Proposed Project

A Site Specific Modular Evaluation Instrument for Behavior Outcome Measurement—New—Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (ATSDR), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

ATSDR considers evaluation to be a critical component for enhancing program effectiveness and improving resource management. ATSDR's mandate under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA), as amended, is to help prevent or reduce further exposures at hazardous waste sites and the illnesses that result from such exposures. A standardized methodology to monitor outcomes associated with agency intervention will provide the data needed for demonstrating effectiveness and efficiency as well as identifying areas for improvement.

ATSDR, in cooperation with our cooperative agreement partners, is developing a series of survey modules designed to measure individual attitudes, knowledge, and behaviors, and to provide mental and physical health self-assessments, that may be influenced by health education and health promotion efforts conducted by the agency at hazardous waste sites. These modules will be used to determine knowledge improvements, attitude shifts, and behavior change following specific ATSDR program efforts and activities. The module or modules used at each program site will vary depending on the contaminant(s) of concern and the health education/promotion actions undertaken. In addition, the timing of the data collection will vary depending on whether this is a new program site or one that has had health education/promotion activities underway for some time. In general, for new sites or existing sites with new intervention efforts, we would aim for two data collections: one baseline and one post-intervention. At existing sites where ATSDR interventions have been completed, we would conduct one post-intervention data collection.

Health education and promotion activities are conducted at approximately 250 sites annually. We estimate that 90% of the program sites will have populations of 10,000 or fewer persons who have been exposed, or potentially exposed, to contaminants of concern. We expect to survey up to 150 respondents at each site in this category. At sites with exposed or potentially exposed populations of more than 10,000 persons, we expect to survey up to 500 respondents at each site.

Using a standardized methodology and survey instrument to assess outcomes related to targeted intervention activities at hazardous waste sites will provide the agency with important feedback for program improvement. There will be no costs to respondents except for their time to participate in the survey.

Program Exclusions: October 2006

AGENCY: Office of Inspector General, HHS.

ACTION: Notice of program exclusions.

Important Announcement: The Office of Inspector General (OIG) will discontinue publication of monthly exclusion actions in the Federal Register in 1 month. Downloadable files of exclusion actions taken each month are available on the OIG's Web site. In addition, the website has a downloadable data file and an online searchable database containing all exclusion actions currently in effect. This data is called the List of Excluded Individuals/Entities (LEIE) and is located at <http://oig.hhs.gov>. Click on Exclusions Database to access the LEIE and other important information about the OIG's exclusion program.

During the month of October 2006, the HHS Office of Inspector General imposed exclusions in the cases set forth below. When an exclusions is imposed, no program payment is made to anyone for any items or services (other than an emergency item or service not provided in a hospital emergency room) furnished, ordered or prescribed by an excluded party under the Medicare, Medicaid, and all Federal Health Care programs. In addition, no program payment is made to any business or facility, e.g., a hospital, that submits bills for payment for items or services provided by an excluded party. Program beneficiaries remain free to decide for themselves whether they will continue to use the services of an excluded party even though no program payments will be made for items and services provided by that excluded party. The exclusions have national effect and also apply to all Executive Branch procurement and non-procurement programs and activities.
