25 CFR Part 514

RIN 3141-0001

Amendments to Various National Indian Gaming Commission Regulations; Correction

AGENCY: National Indian Gaming Commission.

ACTION: Correcting amendments.

SUMMARY: On July 27, 2009 (74 FR 36926), the National Indian Gaming Commission (“NIGC”) published a final rule updating various NIGC regulations and streamlining procedures. On August 25, 2009 (74 FR 42275), NIGC extended the effective date of the changes made by the final rule to December 31, 2009. This publication corrects inadvertent errors left in § 514.1 of the final rule so that fees and fee statements are due on June 30th and December 31st of each calendar year, not on March 1st and August 1st as originally published.

DATES: Effective Date: This correction is effective on January 19, 2010.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Christopher White, Comptroller, at (202) 632-7003; fax (202) 632-7066 (not toll-free numbers).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (“IGRA”), 25 U.S.C. 2701-2721, NIGC is funded through fees assessed on Class II and Class III gaming operations. Prior to the December 31, 2009 effective date of NIGC’s final rule, “Amendments to Various National Indian Gaming Commission Regulations” (74 FR 36926), NIGC regulations required tribes to submit fees and fee statements four times per year. The prior regulations also required that the fees and fee statements be received at NIGC’s Washington, DC headquarters no later than the last day of each quarter—March 31st, June 30th, September 30th, and December 31st of each calendar year.

The final rule amended 25 CFR 514.1 to require the payment of fees and submission of fee statements only twice each year, and it implemented the “mailbox” rule such that payments and submissions were timely if sent on or before their due dates.

Unfortunately, as published, the final rule contained incorrect due dates for fees and fee statements, giving them as March 1 and August 1 of each calendar year. This publication corrects § 514.1(c)(2), § 514.1(c)(6)(i), and § 514(d) so that the due dates for the submission of fees and fee statements read correctly as June 30th and December 31st of each calendar year. This correction makes no change to the adoption of the mailbox rule. Payments and submissions are still timely if sent on or before June 30th and December 31st of each calendar year.

The NIGC finds that it may make this correction without notice and public comment. The changes are few and ministerial, and they remove typographical errors so that the adopted regulations read correctly and reflect the NIGC’s intent. What is more, leaving the incorrect dates in place during a notice-and-comment period has the potential to prejudice Indian tribes and is therefore contrary to the public interest.

The incorrect final rule would make fees and fee statements due on March 1, 2010, a full four months (121 days) before the NIGC intended them to be due. Further, as a practical matter, NIGC could not propose an amended rule, receive and review comments, publish an amended final rule, and have that amended rule become effective before March 1. As a result, unless the final rule is corrected immediately, any failure by a tribe to submit fees by March 1 would be a technical violation of NIGC regulations and cause concern about the possibility, however remote, of a notice of violation and attendant fines and penalties.

Even though that outcome is unlikely, there is no need to artificially place tribes out of compliance with IGRA or to create a risk of adverse enforcement actions. An immediate ministerial change to three sentences will correct the NIGC’s error, preserve tribal compliance with IGRA, and alleviate any concern about the possibility of enforcement actions.
