its progeny.

Therefore, APHIS has concluded that the subject corn and any progeny derived from hybrid crosses with other nontransformed corn varieties will be as safe to grow as corn varieties in traditional breeding programs that are not subject to regulation under 7 CFR part 340. The effect of this determination is that Monsanto corn line MON 88017 is no longer considered a regulated article under APHIS' regulations in 7 CFR part 340.

Therefore, the requirements pertaining to regulated articles under those regulations no longer apply to the subject corn or its progeny. However, the importation of corn line MON 88017 and seeds capable of propagation is still subject to the restrictions found in APHIS' foreign quarantine notices in 7 CFR part 319 and imported seed regulations in 7 CFR part 361.

National Environmental Policy Act

An EA was prepared to examine any potential environmental impacts and plant pest risk associated with the determination of nonregulated status for the Monsanto corn line MON 88017. The EA was prepared in accordance with: (1) The National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA), as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.), (2) regulations of the Council on Environmental Quality for implementing the procedural provisions of NEPA (40 CFR parts 1500–1508), (3) USDA regulations implementing NEPA (7 CFR part 1b), and (4) APHIS' NEPA Implementing Procedures (7 CFR part 372).

Based on that EA, APHIS has reached a FONSI with regard to the determination that Monsanto corn line MON 88017 and lines developed from it are no longer regulated articles under its regulations in 7 CFR part 340. Copies of the EA and FONSI are available from the individual listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: A Case Study: Modernization of the Food Stamp Program in Florida.

OMB Number: Not Yet Assigned.

Form Number: N/A.

Expiration Date: To be determined.

Type of Request: New collection of information.

Abstract: The Florida Department of Family and Children's Services (DCFS) is implementing organizational changes, simplifying policies, streamlining procedures and introducing a variety of technology improvements to improve access and customer service while improving administrative efficiency. DCFS is in the process of modernizing its program districts which are at different stages of implementation. Key features of the State's organizational changes include toll-free phone access to regional call centers, an interactive voice response system, an Internet-based application, document scanning, and automated support for some verification procedures. DCFS also is developing partnerships with community-based service providers to engage them in client application support and other customer assistance activities.

In an effort to understand outcomes associated with program modernization, The Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) plans to systematically examine Florida's modernization model in order to understand better the relationship between Food Stamp Program structure, operations, costs and performance. Project results will inform FNS policy discussions, provide technical and procedurally relevant information to States, and offer Florida DCFS a tool for assessing potential model enhancements and responding efficiently to the variety of stakeholder queries received.

Specifically, the project will be guided by following objectives: (1) Developing a description of changes to food stamp policies and procedures that have been made in support of Automated Community Connection to Economic Self-Sufficiency Florida (ACCESS Florida), (2) Identifying how technology is used to support the range of food stamp eligibility determination and case management functions; (3) Describing the roles and experiences of State food stamp staff, vendors, and community partners working at different levels; (4) Understanding the experiences and satisfaction of food stamp participants, applicants and eligible non-participants; and (5) Describing Food Stamp Program performance overtime.

A descriptive case study, incorporating both qualitative and quantitative data, will be implemented to address these objectives. The study will rely on extant data to describe FSP performance before and after the State's modernization initiative with respect to participation rates, payment accuracy, administrative costs and other outcomes. Data will also be obtained through interviews with local, regional and state-level staff as well as community partners; and include discussion groups with food stamp participants and eligible non-participants.

While state-level performance data will be collected, along with interviews of state program staff, there will be a special focus on 6 of the 13 program districts providing food stamp services. Districts will be chosen to reflect diversity of modernization implementation across Florida. In each of these districts, a combination of in-person and telephone interviews will be conducted with FSP staff and community partners. In each region, the study will also conduct focus groups with participants, applicants, and eligible non-participants.

Interview and focus group questions will be kept as simple and respondent-friendly as possible. Responses to all questions will be voluntary. The contractor will take the following steps to treat the data provided in a confidential manner: (1) No data will be released in a form that identifies individual respondents by name and (2) information collected through interviews will be combined across other respondents in the same category and reported only in aggregate form. Respondents will be notified of these confidentiality measures during data collection.

Respondents: Staff associated with ACCESS Florida at the state and regional level, including regional call centers; staff from local food stamp service and case maintenance centers, state, regional and local staff from community partners assisting with the modernization efforts; and food stamp participants, applicants, and eligible non-participants.

Estimated Number of Respondents: The study will collect data from a total of 118 respondents. This number represents the sum of 23 State, districts and phone center staff (composed of 7 phone interviews and 16 in-person interviews); 33 local FSP staff (including 17 phone interviews and 16 in-person interviews); 26 staff members from community partners involved in modernization (12 phone interviews and 14 in-person interviews); 24 FSP participants and applicants and 12 eligible non-participants.

Number of Responses per Respondent: 1.

Estimated Time per Response: All burden estimates include respondents' time to prepare for and complete interviews or focus groups. In-person interviews: 1.5 hours each; Phone interviews: 1.5 hours each; and Focus groups: 1.5 hours per participant.

Estimated Total Annual Burden on Respondents: Total of 177 hours, including: State, regional and phone center staff, 34.5 hours; local ACCESS Florida staff, 49.5 hours; community partners, 39 hours; FSP applicants participants and eligible non-participants, 54 hours.

Dated: December 30, 2005.

Acting Administrator, Food and Nutrition Service.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Abstract

A proposed emergency rule for the NE Multispecies Fishery Management Plan (FMP) was published in the Federal Register on April 24, 2003 (68 FR 20096). The emergency rule was used to continue management measures specified in the Settlement Agreement Among Certain Parties (Settlement Agreement), which were implemented as ordered by the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia (Court) in a Remedial Order issued on May 23, 2002 (Order). The emergency rule included several management measures designed to reduce overfishing on species managed under the NE Multispecies FMP, including a Days-At-Sea (DAS) Leasing Program, and was published in order to continue the measures until the implementation of Amendment 13.

The final rule for Amendment 13 to the NE Multispecies FMP was published in the Federal Register on April 27, 2004 (69 FR 22906). Amendment 13 was developed by the New England Fishery Management Council (Council) primarily to end overfishing on all groundfish stocks and to rebuild all groundfish stocks that are overfished. Amendment 13 included substantial reductions in the amount of effort available to target groundfish stocks. Therefore, Amendment 13 resulted in considerable reductions in the number of DAS for NE multispecies vessels.

The reduction in the DAS allocated to NE multispecies permit holders limited the ability of some vessels to participate in the fishery, resulting in a loss of revenue and/or the ability to operate at a profit. In order to mitigate some of the adverse economic impacts of the effort reductions, the DAS Leasing Program was established by the Council, among other provisions, in Amendment 13. The DAS Leasing Program enables vessels to increase their revenue by either leasing additional DAS from another vessel or using them to increase their participation in the fishery, or by leasing their allocated DAS that they may not use to another vessel.

Fisheries of the Caribbean, Gulf of Mexico, and South Atlantic; Reef Fish Fishery of the Gulf of Mexico; Second Referendum Procedures for a Potential Gulf of Mexico Red Snapper Individual Fishing Quota Program

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of referendum schedule.

SUMMARY: NMFS issues this notice to announce information about the schedule for participating in a referendum to determine whether an individual fishing quota (IFQ) program for the Gulf of Mexico commercial red snapper fishery should be submitted to the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary) for review. The intended effect of the IFQ program would be to reduce overcapacity in the commercial red snapper fishery and end the current derby-type conditions that have resulted from increasingly restrictive regulation.

ADDRESSES: Copies of supporting documentation including the final rule implementing these procedures (69 FR 6921, February 12, 2004), which includes a regulatory impact review and a Regulatory Flexibility Act Analysis, are available from NMFS, Southeast Regional Office, 263 13th Avenue S., St. Petersburg, FL 33701.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Phil Steele, telephone: 727–551–5784, fax: 727–824–5308, e-mail: phil.steele@noaa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under section 407(c) of the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act (Magnuson-Stevens Act), the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council (Council) is authorized to prepare and submit a plan amendment and regulations to implement an IFQ program for the commercial red snapper fishery, but only if certain conditions are met. First, the preparation of such a plan amendment and regulations must be approved in a referendum of certain fishery participants. Second, the submission of the plan amendment and regulations to the Secretary for review and approval or disapproval must be approved in a subsequent referendum. Both referendums must be conducted in accordance with section 407(c)(2). Section 407(c)(2) also specifies that:

> Prior to each referendum, the Secretary, in consultation with the Council, shall: (A) identify and notify all such persons holding permits with red snapper endorsements and all such vessel captains; and (B) make available to all such persons and vessel captains information about the schedule, procedures, and eligibility requirements for the referendum and the proposed individual fishing quota program.

On February 12, 2004, NMFS issued the final rule (69 FR 6921) to provide information about the schedule, procedures, and eligibility requirements for participating in both referendums to determine whether an IFQ program should be prepared and, if so, whether it should be submitted to the Secretary for review. The intended effect of the final rule was to implement procedures for the referendums consistent with the requirements of the Magnuson-Stevens Act.

At the request of the Council, NMFS conducted the first referendum in early 2004 and presented the results to the Council at its March 2004 meeting. The voters approved preparation of an IFQ plan amendment in that referendum, and the Council began preparation of the amendment. The Council is scheduled to take final action on the amendment at its March 2006 meeting, and therefore NMFS needs to complete the second referendum prior to that meeting.

The procedures, criteria, and vote weighting formula for this referendum were established in the final rule published February 12, 2004 (69 FR 6921) and are repeated here pursuant to section 407(c)(2) of the Magnuson-Stevens Act.

Referendum Processes

Who Will Be Eligible to Vote in the Referendums?

Section 407(c)(2) of the Magnuson-Stevens Act establishes criteria regarding eligibility of persons to vote in the referendums. Those criteria are subject to various interpretations. After careful consideration of those criteria, the practicality and fairness of several possible interpretations, and public comments, NMFS has determined the following persons will be eligible to vote in the referendum.

I. For the second referendum:

A. A person who according to NMFS permit records has continuously held his or her Gulf red snapper endorsement/Class 1 license from September 1, 1996, through the date of publication in the Federal Register of this notice announcing the second referendum;

B. In the case of a Class 1 license that has been transferred through sale since September 1, 1996, the person who according to NMFS' permit records holds such Class 1 license as of the date of publication in the Federal Register of this notice announcing the second referendum;

C. In the case of a Class 1 license that has been transferred through lease since September 1, 1996, both the final lessor and final lessee as of the date of publication in the Federal Register of this notice announcing the second referendum, as determined by NMFS' permit records; and

D. A vessel captain who harvested red snapper under a red snapper endorsement in each red snapper commercial fishing season occurring between January 1, 1993, and September 1, 1996.

A person will only receive voting eligibility under one of the eligibility criteria, i.e., a person will not receive dual voting eligibility by being both a qualifying vessel captain and a qualifying holder of an endorsement/Class 1 license.

NMFS has sufficient information in the Southeast Regional Office fisheries permit database to identify those persons who will be eligible to vote in the referendums based on their having held a red snapper endorsement/Class 1 license during the required periods. However, NMFS did not have sufficient information to identify vessel captains whose eligibility would be based on the harvest of red snapper under a red snapper endorsement in each red snapper commercial fishing season occurring between January 1, 1993, and September 1, 1996. To obtain that information prior to the first referendum, NMFS prepared and distributed a fishery bulletin that described the general referendum procedures and provided a 20-day period (ending August 18, 2003) for submittal of detailed information by those vessel captains. That fishery bulletin was widely distributed to all Gulf reef fish permitees, including dealers, and to major fishing organizations, state fisheries directors, and others. Information received from that solicitation has been used to identify vessel captains whose eligibility to vote in the referendums is based on the red snapper harvest criterion.

How Will Votes Be Weighted?

Section 407(c)(2) of the Magnuson-Stevens Act requires that NMFS develop a formula to weight votes based on the proportional harvests under each eligible endorsement and by each eligible captain between the period January 1, 1993, and September 1, 1996. NMFS will obtain applicable red snapper landings data from the Southeast Fisheries Science Center reef fish logbook database. Information from NMFS' Southeast Regional Office permit database will be used to assign applicable landings to each eligible voter (red snapper endorsement/Class 1 license holder, lessee/lessor, or vessel captain). In cases where only one eligible voter has eligibility tied to a particular license, all applicable landings associated with that license accrue to that voter, and the voter will be assigned a vote-weighting factor of one vote per pound. In cases where more than one eligible voter has eligibility tied to a particular license, e.g., lessee and lessor, or a qualifying vessel captain and a license holder, all eligible voters associated with that license will have their vote weighted equally such that their combined vote will equal one vote per pound of landings applicable to that license. For example, if a qualifying captain is eligible based on his or her landings under a specific license during the relevant time period, and that license is now held by a license holder who is not involved with lease arrangements with that license, but who is not the same qualifying captain, then each would get one-half of a vote per pound of landings associated with the license. In this example, should the current holder lease the same license, then each participant would have their vote weighted as one-third of a vote per pound, so that their combined vote would equal the total number of pounds associated with the license.

The weighting procedure is complicated somewhat by requirements to protect the confidentiality of landings data, when the applicable landings history involves landings by different entities. To address confidentiality concerns, NMFS will establish a series of categories (ranges) of red snapper landings based on 5,000–lb (2,268–kg) intervals, e.g., 0–5,000 lb (0–2,268 kg); 5,001–10,000 lb (2,268–4,536 kg); etc., concluding with the interval that includes the highest documented landings. The total landings between the period January 1, 1993, and September 1, 1996, associated with each license, will be attributed to the appropriate category. The overall average pounds landed attributed to each category will be determined. That average number of pounds will be the base applied to the vote-weighting factor for each eligible voter whose landings fall within that category.

For example, if the overall average number of pounds attributed to the 5,001–10,000–lb (2,268–4,536–kg) category is 8,150 lb (3,697 kg), each eligible voter within that category would receive votes equal to 8,150 multiplied by the applicable vote-weighting factor, e.g., $8{,}150 \times 1.0 = 8{,}150$ votes if only one voter was associated with the license; $8{,}150 \times 0.5 = 4{,}075$ votes each for a lessee and lessor associated with the same license; 8,150 X 0.33 = 2,690 votes each for a qualifying vessel captain, lessee, and lessor all associated with the same license.

How Will the Vote Be Conducted?

On or about January 17, 2006, NMFS will mail each eligible voter a ballot that would specify the number of votes (weighting) that voter is assigned. NMFS will mail the ballots and associated explanatory information, via certified mail return receipt requested, to the address of record indicated in NMFS' permit database for endorsement/Class 1 license holders and, for vessel captains, to the address provided to NMFS by the captains during the prior information solicitation that ended August 18, 2003. All votes assigned to an eligible voter must be cast for the same decision, i.e., either all to approve or all to disapprove the applicable referendum question. The ballot must be signed by the eligible voter. Ballots must be mailed to Phil Steele, Southeast Regional Office, NMFS, 263 13th Avenue South, St. Petersburg, FL 33701. Ballots for the second referendum must be received at that address by 4:30 p.m., eastern time, February 21, 2006; ballots received after that deadline will not be considered in determining the outcome of the initial referendum. Although it will not be required, voters may want to consider submitting their ballots by registered mail.

How Will the Outcome of the Second Referendum Be Determined?

Vote counting will be conducted by NMFS. Approval or disapproval of the referendums will be determined by a majority (i.e., a number greater than half of a total) of the weighted votes cast. NMFS will prepare a fishery bulletin announcing the results of the second referendum that is conducted and will distribute the bulletin to all Gulf reef fish permitees, including dealers, and to other interested parties. The results will also be posted on NMFS' Southeast Regional Office's Web site at http://sero.nmfs.noaa.gov.

What Will Happen After the Second Referendum?

NMFS will present the results of the second referendum at the March 2006 Council meeting. If the second referendum fails, the Council cannot proceed with implementation an IFQ program for the commercial red snapper fishery in the Gulf of Mexico. If the second referendum is approved, the Council would be authorized, if it so decides, to submit the finalized plan amendment and regulations to the Secretary for review and approval or disapproval. The proposed IFQ program was developed through the usual Council and rulemaking processes that involved extensive opportunities for industry and public review and input at various Council meetings, public hearings, and during public comment periods on the plan amendment and regulations. The plan amendment and regulations could only be submitted to the Secretary for review and approval or disapproval if, in a second referendum, approval of the submission was passed by a majority (i.e., a number greater than half of a total) of the votes cast by the eligible voters as described above.

Endangered and Threatened Species; Take of Anadromous Fish

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Extension of scientific research permit 1376 - Modification 1.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that NMFS has received a request to extend the duration of a scientific research permit that currently allows Pacific salmon to be taken. The research is designed to increase knowledge of salmonids listed under the Endangered Species Act (ESA) and help guide management and conservation efforts.

DATES: Comments or requests for a public hearing on the application must be received no later than 5 p.m. Pacific time on February 6, 2006.

ADDRESSES: Written comments on the application should be sent to Protected Resources Division, NMFS, 1201 NE. Lloyd Blvd., Suite 1100, Portland, OR 97232–1274. Comments may also be sent via fax to 503–230–5441 or by e-mail to resapps.nwr@NOAA.gov.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Garth Griffin, Portland, OR (ph.: 503–231–2005, Fax: 503–230–5435, e-mail: Garth.Griffin@noaa.gov). Permit application instructions are available at http://www.nwr.noaa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Species Covered in This Notice

The following listed species (evolutionarily significant unit) is covered in this notice:

Chinook salmon (O. tshawytscha): threatened naturally produced and artificially propagated Puget Sound (PS).

Authority

Scientific research permits are issued in accordance with section 10(a)(1)(A) of the ESA (16 U.S.C. 1531 et. seq) and regulations governing listed fish and wildlife permits (50 CFR Parts 222–226). NMFS issues permits based on findings that such permits: (1) Are applied for in good faith; (2) if granted and exercised, would not operate to the disadvantage of the listed species that are the subject of the permit; and (3) are consistent with the purposes and policy of section 2 of the ESA. The authority to take listed species is subject to conditions set forth in the permits.

Anyone requesting a hearing on this extension request should set out the specific reasons why such a hearing would be appropriate (see ADDRESSES). Hearings are held at the discretion of the Assistant Administrator for Fisheries, NOAA.

Extension Request

Permit 1376 – Modification 1

Permit 1376 currently authorizes the Washington Cooperative Fish and Wildlife Research Unit (University of Washington, School of Aquatic and Fisheries Sciences) to take juvenile and adult PS Chinook salmon in Lakes Washington and Sammamish, Washington. The purpose of the research is to understand food web interactions, identify sources of mortality, and determine the energetic requirements for sustaining fish and zooplankton communities in each lake. The study helps researchers identify and quantify factors limiting survival and growth of juvenile salmon and other species. The UW captures (using gillnets, trawls, hook-and-line, trot lines, minnow traps, beach seines, and backpack electrofishing equipment), anesthetizes, handles, measures, weighs, and releases juvenile PS Chinook salmon and examines their stomach contents. The permittee is asking NMFS to allow the research to continue until December 31, 2006. No other changes are proposed. Further information on the actions covered by this permit may be obtained from previous notices, from the biological opinion analyzing the effects of the research (2002/01919C – which is still in effect), and on the web at http://www.nwr.noaa.gov/.

This notice is provided pursuant to section 10(c) of the ESA. NMFS will evaluate the request, associated documents, and comments submitted to determine whether the request meets the requirements of section 10(a) of the ESA and Federal regulations. The final permit decision will not be made until after the end of the 30-day comment period. NMFS will publish notice of its final action in the Federal Register.

Dated: December 30, 2005.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The subject permits and amendment requests are requested under the authority of the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972, as amended (MMPA; 16 U.S.C. 1361 et seq.), the Regulations Governing the Taking and Importing of Marine Mammals (50 CFR part 216), the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended (ESA; 16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.), the regulations governing the taking, importing, and exporting of endangered and threatened species (50 CFR 222–226), and the Fur Seal Act of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 1151 et seq.).

File No. 781–1824: The NWFSC proposes to conduct a five-year study to determine the abundance, distribution, movement patterns, habitat use, contaminant levels, prey choice, behavior, energetics, and stock structure of cetacean species in the eastern North Pacific off the coast of Washington, Oregon, and California. The applicant proposes to take 20 cetacean species, including endangered blue whales (Balaenoptera musculus), fin whales (Balaenoptera physalus), humpback whales (Megaptera novaeangliae), sperm whales (Physeter macrocephalus), and the distinct population segment (DPS) of the Southern Resident killer whale (Orcinus orca). These studies would be carried out through vessel surveys, photo-identification from large and small vessels, focal follows to collect behavioral data, photogrammetry, passive acoustic monitoring, biological sample collection, satellite/radio and data log/time-depth tagging and tracking, and health assessments. The applicant proposes to utilize video photogrammetry from an unmanned tethered airship to document cetacean behavior and assess body condition. The airship would be tethered to a small boat (20–40 feet) and would be flown at an altitude of 250–400 feet. Passive acoustic data may be collected using a towed hydrophone array and/or sonobuoys. On an opportunistic basis, prey remains, sloughed skin, or feces would be collected from the water column and biopsy samples would be collected from both free-ranging and stranded cetaceans. Biopsy samples would undergo genetic, contaminant, stable isotope, and fatty acid analyses. To track the movements and diving behavior of cetaceans, both data logging tags and satellite or radio tags would be attached to the animals. These tags may use either suction cup or implantable attachments. To assess the health of the animals, breath samples would be collected by placing a funnel over the blowhole of a surfacing animal and manually opening the attached vacuum cylinder as the animal exhales. To further assess the health of cetaceans, the applicant proposes using a 0.5MHz ultrasound transducer to determine the blubber thickness of Alaska resident killer whales, humpback whales, and gray whales (Eschrichtius robustus). The proposed research would also include the salvage and import/export of cetacean parts, specimens, and biological samples. All proposed activities would target adult and juvenile males and females as well as females accompanying calves. No calves would be taken. The applicant requests a total of 215 annual takes of Southern Resident killer whales (SRKW) for close approach for vessel and aerial surveys, photo-id, photogrammetry, focal follows, and collection of prey and fecal material. Additionally, NWFSC proposes to takes 5 breath samples and 25 biopsy samples from SRKW each year. Using only suction cup attachment, the applicant proposes to attach 10 data logging tags to SRKW annually. In addition, the applicant requests authorization to engage in the worldwide import, export, re-export and/or salvage of 30 biological samples, specimens, or parts from SRKW annually. Each year, up to 300 Southern Resident killer whales may be incidentally harassed by the above research activities.

File No. 965–1821: Dr. David Bain requests a five-year permit to study killer whales, including the Southern Resident DPS. Research would focus on the inland waters of Washington, with comparative data collected from central California to central Alaska. The study is designed to examine killer whale distribution and movement patterns; diet and energetic requirements; reproduction and mortality patterns; health; social structure; and the effects of anthropogenic disturbances, including noise, on the whales. The applicant proposes to utilize a variety of platforms including boats, unmanned vessels, and blimps. Unmanned vessels would be used to carry instrumentation as an alternative to the use of a small manned vessel. Standard manned blimps (50–60 meters or 164–197 feet in length) would be operated at 1,000–1,500 feet. Smaller unmanned blimps (10–15 meters or 33–49 feet in length) would be operated via remote control at an altitude no higher than 400 feet and potentially 200–250 feet. Video and photographs would be collected from all survey platforms for use in photo-identification and photogrammetry. The applicant proposes to conduct health assessments of each Southern Resident once per year. These health assessments would consist of underwater photography, respiratory samples, infrared imaging, and acoustic recordings of blows. Underwater video would be taken to assess body condition, including possible pregnancies, injuries, and body girth. To collect baseline information about upper respiratory tract microbes, a researcher would sweep a culture plate attached to a lightweight telescoping pole through the exhaled air of a whale surfacing near the research vessel. The acoustic properties of whale blows would be recorded using a directional microphone and parabolic reflector. A thermal imaging camera would be utilized to examine the spatial characteristics of blows as well as any bodily wounds. A laser range finder would be employed to measure the distance to a whale for calibrating images and recordings. To study killer whale diet, samples of prey and feces would be collected for analysis. A Splashcam camera towed in the upper 10 meters (33 feet) of the water column would be employed on some occasions to monitor potential prey. Multi-beam sonar images operated at a high frequency level of 200 kHz would be used to determine the relative density of potential prey in the water column. Both tetrahedral and linear towed arrays may be used to collect passive acoustic data. Focal follows of individual animals would be conducted to examine behavior, social structure, and energetics. The applicant requests 50 thirty-minute focal follow samples annually, focusing on one age/sex class each year. Adult males, adult females, and juveniles would be sampled in this manner. Annually, 300 SRKW and 320 killer whales of other stocks would be harassed during the above research activities. The applicant has also requested takes of other cetacean and pinniped species that may be incidentally harassed during the killer whale research. These species include humpback whales, fin whales, harbor seals (Phoca vitulina), northern fur seals (Callorhinus ursinus), and Steller sea lions (Eumetopias jubatus).

File No. 532–1822: The Center for Whale Research (CWR, Ken Balcomb, Principal Investigator) requests a five-year permit to study Southern Resident killer whales throughout their range, from Monterey Bay, California to the Queen Charlotte Islands, Canada. The goal of the research would be to continue conducting annual photo-identification studies on this population in order to monitor population size and demographics, movements and distribution, social structure, and individual health and body condition. To achieve these goals, CWR requests 500 annual takes of SRKW by close approach for photo-identification and 1,000 takes annually by close approach for vessel and aerial surveys. During vessel surveys, the applicant would collect passive acoustic information. The applicant also requests authority to collect photo-identification data from other killer whale stocks that are encountered opportunistically, including the eastern North Pacific Offshore stock, eastern North Pacific Northern Resident stock, and the eastern North Pacific Transient stock. Takes would occur by close approach by vessel survey for photo-identification, and by incidental harassment by aerial and vessel surveys. In addition, the researcher would like to collect non-marine mammal prey remains after the killer whales have left an area.

File No. 540–1811: John Calambokidis (Cascadia Research) requests a five-year permit to study marine mammals in the North Pacific Ocean including the waters off California, Oregon, and Washington. The applicant requests the authority to: (1) Use photo-identification activities to determine the abundance, movements, and population structure of cetaceans; (2) collect skin biopsies to determine sex and relatedness, and to evaluate stock structure of cetaceans; (3) conduct suction cup tagging activities to examine the diving behavior, feeding, movements, and vocal behavior of cetacean species; (4) conduct aerial, vessel, and shore-based surveys to examine distribution, abundance, habitat, and feeding behavior; and (5) to recover dead harbor seals for contaminant analysis. To conduct this research, the applicant requests takes of five species of pinnipeds and 27 cetacean species, including humpback whales, blue whales, fin whales, and gray whales. The principal research activities of this study would be to survey, photo-id, and biopsy sample gray, humpback, and blue whales in the Pacific Northwest; to tag humpback, blue, and fin whales off the coast of California; to perform aerial surveys for harbor porpoises, humpback, and blue whales; and to perform shore-based censuses of harbor seals in Washington. The applicant plans to tag and biopsy all age and sex classes except calves less than one year of age and females accompanying such calves. Tagging packages would contain a combination of the following instruments and devices: hydrophone and recording system for underwater vocalizations, pressure sensor to record water depth, sensor to monitor and record water temperature, 3–axis accelerometers to measure pitch and roll of animal, 3–axis solid state magnetometers to measure heading, VHF tag to provide local positioning information, satellite tag to record long-range movements, and underwater video camera to record behavior and prey. The applicant also requests 150 annual takes of Southern Resident killer whales by close approach for photo-identification and 150 annual SRKW takes by close approach for aerial and vessel surveys.

Amendment Requests

Permit No. 774–1714–04: The SWFSC proposes to amend their existing scientific research permit (Permit No. 774–1714, issued on June 30, 2004 and most recently amended on September 16, 2005) to allow takes of the recently ESA-listed Southern Resident killer whale DPS. The purpose of the research is to document the range of the SRKW within 300 nm of the California, Oregon, and Washington outer coasts, which is outside their relatively well studied distribution in inland and coastal waters. The research would be carried out opportunistically during SWFSC's line-transect surveys designed to provide data for Stock Assessment Reports on abundance and stock identity of all cetacean species in these areas. Photo-identification activities would be conducted from small boats at a distance of 10–20 meters (approximately 33–65 feet) from the animals. Biopsy sampling would only be done at the request of the NWFSC. The SWFSC is requesting to amend Permit No. 774–1714–03 to allow takes of 20 SRKW and 180 non-SRKW for photo-identification, and 10 SRKW and 130 non-SRKW for biopsy sampling annually. Each year, up to 20 SRKW may be incidentally harassed by the above research activities. The current permit allows the SWFSC to take 500 killer whales for biopsy and 500 for photo-identification, with no distinction between SRKW and non-SRKW. The amended permit, if issued, would be valid until the permit expires on June 30, 2009.

Permit No. 782–1719–03: Permit No. 782–1719–00, issued to NMML on June 30, 2004 (69 FR 44514) and most recently amended on September 16, 2005 authorizes the Permit Holder to take all species of cetaceans under NMFS jurisdiction during stock assessment activities throughout U.S. territorial waters and the high seas of the North Pacific Ocean, Southern Ocean, Arctic Ocean, and the territorial waters of Mexico (Gulf of California only), Canada, Russia, Japan, and the Philippines. The permit authorizes close approach during Level B harassment (aerial surveys, vessel-based surveys, observations, and photo-identification) and Level A harassment (biopsy sampling and attachment of scientific instruments) for all age and sex classes. The Holder now requests authority to opportunistically sample SRKW when encountered during stock assessment surveys. The Holder asks to biopsy sample 10 SRKW (excluding calves and accompanying females) per year. These samples will undergo fatty acid, stable isotope, and contaminant analyses to determine the diet and nutrition of the animals. In addition, NMML requests 100 takes of SRKW by close approach for photo-identification and 1,000 annual takes by vessel and aerial surveys. The amended permit, if issued, would be valid until the permit expires on June 30, 2009.

Permit No. 731–1774–01: Permit No. 731–1774, issued to Robin Baird, Ph.D. (Cascadia Research) on September 16, 2005, authorizes takes by close approach, including vessel approaches, aerial over-flights, and suction cup tagging of cetacean species in all U.S. and international waters in the Pacific, including Alaska, Washington, Oregon, California, Hawaii, and other U.S. territories. The objectives of the research are to assess cetacean populations and to study diving and night-time behavior, social organization, and inter-specific interactions. The Permit Holder now requests authority to suction cup tag 15 Southern Resident killer whales per year to assess inter-annual variability in diving patterns. Males and females of all ages would be tagged, with the exception of calves under six months of age and females attending such calves. Furthermore, the Holder requests 100 takes of all age and sex classes of SRKW annually by harassment during close approach for vessel and aerial surveys, photo-identification, behavioral observations, video and acoustic recordings, and incidental harassment. The proposed research would primarily occur in the waters of Washington, but may also occur in the waters of California and Oregon. The current permit authorizes the Holder to import/export five parts/samples from killer whales. The Holder requests authority to import/export one part or sample from SRKW and four from other killer whales annually. The amended permit, if issued, would be valid until the permit expires on August 31, 2010.

Concurrent with the publication of this notice in the Federal Register, NMFS is forwarding copies of this application to the Marine Mammal

BILLING CODE 3510–22–S

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

Department of the Army

Final Environmental Impact Statement To Fully Integrate the Overhills Property Into the Fort Bragg Training Program, Fort Bragg, NC

AGENCY: Department of the Army, DOD.

ACTION: Notice of availability.

SUMMARY: The Department of the Army announces the availability of the Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) to full integrate the Overhills property into the Fort Bragg Training Program, Fort Bragg, Cumberland and Harnett Counties, NC. Presently, realistic training in Fort Bragg's Northern Training Area (NTA), one of Fort Bragg's largest training areas, is hampered by the two sets of training rules that govern training in the units. Though no physical barriers separate the Overhills training units, NTA V–VIII, from NTA units I–IV, the Overhills Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) limits the number of personnel and types of activities during training exercises, effectively creating a training barrier. Applying the same training regulation to the Overhills that governs training on the rest of the installation would allow Fort Bragg to full incorporate the Overhills into the installation's training program, and maximize training possibilities throughout the NTA.

DATES: Written comments on the FEIS must be received no later than 30 days after publication of the notice of availability (NOA) in the Federal Register by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to be considered in preparation of the Record of Decision.

ADDRESSES: Please direct written comments or requests for copies of the FEIS to David A. Heins, Chief, Environmental Sustainment Division, Public Works Business Center, ATTN: AFZA–PW–E, Fort Bragg, NC 28310, or e-mail to david.a.heins@us.army.mil.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: David A. Heins, (910) 396–8207 or e-mail david.a.heins@us.army.mil.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Fort Bragg serves as headquarters for the XVIII Airborne Corps and Army Special Operations Command, and is home to the 82nd Airborne Division. The primary mission of Fort Bragg is the training and deployment of military units. Fort Bragg supports the most intensive and varied training program in the continental United States. An average of 2.5 million personnel days of training is conducted at Fort Bragg and Camp Mackall (a sub-installation to Fort Bragg) each year. Training to sustain readiness is Fort Bragg's primary activity.

Land upon which to train personnel is vital to Fort Bragg's mission. In 1995, Fort Bragg directed a study that identified a shortfall of maneuver land of 81,876 acres, and a weapons range and impact area shortfall of 43,636 acres. In order to reduce this training land deficit, the Department of the Army purchased the Overhills property from the Rockefeller family in 1997.

The Overhills property comprises 10,580 acres in Cumberland and Harnett Counties, NC, and adjoins the northern boundaries of Fort Bragg and Pope Air Force Base. An Environmental Assessment was prepared in 1999 to adopt an Interim Training Program (ITP) on the Overhills tract. Under the ITP, training was restricted to company-level, low impact (limited) military training.

Presently, the maneuver/training areas at Fort Bragg are so heavily utilized that the land to support training needs to be used to its fullest extent. These factors, in conjunction with the training land deficit identified by Fort Bragg, demonstrate the need to make maximum use of available training lands on Fort Bragg. Fully incorporating the Overhills tract, which represents the eastern part of the NTA and comprises almost half of the training area, into the installation's training program would enhance training throughout the NTA, and help sustain environmental resources in other training areas on Fort Bragg.

The Army proposes to fully integrate the Overhills into Fort Bragg's training program. The FEIS analyzes the No Action/Status Quo alternative as well as three action alternatives. Alternatives considered in detail in the FEIS are:

Alternative 1. (No Action)—Continue limited training, existing recreation, and preservation of the Overhills Historic District (the District). Fort Bragg would conduct this training in accordance with existing Fort Bragg Standing Operating Procedure (SOP) for training on the Overhills. This SOP limits training exercises to company-sized units (approximately 250 personnel, including exercise support personnel) and prescribes the procedures for use of the Overhills for training. Company-size exercises generally require fewer than 75 vehicles per exercise. Exercises would be scheduled 4–6 times per month. The following types of exercises are permitted under the Overhills SOP:

Dismounted movement; Air mobile insertions; Firing of blank small arms ammunition (up to .50 caliber) and simulators; Movement of wheeled vehicles on maintained roads and trails; Fixed activities limited to bivouac, signal, or medical in existing clearings; Military operations on urbanized terrain training in buildings, but only on non-contributing elements within the District and non-eligible resources outside the District; hasty hand-dug personnel fighting positions; Use of flame-producing munitions of any type. Hunting and fishing would continue to be allowed subject to restrictions imposed on public access by military training schedules.

The District would be preserved in accordance with the ''Standards for Preservation'' in the Secretary of Interior's Standards for the Treatment of Historic Properties (38 CFR Part 68). Training in buildings considered contributing elements would not be permitted, but maneuvers in open areas within the historic district boundary would continue.

Alternative 2. Limited training, additional recreation, and adaptive reuse and/or layaway of selected contributing elements within the District. Training units would be limited to company-size (250 personnel plus support personnel), but training would be conducted in accordance with the Installation Range Regulation (IRR), not the Overhills SOP. The following additional training would be permitted:

Ground and air maneuvers involving both mechanized and light infantry with attached combat support and combat service support; Operation of wheeled and tracked vehicles off road; River crossing, bridging, and waterborne operations (including water drops); Construction of fortifications and obstacles; Helicopter landing zones; Excavations (in addition to hand-dug positions) for survivability emplacements, such as vehicle fighting positions; and use of tear gas and obscurant smoke.

A youth golf program and a horse stables program would be added to the recreational programs at Fort Bragg. These programs would utilize several of the historic buildings and structures on Overhills such as the Donald Ross golf course, the polo barn, and riding stables. New facilities would also be constructed. Hunting and fishing would continue as discussed under Alternative 1.

This alternative would maintain the historic integrity of 15 of the 56 contributing elements of the historic district. The remaining buildings and structures would be incorporated into the Fort Bragg training program after mitigating for the loss of historical integrity by fulfilling all requirements under the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA), the Fort Bragg Integrated Cultural Resource Management Plan (ICRMP) and Army Regulation (AR) 200–4, Cultural Resources Management.

Alternative 3. Intermediate training, additional recreation, and adaptive reuse and/or layaway of selected contributing elements within the District. Under this alternative, the level of activity on the Overhills would be increased to accommodate battalion-sized units (approximately 1,000 personnel), plus support personnel. Training would occur in accordance with the IRR. There are 40 battalions at Fort Bragg. Battalion-size field exercises typically use 75 or fewer vehicles per exercise, including support vehicles. Each battalion holds one or two 3-day field exercises per year. Movement between NTA units I–IV and Overhills (NTA V–VIII) would be fluid with no training restrictions other than the number of personnel permitted on the Overhills. Additional recreation would consist of the youth golf and horse stables programs described for Alternative 2. Hunting and fishing would continue to be permitted, as discussed in Alternative 1. This alternative would treat the District as discussed under Alternative 2.

Alternative 4. (Preferred Alternative)—Maximum training, existing recreation, and no preservation of the District. Under this alternative, the level of training would be increased to accommodate brigade-sized units (up to approximately 5,000 personnel); the Overhills would be fully incorporated into the installation's training program, and used in the same manner as the other training areas on Fort Bragg. Units up to, and including brigade size, would train in accordance with the IRR. Hunting and fishing would continue as discussed under Alternative 1. No additional recreational use of the Overhills would occur under maximum training due to the need for maneuver frontage and flexibility.

After mitigating for the loss of historical integrity by fulfillment of all legal requirements under the NHPA, the Fort Bragg ICRMP, and AR 200–4, the 56 contributing elements would be integrated into the training program. All contributing and non-contributing elements as well as standing structures determined not eligible for the NRHP would be evaluated for use in training exercises. The buildings that could be incorporated into the training program would remain; the non-essential buildings and structures would be demolished.

The Overhills FEIS provides an analysis of both the beneficial and adverse environmental impacts of the different use alternatives for the Overhills, and analyzes quantitatively and qualitatively the potential environmental impacts of the proposed alternatives. The resource areas discussed and evaluated are: Soils, surface waters, groundwater, wetlands, vegetation, wildlife, protected species, hazardous materials/waste management, solid waste management, air quality, noise, safety, land use, demographics and economy, recreation, archaeological resources, and the historic district. The FEIS indicates that Alternative 1 (No Action) has the fewest potential impacts because no new training types would be added, and all of the historic buildings and structures would be preserved. Alternatives 2, 3 and 4 would have some potential adverse impacts to several of the analyzed resources; however, mitigations to reduce those impacts are identified in the FEIS.

Minimal comments were received during the 45-day DEIS comment period and changes made to the document were exclusively clarifications and minor factual changes. Therefore, in accordance with 32 CFR 651.45(h), only the DEIS comments, responses to the comments and the errata sheet are being circulated. Copies of the comments, responses and the errata sheet are available for review at major libraries in the study area. A copy of the DEIS, comments and responses, and the errata sheet may be viewed at: http://www.bragg.army.mil/envbr/nepa_review.htm.

Notice of Intent To Prepare an Environmental Impact Statement and Conduct Public Scoping Meetings for the Fishtrap Lake Road Project, Fishtrap Lake, Pike County, KY

AGENCY: Department of the Army, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, DoD.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), the Huntington District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, DoD, will prepare an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS). The EIS will evaluate potential direct, indirect and cumulative impacts to the natural, physical, and human environment resulting from construction of one or more roads proposed to serve recreational development and community access needs at the Fishtrap Lake Project near Millard, Pike County, KY.

ADDRESSES: Send written comments and suggestions concerning this proposed project to Peter K. Dodgion PD–R, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Huntington District, 502 Eighth Street, Huntington, WV 25701–2070. Telephone: 304–399–5873. Electronic mail: peter.k.dodgion@usace.army.mil. Requests to be placed on the mailing list should also be sent to this address.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: To obtain additional information about the proposed project, contact Beth A. Cade PD–F, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Huntington District, 502 Eighth Street, Huntington, WV 25701–2070. Telephone: 304–399–5848. Electronic mail: beth.a.cade@usace.army.mil.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

1. Public Participation:

a. The Corps of Engineers will conduct public scoping workshops to gain input from interested agencies, organizations, and the general public concerning the content of the EIS, issues and impacts to be addressed in the EIS, and alternatives that should be analyzed. Three public scoping workshops are scheduled as follows:

(1) January 23, 2006, from 6–8:30 p.m., Kimper Grade School, 8151 State Highway 194, East Kimper, KY;

(2) January 24, 2006, from 12–2:30 p.m., Pike County Courthouse, Fiscal Courtroom, 146 Main Street, Pikesville, KY; and,

(3) January 24, 2006 from 6–8:30 p.m., Millard Grade School, 20 Rocky Road, Pikesville, KY.

b. The Corps invites full public participation to promote open communication and better decision-making. All persons and organizations that have an interest in the community access and recreation at and around Fishtrap Lake are urged to participate in this NEPA environmental analysis process. Assistance will be provided upon request to anyone having difficulty with learning how to participate.

c. Public comments are welcomed anytime throughout the NEPA process. Formal opportunities for public participation include: (1) Public meetings to be held near the Fishtrap Lake Project; (2) Anytime during the NEPA process via mail, telephone, fax, or e-mail; (3) During Review and Comment on the Draft EIS—approximately Fall 2006; and, (4) Review of the Final EIS—approximately Spring 2007. Schedules and locations will be announced in local news media. Interested parties may also request to be included on the mailing list for public distribution of meeting announcements and documents. (See ADDRESSES).

d. To ensure that all issues related to the proposed project are addressed, the Corps will conduct an open process to define the scope of the EIS. Recommendations from interested agencies, local and regional stakeholders and the general public are encouraged to provide input into regional recreational needs, community access, and other issues and concerns that should be considered in formulation and evaluation of project alternatives and documented in the EIS. Scoping for the EIS will continue to build upon the knowledge and information developed in the approximately 40 years the Corps of Engineer has managed the Fishtrap Lake Project.

2. Background:

a. The Fishtrap Lake Project (Project), which became operational in 1969, includes a 2,631-acre impoundment of the Levisa Fork, a tributary of the Big Sandy River. The dam is located 103.3 miles above the mouth of the Levisa Fork. The Project consists of 15,786 acres in this rugged mountainous area of Southeastern Kentucky. In addition to flood control, Congressionally authorized project purposes include recreation, low-flow augmentation, and fish and wildlife conservation. About 12,000 acres are currently leased to the Kentucky Division of Fish and Wildlife for wildlife management.

b. The proposed road at Fishtrap Lake was named in the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2004 (Act). The Act also provided under the General Provisions for Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) that ''funds made available under this section may, at the request of a State, be transferred by the Secretary to another Federal agency to carry out a project funded under this section, such funds to be then administered by the procedures of the Federal agency to which such funds may be transferred''. Pursuant to this provision, FHWA transferred the funding to the Huntington District U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to execute the project. FHWA will participate in the EIS development as a cooperating agency.

c. An evaluation of current and reasonably foreseeable future recreation demands of the region that could be served by the Fishtrap Project will be conducted within this study. Pike County has long been interested in development of the recreation potential of the Project as a means to diversify the region's predominately coal extraction-based economy. Inundation to create Fishtrap Lake affected access of certain communities adjacent to the project. An array of acceptable recreation alternatives as well as community access needs will provide the basis for road alternatives.

d. Alternatives to be considered will include the No Action alternative, or no road development; and alternatives formulated to address the results of the assessments of recreational needs and community access with input through internal and external scoping.

William E. Bulen,

Colonel, Corps of Engineers, District Engineer, Huntington.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Notice of Intent To Prepare an Integrated Environmental Impact Statement/Environmental Impact Report/Feasibility Report for the South San Francisco Bay Shoreline Study: Alviso Ponds and Santa Clara County Interim Feasibility Study AGENCY: Department of the Army, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers; Department of Defense; U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior.

ACTION: Notice of intent.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) of 1969, as amended, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (Corps) and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) intend to prepare a joint project-level integrated Environmental Impact Statement (EIS)/Environmental Impact Report (EIR)/Feasibility Report, hereafter called the Report, to address the potential impacts of the first Interim Feasibility Study component of the South San Francisco Bay Shoreline Study, San Francisco Bay, CA. This study is closely interrelated with the ongoing South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project, discussed in the Notice of Intent dated November 9, 2004. It will function as a project-level EIS/EIR tiered under that programmatic EIS/EIR and will be issued subsequently to the programmatic document. The California State Coastal Conservancy (Conservancy) will be the lead agency under the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA).

Federal Lead Agencies Proposed Actions and Related Programmatic EIS/EIR. The Corps, in cooperation with the USFWS, is proposing to study flood protection and ecosystem restoration for the Alviso portion of the South San Francisco Bay (South Bay) Salt Ponds and adjacent areas to determine whether there is a federal interest in constructing a project with flood protection and/or ecosystem restoration components in this area, and if so, to determine the optimum project to recommend to Congress for authorization. The Report will recommend a plan which will provide for long-term restoration for these salt ponds and adjacent areas as well as flood protection and recreation components, if these actions are justified under Federal criteria. The Report and its alternatives will be tiered to the programmatic EIS/EIR for the South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project.

One public scoping meeting will be held to solicit comments on the environmental effects of the range of potential projects and the appropriate scope of the Report. The public is invited to comment during this meeting on environmental issues to be addressed in the Report.

DATES: Written comments from all interested parties are encouraged and must be received on or before February 7, 2006.

ADDRESSES: Written comments and requests for information should be sent to Yvonne LeTellier, Project Manager, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, 333 Market Street, 8th Floor, San Francisco, CA 94105–2197, or to Mendel Stewart, Refuge Manager, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, San Francisco Bay NWR Complex, P.O. Box 524, Newark, CA 94560.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Yvonne LeTellier, Project Manager, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (415–977–8466) or Mendel Stewart, Refuge Manager, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, San Francisco Bay NWR Complex (510–792–0222). For questions concerning the CEQA aspects of the study, contact Brenda Buxton, California State Coastal Conservancy, 1330 Broadway, 11th Floor, Oakland, CA 94612, telephone: 510–286–0753.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On November 9, 2004, the USFWS and the Corps issued a Notice of Intent for the proposed South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project programmatic EIS/EIR. The Corps and the USFWS propose to integrate the planning process for the Alviso Pond and Santa Clara County Interim Feasibility Study component of the South San Francisco Bay Shoreline Study with the planning process for the South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project. The two projects include ecosystem restoration, flood protection, and public access components. However, the current Interim Feasibility Study is a project-level component of the South Bay Salt Pond Restoration Study and it will be tiered to the above-mentioned programmatic EIS/EIR. This Interim Feasibility Study and the Report to be prepared will only cover a portion of the larger geographic area addressed in the South Bay Salt Ponds programmatic EIS/EIR.

Project Description. South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project. The South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project area comprises 15,100 acres of salt ponds and adjacent habitants in South San Francisco Bay the USFWS and California Department of Fish and Game (CDFG) acquired from the Cargill Salt Company in 2003. USFWS owns and manages the 8,000-acre Alviso pond complex and the 1,600-acre Ravenswood pond complex. CDFG owns and manages the 5,500-acre Eden Landing pond complex.

The oversearching goal of the South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project is to restore and enhance wetlands in the South San Francisco Bay while providing for flood protection and wildlife-oriented public access and recreation. The following project objectives were adopted by the South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project's Stakeholder Forum which includes representatives of local governments, environmental organizations, neighboring landowners, businesses, and community organizations:

1. Create, restore, or enhance habitats of sufficient size, function, and appropriate structure to:

a. Promote restoration of native special-status plants and animals that depend on South San Francisco Bay habitat for all or part of their life cycles.

b. Maintain current migratory bird species that utilize existing salt ponds and associated structures such as levees.

c. Support increased abundance and diversity of native species in various South San Francisco Bay aquatic and terrestrial ecosystem components, including plants, invertebrates, fish, mammals, birds, reptiles and amphibians.

2. Maintain of improve existing levels of flood protection in the South Bay area.

3. Provide public access and recreational opportunities compatible with wildlife and habitat goals.

4. Protect or improve existing levels of water and sediment quality in the South Bay, and fully evaluate ecological risks that could be caused by restoration.

5. Implement design and management measures to maintain or improve current levels of vector management, control predation on special-status species, and manage the spread of non-native species.

6. Protect the services provided by existing infrastructure (e.g., power lines, railroads).

USFWS and CDFG reviewed the proposed project objectives to ensure compliance with legal mandates, such as compatibility of wildlife with public access. Two additional evaluation factors were identified in the Alternatives Development Framework for comparative analysis:

7. Cost Effectiveness: Consider costs of implementation, management, and monitoring so that planned activities can be effectively executed with available funding.

8. Environmental Impact: Promote environmental benefit and reduce impacts to the human environment.

The South Bay salt ponds are now being managed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the California Department of Fish and Game under an Initial Stewardship Plan which was evaluated in a March 2004 Final EIS/EIR. The long-term restoration plan currently under evaluation in the ongoing programmatic NEPA/CEQA process may include general plans for the entire project area as well as detailed design plans for a specific Phase I project.

South San Francisco Bay Shoreline Study. The Corps plans to prepare a Feasibility Report integrated with anfsalt ponds of EIS/EIR for the South San Francisco Bay Shoreline Study: Alviso Ponds and Santa Clara County Interim Feasibility Study, pursuant to the following resolution by the U.S. House of Representatives Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, adopted July 24, 2002:

''Resolved by the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the United States House of Representatives, that the Secretary of the Army is requested to review the Final Letter Report for the San Francisco Bay Shoreline Study, California, dated July 1992, and all related interims and other pertinent reports to determine whether modifications to the recommendations contained therein are advisable at the present time in the interest of tidal and fluvial flood damage reduction, environmental restoration and protection and related purposes along the South San Francisco Bay shoreline for the counties of San Mateo, Santa Clara and Alameda, California.''

The South San Francisco Bay Shoreline Study area extends along South San Francisco Bay and includes the Alviso, Ravenswood, and Eden Landing pond complexes which are described above, as well as additional shoreline and floodplain areas in the counties of Alameda, San Mateo, and Santa Clara. The Report referenced in this Notice of Intent would propose implementation of the findings of the first Interim Feasibility Study component of the Shoreline Study.

The area to be examined in the first Interim Study consists of 25 ponds in the Alviso pond complex on the shores of the South Bay in Fremont, San Jose, Sunnyvale and Mountain View, located in Santa Clara and Alameda counties, plus substantial adjacent areas which may need flood protection or which may be affected by flood protection or ecosystem restoration measures. The study area is bordered by San Francisco Bay and the operational salt ponds of Alameda County to the north and San Francisquito Creek on the west. To the south and east, the study area extends beyond the salt ponds to include all lands subject to inundation from a 100-year tidal flooding event. These additional lands are primarily urbanized areas in Palo Alto, Mountain View, Sunnyvale, and San Jose to the south, and urbanized lands in Milpitas and Fremont to the east. These lands are generally delineated on maps which are on file with the Corps of Engineers, San Francisco District. During the course of the study the exact delineation of which lands are subject to tidal inundation may be modified based on technical studies.

The Corps proposes to conduct the South San Francisco Bay Shoreline Study: Alviso Ponds and Santa Clara County Interim Feasibility Study in coordination with the South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project and in partnership with the USFWS, CDFG, Conservancy, and the Santa Clara Valley Water District. It is expected that the Corps's Report for the first Interim Feasibility Study component of the Shoreline Study will be released after the completion of the South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project programmatic EIS/EIR, so the EIS/EIR components of the Report for the Shoreline Study will tier off from the joint programmatic South Bay Salt Ponds EIS/EIR.

Public Involvement. The public scoping meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 25, 2006 at the Milpitas Library Community Room located at 40 North Milpitas Blvd., Milpitas, CA 95035 (408–262–1171), from 5:30–8:30 p.m. Persons needing reasonable accommodation in order to attend and participate in the public scoping meeting should contact Bill DeJager at 415–977–8670 at least one week in advance of the meeting to allow time for arrangements to be made.

Written comments may be sent to the addresses indicated in the Addresses section above, by facsimile to 415–977–8695, or via e-mail through the public comments link on the South Bay Salt Ponds Restoration Project Web site, located at http://www.southbayrestoration.org/Question_Comment.html. All comments received, including names and addresses, will become part of the administrative record and will be available to the public unless commenters request that this information not be released.

Alternatives. The Report will consider a range of alternatives and their impacts, including the No Action Alternative. Scoping will be an early and open process designed to determine the issues and alternatives to be addressed in the Report. For example, the range of alternatives may include varying mixes of managed ponds and tidal marsh habitat, varying levels and means of flood protection, and varying levels and means of recreation and public access components which respond to the Shoreline Study objectives.

Content of the Report. The Report will identify the anticipated effects of the project alternatives (detrimental and beneficial) and describe and analyze direct, indirect, and cumulative environmental impacts of the project alternatives, including the No Action Alternative, in accordance with NEPA (40 CFR 1500–1508) and CEQA. For each issue listed below, the EIS/EIR will include discussion of: The parameters used in evaluating the impacts as well as recommended mitigation; the effectiveness of mitigation measures proposed to be implemented; and any additional measures that would reduce the impacts to a less-than-significant level.

The list of issues presented below is preliminary both in scope and number. These issues are presented to facilitate public comment on the scope of the Report, and are not intended to be all-inclusive or a predetermination of impact topics to be considered.

Biological Resources. The Report will address the following issues and potential detrimental and beneficial impacts related to biological resources:

- Effects on population sizes of endangered species and other species of concern, including California clapper rail, snowy plover, California least tern, salt marsh harvest mouse, Chinook salmon and steelhead trout.
- Shift in populations and effects on population sizes of migratory waterfowl and shorebirds.
- Increased habitat connectivity for all organisms that use multiple marsh and/or aquatic habitats, including birds, mammals, and fish.
- Potential for improved habitat connectivity with adjacent upland habitats.
- Potential loss of hypersaline wetlands and their unique communities.
- Reduction in predation for species of concern with larger habitat blocks.
- Increased nursery habitat in wetlands for fish.
- Potential for salmonid entrainment into managed ponds.
- Effects of Spartina alterniflora and the hybrids of this species, and other invasive species.
- Effects of flood control structures on existing ecosystem attributes and functions including acquatic and terrestrial species.
- Effects of public access and recreation on aquatic and terrestrial species.

Hydrology and Flood Protection. The Report will address the following issues and potential detrimental and beneficial impacts related to hydrology and flood protection:

- Existing and future without-project tidal flood hazards as affected by fluvial inputs.
- Effects on the tidal regime and tidal mixing from project components, and related effects on salinity of Bay waters.
- Effects on high-tide water levels and resulting effects on flood hazards.
- Changes in tidal hydrodynamics, including tidal prism and tidal range in tidal sloughs, resulting changes in channel geometry and changes in tidal flood risks (including during project implementation).
- Effects on flood flow conveyance as a result of converting salt ponds to tidal marsh.
- Potential decrease in wave energy associated with tidal marsh restoration and reduced erosion of flood protection levees.
- Impacts on tidal flooding frequency and extent, and flood protection due to breaches in salt pond levees, improvement of existing levees, and construction of new levees.
- Impacts on groundwater quality.

Water and Sediment Quality. The Report will address the following issues and potential detrimental and beneficial impacts related to water and sediment quality:

- Effects of salt pond levee breaches, including changes in salinity, turbidity, dissolved oxygen, biochemical and biological oxygen demand, metals, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), and other pollutants of concern.
- Changes in residence time of water in the South Bay and related effects on water quality.
- Changes in mercury and/or methyl mercury concentrations, and other pollutants of concern, in Bay and slough waters.
- Potential to mobilize existing sediment contaminants, including mercury, PCBs, and other pollutants of concern.
- Potential contamination from outside sources, including urban runoff, wastewater discharges, imported sediment and atmospheric deposition.

Recreation and Public Access. The Report will address the project's effects on existing recreation facilities and their use as well as the potential effects of expansion or creation of new facilities. The benefits and impacts of increased or decreased public access on biological resources and achievement of other project objectives will also be addressed.

Economics. The Report will evaluate the economic effects of the alternatives, including costs and benefits of flood protection, recreation, and effects on commercial fishing.

Cumulative Impacts. The Report will examine the cumulative impacts of past, ongoing, and reasonably foreseeable future projects affecting tidal marsh and estuarine habitats in the South Bay, as well as effects on adjacent urban and rural lands and communities.

Environmental Analysis Process. The Report will be prepared in compliance with NEPA and Council on Environmental Quality Regulations, contained in 40 CFR parts 1500–1508, and with CEQA, Public Resources Code Sec 21000 et seq. and the CEQA Guidelines as amended. Because requirements for NEPA and CEQA are somewhat different, the document must be prepared to comply with whichever requirements are more stringent. The Corps and the USFWS will be Joint Lead Agencies for the NEPA process and the Conservancy will be the Lead Agency for the CEQA process. In accordance with both CEQA and NEPA, these Lead Agencies are responsible for the scope, content, and legal adequacy of the document. The SCVWD will be a Responsible Agency under the provisions of CEQA. Therefore, all aspects of the Report scope and process will be fully coordinated between these four agencies.

The scoping process will include the opportunity for public input during one public meeting and by written comments submitted during the 30-day scoping period.

The draft Report will address public concerns associated with the issues identified in the scoping process and in subsequent public involvement and will be distributed for at least a 45-day public review and comment period. During this time, both written and verbal comments will be solicited on the adequacy of the draft Report. The final Report will address the comments received on the draft during public review and will be made available to all commenters on the draft Report. Copies of the draft and final reports will be posted on the Internet as part of the public review process.

The final step in the NEPA process is the preparation of a Record of Decision (ROD). This document is a concise summary of the decisions made by the Corps and the USFWS. The ROD will identify the alternative selected by the agencies and other alternatives that were considered. It also will discuss the mitigation measures that were adopted. Because there re two lead agencies, it is possible that each agency will prepare its own ROD.

The Record, or Records, of Decision may be published no earlier than thirty days after publication of the Notice of Availability of the final EIS/EIR. The final step in the CEQA process is certification of the CEQA document, which includes preparation of a Mitigation, Monitoring, and Reporting Plan and adoption of its findings, should the project be approved.

This notice is provided pursuant to regulations for implementing the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (40 CFR 1501.7 and 1506.6).

Dated: December 23, 2005.

John Engbring,

Acting Manager, California/Nevada Operations Office, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Follow the on-line instruction.

An electronic version of the public docket is available through EPA's electronic public docket and comment system, EPA Dockets. You may use EPA Dockets at http://www.epa.gov/edocket/ to submit or view public comments, access the index listing of the contents of the official public docket, and to access those documents in the public docket that are available electronically. Once in the system, select ''search,'' then key in the appropriate docket ID number.

Certain types of information will not be placed in the EPA Dockets. Information claimed as CBI and other information whose disclosure is restricted by statute, which is not included in the official public docket, will not be available for public viewing in EPA's electronic public docket. EPA's policy is that copyrighted material will not be placed in EPA's electronic public docket but will be available only in printed, paper form in the official public docket. To the extent feasible, publicly available docket materials will be made available in EPA's electronic public docket. When a document is selected from the index list in EPA Dockets, the system will identify whether the document is available for viewing in EPA's electronic public docket. Although, not all docket materials may be available electronically, you may still access any of the publicly available docket materials through the docket facility identified in Unit I.B.1. EPA intends to work towards providing electronic access to all of the publicly available docket materials through EPA's electronic public docket.

For public commenters, it is important to note that EPA's policy is that public comments, whether submitted electronically or on paper, will be made available for public viewing in EPA's electronic public docket as EPA receives them and without change, unless the comment contains copyrighted material, CBI, or other information whose disclosure is restricted by statute. When EPA identifies a comment containing copyrighted material, EPA will provide a reference to that material in the version of the comment that is placed in EPA's electronic public docket. The entire printed comment, including the copyrighted material, will be available in the public docket.

Public comments submitted on computer disks that are mailed or delivered to the docket will be transferred to EPA's electronic public docket. Public comments that are mailed or delivered to the docket will be scanned and placed in EPA's electronic public docket. Where practical, physical objects will be photographed, and the photograph will be placed in EPA's electronic public docket along with a brief description written by the docket staff.

C. How and to Whom Do I Submit Comments?

You may submit comments electronically, by mail, or through hand delivery/courier. To ensure proper receipt by EPA, identify the appropriate docket ID number in the subject line on the first page of your comment. Please ensure that your comments are submitted within the specified comment period. Comments received after the close of the comment period will be marked ''late.'' EPA is not required to consider these late comments. If you wish to submit CBI or information that is otherwise protected by statute, please follow the instructions in Unit I.D. Do not use EPA Dockets or e-mail to submit CBI or information protected by statute.

1. Electronically. If you submit an electronic comment as prescribed in this unit, EPA recommends that you include your name, mailing address, and an e-mail address or other contact information in the body of your comment. Also, include this contact information on the outside of any disk or CD ROM you submit, and in any cover letter accompanying the disk or CD ROM. This ensures that you can be identified as the submitter of the comment and allows EPA to contact you in case EPA cannot read your comment due to technical difficulties or needs further information on the substance of your comment. EPA's policy is that EPA will not edit your comment, and any identifying or contact information provided in the body of a comment will be included as part of the comment that is placed in the official public docket, and made available in EPA's electronic public docket. If EPA cannot read your comment due to technical difficulties and cannot contact you for clarification, EPA may not be able to consider your comment.

i. EPA Dockets. Your use of EPA's electronic public docket to submit comments to EPA electronically is EPA's preferred method for receiving comments. Go directly to EPA Dockets at http://www.epa.gov/edocket/, and follow the online instructions for submitting comments. Once in the system, select ''search,'' and then key in docket ID number EPA–HQ–OPP–2005–0252. The system is an ''anonymous access'' system, which means EPA will not know your identity, e-mail address, or other contact information unless you provide it in the body of your comment.

ii. E-mail. Comments may be sent by e-mail to opp-docket@epa.gov, Attention: Docket ID number EPQ–HQ–OPP–2005–0252. In contrast to EPA's electronic public docket, EPA's e-mail system is not an ''anonymous access'' system. If you send an e-mail comment directly to the docket without going through EPA's electronic public docket, EPA's e-mail system automatically captures your e-mail address. E-mail addresses that are automatically captured by EPA's e-mail system are included as part of the comment that is placed in the official public docket, and made available in EPA's electronic public docket.

iii. Disk or CD ROM. You may submit comments on a disk or CD ROM that you mail to the mailing address identified in Unit I.C.2. These electronic submissions will be accepted in WordPerfect or ASCII file format. Avoid the use of special characters and any form of encryption.

2. By mail. Send your comments to: Public Information and Records Integrity Branch (PIRIB) (7502C), Office of Pesticide Programs (OPP), Environmental Protection Agency, 1200

Pennsylvania Ave., NW., Washington, DC 20460–0001, Attention: Docket ID number EPQ–HQ–OPP–2005–0252.

3. By hand delivery or courier. Deliver your comments to: Public Information and Records Integrity Branch (PIRIB), Office of Pesticide Programs (OPP), Environmental Protection Agency, Rm. 119, Crystal Mall #2, 1801 S. Bell St., Arlington, VA, Attention: Docket ID number EPA–HQ–OPP–2005–0252. Such deliveries are only accepted during the docket's normal hours of operation as identified in Unit I.B.1.

D. How Should I Submit CBI to the Agency?

Do not submit information that you consider to be CBI electronically through EPA's electronic public docket or by e-mail. You may claim information that you submit to EPA as CBI by marking any part or all of that information as CBI (if you submit CBI on disk or CD ROM, mark the outside of the disk or CD ROM as CBI and then identify electronically within the disk or CD ROM the specific information that is CBI). Information so marked will not be disclosed except in accordance with procedures set forth in 40 CFR part 2.

In addition to one complete version of the comment that includes any information claimed as CBI, a copy of the comment that does not contain the information claimed as CBI must be submitted for inclusion in the public docket and EPA's electronic public docket. If you submit the copy that does not contain CBI on disk or CD ROM, mark the outside of the disk or CD ROM clearly that it does not contain CBI. Information not marked as CBI will be included in the public docket and EPA's electronic public docket without prior notice. If you have any questions about CBI or the procedures for claiming CBI, please consult the person listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT.

E. What Should I Consider as I Prepare My Comments for EPA?

You may find the following suggestions helpful for preparing your comments:

1. Explain your views as clearly as possible.

2. Describe any assumptions that you used.

3. Provide any technical information and/or data you used that supportyour views.

4. If you estimate potential burden or costs, explain how you arrived at your estimate.

5. Provide specific examples to illustrate your concerns.

6. Offer alternatives.

7. Make sure to submit your comments by the comment period deadline identified.

8. To ensure proper receipt by EPA, identify the appropriate docket ID number in the subject line on the first page of your response. It would also be helpful if you provided the name, date, and Federal Register citation related to your comments.

II. Background

A. What Action is the Agency Taking?

EPA is making available the human health risk assessment for iodomethane. Iodomethane is a new chemical proposed for use as a pre-plant fumigant to control soil borne pests including weed seeds, nematodes, insects, and diseases in fields intended for commercial production of strawberries, tomatoes, peppers, turf, ornamentals (flowers grown for cutting, bulbs, and nursery plants), trees and vines. The Agency developed this risk assessment as part of the registration decision process. EPA is ensuring that all new pesticides proposed for use meet current standards under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) and the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFDCA), as amended by the Food Quality Protection Act of 1996 (FQPA).

The risk assessment for iodomethane addresses exposures to workers and the general population which are expected to occur primarily via inhalation. Dermal exposure is not expected due to the high vapor pressure of iodomethane. Potential general population exposures via inhalation are those in proximity to treated fields (i.e., bystanders). These exposure scenarios are plausible considering the volatility of fumigants, in general, and the potential for fumigant off-gassing into the air and transport off-site by winds to bystanders in proximity to treated fields. Exposures to iodomethane may be acute (less than 24 hours), short-term (one to thirty days), intermediate-term (one month to six months) or long-term in duration. Acute exposures have been quantitatively assessed because this duration is the key concern due to the anticipated use pattern of iodomethane, its emission profile and the nature of its toxicity. Additionally, for these same reasons, it is believed that the human health assessment of acute exposures are protective of other durations of exposure. Iodomethane is considered a nonfood use chemical, and a dietary risk assessment was not conducted. The general population may be exposed to iodomethane through drinking water. Therefore, a qualitative drinking water risk assessment was conducted, and no risks were identified from this potential source of exposure.

EPA is providing an opportunity, through this notice, for interested parties to provide comments and input on the Agency's risk assessment for iodomethane. Such comments and input could address, for example, the availability of additional data to further refine the risk assessments, such as meteorological data for probabilistic modeling purposes and projections for product use by major use regions, frequency or application parameters, etc., or could address the Agency's risk assessment methodologies and assumptions, air dispersion models, or physiologically-based pharmacokinetic models as applied to this specific pesticide.

EPA seeks to achieve environmental justice, the fair treatment and meaningful involvement of all people, regardless of race, color, national origin, or income, in the development, implementation, and enforcement of environmental laws, regulations, and policies. To help address potential environmental justice issues, the Agency seeks information on any groups or segments of the population who, as a result of their location, cultural practices, or other factors, may have potentially atypical, unusually high exposure to iodomethane, compared to the general population.

Comments should be limited to issues raised within the risk assessment and associated documents or to environmental justice issues discussed above. All comments should be submitted using the methods in Unit I. of the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION, and must be received by EPA on or before the closing date. Comments will become part of the Agency Docket for iodomethane. Comments received after the close of the comment period will be marked ''late.'' EPA is not required to consider these late comments.

B. What is the Agency's Authority for Taking this Action?

Section 3 of FIFRA directs that ''the Administrator may by regulation limit the distribution, sale, or use in any State of any pesticide that is not registered under this Act and that is not the subject of an experimental use permit under section 5 or an emergency exemption under section 18.''

Notice of Intent to Prepare an Environmental Impact Statement and Hold a Public Scoping Meeting for the Construction of a New Border Station Facility in Madawaska, Maine

AGENCY: Public Buildings Service, GSA.

ACTION: Notice of Intent.

SUMMARY: The General Services Administration (GSA) announces its intent to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) of 1969 to assess the potential impacts of the construction of a New Border Station Facility in Madawaska, Maine (the ''Proposed Action''). At the request of Customs and Border Protection (CBP), the GSA is proposing to construct a new border station facility which meets their needs, and the design requirements of the GSA.

The existing facilities are undersized and obsolete, and consequently incapable of providing the level of security now required. The Proposed Action has been defined and will likely include: (a) identification of land requirements, including acquisition of adjoining land; (b) demolition of existing government structures at the border station; (c) construction of a main administration building and ancillary support buildings; and (d) consequent potential alterations to secondary roads.

Alternatives to be studied will identify alternative locations for the components of the border station including the main administration and ancillary support buildings, the associated roadway network and parking. A No Action alternative will also be studied that will evaluate the consequences of not constructing the new border station facility. This alternative is included to provide a basis for comparison to the action alternatives described above as required by NEPA regulations (40 CFR 1002.14(d)).

GSA invites individuals, organizations and agencies to submit comments concerning the scope of the EIS. The public scoping period starts with the publication of this notice in the Federal Register and will continue for forty five (45) days from the date of this notice. GSA will consider all comments received or postmarked by that date in defining the scope of the EIS. GSA expects to issue a Draft EIS by June 2006 at which time its availability will be announced in the Federal Register and local media. A public comment period will commence upon publication of the Notice of Availability. The GSA will consider and respond to comments received on the Draft EIS in preparing the Final EIS.

ADDRESSES: Written comments or suggestions concerning the scope of the EIS should be sent to David M. Drevinsky P.E., PMP, Regional Environmental Quality Advocate (REQA), U.S. General Services Administration, 10 Causeway Street, Room 975, Boston, MA 02222; Fax (617) 565–5967.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: David M. Drevinsky by phone at (617) 565–6596 or by email at david.drevinsky@gsa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Public Scoping Meeting:

A public scoping meeting will provide the public with an opportunity to present comments, ask questions, and discuss concerns regarding the scope of the EIS for the Proposed Action with GSA representatives. GSA will hold a public scoping meeting at the Middle / High School Library located on 135 Seventh Avenue in Madawaska on January 10, 2006 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. In case of inclement weather, this public scoping meeting will be held on January 11, 2006 at the same location and with the same time.

Agency Information Collection Activities: Submission for OMB Review; Comment Request

AGENCY: Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services.

In compliance with the requirement of section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), Department of Health and Human Services, is publishing the following summary of proposed collections for public comment. Interested persons are invited to send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including any of the following subjects: (1) The necessity and utility of the proposed information collection for the proper performance of the Agency's function; (2) the accuracy of the estimated burden; (3) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (4) the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology to minimize the information collection burden.

1. Type of Information Collection Request: Extension of a currently approved collection; Title of Information Collection: Application for Participation in the Medicare Care Management Performance Demonstration; Form Number: CMS–10165 (OMB#: 0938–0965); Use: The Medicare Care Management Performance (MCMP) Demonstration and its corresponding Report to Congress are mandated by the section 649 of the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement, and Modernization Act of 2003 (MMA). Section 649 of the MMA provides for the implementation of a ''pay for performance'' demonstration under which Medicare would pay incentive payments to physicians who (1) adopt and use health information technology; and (2) meet established standards on clinical performance measures. This demonstration will be held in four States, Arkansas, California, Massachusetts, and Utah. Providers that are enrolled in the Doctors' Office Quality—Information Technology (DOQ–IT) project are eligible to participate in the demonstration. To enroll in the MCMP Demonstration, a physician/provider must submit an application form. The confidentiality of health information is threatened not only by the risk of improper access to stored information, but also by the risk of interception during electronic transmission of the information. The use of the security standards will improve the Medicare and Medicaid programs, other Federal health programs, and private health programs; in addition, it will improve the effectiveness and efficiency of the health care industry in general by establishing a level of protection for certain electronic health information.; Frequency: Recordkeeping and Reporting—On occasion; Affected Public: Business or other for-profit, Not-for-profit institutions, Federal Government, and State, Local or Tribal Government; Number of Respondents: 4,000,000; Total Annual Responses: 4,000,000; Total Annual Hours: 64,539,263.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services

Privacy Act of 1974; Report of a New System of Records

AGENCY: Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS).

ACTION: Notice of a new System of Records (SOR).

SUMMARY: In accordance with the requirements of the Privacy Act of 1974, we are proposing to establish a new SOR titled, ''Medicare Bariatric Surgery System (MBSS), System No. 09–70–0570.'' National coverage determinations (NCDs) are determinations made by the Secretary of HHS with respect to whether or not a particular item or service is covered nationally under title XVIII of the Social Security Act (the Act) section 1869(f)(1)(B). In order to be covered by Medicare, an item or service must fall within one or more benefit categories contained within Part A or Part B, and must not be otherwise excluded from coverage. Moreover, with limited exceptions, the expenses incurred for items or services must be ''reasonable and necessary for the diagnosis or treatment of illness or injury or to improve the functioning of a malformed body member,'' section 1862(a)(1)(A). CMS has determined that the evidence is adequate to conclude that bariatric surgery is reasonable and necessary in several patient groups where certain criteria for these patients have been met. The reasonable and necessary determination requires that patients meet the MBSS criteria set forth in the decision memorandum and are consistent with the trials discussed. Bariatric surgery is reasonable and necessary only when facilities performing the surgery have full accreditation based on standards equivalent to or exceeding the CMS minimum standards. Collection of data elements related to bariatric surgery allows that determination to be made.

The purpose of this system is to provide reimbursement for bariatric surgery, and assist in the collection of data on patients receiving bariatric surgery, for a data collection process to assure patient safety and protection, and to determine that the bariatric surgery is reasonable and necessary. Information retrieved from this system will also be disclosed to: (1) Support regulatory, reimbursement, and policy functions performed within the agency or by a contractor or consultant; (2) assist another Federal or state agency with information to enable such agency to administer a Federal health benefits program, or to enable such agency to fulfill a requirement of Federal statute or regulation that implements a health benefits program funded in whole or in part with Federal funds; (3) assist an individual or organization for a research project or in support of an evaluation project related to the prevention of disease or disability, the restoration or maintenance of health, or payment related projects; (4) support constituent requests made to a congressional representative; (5) support litigation involving the agency; and (6) combat fraud and abuse in certain Federally-funded health benefits programs. We have provided background information about the modified system in the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION section below. Although the Privacy Act requires only that CMS provide an opportunity for interested persons to comment on the proposed routine uses, CMS invites comments on all portions of this notice. See EFFECTIVE DATES section for comment period.

EFFECTIVE DATE: CMS filed a new SOR report with the Chair of the House Committee on Government Reform and Oversight, the Chair of the Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs, and the Administrator, Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget (OMB) on 12/29/2005. We will not disclose any information under a routine use until 30 days after publication. We may defer implementation of this system or one or more of the routine use statements listed below if we receive comments that persuade us to defer implementation.

ADDRESSES: The public should address comment to the CMS Privacy Officer, Mail Stop N2–04–27, 7500 Security Boulevard, Baltimore, Maryland 21244–1850. Comments received will be available for review at this location, by appointment, during regular business hours, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m.–3 p.m., eastern daylight time.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Rosemarie Hakim, Epidemiologist, Office of Clinical Standards and Quality, CMS, Mail Stop C1–09–06, 7500 Security Boulevard, Baltimore, Maryland 21244–1849. She may be contacted via telephone at (410) 786–3934, or via e-mail at Rosemarie.Hakim@cms.hhs.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Obesity is a growing epidemic in the United States with over 60% of the population classified as overweight or obese. One form of treatment for obesity is bariatric surgery. In May 2005 CMS began a reconsideration of the NCD on BS for Medicare beneficiaries submitted by the American Society for bariatric surgery, the American Obesity Association, and others. The requestors included the following bariatric surgery procedures in their request for reconsideration: (1) Roux-en-y Gastric Bypass, (2) Biliopancreatic Diversion, (3) Laparoscopic Adjustable Gastric Banding, and (4) Vertical Gastric Banding. CMS has determined that the evidence is adequate to conclude that bariatric surgery is reasonable and necessary for Medicare beneficiaries who have a Body Mass Index ≥ 35, at least one co-morbidity related to morbid obesity, and have been unsuccessful with medical treatment for obesity.

I. Description of the Proposed System of Records

A. Statutory and Regulatory Basis for SOR

The statutory authority for linking coverage decisions to the collection of additional data is derived from section 1862(a)(1)(A) of the Act, which states that Medicare may not provide payment for items and services unless they are ''reasonable and necessary'' for the treatment of illness or injury. In some cases, CMS will determine that an item or service is only reasonable and necessary when specific data collections accompany the provisions of the service. In these cases, the collection of data is required to ensure that the care provided to individual patients will improve health outcomes.

B. Collection and Maintenance of Data in the System

The data collection should include baseline patient characteristics. The information collected will include but is not limited to: Name, address, telephone number, Health Insurance Claim Number (HICN), geographic location, race/ethnicity, gender, and date of birth, as well as, background information relating to Medicare or Medicaid issues.

II. Agency Policies, Procedures, and Restrictions on the Routine Use

A. Agency Policies, Procedures, and Restrictions on the Routine Use

The Privacy Act permits us to disclose information without an individual's consent if the information is to be used for a purpose that is compatible with the purpose(s) for which the information was collected. Any such disclosure of data is known as a ''routine use.'' The government will only release MBSS information that can be associated with an individual as provided for under ''Section III. Proposed Routine Use Disclosures of Data in the System.'' Both identifiable and non-identifiable data may be disclosed under a routine use.

We will only collect the minimum personal data necessary to achieve the purpose of MBSS. CMS has the following policies and procedures concerning disclosures of information that will be maintained in the system. Disclosure of information from the system will be approved only to the extent necessary to accomplish the purpose of the disclosure and only after CMS:

1. Determines that the use or disclosure is consistent with the reason that the data is being collected, e.g., to provide reimbursement for bariatric surgery, and assist in the collection of data on patients receiving bariatric surgery, for a data collection process to assure patient safety and protection, and to determine that the bariatric surgery is reasonable and necessary.

2. Determines that:

a. The purpose for which the disclosure is to be made can only be accomplished if the record is provided in individually identifiable form;

b. The purpose for which the disclosure is to be made is of sufficient importance to warrant the effect and/or risk on the privacy of the individual that additional exposure of the record might bring; and

c. There is a strong probability that the proposed use of the data would in fact accomplish the stated purpose(s).

3. Requires the information recipient to:

a. Establish administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to prevent unauthorized use of disclosure of the record;

b. Remove or destroy at the earliest time all patient-identifiable information; and

c. Agree to not use or disclose the information for any purpose other than the stated purpose under which the information was disclosed.

4. Determines that the data are valid and reliable.

III. Proposed Routine Use Disclosures of Data in the System

A. The Privacy Act allows us to disclose information without an individual's consent if the information is to be used for a purpose that is compatible with the purpose(s) for which the information was collected. Any such compatible use of data is known as a ''routine use.'' The proposed routine uses in this system meet the compatibility requirement of the Privacy Act. We are proposing to establish the following routine use disclosures of information maintained in the system:

1. To agency contractors or consultants who have been engaged by the agency to assist in the performance of a service related to this system and who need to have access to the records in order to perform the activity.

We contemplate disclosing information under this routine use only in situations in which CMS may enter into a contractual or similar agreement with a third party to assist in accomplishing CMS function relating to purposes for this system.

CMS occasionally contracts out certain of its functions when doing so would contribute to effective and efficient operations. CMS must be able to give a contractor or consultant whatever information is necessary for the contractor or consultant to fulfill its duties. In these situations, safeguards are provided in the contract prohibiting the contractor or consultant from using or disclosing the information for any purpose other than that described in the contract and requires the contractor or consultant to return or destroy all information at the completion of the contract.

2. To another Federal or state agency to:

a. Provide reimbursement for bariatric surgery, and assist in the collection of data on patients receiving bariatric surgery for a data collection process to assure patient safety and protection, and to determine that the bariatric surgery is reasonable and necessary,

b. Contribute to the accuracy of CMS's proper payment of Medicare benefits, and/or

c. Enable such agency to administer a Federal health benefits program, or as necessary to enable such agency to fulfill a requirement of a Federal statute or regulation that implements a health benefits program funded in whole or in part with Federal funds.

Other Federal or state agencies in their administration of a Federal health program may require MBSS information in order to provide reimbursement for bariatric surgery, and assist in the collection of data on patients receiving bariatric surgery for a data collection process to assure patient safety and protection, and to determine that the bariatric surgery is reasonable and necessary.

3. To an individual or organization for a research project or in support of an evaluation project related to the prevention of disease or disability, the restoration or maintenance of health, or payment related projects.

The MBSS data will provide for research or in support of evaluation projects, a broader, national perspective of the status of Medicare beneficiaries. CMS anticipates that many researchers will have legitimate requests to use these data in projects that could ultimately improve the care provided to Medicare beneficiaries and the policy that governs the care.

4. To a member of Congress or to a Congressional staff member in response to an inquiry of the Congressional office made at the written request of the constituent about whom the record is maintained.

Beneficiaries sometimes request the help of a member of Congress in resolving an issue relating to a matter before CMS. The member of Congress then writes CMS, and CMS must be able to give sufficient information to be responsive to the inquiry.

5. To the Department of Justice (DOJ), court or adjudicatory body when:

a. The agency or any component thereof, or

b. Any employee of the agency in his or her official capacity, or

c. Any employee of the agency in his or her individual capacity where the DOJ has agreed to represent the employee, or

d. The United States Government is a party to litigation or has an interest in such litigation, and by careful review, CMS determines that the records are both relevant and necessary to the litigation and that the use of such records by the DOJ, court or adjudicatory body is compatible with the purpose for which the agency collected the records.

Whenever CMS is involved in litigation, and occasionally when another party is involved in litigation and CMS' policies or operations could be affected by the outcome of the litigation, CMS would be able to disclose information to the DOJ, court or adjudicatory body involved.

6. To a CMS contractor (including, but not necessarily limited to fiscal intermediaries and carriers) that assists in the administration of a CMS-administered health benefits program, or to a grantee of a CMS-administered grant program, when disclosure is deemed reasonably necessary by CMS to prevent, deter, discover, detect, investigate, examine, prosecute, sue with respect to, defend against, correct, remedy, or otherwise combat fraud or abuse in such program.

We contemplate disclosing information under this routine use only in situations in which CMS may enter into a contractual relationship or grant with a third party to assist in accomplishing CMS functions relating to the purpose of combating fraud and abuse.

CMS occasionally contracts out certain of its functions and makes grants when doing so would contribute to effective and efficient operations. CMS must be able to give a contractor or grantee whatever information is necessary for the contractor or grantee to fulfill its duties. In these situations, safeguards are provided in the contract prohibiting the contractor or grantee from using or disclosing the information for any purpose other than that described in the contract and requiring the contractor or grantee to return or destroy all information.

7. To another Federal agency or to an instrumentality of any governmental jurisdiction within or under the control of the United States (including any State or local governmental agency), that administers, or that has the authority to investigate potential fraud or abuse in, a health benefits program funded in whole or in part by Federal funds, when disclosure is deemed reasonably necessary by CMS to prevent, deter, discover, detect, investigate, examine, prosecute, sue with respect to, defend against, correct, remedy, or otherwise combat fraud or abuse in such programs.

Other agencies may require MBSS information for the purpose of combating fraud and abuse in such Federally-funded programs.

B. Additional Provisions Affecting Routine Use Disclosures

To the extent this system contains Protected Health Information (PHI) as defined by HHS regulation ''Standards for Privacy of Individually Identifiable Health Information'' (45 CFR Parts 160 and 164, 65 FR 82462 (12–28–00), Subparts A and E) disclosures of such PHI that are otherwise authorized by these routine uses may only be made if, and as, permitted or required by the ''Standards for Privacy of Individually Identifiable Health Information.''

In addition, our policy will be to prohibit release even of data not directly identifiable, except pursuant to one of the routine uses or if required by law, if we determine there is a possibility that an individual can be identified through implicit deduction based on small cell sizes (instances where the patient population is so small that individuals who are familiar with the enrollees could, because of the small size, use this information to deduce the identity of the beneficiary).

IV. Safeguards

CMS has safeguards in place for authorized users and monitors such users to ensure against excessive or unauthorized use. Personnel having access to the system have been trained in the Privacy Act and information security requirements. Employees who maintain records in this system are instructed not to release data until the intended recipient agrees to implement appropriate management, operational and technical safeguards sufficient to protect the confidentiality, integrity and availability of the information and information systems and to prevent unauthorized access.

This system will conform to all applicable Federal laws and regulations and Federal, HHS, and CMS policies and standards as they relate to information security and data privacy. These laws and regulations may apply but are not limited to: The Privacy Act of 1974; the Federal Information Security Management Act of 2002; the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act of 1986; the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996; the E-Government Act of 2002, the Clinger-Cohen Act of 1996; the Medicare Modernization Act of 2003, and the corresponding implementing regulations. OMB Circular A–130, Management of Federal Resources, Appendix III, Security of Federal Automated Information Resources also applies. Federal, HHS, and CMS policies and standards include but are not limited to: All pertinent National Institute of Standards and Technology publications; the HHS Information Systems Program Handbook and the CMS Information Security Handbook.

V. Effects of the Proposed System of Records on Individual Rights

CMS proposes to establish this system in accordance with the principles and requirements of the Privacy Act and will collect, use, and disseminate information only as prescribed therein. Data in this system will be subject to the authorized releases in accordance with the routine uses identified in this system of records.

CMS will take precautionary measures (see item IV above) to minimize the risks of unauthorized access to the records and the potential harm to individual privacy or other personal or property rights of patients whose data are maintained in the system. CMS will collect only that information necessary to perform the system's functions. In addition, CMS will make disclosure from the proposed system only with consent of the subject individual, or his/her legal representative, or in accordance with an applicable exception provision of the Privacy Act. CMS, therefore, does not anticipate an unfavorable effect on individual privacy as a result of information relating to individuals.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

FDA announced the availability of a guidance document for industry and FDA entitled, ''Requesting an Extension to Use Existing Label Stock After the Trans Fat Labeling Effective Date of January 1, 2006,'' in the Federal Register of December 14, 2005 (70 FR 74020). Based on the number of requests the agency received asking it to consider enforcement discretion, FDA decided to incorporate an addendum into that guidance. Thus, FDA is issuing this notice to inform all interested persons of the addendum to that guidance.

In compliance with section 212 of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act (Public Law 104–121), we are making available this guidance that states in plain language the factors the agency intends to consider concerning requests for enforcement discretion by small and other businesses regarding compliance with this regulation.

FDA is issuing this guidance as a level 1 guidance consistent with FDA's good guidance practices regulation § 10.115 (21 CFR 10.115). Consistent with FDA's good guidance practices regulation, the agency will accept comment, but is implementing the guidance document immediately in accordance with § 10.115 (g)(2), because the agency has determined that prior public participation is not feasible or appropriate. This document affects the trans fat labeling effective date of January 1, 2006, so it is urgent that FDA explains its new enforcement policy before that date. This guidance represents the agency's current thinking on the subject. It does not create or confer any rights for or on any person and does not operate to bind FDA or the public. You may use an alternative approach if such approach satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations. If you want to discuss an alternative approach, contact the FDA staff responsible for implementing this guidance (see FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT).

II. Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

This final guidance contains information collection provisions that are subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520). The collection of information in this guidance was approved under OMB control number 0910–0571.

III. Comments

Interested persons may submit to the Division of Dockets Management (see ADDRESSES) written or electronic comments regarding this document at any time. Submit a single copy of electronic comments or two paper copies of any mailed comments, except that individuals may submit one paper copy. Comments are to be identified with the docket number found in brackets in the heading of this document. The guidance and received comments may be seen in the Division of Dockets Management between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

BILLING CODE 4160–01–S

IMPLEMENTATION PLAN

For
The Memorandum of Understanding
Regarding the Sharing and Exchange of Information about Therapeutic Products

Between the Food and Drug Administration
Department of Health and Human Services of the United States of America and the Health Products and Food Branch Health Canada

of Canada

I. Introduction

On November 18, 2003, the Health Products and Food Branch (HPFB) of Health Canada and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services concluded a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) and respective Confidentiality Commitments. The intent of this implementation plan is to confirm the necessary governance and management elements to facilitate cooperation and the successful exchange of otherwise not public information between FDA and HPFB in accordance with the terms of the MOU and respective Confidentiality Commitments. The duration of this implementation plan is the same as that of the MOU.

The specific objectives of this Implementation Plan are to establish: (a) a governance structure for directing and monitoring the implementation of the MOU; (b) clear process by which each party will undertake the exchange of otherwise not public information; and (c) the process for setting and monitoring mutually agreed upon annual priorities for cooperation.

II. Governance

In order to ensure the smooth implementation of the MOU, an appropriate governance structure is required. The agreed governance structure for the MOU includes Senior Officials, a Steering Committee, and Coordinators.

Senior Officials

The Assistant Deputy Minister of HPFB and the Deputy Commissioner for International and Special Programs of the FDA will meet as needed, but will hold one formal Senior Officials' Meeting in January of each year. Each country will host the meeting on an annual rotating basis (starting with Canada hosting the 2006 meeting and so on). The objectives of these meetings are to:

- review progress in the implementation of the MOU in the previous year;
- set priorities for the year; and
- if deemed necessary, host policy discussions with key senior managers from both organizations.

Steering Committee

The Steering Committee will be co-chaired by the Director General, Office of Regulatory and International Affairs (ORIA) of HPFB, and the Assistant Commissioner, Office of International Program (OIP) of the FDA. In addition to the above, the Steering Committee will consist of the:

- Director of International Affairs, ORIA, HPFB
- coordinator from each organization; and
- senior managers of the centres/directorates of both organizations as appropriate.

The Steering Committee will hold quarterly discussions (either in-person meetings, teleconferences or videoconferences). During the discussions, the presiding chair will be the co-chair from the country hosting the Senior Officials' Meeting. The key responsibilities of the Steering Committee are:

- Recommendation of an annual work plan with priorities and strategic directions to the Senior Officials.
- Management of significant issues arising from the implementation of the MOU and Confidentiality Commitments not adequately addressed by the Coordinators.
- Evaluation and communication of the MOU implementation.
- Discussion of any request for disclosure of non-public information to third parties prior to the release of such information. Clearly such discussion will need to occur on an ad hoc basis as the situations arise. These discussions will by necessity occur most often outside the routinely scheduled discussions of the committee.

Coordinators

Each organization will identify a coordinator to track and monitor the implementation of the MOU. The coordinators will be the Senior Policy Analyst, International Affairs, ORIA of HPFB, and the Associate Director for the Americas, OIP of the FDA. The key responsibilities of the coordinators are to:

- Be the primary point of contact for each organization for all requests for non-public information to be shared or exchanged and for all other activities under the MOU (see Section III).
- Support, and provide advice to the Steering Committee and Senior Officials as required.
- Provide advice within their organization on what may or may not be exchanged under the auspices of the MOU (see Section III).
- Draft annual (calendar year) work plans with key priorities that will be presented for discussion at the Steering Committee, and ultimately presented for approval by Senior Officials.
- Create, within his/her own organization, a working group to help draft and monitor the implementation of the annual work plan as deemed appropriate.

III. Process for the Exchange of Otherwise Not Public Information

The process for the exchange of otherwise not public information will consist of the following three key elements:

3.1. The establishment of focal point of contacts

The coordinators are to be considered as the primary points of contact for all requests for otherwise not public information to be shared or exchanged and for all other activities under the MOU.

The main purpose of the focal points is to be able to track and monitor all non-public information exchanges (functionary) and to oversee the requests in order to assure they fall under the MOU and that they are handled procedurally in an appropriate manner (substantive) as stipulated in the procedures in Section 3.2.

3.2. The establishment of procedures for the exchange of information and documents

Procedures will be developed to ensure that all requests for otherwise not public information is shared or exchanged in accordance with the terms of the respective Confidentiality Commitments. These procedures will also:

- Delineate the steps for tracking priorities and activities.
- Confirm the officials in each organization who are able to authorize the sharing of non-public information.
- Identify key individuals within each organization who will be responsible, with the coordinators, for sharing non-public information.

3.3. The establishment of an orientation session

An orientation session will be established, and held on a regular basi,s to promote the goals and advantages of strengthening and the conditions for implementing regulatory cooperation between the two organizations. The session should be presented to the key officials from HPFB and the FDA who will be responsible for managing and coordinating the flow of information and work of the MOU. It will also address the general principles, responsibilities, and implications of the agreement, and the procedures highlighted in Section 3.2.

IV. Process for Establishing and Monitoring Mutually Agreed-Upon Priorities for Cooperation

The process for establishing mutual agreed-upon priorities for cooperation will include the following two elements:

4.1. The establishment of annual work plan with priorities

The Senior Officials will approve an annual (calendar year) work plan with key priorities based on the areas of cooperation highlighted in Section V during their meeting in January of each year (see Section II).

This work plan may include activities established by specific program areas through their own cooperation frameworks (e.g., draft cooperation frameworks on product quality (TPD/CDER) and on medical devices (TPD/CDRH)).

4.2. The establishment of a tool to assess progress

The Steering Committee (see Section II) will establish a tool for assessing results and performance of annual priorities and other cooperation under the MOU. The assessment will include a summary of achievements realized to date and identification of areas where further improvements can be made. Based on this assessment, consideration may be given to either broadening or narrowing the scope of interaction between the organizations.

V. Areas of Cooperation and Types of Activities

In accordance with the scope of the MOU, the annual priorities should focus on the following four areas of cooperation, which will be reviewed by the Senior Officials on a regular basis:

- pre-market product review (e.g., applications reviews);
- post-market product safety (e.g., pharmacovigilance, compliance and enforcement);
- regulatory and public health policy and approaches (e.g., regulations, international policy and emerging public health issues); and
- regulatory infrastructure (e.g., E-review, regulatory databases, procedures for sharing information under the MOU).

In general, the types of activities to be undertaken under the above-mentioned areas of cooperation will include:

A) Information Exchange:

Regular exchange:

Regularly scheduled sharing of agreed routine quantitative and qualitative information on applications (both pre- and post-authorization) and status of regulatory documents under development.

Ad-hoc exchange:

Ad-hoc exchanges, while they may not be predicted, can be important for specific issues arising. Regardless of their frequency, they should be tracked for accountability and performance measurement. Examples of these kinds of information that might be exchanged include encountered difficulties in evaluating applications, significant safety issues that arise pre- and post-marketing, and significant advisories and warnings.

B) Scientific Meetings and Collaboration:

Invitations to staff members of HPFB and FDA to attend each other's scientific meetings, including advisory committees, and training sessions will be extended to the extent possible. Staff exchanges to study respective review processes and joint projects will also be explored.

Signed at Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, on this 1st day of December 2005 in duplicate in the English language.

The endangered nightjar is an endemic bird of Puerto Rico belonging to the family Caprimulgidae. This insectivorous and nocturnal bird nests from late February through early July, but the peak period is from April to June. The nightjar does not construct a nest, but rather the eggs are laid directly on leaf litter under vegetation having a canopy 4 to 6 m (13 to 20 feet) in height. The species is presently found in the dry limestone forests of the southwestern coast of Puerto Rico, and in the lower cordillera forest in Susúa area. The species' current distribution includes the Peñones de Melones area in Cabo Rojo, the Sierra Bermeja forested hills in Cabo Rojo-Lajas area, the Guánica—Yauco area including the Guánica Commonwealth Forest, the Guayanilla—Peñuelas hills, Ponce, and Susúa-Maricao area including the Susúa Commonwealth Forest. Approximately 712 singing male nightjars have been estimated in 9,839 ha (24,598 acres) in Susúa, Guánica and Guayanilla. The species is threatened by habitat modification and destruction for urban, industrial, and tourism development, and by predation by exotic species such as mongoose (Herpestes auropunctatus) and cats (Felis catus).

The Applicant conducted an intensive study of the Puerto Rican nightjar during the 2003 and 2004 breeding seasons and recorded approximately 33 singing male nightjars in 2003, and approximately 42 singing male nightjars in 2004, both studies conducted on 250 hectares (625 acres) of dry forest.

The brown pelican is found along North American coasts from California through Mexico, around the Gulf of Mexico, and through North Carolina, as well as the West Indies, many Caribbean islands, and Guyana and Venezuela in South America. It is considered endangered throughout its range, except on the U.S. Atlantic coast and the Gulf coast of Florida and Alabama.

Brown pelicans nest in colonies, mostly on small coastal islands. In Puerto Rico, brown pelicans have nested in Añasco, Cayo Frío (Lajas), Cayo Don Luis (Guánica), Cayo Conejo (Vieques), Montalva Bay (Guánica-Parguera), Aguadilla, Guanajibo (Mayagüez), Cayo Ratones (Cabo Rojo), Cayos Fríos (Ponce), and Cayo Morrillito (Ponce). In the U.S. Virgin Islands, brown pelicans nest in Dutch Cap Cay (St. Thomas), Congo Cay (St. John), Mary Point (St. John), Whistling Key (St. John), Buck Island (St. Croix), and Green Cay (St. Croix). In the U.S. Caribbean, the species is threatened by low food abundance; die-offs; poaching of eggs, young, and adults; human disturbance of nesting colonies; entanglement in fishing gear; and loss or degradation of coastal forests.

The Applicant conducted pelican censuses at Guayanilla Bay, and a study on flight patterns of pelicans through the project site. Based on the study's results, brown pelicans use the wind to move as effortlessly as possible near the project site. The pelican's predominant flight pattern is along the immediate coast, where there are updrafts. To enter Guayanilla Bay, where they roost and feed, pelicans use three principal routes: (1) Around the tip of the peninsula (2.2 birds/hr), (2) gliding ''downhill'' out of the updraft elevator at Cerro Toro (1.4 birds/hr), and (3) at any point across the main part of the peninsula (0.2 birds/hr, but at 0.06 birds/hr at rotor height). Departing Guayanilla Bay for the Caribbean, where they also feed, most pelicans go around the peninsula tip (3.9 birds/hr), but some birds cross the main part of the peninsula (0.1 birds/hr, 0.08 birds/hr at rotor height) and some use the Cerro Toro crossing (0.1 birds/hr). Based on observations at Cerro Toro and Punta Verraco, observers have estimated that it is likely that between 12 and 20 pelicans regularly fly and feed around the project site. Surveys of Guayanilla Bay and adjacent areas have recorded as many as 100 individuals, though half this number or less at the study period.

The roseate tern is a migratory species that is listed as threatened in the Caribbean. This species is distributed throughout the Caribbean, with the largest populations occurring in the Lesser Antilles. In general, roseate terns in the Caribbean begin egg laying in May, and have downy chicks in June which fledge in July. Roseate terns breed primarily on small offshore islands, rocks, cays, and islets. Roseate terns have been reported nesting near vegetation or jagged rock, on open sandy beaches, close to waterline on narrow ledges of emerging rocks, or among coral rubble. Total population numbers are not known, but between 3,000 and 6,000 breeding pairs have been estimated for the Caribbean region. It has been suggested that egging, human disturbance, predation, and netting of adults in Guyana, South America, are the main factors affecting the Caribbean roseate tern. The Applicant did not record roseate terns during its flight-use study or in recent years. We have recorded the nesting of this species (four times in fourteen years) on Cayo Guayanilla, a small coral islet 600 m (2,000 feet) south of the tip of Punta Verraco peninsula.

The Project would erect twenty-five 1.65 megawatt (MW) wind turbines on Punta Verraco, Cerro Toro, and Punta Ventana, the site's three upland areas. The widening of 8.7 kilometers (km) (5.4 miles) of existing roads, siting of 1.4 km (0.87 mile) of new roads, and preparation of construction areas to erect the wind turbines would affect a maximum of 12.2 ha (30.6 acres) of dry forest (4.2 percent of the entire property, and 4.9 percent of the property's dry forest). Incidental to affecting a maximum of 12.2 ha (30.6) the Project would permanently eliminate 1.7 ha (4.3 acres) of nightjar habitat and cause the temporary loss of 10.5 ha (26.3 acres) of nightjar habitat, and may result in harm of 12 nightjar singing territories. The operation of the wind-energy project may result in mortality of one brown pelican every 5 years, and one roseate tern every 20 years. No mortality of nightjars is anticipated from collisions with operating wind turbines.

Under section 9 of the Act and its implementing regulations, ''taking'' of endangered and threatened wildlife is prohibited. However, the Service, under limited circumstances, may issue permits to take such wildlife, if the taking is incidental to and not the purpose of otherwise lawful activities. The Applicant has developed an HCP as required for their incidental take permit application.

The HCP describes measures the Applicant will take to avoid, minimize and mitigate taking at the Project site. To avoid impacts to nightjars from construction activities the Applicant will clear the vegetation outside of the nightjar nesting season. However, in emergency situations, if vegetation needs to be cleared during the nesting season, the Applicant will use experienced and qualified biologists to search for nightjar nests before any clearing activity is conducted. In the event that nests are found, the Applicant will avoid them by redesigning the road or construction area, or by delaying the activity until the nightjars fledge their young.

To minimize impacts to listed species from construction and operation of the project, the Applicant will:

1. Widen and use 8.7 km (5.4 miles) of existing roads rather than constructing the needed 10.1 km (6.18 miles) of roads along entirely new alignments.

2. Use fewer, larger turbines rather than a greater number of smaller turbines.

3. Clear vegetation using small to midsize bulldozers to scrape the vegetation at the surface and leave the rootstalks intact to encourage regrowth.

4. Paint rotor blades to make them more visible to birds.

5. Establish a predator control program. The Applicant will institute a permanent program to trap mongoose, rats, and feral animals on the site in order to decrease predation pressure on the nightjars, the dry forest lizard (Anolis cooki), and other native animals.

6. Establish roads as fire brakes. The Applicant will maintain access roads to the wind turbines as fire brakes to decrease the threat of fire to the nightjar and its habitat.

7. Implement Avian Power Line Interaction Committee (APLIC) guidelines. The Applicant will bury all electrical transmission lines on the site out to PR–335, where they will run aboveground along existing transmission line poles to the Puerto Rico Electric Power Authority (PREPA) substation.

To mitigate the effects of permanently eliminating 1.7 ha (4.3 acres) of nightjar habitat and causing the temporary loss of 10.5 ha (26.3 acres) that would result in take of 12 nightjar singing male territories, the take of one brown pelican every 5 years, and the take of one roseate tern every 20 years, the Applicant will:

1. Establish a conservation easement on 245 ha (612.5 acres) of the Project site. The Applicant will grant a conservation easement that protects 85 percent of the Project site. The conservation easement will compensate for Project impacts at a rate of approximately 17 acres conserved to 1 acre of direct impact. The easement is being drafted in accordance with a law approved on December 27, 2001, by the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico (Law Number 183, Puerto Rico Conservation Law). The easement will be offered to a qualifying non-profit organization.

2. Restore at least 2.6 ha (6.5 acres) of the 3.1 ha (7.8 acres) of the previous Texaco quarry at the base of Punta Verraco with dry forest vegetation. This activity will restore 21 percent of the dry forest lost due to construction impacts. This restoration will fill in a key habitat gap at the base of the Verraco peninsula, allowing nightjars to establish territories in an area that is presently too fragmented for viable territories to be established. This restoration may allow for two or more additional nightjar territories, once dry forest with good structure has been established.

3. Restore a 10-hectare (25-acre) mangrove area by improving drainage. The Applicant will restore this mangrove area destroyed by the construction of the causeway to Punta Verraco and subsequent silting in of its culverts. This restoration will likely improve foraging resources for the endangered brown pelican and threatened roseate tern.

4. Support brown pelican research. The Applicant will contract with experts and scientists to work with pelican biologists to develop a research program that meets the priorities identified in studies conducted by the Applicant and in the species recovery plan. The Applicant will provide a $100,000 grant to accomplish the actions prioritized in the research program.

5. Establish an environmental education program. The Applicant will educate visitors about renewable energy and the plants and wildlife of southwest Puerto Rico. The Applicant will control site access, schedule visiting hours, and lead visitors on regularly scheduled tours. The Applicant will produce a brochure to be handed out in schools, community centers, and hotels. The Applicant will also finance environmental education projects in surrounding communities. One priority project will be to educate residents and tourists about the marine environment and the measures required to improve its health. This project will focus on the plight of the brown pelican. In addition, the Applicant will provide facilities at the Ventana beach area for local visitors, including an informational kiosk with environmental education materials.

The Service has made a preliminary determination that the ITP is not a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment, within the meaning of section 102(2)(C) of NEPA. This preliminary information may be revised due to public comments received in response to this notice, and it is based on information contained in the EA and HCP.

The Service will evaluate the HCP and comments submitted thereon, to determine whether the application meets the issuance criteria requirements of section 10(a)(1)(B) of the Act. By conducting an intra-Service section 7 consultation, the Service will also evaluate whether issuance of the section 10(a)(1)(B) ITP would comply with section 7 of the Act. The results of this consultation, in combination with the above findings, will be used in the final analysis to determine whether or not to issue the ITP for the nightjar, the brown pelican, and the roseate tern.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A copy of the Agua Fria National Monument and Bradshaw-Harquahala Draft Resource Management Plan and Draft Environmental Impact Statement is available for review via the internet from a link at http://www.az.blm.gov (subject to change); electronic (on CD–ROM) and paper may be obtained from the Bureau of Land Management, Phoenix Field Office. Electronic (on CD–ROM) and paper copies may also be obtained by contacting Chris Horyza at the aforementioned address and telephone number. The Agua Fria National Monument and Bradshaw-Harquahala Draft Resource Management Plan and Draft Environmental Impact Statement is being developed by BLM. The DRMP/DEIS includes strategies for protecting and preserving the biological, cultural, recreational, geological, educational, scientific, and scenic values that the Monument was established to protect, and strategies that balance multiple uses of the BLM-administered lands in the Bradshaw-Harquahala planning area. The preferred alternative attempts to accomplish the above while achieving consistency between Forest Service, Arizona State Land Department, Arizona Game and Fish Department, the BLM, and other land managing agencies within the boundaries of both planning areas. The range of alternatives in this draft evaluates planning decisions brought forward from the current BLM planning documents, including the Lower Gila North Management Framework Plan and the Phoenix Resource Management Plan.

The preferred alternative identifies four potential Areas of Critical Environmental Concern (ACEC): Tule Creek ACEC, 640 acres to protect wildlife, riparian, and cultural resources; Vulture Mountain ACEC, 6,120 acres to protect high value raptor nesting habitat; Black Butte Outstanding Natural Area (ONA) ACEC, 8,260 acres to protect high value raptor nesting sites, rare cultural resources, and scenic values; and Harquahala Mountains ONA ACEC, 74,950 acres to protect unique biological assemblages, high value cultural resources, and outstanding scenic and primitive landscapes. The following types of use limitations would generally apply: (1) Except for Tule Creek, areas would be closed to mineral material disposal but open to other types of mineral development. Tule Creek would be withdrawn from all mineral development; (2) recreation uses would generally be dispersed and undeveloped and may be limited by season or location if ACEC values are threatened; (3) motorized and mechanized travel would be limited to designated routes; (4) vehicle routes that threaten ACEC values would be mitigated or closed; (5) visual resources would be allocated to VRM Class II. For detailed information, see the Special Area Designations sections of Chapter 2.

Records of Decision will be prepared by the BLM for the Agua Fria National Monument Resource Management Plan and the Bradshaw-Harquahala Resource Management Plan in accordance with planning regulations 43 CFR part 1610 and NEPA at 40 CFR part 1502. The Agua Fria National Monument was established by Presidential Proclamation 7263 in January 2000. The Agua Fria National Monument Proclamation of 2000 affects only Federal lands and Federal interests located within the established boundaries.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

In the Matter of PacifiCorp (Trojan Nuclear Plant Independent Spent Fuel Storage Installation); Order Approving Application Regarding Proposed Acquisition Indirect Transfer of Materials License SNM–2509

I

By application dated June 30, 2005, and supplemented on August 12, 2005, PacifiCorp, together with PacifCorp Holdings, Inc., and MidAmerican Energy Holdings Company (MEHC), requested approval of the indirect transfer of control of Materials License No. SNM–2509 for the Trojan Independent Spent Fuel Storage Installation (ISFSI), with regard to PacifiCorp's 2.5 percent interest in the Trojan ISFSI, to MEHC. PacifiCorp is a non-operating licensee of the Trojan ISFSI, and will continue to hold the license. The request was in connection with the sale of PacifiCorp, which will become an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of MEHC. The supplemental letter cited above did not expand the scope of the application beyond that noticed in the Federal Register on July 27, 2005 (70 FR 43461).

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) 10 CFR Part 50 license for the Trojan Nuclear Plant (License No. NPF–1) was terminated on May 23, 2005, after completion of the radiological decommissioning of the nuclear plant. The Trojan ISFSI holds spent fuel from the former Trojan Nuclear Plant.

PacifiCorp is a wholly owned subsidiary of PacifiCorp Holdings, Inc. (PHI), which in turn is an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Scottish Power, plc. PacifiCorp will be sold to PPW, LLC, a Delaware limited liability corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of MEHC. The name of the MEHC subsidiary that will acquire PacifiCorp was changed from NWQ Holdings, LLC to PPW Holdings, LLC. PacifiCorp operates an electric utility in six western states of the United States, serving approximately 1.6 million retail customers with annual revenues of approximately $3 billion per year. PacifiCorp will remain an electric utility after the sale to MEHC.

MEHC, a global electric and natural gas utility operating in the United States, the United Kingdom, and the Philippines, serves approximately 4.4 million electric customers and 680,000 natural gas customers. Its annual operating revenue is approximately $6.5 billion.

MEHC will purchase all the outstanding shares of PacifiCorp from PHI for a value of approximately $9.4 billion, consisting of approximately $5.1 billion in cash and approximately $4.3 billion in net debt and preferred stock which will remain outstanding at PacifiCorp.

The Trojan ISFSI is jointly owned by three licensees: Portland General Electric Company (PGE) (67.5%); Eugene Water & Electric Board (30%); and PacifiCorp (2.5%). PGE has always been the sole operator of the Trojan ISFSI and will remain the sole operator. The Eugene Water & Electric Board and PacifiCorp are non-operating licensees. PacifiCorp has no right of access to the ISFSI. No physical changes will occur to the Trojan ISFSI as a result of the change in ownership of PacifiCorp. Thus, both the management and operation of the ISFSI will remain unchanged.

II

The applicant requested approval of the indirect transfer of the Trojan ISFSI license, to the extent held by PacifiCorp, to MEHC, pursuant to 10 CFR 72.50(a) which states:

> No license or any part included in a license issued under this part for an ISFSI [Independent Spent Fuel Storage Installation] or MRS [Monitored Retrievable Storage Installation] shall be transferred, assigned, or in any manner disposed of, either voluntarily or involuntarily, directly or indirectly, through transfer of control of the license to any person, unless the Commission gives its consent in writing.

The Commission will approve an application for the indirect transfer of a license, if, after appropriate notice and observance of required procedures, the Commission determines that: (1) The underlying transaction effecting the indirect transfer will not affect the qualifications of the holder of the license; and (2) the indirect transfer of the license is consistent with applicable provisions of the law, and the regulations and orders issued by the Commission.

Upon review of the information in the application, and other information before the Commission, the NRC staff has determined that MEHC's proposed purchase of all the outstanding shares of PacifiCorp from PHI will not affect the qualifications of PacifiCorp as holder of Materials License No. SNM–2509, and that the indirect transfer of the license, to the extent effected by the proposed acquisition, is otherwise consistent with applicable provisions of law, regulations, and orders issued by the Commission, subject to the conditions set forth herein. These findings are supported by ''Safety Evaluation by the Office of Nuclear Materials Safety and Safeguards, PacifiCorp, Trojan Independent Spent Fuel Storage Installation, Docket No. 72–17,'' dated October 27, 2005.

III

In view of the foregoing, the Commission finds that the acquisition of PacifiCorp by MEHC will not affect the qualifications of PacifiCorp to hold the Trojan ISFSI Materials License to the extent now held by PacifiCorp, and the indirect transfer of control of the license to MEHC is otherwise consistent with the applicable provisions of law, regulations, and orders issued by the Commission pursuant thereto.

Accordingly, pursuant to Sections 161b, 161i, 161o, and 184 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), 42 U.S.C. 2201(b), 2201(i), 2201(o), and 2234; and 10 CFR 72.50, it is hereby ordered that the application regarding the indirect license transfer related to the proposed acquisition is approved, subject to the following conditions:

(1) PacifiCorp shall provide the Director of the Office of Nuclear Material Safety and Safeguards a copy of any application, at the time it is filed, to transfer (excluding grants of security interests or liens) from PacifiCorp to its direct or indirect parent, or to any affiliated company, facilities for the production, transmission, or distribution of electric energy having a depreciated book value exceeding 10 percent (10%) of PacifiCorp's net utility plant, as recorded on its books of account.

(2) Should the proposed indirect license transfer not be completed by December 31, 2006, this Order shall become null and void, provided, however, upon application and for good cause shown, such a date may be extended.

This Order is effective upon issuance.

For further details with respect to this Order, see the application dated June 30, 2005, and supplement dated August 12, 2005, and the safety evaluation report dated October 27, 2005, which are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room (PDR), located at One White Flint North, Public File Area O1 F21, 11555 Rockville Pike (first floor), Rockville, Maryland. Publicly available records will be accessible electronically from the Agencywide Documents Access and Management System's (ADAMS) Public Electronic Reading Room on the Internet at the NRC Web site, http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/adams.html. Persons who do not have access to ADAMS or who encounter problems in accessing the documents located in ADAMS, should contact the NRC PDR Reference staff by telephone at 1–800–397–4209, 301–415–4737 or by e-mail to pdr@nrc.gov.

Dated at Rockville, Maryland this 29th day of December, 2005.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Acting Director, Office of Nuclear Material Safety and Safeguards.

[Release No. 34–53040; File No. SR–CBOE–2005–116]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Chicago Board Options Exchange, Incorporated; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change To Extend a Pilot Program Relating to Electronic DPMs and Affiliated Market-Makers

December 28, 2005.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (''Act''),[1] and Rule 19b–4 thereunder,[2] notice is hereby given that on December 23, 2005, the Chicago Board Options Exchange, Incorporated (''Exchange'' or ''CBOE'') filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (''Commission'') the proposed rule change as described in Items I and II below, which Items have been prepared by the Exchange. The Exchange filed the proposal as a ''non-controversial'' proposed rule change pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)(iii) of the Act[3] and Rule 19b–4(f)(6) thereunder.[4] The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

CBOE proposes to extend the pilot allowing Electronic DPMs (''e-DPMS'') to have up to one affiliated Market-Maker trade in classes assigned to the e-DPM. The text of the proposed rule change is available on the Exchange's Web site (http://www.cboe.com), at the Exchange's Office of the Secretary, and at the Commission.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the CBOE included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of those statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant parts of such statements.

[1] 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1).

[2] 17 CFR 240.19b–4.

[3] 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(3)(A)(iii).

[4] 17 CFR 240.19b–4(f)(6).

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and the Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to amend CBOE Rule 8.93(vii) to extend the pilot program allowing an e-DPM the option to have up to one separate affiliated Market-Maker physically present in the trading crowds where it operates as an e-DPM (such Market-Makers would be required to trade on a separate membership). The pilot would be extended from January 12, 2006 until September 14, 2006.

In July of 2004, the SEC approved File No. SR–CBOE–2004–24, which established the e-DPM program, including the pilot program.[5] The pilot allows e-DPM firms to maintain a physical presence in the trading crowd through an affiliated Market-Maker, who would also be able to electronically stream a quote. The pilot, however, limits the number of separate affiliates per trading crowd to one.

CBOE will be sending the Commission, under separate cover, data relating to: (1) The size of the orders that e-DPM's and affiliated Market-Makers both trade with electronically; (2) the price and size of the e-DPM's and the affiliated Market-Maker's respective quotes; (3) the price and size of quotes of other participants in the classes where an e-DPM and an affiliate are quoting; and (4) a breakdown of how orders are allocated to the e-DPM, the affiliated Market-Maker, and any other participants.

The date chosen to extend the pilot program corresponds with the ending date of a matching pilot program for Remote Market-Makers (RMMs) found in CBOE Rule 8.4(c)(i). Thus, the date chosen would allow the Commission to evaluate both pilot programs simultaneously.

2. Statutory Basis

CBOE believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act and the rules and regulations under the Act applicable to a national securities exchange and, in particular, the requirements of Section 6(b) of the Act.[6] Specifically, the Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Section 6(b)(5)[7] requirements that the rules of an exchange be designed to promote just and equitable principles of trade, and to protect investors and the public interest.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

CBOE does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

The Exchange neither solicited nor received comments on the proposal.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

Because the foregoing proposed rule does not (i) significantly affect the protection of investors or the public interest; (ii) impose any significant burden on competition; and (iii) become operative for 30 days from the date on which it was filed, or such shorter time as the Commission may designate if consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest, provided that the Exchange has given the Commission written notice of its intent to file the proposed rule change at least five business days prior to the date of filing of the proposed rule change or such shorter time as designated by the Commission, the proposed rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act[8] and Rule 19b–4(f)(6) thereunder.[9] At any time within 60 days of the filing of such proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

Under Rule 19b–4(f)(6)(iii) of the Act,[10] the proposal does not become operative for 30 days after the date of its filing, or such shorter time as the Commission may designate if consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest. The Exchange has requested that the Commission accelerate the 30-day operative date and waive the five day pre-filing requirement. The Commission, consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest, has determined to accelerate the 30-day operative date and waive the five day pre-filing requirement, so that the e-DPM pilot program may continue without interruption.[11]

[Release No. 34–53044; File No. SR–CBOE–2005–114]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Chicago Board Options Exchange, Incorporated; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change and Amendment No. 1 Thereto Relating to Extension of the Prospective Fee Reduction and DPM Linkage Fee Credit Programs

December 30, 2005.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (''Act'')[1] and Rule 19b–4 thereunder,[2] notice is hereby given that on December 16, 2005, the Chicago Board Options Exchange, Incorporated (''CBOE'' or ''Exchange'') filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (''Commission'') the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the Exchange. On December 22, 2005, CBOE filed Amendment No. 1 to the proposed rule change.[3] CBOE has designated this proposal as one establishing or changing a due, fee, or other charge imposed by a self-regulatory organization pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act,[4] and Rule 19b–4(f)(2) thereunder,[5] which renders the proposal effective upon filing with the Commission. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change, as amended, from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

CBOE proposes to amend its Fees Schedule to extend through January 31, 2006 the Prospective Fee Reduction Program and the DPM Linkage Fees Credit Program. The text of the proposed rule change is available on CBOE's Web site, http://www.cboe.com, at CBOE's principal office, and at the Commission's Public Reference Room.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, CBOE included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposal. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and the Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to extend two Exchange-fee related programs through the end of January 2006: The Prospective Fee Reduction Program and the DPM Linkage Fees Credit Program.[6] Each program is currently due to expire at the end of 2005. The Exchange has determined to extend each of these programs for an additional month because the Exchange's 2006 budget is expected to be approved in January 2006.

Prospective Fee Reduction Program. The Exchange proposes to continue the Prospective Fee Reduction Program (''PFRP'') through January 31, 2006. No other changes to the PFRP are proposed. The current PFRP took effect on August 1, 2004.[7] The PFRP is intended to reduce Market-Maker and DPM transaction fees in periods of high volume. The Exchange will determine as part of its annual budget review process whether the PFRP should be continued, modified or eliminated in the future. Any proposed changes to the PFRP would be filed with the Commission.

DPM Linkage Fees Credit Program. The Exchange proposes to continue the DPM Linkage Fees Credit Program (''Linkage Fees Credit'') through January 31, 2006. No other changes to the Linkage Fees Credit are proposed. The Linkage Fees Credit took effect on February 2, 2004 and was amended twice.[8] The Linkage Fees Credit is a program that credits DPMs for transaction fees they incur related to the execution of outbound P/A orders, as defined in the Plan for the Purpose of Creating and Operating an Intermarket Option Linkage, to assist DPMs in offsetting the additional costs they incur in routing orders to other exchanges in order to obtain the National Best Bid or Offer. The Exchange will determine as part of its annual budget review process whether the Linkage Fees Credit should be continued, modified or eliminated in the future. Any proposed changes to the Linkage Fees Credit would be filed with the Commission.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 6(b) of the Act[9] in general, and furthers the objectives of Section 6(b)(4) of the Act[10] in particular, in that it is designed to provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees, and other charges among its members.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

CBOE believes that the proposed rule change would impose no burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants or Others

CBOE did not solicit or receive any written comments with respect to the proposal.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The foregoing proposed rule change has been designated as a fee change pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii) of the Act[11] and Rule 19b–4(f)(2)[12] thereunder. Accordingly, the proposal is effective upon filing with the Commission. At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public

[Release No. 34–53045; File No. SR–PCX–2005–132]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Pacific Exchange, Inc.; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change Relating to Obligations of Lead Market Makers

December 30, 2005.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (''Act''),[1] and Rule 19b–4 thereunder,[2] notice is hereby given that on December 30, 2005, the Pacific Exchange, Inc. (''Exchange'' or ''PCX'') filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (''Commission'') the proposed rule change as described in Items I and II below, which Items have been substantially prepared by the Exchange. The Exchange filed the proposed rule change as a ''non-controversial'' rule change under Rule 19b–4(f)(6) under the Act,[3] which rendered the proposal effective upon filing with the Commission. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes to delete PCX Rule 6.82(c)(15) in its entirety. The Exchange also proposes to amend Commentary .02 to PCX Rule 6.82. The text of the proposed rule change is available on PCX's Web site, http://www.pacificex.com, at PCX's Office of the Secretary, and at the Commission's Public Reference Section.

[3] 17 CFR 240.19b–4(f)(6).

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of, and basis for, the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The purpose of this filing is to delete PCX Rule 6.82(c)(15), a sub–paragraph of Obligations of Lead Market Makers. Along with the deletion of PCX Rule 6.82(c)(15), the PCX proposes to amend Commentary .02 to PCX Rule 6.82, which addresses PCX Rule 6.82(c)(15). This rule, dealing with the handling of public customer orders that are not automatically executed on the PCX because there is a better-displayed bid or offer on another exchange, is scheduled to be operative on January 1, 2006.

Under PCX Rule 6.82(c)(15), when a public customer order is not automatically executed on the PCX due to a better bid or ask price being displayed on another exchange, a Lead Market Maker (''LMM'') is obligated, as soon as practical, to address the order by either executing the public customer order at a price that matches the best available price displayed at any other exchange or by routing the public customer order via intermarket linkage (''Linkage'') for execution at any other exchange displaying the best price in the market at the time. Outbound Linkage orders on the PCX are still handled via manual interaction with the Linkage system. Manual interaction with the Linkage system can be a time consuming process that potentially could result in the delay of a public customer order being executed at a better price available at a competing exchange. By deleting PCX Rule 6.82(c)(15), in the event that an LMM does not execute the order at the better price displayed on another exchange, the LMM would not be required to send the order to the competing exchange via Linkage. Public customer orders that are not executed on the PCX could still be rejected to the initiating brokerage firm for rerouting to a competing exchange.

Due to delays in technology development, the PCX has not been able to implement an automated outbound Linkage function into the PCX Plus trading system. The PCX is presently developing a new enhanced options trading system, called the OX System. Included in the design plans for the OX System is functionality that will route outbound Linkage orders to other exchanges via an automated process.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 6(b) of the Act[4] in general, and furthers the objectives of section 6(b)(5) of the Act[5] in particular, in that it is designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to foster cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in facilitating transactions in securities, and to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants or Others

The Exchange has neither solicited nor received written comments on the proposed rule change.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

Because the proposed rule change: (i) Does not significantly affect the protection of investors or the public interest; (ii) does not impose any significant burden on competition; and (iii) by its terms, does not become operative for 30 days after the date of filing, or such shorter time as the Commission may designate, if consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest, the proposed rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act[6] and subparagraph (f)(6) of Rule 19b–4 thereunder.[7]

The Exchange has requested that the Commission waive the 30-day operative delay period for ''non-controversial'' proposals and make the proposed rule change effective and operative upon filing. The Commission believes that waiver of the 30-day operative delay is consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest, because PCX Rule 6.82(c)(15) has never become operative (as its operative date was January 1, 2006), and deleting a rule that has never become operative has no real effect and thus raises no issues of regulatory concern. For this reason, the Commission designates the proposal to be effective and operative upon filing with the Commission.[8]

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in the furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act. Comments may be submitted by any of the following methods:

Electronic Comments

- Use the Commission's Internet comment form (http://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml); or
- Send an e-mail to rule-comments@sec.gov. Please include File Number SR–PCX–2005–132 on the subject line.

Paper Comments

- Send paper comments in triplicate to Jonathan G. Katz, Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 100 F Street, NE., Washington, DC 20549–9303.

All submissions should refer to File Number SR–PCX–2005–132. This file number should be included on the subject line if e-mail is used. To help the Commission process and review your comments more efficiently, please use only one method. The Commission will post all comments on the Commission's Internet Web site (http://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml). Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying in the Commission's Public Reference Section, 100 F Street, NE., Washington, DC 20549. Copies of such filing also will be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the Exchange. All comments received will be posted without change; the Commission does not edit personal identifying information from submissions. You should submit only information that you wish to make available publicly. All submissions should refer to File Number SR–PCX–2005–132 and should be submitted on or before January 27, 2006.

December 29, 2005.

(''Phlx'' or ''Exchange'') filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (''Commission'') the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the Phlx. On December 19, 2005, the Phlx submitted Amendment No. 1 to the proposed rule change.[3] The Exchange has designated the proposed rule change as one establishing or changing a due, fee, or other charge imposed by the Phlx pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii) of the Act [4] and Rule 19b–4(f)(2) thereunder,[5] which renders the proposal effective upon filing with the Commission.[6] The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change, as amended, from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Phlx proposes to amend its permit fee schedule to assess a permit fee on Remote Streaming Quote Traders (''RSQTs'') [7] under the Registered Options Trader (''ROT'') permit fee category. In addition, the Exchange proposes to amend its permit fee schedule to clarify that Streaming Quote Traders (''SQTs'') [8] are currently included in the ROT permit fee category.[9] The text of the proposed rule change is available on the Exchange's Web site (http://www.phlx.com), at the Phlx, and at the Commission's Public Reference Room.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Phlx included statements concerning the purpose of, and basis for, the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Phlx has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

Phlx recently adopted equity option fees applicable to RSQTs.[10] In addition to the equity options fees assessed on RSQTs, RSQTs must also pay a monthly permit fee. Presently, RSQTs do not pay a ROT permit fee because they are not on any trading floor [11] and are thus not included in the ROT permit fee category on the Exchange's fee schedule. However, RSQTs pay a permit fee under another category of permit fees such as a specialist or an order flow provider.[12] Currently, monthly permit fees are assessed as follows:

Permit Fees [13]

Order Flow Provider Permit Fee [14]

a. Permits used only to submit orders to the equity, foreign currency options, or options trading floor (one floor only): $200.00 per month.

b. Permits used only to submit orders to more than one trading floor: $300.00 per month.

Floor Broker, Specialist, or ROT (on any trading floor) or Off-Floor Trader Permit Fee

a. First Permit: $1,200.00 per month.

b. Additional permits for members in the same organization: $1,000.00 per month.

Excess Permit Holders: $200.00 per month.

Other Permit Holders: [15] $200.00 per month.

Any member who is associated with one or more member organizations and uses a permit in more than one category pays the higher of the applicable fees for such permit.

Because RSQTs do not have a physical presence on the trading floor, but are a subset of ROTs, the Exchange proposes to assess the same permit fees on RSQTs as ROTs on any trading floor. As such, the Exchange proposes to replace the words ''on any trading floor'' that appear after the ROT category with ''including RSQTs and SQTs.'' [16]

In addition, although SQTs have a physical presence on the trading floor and are thus currently included in the ROT (on any trading floor) permit fee will be included in the ROT permit fee category. The Exchange also amended the purpose section to clarify that, by including RSQTs in the ROT permit fee category, the Exchange will be assessing a new permit fee on RSQTs.

[4] 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(3)(A)(ii).

[5] 17 CFR 240.19b–4(f)(2).

[6] The effective date of the original proposed rule change is November 10, 2005, and the effective date of Amendment No. 1 is December 19, 2005. For purposes of calculating the 60-day period within which the Commission may summarily abrogate the proposed rule change under Section 19(b)(3)(C) of the Act, the Commission considers the period to commence on December 19, 2005, the date on which the Exchange submitted Amendment No. 1. See 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(3)(C).

[7] An RSQT is an Exchange ROT that is a member or member organization of the Exchange with no physical trading floor presence who has received permission from the Exchange to generate and submit option quotations electronically through the Exchange's Automated Options Market in eligible options in which such RSQT has been assigned. An RSQT may only trade in a market making capacity in classes of options in which he is assigned. An RSQT may only submit such quotations electronically from off the floor of the Exchange. See Phlx Rule 1014(b)(ii)(B).

[8] An SQT is a ROT who has received permission from the Exchange to generate and submit option quotations electronically through an electronic interface with the Exchange's automated options market (''AUTOM'') via an Exchange approved proprietary electronic quoting device in eligible options to which the SQT is assigned. See Exchange Rule 1014(b)(ii).

[9] Currently, SQTs are assessed a permit fee under the ROT (on any trading floor) category, but are not specifically referred to on the Exchange's fee schedule.

[10] See Securities Exchange Act Release No. 51428 (March 24, 2005), 70 FR 16325 (March 30, 2005) (SR–Phlx–2005–12).

[11] See definition of ''RSQT,'' supra note 7.

[12] The Exchange assesses permit fees on its members. Monthly permit fees are assessed based on how each permit is used, for example, order flow provider, specialist or floor broker. However, any member who qualifies a member organization in more than one category of permit fees pays the higher of the applicable fees for such permit. For example, if an RSQT permit holder qualifies a member organization as an order flow provider and the RSQT permit holder associated with the member organization then registered as a floor broker on the Exchange for that or another member organization, that RSQT permit holder would be subject to a permit fee of $1,200, the higher of $200 (the order flow provider permit fee) and $1,200 (the floor broker permit fee), but not both fees.

[13] The Exchange has established the date of notification of termination of a permit as the date that permit fee billing will cease. Additionally, a permit holder will be billed only one monthly permit fee if the holder transfers from one member organization to another previously unrelated member organization as a result of a merger, partial sale or other business combination during a monthly permit fee period in order to avoid double billing in the month the merger or business combination occurred. If the permit holder transfers from one member organization to another unrelated member organization in the same month, both member organizations are assessed a permit fee in the same billing period.

[14] This fee applies to a permit held by a permit holder who does not have physical access to the Exchange's trading floor, is not registered as a Floor Broker, Specialist or ROT (on any trading floor) or Off-Floor trader, and whose member organization submits orders to the Exchange. Phlx Rule 620(a) requires such registration.

[15] A permit holder or the member organization they solely qualify must apply for ''other'' status in writing to the Membership Services Department. This status requires that a permit holder or the member organization have no transaction activity for the applicable monthly billing period. Should a permit holder actively transact business during a particular month, the highest applicable monthly permit fee will apply to such permit holder and member organization for that monthly period. The ''other'' status only applies to permit holders who solely qualify their member organization. These policies were effective as of February 2, 2004.

[16] As a practical matter, the effect of including RSQTs in the ROT permit fee category should not increase overall costs to the RSQTs due to the fact that RSQTs receive a permit credit, which is applied against a member organization's RSQT fees. Specifically, pursuant to the Exchange's fee schedule, RSQTs are assessed an RSQT fee based on the number and type of option issues in which an RSQT is assigned. A credit is given to RSQTs based on the total number of permits held by the RSQT in a particular calendar month. For example, currently an RSQT may receive a monthly credit of $200 (which is the same amount as the permit fee) because the permit holder qualifies a member organization as an order flow provider. Now, under this proposal, the RSQT will be charged a higher permit fee of $1,200, but receive a permit credit of $1,200 to be applied against the RSQT fee. See Securities Exchange Act Release No. 51428 (March 24, 2005), 70 FR 16325 (March 30, 2005) (SR–Phlx–2005–12).

category, the Exchange proposes to specifically refer to SQTs on the fee schedule in order to help clarify that SQTs are also included in the ROT category.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes that its proposal to amend its schedule of fees is consistent with Section 6(b) of the Act,[17] in general, and furthers the objectives of Section 6(b)(4) of the Act,[18] in particular, in that it is an equitable allocation of reasonable fees among Exchange members.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants or Others

No written comments were either solicited or received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The foregoing proposed rule change has been designated as a fee change pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii) of the Act [19] and Rule 19b–4(f)(2) [20] thereunder. Accordingly, the proposal will take effect upon filing with the Commission. At any time within 60 days of the filing of Amendment No. 1 to the proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.[21]

Agency Information Collection Activities: Proposed Request and Comment Request

The Social Security Administration (SSA) publishes a list of information collection packages that will require clearance by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) in compliance with Public Law 104–13, the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, effective October 1, 1995. The information collection packages that may be included in this notice are for new information collections, approval of existing information collections, revisions to OMB-approved information collections, and extensions (no change) of OMB-approved information collections.

SSA is soliciting comments on the accuracy of the agency's burden estimate; the need for the information; its practical utility; ways to enhance its quality, utility, and clarity; and on ways to minimize burden on respondents, including the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology. Written comments and recommendations regarding the information collection(s) should be submitted to the OMB Desk Officer and the SSA Reports Clearance Officer. The information can be mailed and/or faxed to the individuals at the addresses and fax numbers listed below:

(OMB) Office of Management and Budget, Attn: Desk Officer for SSA, Fax: 202–395–6974.

(SSA) Social Security Administration, DCFAM, Attn: Reports Clearance Officer, 1333 Annex Building, 6401 Security Blvd., Baltimore, MD 21235. Fax: 410–965–6400.

I. The information collections listed below are pending at SSA and will be submitted to OMB within 60 days from the date of this notice. Therefore, your comments should be submitted to SSA within 60 days from the date of this publication. You can obtain copies of the collection instruments by calling the SSA Reports Clearance Officer at 410–965–0454 or by writing to the address listed above.

1. Work Activity Report—Employee—20 CFR 404.1520(b), 404.1571–.1576, 404.1584–.1593, and 416.971–.976—0960–0059. Form SSA–821–BK collects information that provides evidence necessary to determine initial or continuing eligibility for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) or Social Security disability benefits. An individual's entitlement to benefits ends if he/she demonstrates an ability to perform substantial gainful activity (SGA). This form is used to determine whether work an individual performs in employment is at the SGA level. The respondents are Social Security disability applicants and beneficiaries; and SSI applicants.

Number of Respondents: 300,000.

Frequency of Response: 1.

Average Burden per Response: 45 minutes.

Estimated Annual Burden: 225,000 hours.

2. Homeless Outreach Project and Evaluation (HOPE)—0960–0704. Background. Congress passed the McKinney Act of 1987 in recognition of and in an effort to address situations and conditions facing people without permanent shelter. The Act funded 15 emergency services and nine individual titles to authorize the provision of specific programs by Federal agencies. The Act also established the Interagency Council on Homelessness (ICH) composed of leaders from 15 Federal agencies who are in charge of coordinating efforts to assist people who are homeless. During the past decade, SSA and other ICH agencies have compiled important data about people who are homeless and have carried out evaluations of services which have generated evidence about ''best'' or ''promising practices'' well suited to combating homelessness.

In fiscal year 2003, President George W. Bush announced an initiative to end chronic homelessness in 10 years. As a result, SSA developed Project HOPE and in May 2004 awarded 34 Cooperative Agreements to organizations which provide outreach, support services and benefit application assistance to the chronically homeless and other underserved populations. An additional 7 cooperative agreements were awarded in November 2004 for a total of 41. The goal of Project HOPE is to improve both the quantity and quality of applications for disability benefits. Project HOPE gives focused support to Cooperative (co-op) awardees via a training program and ongoing technical assistance.

Evaluation of Project HOPE. SSA uses the project HOPE evaluation to determine the effectiveness and the efficiency of the program. To obtain the information needed for the evaluation, SSA has developed an interactive Web site that is used by co-op awardees to input client and program data, and by SSA to communicate project-wide announcements to the awardees. The respondents are HOPE grantees/non-profit social services organizations serving people who are homeless and disabled.

Type of Request: Extension of an OMB-approved information collection.

Number of Respondents: 41.

Frequency of Response: 12.

Average Burden Per Response: 65 minutes.

Estimated Annual Burden: 533 hours.

3. Report to United States Social Security Administration by Person Receiving Benefits for a Child or for an Adult Unable to Handle Funds and Report to United States Social Security Administration—0960–0049. SSA needs the information on Form SSA–7161–OCR–SM to monitor the performance of representative payees outside the U.S. and the information on SSA–7162–OCR–SM to determine continuing entitlement to Social Security benefits and correct benefit amounts for beneficiaries outside the U.S. The respondents are individuals outside the U.S. who are receiving benefits either for someone else, or on their own behalf under title II of the Social Security Act.

Type of Request: Revision of an OMB-approved information collection.

Forms	Number of respondents	Frequency of response	Average burden per response (in minutes)	Burden hours
SSA–7161–OCR–SM	30,000	1	15	7,500
Totals	257,000	.....	.....	26,417

II. The information collections listed below have been submitted to OMB for clearance. Your comments on the information collections would be most useful if received by OMB and SSA within 30 days from the date of this publication. You can obtain a copy of the OMB clearance packages by calling the SSA Reports Clearance Officer at 410–965–0454, or by writing to the address listed above.

1. Report of New Information in Disability Cases—20 CFR 404.460, 404.468, 404.408, and 404.1588—0960–0071. The information collected on the form SSA–612 is used to update the disability records of a respondent based on reported changes contained in the form. These changes may affect the respondent's Title II disability benefits. The respondents are applicants for Title II disability benefits.

Type of Request: Extension of an OMB-approved information collection.

Number of Respondents: 27,000.

Frequency of Response: 1.

Average Burden per Response: 5 minutes.

Estimated Annual Burden: 2,250 hours.

2. Statement of Marital Relationship (By one of the parties)—20 CFR 404.726—0960–0038. SSA uses the information collected on Form SSA–754–F4 to determine whether the conditions for establishing a common-law marriage under state law are met. The respondents are applicants for spouse's benefits.

Type of Request: Extension of an OMB-approved information collection.

Number of Respondents: 30,000.

Frequency of Response: 1.

Average Burden per Response: 30 minutes.

Estimated Annual Burden: 15,000 hours.

3. Employee Verification Service (EVS)—0960–0669. Background. Under Internal Revenue Service regulations, employers are required to provide wage and tax data to SSA using form W–2, Wage and Tax Statement or its electronic equivalent. As part of this process, the employer must furnish the employee's name and Social Security Number (SSN). This information must match SSA's records in order for the employee's wage and tax data to be properly posted to the earnings record. Information that is incorrectly provided to the Agency must be corrected by the employer using an amended reporting form, which is a labor-intensive and time-consuming process for both SSA and the employer. Therefore, to help ensure that employers provide accurate name and SSN information on their wage reports, SSA offers the EVS service whereby employers can verify, via magnetic tape, cartridge, diskette, paper, and telephone, if the reported name and SSN of their employee matches SSA's records.

EVS Collection. SSA will use the information collected through the EVS to verify that the employee name and SSN information, provided by employers, matches SSA records. SSA will respond to the employer informing them only of matches and mismatches of submitted information. Respondents are employers who provide wage and tax data to SSA who elect to use EVS to verify their employees' names and SSNs.

Type of Request: Extension of an OMB-Approved Information Collection.

Number of Respondents: 50,000.

Frequency of Response: 12.

Average Burden per Response: 10 minutes.

Estimated Annual Burden: 100,000 hours.

4. Application for Parent's Insurance Benefits—20 CFR 404.370–404.374, 20 CFR 404.601–404.603—0960–0012. Form SSA–7–F6 collects information to entitle an individual to his parent's insurance benefits. The respondents are individuals who wish to apply to receive their parent's insurance benefits.

Type of Request: Revision of an OMB-approved information collection.

Number of Respondents: 1,400.

Frequency of Response: 1.

Average Burden per Response: 15 minutes.

Estimated Annual Burden: 350 hours.

5. Application for Supplemental Security Income—20 CFR 416.305–416.335—0960–0444. The information collected on the SSA–8001–BK is needed and used to determine eligibility for SSI, and the amount of SSI benefits payable to the applicant. Respondents are applicants for SSI benefits.

Type of Request: Revision of an OMB-approved information collection.

The HA–1151 and HA–1152 are used to collect data that is required to determine the residual functional capacity (RFC) of individuals who are appealing denied claims for benefits based on disability. RFC must be determined to decide cases that cannot be decided based on current work activity or on medical facts alone. The respondents are medical sources that are paid by SSA to provide reports based either on existing medical evidence or on consultative examinations conducted for the purposes of the report. We estimate each respondent will submit approximately 20 responses per year.

SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Rate for Assessment on Direct Payment of Fees to Representatives in 2006

AGENCY: Social Security Administration (SSA).

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Social Security Administration is announcing that the assessment percentage rate under section 206(d) and 1631(d)(2)(C) of the Social Security Act (the Act), 42 U.S.C. 406(d), and 1383(d)(2)(C) is 6.3 percent for 2006.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: James A. Winn, Associate General Counsel for Program Law, Office of the General Counsel, Social Security Administration, Phone: (410) 965–3137, e-mail jim.winn@ssa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 406 of Public Law No. 106–170, the Ticket to Work and Work Incentives Improvement Act of 1999, established an assessment for the services required to determine and certify payments to attorneys from the benefits due claimants under Title II of the Act. This provision is codified in section 206 of the Act (42 U.S.C. 406). That legislation set the assessment for the calendar year 2000 at 6.3 percent of the amount that would be required to be certified for direct payment to the attorney under section 206(a)(4) or 206(b)(1) before the application of the assessment. For subsequent years, the legislation requires the Commissioner of Social Security to determine the percentage rate necessary to achieve full recovery of the costs of determining and certifying fees to attorneys, but not in excess of 6.3 percent.

Beginning in 2005, sections 302 and 303 of Public Law 108–203, the Social Security Protection Act of 2004 (SSPA) extended the direct payment of fees to attorneys in cases under Title XVI of the Act and to eligible non-attorney representatives in cases under Title II and/or Title XVI of the Act. Fees directly paid under these provisions are subject to the same assessment. In addition, sections 301 and 302 of the SSPA imposed a dollar cap on the amount of the assessment, so that the assessment may not exceed the lesser of that dollar cap or the amount determined using the assessment percentage rate.

The Commissioner of Social Security has determined, based on the best available data that the current assessment percentage rate of 6.3 percent will continue for 2006. We will continue to review our costs on a yearly basis.

Dated: December 23, 2005.

Deputy Commissioner for Finance, Assessment and Management.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Federal Highway Administration

Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA–LU); Opportunities for State and Other Qualifying Agencies To Gain Authority to Toll Facilities Constructed Using Federal Funds

AGENCY: Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice; process to solicit participation in various programs that grant authority to toll Federal-aid facilities.

SUMMARY: This notice provides summary information on all of the various non-grant tolling and pricing opportunities available in the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA–LU). This notice and a companion notice, which refers to the Value Pricing Pilot (VPP) program, are both in today's Federal Register. Together they are intended to explain all of the opportunities for States and other qualifying transportation agencies requesting permission to toll their respective facilities. In addition to describing each of the relevant programs, this notice also describes the initial review process that will help to identify which of the programs are candidate for a States' particular project, and of those, which is most appropriate to gain successful approval. That process applies to every program contained in this notice and also to the VPP program. The process is initiated with an Expression of Interest, which is fully defined later in this notice.

Due to the nature of the deadlines required to solicit, review, and award the grant funds annually, the VPP program requires its own Federal Register notice, and is published in its entirety elsewhere in today's Federal Register under the title ''Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA–LU); Value Pricing Pilot Program Participation.''

Finally, this notice announces the availability of a website that will serve as a clearinghouse of information on all of the tolling and pricing programs and their respective program tenets.

DATES: Of the non-grant programs described herein, only two have deadlines stipulated in the legislation. The Interstate System Construction Toll Pilot Program has a deadline for applications of August 10, 2015, and the Express Lanes Demonstration Program has a window of fiscal years 2005 to 2009. For the other programs discussed herein, there are no annual or recurring submittal deadlines for States or other qualifying public agencies to request authority to toll their federally funded public highway facilities. However, States are advised that some programs discussed herein have a finite number of available slots permitted by legislation, meaning that participation in these programs will not be allowed once all slots are allotted.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For questions about the programs discussed herein, please contact Mr. Wayne Berman, Tolling and Pricing Team, FHWA Office of Operations, (202) 366–4069, or via e-mail at wayne.berman@fhwa.dot.gov. For legal questions, interpretations and counsel, please contact Mr. Michael Harkins, Attorney Advisor, FHWA Office of the Chief Counsel, (202) 366–4928, or via email at michael.harkins@fhwa.dot.gov. Office hours for the FHWA are from 7:45 a.m. to 4:15 p.m., EST, Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays.

Background

In the recently passed SAFETEA–LU legislation (Pub. L. 109–59, August 10, 2005) Congress enabled three new exceptions, and modified one existing exception, to Title 23 of the United States Code, Section 301, which otherwise generally prohibits the imposition of tolls on facilities that use Federal funds. These actions now provide States and other qualifying transportation agencies or compacts of States more opportunities to enact tolls as a means of financing various operating, construction, or reconstruction projects, or of addressing debt reduction. Along with the three new programs and the one modification, there already exist other specific exceptions to federal authority to enact tolls. This notice and the VPP program notice elsewhere in today's Federal Register intend to explain the sum of all opportunities for States and other qualifying transportation agencies requesting permission to toll their respective facilities. The FHWA Office of Operations has been designated to coordinate both notices and serves as the office point of contact for both notices.

In addition to describing each of the non-grant tolling and pricing opportunities available in SAFETEA–LU, this notice also describes the two-step process necessary to submit an application. Briefly, the first step is to submit an Expression of Interest to the Tolling and Pricing Team (fully described later in this notice). The Expression of Interest is a document that will enable FHWA to assist the applicant in identifying the range of options and will help direct the application to the most appropriate program office. The Tolling and Pricing Team will not approve projects, but will serve as a clearinghouse for all applications, with intent to properly and fairly facilitate the completeness of the application. The second step is for the applicant to respond to FHWA's comments on the Expression of Interest, and then formally apply to the selected program office that offers the desired tolling or pricing authority. This approach will help direct public authorities to the most appropriate program among the many options available. This approach will also help the FHWA to coordinate and manage the limited number of participation slots that are available for the different tolling and pricing programs.

Tolling and pricing strategies (e.g., strategies that set the price of a toll to rise and fall or impose parking charges to reduce congestion) are increasingly emerging as necessary and useful tools to finance projects, manage congestion, improve air quality, and facilitate the creation of public-private partnerships. The term ''tolling'' refers to any imposition of a fee for the use of a facility. Classic examples of this term would be fixed fees that motorists pay (usually per number of axles or vehicle weight) to cross a bridge or tunnel, or enter or exit an express toll facility at a particular location. While tolling involves the collection of a fee from motorists for their use of a highway facility, the term ''toll pricing'' specifically refers to strategies that vary the price of the toll by time of day or traffic volume level in a way to manage congestion or use of that facility.

Probably the most well known application of toll pricing is ''High Occupancy Toll'' (HOT) lanes that offer single-occupant vehicles the ability to use High Occupancy Vehicle (HOV) lanes that they would otherwise be restricted from using. By paying a fee to use the HOV lane (thereby justifying the renamed ''HOT lane'' designation) the motorist benefits by gaining a degree of trip-time reliability over the adjacent congested general-purpose lanes, while the general-purpose lanes benefit from the reduction of vehicles that have transferred into the HOT lane.

All tolling and pricing of Federal-aid highway system facilities requires legal authority from the Federal government, but some pricing strategies unrelated to tolling, such as parking charges or pay-per-mile car insurance, do not. As such, the latter do not apply to this notice and are not discussed herein. Although 23 U.S.C. 301 generally prohibits the imposition of tolls on facilities that have been constructed with Federal funds, SAFETEA–LU includes the aforementioned three new exceptions, and one modified exception. Along with some prior authority granted in various sections of the United States Code, this notice is intended to identify and describe the various options.

The SAFETEA–LU legislation offers States, compacts of States, and in one case, ''public or private entities designated by States'' (hereafter, collectively referred to as ''public authorities'') three new opportunities and one modified opportunity to toll motor vehicles to finance Interstate construction and/or reconstruction, promote efficiency in the use of highways, reduce traffic congestion and/or improve air quality.

First, section 1121, amended 23 U.S.C. 166 to permit the conversion of HOV lanes into HOT lanes.

Next, sections 1604(b), the Express Lanes Demonstration program, and 1604(c), the Interstate System Construction Toll Pilot program, are new programs providing tolling authority opportunities. The Express Lanes Demonstration program permits tolling authority for up to fifteen demonstration projects for existing HOV facilities or where toll capacity is added, and the Interstate System Construction Toll Pilot program authorizes up to three toll pilot facilities on the Interstate system for the purpose of constructing new Interstate highways.

Finally, section 1604(a), the VPP program, modifies and extends an existing program that was first enacted as the ''Congestion Pricing Pilot'' program by Section 1012(b) of the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991 (ISTEA), and amended by 1216(a) of the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century (TEA–21). Because of its unique standing as the only grant program discussed herein, and because there exists annual deadlines for solicitation, review, and award, the VPP program has its own notice published elsewhere in today's Federal Register. However, the request to submit an initial Expression of Interest is the same as the one described herein for the remaining programs.

In addition to the SAFETEA–LU provisions, there are other pre-existing provisions that permit the tolling of federally funded highway facilities. First, and most notably, 23 U.S.C. 129 permits the imposition of tolls on free non-Interstate highways, bridges, and tunnels and on free Interstate bridges and tunnels in accordance with Title 23 U.S.C. 129(a)(1). Also, the Interstate System Reconstruction and Rehabilitation Pilot Program, section 1216(b) of TEA–21, permits the collection of tolls on three Interstate facilities for the purpose of reconstruction and rehabilitation.

Purpose of This Notice

The purpose of this notice is to explain the legislative programs that grant permission to public authorities to enact tolls, to invite Expressions of Interest to participate in these programs, and to introduce a website that will serve as a clearinghouse of information on the programs, the process, and the questions that might arise. Concurrent with this notice is the companion notice published elsewhere in today's Federal Register pertaining to the VPP program, which is the only grant program that is available.

The primary audience for this notice is expected to be State departments of transportation and associated public authorities (e.g., metropolitan planning organizations, public/private transportation entities, etc.) that will seek permission from the Federal government, through FHWA, to enact tolls.

The Web site resource offers general descriptions of all the programs, points of contact, a way to submit questions electronically, and instructions on how to submit an Expression of Interest via the Internet. This Web page is located on the FHWA Office of Operations website at the Tolling and Pricing Opportunities page at http://www.ops.fhwa.dot.gov/tolling_pricing/index.htm.

Program Coordination and Assistance—The Tolling and Pricing Team

The Federal Highway Administration, Office of Operations is responsible for coordinating all tolling and pricing programs that now exist under the Federal-aid Highway Program. The many programs described in this notice can be potentially confusing because of their number and range of specific purposes. In an effort to minimize this potential confusion, the Office of Operations has formed a working group known as the ''Tolling and Pricing Team.''

The key role for the Tolling and Pricing Team is to assist public authorities by directing them to the most appropriate program (or programs) among the many options available. Members of the Tolling and Pricing Team represent the FHWA Offices of Operations, Policy and Governmental Affairs, and Infrastructure—the primary offices responsible for administering each of the tolling and pricing programs—and other oversight offices within the U.S. Department of Transportation, including, but not limited to the Office of the Secretary and the FHWA Offices of the Administrator and Office of Chief Counsel. Members participate on the Tolling and Pricing Team because of their direct program responsibilities or because they are interested stakeholders for tolling and pricing programs within the U.S. Department of Transportation.

The Tolling and Pricing Team has six purposes:

1. Coordinate all tolling and pricing activity within FHWA to facilitate the implementation and advancement of tolling and pricing projects and standards in the United States;

2. Receive and review all Expressions of Interest submitted to the FHWA from a public authority;

3. Direct the public authority or partnerships designated by the State to the tolling and pricing program (or programs) that can enable them to accomplish the goals set forth in the ''Expression of Interest'';

4. Assist the Office of Operations in the promulgation of a final rule including requirements, standards, or performance specifications for the interoperability of automated toll collection systems as directed by SAFETEA–LU Section 1604(b)(6);

5. Support each of the FHWA Program Offices, that have responsibility for a tolling and pricing program, in advancing formal proposals to gain approval to toll or price motor vehicles and facilitating coordination with the appropriate FHWA Division Office; and

6. Establish program performance goals; monitor achievements, and prepare an annual report to Congress on the status and progress of all tolling and pricing programs, including describing program successes in meeting congestion reduction and other performance goals.

The Tolling and Pricing Team reviews all ''Expression of Interest'' for the various tolling opportunities contained in current law but does not have responsibility to approve or disapprove specific projects. That responsibility will remain with each of the respective FHWA program offices responsible for administering a specific tolling and pricing program. By requesting and reviewing all Expressions of Interest, the Tolling and Pricing Team can effectively guide an applicant to the most appropriate program.

The ''Expression of Interest''

A public authority that wants to request tolling or pricing authority, or funding, is asked to submit an Expression of Interest to the Tolling and Pricing Team in care of the FHWA Office of Operations in Washington, DC. An Expression of Interest template can be downloaded via the Internet by going to the Tolling and Pricing Opportunities webpage within the FHWA Office of Operations Web site at http://www.ops.fhwa.dot.gov/tolling_pricing/index.htm. Use of the template is optional. The Expression of Interest may be attached as an e-mail to TollingandPricingTeam@fhwa.dot.gov, or a hardcopy can be mailed to Mr. Wayne Berman, FHWA Office of Operations, Room 3404, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington DC 20590. Concurrently, the Expression of Interest should be copied to the respective State FHWA Division Office.

The Expression of Interest is a document—in letter, memo, or report format—that provides the rationale for funding or tolling authority and information about the intended project. A complete Expression of Interest, based upon the information items listed below, will enable the Tolling and Pricing Team to provide the best assistance and identify the range of options possible to meet intended goals and timeframes.

The information items requested for a complete Expression of Interest are as follows:

(a) A description of the agency or requesting authority or authorities that is/are requesting this tolling authority where applicable;

(b) The name, title, email, and phone number of the person who will act as the point of contact on behalf of the requesting authority or authorities;

(c) A statement concerning the action being sought:

(i) Funding and/or tolling authority via the Value Pricing Pilot program to support either pre-project study activities or implementation activities as permitted; or

(ii) Only authority to toll either existing or planned facilities;

(d) A description of the subject facility or facilities proposed to be tolled;

(e) Whether the subject facility is an Interstate or non-Interstate facility;

(f) Whether construction is involved and, if so, whether this is new construction, expansion, rehabilitation, reconstruction, or other;

(g) Whether an HOV lane or lanes currently exist on the facility;

(h) A timetable to enact tolling (or modify tolling) on the subject facility;

(i) Any expressions or declarations of support from public officials or the public. If no public meetings or expressions of support are available, please indicate if there are project plans for ensuring adequate public involvement and support prior to implementation;

(j) A plan for implementing tolls on the facility, where applicable. Where known, the range of anticipated tolls and the strategies to vary toll rates (i.e., the formulae for variable pricing);

(k) The reasons for implementing tolls, such as financing construction, reducing congestion, or improving air quality;

(l) A description of the public agency or agencies that will be responsible for operating, maintaining, and enforcing the tolling program; and

(m) A description of how, if at all, any private entities are involved either in the up-front costs to enact tolling, or the cost sharing or debt retirement associated with revenues.

Program Participation—Overview of the Process

Submitting an Expression of Interest initiates a review process by the Tolling and Pricing Team that leads to a recommendation as to which tolling or pricing program (or programs) will be appropriate and available to meet the goals of the public authority. In some cases, if more than one tolling program is available, the Tolling and Pricing Team will work with the public authority to help select the one program that is most appropriate and is most likely to lead to project approval. If, in some cases, the public authority prefers a tolling program other than the one recommended, the Tolling and Pricing Team will defer to this request; however, the Tolling and Pricing Team will also provide advice as to the pros and cons of the decision.

Once there is agreement between the public authority and the Tolling and Pricing Team as to the most appropriate program, the applicant will be referred to the specific FHWA program office responsible for administering that tolling and pricing initiative. The FHWA program office will then provide the public authority with the necessary information on how to formally apply for authority to toll motor vehicles.

Once a formal application is submitted, the appropriate FHWA program office will review the application and determine whether or not to approve the proposed project. The public authority will then be notified as to the determination. If approved, a formal tolling agreement and/or cooperative agreement will be prepared between the FHWA and the public authority. The toll agreement must be executed with the FHWA and address the use of revenues that are collected from the operation of the toll facility. While program elements may vary, the restrictions generally require the revenues to be used first for debt service, reasonable return on the investment for private parties, and the operations and maintenance of the facility. In addition, if the facility is being adequately maintained, any revenues in excess of these uses may be used for other title 23 U.S.C. eligible purposes. The FHWA, the State Department of Transportation, and the relevant toll authority or local governmental entity, if any, will execute the toll agreement.

Summary of the Two-Step Review Process

The entire review process, resulting in the execution of a toll agreement and/or a cooperative agreement, can be summarized in two steps as follows:

Step #1: Submit an Expression of Interest to the Tolling and Pricing Team. The Tolling and Pricing Team will review the Expression of Interest, advise the applicant which program or programs are eligible, and will also provide counsel as to which program is most appropriate to pursue. The State or public authority making application will be directed to contact the selected program office, wherein, the program office will then inform the public authority as to the procedures required for submitting a formal application for tolling authority and/or value pricing funding.

Step #2: Submit a formal application for tolling and pricing authority or value pricing funding to the FHWA program office for formal review, ultimately leading to a decision on approval. The public authority will then be notified of the decision. If the project is approved, a formal tolling agreement will then be prepared.

Tolling and Pricing Opportunities Available Under the Federal-Aid Highway Program (Title 23, U.S.C.)

HOV Facilities—Section 1121

Section 1121 of SAFETEA–LU removed section 102(a) of Title 23 of the United States Code (23 U.S.C.) and replaced it with a new section 166 that clarifies the operation requirements of HOV facilities and provides more exceptions to their minimum vehicle occupancy requirements. Other non-tolling related issues are addressed in this section (e.g., low emission and energy efficient vehicles) that are irrelevant to the purpose of this notice. Specific to tolling and the creation of HOT lanes, the new legislation allows States to charge tolls to vehicles that do not meet the established occupancy requirements to use an HOV lane, provided the agency meets certain criteria to enroll participants, collect fees electronically, manage demand by varying tolls, and enforce against violations. Tolls under this section may be charged on both Interstate and non-Interstate facilities. There is no limit on the number of projects or the number of States that can participate. For more information, refer to the document ''Federal-aid Highway Program Guidance on High Occupancy Vehicle (HOV) Lanes'' which can be accessed from the HOV Facilities program section of the Tolling and Pricing Web site at http://www.ops.fhwa.dot.gov/tolling_pricing/index.htm.

Express Lanes Demonstration Program—Section 1604(b)

This program permits tolling on selected demonstration projects to manage high levels of congestion, reduce emissions in a nonattainment or maintenance air quality area, or finance additional Interstate lanes for the purpose of reducing congestion. Fifteen projects are authorized nationwide from 2005 through 2009 to allow ''States, authorities, or public or private entities designated by States'' to collect a toll from motor vehicles at an eligible toll facility for any highway, bridge, or tunnel, including on the Interstate system. The State must vary the price of tolls according to the time of day or level of traffic, as appropriate, to manage congestion or improve air quality.

Unique to this program is the term ''demonstration project.'' For purposes of tracking the fifteen slots allowed in section 1604(b), each agreement executed between an authority and the FHWA will constitute one ''demonstration project.'' Either one facility, or, at the FHWA's discretion, a group of interrelated facilities in a region (so long as they are all operated under the auspices of the same oversight agency or agencies) may constitute one demonstration project, provided that all candidate facilities meet program criteria at the time of the agreement. Facilities located elsewhere in the State would require new and separate agreements.

Interstate System Construction Toll Pilot Program-Section 1604(c)

This new program authorizes up to three facilities on the Interstate System to toll for the purpose of financing the construction of new Interstate highways. A State or an interstate ''compact of States'' may submit a single candidate project under this program. Each applicant or applicants must demonstrate that financing the construction of the facility with the collection of tolls is the most efficient and economical way to advance the project. The State must agree not to enter into a noncompete agreement with a private party under which the State is prevented from improving or expanding the capacity of public roads in the vicinity of the toll facility to address conditions resulting from traffic diverted to nearby roads from the toll facility. There is no special funding authorized for this program. By law, Interstate maintenance funds may not be used on a facility for which tolls are being collected under this program. All applications submitted under this program must be received by FHWA before August 10, 2015. This date is specifically cited for this program in section 1604(c)(8) of SAFETEA–LU.

23 U.S.C. 129

Under 23 U.S.C. 129, Federal participation is allowed in the following five types of toll activities.

- Initial construction (except on the Interstate System) of toll highways, bridges, and tunnels, including the approaches to these facilities;
- Reconstructing, resurfacing, restoring, and rehabilitation work on any existing toll facility;
- Reconstruction or replacement of free bridges or tunnels and conversion to toll facilities;
- Reconstruction of a free Federal-aid highway (except on the Interstate System) and conversion to a toll facility; and
- Preliminary studies to determine the feasibility of the above toll construction activities.

If Federal-aid funds are used for construction of or improvements to a toll facility or the approach to a toll facility or if a State plans to reconstruct and convert a free highway, bridge or tunnel previously constructed with Federal-aid funds to a toll facility, a toll agreement under section 129(a)(3) must be executed. There is no limit to the number of agreements that may be executed.

Interstate System Reconstruction and Rehabilitation Pilot Program

SAFETEA–LU continued the authority initially provided in section 1216(b) of TEA–21, by allowing up to three existing Interstate facilities (highway, bridge, or tunnel) to be tolled to fund needed reconstruction or rehabilitation on Interstate highway corridors that could not otherwise be adequately maintained or functionally improved without the collection of tolls. Each of the three facilities must be in a different State. There is no special funding authorized for this program. By law, Interstate maintenance funds may not be used on a facility for which tolls are being collected under this program. Currently, only one open slot remains.

Value Pricing Pilot Program—Section 1604(a)

As previously noted, a separate notice announcing this program's solicitation is published elsewhere in today's Federal Register due to the fact that this program is unique in offering grant funds, and the requirements for timely solicitation, review, and award of grants. The existence of this program is mentioned herein solely as a means to complete the perspective of all tolling opportunity programs.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Why can't a State (or ''public authority'') simply apply directly to one specific program? Technically, there is nothing to restrict an agency from doing this; however, since there are so many programs, some with limited participation slots, FHWA prefers to screen each project application. This is to ensure that (a) The agency is aware of the full range of available options; (b) the FHWA can effectively manage the very limited number of participation slots authorized for each program; and (c) other program offices are made aware that an application has been made, as each program will have a representative on the Tolling and Pricing Team.

2. Who will make up the Tolling and Pricing Team? The Office of Operations is the lead office and will undertake responsibility to gather and distribute the Expressions of Interest for preliminary evaluation and to maintain the aforementioned website. The Tolling and Pricing Team has representation from all of the relevant program offices that have tolling and pricing oversight responsibilities, including the FHWA Offices of Operations, Policy and Governmental Affairs, and Infrastructure. In addition, other stakeholder offices within FHWA and the U.S. Department of Transportation are represented, including the FHWA Offices of Public Affairs and Chief Counsel, and the Office of the Secretary of Transportation.

3. How often will the Tolling and Pricing Team meet? The group will meet as often as necessary in person, but mostly will communicate via email contact and access to a File Transfer Protocol (FTP) Web site, which will serve to post the Expressions of Interest for private review by the team almost immediately upon submittal. The Office of Operations will act promptly to engage the Tolling and Pricing Team to review a project proposal discuss project eligibility under different programs, and recommend the project for further consideration under the most appropriate program.

4. If I have any questions, whom should I contact? Any general questions concerning the tolling and pricing programs should be directed to Mr. Wayne Berman, Transportation Specialist, in the Office of Operations at 202–366–4069. His e-mail address is wayne.berman@fhwa.dot.gov. Alternatively, there is an e-mail ''mailbox'' on the tolling and pricing Web site (address below). Background: The FHWA collects and publishes motor vehicle registration and licensed driver information obtained from the States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. This information is collected from State departments of transportation pursuant to 23 CFR 420.105 and is published in Highway Statistics.[1]

The information in Highway Statistics is used in the development of highway legislation at the Federal level. The information is also used in preparing legislatively required reports to Congress, in keeping State governments informed, and, in general, as an aid to highway planning, programming, budgeting, forecasting, and fiscal management. This information is also used extensively in the evaluation of Federal, State, and local highway programs. The FHWA has re-assessed DOT internal needs for these data and has preliminarily determined that the information in Highway Statistics meets the Federal need of providing a national perspective on highway program activities.

This notice seeks public input from users on the quality, timeliness, comprehensiveness, and other characteristics of the motor vehicle registration and licensed driver data collected by the FHWA and published in Highway Statistics. Based on this input and other information, the FHWA will determine whether it is necessary to change the motor vehicle registration and licensed driver information collected. The motor vehicle registration data currently collected by the FHWA can be found in Highway Statistics tables MV–1, MV–2, MV–7, MV–9, MV–10 and MV–11. The licensed driver data currently collected by the FHWA can be found in Highway Statistics tables DL–1C, DL–20 and DL–22.

Motor vehicle registration: The motor vehicle registration data collection practices vary among the States. States register specific vehicle types on a calendar year or fiscal year basis. States may use some form of a ''staggered'' system to register motor vehicles to permit a distribution of the renewal workload throughout all months. In addition, most States allow pre-registration or permit ''grace periods'' to better distribute the annual registration workload.

States report motor vehicle registrations by major vehicle classes: automobiles, buses, trucks, and motorcycles. The truck category includes light trucks to the extent they can be identified and separated from automobiles. Data on trucks, buses, trailers, and semitrailers are given in tables MV–9, MV–10, and MV–11, respectively. Although the detail of motor-vehicle data has improved in recent years, it is not yet possible to obtain from all States separate data on single-unit trucks and combinations. Some States provide data for light trucks and truck tractors, but for many States the FHWA estimates this information using other data sources, such as the Vehicle Inventory and Use Survey conducted by the Bureau of the Census.[2] The table MV–9 light truck category includes pickups, vans (full-size and mini), utility-type vehicles, as well as other vehicles (panel trucks and delivery vans generally of 10,000 pounds or less gross vehicle weight). Registrations of publicly owned motor vehicles are reported in table MV–7.

Registration practices for commercial vehicles also differ greatly among the States. Some States register a tractor-semitrailer combination as a single unit; others register the tractor and the semitrailer separately. Regardless of how they were registered, only the power units have been included in the truck count in table MV–1. Some States register buses with trucks or automobiles; many States do not report light utility trailers separately from commercial trailers or semitrailers; and some States do not require registration of car or light utility trailers.

Drivers' License: Each State, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico administers its own driver licensing system. Since 1954 all States have required drivers to be licensed, and since 1959 all States have required examination prior to licensing. Tests of knowledge of State driving laws and practices, vision, and driving proficiency are now required for new licensees. The State distribution of total U.S. licensed drivers, by sex and age group, is shown in table DL–1C.

The distribution of total U.S. licensed drivers, by sex and age group, is shown in table DL–20.

DL–22 displays the number of drivers by sex and age groups for each State. For the States that do not provide the driver license data broken out to the top age bracket of 85 and over, we have redistributed the last age bracket provided by each State according to the Census population data for those particular age brackets in that particular State.

Conclusion: This notice seeks public input from users on the quality, timeliness, comprehensiveness, and other characteristics of these data. Based on this input and other information, the FHWA will determine whether it is necessary to change the motor vehicle registration and licensed driver information collected, and the steps needed to ensure the quality of the information.

Specifically, the FHWA is interested in comments from users of motor vehicle registration and licensed driver information on data uses, data quality, data timeliness, data availability, and how well data meets user needs. Currently, the FHWA is considering various options for these data programs including investigating alternative sources of data from the public or private sector, developing enhanced software to capture and process the data more efficiently, and maintaining the status quo.

Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA–LU); Value Pricing Pilot Program Participation

AGENCY: Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice; solicitation for participation.

SUMMARY: This notice invites State and local governments and other public authorities to apply to participate in the Value Pricing Pilot (VPP) program and presents guidelines for program applications. This notice describes the statutory basis for the VPP program and updates a notice published in the Federal Register on May 7, 2001 (66 FR 23077), by providing revised procedures, process timelines, and guidance for program participation.

A companion notice referring to non-grant programs, entitled ''Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA–LU); Opportunities for

States and Other Qualifying Agencies to Gain Authority to Toll Facilities Constructed Using Federal Funds'' is published elsewhere in today's edition of the Federal Register. Both of these notices are intended to cover all of the opportunities for States and other qualifying transportation agencies to obtain approval to toll their respective facilities and to secure funding to implement tolling and pricing.

DATES: Formal grant applications must be submitted no later than March 31, 2006, for FY 2006 funds, October 1, 2006, for FY 2007 funds, and each subsequent October 1 for funding through and including FY 2009. To be assured of the maximum amount of constructive assistance from FHWA in preparing a formal application, Expressions of Interest must be submitted two months prior, i.e., by January 31, 2006, for FY 2006 funds, August 1, 2006, for FY 2007 funds, and each subsequent August 1 covering the funding period.

Background

Section 1012(b) of the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act (ISTEA) (Pub. L. 102–240; 105 Stat. 1914), as amended by section 1216(a) of the Transportation Equity Act (TEA–21) (Pub. L. 105–178; 112 Stat. 107), and section 1604(a) of Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA–LU) (Pub. L. 109–59; 119 Stat. 1144), authorizes the Secretary of Transportation (the Secretary) to create a Value Pricing Pilot Program. Value pricing encompasses a variety of strategies to manage congestion on highways, including tolling of highway facilities, as well as other strategies that do not involve tolls, such as mileage-based charges for insurance, taxes, leasing fees, and car sharing. The value pricing concept of assessing relatively higher prices for travel during peak periods is the same as that used in many other sectors of the economy to respond to peak-use demands. For example, airlines, hotels, and theaters often charge more for peak than non-peak times.

The FHWA is seeking applications for the FY 2006 VPP program. According to statute, the FHWA may enter into cooperative agreements with up to fifteen State or local governments or other public authorities (hereafter, States) to establish, maintain, and monitor value pricing pilot programs, each including an unlimited number of projects. The FHWA invites interested States to apply to participate in the VPP program for FY 2006. There are already fourteen State-led programs currently in the VPP program: California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Maryland, Minnesota, New Jersey, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Texas, Virginia, and Washington. Therefore, only one new State is eligible to participate. Any value pricing project included under these programs may involve the use of tolls on the Interstate system. This is an exception to the general provisions prohibiting tolls on the Interstate system as contained in 23 U.S.C. 129 and 301.

A maximum of $12 million is authorized for each of the fiscal years 2006 through 2009 to be made available to carry out the VPP program requirements. A set-aside of $3 million per fiscal years 2006 through 2009 is authorized only for value pricing pilot projects that do not involve highway tolls. The Federal share payable under the program is 80 percent of the cost of the project. Funds allocated by the Secretary to a State or other public entity under this section shall remain available for obligation by the State for a period of three years after the last day of the fiscal year for which funds are authorized. If, on September 30 of any year, the amount of funds made available for the VPP program, but not allocated, exceeds $8 million, the excess amount will be apportioned to all States as Surface Transportation Program funds.

Funds available for the VPP program can be used to support pre-implementation study activities as well as to pay for implementation costs of value pricing projects. Section 1012(b)(6) of ISTEA provides that a State may permit toll-paying vehicles with fewer than two occupants to operate in high occupancy vehicle (HOV) lanes if the vehicles are part of a local value pricing pilot program under this section. SAFETEA–LU Section 1121, ''HOV Facilities,'' among other things, also allows for the conversion of HOV lanes to high occupancy toll (HOT) lanes. Given that the VPP program has only one more slot available for a new program partner to participate, Section 1121 authority should be used, instead of VPP program authority, for HOV-to-HOT lane conversions if an application comes from a State that is not already in the VPP program.

Potential financial effects of value pricing projects on low-income drivers shall be considered and, where such effects are expected to be significant, possible mitigation measures should be identified, such as providing new or expanded transit service as an integral part of the value pricing project, toll discounts or credits for low-income motorists who do not have viable transit options, or fare or toll credits earned by motorists on regular lanes which can be used to pay for tolls on priced lanes. Mitigation measures can be included as part of the value pricing project implementation costs.

The Secretary is required to report to Congress every two years on the effects of all value pricing pilot programs. Annual evaluation data and reports shall be provided to the FHWA for use in reports to Congress.

The VPP program is a continuation of the Congestion Pricing Pilot Program authorized by section 1012(b) of the ISTEA and amended by section 1216(a) of TEA–21. To obtain up-to-date information on the status of current projects, please go to: http://www.ops.fhwa.dot.gov/tolling_pricing/index.htm and go to ''Resources'' and click on ''Value Pricing Pilot Program Knowledge Exchange''.

In addition to the VPP program, SAFETEA–LU offers States broader authority to use tolling on a pilot or demonstration basis to finance Interstate construction and reconstruction, promote efficiency in the use of highways, and support congestion reduction by providing expanded flexibility under the following programs: HOV facilities; Interstate System Reconstruction & Rehabilitation Pilot; Interstate System Construction

Toll Pilot; and Express Lanes Demonstration Program. For more information on those programs, please refer to the companion notice in today's Federal Register entitled ''Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA–LU); Opportunities for State and Other Qualifying Agencies to Gain Authority to Toll Facilities Constructed Using Federal Funds.''

What Is Value Pricing?

''Value pricing,'' ''congestion pricing,'' ''peak-period pricing,'' ''variable pricing,'' and ''variable tolling'' are all terms used to refer to direct non-constant charges for road use, possibly varying by location, time of day, severity of congestion, vehicle occupancy, or type of facility. By shifting some trips to off-peak periods, to mass transit or other higher-occupancy vehicles, or to routes away from congested facilities, or by encouraging consolidation of trips, value pricing charges are intended to promote economic efficiency both generally and within the commercial freight sector. They also achieve congestion reduction, improved air quality, energy conservation, and transit productivity goals.

A ''value pricing project'' means any implementation of value pricing concepts or techniques discussed in the ''Potential Project Types'' section of this notice and included under a State or local ''value pricing pilot program,'' where such a program includes one or more value pricing projects serving a single geographic area, such as a metropolitan area or State. By definition, an entity with one or more approved value pricing projects must have a value pricing program. While the distinction between ''project'' and ''program'' may appear to be merely a technical one, it is significant in that, as described in the ''Background'' section of this notice, the number of total VPP programs is statutorily limited to fifteen, while there is no limit to the number of VPP projects allowed under each VPP program.

''Cooperative agreement'' means the agreement signed between the FHWA and a State to implement local value pricing pilot programs (See 49 CFR Part 18). ''Toll agreement'' means the agreement signed between the FHWA and a State to grant the authority to collect tolls.

Program Objective

The overall objective of the VPP program is to support efforts by State and local governments or other public authorities to establish local value pricing pilot programs, to provide for the monitoring and evaluation of value pricing projects included in such programs, and to report on these effects. The VPP program's primary focus is on value pricing with road tolls, with a secondary focus on other market-based approaches for congestion relief that do not involve road tolls, such as parking pricing or pay-as-you-drive insurance. All projects should incorporate significant pricing mechanisms intended to reduce the level of congestion.

Potential Project Types

The FHWA is seeking applications to use value pricing projects to reduce congestion, improve system performance, and promote mobility. Value pricing charges are expected to accomplish this purpose by encouraging the use of alternative times, modes, routes, or trip patterns. As such, value pricing charges need to be targeted at vehicles causing congestion, and prices must be set at levels significant enough to encourage drivers to use alternative times, routes, modes, or trip patterns during congested periods. Conversely, proposed projects that contemplate value pricing charges that are not significant enough to influence demand, such as minor increases in fees during peak-periods, or moderate toll increases instituted primarily for financing purposes, will be given low priority. Similarly, value pricing concepts that have become mainstream and have been adopted as common practice, such as HOV-to-HOT lane conversions, will not be funded. To increase the likelihood of generating information on a variety of useful value pricing strategies, proposed projects having as many of the following characteristics as possible will receive priority for Federal support. Projects of interest include:

1. Applications of value pricing which are comprehensive and include pricing of currently free facilities, such as area wide pricing, pricing of multiple facilities or corridors, and/or combinations of road pricing and parking pricing. The size or extent of road pricing programs, ranging from single facilities, to sections of, or complete corridors, to comprehensive area- or region-wide applications, are of interest, along with their relative effect on reducing congestion, altering travel behavior, and encouraging the use of other transportation modes. Region-wide pricing applications that use technologies that provide drivers with real-time congestion and pricing information on alternative routes are especially encouraged.

2. Pricing at key traffic bottlenecks, of multiple facilities in a single travel corridor, or on single highway facilities, including bridges and tunnels. Applications to shift from a fixed to a variable toll schedule on existing toll facilities are encouraged (i.e., combinations of peak-period surcharges and off-peak discounts). Pricing of queue jumps is also eligible. A queue jump is defined as a facility that can be used by certain types of traffic to bypass points on the transportation network where congestion is particularly severe and occurs in a predictable pattern (colloquially called ''bottlenecks''). Queue jumps can be as elaborate as an elevated facility or as simple as an at-grade lane addition.

3. Innovative parking pricing strategies, including time-of-day pricing and charges reflective of congestion conditions, provided the level and coverage of proposed parking charges is sufficient to reduce congestion. Parking pricing strategies that are integrated with other pricing strategies are encouraged. Parking pricing strategies should be designed to influence trip-making behavior, and might include surcharges for entering or exiting a parking facility during or near peak periods, or a range of parking cash-out policies, where cash is offered to employees in lieu of subsidized parking, parking operators reimburse monthly patrons for unused parking days, or renters or purchasers in multi-family housing developments are provided direct financial saving for not availing of car parking spaces. Pricing of a single parking facility, coverage of a few employee spaces, or pricing of parking spaces in a small area, for example, are unlikely to receive priority, unless they incorporate a truly unique element which might facilitate broader applications of value pricing across local areas or States.

4. Pay-as-you-drive pricing, including car insurance premiums set on a per-mile basis and innovative car ownership, leasing, and usage arrangements that reduce fixed costs and increase variable usage costs.

5. Projects that are likely to add to the base of knowledge about the various design, implementation, effectiveness, operational, and acceptability dimensions of value pricing. The FHWA is seeking information related to the impacts of value pricing on the following: Travel behavior (e.g., trip lengths, mode use, time-of-travel, trip destinations, and trip generation by private and commercial trip makers); traffic conditions (e.g., speeds and levels of service); implementation issues (e.g., technology, innovative pricing techniques, public acceptance, administration, operation, enforcement, and legal and institutional issues); revenues, their uses and financial plans; different types of users and businesses; and low-income motorists, including possible mitigation measures and their effectiveness. These diverse information needs mean that the FHWA may fund different types of value pricing applications in different local contexts to maximize the potential of the pilot program.

6. Projects that do not have adverse effects on alternative routes or modes, or on low-income or other transportation-disadvantaged groups are encouraged under the VPP program. If such effects are anticipated, proposed pricing programs should incorporate measures to mitigate any major adverse impacts, including enhancement of transportation alternatives for peak period travelers, services such as ''life-line'' toll rates aimed at low income travelers, and credit-based tolling programs such as toll credits earned by motorists in regular lanes which can be used to pay tolls on priced lanes.

7. Pricing projects that lead to substantial congestion reduction and supplant or supplement existing tax-based approaches for generating surface transportation revenues.

8. Pricing projects that result in free-flow peak period roadway conditions, and where motorists earn or are provided with limited monetary credit for their discretionary use, thereby allowing them a limited amount of free or discounted rush hour roadway access or transit trips before having to pay full fees.

While the FHWA is seeking applications that incorporate some or all of these project characteristics, these guidelines are intended only to illustrate selection priorities, not to limit potential program participants from proposing new and innovative pricing approaches for incorporation in the program.

Pre-Implementation Studies

The VPP program funds may also be used to assist State and local governments in carrying out pre-implementation study activities designed to lead to implementation of a value pricing project. The intent of the pre-implementation study phase is to support efforts to identify and evaluate value pricing project alternatives, and to prepare the necessary groundwork for possible future implementation. Purely academic studies of value pricing (not designed to lead to possible project implementation), or broad, area wide planning studies which incorporate value pricing only as one option, will not be funded under this program. Broad planning studies can be funded with regular Federal-aid highway or transit planning funds. Applications for pre-implementation studies will be selected based on the likelihood that they will lead to implementation of pilot tests of value pricing conforming to the objectives described in the previous section.

In cases where the FHWA has made funds available to a State for pre-implementation studies, but the State decides not to implement the project and has no other value pricing projects, the FHWA may proceed to remove that State from the program and replace it with another State in the pilot program. Since section 1012(b)(1) of ISTEA limits participation in the pilot program to only fifteen slots (specifically, ''States, local governments or public authorities,'' colloquially termed States), the fifteen participating States must intend to implement value pricing projects and proceed accordingly.

Project Costs Eligible for Grant Funding

The FHWA will provide up to the statutorily allowable 80 percent share of the estimated costs of an approved project. Funds available for the VPP program can be used to support pre-implementation study activities and also to pay for implementation costs of value-pricing projects. Costs eligible for reimbursement include costs of planning for, setting up, managing, operating, monitoring, evaluating, and reporting on local value pricing pilot projects. Costs cannot be reimbursed for longer than three years. The three-year funding limitation will begin on the date of the first disbursement of Federal funds for project activities. Examples of specific costs eligible for reimbursement include the following:

1. Pre-Implementation Study Costs—Allowable pre-implementation study costs include: Planning, public participation, consensus building, marketing, impact assessment, modeling, financial planning, technology assessments and specifications, and other pre-implementation work that relates to the establishment of the value pricing project including meeting Federal or State environmental or other planning requirements.

2. Implementation Costs—Allowable costs include those for setting up, managing, operating, evaluating, and reporting on a value pricing project, including:

a. Necessary salaries and expenses, or other administrative and operational costs, such as installation of equipment for operation of a pilot project (e.g., Electronic Toll Collection (ETC)) technology, video equipment for traffic monitoring, and other instrumentation), enforcement costs, costs of monitoring and evaluating project operations, and costs of continuing public relations activities during the period of implementation.

b. Costs of providing transportation alternatives, such as new or expanded transit or ridesharing services provided as an integral part of the value pricing project. Funds are not available to replace existing sources of support for these services.

Project implementation costs can be supported until such time that sufficient revenues are being generated by the project to fund such activities without Federal support, but in any case for no longer than three years. Each implementation project included in a local value pricing pilot program will be considered separately for this purpose.

Funds may not be used to pay for activities conducted prior to approval for VPP program participation. Also, funds made available through the VPP program may not be used to construct new highway lanes or bridges, even if those facilities are to be priced, but toll ramps or minor pavement additions needed to facilitate toll collection or enforcement are eligible. Complementary actions, such as lane construction or the implementation of traffic control systems or transit projects can be funded through other highway and transit programs eligible under SAFETEA–LU and from new revenues raised as a result of a pilot. Those interested in participating in the VPP program are encouraged to explore opportunities for combining funds from these other programs with VPP program funds. Nevertheless, Federal funds may not be used to match VPP program funds unless permitted under specific statutory authority.

Eligible Uses of Revenues

Sections 1012(b)(2) and (3) of ISTEA provide that revenues generated by any value pricing pilot project must be used for the project's operating costs and for projects that are eligible for assistance under Title 23, United States Code. Also, since section 1012(b)(2) requires the Secretary to fund a pilot project until such time that sufficient revenues are being generated to fund its operating costs, any revenues generated by a pilot project must be applied first to pay for pilot project operating costs. Any project revenues in excess of pilot project operating costs may be used for any projects eligible under Title 23, U.S. Code. A project's operating (or implementation) costs include any costs necessary for a project's implementation; mitigation measures to deal with adverse financial effects on low-income drivers; the proper maintenance of the facility; any construction (including reconstruction, rehabilitation, restoration, or resurfacing) of the facility; any debt service incurred in implementing the project; and a reasonable return on investment by any private entity financing the project. Uses of revenue are encouraged which will support the goals of the VPP program, particularly uses designed to provide benefits to those traveling in the corridor where the project is being implemented.

Furthermore, for toll projects, the FHWA and the public authority (including the State transportation department) having jurisdiction over a facility shall enter into a toll agreement concerning the use of toll revenue to be generated under a value pricing project. The toll agreement will merely provide for the public authority's commitment to use the revenues in accordance with the applicable statutory requirements of the VPP program and to annually audit its use of toll revenues for compliance with such requirements. The execution of a toll agreement is consistent with the requirements of other toll programs, such as contained in 23 U.S.C. 129, and will facilitate adequate oversight of a State's compliance with revenue use requirements of the VPP program. The FHWA Division Administrator, in coordination with the Office of Policy and Governmental Affairs and Office of Chief Counsel, will execute value pricing toll agreements.

Who Is Eligible To Apply?

Qualified applicants include local, regional and State government agencies, as well as public tolling authorities. The VPP program term ''States'' and the Tolling and Pricing Team term ''public authorities'' may be used interchangeably for purposes of identifying that a responsible entity will enter into process of applying to the VPP program or another tolling program. Although project agreements must be with public authorities, a local VPP program partnership may also include private tolling authorities and non-profit organizations.

Program Coordination and Assistance—The Tolling and Pricing Team

The Federal Highway Administration, Office of Operations is responsible for coordinating all tolling and pricing programs that now exist under the Federal-aid Highway Program. In order to reduce confusion among interested applicants, given both the number and differing structures of the various tolling and pricing programs, the Office of Operations has formed a working group known as the ''Tolling and Pricing Team.''

The key role for the Tolling and Pricing Team is to assist public authorities by directing them to the most appropriate program (or programs), including to the VPP program, among the many options available. Members of the Tolling and Pricing Team represent the FHWA Offices of Operations, Policy and Governmental Affairs, and Infrastructure—the primary offices responsible for administering each of the tolling and pricing programs—and other oversight offices within the U.S. DOT and the FHWA, including, but not limited to the Office of the Secretary, and the FHWA Office of the Administrator and Office of Chief Counsel. Members participate on the Tolling and Pricing Team because of their direct program responsibilities or because they are interested stakeholders in tolling and pricing programs within the U.S. DOT.

The Tolling and Pricing Team has six purposes:

1. Coordinate all tolling and pricing activity within FHWA to facilitate the implementation and advancement of tolling and pricing projects and standards in the United States;

2. Receive and review all Expressions of Interest submitted to the FHWA from public authorities;

3. Direct the public authority or partnerships designated by the State to the tolling and pricing program (or programs) that can enable them to accomplish the goals set forth in the ''Expression of Interest'' section of this notice;

4. Assist the Office of Operations in the promulgation of a final rule including requirements, standards, or performance specifications for the interoperability of automated toll collection systems as directed by SAFETEA–LU Section 1604(b)(6);

5. Support each of the FHWA program offices that have responsibility for a tolling and pricing program, in advancing formal proposals to gain approval to toll or price motor vehicles and facilitating coordination with the appropriate FHWA Division Office; and

6. Establish program performance goals; monitor achievements, and prepare an annual report to Congress on the status and progress of all tolling and pricing programs, including describing program successes in meeting congestion reduction and other performance goals.

The Tolling and Pricing Team reviews all Expressions of Interest for the various tolling opportunities contained in current law but does not have responsibility to approve or disapprove specific projects. That responsibility will remain with each of the respective FHWA program offices responsible for administering a specific tolling or pricing program. By requesting and reviewing all Expressions of Interest, the Tolling and Pricing Team can effectively guide an applicant to the most appropriate program.

The ''Expression of Interest''

A public authority that wants to request tolling or pricing authority, or funding, is asked to submit an Expression of Interest to the Tolling and Pricing Team in care of the FHWA Office of Operations in Washington, DC. An Expression of Interest template can be downloaded via the Internet by going to the Tolling and Pricing Opportunities webpage within the FHWA Office of Operations Web site at http://www.ops.fhwa.dot.gov/tolling_pricing/index.htm. Use of the template is optional. The Expression of Interest may be attached as an e-mail to TollingandPricingTeam@fhwa.dot.gov, or a hardcopy can be mailed to Mr. Wayne Berman, FHWA Office of Operations, Room 3404, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, DC 20590. Concurrently, the Expression of Interest should be copied to the respective State FHWA Division Office.

The Expression of Interest is a document—in letter, memo, or report format—that provides the rationale for funding or tolling authority and information about the intended project. A complete Expression of Interest, based upon the information items listed below, will enable the Tolling and Pricing Team to provide the best assistance and identify the range of options possible to meet intended goals and timeframes.

The information items requested for a complete Expression of Interest are as follows:

(a) A description of the agency or requesting authority or authorities that is/are requesting this tolling authority where applicable;

(b) The name, title, email address, and phone number of the person who will act as the point of contact on behalf of the requesting authority or authorities;

(c) A statement concerning the action being sought:

(i) Funding and/or tolling authority via the Value Pricing Pilot program to support either pre-project study activities or implementation activities as permitted; or

(ii) Only authority to toll either existing or planned facilities;

(d) A description of the subject facility or facilities proposed to be tolled;

(e) Whether the subject facility is an Interstate or non-Interstate facility;

(f) Whether construction is involved and, if so, whether this is new construction, expansion, rehabilitation, reconstruction, or other;

(g) Whether an HOV lane or lanes currently exist on the facility;

(h) A timetable to enact tolling (or modify tolling) on the subject facility;

(i) Any expressions or declarations of support from public officials or the public, i.e., specifically, any public meetings that were held. If no public meetings or expressions of support are available, please indicate if there are project plans for ensuring adequate public involvement and support prior to implementation;

(j) A plan for implementing tolls on the facility, where applicable. Where known, the range of anticipated tolls and the strategies to vary toll rates (i.e., the formulae for variable pricing);

(k) The reasons for implementing tolls, such as financing construction, reducing congestion, or improving air quality;

(l) A description of the public agency or agencies that will be responsible for operating, maintaining, and enforcing the tolling program; and

(m) A description of how, if at all, any private entities are involved either in the up-front costs to enact tolling, or the cost sharing or debt retirement associated with revenues.

Program Participation—Overview of the Process

Submitting an Expression of Interest initiates a review process by the Tolling and Pricing Team that leads to a recommendation as to which tolling or pricing program (or programs) will be appropriate and available to meet the goals of the public authority. In some cases, if more than one tolling program is available, the Tolling and Pricing Team will work with the public authority to help select the one program that is most appropriate and is most likely to lead to project approval. If the public authority prefers applying to a tolling program other than the one recommended, the Tolling and Pricing Team will defer to this request; however, the Tolling and Pricing Team will also provide advice as to the pros and cons of the decision.

Once there is agreement between the public authority and the Tolling and Pricing Team as to the most appropriate program, the applicant will be referred to the specific FHWA program office responsible for administering that tolling and pricing initiative. The FHWA program office will then provide the public authority with the necessary information on how to formally apply for authority to toll motor vehicles and, in the case of the VPP program, request funding.

Once a formal application is submitted, the appropriate FHWA program office will review the application and determine whether or not to approve the proposed project. The public authority will then be notified as to the determination. If approved, a formal tolling agreement and/or cooperative agreement will be prepared between the FHWA and the public authority. The toll agreement must be executed with the FHWA and address the use of revenues that are collected from the operation of the toll facility. While program elements may vary, the restrictions generally require the revenues to be used first for debt service, reasonable return on the investment for private parties, and the operations and maintenance of the facility. In addition, if the facility is being adequately maintained, any revenues in excess of these uses may be used for other title 23 U.S.C. eligible purposes. The FHWA, the State Department of Transportation, and the relevant toll authority or local governmental entity, if any, will execute the toll agreement, and in the case of the VPP, also a ''cooperative agreement'' that defines the scope of work that will be funded.

Summary of the Two-Step Review Process

The entire review process, resulting in the execution of a toll agreement and/or a cooperative agreement, can be summarized in two steps as follows:

Step #1: Submit an Expression of Interest to the Tolling and Pricing Team. The Tolling and Pricing Team will review the Expression of Interest, advise the applicant as to which program or programs are candidate to their project, and provide counsel as to which of those is most appropriate to pursue. The applicant will be directed to contact the selected program office, wherein, the program office will then inform the public authority as to the procedures required for submitting a formal application for tolling authority and/or value pricing funding.

Step #2: Submit a formal application for tolling or pricing authority or value pricing funding to the FHWA program office for formal review, ultimately leading to a decision on approval. The public authority will then be notified of the decision. If the project is approved, a formal tolling agreement (and in the case of the VPP program, also a cooperative agreement) will then be prepared.

The Value Pricing Pilot Program Application

As stated under the DATES section in this notice, in order to be assured of the maximum amount of constructive assistance from FHWA in preparing a formal application, Expressions of Interest for tolling and pricing projects seeking VPP program funding must be submitted two months prior to the application deadline that applies to the fiscal year for which funds are being sought. Once the Tolling and Pricing Team provides feedback on the Expression of Interest submittal, and once the public authority has confirmed its course of action is to pursue VPP program approval, the formal application should be submitted directly through the State Department of Transportation to the appropriate FHWA Division Administrator, with a copy sent concurrently to Mr. Patrick DeCorla-Souza, FHWA's Highway Pricing and System Analysis Team Leader, c/o the Office of Policy and Governmental Affairs, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, DC 20590, or via e-mail at mailto:patrick.decorla-souza@fhwa.dot.gov.

Formal VPP program applications (i.e., step #2) will be reviewed by a Federal Interagency Review Group,[1] which provides support to the FHWA in evaluating program applications (see the ''VPP Program Application Review Process'' section below). Ideally, the refined formal application will include:

1. A description of the congestion problem being addressed (current and projected);

2. A description of the proposed pricing program and its goals, including description of facilities included, and, for implementation projects, expected pricing schedules, technology to be used, enforcement programs, and operating details;

3. Preliminary estimates of the social and economic effects of the pricing program, including potential equity impacts, and a plan or methodology for further refining these estimates for all

[1] The Federal Interagency Review Group was established to assist the FHWA in assessing the likelihood that proposed local value pricing programs will provide valid and useful tests of value pricing concepts. The Review Group is composed of representatives of the Tolling and Pricing Team, along with representatives of the Federal Transit Administration, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, and the U.S. Department of Energy.

pricing project(s) included in the program;

4. The role of alternative transportation modes in the project, and anticipated enhancements proposed to be included in the pricing program;

5. A time line for the pre-implementation study and implementation phases of the project (applications indicating early implementation of pricing projects that will allow evaluation during the life of SAFETEA–LU will receive priority);

6. A description of tasks to be carried out as part of each phase of the project, and an estimate of costs associated with each;

7. Plans for monitoring and evaluating value pricing implementation projects, including plans for data collection and analysis, before and after assessment, and long term monitoring and documenting of project effects;

8. A detailed finance and revenue plan, including (for implementation projects) a budget for capital and operating costs; a description of all funding sources, planned expenditures, proposed uses of revenues, and a plan for projects to become financially self-sustaining (without Federal support) within three years of implementation.

9. Plans for involving key affected parties, coalition building, media relations, and related matters, including either demonstration of previous public involvement in the development of the proposed pricing program or plans to ensure adequate public involvement prior to implementation;

10. Plans for meeting all Federal, State and local legal and administrative requirements for project implementation, including relevant Federal-aid planning and environmental requirements. Priority will be given to applications where projects are included as a part of (or are consistent with) a broad program addressing congestion, mobility, air quality and energy conservation, where an area has congestion management systems (CMS) for Transportation Management Areas (urbanized areas with over 200,000 population or those designated by the Secretary).

11. An explanation about how ETC project components will be compatible with other ETC systems in the region.

If some of these items are not available or fully developed at the time the formal application is submitted, applications will still be considered for support if they meet some of the priority interests of the FHWA, and related project characteristics, as described earlier in the section entitled ''Potential Project Types,'' and if there is a strong indication that these items will be completed within a short time.

VPP Program Application Review Process

A. Requests for Funding

After completion of an Expression of Interest, and upon subsequent receipt of the formal, refined application, the FHWA's Office of Policy and Governmental Affairs will engage the Federal Interagency Review Group and proceed with final evaluation.

To ensure that all projects receive equal and fair consideration for the limited available funds, the FHWA requires formal grant applications to be submitted no later than March 31, 2006, for FY 2006 funds, October 1, 2006, for FY 2007 funds, and each subsequent October 1 for funding through and including FY 2009. To be assured of the maximum amount of constructive assistance from FHWA in preparing a formal application, Expressions of Interest must be submitted by January 31, 2006, for FY 2006 funds, August 1, 2006, for FY2007 funds, and each subsequent August 1 thereafter. This timeline will allow for a fair comparison among formal applications received and will also allow the FHWA to make timely recommendations to the Secretary with regard to allocation of available funds in accordance with the criteria discussed in this notice. Based on the recommendations of the Federal Interagency Review Group, the U.S. DOT will identify those VPP program applications that have the greatest potential for promoting the objectives of the VPP program, including demonstrating the effects of value pricing on congestion, driver behavior, traffic volume, ridesharing, transit ridership, air quality, and availability of funds for transportation programs. The Secretary will make selections of applications based on the recommendations of the Federal Interagency Review Group and criteria contained in this notice.

B. Projects for Which No Funds Are Requested

Although most projects under the VPP program involve requests for value pricing funds, some projects do not. In such cases, and especially where a State is not already part of the VPP program, the FHWA recommends that the public authority investigate the other opportunities to gain authority to toll that are listed in the companion notice in today's Federal Register, entitled ''Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA–LU); Opportunities for State and Other Qualifying Agencies to Gain Authority to Toll Facilities Constructed Using Federal Funds.''

Cooperative Agreement

The VPP program candidates approved for funding will be invited to enter into negotiations with the FHWA to develop a cooperative agreement under which the scope of work for the value pricing project will be defined. Federal statutes will govern the cooperative agreement. Regulations cited in the agreement, and 49 CFR part 18, Uniform Administrative Requirements for Grants and Cooperative Agreements to State and Local Governments, will also govern as they relate to the acceptance and use of Federal funds for this program. As a practical matter, each VPP program project should have a separate cooperative agreement. Although, in the past, the FHWA has allowed some States to have a master cooperative agreement that is subsequently amended for each approved project, in the future the FHWA will execute a separate agreement for each project. For value pricing projects that do not involve requests for Federal funds, a cooperative agreement must still be executed. The FHWA Division Administrator will sign the cooperative agreement on behalf of FHWA.

Other Requirements

Prior to the FHWA approval of pricing project implementation, value-pricing programs must be shown to be consistent with Federal metropolitan and statewide planning requirements (23 U.S.C. 135 (c)(1), (e)(2)(B), (f)(1)(B)(ii)(I) and (II), (f)(3)(A) and (B); 49 U.S.C. 5323(1)).

Implementation projects involving tolls outside metropolitan areas must be included in the approved statewide transportation improvement program and be selected in accordance with the requirements set forth in section 1204(f)(3) of the TEA–21.

Implementation projects involving tolls in metropolitan areas must be: (a) Included in, or consistent with, the approved metropolitan transportation plan (if the area is in nonattainment for a transportation related pollutant, the metropolitan plan must be in conformance with the State air quality implementation plan); (b) included in the approved metropolitan and statewide transportation improvement programs (if the metropolitan area is in a nonattainment area for a transportation related pollutant, the metropolitan transportation improvement program must be in conformance with the State air quality implementation plan); (c) selected in accordance with the requirements in Section 1203(h)(5) or (i)(2) of TEA–21; and (d) consistent with any existing congestion management system in Transportation Management areas, developed pursuant to 23 U.S.C. 134(i)(3).

Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration

Pipeline Safety: Reconsideration of Natural Gas Pipeline Maximum Allowable Operating Pressure for Class Locations

AGENCY: Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration, DOT.

ACTION: Notice of meeting; call for papers.

SUMMARY: On March 21, 2006, the Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA) will hold a public meeting to discuss raising the allowable operating pressure on certain natural gas transmission pipelines. Pipelines are the energy highways of the Nation that provide the most efficient means to transport vast volumes of natural gas on which we depend. Raising the maximum allowable operating pressures (MAOP) for natural gas pipelines would allow more gas to flow through these pipelines. This notice is designed to announce a public meeting and to invite papers on relevant technical subjects.

Over the past 20 years, there has been a drastic improvement in technology pertaining to materials, metallurgy, controls, operations, and maintenance of the pipeline network. Based on these and other advances, PHMSA believes that certain pipelines in certain locations could be safely and reliably operated above the operating pressure established in current Federal pipeline safety regulation.

There are three categories of pipelines that could realize an immediate benefit from such an increase in the MAOP: the proposed Alaska Natural Gas Transmission System; new natural gas pipelines that are being certificated by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission; and pipelines constructed since 1980 with line pipe of known metallurgical and mechanical properties.

This meeting provides the pipeline industry, Federal and State regulators, and interested members of the public an opportunity to share their knowledge and experience about the impact of increasing the MAOP to increase pipeline efficiency. Individuals that would like to make presentations should notify the individual listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT by February 7, 2006, and submit papers at this meeting.

ADDRESSES: The March 21, 2006, meeting will be held at the Hyatt Regency Reston Hotel, 1800 Presidents Street, Reston, VA 20190. The telephone number for reservations at the Hyatt Regency Reston Hotel is (703) 709–1234. The hotel will post the particular meeting room the day of the meeting.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Joy Kadnar, Director, Engineering and Emergency Support at (202) 366–4595 or joy.kadnar@dot.gov about the subject matter in this notice.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Introduction

Pipeline operators continually explore ways to reduce the cost of new pipelines, or increase the efficiency of existing pipelines, without affecting reliability and safety. One way to achieve cost reductions is to use high-grade line pipe and employ new welding methods. Another method to increase cost-effectiveness and to make the pipeline more efficient is to operate pipelines at higher stress levels.

International pipeline regulations generally limit design stresses to 72% specified minimum yield strength (SMYS). Under highly selective conditions, some pipelines in the United States and Canada operate at hoop stresses up to 80% SMYS. Notwithstanding, the current United States Code of Federal Pipeline Safety Regulations (CFR) (49 CFR part 192) limits the stress to 72% SMYS for Class 1 locations, while Canada limits it to 80%. There are a lot of other countries considering operating at higher levels. Therefore, PHMSA believes it is appropriate to explore the reliability and integrity implications of operating pipelines at stress levels above 72%

SMYS, but not to exceed 80% SMYS for Class 1 locations.

The benefits of an increase in MAOP for natural gas pipelines are tremendous, mainly because of the increase in capacity and fuel efficiency. For new pipelines operated at a higher MAOP, operators might realize an initial cost savings, primarily in materials. A capacity increase in existing pipelines will have an auxiliary benefit by avoiding the construction of new pipelines or costly modifications that have the potential to damage the environment. Historical problems associated with seam failures are non-existent with new materials. Most new pipelines have been configured to accept inline inspection tools to monitor the pipeline's condition. Pipeline operators have improved their ability to manage internal corrosion. By allowing pipeline companies to safely increase the MAOP of existing pipelines that meet certain criteria, they could avoid new construction that can impact the environment.

Research by the Pipeline Research Council International concluded that pipeline operations can be safe and reliable at stress levels of up to 80% SMYS if the pipeline has well-established metallurgical properties and can be managed to protect it against known threats, such as corrosion and mechanical damage. Additionally, independent studies demonstrate the benefits of risk and reliability-based principles that strengthen safety.

Background

The class location regulations require that pipelines routed through areas with higher local population density operate at lower pressures. This is intended to provide an extra safety margin in those areas.

The gas transmission integrity management program addresses protections in high consequence areas. The cost-benefit analysis included in the final rule noted that a significant benefit to implementing integrity management is reduced cost to the pipeline industry for ensuring safety in populated areas along pipelines. Improved knowledge of pipeline integrity provides a technical basis for considering alternatives to regulation, for example whether to replace pipe or to reduce operating stresses in pipelines when population near them increases, (i.e., when the class location increases to either Class 2 from Class 1 or to Class 3 from Class 2). A class location change results from new construction near a pipeline segment and unless a waiver is granted triggers a requirement that the MAOP be confirmed or revised.

On June 24, 2004, PHMSA issued criteria for granting class location waivers based on integrity management principles. The criteria provide information and guidance to pipeline operators concerning the specific pipe design and operating parameters within which PHMSA is likely to consider a class location waiver application to be consistent with pipeline safety. Class location waivers that are granted allow a pipeline operator to perform alternative risk control activities based on the principles and requirements of the integrity management program in lieu of pipe replacement or pressure reduction. These waivers allow operators to continue to operate pipelines at existing hoop stresses although the MAOP is no longer commensurate with the class location requirements.

Specified Minimum Yield Strength

In the early 1950s, the American Standards Association's (ASA) pipeline committee developed ASA Standard B31.8 and the concept of basing design stress on a percentage of the specified minimum yield strength (SMYS). The committee determined that 72% SMYS was an acceptable design factor. Thereafter, PHMSA incorporated this standard by reference into its pipeline regulations. In the late 1980s, ASME International (ASME) revisited the SMYS issue and determined that pipelines could operate safely at up to 80% SMYS. The committee then modified ASME B31.8 to include that provision.

The United States Federal pipeline safety regulations allow a maximum operating pressure of 72% SMYS. The Canadian regulations allow a maximum operating pressure of 80% SMYS. Currently, there are pipelines in the United States that have been ''grandfathered'' to operate at an MAOP above 72% SMYS. PHMSA statistics show that these pipelines have an equivalent safety record when compared with pipelines that operate according to the design factors in the pipeline safety regulations. Further, the pipeline safety regulations already allow pipelines to continue to operate at the original design factor when the class location increases by one Class, providing certain criteria are met. For example, a pipeline in a Class 2 location is allowed to continue operating at 60% of SMYS when it changes to a Class 3.

Preliminary Meeting Agenda

The public meeting will examine policies and technical issues that are central to understanding and improving pipeline safety. While providing opportunities for improved efficiency, the meeting will highlight contributed papers and studies and will provide opportunities to discuss and exchange views.

The agenda for this meeting will include discussion on:

- Existing pipelines operating above 72% SMYS.
- Evolution of the 72% SMYS ceiling.
- Class Location.
- Regulatory Requirements in the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom.
- Engineering and Technical Considerations for 80% SMYS Operation.
- Waiver requests submitted to PHMSA. See DOT Docket Numbers: PHMSA–05–23448, and PHMSA–05–23387.

During the meeting, PHMSA would like participants to discuss their views on the MAOP and any experience they have had operating pipelines beyond 72% SMYS. PHMSA also would like participants to provide information on reliability and how moving beyond 72% SMYS would impact pipeline safety.

Call for Papers

We invite papers to address reasons why PHMSA should or should not provide relief from the class location requirements to pipelines that meet certain stringent operating criteria. PHMSA is interested in engineering and technical considerations. Papers may discuss the impact on public safety, the environment, the economy, and the State pipeline programs. All papers, whether presented at the public meeting or not, will be included in the public docket. PHMSA solicits papers on relevant policy and technical topics in the following areas:

- The impact of operating pipelines at pressures greater than 72% SMYS.
- The impact on pipeline threats at 80% SMYS operation.
- The role of ongoing integrity assessment in managing the safety of pipelines designed to operate at pressures up to 80% SMYS.
- The benefits of 80% SMYS operation on natural gas commodity movements and energy flows.
- A qualitative assessment of the pipeline capacity increase across the grid that could result from such pressure uprating.
- A comparison of failure histories, national and international, of pipelines operating up to 72% SMYS versus those operating above 72% SMYS.
- Regulatory harmonization between the United States and Canada.
- Role of initial hydrostatic testing for initial design integrity validation.

• Review of pipe robustness and resistance to excavation damage.
• Impact on fatigue life of pipelines operating up to 80% SMYS.
• Fracture control design parameters for 80% SMYS operation.
• Evaluation of integrity re-assessment intervals for 80% SMYS operation.
• Optimization of conditioning, monitoring, and mitigation programs for 80% SMYS operation.
• Review of existing compressor station equipment relative to 80% SMYS operation.
• Review of operations and controls for 80% SMYS.
• Emerging approaches for reliability analysis, integrity management, and risk analysis in high stress pipelines.
• Line pipe characteristics and flaws that preclude pipelines from higher operating stresses.

I. Introduction

1. On August 8, 2005, the Energy Policy Act of 2005 (EPAct 2005) [2] was signed into law. Section 1289 (Merger Review Reform) of Title XII, Subtitle G (Market Transparency, Enforcement, and Consumer Protection),[3] of EPAct 2005 amends section 203 of the Federal Power Act (FPA).[4] Amended section 203: (1) Increases (from $50,000 to greater than $10 million) the value threshold for certain transactions being subject to section 203; (2) extends the scope of section 203 to include transactions involving certain transfers of generation facilities and certain holding companies' transactions with a value in excess of $10 million; (3) limits the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's (Commission) review of a public utility's acquisition of securities of another public utility to transactions greater than $10 million; (4) requires that the Commission, when reviewing proposed section 203 transactions, examine cross-subsidization and pledges or encumbrances of utility assets; and (5) directs the Commission to adopt, by rule, procedures for the expeditious consideration of applications for the approval of dispositions, consolidations, or acquisitions under section 203.

2. As discussed below, on October 3, 2005, the Commission issued a notice of proposed rulemaking (NOPR) in which it proposed certain modifications to 18 CFR 2.26 and 18 CFR part 33 to implement amended section 203.[5] Numerous comments were filed by a variety of entities.

3. In this Final Rule, the Commission adopts some of the proposals in the NOPR as well as many of the commenters' recommendations. Specifically, this Final Rule:

(1) Implements the new applicability of amended section 203 of the FPA;

(2) Grants blanket authorizations for certain types of transactions, including foreign utility acquisitions by holding companies, intra-holding company system financing and cash management arrangements, certain internal corporate reorganizations, and certain investments in transmitting utilities and electric utility companies;

(3) Adopts many of the NOPR's proposed defined terms, including ''electric utility company,'' ''holding company,'' and ''non-utility associate company,'' but clarifies the application of these terms to certain entities;

(4) Amends the proposed definition of ''existing generation facility;'

(5) Adopts a simpler rule than was proposed in the NOPR with respect to the determination of ''value'' as it applies to various section 203 transactions;

(6) Clarifies and refines the NOPR's proposal with respect to a section 203 applicant's obligation to file evidentiary support to demonstrate that a proposed transaction will not result in cross-subsidization of a non-utility associate company or pledge or encumbrance of utility assets for the benefit of an associate company; and

(7) Adopts the NOPR's proposal that the Commission provide expeditious consideration of completed applications for the approval of transactions that are not contested, do not involve mergers, and are consistent with Commission precedent.

4. Our goal is to carry out the expanded authorities and requirements contained in the new section 203 amendments to ensure that all jurisdictional transactions subject to section 203 are consistent with the public interest and at the same time ensure that our rules do not impede day-to-day business transactions or stifle timely investment in transmission and generation infrastructure. We believe we have accomplished this result with the rules herein. However, at the technical conference we announced in our final rule implementing the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 2005 (PUHCA 2005),[6] to be held within the next year,[7] we will also address issues raised in this proceeding, including the appropriateness of the blanket authorizations granted herein and whether additional steps are needed to protect against cross-subsidization and pledges or encumbrance of utility assets.

II. Background

A. Commission Merger Policy Before Effective Date of Amended FPA Section 203

5. Section 203 of the FPA[8] currently provides that: No public utility shall sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the whole of its facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, or any part thereof of a value in excess of $50,000, or by any means whatsoever, directly or indirectly, merge or consolidate such facilities or any part thereof with those of any other person, or purchase, acquire, or take any security of any other public utility, without first having secured an order of the Commission authorizing it to do so. The Commission shall approve such transactions if they are ''consistent with the public interest.''

6. In 1996, the Commission issued the Merger Policy Statement[9] updating and clarifying the Commission's procedures, criteria, and policies concerning public utility mergers. The purpose of the Merger Policy Statement was to ensure that mergers are consistent with the public interest and to provide greater certainty and expedition in the Commission's analysis of merger applications.

7. The Merger Policy Statement sets out three factors the Commission generally considers when analyzing whether a proposed section 203 transaction[10] is consistent with the public interest: Effect on competition; effect on rates; and effect on regulation.

8. With respect to the first factor, the effect on competition, the Merger Policy Statement adopts the Department of Justice (DOJ)/Federal Trade Commission (FTC) 1992 Horizontal Merger Guidelines (Guidelines)[11] as the analytical framework for examining horizontal market power concerns. The Merger Policy Statement also uses an analytical screen (Appendix A analysis) to allow early identification of transactions that clearly do not raise competitive concerns.[12] As part of the screen analysis, applicants must define the relevant products sold by the merging entities, identify the customers and potential suppliers in the geographic markets that are likely to be affected by the proposed transaction, and measure the concentration in those markets. Using the Delivered Price Test to identify alternative competing suppliers, the concentration of potential suppliers included in the defined market is then measured by the Herfindahl-Hirschman Index (HHI) and used as a screen to determine which transactions clearly do not raise market power concerns.

9. The Commission stated in the Merger Policy Statement that it will examine the second factor, the effect on rates, by focusing on customer protections designed to insulate consumers from any harm resulting from the transaction.[13]

10. The Merger Policy Statement set forth a third factor for examination, the effect on regulation. This includes both state regulation and the Commission's regulation, including any potential shift in regulation from the Commission to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) due to a transaction creating a registered public utility holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (PUHCA 1935).[14] The Merger Policy Statement explained that, unless applicants commit themselves to abide by this Commission's policies with regard to affiliate transactions involving non-power goods and services, we will set the issue of the effect on regulation for hearing.[15]

Specifically, in the PUHCA Final Rule, the Commission stated that we intend to hold a technical conference no later than one year after PUHCA 2005 becomes effective to evaluate whether additional exemptions, different reporting requirements, or other regulatory actions need to be considered. The Commission's regulations implementing PUHCA 2005 take effect on February 8, 2006.

[8] EPAct 2005's amendments to FPA section 203 take effect on February 8, 2006. We will generally refer to EPAct 2005's amended section 203 of the FPA as ''amended'' or ''new'' section 203. All other references to FPA section 203 are as it exists now.

With respect to a transaction's effect on state regulation, where the state commissions have authority to act on the transaction, the Commission stated that it intends to rely on them to exercise their authority to protect state interests.

11. The Commission later issued the Filing Requirements Rule,[16] a final rule updating the filing requirements under 18 CFR part 33 of the Commission's regulations for section 203 applications. The Filing Requirements Rule implements the Merger Policy Statement and provides detailed guidance to applicants for preparing applications. The revised filing requirements also assist the Commission in determining whether section 203 transactions are consistent with the public interest, provide more certainty, and expedite the Commission's handling of such applications.

12. Further, the Filing Requirements Rule codified the Commission's screening approach, provided specific filing requirements consistent with Appendix A of the Commission's Merger Policy Statement, established guidelines for vertical competitive analysis, and set forth filing requirements for mergers that may raise vertical market power concerns.

13. The Filing Requirements Rule also reduced the information burden for transactions that clearly raise no competitive concerns. The Commission explained that for certain transactions, abbreviated filing requirements are appropriate because it is relatively easy to determine that they will not harm competition and, thus, a full-fledged horizontal screen analysis or vertical competitive analysis is not required.[17]

14. The Commission stated in the Filing Requirements Rule that it intended to continue processing section 203 applications expeditiously, with a goal of issuing an initial order for most mergers within 150 days of a completed application.[18] Further, the Commission stated that it intended to continue processing uncontested non-merger applications within 60 days of filing and protested non-merger applications within 90 days of filing.[19]

B. Section 203 as Amended by EPAct 2005

15. EPAct 2005 revises section 203(a) of the FPA as follows:

16. Amended section 203(a)(1) states that no public utility shall, without first having secured an order of the Commission authorizing it to do so: (A) Sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of the whole of its facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, or any part thereof of a value in excess of $10 million; (B) merge or consolidate, directly or indirectly, such facilities or any part thereof with those of any other person, by any means whatsoever; (C) purchase, acquire, or take any security with a value in excess of $10 million of any other public utility; or (D) purchase, lease, or otherwise acquire an existing generation facility: (i) That has a value in excess of $10 million; and (ii) that is used for interstate wholesale sales and over which the Commission has jurisdiction for ratemaking purposes.

17. Section 203(a)(2) adds the entirely new requirement that no holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility shall purchase, acquire, or take any security with a value in excess of $10 million of, or, by any means whatsoever, directly or indirectly, merge or consolidate with, a transmitting utility, an electric utility company, or a holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility, or an electric utility company, with a value in excess of $10 million without prior Commission authorization.

18. Like the existing section 203(a), amended section 203(a)(3) provides that upon receipt of an application for such approval, the Commission shall give reasonable notice in writing to the Governor and state commission of each of the states in which the physical property affected is situated, and to such other persons as it may deem advisable.

19. Amended section 203(a)(4) states that after notice and opportunity for hearing, the Commission shall approve the proposed disposition, consolidation, acquisition, or change in control if it finds that the transaction will be consistent with the public interest. It also specifically provides that the Commission must find that the transaction will not result in cross-subsidization of a non-utility associate company or pledge or encumbrance of utility assets for the benefit of an associate company, unless that cross-subsidization, pledge, or encumbrance will be consistent with the public interest.

20. Section 203(a)(5) adds the entirely new requirement that the Commission shall: By rule, adopt procedures for the expeditious consideration of applications for the approval of dispositions, consolidations, or acquisitions, under this section. Such rules shall identify classes of transactions, or specify criteria for transactions, that normally meet the standards established in paragraph (4). The Commission shall provide expedited review for such transactions. The Commission shall grant or deny any other application for approval of a transaction not later than 180 days after the application is filed. If the Commission does not act within 180 days, such application shall be deemed granted unless the Commission finds, based on good cause, that further consideration is required to determine whether the proposed transaction meets the standards of paragraph (4) and issues an order tolling the time for acting on the application for not more than 180 days, at the end of which additional period the Commission shall grant or deny the application.

21. Section 203(a)(6), which is also new, provides that for purposes of this subsection, the terms ''associate company,'' ''holding company,'' and ''holding company system'' have the meaning given those terms in PUHCA 2005.

22. Section 1289(b) provides that the amendments made by this section shall take effect six months after the date of enactment of EPAct 2005, or February 8, 2006. This is the same date on which the repeal of PUHCA 1935 and enactment of the PUHCA 2005, are to take effect.[20]

23. Section 1289(c) provides that the amendments made by subsection (a) shall not apply to any section 203 application that was filed on or before the date of enactment of EPAct 2005.

24. Section 203(b) of the FPA remains unchanged.[21]

C. Notice of Proposed Rulemaking on Transactions Subject to FPA Section 203

The Commission may from time to time for good cause shown make such orders supplemental to any order made under this section as it may find necessary or appropriate.

NOPR the Commission proposed to revise 18 CFR part 33 and 18 CFR 2.26 of its rules to implement amended section 203 of the FPA. Comments were due on or before November 7, 2005.[23]

26. This Final Rule will be effective on the date on which amended section 203 of the FPA takes effect, February 8, 2006.

III. Discussion

A. Amendments to 18 CFR Part 33

27. In the NOPR, the Commission proposed to amend 18 CFR part 33 by: Revising the title to read ''Applications Under Federal Power Act Section 203;'' amending section 33.1(a) to clarify what transactions are subject to amended section 203 and part 33 as a result of amended sections 203(a)(1)(A)–(D) and (a)(2) of the FPA; adding a new subsection 33.1(b) that defines certain new terms used in amended section 203 that are not defined in EPAct 2005; adding a new subsection 33.2(j) to implement amended section 203(a)(4) regarding cross-subsidization and pledge or encumbrance issues; and adding new sections 33.11(a) and (b) to implement amended section 203(a)(5) regarding the Commission's procedures for the consideration of applications under section 203 of the FPA.

1. Section 33.1(a)—Applicability

28. Proposed section 33.1(a) clarifies what transactions are subject to amended section 203 and part 33 as a result of amended sections 203(a)(1)(A)–(D) and (a)(2) of the FPA.[24]

a. Comments

29. Several commenters raise concerns, described in more detail below, regarding the applicability of amended section 203 to transactions involving foreign utility companies (FUCOs), qualifying facilities (QFs), exempt wholesale generators (EWGs),[25] rural electric cooperatives, local distribution companies, stand-alone generation and retail sales, as well as intrastate transactions, i.e., transactions wholly within the Electric Reliability Council of Texas (ERCOT), Alaska, or Hawaii. They generally argue that Congress did not intend to expand significantly the Commission's jurisdiction under amended section 203 and, therefore, did not convey to the Commission jurisdiction over these types of transactions. Commenters also express concern over any potential overlap between the Commission's scope of review under amended section 203 and the scope of review by state commissions. They state that the Commission should not use its new section 203 authority to preempt state regulatory authority over rates and approvals of utility mergers and acquisitions.

30. Electric Power Supply Association (EPSA) requests that the Commission modify the text of proposed section 33.1(a)(1)(ii) to clarify that any merger or consolidation must exceed the $10 million threshold before section 203 filing approval is required. It states that the Commission should not alter its past practice of applying the statutory dollar threshold to all types of transactions requiring section 203 approval, including mergers and acquisitions. EPSA explains that the mergers and acquisitions clause of the currently effective section 203 and section 203 as amended by EPAct 2005 are substantially the same and do not specify a value amount. EPSA points out, however, that although the currently effective statutory language, like the newly enacted EPAct 2005 language, did not codify the monetary threshold with respect to mergers and consolidations, for decades the Commission's regulations (section 33.1(a)(2)) have required section 203 applications for mergers, consolidations and acquisitions only if they meet the $50,000 threshold (which on February 8, 2006 will become $10 million). EPSA states that the NOPR provides no reason for the Commission to change its interpretation of section 203.

b. Commission Determination

31. Most of the concerns regarding the applicability of amended section 203 involve new section 203(a)(2) and the Commission's proposed definitions of ''electric utility company'' and ''holding company.'' Accordingly, these comments are discussed in greater detail in those sections below. Similarly, concerns regarding any potential overlap between the scope of review of the Commission under amended section 203 and that of state commissions are also discussed with the proposed definition of ''electric utility company,'' below.

32. We reject EPSA's request that we revise proposed section 33.1(a)(1)(ii) to clarify that any merger or consolidation must also exceed a monetary threshold before section 203 filing approval is required. The plain language of amended section 203(a)(1)(B) does not permit such an interpretation. Under amended section 203(a)(1)(B): ''No public utility shall * * * merge or consolidate, directly or indirectly, such facilities [facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission] or any part thereof with those of any other person, by any means whatsoever.'' This provision, on its face, does not impose a dollar threshold on mergers or consolidations and proposed section 33.1(a)(1)(ii) is consistent with the statutory provision. While Congress included a $10 million threshold for amended subsections 203(a)(1)(A), (C), (D), and 203(a)(2) (dispositions of jurisdictional facilities; acquisitions of securities of public utilities; purchases of existing generation facilities; holding company acquisitions), Congress clearly did not adopt a monetary threshold for mergers and consolidations in amended subsection 203(a)(1)(B). We note that ''[w]here Congress includes particular language in one section of a statute but omits it in another section of the same Act, it is generally presumed that Congress acts intentionally and purposely in the disparate inclusion or exclusion.'' [26] In light of the unambiguous statutory language, we are not convinced by EPSA's unsupported assertion that the failure to include a monetary threshold as to mergers and consolidations was an ''oversight'' and that ''Congress did not intend to change [the currently effective] statutory and regulatory structure.'' [27] While our regulations previously applied a dollar threshold to mergers and consolidations, such an approach is no longer tenable, since it is inconsistent with the plain language of amended section 203. Thus, we will not revise section 33.1(a)(1)(ii) to include a $10 million threshold.

2. Section 33.1(b)—Definitions of ''Associate Company,'' ''Holding Company,'' ''Holding Company System,'' ''Transmitting Utility,'' and ''Electric Utility Company''

33. As noted above, section 203(a)(2) adds an entirely new requirement to the FPA:

> No holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility shall purchase, acquire, or take any security with a value in excess of $10 million of, or, by any means whatsoever, directly or indirectly, merge or consolidate with, a transmitting utility, an electric utility company, or a holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility, or an electric utility company, with a value in excess of $10 million without first

[23] The commenters are listed in an appendix to this order.

[24] Because proposed section 33.1(a) is almost identical, with minor exceptions, to amended sections 203(a)(1)(A)–(D) and (a)(2), which are summarized in section II.B. above and set forth in the regulatory text, we will not recite that text here.

a. Definition of ''Electric Utility Company''

34. The scope of amended section 203(a)(2) turns in large part on the Commission's interpretation of the term ''electric utility company'' which, in turn, affects whether an entity is a holding company subject to section 203(a)(2). The FPA does not include a definition of ''electric utility company'' and the Commission proposed that the term, as used in amended section 203(a)(2), have the same meaning as in PUHCA 2005, which is ''any company that owns or operates facilities used for the generation, transmission, or distribution of electric energy for sale.'' [28]

i. Comments

35. The proposed definition of ''electric utility company'' was one of the most commented-on issues in the NOPR. While certain commenters, including the American Public Power Association and the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (APPA/NRECA), Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (Indiana Commission), and Southern Company Services, Inc. (Southern Companies), support the Commission's adoption of the PUHCA 2005 definition of ''electric utility company,'' several commenters expressed concerns about the scope of the Commission's jurisdiction under the proposed definition. Specifically, they object to the proposed definition of the term ''electric utility company'' or seek clarification as to what types of entities are considered ''electric utility companies,'' for purposes of amended section 203(a)(2), to determine whether or not they must seek section 203 approval.

36. Many commenters argue that Congress did not intend to give the Commission jurisdiction over acquisitions of foreign companies.[29] Certain commenters assert that if Congress had intended the PUHCA 2005 definition to apply to ''electric utility company'' as used in amended section 203(a)(2), it would have said so as it did for the other terms listed in amended section 203(a)(6). They explain that, while the term ''electric utility'' is used once in amended section 203(a)(2) and ''electric utility company'' is used twice, the terms should be read similarly and should not affect the interpretation of the section. Accordingly, commenters assert that it is reasonable to read the term ''electric utility company,'' not as used in PUHCA 2005, where the term includes foreign utility companies, but rather to have the same meaning as ''electric utility,'' which is defined in the FPA as ''a person or Federal or State agency * * * that sells electric energy.'' [30] They argue that the use of the term ''electric utility'' in the FPA and in the Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act of 1978 (PURPA) [31] makes clear that ''electric utilities'' are domestic entities (i.e., ones selling electricity in the U.S.), not foreign.[32]

37. Similarly, EEI, Entergy, E.ON, PNM, and Progress Energy maintain that, in order to be consistent with the Commission's FPA jurisdiction, the Commission should define an ''electric utility company'' as ''a person that sells electric energy in interstate commerce.'' Suez states that, based on an analysis of and the legislative purpose behind EPAct 2005, the Commission should exempt the acquisition of foreign utility assets by jurisdictional holding companies without captive customers by adding the word ''jurisdictional'' before ''transmitting utility'' and ''electric utility company'' at the end of proposed section 33.1(a)(2).

38. Other commenters add that the Commission did not have jurisdiction over foreign acquisitions before EPAct 2005 and that nothing in EPAct 2005 explicitly gives the Commission jurisdiction over foreign acquisitions. Commenters assert that Commission jurisdiction over foreign acquisitions is contrary to Congressional intent and poor public policy, because Commission review will become an impediment to U.S. investment in foreign entities and may discourage international investment in the U.S. utility industry.[33] They assert that the Commission should not review the numerous and/or routine foreign transactions that are not connected to the Commission's role of overseeing U.S. wholesale electric markets and the public interest. Certain commenters maintain that, at minimum, the Commission should exempt from review a holding company's acquisition of a FUCO where the holding company has no captive U.S. ratepayers.

39. Several commenters argue that if the PUHCA 2005 definition of ''electric utility company'' is adopted in the Final Rule, the definition should incorporate the exemptions to that definition set forth in the PUHCA 2005, including the exemption for FUCOs.[34]

40. As indicated above, commenters argue that part II of the FPA applies to interstate commerce; therefore, section 203 should not be read to extend to transactions that are not in interstate commerce.[35] Several commenters object to the proposed definition of ''electric utility company'' if it includes transactions typically reserved for state commission consideration (including transactions involving local distribution companies, stand-alone generation, retail sales and exclusively intrastate transactions), which the commenters maintain are beyond the Commission's jurisdiction.[36]

41. Specifically, Chairman Barton maintains that Congress did not intend to give the Commission jurisdiction over mergers in ERCOT. EEI, as supported by E.ON, PNM, and Progress Energy, maintains that its alternative definition for ''electric utility company,'' which is ''a person that sells electric energy in interstate commerce,'' would properly exclude local distribution companies from the Commission's authority under amended section 203.

42. Further, many commenters are concerned that the proposed definition of ''electric utility company'' applies to QFs.[37] ACC, EPSA, GE EFS, and Independent Sellers ask that the Commission clarify that QFs continue to be exempt from the Commission's section 203 authority. ACC asks the Commission to exclude QFs that are not affiliated with traditional utilities, transmission providers, or other non-QF power producers in order to ensure that the parent companies of such QFs are not subject to amended section 203.

43. Similarly, EPSA, GE EFS, and Independent Sellers request that we exclude a QF's upstream owners from Commission oversight under amended 203. They state that section 210(e) of PURPA [38] supports this finding. Independent Sellers also maintain that Congressional testimony suggests that amended 203(a)(2) should regulate only transactions of holding companies with public utilities in their holding company systems.[39]

44. Several commenters, including GE EFS and Morgan Stanley Capital Group Inc. (Morgan Stanley), express concern about whether the proposed definition of ''electric utility company'' includes EWGs. Morgan Stanley agrees with the use of the PUHCA 2005 definition of ''electric utility company,'' stating that applying the same definition in both statutes accords with traditional principles of statutory construction. However, it asks the Commission to construe that definition consistent with the exemptions set forth in PUHCA 2005; this would exempt EWGs.

45. APPA/NRECA seek clarification that ''a State, any political subdivision of a State, or any agency, authority or instrumentality of a State or political subdivision of a State'' is not an ''electric utility company'' under amended section 203(a)(2).

46. Finally, the Energy Program of Public Citizen, Inc. (Public Citizen) asks the Commission to interpret its jurisdiction under amended FPA section 203 more extensively. It argues that certain ''suspect'' categories of utility owners are not addressed in the NOPR or in current merger policy. These include investment banks, electric equipment suppliers, natural gas system owners, oil companies, and construction and other ''service'' companies. Public Citizen also states that the Commission must formulate a policy as to how it will protect American ratepayers if foreign holding companies are allowed to acquire, or continue to own, U.S. public utilities. Public Citizen criticizes the SEC's practice of allowing foreign holding companies to declare their own domestic utilities to be FUCOs under section 33 of PUHCA 1935, even though Congress did not intend to provide for this.[40] Public Citizen asks for greater protections for domestic ratepayers given the absence of a requirement for ''registration for foreign holding companies and comprehensive PUHCA 1935 regulation of their financial transaction with their U.S. public utilities.'' [41] It also states that the Commission should require a strong showing that acquisition by a foreign company without any experience in owning utilities is consistent with the public interest.

ii. Commission Determination

47. A number of commenters make various arguments to support the contention that the term ''electric utility company,'' as used in amended section 203(a)(2), should not have the same meaning contained in PUHCA 2005. As discussed in greater detail below, we have carefully considered this issue and will retain the NOPR's proposed definition of the term. Additionally, we continue to believe that the most reasonable interpretation of section 203(a)(2) is that it applies to purchases or acquisitions of foreign utility companies. However, consistent with Congressional intent, we do not want to impede foreign investments and we will grant blanket authorizations of foreign utility company acquisitions subject to certain conditions to protect U.S. captive customers. We also offer further clarifications below regarding the application of the definition of ''electric utility company'' in specific circumstances and provide blanket authorizations for certain transactions.

48. As noted above, new section 203(a)(2) provides:

> No holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility shall purchase, acquire, or take any security with a value in excess of $10,000,000 of, or, by any means whatsoever, directly or indirectly, merger or consolidate with, a transmitting utility, an electric utility company, or a holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility, or an electric utility company, with a value in excess of $10,000,000 * * *.[42]

Canons of statutory construction require that effect be given to every term used in a statute.[43] In new section 203(a)(2), Congress uses the term ''electric utility'' (already defined in the FPA) one time, and the term ''electric utility company'' (undefined in the FPA, but defined in both PUHCA 1935 and PUHCA 2005) two times in the same sentence. We cannot ignore the fact that Congress used two different terms within the same sentence. Had Congress intended ''electric utility'' to be used in three places instead of one, it would have done so.

49. However, the precise meaning of the term ''electric utility company'' is not clear. It is not a defined term in the FPA. Amended section 203(a)(6) provides that certain other terms used in amended section 203 (''associate company,'' ''holding company,'' and ''holding company system'') are to have the same meanings given those terms in PUHCA 2005, but does not address ''electric utility company.'' Thus there is Congressional silence as to the meaning of the term. We are therefore left to apply a reasonable meaning to the term in light of the simultaneous amendments to FPA section 203 and enactment of PUHCA 2005.

50. One of the arguments commenters raise in seeking an alternative definition of ''electric utility company,'' is that ''nothing compels'' the Commission to use the PUHCA 2005 definition of the term.[44] We agree that such a result is not ''compelled,'' because the term is ambiguous. However, in determining what Congress might have meant by ''electric utility company,'' the only reference points the Commission has in the context of federal electric utility regulatory terminology is the meaning of the term as used in PUHCA 1935 and in PUHCA 2005.[45] Further, while certain commenters maintain that Congress intended to use the term ''electric utility'' instead of ''electric utility company'' in section 203(a)(2), there is no reliable legislative history to support this conclusion and, moreover, we do not believe that proper statutory construction permits us to simply substitute a term that Congress did not use.[46] Additionally, as discussed below, substitution of the FPA term ''electric utility'' would not by itself resolve the issue as sought by commenters.

51. We conclude that the most reasonable interpretation of ''electric utility company,'' as used in section 203(a)(2) of the FPA, particularly in light of the fact that section 203(a)(2) will become effective simultaneous with the repeal of PUHCA 1935 and enactment of PUHCA 2005, is the meaning in PUHCA 2005: ''any company that owns or operates facilities used for the generation, transmission, or distribution of electric energy for sale.'' We also find that it is reasonable to Singer 6th Ed. 2000 Revision) (a statute must be construed so that no part will be void or insignificant).

[45] While both the FPA and PURPA contain definitions of ''electric utility,'' neither contains a definition of ''electric utility company.''

[46] See, e.g., Indiana Michigan Power Co. v. Dept. of Energy, 88 F.3d 1272, 1276 (DC Cir. 1996) (vacating an agency's decision where the agency's ''treatment of [a] statute is not an interpretation but a rewrite''); United States v. Plaza Health Laboratories, Inc., 3 F.3d 643, 655 (2nd Cir. 1993), *cert. denied sub nom. interpret section 203(a)(2) as applying to foreign utility acquisitions, in light of the legitimate concern that there be federal oversight to ensure that U.S. captive customers do not cross-subsidize foreign transactions and that U.S. utility assets used to serve captive customers are not encumbered in order to support foreign acquisitions. The legislative history relevant to new section 203(a)(2) evidences this concern.[47] However, the legislative history also makes clear that the provision was not intended to impede foreign investments, particularly where there are no U.S. captive customers that could be affected. Accordingly, we will interpret ''electric utility company'' to include foreign utility companies, but, as discussed infra, we will grant blanket authorizations for certain foreign acquisitions, with conditions to protect U.S. customers.

52. We reject commenters' specific alternatives to the proposed definition of ''electric utility company.'' We do not believe that those proposed alternative definitions properly resolve the issue as to whether amended section 203(a)(2) applies to acquisitions of foreign utility companies. As noted above, the term ''electric utility company'' is defined in PUHCA 2005 as ''any company that owns or operates facilities used for the generation, transmission, or distribution of electric energy for sale.'' [48] In contrast, ''electric utility'' (which some commenters would have us substitute) is defined in the FPA, as modified by EPAct 2005, as ''a person or Federal or State agency * * * that sells electric energy.'' [49] Neither of these terms, on its face, is limited to domestic transactions or even to interstate transactions. ''Electric utility,'' as defined in the FPA, both pre- and post-EPAct 2005, means persons that sell electric energy. Thus, we reject the argument that the Commission should insert the term ''electric utility'' into section 203(a)(2) and then re-define it to mean persons that sell electric energy ''in interstate commerce.'' Not only has the modifier in ''interstate commerce'' not been included in the FPA definition of ''electric utility'' either pre- or post-EPAct 2005, but these commenters would require us to write into the statute words that are not there.[50]

53. We also reject the alternative, proposed by Suez, by which the Commission would exclude foreign acquisitions by jurisdictional holding companies without captive customers by adding the word ''jurisdictional'' before ''transmitting utility'' and ''electric utility company'' at the end of proposed section 33.1(a)(2) (which reflects new section 203(a)(2)). Congress in other provisions of the FPA, including section 203, has specifically limited certain authorizations to jurisdictional facilities, but chose not to do so in section 203(a)(2). We do not believe it is appropriate to insert into the statute modifiers that Congress did not include.

54. A number of commenters raised concerns about the definition of ''electric utility company'' and the applicability of the Commission's authority under amended section 203 to transactions wholly within ERCOT, Alaska, or Hawaii, transactions involving QFs, local distribution companies, stand-alone generation, retail sales and other intrastate transactions. Several of these commenters rely on the argument, as stated above, that Congress did not intend to expand significantly the Commission's jurisdiction and, therefore, did not convey to the Commission jurisdiction over transactions typically reserved for state commission consideration. Others argue for exemptions from the definition of ''electric utility company.''

55. While we do not believe it is reasonable to interpret section 203(a)(2) as being limited solely to holding company acquisitions and mergers involving wholesale sales or transmission in interstate commerce, we nevertheless conclude that commenters have raised valid concerns and that there would be no benefit from the Commission's case-by-case evaluation of certain transactions under section 203(a)(2).[51]

56. Our core jurisdiction under part II of the FPA continues to be transmission and sales for resale of electric energy in interstate commerce and we believe that a major impetus behind section 203(a)(2) was to clarify the Commission's jurisdiction over mergers of holding companies that own public utilities as defined in the FPA.[52] However, the fact is that the language in section 203(a)(2) does more than address this issue, and we must implement the provision in a way that recognizes the expansion of authority, yet retains our primary focus on interstate wholesale energy markets and does not interfere unduly with historical state jurisdiction. Accordingly, we conclude that it is consistent with the public interest to grant blanket authorizations in the Final Rule for the following:

(1) Section 203(a)(2) purchases or acquisitions by holding companies of companies that own, operate, or control facilities used solely for transmission or sales of electric energy in intrastate commerce; and

(2) Section 203(a)(2) purchases or acquisitions by holding companies of facilities used solely for local distribution and/or sales at retail regulated by a state commission.

57. We conclude that these blanket authorizations are consistent with the public interest for several reasons. First, the identified categories do not raise concerns with respect to competitive wholesale markets for sales in interstate commerce or protection of wholesale captive customers served by Commission-regulated public utilities—matters within this Commission's core responsibility and expertise. Second, to the extent these categories raise competitive issues in intrastate commerce, i.e., in ERCOT, Hawaii, and Alaska,[53] those issues are within the [47] The only legislative history on this issue is a colloquy between Senators Bingaman and Domenici, Ranking Member and Chairman, respectively, of the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources. See Senate Floor Statements by Senators Bingaman (D–NM) and Domenici (R–NM), H.R. 6, Energy Policy Act of 2005, 151 Cong. [49] Id. § 1291(b)(22).

[50] In fact, the key FPA provisions in which the term ''electric utility'' is used are sections 210 and 211. Section 210, both pre- and post-EPAct 2005, permits the Commission to order an interconnection with the facilities of persons that sell energy in interstate or intrastate commerce. The current interconnection between ERCOT and the interstate grid was pursuant to a Commission order under sections 210 and 211 of the FPA. See Central Power & Light Co., 17 FERC ¶ 61,078 (1981), order on reh'g, 18 FERC ¶ 61,100 (1982). Although commenters are correct that most of part II of the FPA is limited to interstate commerce, Congress has made specific exceptions in certain FPA provisions, and that includes the definition of ''electric utility.'' Cf. Indiana Michigan Power Co. v. Dept. of Energy, 88 F.3d 1272, 1276 (DC Cir. 1996) (''The [agency's] treatment of this statute is not an interpretation but a rewrite.''); United States v. Plaza Health Laboratories, Inc., 3 F.3d 643, 655 (2nd Cir. 1993) (stating ''neither agencies nor courts should rewrite the statute to be more 'reasonable' * * * than Congress intended''); Newman v. Love, 962 F.2d 1008, 1013 (Fed. Cir. 1992) (rejecting an agency's ''attempt to rewrite'' a statute to contain costs or to avoid what it views as an inappropriate allocation of benefits).

[51] An acquisition or merger involving ''any company that owns or operates facilities used for the generation, transmission, or distribution of electric energy for sale'' is not on its face limited to interstate facilities.

[52] Illinois Power Co., 67 FERC ¶ 61,136 (1994) (noting that the Commission does not have jurisdiction over public holding company mergers or consolidations, but concluding that, ordinarily, when public utility holding companies merge, an indirect merger involving their public utility subsidiaries also takes place, and that Commission approval under section 203 would be required).

[53] Similarly, although not raised by commenters, the blanket authorization would apply to any organized Territory of the United States.

expertise of, and more appropriately addressed by, state commissions. Third, to the extent retail competition and retail ratepayer protection issues are raised by a holding company acquisition of local distribution or other retail facilities, these issues also are within the expertise of, and more appropriately addressed by, state commissions. We will thus grant the identified blanket authorizations and not impose any type of filing requirement with respect to such transactions.

58. In response to the request of APPA/NRECA that we clarify that ''a State, any political subdivision of a State, or any agency, authority or instrumentality of a State or political subdivision of a State'' is not an ''electric utility company'' under amended section 203(a)(2), and therefore, not subject to amended section 203, we clarify that even if a governmental entity were to meet the definitions of ''electric utility company'' or ''holding company,'' section 203(a)(2) would not impose on the governmental entity any filing requirements under section 203. This is discussed in further detail infra. However, if a non-governmental public utility holding company were to seek to acquire a governmental utility (e.g., a municipal utility) that owns interstate transmission facilities or facilities used for wholesale sales in interstate commerce (and thus meets the definitions of ''electric utility company''), and turn it into a private company subsidiary, then section 203(a)(2) should apply to the public utility holding company's acquisition. While no section 203 filing requirement would be imposed on the governmental entity, it would be imposed on the private entity.

59. We reject commenters' request that we explicitly exclude QFs and EWGs from the definition of ''electric utility company.'' Regardless of their status under PUHCA 2005, the exemptions set forth under PUHCA 2005 are not dispositive as to the scope of the Commission's amended FPA section 203 authority. These PUHCA 2005 exemptions are set forth in the context of federal access to books and records and, more importantly, unlike PUHCA 2005, FPA section 203 does not give us any express authority to exempt persons or classes of transactions.[54]

60. Additionally, were the Commission to interpret ''electric utility company'' for purposes of FPA section 203(a)(2) not to include EWGs or QFs, this could preclude review of certain acquisitions of securities of EWGs or QFs even by holding companies whose systems contain traditional public utilities with transmission facilities and/or captive customers. We do not believe that such transactions should be excluded from review under section 203 and conclude that it is reasonable to interpret the statute not to exclude them.[55] We recognize the arguments of some commenters that we should not apply section 203(a)(2) to holding company acquisitions of securities of EWGs and QFs, or at a minimum should not apply it to such acquisitions by holding companies that are holding companies solely by virtue of owning or controlling one or more EWGs, FUCOs, or QFs, because it would impede investments in QFs and EWGs or result in unnecessary regulation of upstream owners of QFs and EWGs.[56] In response, we believe the blanket authorizations granted herein for certain holding company acquisitions of non-voting securities and up to 9.9 percent of voting securities in electric utility companies will adequately address the concerns raised. To the extent additional blanket authorizations are needed or appropriate, we will consider those on a case-by-case basis.

61. Public Citizen makes broad comments on the scope of the Commission's jurisdiction and the standards articulated in the Commission's existing merger policy. We reject the request that we treat various types of utility owners or transactions as ''suspect.'' As discussed below, the Commission is adopting the definition of ''holding company'' as required by amended section 203(a)(6), and is adopting a definition of ''electric utility company'' that is reasonable, in light of the statutory construction of amended section 203 and Congressional silence. We note that several of the scenarios discussed by Public Citizen in its comments fall under the Commission's amended section 203 authority, as clarified herein. As with all such transactions under its review, the Commission will carefully examine the proposed transaction to ensure it is consistent with the public interest. Moreover, Public Citizen will have an opportunity to present its concerns in these specific cases.

b. Definitions of ''Associate Company,'' ''Holding Company,'' ''Holding Company System,'' and ''Transmitting Utility''

62. In the NOPR, the Commission explained that the term ''transmitting utility'' is already defined in amended section 3 of the FPA[57] as ''an entity (including an entity described in section 201(f)) that owns, operates, or controls facilities used for the transmission of electric energy—(A) in interstate commerce; (B) for the sale of electric energy at wholesale.''[58]

63. The Commission also proposed that, consistent with amended section 203(a)(6), the terms ''associate company,'' ''holding company,'' and ''holding company system'' shall have the meaning given those terms in PUHCA 2005.[59]

i. Comments

64. No comments were filed specifically in response to these proposed definitions of ''transmitting utility,'' ''associate company,'' or ''holding company system.'' However, several commenters object to the proposed definition of ''holding company'' or seek exemption from that definition for purposes of amended section 203(a)(2). They seek to limit the scope of the Commission's definition of ''holding company.''[60] Amended section 203(a)(2) provides explicitly, for the first time, that ''holding companies'' must seek Commission approval prior to certain mergers and acquisitions. Commenters seek clarification as to the types of entities that meet the definition of ''holding company'' to confirm whether or not they will be subject to this new filing requirement.

65. GE EFS asks the Commission to construe the term ''holding company'' to include only companies that own traditional utilities and that would have been deemed to be holding companies under PUHCA 1935. This would exclude companies that are holding companies only by virtue of owning QFs, EWGs, or FUCOs. Industrial [54] While QFs themselves currently are exempt from section 203's filing requirements by virtue of the Commission's PURPA regulations, PURPA does not give us authority to exempt holding companies that own QFs.

[55] We note that a holding company acquisition of securities of an EWG would in some circumstances trigger section 203 review in any event by virtue of section 203(a)(1). This is because the EWG could well be a public utility and, to the extent the holding company acquired ''control'' of the EWG, we would construe the EWG to be ''disposing'' of its jurisdictional facilities and thus required to file for approval under section 203(a). A similar situation involving acquisition of securities of a QF would not trigger section 203 review, since QFs currently are exempted from FPA section 203 filing requirements by the Commission's PURPA regulations.

Consumers also seek to limit the definition of ''holding company,'' asking the Commission to clarify that ''industrials and other entities whose on-site generation investment meets the statutory definition of EWGs' are not included in the definition.[61] Independent Sellers asks the Commission to confirm that a ''holding company,'' for purposes of amended section 203(a), does not include entities owning new electric generation facilities that have not yet begun commercial operation.

66. APPA/NRECA seek clarification that ''a State, any political subdivision of a State, or any agency, authority or instrumentality of a State or political subdivision of a State,'' does not meet the definition of ''holding company.'' [62] It also seeks clarification that rural electric cooperatives are not ''holding companies'' under amended section 203(a)(2).

67. HECO seeks clarification that an entity that meets the definition of holding company for purposes of section 203(a)(2) solely because it is the upstream owner of an electric utility company that is not a public utility under FPA, and that is not otherwise subject to Commission jurisdiction under any other provision of part II of the FPA, will not be subject to the Commission's merger authority. HECO explains that this would exclude from the Commission's jurisdiction under section 203(a)(2) acquisitions of holding companies with subsidiaries located only in Hawaii, Alaska, ERCOT, and foreign countries. HECO contends that Commission oversight of holding company acquisitions in this context is not necessary to protect the public interest.

ii. Commission Determination

68. Because the term ''transmitting utility'' is already defined in amended section 3 of the FPA and amended section 203(a)(6) provides that the terms ''associated company'' and ''holding company system'' shall have the meaning provided in PUHCA 2005, the Final Rule adopts them, as set forth in the NOPR.[63] We also note that no commenters oppose these proposed definitions.

69. The Final Rule also adopts the NOPR's proposed definition of the term ''holding company.'' Amended section 203(a)(6) mandates that the term ''holding company'' shall have the meaning provided in PUHCA 2005. This statutory directive is unambiguous.

70. The Commission therefore rejects requests for clarification that only companies that own traditional utilities, and not those that own solely FUCOs, EWGs and/or QFs, should be deemed ''holding companies'' under amended section 203. ''Holding Company'' in PUHCA 2005, as reflected in the rules adopted herein, means ''any company that directly or indirectly owns, controls, or holds, with the power to vote, 10 percent or more of the outstanding voting securities of a public utility company or of a holding company of any public utility company; * * *'' [64] There is no limitation within the plain words of this definition that can be read to exclude holding companies that own or control EWGs, FUCOs, or QFs. Additionally, even under PUHCA 2005, persons that own or control only EWGs, FUCOs, or QFs are considered holding companies but are explicitly exempted from PUHCA 2005 by section 1266. There is no similar exemption in amended section 203 and we conclude that it is reasonable to interpret section 203(a)(2) review to include acquisitions of generation or transmission facilities or companies by holding companies owning only FUCOs, QFs, and/or EWGs.

71. In response to the clarification sought by HECO, as indicated above, amended section 203(a)(6) mandates the adoption of the PUHCA 2005 definition of ''holding company.'' That definition includes the upstream owners of an electric utility company that is not a public utility under the FPA and that is not otherwise subject to Commission ratemaking jurisdiction under part II of the FPA. As discussed above regarding the definition of ''electric utility company,'' we have concluded that this definition is not limited to interstate commerce. Therefore, holding companies that own ''electric utility companies'' whose businesses are solely intrastate technically fall under amended section 203(a)(2). However, we agree that reviewing transactions involving Hawaii, Alaska, and ERCOT would involve matters outside our expertise and the core focus of part II of the FPA, and therefore we have granted blanket authorizations, as discussed above.

72. As requested by Independent Sellers, we clarify that a ''holding company,'' for purposes of amended section 203(a), does not include entities owning new electric generation that have not yet begun commercial operation.

73. We grant APPA/NRECA's request that the Commission clarify that a state or any political subdivision of a state or agency thereof is not a ''holding company'' under amended section 203(a)(2). While the definition of holding company possibly could be construed to include governmental entities or electric power cooperatives, we believe a more reasonable interpretation is that Congress did not intend to give the Commission authority over acquisitions by such entities. Section 201(f) of the FPA [65] excludes from most FPA part II provisions governmental entities and electric power cooperatives financed by the Rural Electrification Act of 1936,[66] and there is no indication that Congress intended to impose any section 203 filing requirements on such entities. Accordingly, we will not interpret section 203(a)(2) to apply to governmental entities and electric power cooperatives.

3. Section 33.1(b)—Definition of ''Existing Generation Facility''

74. The Commission proposed that subsection 33.1(b) would define ''existing generation facility'' for section 203 purposes as a generation facility that is operational at the time the transaction is consummated.[67] The Commission stated that, as reflected in proposed section 33.1(a)(1)(iv)(b), if such a generation facility is intended to be used in whole or in part for wholesale sales in interstate commerce by a public utility, it is subject to our jurisdiction for ratemaking purposes and thus is covered under amended section 203(a)(1)(D). The Commission explained that, although the statute refers to a facility that ''is'' used for wholesale sales (and over which the Commission has jurisdiction for ratemaking purposes), we believed that a reasonable interpretation is that the provision would apply to newly constructed facilities that have already been energized at the time the transaction is consummated and are intended to be used in whole or in part for wholesale sales in interstate commerce by public utilities. The Commission also noted that if it can be demonstrated that a facility is used exclusively for retail sales, then amended section 203(a)(1)(D) does not apply.

[63] We note that, prior to EPAct 2005, the FPA term ''transmitting utility'' was not limited to entities that own or operate transmission facilities used ''in interstate commerce.'' EPAct 2005, however, modified the definition to, among other things, limit it to facilities used in interstate commerce.

a. Comments

75. The definition of ''existing generation facility'' drew extensive comment from state regulatory commissions, traditional public utilities, public/cooperative entities and retail customer and other groups.

76. One comment raised by EEI and Progress Energy is that the Commission should construe the term ''existing'' to mean only facilities that existed as of the date of enactment of EPAct 2005 (August 8, 2005). They claim that had Congress meant to apply amended section 203 to facilities that become operational after August 8, 2005, it would have used different language. APPA/NRECA takes the decidedly opposite view that applying amended section 203 only to facilities that existed when EPAct 2005 was enacted would eventually mean the demise of section 203 review, without any indication that Congress intended such a result.

77. Most commenters focused on the term ''existing'' in its operational and temporal context, as reflected in the NOPR's proposal to assert jurisdiction over transfers of facilities that ''are operational at the time the transaction is consummated.'' Commenters generally focused on whether the facilities are in the construction or development stage, at or near ''operation,'' or in retired or mothballed status. Contrary to most commenters, Kentucky Public Service Commission (Kentucky Commission) and National Association of State Utility Consumer Advocates (NASUCA) would have the Commission assert jurisdiction over transfers of facilities that are under construction or development. NASUCA argues that section 203 should apply if the facilities have received any kind of federal or state permit or have applied for market-based rate authority or generator interconnection status with an independent system operator (ISO) or regional transmission organization (RTO). It contends that such facilities are already influencing the market, particularly if they are being sold to provide future capacity or ancillary services. By the same token, NASUCA and TAPSG want us to assert jurisdiction over transfers of units that are mothballed or retired, especially if the units can be brought back on line and retain the permits or authorities. FirstEnergy Service Company (FirstEnergy) recommends that the Commission clarify its rules to deal with a mothballed facility that is slated to be refurbished and with a facility that is shut down where the site and equipment has been sold. Neither FirstEnergy nor Progress Energy believe that section 203 should apply to transfers of facilities removed from service and from the Commission's accounting and thus are not physically or otherwise capable of making wholesale sales.

78. Although all commenters agree that section 203 review should encompass facilities that are ''operational,'' they disagree as to how to define ''operational'' and ''ability to make sales.'' They also disagree as to the point in time at which a jurisdictional determination is to be made, particularly for substantially completed plants that are at or near the ''operational stage.'' APPA/NRECA finds the Commission's proposed approach reasonable, but is concerned that defining a facility on the basis of whether the facility is energized may allow companies to evade section 203 by delaying the interconnection process. NASUCA shares this concern, asserting that whether the plant is producing electricity at the time of the transaction is irrelevant to whether section 203 jurisdiction should apply. NARUC, Progress Energy, and Southern Companies take the view that for a generation facility to be deemed ''operational,'' it must be interconnected and synchronized with the system so that it is capable of making wholesale sales. Other commenters suggest that a facility actually be in service and making jurisdictional sales. Most commenters agree with the Commission's proposal that the jurisdictional determination should be made on the basis of whether the facility is operational, or is projected to be operational when the transaction is (or is expected) to be consummated. NARUC, however, suggests that the jurisdictional determination should be made on the basis of whether the facility is operational at the time the underlying transaction agreement has been entered into and submitted for Commission approval.

79. Wisconsin Electric Power Company (Wisconsin Electric) expresses concern regarding the application of the term ''operational.'' It requests that the Commission clarify either that ''consummated'' refers to when the transaction, as defined by the lease and associated commitments, is executed or that ''operational'' is restricted to operations in the ordinary course of the business of the non-acquiring party.

80. EEI and Ameren Services Company (Ameren) argue that the ''intent'' language in proposed section 33.1(a)(1)(iv)(b) exceeds the statutory authority of amended section 203(a)(1)(D)(ii). They also insist that an ''intent'' standard is unworkable because ''intent'' would be difficult to ascertain. Southern is also concerned that the ''intent'' language would introduce confusion as to the jurisdictional status of transfers of facilities that are merely under construction. Chairman Barton questions whether requiring only an intent to use facilities in interstate commerce will unduly burden potential transactions and results in unnecessary review, particularly when, after the facilities are placed in service, the Commission has authority under FPA sections 205 [68] and 206 [69] over the facility and its rates. Although not specifically referring to either the ''intent'' language or the ''exclusive use for retail sales'' language, the North Carolina Utilities Commission (North Carolina Commission) emphasizes that nothing in amended section 203(a)(1)(D) expands the Commission's jurisdiction to include generation resource adequacy for retail service; EPAct 2005 expressly reserves authority over generation resource adequacy to the states. It urges that the final rule recognize this limitation.

81. Other commenters, such as Utility Workers Union of America, AFL–CIO (UWUA) and APPA/NRECA, generally support the ''intent'' language. APPA/NRECA and TAPSG, however, believe that a very high standard should be set for demonstrating that a facility is exclusively used for retail sales. TAPSG points out that utilities do not ordinarily dispatch their units separately for wholesale sales and retail sales. Both commenters also contend that amended section 203 should apply to facilities that received an exemption initially from section 203 on the basis of retail use only but that later are used for wholesale sales. Owners of such facilities should be subject to the Commission's expanded penalty authority. APPA/NRECA and TAPSG argue that the Commission should explicitly state that section 203 approval is required for the acquisition of a QF; they ask us to clarify that QFs may be ''existing generation facilities'' under amended section 203(a)(1)(D).

b. Commission Determination

82. The Commission will clarify and modify a number of aspects of its proposal for determining whether a generation facility is an existing generation facility for purposes of amended section 203(a)(1)(D). We will also address other questions raised by commenters with regard to the NOPR.

83. Initially, the Commission will reject EEI's and Progress Energy's argument that ''existing generation facility'' should be construed to encompass only those generation facilities in existence as of the date of enactment of EPAct 2005 (i.e., August 8, 2005). They submit that any other interpretation would effectively write ''existing'' out of the statute and that if Congress had intended amended section 203 to apply to generation facilities that come into existence after August 8, 2005, it would have used plainly different language. We do not agree. First, such an interpretation is not, as Progress Energy suggests, required as a textual matter. Congress could have, but chose not to, use the term ''existing on the effective date of this Act.'' Rather, it simply used the term ''existing.'' Second, such an interpretation would make little sense. It would eventually write amended section 203(a)(1)(D) out of existence as pre-EPAct 2005 generation facilities are retired and only post-EPAct 2005 generation facilities remain. There is only a brief mention of the term ''existing,'' without any explanation, in the legislative history of amended section 203. However, the legislative history suggests that Congress intended for the Commission to not only continue, but to expand our review of activities that would affect wholesale competition and ratepayers.[70] Therefore, we reject EEI's and Progress Energy's argument.

84. The Commission adopts the NOPR's proposal that an ''existing generation facility'' is a generation facility that is operational at or before the time the transaction is consummated. However, we are deleting language in proposed section 33.1(a)(iv)(b) stating that section 203 applies if the generation facility ''is intended to be used'' in whole or in part for wholesale sales in interstate commerce by a public utility. Below we explain various aspects of this definition.

85. We note first that ''the time the transaction is consummated'' refers to the point in time when the transaction actually closes and control of the facility changes hands. The Commission will construe ''operational'' to mean a generation facility for which construction is complete (i.e., it is capable of producing power). An ''existing generation facility'' would not include generation plants that are only in the development or construction stage. However, an ''existing generation facility'' would include a mothballed facility, so long as the facility was operational at any time before the transaction is consummated.

86. With regard to the issue of wholesale versus retail sales, the Commission will eliminate the language ''intended to be'' from proposed section 33.1(a)(1)(iv)(b). We agree with some commenters that ''intent'' is difficult to discern and could introduce unnecessary confusion about plants that are under construction and clearly not being used for wholesale sales. Rather, the Commission will adopt a rebuttable presumption that amended section 203(a) applies to the transfer of any existing generation facility unless the utility can demonstrate with substantial evidence that the generator is used exclusively for retail sales. In our experience, utilities do not ordinarily separate the dispatch of their plants for retail sales and wholesale sales; rather, they dispatch all their units on an integrated basis to serve all load (retail and wholesale). Therefore a utility proposing an unusual procedure by which it dispatches certain plants ''only'' for retail load will have the burden to demonstrate that any particular generating facility will never be used to make wholesale sales.

87. Finally, in response to commenters' requests that section 203 approval be required for the acquisition of a QF, we clarify that if a public utility acquires an existing generation facility used for Commission-jurisdictional sales, whether a QF or any other type of generation facility, the transaction is subject to section 203. Although certain QFs themselves are exempted from any filing requirements under section 203 by virtue of our PURPA regulations, this does not mean that public utilities that acquire QFs are exempt. Additionally, there is no limitation in amended section 203(a)(1)(D) on the type of generation facilities that trigger section 203 review, if they are used for interstate wholesale sales and the Commission has jurisdiction over them for ratemaking purposes. Further, even if the Commission had the discretion to exempt QF acquisitions from section 203 review, we do not think it would be necessarily consistent with the public interest to do so in light of EPAct 2005's elimination of QF ownership restrictions.

4. Section 33.1(b)—Definition of ''Non-Utility Associate Company''

88. The Commission proposed to interpret the term ''non-utility associate company'' to mean any associate company in a holding company system other than a public utility or electric utility company that has wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation.[71] Therefore, we proposed that a non-utility associate company would include, for example, a power marketer, a generator that does not have captive customers, a gas marketer, a fuel supply company or other company that provides inputs to power production, or a company that is involved in business activities not related to the generation, transmission, distribution, or sale of electricity.[72] This definition is relevant because of the new section 203(a)(4) requirement that we find that a proposed transaction does not result in inappropriate cross-subsidization or pledge or encumbrance of utility assets. The Commission sought comment on whether it should use a narrower definition, for example, whether we should define a ''non-utility associate company'' as a company that is in a business not related to the generation, transmission, distribution, or sale of electricity.

a. Comments

89. Many state commissions and other commenters from the industry agree that the Commission's proposed broad definition of ''non-utility associate company'' should be adopted in order to afford the greatest protection against cross-subsidization, as Congress intended in EPAct 2005.[73] Indiana Commission and NARUC explain that the cross-subsidization of an entity involved in a business unrelated to the electric industry and the cross-subsidization of an entity involved in ''unregulated,'' electricity-related activities are equally inappropriate. On the other hand, FirstEnergy and Southern Companies urge the Commission to adopt the narrower definition.

90. American Electric Power Service Corporation (AEP) asserts that both the Commission's broader definition proposed in the NOPR and the narrower definition (proposed as an alternative) are unnecessarily broad, ensnaring companies that are providing essentially ancillary services to the regulated utility and that thus present no risk of cross-subsidization. AEP maintains that amended section 203(a)(4) is simply designed to ensure that a transaction does not result in cross-subsidization, which, by definition, only occurs when a competitive affiliate of the utility is unduly enriched by use of regulated assets. AEP states that the Commission has already defined these energy affiliate companies in the Standards of Conduct,[74] and states that we should define a ''non-utility associate company'' by adopting the same definition used to describe an ''energy affiliate'' in 18 CFR 358.3(d).

b. Commission Determination

91. We agree with the majority of the commenters that the NOPR's proposed broader definition of the term ''non-utility associate company'' is reasonable. Our goal in defining this term is to ensure that public utilities with captive customers do not cross-subsidize ''non-regulated'' associate companies, i.e., companies that are not subject to traditional cost-based regulation.[75] As it relates to this objective, there is no difference between the propriety of cross-subsidizing associate energy companies that are not subject to traditional cost-based regulation versus an entity that is involved in a business completely unrelated to the energy industry. Since the purpose is to protect customers, whether the company inappropriately subsidized is an associate company in the energy industry or not is irrelevant.

92. We disagree with AEP's contention that cross-subsidization occurs only when using traditionally regulated assets to subsidize a competitive affiliate of the utility company. Congress was concerned with the potential for abuse when a traditionally regulated public utility (i.e., one that is subject to the Commission's traditional cost-based regulation) subsidizes an ''unregulated'' affiliate company within the same holding company system. Defining a non-utility associate company based on whether or not that ''unregulated'' affiliate company is a competitor of the utility company is too narrow to prevent abuses; consequently, the Standards of Conduct definition of an ''energy affiliate'' is not appropriate here.[76]

93. Accordingly, we will adopt the broader definition of a ''non-utility associate company,'' which is any associate company in a holding company system other than a public utility or electric utility company that has wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation. A non-utility associate company would include, among others, a power marketer, a generator that does not have captive customers, a gas marketer, a fuel supply company or company that provides inputs to power production, or a company that is involved in business activities not related to the generation, transmission, distribution or sale of electricity.

5. Section 33.1(b)—Definition of ''Value''

94. In the NOPR, the Commission proposed to generally rely on a ''market value'' approach for determining whether asset transfers, with the exception of wholesale contracts, meet the value threshold necessary to require approval under amended section 203. This would base value on expected future earnings or profits over the life of the asset. This is in contrast to our current regulations, which define value as original cost undepreciated as defined in the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts; in other words the amount paid for installing an original plant and equipment and additions thereto.[77] As described below, the Commission proposed certain measures of value for each of four types of asset transactions, inviting comment and suggestions for alternative approaches.

95. Specifically, the Commission proposed that section 33.1(b) would define ''value,'' as applied to jurisdictional facilities and existing generation facilities (addressed by amended subsections 203(a)(1)(A) and (D)), as the market value of such facilities.[78] The Commission recognized that determining the market value of transmission facilities could be difficult in some instances. We proposed that, in the absence of a readily ascertainable market value, original cost undepreciated would be used. For transactions involving transfers of facilities between non-affiliates, the Commission stated that market value will, in most circumstances, be reflected in the transaction price. For transactions between affiliates, the Commission recognized that we cannot assume that market value will be reflected in transaction price. We suggested undepreciated original cost as a possible alternative measure of value.

96. The Commission also proposed that section 33.1(b) would define ''value,'' with respect to a merger or consolidation with a transmitting utility, an electric utility company, or a holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility, or an electric utility company, with a value in excess of $10 million, as used in amended section 203(a)(2)) as ''market value.'' We stated that in most instances market value would be reflected in the transaction price for transactions between non-affiliates.

97. Turning to how to value paper jurisdictional facilities, the Commission proposed that the value of any wholesale contract included in the transaction would be based on total expected contract revenues over the remaining life of the contract.[79] We noted that market value was an alternative approach and that it could be based on the price or consideration paid for the contract.

98. The Commission proposed to define the ''value'' of a security, as discussed in amended sections 203(a)(1)(C) and (a)(2), as the market price at the time the security is acquired.[80] For transactions between non-affiliated companies, the Commission proposed to rebuttably presume that the market value is the agreed-upon transaction price. We sought comments on how to determine value for security transactions involving affiliates if the securities are not widely traded. Further, the Commission sought comments as to whether it should give particular weight to evidence of non-affiliate transactions involving either non-affiliated buyers or sellers of securities of similarly situated utilities or assets.

a. Comments on Definition of ''Value'' as Applied to Transmission and Generation Facilities

99. Nearly all commenters support the use of market value. Most commenters support using transaction price to measure market value in most situations.[81]

100. APPA/NRECA and TAPSG contend that market value should be replaced by ''fair'' market value. They recommend that the Commission measure ''fair'' market value based on standards to be adopted by the Financial Accounting Standards Board that use both a market approach and an income approach. Because the market value standard could introduce some [81] Chairman Barton does not take a position on the appropriate measure of value, but believes that the Commission should consider whether the use of market value, by bringing more transactions under section 203, will unnecessarily increase regulatory burden because of the potential for disputes concerning the market value of transactions. He also suggests that some utilities will make section 203 filings needlessly to show the Commission that section 203 does not apply. He notes that undepreciated original cost value is a simple way to value transactions. Chairman Barton Comments at 6.

uncertainty into the process, FirstEnergy urges the Commission to provide clear guidance to the industry and the investment community explaining how a market value standard would be used in certain situations. It suggests that we create a ''safe harbor'' that clearly defines methods and components used to assess market value. EEI argues that when a state commission has reviewed or made a determination of value for a particular transaction, a company should be able to rely on that value for purposes of determining value under section 203; the company should not have to pay penalties if the Commission later determines that the value of the transaction exceeds $10 million.

101. Virtually all commenters recognize that a market value standard, particularly one based on transaction price, may need to be modified or even replaced in some circumstances. As explained below, these circumstances involve transactions that include non-jurisdictional facilities in addition to jurisdictional facilities or generation facilities; transactions where market value may not be ascertainable; and transactions not conducted at arms'-length (such as affiliate transactions). Alternative suggested measures of market value or value are the following: (1) Market value as determined by market-based results of an Edgar-type analysis [82] or independent valuation process; (2) original cost undepreciated; (3) the higher of market value or original cost undepreciated; and (4) net book value (original cost depreciated).

102. Focusing first on transactions between non-affiliates, many commenters agree that, in most circumstances, transaction price is the appropriate measure of market value.[83] EEI, Duke Energy Corporation and Cinergy Corp. (Duke/Cinergy), and Progress Energy urge the Commission to rebuttably presume that market value is the agreed-on transaction price. EEI, Duke/Cinergy, Entergy, and FirstEnergy, argue that the market value determination should be based only on the value of jurisdictional transmission assets or generation assets. They state that a single transaction price will not measure the market value for a transaction that also includes assets other than jurisdictional transmission assets or generation assets. EEI proposes determining the transaction price for the jurisdictional transmission facilities or generation facilities based on their relative net book value (original cost depreciated).

103. Commenters differ significantly as to the appropriate measure of value where the transaction is between affiliates. As a first backstop in scenarios involving affiliated transactions, several commenters contend that transaction price is still a reasonable measure of market value, provided that the transaction price is shown to be consistent with the results of an Edgar-type analysis or independent valuation process.[84] However, other commenters, including the New Jersey Board, NASUCA, and APPA/NRECA, would compare a market value or ''fair'' market value with original cost undepreciated and select the higher of the two. They argue that the Commission must evaluate the widest possible range of transactions to determine the public interest implications of transactions; utilities will attempt to understate value and thereby avoid section 203 review.

104. When a market-based determination of value is not possible or practical, commenters are divided, mainly between original cost undepreciated and net book value. Commenters who advocate the use of net book value urge the Commission to reject any use of original cost undepreciated, particularly for non-affiliate transactions, since it does not reflect the deterioration (wear) of the facility.[85] Rather, they would encourage the use of net book value, since it is the basis of transmission rates.

105. Other commenters suggest a modification of the original cost undepreciated and net book value concepts. Missouri Public Utilities Commission (Missouri Commission) would rely on reproduction cost (the costs of replicating the same plant today with the same assets and same technology). As a proxy for this measure, Missouri Commission suggests that the original cost could be escalated by appropriate wholesale price indices. Scottish Power would adjust net book value by converting it to current dollars.

b. Comments on Definition of ''Value'' as Applied to Transmitting Utilities, Electric Utility Companies, or Holding Companies

106. Nearly all commenters support the market value approach as measured by the transaction price to determine the value of a transaction involving transmitting utilities, electric utility companies, or holding companies. NASUCA proposes the higher of market value or original cost undepreciated to limit the possibility that a merger of two independent transmission companies would escape review. It also asserts that market value is not necessarily the same as market price. FirstEnergy believes that the transaction price should reflect only the value of the underlying jurisdictional or generation facilities. The Commission should also establish other parameters for determining the market price, such as the point in time at which the determination is to be made, such as the date of the agreement, the date of filing of the application, or the date of consummation of the transaction. To the extent the Commission does not adopt transaction price, FirstEnergy urges the Commission to otherwise specifically define market value and specify safe harbor standards.

c. Comments on Definition of ''Value'' as Applied to Paper Jurisdictional Facilities

107. Many commenters, including state commissions and consumer groups generally favor total expected revenues over the contract's remaining life as the appropriate measure of value for transfers of wholesale contracts.[86] This is regardless of whether affiliates or non-affiliates are involved. Revenues will be a function of quantities of supply and thus are an indirect measure of the contract's contribution to market supply, in much the same way that the value of generation assets will be related to generator size. These commenters also point out that a revenues approach would be much easier to apply than an expected net profits standard, which can be unpredictable on the basis of varying assumptions and is likely to be measured inaccurately.

108. Constellation adds that the use of nominal revenues avoids confidentiality issues raised by how buyers and sellers value contracts on the basis of transaction price. This is particularly true where it is necessary to determine value for individual contracts that are part of a portfolio of contracts and nonjurisdictional assets. Some commenters point out that in some instances, for individual contracts, the seller may actually pay the buyer and the buyer may have the option to buy the power at a market price, which may be lower than contract price. Thus, the transaction price would either be negative or much smaller than under a revenues approach. This would increase the likelihood that the transaction would not fall under section 203.

109. On the other hand, many commenters urge the Commission to adopt transaction price as the measure of value.[87] They contend that value is closely tied to expected profits, which considers supply costs, unlike the revenue approach, and thus will be more accurately reflected in transaction price than in revenues. FirstEnergy comments that a revenues approach would be difficult to apply if the contract rates are not fixed. If the Commission decides not to use transaction price, commenters suggest a variety of other measures, including discounted value of future cash flows reduced by obligations, net present value of non-fuel revenues, and expected profits.

110. For affiliate transactions, many of these same commenters generally agree that transaction price is appropriate if it is supported by Edgar-type evidence. However, another measure favored by EEI, Entergy, and Duke/Cinergy would apply ''mark to market'' pricing[88] to determine the value of a contract between affiliates. Entergy, citing Order No. 627,[89] asserts that the Commission has taken the same approach in requiring utilities to report in Form 1 changes to the fair market value of certain derivative instruments and activities.

d. Comments on Definition of ''Value'' as Applied to Securities in Excess of $10 Million 111. Generally all of the commenters from the various segments of the industry, including regulatory commissions, public power, and customer groups, support the Commission's proposal to value security transactions between non-affiliates at market value. Nearly all appear to accept our proposal to rebuttably presume that price is the appropriate measure of market value. FirstEnergy requests, however, that the Commission provide more specificity as to which price is relevant, i.e., the agreed-to-price or a publicly traded price, and as to what is meant by time of the transaction—the time of agreement or the time of consummation. FirstEnergy also asks whether the transaction value used should take into consideration the fact that non-regulated assets may be included in the transaction as well. EEI and International Transmission argue that to give regulatory certainty to the transacting parties, the relevant price should be the agreed-to price.

112. EEI suggests that for securities transactions between affiliated parties, market price is reasonable when the securities are widely traded. However, several parties support assessing market value based on an application of Edgar standards, particularly when the securities are not widely traded. On the other hand, FirstEnergy and NASUCA contend that an Edgar approach will not work well because any group of non-affiliate transactions will be vastly different in terms and other factors that affect value or price. When Edgar-type evidence is not available, EEI and Ameren propose certain formulaic measures involving company-specific variables;[90] NARUC suggests that the Commission simply use paid-in capital equity. Indiana Commission suggests that an affiliate transaction be constructed to evade section 203 jurisdiction could be used to subsidize a non-jurisdictional affiliate, but Southern Companies asserts that transaction thresholds are so low there will no meaningful opportunities to evade jurisdiction by such means.

e. Commission Determination

113. The Commission notes the widespread support for using a market value approach (where feasible). After considering the comments of numerous parties, we remain convinced that market value is, in most instances, the most effective and reasonable approach (both for potential section 203 applicants and for the Commission) to determine which asset transfers, particularly those that involve acquisitions of physical facilities or securities, require section 203 approval.

114. As one commenter suggests, however, using market value as the measurement standard is not straightforward in all circumstances. For example, where the transaction involves a single asset subject to section 203 being purchased and sold between non-affiliates, the agreed-upon price for the transaction is a straightforward measure of market value. However, there may be non-affiliate transactions that include a bundle of assets, both assets subject to section 203 and assets not subject to section 203, so that the transaction price does not reflect the market value of only the assets subject to section 203. Another example involves transactions between affiliates where the agreed-upon price for the exchange will not necessarily reflect market value. In both instances, other measures of market value would be required.

115. It is important that the Commission provide as much guidance as possible to those contemplating business transactions regarding how the determination of value should be made and thus deciding whether section 203 review is required. Such guidance will enhance parties' certainty and will also contribute stability to investment decision-making by utilities and non-utilities alike.

116. For transfers of physical facilities (transmission and generation facilities) the Commission will adopt market value as the appropriate measure of value. When a transaction occurs between non-affiliates, the Commission will rebuttably presume that market value is the transaction price. The most obvious complicating factor in applying this test is the need to consider only the value of the facilities subject to section 203; many transactions will include other assets not subject to section 203 as well. However, in such situations, the acquiring entity will probably have made a valuation analysis of the constituent parts of the transaction in order to guide its negotiations and/or properly record the value of those facilities on its balance sheet. Almost certainly included in that analysis will be a valuation of the physical facilities. In transactions involving both facilities subject to section 203 and facilities not subject to section 203, companies should rely on such valuations in [88] In this context, ''mark to market'' refers to the process whereby the book value or collateral value of an asset such as a multiyear contract or power purchase agreement is adjusted to reflect current market value for the applicable period.

[90] For example, EEI proposes that, for securities that are not widely traded, the Commission should allow companies to utilize the Edgar guidelines. If the Edgar guidelines are not applicable to a particular case, EEI suggests the following: For equity securities, a three part determination should be utilized to determine value: (i) Determining the value of the company that is the issuer of the equity securities based on the depreciated net book value of the company's assets; (ii) determining the fraction of the securities at issue by dividing the number of equity securities involved in the transaction by the total number of outstanding equity securities for the company; and (iii) multiplying (i) by (ii) (i.e., the value of the company multiplied by the fraction of the equity securities at issue). deciding whether to file for section 203 approval.

117. If separate valuations of the physical assets were not performed, companies should rely on original cost undepreciated. Several commenters urge the Commission to reject the use of original cost undepreciated and adopt, instead, net book value. Our current regulations use original cost undepreciated as the appropriate measurement standard and we will continue to use that standard in applying amended section 203. Although net book value is a valuation method commonly used to establish cost-based rates, most generating facilities today sell power at market rates, and their market value is driven primarily by factors unrelated to the book depreciation of the facility. For example, many highly depreciated coal-fired assets have commanded significant premiums in generation divestitures. Hence, we believe that the continued use of original cost undepreciated is preferable to net book value.

118. We also cannot rely on transaction price as a measure of market value when a transaction involving physical facilities occurs between affiliates. Instead, here too we will adopt original cost undepreciated. The alternatives to transaction price most frequently supported by commenters include: (1) Value based on an Edgar-type analysis (market value), (2) original cost undepreciated, (3) the higher of market value or original cost depreciated, and (4) net book value. As discussed above, as between the choices of original cost undepreciated and net book value, the Commission believes that original cost undepreciated is preferable and should continue to be used.

119. The Edgar analysis is applied in section 205 proceedings to determine whether purchases from an affiliate are reasonable in light of other alternatives. The analysis is not intended to provide a bright-line easy-to-apply test of whether jurisdiction to approve a particular transaction exists in the first place. Rather, the analysis is often highly contentious and is used to determine the justness and reasonableness of a particular transaction, not for determining whether jurisdiction exists to review it in the first place. The Commission believes that, for purposes of section 203 applicability, a valuation based on original cost depreciated will be simpler and less ambiguous than one based on Edgar, particularly when most transactions will clearly exceed $10 million by any reasonable measure.

120. With respect to determining value to be applied to transfers of wholesale contracts between non-affiliates, the Commission will rebuttably presume that market value is the transaction price. This is consistent with our use of market value and transaction price for other types of asset transfers. As with transfers of physical facilities, when assets not subject to section 203 are included in the transaction, the acquiring entity should rely on its valuation of the contracts component included in transaction price. The market valuation should be consistent with the value the applicant places on the contract for purposes of its audited financial statements and in keeping with generally accepted accounting principle (GAAP) requirements. One commenter has expressed confidentiality concerns about valuations for individual contracts as part of a portfolio of contracts that could likely arise if a utility's decision not to file for section 203 approval was challenged. We believe that any such concerns can be addressed through our procedures that provide confidential treatment to certain proprietary materials.[91] Furthermore, we note that any measurement standard (such as projected revenue stream) could also raise concerns over confidentiality in certain circumstances.

121. The issue of how to value contract transfers between affiliates is more difficult to resolve, since a transaction price, if it exists at all, will not necessarily reflect market value. For affiliate transfers of contracts, we agree with one commenter that total expected contract revenues are a simple, objective way to assess value and to provide increased certainty as to the need for a section 203 filing. We therefore adopt this standard for valuing jurisdictional contracts between affiliates.

122. Amended sections 203(a)(1)(C) and (a)(2) define the Commission's jurisdiction over certain acquisitions of securities by public utilities and holding companies. With respect to securities transactions between non-affiliates, the Commission will adopt transaction price, as explained more fully herein, for the acquisition of securities by either a public utility or a holding company. The Commission recognizes that the NOPR was not entirely clear as to how to determine the ''transaction price.'' Although we stated that the value of a security would be defined as the market price at the time the security is acquired, we also stated that the market value would be rebuttably presumed to be the agreed-on transaction price. Thus, FirstEnergy asks how market price should be defined—a publicly traded price or the price ultimately agreed on. It also asked the Commission to clarify the meaning of ''at the time the security is acquired.'' Specifically, does this language refer to the point in time an agreement is entered into or the actual time of consummation of the transaction?

123. The Commission is mindful of the need to provide parties as much regulatory certainty as possible with respect to decisions as to whether section 203 approval is required for a particular transaction. In this case, the Commission finds that greater regulatory certainty is provided by relying on the agreed-to transaction price at the time the transacting parties enter into an agreement. However, the Commission will reject the argument that the value of securities transactions should be adjusted to reflect the fact that not all of the assets underlying the value of the securities are jurisdictional facilities or generation facilities. Amended section 203 does not permit any such interpretation, as it applies to the purchase of the ''security * * * of a * * * public utility,'' not to the ''securities applicable to the jurisdictional facilities of a public utility.''

124. For securities transactions between affiliates, however, an agreed-on transaction price will not necessarily be consistent with market price. For that reason, if the securities are widely traded, the Commission will require that affiliates value the transaction based on the market price at the time the securities are acquired. If the securities are not widely traded, we will adopt, in a slightly modified manner, EEI's suggestion. For equity securities, we will utilize a three-part determination to determine value: (i) Determining the value of the company that is the issuer of the equity securities based on the total undepreciated book value of the company's assets; (ii) determining the fraction of the securities at issue by dividing the number of equity securities involved in the transaction by the total number of outstanding equity securities for the company; and (iii) multiplying (i) by (ii) (i.e., the value of the company multiplied by the fraction of the equity securities at issue). This method for securities transactions that are not widely traded is consistent with our use of original cost undepreciated to measure value for transactions between affiliates involving physical assets.

holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility, or an electric utility company, with a value in excess of $10 million. Regarding transactions between non-affiliates, market value will be the transaction price or consideration paid, as provided for in the agreement between the transacting entities. As with securities, we note there is no statutory provision or legislative history to suggest that the transaction price should be adjusted to reflect the fact that non-jurisdictional assets are also involved, and so we will not allow for such an adjustment.

126. For mergers or consolidations involving affiliates, transaction price will not be an acceptable basis for establishing value. Several commenters recommend the use of an Edgar-type analysis to arrive at a market value. However, the Edgar approach is not a practical approach to applying the $10 million jurisdictional threshold for the reasons discussed above. Therefore, the Commission will, instead, use the book cost of all of a company's assets to measure the value of mergers or consolidations of affiliated companies.[92]

6. Compliance With Section 203

127. Given the increased significance of valuation of a transaction under amended section 203, the Commission solicited comments on whether our existing recordkeeping and reporting requirements, outside the section 203 context, will allow us and the public to effectively monitor jurisdictional entities' determinations of when a section 203 application is required. For example, the Commission asked ''do FERC Form 1s or Order No. 652 [93] market-based rate change in status reports provide sufficient information to monitor compliance with section 203?'' [94]

a. Comments

128. Many commenters believe that the Commission's existing record-keeping and reporting requirements will be enough.[95] Some note that parties often seek section 203 authorization out of an abundance of caution, whenever there is a reasonable possibility that section 203 approval is legally required, in order to remove regulatory uncertainty from a transaction, as an entire transaction can be placed at risk if required regulatory approvals are not obtained.

129. However, some commenters suggest that the Commission's current record-keeping and reporting requirements are the minimum necessary for section 203 purposes and should not be reduced. NARUC states that our existing record-keeping and reporting requirements are adequate as they pertain to mergers. However, NARUC suggests that Commission review of merger applications could be enhanced by requiring the applicant to file pro forma consolidated financial reports showing the projected financial position of the merged entity after the proposed transaction.[96]

130. APPA/NRECA assert that the Commission's existing record-keeping and reporting requirements do not provide sufficient information on fair market value for the Commission to ensure that companies are not improperly transacting without filing for approval. They state that the Commission should update our reporting requirements, including requiring applicants to adhere to GAAP principles for valuation determinations and to justify exemption from section 203 under both a cost and market value method of valuation. As for reporting requirements that might enable the Commission and the public to police compliance with section 203, APPA/NRECA suggest that the Commission should consider requiring public utilities to file annual reports of all transactions with a value exceeding, for example, $5 million, to enable the Commission to enforce the $10 million standard.

b. Commission Determination

131. Most commenters state that the Commission's existing record-keeping and reporting requirements are adequate. We agree and we will not adopt any additional compliance requirements at this time. We intend to keep our regulations as straightforward as possible so as not to increase regulatory burden on the industry while at the same time adequately monitoring jurisdictional entities' determinations of when section 203 applies to their transaction. The Commission agrees that parties have often sought section 203 authorization out of an abundance of caution because of a reasonable possibility that section 203 approval was legally required. In this way, parties have sought to remove regulatory uncertainty from a transaction, as an entire transaction can be placed at risk if required regulatory approvals are not obtained. This incentive is even greater now that EPAct 2005 has authorized civil penalties for violating statutory requirements.[97]

132. Although the majority of commenters assert that the current requirements are adequate, a few suggest that these requirements should be considered the minimum necessary for section 203 purposes and should not be reduced. We agree, and note that the NOPR did not propose to reduce our current requirements. We merely asked whether our existing record keeping and reporting requirements, outside the section 203 context, provide an adequate basis for monitoring jurisdictional entities' determinations of when a section 203 application is required. We believe that those requirements, as well as other publicly available information (e.g., financial statements filed with the SEC), will give interested entities enough information to allow them to monitor compliance with section 203. For example, under SEC disclosure requirements, publicly traded entities must disclose material transactions such as mergers or asset acquisitions. Most of these transactions will easily exceed the $10 million threshold, so the public will be on notice of transactions that likely should be submitted to the Commission for approval under section 203. We will therefore not adopt the suggestions of NARUC and APPA/NRECA that we impose new and burdensome disclosure requirements for purposes of monitoring compliance with section 203.

7. Cash Management Arrangements, Intra-Holding Company System Financing, Securities Under Amended Section 203, and Blanket Authorizations

133. The NOPR did not specifically address these issues, but we received comments on them. We note that section 203(a)(2) adds the entirely new requirement that no holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility shall purchase, acquire, or take any security with a value in excess of $10 million of, or, by any means whatsoever, directly or indirectly, merge or consolidate with, a transmitting utility, an electric utility company, or a holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility, or an electric utility company, with a value in excess of $10 million without Commission authorization.

a. Comments

134. Many commenters, including EEI, Duke/Cinergy, and Entergy, request that the Commission clarify that it will continue to interpret section 203 to not apply to cash management [98] and other financing arrangements routinely used in utility holding company systems. Thus, they request that the Commission continue to distinguish between the acquisition of voting securities and other instruments that confer control, which is subject to review under section 203, and the acquisition of loans and other financial instruments that do not confer control. They state that the issuance of these should remain subject to section 204 of the FPA [99] and relevant state law, but should not require section 203 approval. EEI, Duke/Cinergy, and Entergy also explain that cash management rules are already in place to monitor any potential cross-subsidization concerns for these types of financial arrangements. Furthermore, they assert that requiring prior approval under section 203 for cash management arrangements would impair the ability of holding companies and their public utility subsidiaries to manage their short-term financing needs efficiently. Applying section 203 to all intra-system financings would be contrary to Congress' intent and would create significant burdens for the Commission and utilities alike. Alternatively, should the Commission determine that section 203 applies to cash management programs, they request that the Commission allow companies to seek pre-approval (similar to the pre-approval process and reporting requirements adopted for cash management agreements) or blanket authorization.

135. MidAmerican Energy Holdings Company (MidAmerican) also urges the Commission to grant a blanket authorization for intra-holding company system financings, contributions, or equity infusions in excess of $10 million undertaken by an upper tier company to fund a lower tier holding company, intermediate holding company, or public utility company within the same holding company system. It states that the purpose of these financial transactions is to fund the capital and operating requirements of the lower tier entities and, thus, that these transactions do not raise any cross-subsidization issues. MidAmerican explains that the utility company would still need to obtain Commission authorization under section 204 for the issuance of its own securities.

136. Further, MidAmerican urges the Commission to grant another blanket authorization for the infusion of capital by a passive investor through the acquisition of holding company or public utility company securities, including debt and equity securities, subject to an aggregate limitation that the passive investor acquire less than ten percent of voting equity securities. It explains that one of the main objectives of repealing PUHCA 1935 was to encourage additional investment in the energy infrastructure by non-traditional, or passive investors (who make significant capital infusions in the utility industry either as lenders or equity investors), because existing investors are not providing sufficient money. There is no need for passive investors to follow the traditional section 203 approval process. It states that passive investments will not have any adverse effects on competition, rates, or regulation, and will not result in cross-subsidization. MidAmerican proposes that, to ensure that a passive investor will not be able to exercise control through ownership of a voting equity security, the passive investor be limited to an ownership interest of less than ten percent of voting securities. Further, MidAmerican states that when an investor acquires the debt or equity securities of an entity that has a de minimis interest in an electric utility company, we should grant the blanket authorization.

137. MidAmerican suggests that the Commission require those who receive these types of blanket authorizations to report their transactions within 45 days of the closing of the transactions.

138. Many commenters, including EPSA and Independent Sellers, request that the Commission clarify that the term ''securities,'' as used in amended section 203(a), means only ''voting securities,'' as that term is defined in section 1262(17) of PUHCA 2005, and does not apply, for example, to debt or other nonvoting securities. Alternatively, if the Commission is unable or unwilling to so clarify, the Commission should request a conforming amendment from Congress.

139. Transmission Agency of Northern California (TANC) urges the Commission to modify its Cash Management Rule to apply to public utility holding companies, which would add an additional layer of protection to utilities and their customers.

b. Commission Determination

140. As noted above, amended section 203(a)(2) expands the Commission's authority to include mergers, acquisitions, and purchases of securities [100] of over $10 million involving holding companies within certain holding company systems. A major part of the Commission's past practice in reviewing section 203 transactions has been to determine whether a particular merger or acquisition results in a single entity having control over transmission or generation resources that would allow it exercise market power. This would also be a concern under the new section 203(a)(2) provision.

141. However, as several commenters suggest, there are several classes of transactions covered by amended section 203(a)(2) that will not harm competition or captive customers. These include: (1) Routine cash management transactions and intra-holding company system financing transactions; (2) acquisition of non-voting securities (in any amount); [101] and (3) acquisition of voting securities that would give the acquiring entity not more than 9.9 percent ownership of the outstanding voting securities. For these transactions, the Commission finds that it is consistent with the public interest to issue a blanket authorization in this Final Rule, for the reasons discussed below.

[98] While there are several different types of cash management programs, a cash management program generally involves pooling the cash resources of several affiliated companies into a ''money pool.'' Affiliates can then borrow against the funds in the pool, often at below market rates. Additionally, the parent company is often able to achieve a higher rate of return on its money pool investments than any single affiliate could on its own. For a more detailed discussion of cash management programs. See Regulation of Cash Management Practices, Order No. 634, 68 FR 40,500 (July 8, 2003), III FERC Stats. & Regs. ¶ 31,145 (June 26, 2003), Order No. 634–A, 68 FR 61,993 (Oct. 31, 2003), FERC Stats. & Regs. ¶ 31,152 (Oct. 23, 2003) (Cash Management Rule).

[100] The term ''security'' is defined in FPA section 3(16) as ''any note, stock, treasury stock, bond, debenture, or other evidence of indebtedness of a corporation * * *.''

[101] We note, however, that it is possible, in some circumstances, for non-voting securities to convey sufficient ''veto'' rights over management actions as to convey ''control'' that triggers section 203. The Commission has addressed similar issues for purposes of evaluating independence of entities that ask for RTO status, and the SEC considered similar issues through its ''no action'' letter process in applying PUHCA 1935. We anticipate that our treatment of such issues under amended section 203 will generally be consistent with these precedents. If uncertainty exists as to whether significant veto rights could convey control, entities should seek a ruling from the Commission to determine whether section 203 approval is required.

i. Cash Management Programs and Intra-Holding Company Financing Arrangements

142. As several commenters note, cash management programs, money pools, and other intra-holding company financing arrangements are a routine and important tool used by many large companies to lower the cost of capital for their regulated subsidiaries and to improve the rate of return the holding company and its subsidiaries can get on their money.[102] The Commission does not intend to make it more difficult for companies to take advantage of these types of transactions. Since the companies participating in a cash management-type agreement are already affiliated, allowing the transfer of funds between such companies does not generally present competitive problems. Thus, we find that it is consistent with the public interest to grant a blanket authorization to allow holding companies and their subsidiaries to take part in intra-system cash management-type programs, subject to the discussion below.

143. TANC suggests that the Commission modify its Cash Management Rule to cover holding companies themselves. Currently, the Cash Management Rule only covers the cash management practices of a holding company's public utility subsidiaries.[103] We disagree with TANC that additional generic cash management rules governing holding companies are necessary at this time to safeguard consumers. The focus of amended section 203 is partly to prevent inappropriate cross-subsidization, or encumbrances or pledges of utility assets by public utility subsidiaries. Applicants must adopt sufficient safeguards, including any necessary cash management controls (such as restrictions on upstream transfers of funds, ring fencing, etc.), to prevent any cross-subsidization between holding companies and their new subsidiaries prior to receiving section 203 approval. Such safeguards ensure that consumers are protected, while permitting companies the flexibility to competitively manage their cost of capital via a cash management program. On balance, the Commission believes that the flexibility provided by this approach, combined with our existing cash management policies,[104] is superior to the one-size-fits-all approach advocated by TANC.

ii. Purchases of Non-Voting Securities by a Qualifying Holding Company

144. We agree with the majority of commenters that there is no need for case-by-case examination of the purchase by a holding company of non-voting securities of a public utility or of another holding company under amended section 203. The purchase of such securities generally does not convey control and hence does not grant the purchasing holding company additional market power, harm competitive markets, or otherwise disadvantage captive customers.[105] This is consistent with the intent of Congress that EPAct 2005 increase outside investment in the utility sector while protecting customers.[106] As MidAmerican notes, the issuance of securities by a jurisdictional company is also governed by section 204 of the FPA. Thus, for the purposes of amended section 203, we find that it is consistent with the public interest to grant a blanket authorization for the purchase by a holding company of any amount of non-voting securities of a public utility or of another holding company. We will grant this blanket authorization and will not impose any type of filing requirement with respect to such transactions.

iii. Purchases of Voting Securities Amounting to 9.9 Percent or Less of Outstanding Voting Securities

145. As commenters note, a number of investors would like to invest in the utility sector, but have been prevented from doing so by the fear that they would become subject to regulation by the SEC as well as this Commission. To remedy this problem, a number of commenters suggest giving a blanket section 203 approval to institutional investors within holding company systems purchasing less than 10 percent of the outstanding voting securities. Commenters note that the SEC has traditionally given blanket approval to a holding company in a holding company system purchasing up to 9.9 percent of outstanding voting securities of a public utility or a holding company covered by the statute. We agree that this approach makes sense and that it is consistent with the public interest and Congressional intent in repealing the restrictions of PUHCA 1935 and encouraging incentives for additional investment. We will, however, condition the blanket authorization by requiring the purchaser of such securities to provide the Commission, not more than 45 days after the purchase, with the same information on the same basis that the holding company now provides to the SEC.[107] We will issue notices of these filings for informational purposes only.

8. Section 33.2(j)—General Information Requirements Regarding Cross-Subsidization

146. In the NOPR, the Commission proposed that new section 33.2(j) would implement section 203(a)(4) by requiring applicants to explain how they are providing assurance that the proposed transaction will not result in a cross-subsidization of a non-utility associate company or a pledge or encumbrance of utility assets for the benefit of an associate company. We proposed to require appropriate evidentiary support for that explanation. We proposed that if no such assurance can be provided, applicants must explain how such cross-subsidization, pledge, or encumbrance will be consistent with the public interest.[108] This explanation would be Exhibit M to the applicant's section 203 application. The Commission sought comment on what evidence parties should be required to submit to support any explanation offered under this subsection.

147. The Commission noted that it has sought to guard against potential

[103] See Cash Management Rule at P 29.

[104] We also note that under our existing Cash Management Rule, changes to existing or new cash management agreements (including money pool arrangements and other internal corporate financing arrangements) must be filed with the Commission.

[106] See, e.g., Senate Floor Statement by Senators Domenici (R–NM), H.R. 6, Energy Policy Act of 2005, 151 Cong. Rec. S9256 (July 28, 2005) (stating that ''this should bring much more capital investment into the utility companies that make up this powerful institution, this entity called the grid of the United States.'').

[107] Accordingly, the Commission directs that the purchaser of such securities file with the Commission copies of SEC schedules 13D, 13G, and 13F. SEC schedule 13D is required to be filed by any entity acquiring beneficial ownership of more than 5 percent of a class of a company's securities. The schedule 13D filing requires, among other things, a statement of the purpose(s) of the acquisition of the securities of the issuer and a description of any plans or proposals the reporting person may have that relate to or would result in the acquisition of additional securities of the issuer; any extraordinary corporate transactions, such as a merger, reorganization or liquidation of the issuer or its affiliates; and any changes in the board of directors or management of the issuer. Schedule 13G is the same form, but is used when the person or entity is making the purchase for investment only. Institutional investment managers who exercise investment discretion over $100 million or more must report their holdings on SEC schedule 13F. We note that these schedules required for a grant of blanket authorization under section 203(a)(2) should impose only a de minimis burden on the holding company, since we are requiring merely the same information that is filed with the SEC. Should the SEC change its reporting requirements, this information must continue to be filed with the Commission.

cross-subsidization and affiliate abuse when it reviews applications for cost-based or market-based rate authority under section 205 of the FPA [109] or dispositions of jurisdictional facilities under section 203 involving public utilities (or their affiliates) with captive customers.[110] We also noted that the Commission has cash management rules to monitor proprietary capital ratios and money lending or other financial arrangements that can harm regulated companies.[111] We stated that our primary focus has been on preventing a transfer of benefits from a traditional public utility's captive customers to shareholders of the public utility's holding company due to an intra-system transaction that involves power or energy, generation facilities, or non-power goods and services. Thus, in light of the Congress' clear directive in EPAct 2005 that the Commission make findings regarding cross-subsidization and the pledge or encumbrance of utility assets in a section 203 order, we sought comments on what additional safeguards or conditions may need to be placed on section 203 transactions. Specifically, the Commission solicited comments on the adequacy of its present policies preventing affiliate abuse and cross-subsidization, and whether conditions such as those imposed by state commissions may need to be imposed on section 203 transactions. The Commission also sought comment on whether additional conditions should be placed on section 203 approvals to ensure that there is no pledge or encumbrance that harms utility customers.

a. Comments

148. Many commenters generally support the Commission's proposal but recommend additional conditions or safeguards. They agree that the Commission should impose specific conditions or safeguards to protect against unfair competitive practices, cross-subsidization, and affiliate abuse.[112] Some recommend that the Commission consider such protections on a case-by-case basis in consultation with affected state commissions. Proposed conditions include, for example: Utility company subsidiaries shall not loan any funds (or advance any credit or indemnity) to the holding company without appropriate regulatory approvals; a utility shall not incur any additional indebtedness, issue any additional securities, or pledge any assets to finance any part of a merger of holding companies without prior regulatory approvals; all debt at the holding company level shall be non-recourse to the utility; and the Commission should develop a process for periodic audits of inter-company transactions to be conducted in appropriate instances, as well as procedures for compliance monitoring, investigation, and complaints of cross-subsidization and affiliate abuse.

149. The Oklahoma Corporation Commission (Oklahoma Commission) proposes that applicants provide: A report of the nature of affiliates' operations; description of the business intended to be done by subsidiaries; and an explanation and detailed rationale of any plans to make any material change in investment policy, business, corporate structure, or management.

150. New Jersey Board states that it is not clear that proposed section 33.2(j) requires applicants to provide evidentiary support when claiming that a cross-subsidization, pledge, or encumbrance is consistent with the public interest. Therefore, it proposes that the text be revised to state ''An explanation*, with appropriate evidentiary support for such explanation* (to be identified as Exhibit M to this application):''.[113]

151. To mitigate cross-subsidization risks to ratepayers, other commenters propose structural conditions on mergers of entities that include both public utility and non-utility businesses, as the facts require. This could include the separation of public utility business within companies that also engage in non-utility business and the separation of a public utility's books and records from those of non-utility affiliates.

152. Finally, Southern Companies request that when a public utility predominately serves customers at retail but has some jurisdictional facilities, the Commission accept as sufficient a showing that the public utility applicant is subject to general supervision by a state commission that has authority to review the transaction, and that such state commission approval is predicated upon a finding that the transaction will not impair the performance of public service obligations or result in cross-subsidy burdening utility assets or service.

153. Other commenters generally state that there is no need to impose additional conditions or a new evidentiary requirement to ensure that transactions are consistent with the public interest.[114] They assert that the Commission already has in ways to guard against cross-subsidization or pledging or encumbering of utility assets, including: (1) Cash management rules; (2) code of conduct restrictions; (3) prior approval for certain power transactions; (4) access to, and auditing of, books and records; (5) expanded jurisdiction under EPAct 2005 with regard to books, accounts, and records; (6) standards of conduct; and (7) the application of Edgar standards to ensure that the sale price is not higher than would have been paid to a non-affiliate.

154. Duke/Cinergy, EEI, PNM, and Entergy assert that the Commission should allow applicants to avoid a detailed examination of cross-subsidization and encumbrance concerns by making four verifications on a case-by-case basis that address those issues. These verifications would enable the Commission to quickly determine whether a transaction is consistent with the public interest. The verifications would be that the transaction results in: (1) No transfers of facilities between a traditional utility associate company with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based rates and an associate company; (2) no new issuance of securities by traditional utility associate companies with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based rates for the benefit of an associate company; (3) no new pledge or encumbrance of assets of a traditional utility associate company with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation for the benefit of an associate company; (4) no new affiliate contracts between non-utility associate companies and traditional utility associate companies with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based rates, other than system allocation agreements subject to review under EPAct 2005 section 1275(b).[115] In cases where an applicant is unable to make one or more of the accepted verifications, these commenters state that the applicant should bear the burden of submitting sufficient information in Exhibit M to demonstrate that there is no cross-subsidization issue or, if there is, that the transaction is consistent with the public interest.

155. Some commenters generally oppose imposing additional conditions or safeguards beyond or that would conflict with those imposed by state commissions. Many commenters believe that the Commission's current policies are more than adequate to address state commission conditions and that the Commission already imposes most of these conditions directly.[116]

156. Oklahoma Commission suggests that the Commission allow state commissions to continue to exercise their autonomous authority in addressing possible affiliate abuse and cross-subsidization. Kentucky Commission states that any additional conditions imposed by the Commission should complement, not nullify or preempt, those imposed by state commissions.

157. International Transmission states that because independent transmission companies, by definition, are not affiliated with market participants, concerns regarding transmission-specific cross-subsidization that distort energy markets are minimized. National Grid states that the Commission should impose a merger condition only when it finds a proposed transaction, taken as a whole, is inconsistent with the public interest. Scottish Power states that the Commission should allow applicants to provide their own ways to demonstrate that there is no potential for cross-subsidization, on a case-by-case basis.

158. FirstEnergy contends that a requirement that applications demonstrate that each company within a holding company system is unaffected by cross-subsidization would inundate the Commission with information that has no real import. If the Commission requires such an evidentiary showing, it must clearly define the types of evidentiary support that would be necessary and provide guidance on the types of activities that typically would result in a pledge or encumbrance and those that will be consistent with the public interest. FirstEnergy states that conditions should be placed on section 203 approvals only when the Commission finds that a pledge or encumbrance is not consistent with the public interest.

159. Finally, Independent Sellers request that the Commission adopt a rebuttable presumption that no opportunity for cross-subsidization exists when a transaction involves only entities that are not affiliated with traditional public utilities with captive ratepayers.

160. In addition, Kentucky Commission, APPA/NRECA, and TAPSG comment that the Commission should require as part of a section 203 application the disclosure of all existing and/or future pledges and future encumbrances of utility assets. They state that applicants should have to explain how these existing pledges or encumbrances do not harm utility customers. However, International Transmission and FirstEnergy do not believe that all existing pledges and encumbrances should be disclosed in section 203 applications because this would be inconsistent with section 33.11(b)(3) of the regulations, which assumes that corporate reorganizations can occur that do not present cross-subsidization issues.

161. Missouri Commission states that the Commission should require, as a condition of approving mergers, the application of a ''lower of'' or ''higher of'' ''cost or market value'' standard. TANC states that requiring associate and affiliated companies to file cost allocation agreements with the Commission will help prevent excessive costs for non-power goods and services from being charged to utility companies and their customers. With regard to cost allocations for non-power goods and services, TANC asserts that the dual approach of a ''lower of cost or market'' standard has the advantage of ensuring that utilities and customers will not be harmed by an affiliate company relationship, regardless of whether market price exceeds costs for the non-power goods or services, or vice versa.

162. AEP encourages the Commission to retain the ''at cost'' standard for intra-system non-power goods and services transactions due to the added cost, burden, and inconsistencies that would be created otherwise. It explains that the expense and effort of implementing a ''lower of cost or market'' standard to the wide range of routine service company administrative and professional services would be immense, would result in lost efficiencies and, ultimately, would produce higher rates for regulated ratepayers. AEP states that the at-cost standard is a fair, verifiable, and workable.[117]

163. National Grid states that the Commission should continue to allow the use of the SEC's ''at no more than cost'' standard for pricing of intra-company transactions involving service companies. It explains that such companies were created to allow efficiently centralized support services for utility and non-utility associate companies within a holding company; therefore, a pricing system based on market prices would not be appropriate.

b. Commission Determination

164. The Commission will adopt, with the modification explained below, our proposal to require section 203 applicants to include an explanation of either: (1) How they are providing assurances that the proposed transaction will not result in cross-subsidization or improper pledges or encumbrances of utility assets; or (2) if such results would occur, how those results are consistent with the public interest. We believe that this approach meets Congress' concern regarding cross-subsidization in section 203 transactions. As we explained in the NOPR, the Commission has previously adopted a number of policies to address affiliate abuse and cross-subsidization activities as it carries out its section 203 and 205 responsibilities. Amended section 203, however, clearly shows that Congress intended that cross-subsidization and related concerns should be a focal point of the Commission's section 203 analysis.

165. We also agree with commenters that certain protections may be necessary, on a case-by-case basis, in order to protect against cross-subsidization, pledge or encumbrance of utility assets, and affiliate abuse. We note that commenters who generally support the Commission's proposal, as well as some who generally do not support the proposal, advocate a case-by-case approach. Commenters suggest many valid conditions that applicants might propose or that the Commission might impose under revised FPA section 203(a)(4). However, many of these conditions may not be appropriate to every section 203 transaction.

166. In our Merger Policy Statement, the Commission explained that, in determining whether a merger is consistent with the public interest, one of the factors we consider is the effect the proposed merger will have on rates. The Commission's main objective in applying this factor is to protect captive customers who are served under cost-based rates that could be adversely affected by a section 203 transaction.[118]

[118] Customers charged under market-based rates escape the potentially deleterious effects of cross-subsidization, or pledge or encumbrance of utility assets, because the prices are constrained by competition, regardless of the seller's costs. In contrast, captive customers (who pay cost-based rates) require protection. See, e.g., Alpena Power Generation, L.L.C., 110 FERC ¶ 61,199, at P 17

Continued

The new provision in amended section 203(a)(4) concerning cross-subsidization is rooted in similar concerns. In our Merger Policy Statement, we held that an applicant that wishes to avoid a hearing on rate issues should submit a commitment that adequately protects captive customers, such as a hold harmless commitment or an open season. Also, as part of our policy authorizing market-based rates for traditional public utilities or their affiliates, we have required that these utilities adopt a code of conduct that addresses both power and non-power transactions between them.[119] We believe that these types of commitments also can, in appropriate circumstances, address concerns regarding the potential that a merger may permit cross-subsidization. We will therefore require applicants to offer protections to their captive customers that address the potential for cross-subsidization. We also note that, in addition to any such commitments, we have continuing jurisdiction over the rates of public utilities under section 205 by which to further protect captive customers.

167. In sum, the concern about cross-subsidization is principally a concern over the effect of a transaction on rates. Accordingly, applicants proposing transactions under section 203 should proffer ratepayer protection mechanisms to assure that captive customers are protected from the effects of cross-subsidization. The applicant bears the burden of proof to demonstrate that customers will be protected.[120] Applicants should attempt to resolve the matter with customers before filing. Among the types of protection mechanisms that could be proposed by applicants are: A general hold harmless provision, which must be enforceable and administratively manageable, where the applicant commits that it will protect wholesale customers from any adverse rate effects resulting from the transaction for a significant period of time following the transaction; or a moratorium on increases in base rates (rate freeze), where the applicant commits to freezing its rates for wholesale customers under a certain tariff for a significant period of time.[121] The Commission will address the adequacy of the proposed mechanisms on a case-by-case basis. Furthermore, we agree that any additional conditions imposed by the Commission would complement, not nullify, those imposed by state commissions.

168. What constitutes adequate ratepayer protection will depend on the particular circumstances of the transaction. Should parties be unable to reach an agreement on ratepayer protection, the Commission may still be able to approve the transaction on the basis of the parties' filings if we determine that the proposal protects ratepayers from harm, or after imposing conditions specific to the particular circumstances.

169. We also agree with commenters that certain verifications in an application under amended section 203 could streamline the approval process by avoiding a detailed examination of cross-subsidization and encumbrance concerns. Such verifications, considered on a case-by-case basis in light of the given transaction, and explanations relating to those verifications, as well as other explanations of how the transaction will not result in cross-subsidization, pledge, or encumbrance of utility assets for the benefit of an associate company '' or if it does result in such, an explanation of how such cross-subsidization, pledge, or encumbrance will be consistent with the public interest '' is to be included as Exhibit M to the application. Accordingly, along with any protection mechanisms as discussed above, we may accept on a case-by-case basis, in lieu of or in addition to any other explanation, the following four verifications. The application may verify that the proposed transaction does not result in, at the time of the transaction or in the future: (1) Transfers of facilities between a traditional utility associate company with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation and an associate company; (2) new issuances of securities by traditional utility associate companies with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation for the benefit of an associate company; (3) new pledges or encumbrances of assets of a traditional utility associate company with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation for the benefit of an associate company; (4) new affiliate contracts between non-utility associate companies and traditional utility associate companies with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation, other than non-power goods and services agreements subject to review under sections 205 and 206 of the FPA.

170. We also agree with New Jersey Board that proposed section 33.2(j) does not clearly require appropriate evidentiary support for the explanation in Exhibit M. We will therefore revise the text to read: ''An explanation, with appropriate evidentiary support for such explanation (to be identified as Exhibit M to this application): * * *'' Further, the Commission will monitor and periodically audit, where appropriate, to ensure that applicants abide by their commitments in Exhibit M and any requirements contained in Commission orders.

171. With regard to comments on the ''at cost'' standard versus the ''market'' standard for transactions involving non-power goods and services, we note that the Commission addressed this issue in the PUHCA 2005 rulemaking.[122]

9. Section 33.11—Commission Procedures for Consideration of Applications Under Section 203 of the FPA

172. In the NOPR, the Commission proposed new subsections 33.11(a) and (b) to implement amended section 203(a)(5). Specifically, subsection 33.11(a) provides that the Commission will act on a completed application for approval of a transaction (i.e., an application that meets the requirements of Part 33), not later than 180 days after the completed application is filed.[123] If the Commission does not act within 180 days, such application shall be deemed granted unless the Commission finds, based on good cause, that further consideration is required and issues an [123] As explained in the Merger Policy Statement, a complete application is one that describes the merger being proposed and that contains all the information necessary to explain how the merger is consistent with the public interest, including an evaluation of the merger's effect on competition, rates, and regulation. Merger Policy Statement at 30,127. The Commission's review process will begin when the application is deemed to be complete.

order tolling the time for acting on the application for not more than 180 days, at the end of which additional period the Commission shall grant or deny the application, as required by amended section 203 of the FPA.[124]

173. Proposed subsection 33.11(b) would provide for the expeditious consideration of completed section 203 applications that are not contested, are not mergers, and are consistent with Commission precedent, because they should typically meet the standards established in section 203(a)(4).[125]

174. The Commission also stated that it could not provide a comprehensive description of all the classes or types of transactions that will receive the expedited review. However, the Commission proposed that transactions that would generally warrant expedited review include: (1) A disposition of only transmission facilities, particularly those that both before and after the transaction remain under the functional control of a Commission-approved RTO or independent system operator; (2) transfers involving generation facilities of a size that do not require an Appendix A analysis; (3) internal corporate reorganizations that do not present cross-subsidization issues; and (4) the acquisition of a foreign utility company by a holding company with no captive customers in the United States.[126]

175. With respect to the latter category, the Commission recognized that amended section 203's requirement for regulatory approval could have a chilling effect on investment—particularly if the transaction were subjected to a lengthy regulatory review. The Commission noted that such a transaction would not cause competitive concerns in the United States and, further, that there would be no concerns about cross-subsidization that harms captive customers in the United States. In addition, the Commission stated that even with respect to the acquisition of a foreign utility company by a holding company with captive customers in the United States, there may be safeguards that allow expedited approval of such transactions. Thus, the Commission sought comment on procedures the Commission might adopt, or safeguards it might require, to pre-approve or expedite such transactions while at the same time protecting U.S. captive customers.

176. Further, the Commission stated that it expects to have a 60-day notice period for section 203 applications that involve, contain, or require a competitive analysis per the part 33 and a 21-day notice period for all other section 203 applications, except for certain applications that may raise cross-subsidization concerns. The Commission stated that it expects to have a 60-day notice period for applications that seek authorization to transfer ownership of a generation plant from one affiliate or associate company to another company within the same corporate structure and for other applications that may raise cross-subsidization or pledge or encumbrance issues.[127]

a. Comments

177. Many commenters, including TAPSG and UWUA, support the Commission's proposal regarding the criteria for expedited consideration (applications that are not contested, are not mergers, and are consistent with Commission precedent). APPA/NRECA and TANC, however, caution that uncontested section 203 applications should still be reviewed to ensure they are consistent with Commission precedent. International Transmission notes that limiting expedited review to non-merger transactions is inconsistent with the Commission's recognition in the NOPR that not all merger transactions require the same level of analysis. Oklahoma Commission suggests that state commissions take over initial transaction review and that the Commission adopt a role of appellate review where there are disagreements between state commissions and the applicant.

178. TAPSG and UWUA agree with the Commission's proposal not to provide a comprehensive description of the classes or types of transactions that generally fall into the expedited review category. However, TANC suggests that the Commission adopt an exhaustive list of section 203 transactions that are eligible for expedited review to provide customers with the utmost protection and certainty. International Transmission recommends that, in order to encourage investment in independent transmission, dispositions, consolidations, or acquisitions by independent transmission companies should receive expedited review, even if all of the criteria in section 33.11(b) of the proposed regulations are not met. Many commenters recommend that, for all four of the categories, the Commission automatically approve the application upon filing an informational report where the applicants make certain verifications.[128]

179. With respect to proposed section 33.11(b)(4), commenters had a variety of responses on the procedures that the Commission might adopt, or safeguards it might require, to expedite or pre-approve transactions involving the acquisition of a FUCO by a holding company with no captive customers in the U.S. Many commenters request that the Commission not adopt any rules or policies that would impose undue regulatory burdens on holding companies that seek to invest in foreign utility companies.

180. Many traditional public utility commenters and others generally support a 30-day expedited review or pre-approval for transactions involving acquisitions of FUCOs.[129] Commenters suggest that the Commission automatically approve the application when the applicant provides certain cross-subsidization verifications (similar to those listed in EEI's comments), as well as assurances that the transaction will have no adverse effect on competition, rates, and regulation, if the filing is verified by a duly authorized corporate official of the holding company.[130] The transaction should be deemed approved upon making such informational filing.

181. State commission commenters, including NARUC, Ohio Commission, and New Jersey Board, generally suggest that, in order to protect domestic customers while expediting or pre-approving foreign utility transactions, the Commission should consider reviewing the financial condition and credit ratings of the acquiring utility holding company and its operating utility companies, or require applicants to submit service agreements, codes of [126] NOPR at P 59. The Commission noted that PUHCA 1935 exempted from its requirements certain acquisitions of foreign utility companies by a holding company with operations in the United States. 15 U.S.C. 33 (2000); 17 CFR 250.57 (2005). However, amended section 203 appears to provide no such exemption.

[127] NOPR at P 64–64. The Commission explained that not included in this category are transactions that merely change upstream ownership interests held by parent companies of public utilities or transactions that do not alter the terms of power supply or power supply costs for captive customers.

[128] See EEI Comments at 22–23. For example, one verification that EEI proposes is that the proposed transaction results in no transfers of facilities between a traditional utility associate company with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation and an associate company. Thus, a transaction that results in a transfer of facilities into or out of a traditional utility with captive customers could not qualify for automatic approval.

conduct, and affiliate rules.[131] They recommend that the Commission also conduct a cursory ''due diligence'' review of historical information from annual FERC Form 1 filings by the holding company's operating utility companies to examine trends in the holding company's investment in its domestic operating utilities and in their quality of service. The Commission could get this information from state regulatory commissions.

182. Some commenters are cautious of the Commission's proposed expedited procedures for approving the acquisition of FUCOs. TAPSG states that the Commission should not decide in the abstract how reviews of such transactions can be expedited. Public Citizen urges the Commission to protect domestic ratepayers by requiring that a strong showing be made that such a transaction is consistent with the public interest and by evaluating whether attempts by off-shore companies to acquire or hold controlling shares in U.S. public utilities can be found to be consistent with the public interest.

183. With respect to proposed section 33.11(b)(1) and expedited procedures for a disposition of transmission facilities only (particularly those that both before and after the transaction remain under the functional control of a Commission-approved RTO or ISO), TANC comments that expedited review should be used only where the facilities will remain under the functional control of the same Commission-approved RTO or ISO after the transaction is completed. TANC also states that transmission-only dispositions should receive expedited review only when they involve entities that are non-dominant market participants. APPA/NRECA argues that dispositions of transmission-only facilities should not generally receive expedited review.

184. With respect to proposed section 33.11(b)(2) and expedited procedures for transfers involving generation facilities of a size that do not require an Appendix A analysis, many traditional public utility commenters suggest that such expedited review be extended to include all transactions that do not require an Appendix A analysis. They recommend revising the proposed regulations to state: ''transactions that do not require an Appendix A analysis.'' [132] They also state that, even in cases where an Appendix A analysis is required for a generation facility acquisition, the Commission should act expeditiously in certain circumstances, setting a 30-day comment period and issuing an order no later than 30 days thereafter. Southern Companies requests that the Commission provide guidance regarding when an Appendix A analysis is required.

185. With regard to proposed section 33.11(b)(3), EEI, Entergy, and Duke/Cinergy support expedited procedures or pre-approval for internal corporate reorganizations that do not present cross-subsidization issues. National Grid, however, requests expedited procedures or pre-approval for internal reorganizations that do involve mergers.[133] It requests that the Commission facilitate all internal corporate reorganizations that do not either introduce new third-party interests or cross-subsidization issues, which are routine aspects of a company's financial operations, and do not need to be disrupted by formal proceedings, however expedited, under section 203.

186. EEI, Entergy, and Duke/Cinergy, state that the Commission could streamline the process further by granting blanket authorizations, for FUCO acquisitions involving holding companies that do not have captive customers in the U.S. and for internal corporate reorganizations involving public utility and holding company systems that do not involve traditional utility companies with captive customers.[134]

187. Several commenters also made suggestions regarding notice periods and complete applications. Many commenters support the Commission's expected notice periods. However, some commenters recommend that, except in simple cases, the Commission provide for a 60-day notice period. They suggest that the applicant bear the burden of demonstrating that a shorter notice period is appropriate. TAPSG and UWUA recommend that, where applications are not complete, the Commission should issue deficiency letters. TAPSG also suggests that the Commission not deem an application complete until after it has reviewed any interventions or protests, since they may identify deficiencies in the application. UWUA recommends that the 180-day clock on section 203 applications should not begin to run until a complete application has been submitted. It states that merger applicants should have an increased responsibility to submit complete applications that are supported with full explanations of the details of the proposed transaction, including testimony.

b. Commission Determination

188. The Commission adopts the proposed criteria for expedited consideration in section 33.11(b). Expedited consideration will be available for applications that are not contested, are not mergers, and are consistent with Commission precedent. With respect to APPA/NRECA and TANC's concerns that the Commission should review even uncontested section 203 applications to ensure that they are consistent with Commission precedent, we note that the Commission has always reviewed section 203 applications, regardless of whether they are contested.

189. Further, while some commenters recommend that the regulations contain an exhaustive list of the types of transactions that would generally warrant expedited review, we continue to believe that doing so could exclude transactions that may warrant expedited review, but that are not listed. Thus, as discussed below, we will not adopt an exhaustive list of such transactions. The Commission will not expressly provide expedited review for mergers or acquisitions involving independent transmission companies, as suggested by International Transmission, as review of such cases would be more appropriately addressed on an individual basis.[135]

190. Commenters have raised many valid arguments regarding the Commission's four proposed categories of transactions generally warranting expedited review. We will adopt the NOPR's proposal in section 33.11(b)(1) and will generally provide expedited review for a disposition of only transmission facilities, particularly those that both before and after the transaction remain under the functional control of a Commission-approved RTO or ISO. We note APPA/NRECA's concern that the consolidation of control of jurisdictional facilities should be carefully evaluated under section 203 and TANC's argument that expedited review should be limited to those facilities that will remain under the functional control of the same Commission-approved RTO or ISO after the transaction is completed. However,

[135] We note that although the Filing Requirements Rule provided that applicants for a transaction involving only transmission facilities need not provide a competitive analysis under §§ 33.3 or 33.4 of the Commission's regulations, it also states that if the Commission determines that a filing nonetheless raises competitive issues, the Commission will evaluate those issues. Filing Requirements Rule at 31,902.

we believe that ISOs and RTOs are pro-competitive and are effective at preventing market power abuse because they have Commission-approved market-monitoring and mitigation measures in place. Further, we continue to believe that, as stated in the Filing Requirements Rule, ''the standards set forth in Order No. 2000 [136] require extensive information from RTO applicants that we believe will demonstrate whether the proposal is in the public interest. It also has been our experience that anticompetitive effects are unlikely to arise with regard to internal corporate reorganizations or transactions that only involve the disposition of transmission facilities.'' [137] For these reasons, we adopt section 33.11(b)(1) as proposed in the NOPR.

191. With respect to proposed section 33.11(b)(2), the Commission will adopt commenters' proposal and expand that section to generally provide expedited review for ''transactions that do not require an Appendix A analysis.'' On further consideration, the Commission finds that it is not necessary to limit the transactions that will receive expedited review based on the amount of generation that is being transferred in the transaction. First, we note that the amount as well as the type of generation involved can have different market power consequences, depending on the situation, in different markets. Second, our current regulations, which allow applicants to file an abbreviated competitive analysis (e.g., an analysis that does not include an Appendix A analysis) in certain circumstances, permit us to seek additional information if it is needed to allow us to evaluate the effects of the transaction. Therefore, although in the first instance the applicant must decide whether to perform a full-fledged analysis, it is the Commission that ultimately decides whether such analysis is necessary and thus whether the filing qualifies for expedited review.

192. With respect to proposed section 33.11(b)(3), we agree with commenters that internal corporate reorganizations that do not present cross-subsidization issues are unlikely to cause anticompetitive effects. Thus, instead of providing expedited review for this category, the Commission is granting a blanket authorization for internal corporate reorganizations that do not present cross-subsidization issues and that do not involve a traditional public utility with captive customers.

193. With respect to the last category, proposed section 33.11(b)(4), we will not adopt the NOPR's proposal to expedite review for transactions involving the acquisition of a FUCO by a holding company with no captive customers in the U.S. Instead, we will grant a blanket authorization for any holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility company to acquire a foreign utility company. However, if such holding company or any of its affiliates, its subsidiaries, or associate companies within the holding company system have captive customers in the United States, the authorization is conditioned on the holding company verifying by a duly authorized corporate official of the holding company that the proposed transaction will not have any adverse effect on competition, rates, or regulation, and will not result in, at the time of the transaction or in the future: (1) Any transfer of facilities between a traditional utility associate company with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation and an associate company; (2) any new issuance of securities by traditional utility associate companies with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation for the benefit of an associate company; (3) any new pledge or encumbrance of assets of a traditional utility associate company with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation for the benefit of an associate company; or (4) any new affiliate contracts between non-utility associate companies and traditional utility associate companies with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation, other than non-power goods and services agreements subject to review under sections 205 and 206 of the FPA. Such transactions will be deemed approved only upon making a filing of these verifications.

194. Regarding notice periods, the Final Rule adopts the NOPR approach. Some commenters recommend that the Commission's default rule for all section 203 applications should be to provide the public 60 days to submit comments, and that the applicants should bear the burden or demonstrating that a shorter notice is appropriate. However, the Commission finds that the NOPR notice periods will allow us to continue processing section 203 applications quickly to allow reasonable business goals to be met. Accordingly, we expect to have a 60-day notice period for section 203 applications that involve, contain, or require a competitive analysis per the revised filing requirements, and a 21-day notice period for all other section 203 applications, except those that may raise cross-subsidization concerns. We will not formalize this policy by rule, so that we can be flexible to deal with varying circumstances. This will allow us to protect against some commenters' concerns that the public notice period would be ''unnecessarily short-circuited,'' and ensure that it will only be streamlined as appropriate.

B. Amendments to 18 CFR 2.26—The Merger Policy Statement

195. When the Commission considers a proposed transaction's effect on federal regulation, section 2.26(e)(1) states that ''[w]here the merged entity would be part of a registered public utility holding company, if applicants do not commit in their application to abide by this Commission's policies with regard to affiliate transactions, the Commission will set the issue for a trial-type hearing.''

196. However, in the NOPR, the Commission explained that because EPAct 2005 repeals PUHCA 1935,[138] activities of registered holding companies that were previously subject to SEC regulation, including inter-company transactions, will no longer be exempt from this Commission's regulation once PUHCA 1935 repeal takes effect on February 8, 2006.[139] Thus, the Commission stated that there is no longer a concern about any potential shift in regulation from this Commission to the SEC under the effect of regulation factor, and proposed to delete section 2.26(e)(1).[140]

197. Proposed new subsection 2.26(f) would state that the Commission will not approve a transaction that will result in cross-subsidization of a non-utility associate company or pledge or encumbrance of utility assets for the benefit of an associate company unless that cross-subsidization, pledge, or encumbrance will be consistent with the public interest.

1. Comments

198. Commenters did not specifically address the Commission's proposed section 2.26(e) and (f) amendments. However, some recommend that the Commission rethink its current merger policy and make important decisions as to what ''consistent with the public interest'' means in light of amended section 203 and the repeal of PUHCA 1935. Some comment that the Commission should broaden its public interest inquiry to consider ratepayer benefits on an application-specific basis; namely, applicants could propose an open season guarantee under which their existing wholesale requirements customers could terminate their contracts if the applicants request a rate increase affecting those customers for the first five years after the merger is consummated.

199. Ohio Commission comments that the Commission should consider factors in addition to those listed in section 2.26(b). It recommends that the Commission require that a holding company secure a letter of endorsement, or order, from any affected state regulatory commission in which the holding company has utility operations. It states that a similar endorsement requirement is used by the SEC to implement Rule 53 [141] regarding authority for registered holding company financings in connection with the acquisition of exempt wholesale generators.

200. Commenters also explain that, in light of amended section 203, the Commission should expect numerous section 203 applications seeking approval of ''cross-country'' (or interstate) mergers. They state that the Commission's current method for evaluating the effect of a proposed electric utility merger on competition, the Appendix A analysis, was developed when cross-country electric utility mergers were not common, because of PUHCA 1935. The ''impact on competition'' horizontal screen analysis looks primarily at whether competition will be lessened in the ''common'' markets where the merger applicants operate. They state that continued use of the Appendix A analysis alone may result in substantial industry consolidation.

201. TAPSG asserts that the Commission almost exclusively relies on the HHI aspect of the Appendix A analysis and fails to examine the other competitive effects of a transaction. It comments that the Commission should require applicants to submit documents and data, beyond those needed to perform the Appendix A analysis, including the kinds of information submitted to the antitrust agencies as part of the initial Hart-Scott-Rodino [142] notification, and should require applicants to submit supply curve analyses for each relevant market.

2. Commission Determination

202. With respect to commenters' specific concerns regarding the Commission's merger policy, we are not persuaded at this time to change our current policies. Our standard of review is flexible enough to consider any changes in market structure that ultimately result from the EPAct 2005 and the repeal of PUHCA 1935. However, once the Commission has gained more experience in evaluating section 203 applications under the new statute, we may consider reevaluating our merger policy in general. Accordingly, we adopt the proposal set forth in the NOPR with respect to amended sections 2.26(e) and (f).

IV. Information Collection Statement

203. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) regulations require that OMB approve certain reporting and recordkeeping requirements (collections of information) imposed by an agency.[143] The information collection requirements in this Final Rule are identified under the Commission's data collection, FERC–519, ''Applications Under Federal Power Act Section 203.'' Under section 3507(d) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995,[144] the reporting requirements in this rulemaking will be submitted to OMB for review.

204. Respondents subject to the filing requirements of this Final Rule will not be penalized for failing to respond to this collection of information unless the collection of information displays a valid OMB control number. ''Display'' is defined as publishing the OMB control number in regulations, guidelines, forms or other issuances in the Federal Register (for example, in the preamble or regulatory text for the Final Rule containing the information collection).[145]

Public Reporting Burden: In the NOPR, the Commission stated that the regulations that it proposed should have a minimal impact on the current reporting burden associated with an individual application, as they would not substantially change the filing requirements with which section 203 applicants must currently comply. Further, the Commission stated that it did not expect the total number of section 203 applications to increase substantially under amended section 203. The Commission received 42 comments on its NOPR and only GE EFS specifically addressed its estimates. GE EFS notes that the ''Information Collection Statement'' in the NOPR states that ''the Commission does not expect the total number of section 203 applications under amended section 203 to increase substantially.'' [146] GE EFS comments that, unless the Commission limits the overly broad scope of its proposed rules, the Commission will be burdened with applications for acquisitions of securities of QFs, which heretofore were exempted from section 203.[147] As noted above, we believe that the blanket authorizations granted herein for certain holding company acquisitions of non-voting securities and up to 9.9 percent of voting securities in electric utility companies will adequately address GE EFS' concerns. To the extent additional blanket authorizations are needed or appropriate, we will consider those on a case-by-case basis. Thus, we believe that we have lessened the burden on applicants subject to the requirements of amended section 203, including for applicants seeking to acquire securities of QFs. Therefore, the Commission will retain its initial estimates.

The Commission is submitting a copy of this Final Rule to OMB for review and approval. In their notice of December 9, 2005, OMB took no action on the NOPR, instead deferring their approval until review of the Final Rule.

Title: FERC–519, Applications Under Federal Power Act Section 203.

Action: Proposed Information Collection.

OMB Control No: 1902–0082.

Respondents: Businesses or other for profit.

Necessity of the Information: The information collected under the requirements of FERC–519 is used by the Commission to implement section 203 of the Federal Power Act and the Code of Federal Regulations under 18 CFR part 33 and 18 CFR 2.26. This Final Rule is limited to implementing amended section 203 of the FPA, which directs the Commission to adopt a rule to do so. Further, this Final Rule does not substantially change the current filing requirements or regulations that applicants must comply with for transactions subject to FPA section 203.

V. Environmental Analysis

207. The Commission is required to prepare an Environmental Assessment or an Environmental Impact Statement for any action that may have a significant adverse effect on the human environment.[148] The Commission concludes that neither an Environmental Assessment or an Environmental Impact Statement is required for this Final Rule under section 380.4(a)(2)(ii) of the Commission regulations, which provides a ''categorical exclusion for rules that do not substantively change the effect of legislation.''[149]

VI. Regulatory Flexibility Act Certification

208. The Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (RFA)[150] generally requires a description and analysis of final rules that will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.[151] The Commission is not required to make such analyses if a rule would not have such an effect.

209. The Commission adheres to its certification in the NOPR that this rulemaking will not have a significant economic impact upon a substantial number of small entities. As stated in the NOPR, EPAct 2005 directs the Commission to issue a rule adopting procedures for the expeditious consideration of applications for the approval of dispositions, consolidations, or acquisition, under this section. In accordance with this directive, this rule implements section 203 of the FPA. In particular, the rule increases the value threshold for filing a section 203 application with the Commission from transactions in excess of $50,000 to transactions in excess of $10 million (under amended section 203 of the FPA). Further, the RFA directs agencies to consider four regulatory alternatives to be considered in a rulemaking to lessen the impact on small entities: Tiering or establishment of different compliance or reporting requirements for small entities, classification, consolidation, clarification or simplification of compliance and reporting requirements, performance rather than design standards, and exemptions. In this Final Rule, the Commission has adopted tiering, and classification and simplification by classifying the types of holding acquisitions that qualify for a grant of blanket approval under section 203(a)(2). Further, the rule does not substantially change the current requirements and regulations that applicants must comply with for transactions subject to FPA section 203. Therefore, the Commission certifies that this rule will not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities.

VIII. Effective Date and Congressional Notification

213. This Final Rule will take effect on February 8, 2006. The Commission has determined, with the concurrence of the Administrator of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs of OMB, that this rule is not a major rule within the meaning of section 251 of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996.[152] The Commission will submit this Final Rule to both houses of Congress and the General Accountability Office.[153]

§ 2.26. Policies concerning review of applications under section 203.

(e) Effect on regulation. (1) Where the affected state commissions have authority to act on the transaction, the Commission will not set for hearing whether the transaction would impair effective regulation by the state commissions. The application should state whether the state commissions have this authority.

(2) Where the affected state commissions do not have authority to act on the transaction, the Commission may set for hearing the issue of whether the transaction would impair effective state regulation.

reviewing a proposed transaction subject to section 203, the Commission will also consider whether the proposed transaction will result in cross-subsidization of a non-utility associate company or pledge or encumbrance of utility assets for the benefit of an associate company, unless that cross-subsidization, pledge, or encumbrance will be consistent with the public interest.

PART 33—APPLICATIONS UNDER FEDERAL POWER ACT SECTION 203

■ 3. The authority citation for part 33 is revised to read as follows:

Authority: 16 U.S.C. 791a–825r, 2601–2645; 31 U.S.C. 9701; 42 U.S.C. 7101–7352; Pub. L. No. 109–58, 119 Stat. 594.

■ 4. The heading of part 33 is revised to read as set forth above.

■ 5. Section 33.1 is revised to read as follows:

§ 33.1. Applicability, definitions, and blanket authorizations.

(a) Applicability. (1) The requirements of this part will apply to any public utility seeking authorization under section 203 of the Federal Power Act to:

(i) Sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of the whole of its facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, or any part thereof of a value in excess of $10 million;

(ii) Merge or consolidate, directly or indirectly, such facilities or any part thereof with those of any other person, by any means whatsoever;

(iii) Purchase, acquire, or take any security with a value in excess of $10 million of any other public utility; or

(iv) Purchase, lease, or otherwise acquire an existing generation facility:

(A) That has a value in excess of $10 million; and

(B) That is used in whole or in part for wholesale sales in interstate commerce by a public utility.

(2) The requirements of this part shall also apply to any holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility if such holding company seeks to purchase, acquire, or take any security with a value in excess of $10 million of, or, by any means whatsoever, directly or indirectly, merge or consolidate with, a transmitting utility, an electric utility company, or a holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility, or an electric utility company, with a value in excess of $10 million.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this part, as used in section 203 of the Federal Power Act (16 U.S.C. 824b)

(1) Existing generation facility means a generation facility that is operational at or before the time the section 203 transaction is consummated. ''The time the transaction is consummated'' means the point in time when the transaction actually closes and control of the facility changes hands. ''Operational'' means a generation facility for which construction is complete (i.e., it is capable of producing power). The Commission will rebuttably presume that section 203(a) applies to the transfer of any existing generation facility unless the utility can demonstrate with substantial evidence that the generator is used exclusively for retail sales.

(2) Non-utility associate company means any associate company in a holding company system other than a public utility or electric utility company that has wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation.

(3) Value when applied to:

(i) Transmission facilities, generation facilities, transmitting utilities, electric utility companies, and holding companies, means the market value of the facilities or companies for transactions between non-affiliated companies; the Commission will rebuttably presume that the market value is the transaction price. For transactions between affiliated companies, value means original cost undepreciated, as defined in the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts prescribed for public utilities and licensees in part 101 of this chapter, or original book cost, as applicable;

(ii) Wholesale contracts, means the market value for transactions between non-affiliated companies; the Commission will rebuttably presume that the market value is the transaction price. For transactions between affiliated companies, value means total expected nominal contract revenues over the remaining life of the contract; and

(iii) Securities, means market value for transactions between non-affiliated companies; the Commission will rebuttably presume that the market value is the agreed-upon transaction price. For transactions between affiliated companies, value means market value if the securities are widely traded, in which case the Commission will rebuttably presume that market value is the market price at which the securities are being traded at the time the transaction occurs; if the securities are not widely traded, market value is determined by:

(A) Determining the value of the company that is the issuer of the equity securities based on the total undepreciated book value of the company's assets;

(B) Determining the fraction of the securities at issue by dividing the number of equity securities involved in the transaction by the total number of outstanding equity securities for the company; and

(C) Multiplying the value determined in paragraph (b)(3)(iii)(A) of this section by the value determined in paragraph (b)(3)(iii)(B) of this section (i.e., the value of the company multiplied by the fraction of the equity securities at issue).

(4) The terms associate company, electric utility company, foreign utility company, holding company, and holding company system have the meaning given those terms in the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 2005. The term holding company does not include: A State, any political subdivision of a State, or any agency, authority or instrumentality of a State or political subdivision of a State; or an electric power cooperative.

(c) Blanket Authorizations. (1) Any holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility is granted a blanket authorization under section 203(a)(2) of the Federal Power Act to purchase, acquire, or take any security of:

(i) A transmitting utility or company that owns, operates, or controls only facilities used solely for transmission in intrastate commerce and/or sales of electric energy in intrastate commerce;

(ii) A transmitting utility or company that owns, operates, or controls only facilities used solely for local distribution and/or sales of electric energy at retail regulated by a state commission; or

(iii) A transmitting utility or company if the transaction involves an internal corporate reorganization that does not present cross-subsidization issues and does not involve a traditional public utility with captive customers.

(2) Any holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility is granted a blanket authorization under section 203(a)(2) of the Federal Power Act to purchase, acquire, or take:

(i) Any non-voting security (that does not convey sufficient veto rights over management actions so as to convey control) in a transmitting utility, an electric utility company, or a holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility company; or

(ii) Any voting security in a transmitting utility, an electric utility company, or a holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility company if, after the acquisition, the holding company will own less than 10 percent of the outstanding voting securities; or

(iii) Any security of a subsidiary company within the holding company system.

(3) The blanket authorizations granted under paragraph (c)(2) of this section are subject to the conditions that the holding company shall not:

(i) Borrow from any electric utility company subsidiary in connection with such acquisition; or

(ii) Pledge or encumber the assets of any electric utility company subsidiary in connection with such acquisition;

(4) A holding company granted blanket authorizations in section (c)(2) shall provide the Commission with the same information, on the same basis, that the holding company provides to the Securities and Exchange Commission in connection with any securities purchased, acquired or taken pursuant to this section.

(5) Any holding company in a holding company system that includes a transmitting utility or an electric utility is granted a blanket authorization under section 203(a)(2) of the Federal Power Act to acquire a foreign utility company. However, if such holding company or any of its affiliates, its subsidiaries, or associate companies within the holding company system have captive customers in the United States, the authorization is conditioned on the holding company verifying by a duly authorized corporate official of the holding company that the proposed transaction:

(i) Will not have any adverse effect on competition, rates, or regulation; and

(ii) Will not result in, at the time of the transaction or in the future:

(A) Any transfer of facilities between a traditional utility associate company with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation and an associate company;

(B) Any new issuance of securities by traditional utility associate companies with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation for the benefit of an associate company;

(C) Any new pledge or encumbrance of assets of a traditional utility associate company with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation for the benefit of an associate company; or

(D) Any new affiliate contracts between non-utility associate companies and traditional utility associate companies with wholesale or retail customers served under cost-based regulation, other than non-power goods and services agreements subject to review under sections 205 and 206 of the Federal Power Act.

(iii) A transaction by a holding company subject to the conditions in paragraphs (c)(5)(i) and (ii) of this section will be deemed approved only upon filing the information required in paragraphs (c)(5)(i) and (ii) of this section.

■ 6. Section 33.2 is amended to add paragraph (j) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(j) An explanation, with appropriate evidentiary support for such explanation (to be identified as Exhibit M to the application):

(1) Of how applicants are providing assurance that the proposed transaction will not result in cross-subsidization of a non-utility associate company or pledge or encumbrance of utility assets for the benefit of an associate company; or

(2) If no such assurance can be provided, an explanation of how such cross-subsidization, pledge, or encumbrance will be consistent with the public interest.

■ 7. Section 33.11 is added to read as follows:

§ 33.11. Commission procedures for the consideration of applications under section 203 of the FPA.

(a) The Commission will act on a completed application for approval of a transaction (i.e., one that is consistent with the requirements of this part) not later than 180 days after the completed application is filed. If the Commission does not act within 180 days, such application shall be deemed granted unless the Commission finds, based on good cause, that further consideration is required to determine whether the proposed transaction meets the standards of section 203(a)(4) of the FPA and issues, by the 180th day, an order tolling the time for acting on the application for not more than 180 days, at the end of which additional period the Commission shall grant or deny the application.

(b) The Commission will provide for the expeditious consideration of completed applications for the approval of transactions that are not contested, do not involve mergers, and are consistent with Commission precedent. The transactions that would generally warrant expedited review include:

(1) A disposition of only transmission facilities, particularly those that both before and after the transaction remain under the functional control of a Commission-approved regional transmission organization or independent system operator; and

(2) Transactions that do not require an Appendix A analysis.[1]

National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants: Surface Coating of Metal Cans

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Direct final rule; amendments.

SUMMARY: EPA is taking direct final action on amendments to the national emission standards for hazardous air pollutants (NESHAP) for surface coating of metal cans, which were promulgated on November 13, 2003, under section 112 of the Clean Air Act (CAA). The direct final rule amendments correct errors and add clarification to sections of the rule. We are issuing the amendments as a direct final rule, without prior proposal, because we view the revisions as noncontroversial and anticipate no adverse comments. However, in the Proposed Rules section of this Federal Register notice, we are publishing a separate document that will serve as the proposal to amend the NESHAP for surface coating of metal cans if adverse comments are filed. Any comments on the revisions should be directed to the proposed rule.

DATES: The direct final rule is effective on March 7, 2006 without further notice, unless EPA receives adverse written comment by February 6, 2006. If adverse comments are received, EPA will publish a timely withdrawal in the Federal Register indicating which amendments will become effective and which amendments are being withdrawn due to adverse comment.

ADDRESSES: Submit your comments, identified by Docket ID No. OAR–2003–0005, by one of the following methods:

However, in the Proposed Rules section of this Federal Register, we are publishing a separate document that will serve as the proposal to amend the NESHAP for surface coating of metal cans if adverse comments are filed. If we receive any adverse comments on one or more distinct amendments, we will publish a timely withdrawal in the Federal Register informing the public which amendments will become effective, and which amendments are being withdrawn due to adverse comment. We will address all public comments in a subsequent final rule, should the Agency determine to issue one. Any of the distinct amendments in today's direct final rule for which we do not receive adverse comment will become effective on the previously mentioned date. We will not institute a second comment period on the direct final rule amendments. Any parties interested in commenting must do so at this time.

Judicial Review. Under section 307(b)(1) of the CAA, judicial review of the direct final rule amendments is available only by filing a petition for review in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit by March 7, 2006. Under section 307(d)(7)(B) of the CAA, only an objection to the direct final rule amendments which was raised with reasonable specificity during the period for public comment can be raised during judicial review. Moreover, under section 307(b)(2) of the CAA, the requirements established by the direct final rule amendments may not be challenged separately in any civil or criminal proceedings brought by EPA to enforce these requirements.

In addition to being available in the docket, an electronic copy of today's direct final rule amendments will also be available on the WWW through the Technology Transfer Network (TTN). Following the Administrator's signature, a copy of this action will be posted on the TTN's policy and guidance page for newly proposed or promulgated rules at http://www.epa.gov/ttn/oarpg/. The TTN provides information and technology exchange in various areas of air pollution control.

I. Background

EPA promulgated NESHAP for surface coating of metal cans on November 13, 2003 (68 FR 64432). The final rule (40 CFR part 63, subpart KKKK) includes standards for hazardous air pollutants (HAP), as well as monitoring, performance testing, recordkeeping, and reporting requirements related to the standards. After promulgation of the final rule, EPA received numerous questions relating to rule interpretation. The questions pointed out minor inconsistencies in some of the rule language and equations and identified areas where the rule requirements were not clear. Today's action includes direct final rule amendments that resolve inconsistencies and clarify rule language. None of the amendments will have any discernable effect on the stringency of the rule.

II. Amendments to 40 CFR Part 63, Subpart KKKK

In response to the proposed rule (68 FR 2110, January 15, 2003), EPA received a question related to compliance with parametric monitoring after testing but before the compliance date. In the final rule, EPA retained language from the proposed rule that requires affected sources to meet operating limits once the performance test used to establish those limits is complete, even if this occurs before the actual compliance date. EPA failed to make an intended change for the final rule to clarify that existing affected sources do not have to meet the operating limits prior to the compliance date. We have rewritten 40 CFR 63.3492 to state that new and reconstructed sources must meet the operating limits at all times after they have been established during the performance test, and existing sources must meet the operating limits at all times after the compliance date of November 13, 2006.

A question was raised concerning the definition of major source in the final rule versus the definition of major source in the General Provisions of 40 CFR part 63. To be consistent with the definition of major source in 40 CFR 63.2 of the General Provisions, we added the phrase ''considering controls'' to the description of a major source of HAP emissions in 40 CFR 63.3481(b).

A question was raised about the omission of clarifying text stating that all required calculations and compliance demonstrations may be performed with either metric or English units. In response, we have added language clarifying that all required calculations and all compliance demonstrations may be performed using either metric or English units in 40 CFR 63.3521, 63.3531, and 63.3541, as was intended.

A question was raised about the inclusion of cleaning materials in compliance calculations and equations. EPA erroneously made a change between the proposed and final rule that added cleaning materials as HAP-containing materials and included them in compliance calculations in 40 CFR 63.3541(h). Several other surface coating maximum achievable control technology (MACT) rules include cleaning materials as part of the calculation of total mass of organic HAP; however, as stated in the preamble to the proposed rule (January 15, 2003, 68 FR 2130), emissions data collected for the metal can industry did not show any significant HAP associated with cleaning materials. Therefore, we have removed references to cleaning materials in the text in 40 CFR 63.3522 and 63.3561, as well as references to cleaning materials in equations which also resulted in modifications to the associated equation numbering in 40 CFR 63.3510, 63.3511, and 63.3512. The term ''surface preparation'' was removed in 40 CFR 63.3544(b), since this term is defined to mean the use of a cleaning material on a substrate. These revisions are discussed in more detail below.

Section 63.3522, paragraph (c) pertaining to identifying those coating operations for which affected sources use the compliant material option in the semiannual compliance report, was revised to exclude the application of cleaning materials as a coating operation.

Section 63.3561 includes the definition of terms used in this subpart, including the definition of ''capture system'' which is defined in terms of coatings and cleaning materials. Capture systems will not be required to collect emissions from cleaning materials, so the definition of ''capture system'' no longer contains a reference to cleaning materials.

Section 63.3510, paragraph (c)(8)(ii), pertaining to the notification of compliance requirements for affected sources using the emission rate without add-on controls option, was revised to reference Equations 1, 1A, 1B, 2, and 3 of 40 CFR 63.3531 for calculating the total mass of organic HAP emissions for each month, the total volume of coating solids used each month, and the 12-month organic HAP emission rate, respectively.

Section 63.3510, paragraph (c)(8)(iii) pertains to affected sources using the emission rate with add-on controls option. The notification of compliance will now require the use of Equations 1, 1A, and 1B of 40 CFR 63.3531 to calculate the total mass of organic HAP emissions for the coatings and thinners used each month. Also, the calculation of the mass of organic HAP emission reduction each month by emission capture systems and add-on control devices will now be performed by using Equations 1 and 1A through 1C of 40 CFR 63.3541, and Equations 2, 3, 3A, and 3B of 40 CFR 63.3541, as applicable.

In 40 CFR 63.3511, which pertains to reporting requirements for affected sources, references to equations to be used to calculate the total mass of organic HAP emissions for the coatings and thinners used each month were revised in the second sentence of paragraph (a)(6)(ii) to include Equations 1, 1A, 1B, 2, and 3 in 40 CFR 63.3531; and in the second sentence of paragraph (a)(7)(ii) to include Equations 1, 1A, and 1B of 40 CFR 63.3531. In addition, the calculation for the mass of organic HAP emission reduction each month by emission capture systems and add-on control devices will now use Equations 1 and 1A through 1C of 40 CFR 63.3541, and Equations 2, 3, 3A, and 3B of 40 CFR 63.3541, as applicable.

Section 63.3512 contains recordkeeping requirements. References to each equation were revised in paragraph (c)(3) to include Equations 1, 1A, 1B, and 2 of 40 CFR 63.3531 to be used to calculate the total mass of organic HAP emissions for the coatings and thinners used each month for the emission rate without add-on controls option; paragraph (c)(4)(i) was revised to include Equations 1, 1A, and 1B of 40 CFR 63.3531 to be used to calculate the total mass of organic HAP emissions for the coatings and thinners used each month; and paragraph (c)(4)(iii) was revised to include Equations 1 and 1A through 1C, 2, 3, 3A, and 3B of 40 CFR 63.3541 to be used to calculate the mass of organic HAP emission reduction by emission capture systems and add-on control devices.

Section 63.3544, paragraph (b), pertains to measuring capture efficiency during a production run of at least 3 hours and up to 8 hours, where the production run is defined as the time required for a single part to go from the beginning to the end of production. The term production run was redefined to exclude surface preparation activities which involve the use of cleaning materials.

EPA received comments requesting that it include six additional cross-references to the overall subcategory emission limit (OSEL) in the notification, reports, and records sections of this subpart, in 40 CFR 63.3510, 63.3511, and 63.3512, respectively. The OSEL is a 12-month alternative emission limit that can be used if the affected source applies coatings in more than one coating type segment within a subcategory and can be calculated by using Equation 4 in 40 CFR 63.3531(i). We have rewritten five sentences to reference OSEL Equation 4 in addition to the existing formula references and added one new sentence. The same five sentences were also affected by the deletion of the reference to cleaning materials, as discussed above.

A comment was made pertaining to remaining references to 40 CFR 63.3547(g) and 63.3557(g), paragraphs pertaining to requirements for continuous parameter monitoring for emission rate with the add-on controls option and for the control efficiency/outlet concentration option, respectively, that appeared in the proposed rule but were not included in the final rule. We are removing the remaining references to these paragraphs in 40 CFR 63.3547(a) and 63.3557(a). A similar reference to 40 CFR 63.3546(g) remained in Table 4 to Subpart KKKK of Part 63, Item 8.a.i, was also removed.

A comment was made pertaining to redundant language in 40 CFR 63.3547(a)(1) and 63.3557(a)(1), pertaining to continuous parameter monitoring system (CPMS) frequency of data collection. These sections state that the CPMS must complete a minimum of one cycle of operation for each successive 15-minute period. They then state that you must have a minimum of four equally spaced successive cycles of CPMS operation in 1 hour. The second sentence is redundant and is now removed from each section.

A comment was made pertaining to the need to clarify the frequency of data collection for CPMS for permanent total enclosure (PTE) capture systems in Table 4 to Subpart KKKK of Part 63, Item 7, and the number of data points needed to establish the 3-hour average for the non-PTE emission capture operating parameters in Table 4, Item 8. For emission capture systems and add-on control devices, the frequency of data collection and the number of data collection points is specified in 40 CFR 63.3547(a)(1) and (2) and 40 CFR 63.3557(a)(1) and (2), which state that the CPMS must complete a minimum of one cycle of operation for each successive 15-minute period, and the average of all recorded readings must be determined for each successive 3-hour period. These sections apply to emission capture systems (PTE and non-PTE) and add-on control devices. We are, therefore, transferring this language and references to 40 CFR 63.3547(a)(1) and (2) and 40 CFR 63.3557 (a)(1) and (2) to Table 4 to Subpart KKKK of Part 63, Items 7 and 8, for clarification.

A question was raised as to whether a bypass line valve indicator or a damper indicator would be acceptable in place of the capture system bypass line flow indicator required in paragraph (b)(1) of 40 CFR 63.3547. The alternate indicators would meet the CPMS requirements by recording the position of the bypass valve damper at least once every 15 minutes to ensure the bypass line is in the closed position and would not divert emissions away from the add-on control device directly to the atmosphere. We are, therefore, modifying the text to add the two alternate indicators.

A question was raised as to whether static pressure could be measured at the oxidizer inlet as an alternative to the requirement to measure the static pressure in each capture system duct as required by Table 4 to Subpart KKKK of Part 63, Item 8, to show that the capture system is working. EPA agrees that this approach would be acceptable, but consider it critical to address the position of the pressure measurement relative to the flow inducer and that ''at the inlet of the oxidizer'' is not descriptive enough. We, therefore, added new language requiring measurement of static pressure ''upstream of the fan'' in the duct of each capture device or ''upstream of the fan that is common to multiple capture devices'' versus ''at the inlet of the oxidizer.'' Language was also added to differentiate between smaller safety fans (on the outlet of ovens that also act as capture devices) and fans that serve as the primary air movers. This allows for the affected source to monitor pressure downstream of the safety fan, but upstream of the primary fan. Language was also added to refer back to the required performance testing in 40 CFR 63.3546(g) in order to establish the limits for gas volumetric flow rate and duct static pressure. Conforming changes were then made to 40 CFR 63.3546(g).

III. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

A. Executive Order 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review

Under Executive Order 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993), EPA must determine whether the regulatory action is ''significant'' and, therefore, subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and the requirements of the Executive Order. The Executive Order defines ''significant regulatory action'' as one that is likely to result in a rule that may:

(1) Have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more or adversely affect in a material way the economy, a sector of the economy, productivity, competition, jobs, the environment, public health or safety, or State, local, or tribal governments or communities;

(2) Create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency;

(3) Materially alter the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs, or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; or

(4) Raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President's priorities, or the principles set forth in the Executive Order.

It has been determined that this rule is not a ''significant regulatory action'' under the terms of Executive Order 12866 and is, therefore, not subject to OMB review.

B. Paperwork Reduction Act

This action does not impose any new information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq. OMB approved the information collection request (ICR) for the NESHAP for metal can surface coating pursuant to the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act and has assigned OMB control number 2060–0541 (EPA ICR No. 2079.02). A copy of the original ICR may be obtained from Susan Auby by mail at the Office of Environmental Information, Collection Strategies Division (2822), EPA, 1200 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20460, by e-mail at auby.susan@epa.gov, or by calling (202) 566–1672. You may also download a copy from the internet at http://www.epa.gov/icr. Include the ICR number in any correspondence.

Burden means the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose or provide information to or for a Federal agency. This includes the time needed to review instructions; develop, acquire, install, and utilize technology and systems for the purposes of collecting, validating, and verifying information, processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information; adjust the existing ways to comply with any previously applicable instructions and requirements; train personnel to be able to respond to a collection of information; search data sources; complete and review the collection of information; and transmit or otherwise disclose the information.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. The OMB control numbers for EPA's regulations in 40 CFR are listed in 40 CFR part 9.

C. Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

EPA has determined that it is not necessary to prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis in connection with the direct final rule amendments.

For purposes of assessing the impacts of today's direct final rule on small entities, small entity is defined as: (1) A small business as defined by the Small Business Administrations' regulations at 13 CFR 121.201; (2) a small governmental jurisdiction that is a government of a city, county, town, school district or special district with a population of less than 50,000; and (3) a small organization that is any not-for-profit enterprise which is independently owned and operated and is not dominant in its field.

After considering the economic impacts of today's direct final rule amendments on small entities, EPA has concluded that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. We have determined that the direct final rule amendments will not impose any new requirements on small entities.

D. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

Title II of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (UMRA), Public Law No. 104–4, establishes requirements for Federal agencies to assess the effects of their regulatory actions on State, local, and tribal governments and the private sector. Under section 202 of the UMRA, EPA generally must prepare a written statement, including a cost-benefit analysis, for proposed and final rules with ''Federal mandates'' that may result in expenditures to State, local, and tribal governments, in the aggregate, or to the private sector, of $100 million or more in any 1 year. Before promulgating a rule for which a written statement is needed, section 205 of the UMRA generally requires us to identify and consider a reasonable number of regulatory alternatives and adopt the least costly, most cost-effective, or least burdensome alternative that achieves the objectives of the rule. The provisions of section 205 do not apply when they are inconsistent with applicable law. Moreover, section 205 allows us to adopt an alternative other than the least costly, most cost-effective, or least burdensome alternative if the Administrator publishes with the final rule an explanation why that alternative was not adopted. Before EPA establishes any regulatory requirements that may significantly or uniquely affect small governments, including tribal governments, it must have developed under section 203 of the UMRA a small government agency plan. The plan must provide for notifying potentially affected small governments, enabling officials of affected small governments to have meaningful and timely input in the development of EPA regulatory proposals with significant Federal intergovernmental mandates, and informing, educating, and advising small governments on compliance with the regulatory requirements.

EPA has determined that the direct final rule amendments do not contain a Federal mandate that may result in expenditures of $100 million or more for State, local, and tribal governments, in the aggregate, or the private sector in any 1 year. The direct final rule amendments apply only to affected sources in the metal can industry and clarify and correct errors in the final rule and, therefore, add no additional burden on sources. EPA has determined that this rule contains no regulatory requirements that might significantly or uniquely affect small governments. The direct final rule amendments apply only to affected sources in the metal can industry and clarify and correct errors in the final rule. Thus, the direct final rule amendments are not subject to the requirements of sections 202 and 205 of the UMRA.

E. Executive Order 13132, Federalism

Executive Order 13132, entitled ''Federalism'' (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999), requires EPA to develop an accountable process to ensure ''meaningful and timely input by State and local officials in the development of regulatory policies that have federalism implications.'' ''Policies that have federalism implications'' is defined in the Executive Order to include regulations that have ''substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.''

The direct final rule amendments do not have federalism implications. They will not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, as specified in Executive Order 13132. No metal can production facilities subject to the direct final rule amendments are owned or operated by State or local governments. Therefore, State and local governments will not have any direct compliance costs resulting from the direct final rule amendments. Furthermore, the direct final rule amendments do not require these governments, or anyone else, to take on any new responsibilities. Thus, Executive Order 13132 does not apply to the direct final rule amendments.

F. Executive Order 13175, Consultation and Coordination With Indian Tribal Governments

Executive Order 13175, entitled ''Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments'' (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000), requires EPA to develop an accountable process to ensure ''meaningful and timely input by tribal officials in the development of regulatory policies that have tribal implications.'' The direct final rule amendments do not have tribal implications as specified in Executive Order 13175. They will not have substantial direct effects on tribal governments, on the relationship between the Federal government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal government and Indian tribes, because we are not aware of any Indian tribal governments or communities affected by the direct final rule amendments. Thus, Executive Order 13175 does not apply to the direct final rule amendments.

G. Executive Order 13045, Protection of Children From Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks

Executive Order 13045 (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997) applies to any rule that: (1) Is determined to be ''economically significant'' as defined under Executive Order 12866, and (2) concerns an environmental health or safety risk that EPA has reason to believe may have a disproportionate effect on children. If the regulatory action meets both criteria, the Agency must evaluate the environmental health or safety effects of the planned rule on children, and explain why the planned regulation is preferable to other potentially effective and reasonably feasible alternatives considered by the Agency.

EPA interprets Executive Order 13045 as applying only to those regulatory actions that are based on health or safety risks, such that the analysis required under section 5–501 of the Executive Order has the potential to influence the regulation. The direct final rule amendments are not subject to Executive Order 13045 because they are based on technology performance and not on health or safety risks.

H. Executive Order 13211, Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use

The direct final rule amendments are not subject to Executive Order 13211 (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001) because they are not a significant regulatory action under Executive Order 12866.

I. National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act

Section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act (NTTAA) of 1995, Public Law No. 104–113, 12(d) (15 U.S.C. 272 note) directs EPA to use voluntary consensus standards (VCS) in its regulatory activities unless to do so would be inconsistent with applicable law or otherwise impractical. The VCS are technical standards (e.g., materials specifications, test methods, sampling procedures, and business practices) that are developed or adopted by VCS bodies. The NTTAA directs EPA to provide Congress, through the OMB, explanations when the Agency decides not to use available and applicable VCS.

The direct final rule amendments do not involve technical standards; therefore, EPA is not adopting any VCS.

J. Congressional Review Act

The Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. 801, et seq., as added by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States. EPA will submit a report containing the direct final rule amendments and other required information to the United States Senate, the United States House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the direct final rule amendments in the Federal Register. A major rule cannot take effect until 60 days after it is published in the Federal Register. The direct final rule amendments are not a ''major rule'' as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2). The direct final rule amendments are effective on March 7, 2006.

Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

For a complete discussion of all of the administrative requirements applicable to this action, see the direct final rule in the Rules and Regulations section of today's Federal Register.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) generally requires an agency to prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis of any rule subject to notice and comment rulemaking requirements under the Administrative Procedure Act or any other statute unless the agency certifies that the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Small entities include small businesses, small organizations, and small governmental jurisdictions.

For purposes of assessing the impact of today's technical amendments on small entities, a small entity is defined as: (1) A small business ranging from 500 to 1,000 employees as defined by the Small Business Administration's size standards; (2) a small governmental jurisdiction that is a government of a city, county, town, school district or special district with a population of less than 50,000; and (3) a small organization that is any not-for-profit enterprise which is independently owned and operated and is not dominant in its field.

After considering the economic impacts of today's proposed rule amendments on small entities, I certify that the proposed rule amendments will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The proposed rule amendments will not impose any new requirements on small entities.
