II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, Nasdaq included statements concerning the purpose of, and basis for, the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item III below. Nasdaq has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

Existing Nasdaq rules provide the authority to waive entry, application and annual fees.⁴ Pursuant to this authority, Nasdaq has determined to waive the entry and application fee for any company that was suspended⁵ and/or delisted from the Nasdaq Stock Market solely for its failure to file a required periodic report with the Commission or other appropriate regulatory authority, if the company regains compliance with this requirement and applies to relist on Nasdaq within one year of the date it is delisted from Nasdaq. In addition, if such a company relists during the same calendar year that it has previously paid an annual fee, the company will not be subject to a second annual fee in that same year.

Nasdaq believes that this waiver is appropriate given that, on average, the review of such an issuer is likely to be simpler than the typical application for several reasons. First, because these companies were previously listed on Nasdaq and compliant with all requirements except the filing requirement, it is more likely that they will be compliant with all other quantitative and qualitative the meaning, administration, or enforcement of these existing rules. See, e.g., Securities Exchange Act Release No. 49133 (January 28, 2004), 69 FR 5630 (February 5, 2004) (SR-NASD-2003-198); Securities Exchange Act Release No. 49286 (February 19, 2004), 69 FR 8999 (February 26, 2004) (SR-NASD-2004-004). More recently, the New York Stock Exchange has submitted a filing to waive listing fees subject to Commission approval under section 19(b)(2) of the Act, 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(2). See Securities Exchange Release No. 55421 (March 8, 2007), 72 FR 11925 (March 14, 2007) (SR-NYSE-2007-19). As a result, Market Regulation staff has advised Nasdaq that this proposed rule change should also be filed under section 19(b)(2). Although Nasdaq is following staff's guidance in this case, Nasdaq notes that the rules authorizing waivers of listing fees have been in effect for an extensive period of time, having first been approved as NASD rules in 1991, and then re-approved by the Commission as rules of Nasdaq during its registration as a national securities exchange. Accordingly, it is Nasdaq's view that nothing in this filing should be construed to restrict Nasdaq's approved authority to waive listing fees with respect to particular issuers in appropriate circumstances, nor should this filing be construed to restrict the submission of filings on an immediately effective basis in appropriate circumstances.

The Commission notes that the waiver authority referred to in the Nasdaq Rules was specifically intended to grant Nasdaq flexibility to waive fees on a case-by-case basis. See Securities Exchange Release No. 28731 (January 2, 1991), 56 FR 906 (January 9, 1991) (SR-NASD-90-61). The Commission does not believe it is, as a general matter, appropriate to allow for the waiver of fees to a class of non-members without first providing interested persons an opportunity to comment on the proposed rule change pursuant to section 19(b)(2) under the Act.

⁵ Nasdaq Rule 4802(f) requires a security to meet the requirements for initial listing (which include the requirement to pay the applicable listing fees) if the security has been the subject of a decision to delist by a Listing Qualifications Panel, the Nasdaq Listing and Hearing Review Council or the Nasdaq Board.

requirements. Further, relevant information about these companies is already contained in Nasdaq's compliance systems. Finally, Nasdaq anticipates that there would be fewer questions concerning the company's financial statements given that these companies will often have undergone extensive review by their auditors and, in some cases, by independent investigators and the Commission or other regulatory entities, in order to resolve the issues that caused the late filings.

Nasdaq is implementing these waivers to incent companies to re-list on Nasdaq once they regain compliance with the periodic filing requirement, rather than seek a listing elsewhere. Nasdaq believes that this waiver is appropriate, especially because Nasdaq's rules governing the delisting of companies that are delinquent in periodic reports are generally stricter than those of other markets. As such, the proposed waivers will promote competition between Nasdaq and other exchange markets.

The proposed rule change will not affect Nasdaq's commitment of resources to its regulatory oversight of the listing process or its other regulatory programs. Specifically, Nasdaq will still conduct a complete review of these companies for compliance with Nasdaq listing standards in the same manner as any other company applying for listing on Nasdaq. Any fee waiver under this proposed rule is predicated on the Company successfully completing that review process and demonstrating compliance with the initial listing requirements.

Finally, Nasdaq proposes to delete a duplicative provision in Rule 4520(b). Currently, Rule 4520(b)(6) is identical to Rule 4520(b)(2). As such, Nasdaq proposes to delete Rule 4520(b)(6).

2. Statutory Basis

Nasdaq believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the provisions of Section 6 of the Act,⁶ in general, and with Section 6(b)(4) of the Act,⁷ in particular. Nasdaq believes that the proposed waivers are equitable and reasonable because these companies previously paid entry and annual fees to Nasdaq and to again charge such fees would impose duplicative costs.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

Nasdaq does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants or Others

Written comments were neither solicited nor received.
