Under DHAP, public housing authorities (PHAs) will make rental assistance payments on behalf of eligible families to participating landlords for the duration of the program, ending on March 1, 2009. In order to prepare the family for this eventuality, FEMA requires that case management services be provided for the entire duration of DHAP. The objectives of these services are greater self-sufficiency and permanent housing status for participating individuals and families. This will include assisting program participants identify non-disaster supported housing solutions such as other affordable housing options that may be available for income eligible families. PHAs are required to report case management outputs and outcomes through TAAG, which is the DHAP case management reporting system for the duration of the program. TAAG will contain personal identifying information from PHAs about program participants; such as, name, social security number, etc. Please refer to the following "categories of records" section for other personal/sensitive data
