

the amendment application on June 8, 2005, and published notice in the Federal Register on June 15, 2005.³ Movant therefore was on notice of licensee's application, but failed to timely respond to it.⁴ Allowing late intervention at this point in the proceedings would create prejudice and additional burdens on the Commission and its applicants.

The Commission expects parties to intervene in a timely manner based on the reasonably foreseeable issues arising from the applicant's filings and the Commission's notice of proceedings.⁵ The Commission has held that the party bears the responsibility for determining when a proceeding is relevant to its interests, such that it should file a motion to intervene. When a party fails to intervene in a timely fashion, the party assumes the risk that the case will be settled in a manner that is not to its liking.⁶ The Commission has previously explained that an entity cannot "sleep on its rights" and then seek untimely intervention.⁷ Therefore, Friends of the River's argument that it would not have known of its actual need to become a party in the proceeding until the Commission issued its environmental determinations in the EA is without merit.

Movant has failed to demonstrate good cause standard for granting late intervention. The motion for late intervention in these proceedings filed by movant is therefore denied.

This notice constitutes final agency action. Requests for rehearing by the Commission of this rejection must be filed within 30 days of the date of issuance of this notice, pursuant to 18 CFR 385.713 (2007).

Take notice that on November 15, 2007, CKB Petroleum, Inc. (CKB) tendered for filing an application for temporary waiver of the Interstate Commerce Act section 6 and section 20 tariff filing and reporting requirements applicable to interstate common carrier pipelines.

In support thereof, CKB states that it owns and undivided interest in a pipeline that runs from South Pass in Federal waters, offshore Louisiana, to the West Delta Receiving Station in Venice, Louisiana, through which it has transported crude oil exclusively for its parent company. CKB further states that despite having an effective tariff on file with the Commission since March 1, 1985, it has never received a request for service from an unaffiliated third party.

Any person desiring to intervene or to protest this filing must file in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211 and 385.214). Any person wishing to become a party must file a notice of intervention or motion to intervene, as appropriate. Such notices, motions, or protests must be filed on or before the date as indicated below. Anyone filing an intervention or protest must serve a copy of that document on the Applicant.
