

meetings of the Council include a public session, unless otherwise agreed by the two governments. Under Chapter 19, the two governments agreed to undertake eight specific cooperative activities set out in Annex 19.3 of the Chapter and to negotiate a United States-Chile Environmental Cooperation Agreement to further environmental cooperative activities. The United States-Chile Environmental Cooperation Agreement (the "ECA") entered into force on May 1, 2004 and sets out a framework for environmental cooperative activities between the two governments. Article II of the ECA establishes the United States-Chile Joint Commission for Environmental Cooperation (the "Commission"), with responsibilities that include developing and periodically reviewing a Work Program. The Commission is required to meet at least every two years. The first meetings of the Council and the Commission were held on July 22, 2004, in Santiago, Chile, and the second meeting of the Council was held on October 24, 2005, in Washington, DC. Issues of mutual concern related to Chapter 19 of the FTA and progress reports on the eight cooperation projects under Chapter 19 were discussed at the second meeting of the Council. At the upcoming third meeting of the Council and second meeting of the Commission, the Council and Commission will consider implementation of the Chapter, including with respect to public participation, input from advisory committees, review of cooperative projects, the 2005–2006 ECA Work Program, and a proposed 2007–2008 ECA Work Program. At these meetings, the Council and Commission will also consider recommendations for future bilateral environmental cooperation.

The public is advised to refer to the State Department Web site at <http://www.state.gov/g/oes/env/> for further information related to the Council and Commission meetings.
