

Expenses Section of the Program Eligibility Guidelines.

Any payment permitted under this authority must not violate section 301 of the National Organ Transplant Act of 1984, which makes it "unlawful for any person to knowingly acquire, receive, or otherwise transfer any human organ for valuable consideration for use in human transplantation if the transfer affects interstate commerce." 42 U.S.C. 274e(a). Certain expenses are excluded from the scope of valuable consideration, including "expenses of travel, housing, and lost wages incurred by the donor of a human organ in connection with the donation of the organ." 42 U.S.C. 274e(c)(2). As the Secretary considers rulemaking, she will consider this criminal prohibition in evaluating which expenses are appropriate for reimbursement under this Program.

HRSA is seeking public comment as to whether the Secretary should initiate rulemaking to allow reimbursement under this Program for specific incidental nonmedical expenses and concerning which incidental nonmedical expenses should be included in such rulemaking.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

As part of the Medical Device User Fee Amendments of 2007 (MDUFA) Commitment for the Performance Goals and Procedures, Item I.N of the September 27, 2007, commitment letter, FDA agreed to publish draft guidance by September 30, 2008, for medical imaging devices for use with imaging contrast agents or radiopharmaceuticals. Further, the agreement stated that the "draft guidance will be published by the end of FY 2008, and will be subject to a 90-day comment period. FDA will issue a final guidance within one year of the close of the public comment period." The draft guidance was dated September 30, 2008 (73 FR 58604, October 7, 2008); the comment period closed on January 5, 2009. FDA held meetings with imaging industry stakeholders in July 2008 and August 2009. The final guidance announced in this document fulfills FDA's commitment to issue final guidance called for by the commitment letter. The guidance supercedes the draft guidance of the same title dated September 30, 2008.

FDA is announcing the availability of guidance for industry entitled "New Contrast Imaging Indication Considerations for Devices and Approved Drug and Biological Products." FDA intends this guidance to assist developers of medical imaging devices and imaging drug/biological products that provide image contrast enhancement. Particularly, this guidance focuses on the following topics: (1) When the imaging device developers may add certain new imaging contrast indications to their device for use with already approved imaging drugs without a need for a modification of the drug labeling, (2) when the imaging drug developers may add certain new imaging contrast indications to their drug for use with already approved imaging devices without a need for a modification of the device labeling, and (3) what type of marketing submission(s) imaging drug or imaging device developers should submit to FDA to request approval/clearance to add a new imaging contrast indication. FDA intends for the recommendations in this guidance to promote timely and effective review of, and consistent and appropriate regulation and labeling for imaging drugs and devices.

FDA notes that during the comment period, certain topics identified in the docket were beyond the scope of the guidance document. These comments included requests for guidance on developing specific medical imaging indications (e.g., myocardial perfusion or breast cancer imaging) and offered suggestions for the type of acceptable data. FDA will consider whether separate guidance would be appropriate.

This guidance is being issued consistent with FDA's good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The guidance represents the agency's current thinking on "New Contrast Imaging Indication Considerations for Devices and Approved Drug and Biological Products". It does not create or confer any rights for or on any person and does not operate to bind FDA or the public. An alternative approach may be used if such approach satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.

This guidance refers to previously approved collections of information found in FDA regulations.
