Research funded under this Cooperative Agreement will involve gathering and analyzing data in order to answer the research questions outlined in this solicitation. Research funded as a result of this solicitation will build and expand upon existing research on child labor in the carpet industry in the three countries.

ILAB is authorized to award and administer a Cooperative Agreement for this purpose by Section 20607 of the Revised Continuing Appropriations Resolution 2007, Pub L. 110-05, 121 Stat 8 (2007). The Cooperative Agreement awarded under this solicitation will be managed by ILAB's Office of Child Labor, Forced Labor, and Human Trafficking (OCFT). 1. Background

A. USDOL Support for the Global Elimination of Exploitive Child Labor

ILAB conducts research and commissions studies to inform and formulate international economic, trade, immigration and labor policies in collaboration with other U.S. Government agencies and provides technical assistance to countries abroad in support of U.S. foreign labor policy objectives. OCFT, formerly the International Child Labor Program (ICLP), was created at the request of Congress in 1993 to specifically research and report on child labor around the world. More recently Congress, through the Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2005, directed ILAB to include, among its responsibilities, monitoring and combating forced labor and human trafficking. Today, OCFT develops policy, conducts research, and implements technical cooperation projects to eradicate exploitive child labor, trafficking in persons, and forced labor worldwide.

Since 1994, ILAB has published over 20 congressionally-mandated reports and has funded various research initiatives on international child labor, which have been widely distributed in the United States and abroad. The congressionally-mandated reports appear in ILAB's By the Sweat and Toil of Children and Advancing the Campaign Against Child Labor report series. Beginning in 2001, the USDOL's Findings on the Worst Forms of Child Labor annual report has focused on child labor in trade beneficiary countries and countries with which the United States has negotiated free trade agreements. In 2006, ILAB hosted a research symposium, Linking Theory and Practice to Eliminate the Worst Forms of Child Labor, to further advance the knowledge base on child labor, and provide a forum to promote dialogue between researchers and practitioners on the barriers to education for working children. All of these research products can be found at the USDOL Web site, <http://www.dol.gov/ILAB/programs/iclp/>.

In addition to ILAB's research activities, USDOL funds technical cooperation projects that include direct action to prevent and withdraw children from exploitive child labor, particularly the worst forms of child labor, and carry out various research activities to inform policy and program design. Since 1995, the U.S. Congress has appropriated $595 million to USDOL for efforts to combat exploitive child labor internationally. This funding has been used to support
