SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background Information

SBA guarantees a portion of bid, payment and performance bonds on contracts up to $2 million for small and emerging contractors who cannot obtain Surety bonds through regular commercial channels. SBA's guarantee gives Sureties an incentive to provide bonding for small businesses and thereby assists small businesses in obtaining greater access to contracting opportunities. The Proposed Rule includes four proposed revisions to 13 CFR 115. Three of the four revisions would implement the authority granted to the Agency in § 12079 of subtitle B of title XII of Public Law 110-246. The fourth revision would clarify that SBA does not cover any costs related to any insurance or indemnification requirements in the bonded contract.

Section 12079 of Public Law 110-246 sets forth the bonding thresholds for any procurement related to a major disaster. For Contracts and Orders, as defined in 13 CFR 115.10, related to a major disaster, a new provision would be added to SBA regulations, 13 CFR 115.12(e)(5), to authorize SBA to approve, under certain conditions, an SBA bond guarantee on an individual Contract or Order up to $5,000,000 at the time of bond execution. For products or services procured under non-Federal Contracts or Orders up to $5,000,000, an SBA bond guarantee may be issued if the products will be manufactured or the services will be performed in the major disaster area identified in the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Web site. SBA finds that the manufacturing of any products or the performance of any services in the disaster area will assist recovery efforts in the disaster area by generating economic activity and that, therefore, these procurements are reasonably related to the major disaster.

For products or services procured under a Federal Contract or Order up to $5,000,000, an SBA bond guarantee may be issued if: (a) The products will be manufactured or the services will be performed in the major disaster area identified in the FEMA Web site; or (b) the products will be manufactured or the services will be performed outside the major disaster area and the products or services will directly assist in the recovery efforts in the major disaster area. The SBA bond guarantee may be issued on a Federal Contract or Order that meets one of the above two conditions up to $10,000,000 at the request of the Head of the Agency involved in disaster reconstruction efforts.

In addition, SBA believes that recovery efforts after a major disaster will generally continue for the first 12 months after the disaster is declared. Accordingly, the Proposed Rule provides that SBA's authority to guarantee bonds in the amounts authorized by Public Law 110-246 for a particular disaster would apply only during the 12 months following the disaster declaration unless SBA extends, in its discretion, the authority for such disaster. SBA will publish a notice of any extension in the Federal Register.

This new bond authority is also subject to the availability of funds appropriated in advance specifically to carry out § 12079 of Public Law 110-246. In accordance with the new authority, the definition of Applicable Statutory Limit set forth in 13 CFR 115.10 would be revised, and a new definition for Head of Agency would be added to 13 CFR 115.10.

In addition, the Proposed Rule would clarify that SBA does not cover any costs related to any insurance or indemnification requirements in the bonded contract. As insurance and indemnification requirements may appear in Contracts, SBA is proposing to add a new paragraph (5) to § 115.16(f) to clarify that SBA excludes the following from the losses covered by the SBA guarantee: (1) Any costs that arise from the Principal's failure to secure and maintain insurance coverage required by the Contract or Order; (2) any costs that result from any claims or judgments that exceed the amount of any insurance coverage required by the Contract or Order; and (3) any costs that arise from any agreement by the Principal in the Contract or Order to indemnify the Oblige or any other Persons.

II. Section by Section Analysis

Section 115.10. SBA is proposing to revise the definition of the term, "Applicable Statutory Limit" to reflect that the maximum amount of any Contract or Order for which the Agency may issue a surety bond guarantee may be set by statutory provisions other than § 411(a) of the Small Business Investment Act, such as by § 12079 of Public Law 110–246. SBA is also proposing to add a new definition for “Head of Agency” to implement § 12079(b) of Public Law 110–246.

Section 115.12(e)(5). SBA is proposing to add a new provision relating to the new surety bond guarantee authority provided under § 12079 of Public Law 110–246 for Contracts and Orders related to a major disaster area. This new authority would apply to an individual Contract or Order up to $5,000,000 at the time of bond execution. For products or services procured under non-Federal Contracts or Orders up to $5,000,000, an SBA bond guarantee may be issued if the products will be manufactured or the services will be performed in the major disaster area identified in the FEMA Web site. For products or services procured under a Federal Contract or Order up to $5,000,000, an SBA bond guarantee may be issued if: (a) The products will be manufactured or the services will be performed in the major disaster area identified in the FEMA Web site; or (b) the products are manufactured or the services are performed outside the major disaster area and the products or services will directly assist in the recovery efforts in the major disaster area. The SBA bond guarantee may be issued on a Federal Contract or Order that meets one of the above two conditions up to $10,000,000 at the request of the Head of the Agency involved in disaster reconstruction efforts.

In addition, this provision would apply to a Contract or Order for which an offer is submitted or award made within 12 months from the date an area is designated a major disaster area as identified in the FEMA Web site at <http://www.fema.gov>. SBA may, at its discretion, extend this time period for any particular disaster. SBA expects that it would consider extending the time period only where efforts to recover from the major disaster were still underway one year after its occurrence. SBA will publish a notice of any extension in the Federal Register. The new bond authority is also expressly conditioned on the appropriation of funds in advance.

Section 115.16(f). SBA is proposing to add a new paragraph (5) to clarify that SBA does not cover any costs related to any insurance or indemnification requirements in the bonded contract. As insurance and indemnification requirements may appear in Contracts, SBA is proposing to clarify that the following costs are excluded from the losses covered by the SBA guarantee: (1) Any costs that arise from the Principal’s failure to secure and maintain insurance coverage required by the Contract or Order; (2) any costs that result from any claims or judgments that exceed the amount of any insurance coverage required by the Contract or Order; and (3) any costs that arise from any agreement in the Contract or Order by the Principal to indemnify the Oblige or any other Persons.

Compliance With Executive Orders 12866, 12988, and 13132, the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. Ch. 35), and the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601–612) Executive Order 12866

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has determined that this rule does not constitute a significant regulatory action under Executive Order 12866. This rule is also not a major rule under the Congressional Review Act.

Executive Order 12988

This action meets applicable standards set forth in Sections 3(a) and 3(b)(2) of Executive Order 12988, Civil Justice Reform, to minimize litigation, eliminate ambiguity, and reduce burden. The action does not have retroactive or preemptive effect.

Executive Order 13132

For purposes of Executive Order 13132, SBA has determined that the rule will not have substantial, direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, for the purpose of Executive Order 13132, Federalism, SBA has determined that this Proposed Rule has no federalism implications warranting preparation of a federalism assessment.

Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C., Ch. 35

SBA has determined that this Proposed Rule does not impose additional reporting or recordkeeping requirements under the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C., Chapter 35.

Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601–612

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA), 5 U.S.C. 601, requires administrative agencies to consider the effect of their actions on small entities, small non-profit enterprises, and small local governments. Pursuant to the RFA, when an agency issues a rulemaking, the agency must prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis which describes the impact of the rule on small entities. However, section 605 of the RFA allows an agency to certify a rule, in lieu of preparing an analysis, if the rulemaking is not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Within the meaning of RFA, SBA certifies that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. There are approximately one dozen Sureties that participate in the SBA program, and no part of this Proposed Rule would impose any significant additional cost or burden on them.

Airworthiness Standards; Rotor Overspeed Requirements

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM).

SUMMARY: The FAA proposes to amend the aircraft turbine engine rotor overspeed type certification standards. This action would establish uniform rotor overspeed design and test requirements for aircraft engines and turbochargers certificated by the FAA and the European Aviation Safety Agency (EASA). The proposed rule would also establish uniform standards for the design and testing of engine rotor parts in the United States and in Europe, eliminating the need to comply with two differing sets of requirements. The proposed rule would improve safety by clarifying existing overspeed requirements for aircraft turbine engine rotor parts.
