

Transmittal No. 08-51

Notice of Proposed Issuance of Letter of Offer
Pursuant to Section 36(b)(1)
of the Arms Export Control Act

Annex
Item No. vii

(vii) Sensitivity of Technology:

1. The XM982 Excalibur Projectile is a family of precision, extended-range modular projectiles incorporating three unique payload capabilities divided into Block configurations. Block I consists of high-explosive, fragmenting, or penetrating unitary munitions to enhance traditional fire support operations with increased range, improved accuracy, and reduced collateral damage against personnel, light material, and structure targets. It provides capability to attack all three key target sets, soft and armored vehicles, and reinforced bunkers, out to ranges exceeding current 155mm family of artillery munitions. An internal Global Positioning System (GPS) updates the inertial navigation system, providing precision guidance and improved accuracy. Excalibur is effective in all weather and terrain. The target, platform location, and GPS-specific data are inductively entered into the projectile's mission computer, located in the nose of the projectile.

2. The XM982 and M982 projectile and components are Unclassified; however, the terminal effects, target effects, GPS Anti-Jam vulnerabilities and render safe procedures are classified Secret. The Modular Artillery Charge System is Unclassified. Embedded within the XM982 and M982 projectiles are fuze components with technologies (the know-how, documentation, software) considered critical, the disclosure of which could result in an adversary developing countermeasures to cause premature operation of the fuze, thus lessening the effect of the projectile. The hardware, software, and data identified are classified to protect vulnerabilities, design and performance parameters, and similar critical information.

3. If a technologically advanced adversary were to obtain knowledge of the specific hardware and software elements, the information could be used to develop countermeasures which might reduce weapon system effectiveness or be used in the development of a system with similar or advanced capabilities.
