Overview of This Information Collection

(1) Type of Information Collection: Revisions of a currently approved collection.

(2) Title of the Form/Collection: The Annual Survey of Jails (ASJ). The collection includes the forms: Annual Survey of Jails (ASJ), which includes the regular form and the certainty jurisdiction form; the Survey of Large Jails (SLJ); and the Survey of Jails in Indian Country (SJIC), which includes the regular SJIC form and an addendum.

(3) Agency form number, if any, and the applicable component of the Department of Justice sponsoring the collection: Form numbers include:

   • Annual Survey of Jails: This collection consists of four forms:
      ○ CJ–5 and CJ–5A, the ASJ regular forms: These forms go to jail jurisdictions in the ASJ sample that are not selected with certainty. The CJ–5 form goes to jail jurisdictions operated by the county or city and the CJ–5A goes to privately owned or operated confinement facilities;
      ○ CJ–5D and CJ–5DA, the ASJ certainty jurisdiction forms: The forms go to jail jurisdictions in the ASJ sample that are selected with certainty. The CJ–5D and CJ–5DA request additional information about the distribution of time served, staffing, and inmate misconduct that are not requested on the CJ–5 and CJ–5A. The CJ–5D goes to jurisdictions operated by the county or city; the CJ–5DA goes to confinement facilities administered by two or more governments and privately owned or operated confinement facilities.

   • The Survey of Large Jails (SLJ) has one form, the CJ–5C. This form goes to confinement facilities in jail jurisdictions with an average daily population (ADP) of 1,000 or more inmates or a rated capacity of 1,000 beds or more.

   • The Survey of Jails in Indian Country (SJIC): This collection consists of two forms, the CJ–5B (the SJIC regular form) and the CJ–5B Addendum (a one-time addendum to the SJIC). All respondents receive both forms.

The applicable component of the Department of Justice sponsoring the collection is the Bureau of Justice Statistics, which is within the Office of Justice Programs.

(4) Affected public who will be asked or required to respond, as well as a brief abstract: The affected public that will be asked to respond include approximately 1,000 county, city, and Tribal jail authorities (936 respondents to the ASJ and 88 to the SJIC). As community institutions that book an estimated 13 million inmates per year, local jails are an integral part of the justice system, operating at the front end (that is, following arrest or referral) as well as the back end (discharging inmates and holding those sentenced to jail). Their broad functions include handling inmates who are awaiting trial or sentencing, holding inmates for other authorities, detaining inmates with special needs such as mental health holds or alcohol detoxifications, transferring inmates to court appearances and bringing them back to detention, discharging inmates at the behest of the court or other entities, and holding inmates who have been sentenced to terms in jail. The set of collections in this package provides BJS with the capacity to track and analyze changes in the jail inmate population that might signal changes in the kinds of cases coming into or leaving the criminal justice system, and to analyze how the volatility of jail inmate populations affects the workload of jails and their capacities to provide services. In combination with the SLJ, the ASJ provides BJS with these capacities to study local jails nationwide. The parallel structure of the SJIC collection (the regular form with the addendum) provides BJS with this capacity for Indian country jails.

In its entirety, this collection is the only national effort devoted to describing and understanding annual changes in jail populations as well as assessing programs and capacities to provide services. The collection enables BJS, other federal agencies, and state, local, and Tribal corrections authorities and administrators, as well as legislators, researchers, and jail planners to track growth in the number of jails and their capacities nationally; as well as, track changes in the demographics and supervision status of jail population and the prevalence of crowding.

Information collected in the certainty jurisdiction forms and survey addendums provide critical data on jail population movements and inmate mental and medical health services and other programs available to confined inmates.

The forms and information content for this collection are outlined next in the following order: First, the components of the Annual Survey of Jails (ASJ), which include the CJ–5, CJ–5A, CJ–5D, and CJ–5DA. Second, the Survey of Large Jails (SLJ), which is a one-time survey of large jails to obtain supplementary information about jail programs, which are described in the CJ–5C. Third, the Survey of Jails in Indian Country (SJIC), which has a regular form to be administered annually (CJ–5B) and a one-time addendum on programs and practices (CJ–5B Addendum).

The two components of the Annual Survey of Jails include the CJ–5/5A and CJ–5D/5DA forms. The CJ–5/5A forms are to be administered to ASJ sample elements that are selected with a probability of less than 1. The CJ–5D/5DA forms are to be administered to ASJ sample elements selected with certainty.

CJ–5 and CJ–5A

For these forms, 561 respondents from sampled county and city jails will be asked to provide information for the following categories:

(a) At midyear (last weekday in the month of June), the number of inmates confined in jail facilities including: male and female adult and juvenile inmates; persons under age 18 held as adults; race categories; held for Federal authorities; State prison authorities and other local jail jurisdictions.

(b) At midyear, the number of convicted inmates that are unsentenced or sentenced and the number of unconvicted inmates awaiting trial/arraignment, or transfers/holds for other authorities. The breakout into sentenced and un sentenced inmates is newly proposed for this collection.

(c) At midyear, the number of persons under jail supervision who were not U.S. citizens.

(d) Whether the jail facilities has a weekend incarceration program prior to midyear and the number of inmates participating.

(e) The number of new admissions into and final discharges from jail facilities during the last week in June.

(f) The date and count for the greatest number of confined inmates during the 30-day period in June.

(g) The average daily population of jail facilities from July 1 of the previous year to June 30 of the current collection year.

(h) Jail capacity, measured three ways: rated capacity, operating capacity, and design capacity. The information on operating and design capacities are newly proposed for this collection.

(i) At midyear, the number of persons under jail supervision but not confined (e.g., electronic monitoring, day reporting, etc.)

CJ–5D and CJ–5DA

These forms will be administered to the certainty jurisdictions in the ASJ sample; in addition to the information collected in the regular ASJ forms (the CJ–5/5A), the 373 respondents that are included with certainty in the ASJ sample survey will be asked to provide additional information on the flow of inmates going through jails and the distribution of time served, staff characteristics and assaults on staff resulting in death, and inmate misconduct. More specifically, these include:

(a) The distribution of time served by inmates discharged during the final week of June, broken out by whether the inmates were convicted or unconvicted.

(b) At midyear, the number of correctional officers and other staff employed by jail facilities;

(c) From July 1 of the previous year to June 30 of the current collection year: the number of inmate-inflicted physical assaults (and counts) on correctional officers and other staff and the number of staff deaths as a result.

(d) From July 1 of the previous year to June 30 of the current collection year: the number of inmates, by category, who were written up or found guilty of a rule violation.

The Survey of Large Jails (SLJ), form CJ–5C, is conceived of as a one-time collection to be administered in 2011, pending final OMB approval. The survey complements the ASJ by collecting detailed data from large jail jurisdictions (those housing an average of 1,000 or more inmates or a rated capacity of 1,000 beds or more) on mental health, medical, and substance abuse treatment services.

CJ–5C (SLJ)

Information on mental and medical health and substance abuse treatment services issues will be requested. Based upon the SLJ administered in 2004, the following categories of information will be requested. However, BJS is currently undertaking efforts to revise this form to capture more detailed information on the processes used by jails to screen and treat offenders. This effort is integrated into a project that BJS has with the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS). As part of the NCHS project, BJS and NCHS are convening meetings of experts to provide facts and information related to measuring services in jails, and based on the information obtained from these meetings, BJS will revise the SLJ form and submit to OMB a separate package for clearance of this form.

Mental Health Treatment and Services

(a) During the 31-day period in (month of the reference year of administration), the number of new admissions to the jail facility that are male and female, adult and juvenile inmates;

(b) Whether the jail facility conducts mental health screening at intake, the type(s) of screening instruments, and when does the screening process occur (e.g., within 24 hours of booking, in an emergency or crisis situation, etc.);

(c) Who conducts the mental health screening (e.g., correctional staff, mental health professional, etc.);

(g) Designated area with beds allocated under the authority of a physician with mental health services and 24 hour nursing coverage. How many beds are for inmates and the number of beds occupied;

(h) Jail facility discharge plan for inmates who needed mental health care. Who provides this service linkage? What agencies administer this service? What agency pays for this service?

Substance Abuse Treatment and Services and Other Programs

(j) During the 31-day period in (month), the number of persons with new admissions to the jail facility that:

(1) Were tested for the use of drugs at intake and how many tested positive;

(2) Participated in counseling or special programs (e.g., drug/alcohol counseling/awareness, domestic violence counseling, etc.);
