* as defined in Section 47(6) of the Arms Export Control Act.

i. The M130 Flare and Chaff Dispenser consists of the dispenser assembly and the payload module. These components dispense decoy objects to confuse threat radar devices. Radar cross section and frequency coverage are sensitive elements. The hardware is unclassified; releasable technical publications for operation and maintenance are unclassified. Aircraft optimization is the critical element; reverse engineering is not a major concern.

j. The Integrated Helmet Display Sight System (IHDSS) is an enhanced version of its predecessor. It will provide improved operational performance primarily in resolution allowing greater utilization of the M-TADS/M-PNVS performance enhancements. The hardware is unclassified.

2. If a technologically advanced adversary were to obtain knowledge of the specific hardware and software elements, the information could be used to develop countermeasures which might reduce weapon system effectiveness or be used in the development of a system with similar or advanced capabilities.
