

Reservation are both composed primarily of Akimel O'odham along with small populations of Maricopas who moved from the central portion of the Gila River, around Gila Bend, to join Akimel O'odham populations living along the Salt and Gila Rivers in the 1800s.

Historical Spanish records of baptisms, weddings, and burials indicate that Yaqui and Apache families and individuals were also present at the mission and were buried in church cemeteries and under church floors. Apache groups are known to have occupied the area historically, and Apache baptisms, marriages, and burials were recorded by Spanish priests, especially in the 1800s. The Spanish burial records suggest that the most common Indian burials were that of O'odham, with smaller numbers of Apache and Yaqui.
