

concerns (as defined by Section 3 of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 632)). The December 24, 2008 Federal Register notice contained an extensive discussion of DHS' approaches to best reflect the interests of small businesses and the purpose of the PS-Prep Program. DHS continues to seek comments from small businesses and others on the adoption of these standards and their impact on future decisions to seek certification under the PS-Prep Program.

VII. Questions for Which Comment or Recommendations Are Specifically Sought

The Department requests comments, suggestions, or other advice regarding the PS-Prep Program, including but not limited to responses to the following questions:

1. Are there reasons that DHS should not adopt any one of the three standards listed above?
2. Are there any supporting guidance materials in addition to the three identified standards that are needed to help the private sector attain certification to one of the three standards?
3. What factors would a business consider in determining which DHS adopted standard(s) to pursue for certification under the PS-Prep Program?
4. What are the reasons for businesses to seek certification under these identified standards?
5. How would the fact that an organization is certified under the PS-Prep Program affect or otherwise influence your decision to do business with them?
6. In response to the December 2008 Federal Register notice, DHS received numerous comments promoting the use of a "maturity model process improvement approach" for business preparedness and continuity. The maturity model was described as an approach whereby certifications on certain standards could be incremental, i.e., grading on a scale of conformance, rather than a conformance/non-conformance basis. The notice noted that certifications will determine conformity or non-conformity with a particular standard. How could the use of a maturity model approach be applied to certification to any of these standards?
7. What may be the potential impact (e.g., cost, return on investment, other considerations, etc.) on small businesses when attempting to implement any of the above identified standards?

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Abstract

Office of Management and Budget (OMB) regulations, which implement the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13), require that interested members of the public and affected agencies have an opportunity to comment on information collection and recordkeeping activities (see 5 CFR 1320.8(d)). This notice identifies an information collection activity that the Office of the Secretary will submit to OMB for extension or re-approval. Under the Take Pride in America Program Act (the Act), 16 U.S.C. Sec. 46-01-4608, the Secretary of the Interior is to: (1) "Conduct a national awards program to honor those individuals and entities which, in the opinion of the Secretary * * * have distinguished themselves in activities” under the purposes of the Act, and also to (2) “establish and maintain a public awareness campaign in cooperation with public and private organizations and individuals—(A) To instill in the public the importance of the appropriate use of, and appreciation for Federal, State and local lands, facilities, and natural and cultural resources; (B) to encourage an attitude of stewardship and responsibility towards these lands, facilities, and resources; and (C) to promote participation by individuals, organizations, and communities of a conservation ethic in caring for these lands, facilities, and resources.” The Act states that “[t]he Secretary is authorized * * * generally to do any and all lawful acts necessary or appropriate to further the purposes of the TPIA Program.”

If this information were not collected from the public, Take Pride in America awards would be limited to individuals and organizations nominated by Federal agencies based on projects within their sphere of influence. This would effectively block many worthy individuals and organizations from being considered for these awards. The TPIA Program was launched in April of 2003 with the stated intent of honoring the best in the nation, without restriction. It would reflect poorly on the Department and on the President if only volunteers to Federal agencies could be honored for their service to America.

III. Request for Comments

The Department of the Interior invites comments on:

(a) Whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;

(b) The accuracy of the agency’s estimate of the burden of the collection and the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;

(c) Ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and

(d) Ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other collection techniques or other forms of information technology.
