

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

Because the foregoing proposed rule change: (1) Does not significantly affect the protection of investors or the public interest; (2) does not impose any significant burden on competition; and (3) by its terms, does not become operative for 30 days after the date of filing, or such shorter time as the Commission may designate if consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest, it has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)⁹ of the Act and Rule 19b-4(f)(6)¹⁰ thereunder.

A proposed rule change filed under Rule 19b-4(f)(6) normally does not become operative for 30 days after the date of filing.¹¹ However, Rule 19b-4(f)(6)(iii) permits the Commission to designate a shorter time if such action is consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest. The Exchange requested that the Commission waive the 30-day operative delay, as specified in Rule 19b-4(f)(6)(iii),¹² which would make the rule change operative immediately.

The Commission believes that waiving the 30-day operative delay is consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest because it would allow the Exchange to immediately begin to set the minimum quotation size on a class-by-class basis as is done currently on other exchanges.¹³ Accordingly, the Commission designates the proposed rule change as operative upon filing with the Commission.¹⁴

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.¹⁵

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act. Comments may be submitted by any of the following methods:

Electronic Comments

- Use the Commission's Internet comment form (<http://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml>); or

Cost-of-Living Increases

General

There will be no cost-of-living increase for benefits under titles II and XVI of the Act.

Computation

By law a cost-of-living increase for benefits is set based on the percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers from the last computation quarter (the third quarter of 2008 in this case) to the third quarter of the current year (2009 in this case).

Section 215(i)(1) of the Act provides that the CPI for a cost-of-living computation quarter shall be the arithmetic mean of this index for the 3 months in that quarter. In accordance with 20 CFR 404.275, we round the arithmetic mean, if necessary, to the nearest 0.001. The CPI for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers for each month in the quarter ending September 30, 2008, is: For July 2008, 216.304; for August 2008, 215.247; and for September 2008, 214.935. The arithmetic mean for that calendar quarter is 215.495. The corresponding CPI for each month in the quarter ending September 30, 2009, is: For July 2009, 210.526; for August 2009, 211.156; and for September 2009, 211.322. The arithmetic mean for this calendar quarter is 211.001. Thus, because the CPI for the calendar quarter ending September 30, 2009, is not greater than the CPI for the calendar quarter ending September 30, 2008, the calendar quarter ending September 30, 2009, is not a cost-of-living computation quarter and there is no cost-of-living increase.

Other Program Amounts That Change Based on the Cost-of-Living Increase

Several other program amounts also adjust based on the cost-of-living increase. These include the title VIII benefit amount, the student earned income exclusion, the fee for services performed by a representative payee, and the attorney assessment fee. Because there will be no cost-of-living increase, these program amounts will not increase in 2010, but rather will remain at their 2009 levels.

Program Amounts That Change Based on the Increase in the National Average Wage Index, but Only When There Is a Cost-of-Living Increase

Certain other program amounts are adjusted annually based on the increase in the national average wage index, rather than the CPI increase, but only if there also is a cost-of-living increase in benefits that year (as determined under section 215(i) of the Act). These amounts include the OASDI contribution and benefit base, the retirement earnings test exempt amounts, the “old-law” contribution and benefit base, and the substantial gainful activity amount for individuals who are statutorily blind. Because there is no cost-of-living increase this year, these amounts will not increase in 2010, but rather will remain at their 2009 levels.

Program Amounts That Change Based on the Increase in the National Average Wage Index, Without Regard to the Cost-of-Living Increase

Some program amounts are adjusted annually based on the increase in the national average wage index whether there is a cost-of-living increase in that year or not. These include:

- The dollar amounts (“bend points”) in the formulae used to compute the primary insurance amount and maximum family benefit for workers who become eligible for benefits, or die before becoming eligible, in 2010;
- The amount of taxable earnings required to earn a quarter of coverage;
- The substantial gainful activity amount for non-blind disabled individuals;
- The earnings threshold to establish a trial work period;
- The coverage threshold for election officials and election workers; and
- The domestic employee coverage threshold.

These amounts will increase in 2010 based on the increase in the national average wage. In the sections that follow, we explain the calculation of the percentage increase in the national average wage and the corresponding increases in each of these program amounts.

National Average Wage Index for 2008

Computation

We have determined the national average wage index for calendar year 2008 based on the 2007 national average wage index of $40,405.48 announced in the Federal Register on October 30, 2008 (73 FR 64651), along with the percentage increase in average wages from 2007 to 2008 measured by annual wage data. We tabulate the annual wage data, including contributions to deferred compensation plans, as required by section 209(k) of the Act. The average amounts of wages calculated directly from these data were $38,760.95 and $39,652.61 for 2007 and 2008, respectively. To determine the national average wage index for 2008 at a level that is consistent with the national average wage indexing series for 1951 through 1977 (published December 29, 1978, at 43 FR 61016), we multiply the 2007 national average wage index of $40,405.48 by the percentage increase in average wages from 2007 to 2008 (based on SSA-tabulated wage data) as follows, with the result rounded to the nearest cent.

Amount

Multiplying the national average wage index for 2007 ($40,405.48) by the ratio of the average wage for 2008 ($39,652.61) to that for 2007 ($38,760.95) produces the 2008 index, $41,334.97. The national average wage index for calendar year 2008 is about 2.30 percent greater than the 2007 index.

Computing Benefits After 1978

General

The Social Security Amendments of 1977 provided a method for computing benefits that generally applies when a worker first becomes eligible for benefits after 1978. This method uses the worker's "average indexed monthly earnings" to compute the primary insurance amount. We adjust the computation formula each year to reflect changes in general wage levels, as measured by the national average wage index.

We also adjust, or "index," a worker's earnings to reflect the change in general wage levels that occurred during the worker's years of employment. Such indexing ensures that a worker's future benefit level will reflect the general rise in the standard of living that will occur during his or her working lifetime. To compute the average indexed monthly earnings, we first determine the required number of years of earnings. Then we select that number of years with the highest indexed earnings, add the indexed earnings, and divide the total amount by the total number of months in those years. We then round the resulting average amount down to the next lower dollar amount. The result is the average indexed monthly earnings.

For example, to compute the average indexed monthly earnings for a worker attaining age 62, becoming disabled before age 62, or dying before attaining age 62, in 2010, we divide the national average wage index for 2008, $41,334.97, by the national average wage index for each year prior to 2008 in which the worker had earnings. Then we multiply the actual wages and self-employment income, as defined in section 211(b) of the Act and credited for each year, by the corresponding ratio to obtain the worker's indexed earnings for each year before 2008. We consider any earnings in 2008 or later at face value, without indexing. We then compute the average indexed monthly earnings for determining the worker's primary insurance amount for 2010.

Computing the Primary Insurance Amount

The primary insurance amount is the sum of three separate percentages of portions of the average indexed monthly earnings. In 1979 (the first year the formula was in effect), these portions were the first $180, the amount between $180 and $1,085, and the amount over $1,085. We call the dollar amounts in the formula governing the portions of the average indexed monthly earnings the "bend points" of the formula. Thus, the bend points for 1979 were $180 and $1,085.

To obtain the bend points for 2010, we multiply each of the 1979 bend-point amounts by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 to that average for 1977. We then round these results to the nearest dollar. Multiplying the 1979 amounts of $180 and $1,085 by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 ($41,334.97) to that for 1977 ($9,779.44) produces the amounts of $760.81 and $4,585.99. We round these to $761 and $4,586. Accordingly, the portions of the average indexed monthly earnings to be used in 2010 are the first $761, the amount between $761 and $4,586, and the amount over $4,586.

Consequently, for individuals who first become eligible for old-age insurance benefits or disability insurance benefits in 2010, or who die in 2010 before becoming eligible for benefits, their primary insurance amount will be the sum of:

- (a) 90 percent of the first $761 of their average indexed monthly earnings, plus
- (b) 32 percent of their average indexed monthly earnings over $761 and through $4,586, plus
- (c) 15 percent of their average indexed monthly earnings over $4,586.

We round this amount to the next lower multiple of $0.10 if it is not already a multiple of $0.10. This formula and the rounding adjustment described above are contained in section 215(a) of the Act.

Maximum Benefits Payable to a Family

General

The 1977 amendments continued the long established policy of limiting the total monthly benefits that a worker's family may receive based on his or her primary insurance amount. Those amendments also continued the then existing relationship between maximum family benefits and primary insurance amounts but changed the method of computing the maximum amount of benefits that may be paid to a worker's family. The Social Security Disability Amendments of 1980 (Pub. L. 96-265) established a formula for computing the maximum benefits payable to the family of a disabled worker. This formula applies to the family benefits of workers who first become entitled to disability insurance benefits after June 30, 1980, and who first become eligible for these benefits after 1978. For disabled workers initially entitled to disability benefits before July 1980, or whose disability began before 1979, we compute the family maximum payable the same as the old-age and survivor family maximum.

Computing the Old-Age and Survivor Family Maximum

The formula used to compute the family maximum is similar to that used to compute the primary insurance amount. It involves computing the sum of four separate percentages of portions of the worker's primary insurance amount. In 1979, these portions were the first $230, the amount between $230 and $332, the amount between $332 and $433, and the amount over $433. We refer to such dollar amounts in the formula as the "bend points" of the family-maximum formula.

To obtain the bend points for 2010, we multiply each of the 1979 bend-point amounts by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 to that average for 1977. Then we round this amount to the nearest dollar. Multiplying the amounts of $230, $332, and $433 by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 ($41,334.97) to that for 1977 ($9,779.44) produces the amounts of $972.15, $1,403.27, and $1,830.17. We round these amounts to $972, $1,403, and $1,830. Accordingly, the portions of the primary insurance amount to be used in 2010 are the first $972, the amount between $972 and $1,403, the amount between $1,403 and $1,830, and the amount over $1,830.

Consequently, for the family of a worker who becomes age 62 or dies in 2010 before age 62, we will compute the total amount of benefits payable to them so that it does not exceed:

- (a) 150 percent of the first $972 of the worker's primary insurance amount, plus
- (b) 272 percent of the worker's primary insurance amount over $972 through $1,403, plus

(c) 134 percent of the worker's primary insurance amount over $1,403 through $1,830, plus

(d) 175 percent of the worker's primary insurance amount over $1,830.

We then round this amount to the next lower multiple of $0.10 if it is not already a multiple of $0.10. This formula and the rounding adjustment described above are contained in section 203(a) of the Act.

Quarter of Coverage Amount

General

The amount of earnings required for a quarter of coverage in 2010 is $1,120. A quarter of coverage is the basic unit for determining whether a worker is insured under the Social Security program. For years before 1978, we generally credited an individual with a quarter of coverage for each quarter in which wages of $50 or more were paid, or with 4 quarters of coverage for every taxable year in which $400 or more of self-employment income was earned. Beginning in 1978, employers generally report wages on an annual basis instead of a quarterly basis. With the change to annual reporting, section 352(b) of the Social Security Amendments of 1977 amended section 213(d) of the Act to provide that a quarter of coverage would be credited for each $250 of an individual's total wages and self-employment income for calendar year 1978, up to a maximum of 4 quarters of coverage for the year.

Computation

Under the prescribed formula, the quarter of coverage amount for 2010 shall be the larger of: (1) The 1978 amount of $250 multiplied by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 to that for 1976; or (2) the current amount of $1,090. Section 213(d) further provides that if the resulting amount is not a multiple of $10, it shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $10.

Quarter of Coverage Amount

Multiplying the 1978 quarter of coverage amount ($250) by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 ($41,334.97) to that for 1976 ($9,226.48) produces the amount of $1,120.01. We then round this amount to $1,120. Because $1,120 exceeds the current amount of $1,090, the quarter of coverage amount is $1,120 for 2010.

Substantial Gainful Activity Amount for Non-Blind Disabled Individuals

General

A finding of disability under titles II and XVI of the Act requires that a person, except for a title XVI disabled child, be unable to engage in substantial gainful activity (SGA). A person who is earning more than a certain monthly amount (net of impairment-related work expenses) is ordinarily considered to be engaging in SGA. The amount of monthly earnings considered as SGA depends on the nature of a person's disability. Section 223(d)(4)(A) of the Act specifies a higher SGA amount for statutorily blind individuals under title II while Federal regulations (20 CFR 404.1574 and 416.974) specify a lower SGA amount for non-blind individuals.

Computation

The monthly SGA amount for non-blind disabled individuals for 2010 shall be the larger of: (1) Such amount for 2000 multiplied by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 to that for 1998; or (2) such amount for 2009. In either case, if the resulting amount is not a multiple of $10, it shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $10.

Amount

Multiplying the 2000 monthly SGA amount for non-blind individuals ($700) by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 ($41,334.97) to that for 1998 ($28,861.44) produces the amount of $1,002.53. We then round this amount to $1,000. Because $1,000 is larger than the current amount of $980, the monthly SGA amount for non-blind disabled individuals is $1,000 for 2010.

Trial Work Period Earnings Threshold

General

During a trial work period, a beneficiary receiving Social Security disability benefits may test his or her ability to work and still be considered disabled. We do not consider services performed during the trial work period as showing that the disability has ended until services have been performed in at least 9 months (not necessarily consecutive) in a rolling 60-month period. In 2009, any month in which earnings exceed $700 is considered a month of services for an individual's trial work period. In 2010, this monthly amount increases to $720.

Computation

The method used to determine the new amount is set forth in our regulations at 20 CFR 404.1592(b). Monthly earnings in 2010, used to determine whether a month is part of a trial work period, is such amount for 2001 ($530) multiplied by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 to that for 1999, or, if larger, such amount for 2009. If the amount so calculated is not a multiple of $10, we round it to the nearest multiple of $10.

Amount

Multiplying the 2001 monthly earnings threshold ($530) by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 ($41,334.97) to that for 1999 ($30,469.84) produces the amount of $718.99. We then round this amount to $720. Because $720 is larger than the current amount of $700, the monthly earnings threshold is $720 for 2010.

Domestic Employee Coverage Threshold

General

The minimum amount a domestic worker must earn so that such earnings are covered under Social Security or Medicare is the domestic employee coverage threshold. For 2010, this threshold is $1,700. Section 3121(x) of the Internal Revenue Code provides the formula for increasing the threshold.

Computation

Under the formula, the domestic employee coverage threshold amount for 2010 shall be equal to the 1995 amount of $1,000 multiplied by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 to that for 1993. If the resulting amount is not a multiple of $100, it shall be rounded to the next lower multiple of $100.

Domestic Employee Coverage Threshold Amount

Multiplying the 1995 domestic employee coverage threshold amount ($1,000) by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 ($41,334.97) to that for 1993 ($23,132.67) produces the amount of $1,786.87. We then round this amount to $1,700. Accordingly, the domestic employee coverage threshold amount is $1,700 for 2010.

Election Official and Election Worker Coverage Threshold

General

The minimum amount an election official and election worker must earn so that such earnings are covered under Social Security or Medicare is the election official and election worker coverage threshold. For 2010, this threshold is $1,500. Section 218(c)(8)(B) of the Act provides the formula for increasing the threshold.

Computation

Under the formula, the election official and election worker coverage threshold amount for 2010 shall be equal to the 1999 amount of $1,000 multiplied by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 to that for 1997. If the amount so determined is not a multiple of $100, it shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $100.

Election Official and Election Worker Coverage Threshold Amount

Multiplied the 1999 coverage threshold amount ($1,000) by the ratio of the national average wage index for 2008 ($41,334.97) to that for 1997 ($27,426.00) produces the amount of $1,507.15. We then round this amount to $1,500. Accordingly, the election official and election worker coverage threshold amount is $1,500 for 2010.
