

the Federal Government associated with the awarding and monitoring of SBIR funding agreements.

As a result, SBA believes there will be negligible costs to the Federal Government with respect to the award and monitoring of SBIR funding agreements as a result of this rule. In addition, the potential decrease in the number of SBIR awards is not enough to significantly affect current small businesses.

SBA expects the increase in award amount guidelines to allow participating agencies to more effectively cover the costs of some SBIR projects. This could increase the likelihood of success for some SBIR-funded projects.

III. Alternatives to Regulatory Action

In determining the appropriate adjustment to the threshold amounts, SBA considered the past changes in prices for the economy as a whole and for inputs into R&D activity. While different technology sectors have increased at different rates, SBA identified the general rise in prices of R&D inputs and decided to adjust the program-wide threshold amounts accordingly. SBA also determined that there are program advantages and efficiencies to maintaining the threshold amounts as relatively stable and rounded figures. SBA therefore rounded the inflation-adjusted amounts.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) requires agencies to analyze the economic impact of proposed regulations on small entities and consider alternatives that would minimize the burden on these entities. 5 U.S.C. 603. This RFA requirement only applies to regulations that are subject to notice and comment under the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) or any other law. 5 U.S.C. 533(b). Generally, the notice and comment requirement does not apply to interpretive rules, general statements of policy, or rules of agency organization, procedure and practice. Id. at § 553(b)(A). The SBIR Policy Directive is not a rule for RFA purposes. The Policy Directive is issued under authority of the Small Business Act (Act), which provides that the SBA shall "issue policy directives for the general conduct of the SBIR program within the Federal Government * * * " 15 U.S.C. 638(j)(1). Therefore, no RFA analysis is required.

Notice of Proposed Amendments to the Policy Directive; Small Business Innovation Research Program

To: The Directors, Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) Program
Subject: Proposed Revisions to the SBIR Program Policy Directive concerning Phase I and Phase II Threshold Amounts

1. Purpose. Section 9(j)(3) of the Small Business Act (Act) (15 U.S.C. 638(j)(3)) requires the Administrator of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) to modify the SBIR Program Policy Directive as required for the general conduct of the SBIR Program within the Federal Government. Specifically, § 9(j)(2) of the Act requires the SBA to increase the award amounts for Phase I and II to adjust for inflation or other economic or programmatic considerations once every five years.

2. Authority. These proposed amendments to the Policy Directive are issued under the authority of 15 U.S.C. 638(j).

3. Procurement Regulations. The Federal Acquisition Regulations may need to be modified to conform to the requirements. Regulatory provisions that pertain to the areas of SBA responsibility will require approval of the SBA Administrator or designee. The SBA's Office of Technology is the appropriate office for coordinating such regulatory provisions.

4. Personnel Concerned. All Federal Government personnel who are involved in the administration of the program, including those involved with the issuance and management of funding agreements of the SBIR Program and the establishment of goals for small business concerns in research or research and development procurements or grants.

5. Distribution. Federal Government agencies and departments participating in the SBIR Program and those required to establish small business research development goals as directed by § 9 of the Act (15 U.S.C. 638(j)).

6. Originator. Office of Technology, SBA.

7. Dates. The SBIR Program is authorized through September 30, 2008. These proposed amendments will be effective when issued as final in the Federal Register.

Authorized By: Edsel Brown, Jr.,
Assistant Director, Office of Technology, U.S. Small Business Administration.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, SBA proposes to amend the SBIR Policy Directive as follows:

1. Amend § 7(h)(1) by removing "$100,000" and adding in its place

"150,000" and by removing "$750,000" and replacing it with "$1,000,000".
